The Asphodel Militia was mustered on January 8, 1838, for service, following the outbreak of the Mackenzie Rebellion in December, 1837. On December 4th, Toronto had been threatened by the "Patriot" army and the Governor, Sir Francis Bond Head, had sent out a frantic appeal to all men able to bear arms, between the ages of 16 and 60, to rally to the defence of the capital. The response was overwhelming, and it is estimated that between ten and fifteen thousand men left their homes. In his first contingent went all the half-pay officers in the district and the old regulars who were settled north of Rice Lake and the River Trent.

Just a few days before his death in November, 1866, Col. Robert Wigmore of Dummer township related to Dr. Poole the incidents connected with the turning out of the Dummer detachment, which may be found in Poole's History of the Early Settlement of Peterborough County.

The "Dummeronians" answered the call to arm in December and six officers and 35 other ranks went as far as Port Hope, and there, finding they were not needed, returned to their homes. On the second call-up on January 8, they proceeded to Toronto, where they were attached to the Queen's Own Regiment, and Sergeant Joseph Pegg was appointed Sgt. Major.

Whether the Asphodel company turned out in December is unknown, and, in fact, there was no record of the Asphodel company at all. Dr. Poole wished he had been able to see the nominal roll, but as it was missing he left out all the names rather than appear to mention some and not others.

Original Muster Roll.

Among his great-grandfather's papers, Lt. Col. F. E. Birdsall, came across the original muster roll of the Township of Asphodel, which is now printed for the first time. There is so much information in this document, that it will fill in many gaps in the early history of the township, and many a family will learn for the first time that their great grandfathers and grandfathers were "out" in the Rebellion of 1837.

Richard Birdsall was the officer-in-command, and it is probable that he received word of the impending outbreak from his father-in-law, the Hon. Zaccheus Burnham of Cobourg who was one of the prominent citizens called together by Sheriff Ruttan, to decide upon what measures were to be taken locally. He at once compiled a muster roll of all the men in Asphodel and on January 8, handed over his company to Capt. Walter Scott, as he had been appointed acting major. Dr. Poole says he then served for several months in the battalion at Peterborough without pay, but, apparently, none of the volunteers were paid, as Col. Wigmore told Dr. Poole he had "no very satisfactory results" from his lengthy correspondence with the authorities. Richard Birdsall acted as recruiting officer, and went as far as the frontier. He died in 1852 or he could have given Dr. Poole a full account of the activities of the Asphodel Militia. Although he was remembered as having been a very handsome man, Richard Birdsall never had any "likeness" taken.

The First Commander.

A brief sketch of the life of Walter Scott reveals him as an all-round competent citizen. His militia training probably began in Scotland, where he was born June 10, 1794. He came to Canada after having spent two years in the United States, and was among the first handful of pioneers who came to Asphodel in 1820. Probably, too, he followed the course of the River Ouse to find his grant of land in concession six, and by the sand hills, sometimes called "Scott's Mountain" he built his substantial stone homestead, which still stands across the road from the Roman Catholic Cemetery and the more recent "Daisy-D." cheese-factory. He had faith in the future of the county and at his death was the owner of about 1,200 acres of land. He was one of the earliest Justices of the Peace, and the adjective "venerable" was the one most commonly applied to him in later years. Always connected with the militia, he was in command of the 3rd Battalian, Peterborough Regiment in 1856. As his adjutant, aJmes Fowlds, retained a copy of Lt. Col. Scott's resignation, among his papers, together with a reply from the office of the Adjutant-General at Toronto, stating that "before any action could be taken, Col. Scott would be pleased to express his opinion of the qualification and fitness of the next senior officers, namely, Capt. Robert Wigmore and Capt. Charles McCarty (McCarthy), for the information of the Governor-General." Of these men, Capt. Wigmore took command of the battalion, as Col. Scott wrote that Capt. McCarthy was an elderly man who had for some time past been anxious to be relieved of his command. James Fowlds seems to have combined the offices of Quartermaster (his commission is still in existence) and that of adjutant or assistant to the aging Col. Scot.

According to a family legend, Capt. Walter Scott took with him to Peterborough, his young son, Walter, a lad of ten years of age, when the hastily mustered men of Asphodel were paraded for inspection, after being billetted round for the night. It may be that other lads went along too, and there may be other family accounts of that first mobilization for active service. The roads must have been bad and those who had any means of conveyance must have used it rather than walk the entire distance, and therefore the older men and boys under sixteen went along to bring back the horses or oxen and sleighs.

Canadians Not Tidy People. Judged By Litter In Parks

By R. L. HALE
Kawartha Conservation Assoc'n.

Anyone who has visited one of the city playgrounds, the Lions Playground at Riverside Park, for instance, must have been struck with the general neatness of the grounds after the play period was over. Under supervision the children pick up papers and chocolate bar wrappers and other litter and leave the park remarkably clean. Their actions in this respect are in marked contrast to those of their elders in the baseball park a few steps away.

Canadians as a nation are not a tidy people. Perhaps having had so much room to throw things about has led us to believe that it is our inalienable right to dot our paths with chocolate bar wrappers, empty cigarette packages and kleenex tissues. This attitude of mind is evident in our senseless dumping of sewage and factory waste into streams and rivers and the resultant turning of lakes into cesspools. Even in Ontario's finest Provincial Park there is no provision for the disposal of garbage and empty tin cans at the public campsite, and the toilet facilities which are expected to servve the entire camp would be adequate perhaps for one farm family. These conditions are a disgrace in one of the most progressive provinces in Canada and should be rectified immediately. They do not show to advantage against those that prevail in nearby "backward" Quebec.

Of a piece with this is the vandalism that looks upon all public property as a tool to be used without thought for those who come after. A ranger in Algonquin Park tells a story of a group of campers who descended on a prepared campsite provided with two tables. During a period of wet weather they used the tables for firewood, being too indolent and irresponsible to cut wood from the forest at the back of their tents. Within 30 miles of Peterborough dwells a man of very moderate means, who owns a stretch of land at the mouth of a small river. He turned it into a park, built bridges, tables, rustic chairs, furnished it with a dock and a small cookhouse, and opened it to the public free of charge. Within a few months his little paradise was visited by rapscallions who fouled his cookhouse, overturned his chairs, and broke up his tables. He has been forced to fix a small fee for its use in an attempt to eliminate undesirable guests.

Stories of this kind could be multiplied. They would be enough to turn an altruist into a cynic were it not that those responsible for such actions represent only a small proportion of the population. The majority of us need only to be reminded that the lovely woods and lakes, the little glades and rocky shores that make this part of the province a delight to the nature lover are our heritage from the past, which it is our duty to pass on unsullied to our children. As for the vandal, let us hope the law catches up with him; and in the meantime, let us not hesitate to make good his destruction wherever in our holiday jaunts we come across it.

CERDAN RETAINS TITLE BY KNOCKOUT — Marcel Cerdan, French holder of the European middleweight championship, drops Jean Walzack of France to the canvas for a knockout in the fourth round of a scheduled ten-rounder in the Palais Des Sports, Paris. Cerdan is slated to come to the United States for a ten-round bout in New York with Lavern Roach of Plainview, Tex., March 12.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Coach Rupp of Kentucky University says basketball is so fast today that if a defenceman can be thrown off his stride momentarily the offensive ball player can score. Hence the screen is gaining in use. The screen usually is "two or more offensive men working together in such a way that the movement of a defensive man is temporarily interrupted." The player who is being guarded by the defenceman may shake loose briefly on the screen and cut for the basket to receive a pass and score. It might be interesting to see if this screen is used successfully in the twin bill at the Collegiate tonight, Montgomery Maids vs. Togs at 7.30, and Burlington vs. Marines "A" men at 8.30.

Seriously ill in his middle 50s, Babe Ruth still hits the news regularly. Bob Considine is doing an autobiography on Ruth, with the Babe's assistance, and he comes up with some interesting facts. The famous home-run hitter was not an orphan as a young boy, though many fans thought so for years. He was an incorrigible—a juvenile delinquent—when sent to an industrial institution in Baltimore. First seven years of his life he lived with his folks over his dad's saloon in that city. His mother died when he was 13 but his father saw him playing in the majors. When he was seven, his parents placed him in this institution.

Heading Wrong Way

Ruth admits he was a bad boy, definitely heading the wrong way. He and his gang of little kids were in trouble on the streets all the time, with petty thievery, hurling rocks at truckmen, and in fights. Off to a bad start. He was popped in and out of industrial school several times, but finally a kindly instructor there took him under his wing and started him on sports. The Babe didn't take kindly at first to being more or less confined but soon became interested and then proficient in baseball. He kept improving and eventually became a big leaguer.

* * * * * *

We mention these points simply to point a moral: Athletes have neither time nor inclination for delinquency. Instead of probably winding up as a criminal, Ruth went on to become a great diamond star, a hero to millions in sports, and a wealthy man. He had that excess energy that had to be burned up and, even in the big leagues, he was a problem at times, until settling down as he grew older. He loved the game and would play any position and shine at it. And his potent bat made him the Sultan of Swat over a long span. He had a terrific appetite and this may have contributed to his present serious stomach trouble. We hope he lives a long time yet—being the perfect example of what athletes can do for a "wrong guy".

It's Tough On 'Em

As we view more and more hockey games as the season progresses, we feel more and more sorry for the defencemen and the goalies. Those lush times of yesteryear are gone for the veteran blue-line and net guardians. And don't think they don't know it! They'll tell you at the drop of a teacup and in a few thousand well-chosen words. Chaps like Ray Harding, Red Creighton, Drake Jopling, Les Burton, Johnny Godfrey and other puckists who played in the quieter days know the difference. They toil much harder today in a game than they did in prewar seasons' contests. The bodycheck is quite uncommon now, except when the goalie gets bumped back into the twine.

* * * * * *

Yeah, hockey is streamlined now and everyone on the ice has to keep hustling. Except in a real one-sided game, the goalie is kept on the hop. And the defencemen are going practically all the time, too. They used to have a breather frequently as the forwards fought it out up the ice or in the centre zone. But now those long forward flips keep 'em on the move and they're often compelled to start a rush themselves. The forwards are flying, also, but they always were expected to step lively up and down their lanes. Quick changes of players keep up the tempo in modern hockey. It's exciting to watch, but it isn't first-class hockey in our opinion.

Saints Make Grade

Tough on Belleville Vets as they lost out last night without even playing. Their tilt with Legion was postponed while Kingston Saints fought to a 3-all overtime tie with the Petes in Omemee to gain that third playoff spot. They needed a win or tie to cinch it, and the Petes needed one or the other to keep intact their Omemee undefeated record—so it worked out well for both sides. Though it looked like a victory for Kingston to end the second period and also with about two minutes left to go in the third. Garvey and Jack Mortimer were in on a pair each, with Tompkins getting one and Red Creighton aiding on one. Harding was strong again in goal, as was Udall for Kingston. Catlin counted a pair. Crowd was small and no wonder with that wretched weather prevailing.

Toronto Star Advances In Badminton

KITCHENER, Feb. 14.—Favorites advanced pretty much as expected in the opening rounds of the Ontario badminton champions being played at Kitchener Granite Club.

Seeded stars from Toronto, Stratford, Woodstock and other centres scored easy wins for the most part. Ted Pollock of Toronto Carltons, and Woodstock's Roy Smith, who last year won the men's doubles, had a staunch, second-round argument from H. Butler and D. Bernardy of Kitchener before racking up a 15-7, 15-10 win.

Jack Muir of Toronto, seeded two in men's singles, recorded an easy triumph over Jim Huck of Kitchener, 15-4, 15-3.

Toronto women players, including the crack doubles teams of Marshall and Roberts, and Ince and Warren, moved along smoothly, dropping only a few points.

HELPED OUT — Freddy Garvey, shown here in grid attire, helped out the Petes' last night, being in on two goals, as they tied Kingston Saints 3-3 in overtime on Omemee ice. The tie put the Saints in the group semi-final playoffs with Legion.

Kingston Earns A Playoff Spot By Holding Petes To A Draw

Kingston Saints clinched an OHA Senior "B" group playoff spot in Omemee last night when they held the Petes to a 3-3 overtime tie. They finished in third place, and the best Belleville could do now—their game last night was postponed—is finish a point behind them. The draw kept the Petes' three-season undefeated record on Omemee ice intact.

Icy roads accounted for a slim crowd, which saw a fair fray. It was generally fast and quite clean with but four penalties passed out, two aside. Referee Walsh didn't arrive till nearly the end, and Herb Payne handled the whole game and in satisfactory manner without a linesman. The score was 1-0 in the first for the Petes, 2-1 for Kingston to end the second, and 3-all going into the scoreless overtime chukker.

Both goalies sparkled on fine saves in every inning. Garvey, Jack Mortimer and Honey Tompkins supplied most of the punch for the Petes, but the whole squad —shorthanded with Blewett, J. Creighton, and Burton absent—worked well. Catlin, Belwa and Cameron caught the eye for the Saints, the former getting two of their goals. They all showed up good, and were minus Bud Goodfellow.

Early in the first frame, Tompkins got a goal when his in-close pass across the goal mouth was deflected into the twine off Tom Goodfellow's stick. Reid pulled a neat rush as the Petes pressed for a space and later it was fast, even and clean on the good ice. Harding lost his stick once as the Saints ganged up but played without it till pressure eased. Belwa was cut accidentally over the eye and went off for repairs. A Kingdon-Tompkins drive was close as the Petes had a little margin near the end.

They opened the second at a hot clip and Jack Mortimer tested Udall. Then Kingston poured back and Catlin counted neatly on a partial breakaway, the Petes being caught up the ice with but one defenceman back. Cameron and Ohlke got assists. It was speedy and fairly even for a spell and then Joe Catlin snapped a fast shot on Kerluk's corner passout by Harding, whose vision was blocked, at close range to make it 2-1. J. Mortimer and then Catlin came close again as play swept up and down the ice before the gong went.

Tompkins and Freddy Mortimer teamed up for a neat try to open the third, with Cameron coming back fast to make Harding step. Bun Kingdon apparently scored but no light went on and it was not counted. Ohlke drew the first penalty for hooking but was back when Jack Mortimer picked up Garvey's drop pass inside defence and rifled the rubber home to tie the count. Fred Mortimer was robbed and then Belwa as the pace stepped up. Horton got the finger for tripping and Belwa promptly scored from Joe Aitkens with a hot shot from the side. Ray made two nice saves till Horton returned. Near the end Garvey tied it up once more with a backhand drive, partly screened, in close with Red Creighton and Jack Mortimer earning assists as the Petes drove hard. It was hot and even at the bell.

They started the 10-minute overtime session with Kingdon and F. Mortimer making Udall kick fast but Kingston later pressed till Kerluk went off for holding. He wasn't back before Horton got it for holding. Both were back with no damage done except a few more gray hairs for the goalies, and play kept up fairly fast and pretty well even through the scoreless stanza.

The teams:

Kingston: Goal, Udall; defence, Stephenson and T. Goodfellow; centre, Catlin; wings, Ohkle and Cameron; alternates, Joe Aitkens, Jack Aitkens, Jarrell, Kerluk, Belwa, Sweetman and Laird.

EARL McCREADY

TEAMED AGAINST THE MASK AND DAVIS—Red-hot wrestling action should be the order of the day next Wednesday in the Brock Arena ring. Manager Laidlaw announced today that he has signed a Tag Team wrestling bout for his feature fracas and the principals will be the team of Ben Sharpe and Earl McCready against the team of Wee Willie Davis and the Masked Marvel. Not in a long time has there been such excitement as resulted from the McCready-Mask bout here this week and the decidedly mixed-up ending had not only other wrestlers involved but at one stage seemed likely to have most of the crowd in the ring. Ben Sharpe's interference after he thought McCready had pinned the Masked Marvel actually cost Earl the match. Then when Davis also interfered both Sharpe and McCready handed the rough pair a few good shots to the chin that cleared the ring in a hurry. Next Wednesday Ben and Earl will get their chance at both of their tormenters in the same match.

Norwood Captures 5-2 Trent Victory

NORWOOD, Feb. 14 (ENS). — Finishing stronger than Campbellford, Norwood took a 5-2 TVL triumph over the Hydro Town team here last night before a big crowd. It wasn't a rough game, though Free and Payne had a brief mixup in the middle chapter. Morrison's great work in goal for Norwood kept down the count. The teams:

Campbellford—Goal, Hopping; defence, Free and Smith; centre, Robinson; wings, Blake and Peloquin; alternates, Hay, Doherty, Nesbitt, Tanner and Hendy.

Norwood— Goal, Morrison; defence, Peterson and Hamilton; centre, Scott; wings, Payne and Brown; alternates, Puffer, B. Webb, R. Webb, Wight, Fennell, Martin and Aldred.

It's amazing what two hockey teams can do in a scramble for the final playoff spot in the Ontario Hockey Association Junior A series.

The sixth-place St. Catharines Teepees walloped the league-leading Windsor Spitfires 6-1 at St. Catharines last night for Windsor's worst defeat this season, and held their four-point edge over the seventh-place Toronto Marlboros.

The Marlboros in turn pulled a surprise 4-2 victory over Oshawa Generals—in second spot—at Toronto.

Teepees and Junior Dukes still have two games on the regular schedule—but Marlies will have to duplicate St. Kitt's efforts today when they meet Windsor and have to meet Galt next week. Guelph and Toronto Young Rangers remain on Teepees' roster.

In one other junior tilt last night Barrie Flyers broke their third-place tie with Stratford by swamping Toronto Young Rangers 15-0 at Barrie for their 22nd win in 35 starts.

Take Tighter Grip.

In the senior race Hamilton Tigers took a tighter hold on first place by defeating the third-place Stratford Indians 4-1 at Hamilton for their 27th win in 35 tries.

Dutch Hiller with four goals paced the fifth-place Kitchener-Waterloo Flying Dutchmen as they took a 10-6 victory over the cellardwelling Brantford Redmen at Waterloo and moved to within one point of Owen Sound.

At Toronto the Marlboros swamped the sixth-place Hamilton Patricias 10-2 to strengthen their second-place hold and notch their 22nd victory in 35 starts.

It was St. Catharines first win in four starts against Windsor at St. Catharines last night. Teepees held the lead all the way—1-0 in the first frame, 3-1 in the second and a final three-goal splurge.

WORLD CUE CHAMPS TO DEFEND CROWNS — Champions in billiards, Willie Hoppe, (left), three-cushion king, and Willie Mosconi, pocket billiard titlist, will defend their titles in Chicago March 5-6-7 when they meet the winners of the national three-cushion and national pocket billiards tourney which is to be staged Feb. 27-March 4.

Kid Gavilan Rates Well Up With Fans

NEW YORK, Feb. 14 (AP). — Kid Gavilan, the prancing bolo puncher from Havana, has moved into the front row of welterweight contenders. But instead of Ray Robinson he'll probably get lightweight king Ike Wiliams on February 27.

Rated the best boxer to come out of Cuba since the days of Kid Chocolate, the new "Kid" rapidly is developing into a top-flight drawing card. Although his 10-round decisive win over Vinnie Rossano of Brooklyn was only the semi-final last night, it overshadowed the Madison Square Garden main bout between Bernard Docusen and Gene Burton.

Docusen and Burton, rated second and third behind Sugar Ray Robinson, the 147-pound champ, failed to impress the 15,947 customers who paid $59,422. Docusen stabbed shut the letf eye of Burton, a New York negro battler, but he was a little too fancy for the fans.

Beery In Trouble

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 14—(CP)—Beefy Wally Beery, screen bad man, was accused yesterday of fathering the sons of a 32-year-old film bit player, Gloria Whitney. The 58-year-old actor, admitting knowing the actress for 15 years, denied the charge.

Movie Industry Looking For Friends

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 14 (AP).—The movie industry is looking for friends. Never has it faced so many hostile forces. The United States is suing it on monopoly charges; legislators are trying to smoke out its supposed Communists; foreign countries are trying to limit its take. No wonder the town is worried.

Industry bigwigs in all fields have been meeting in recent weeks to consider what can be done to improve public relations. A gargantuan task faces them.

No other industry is subject to such close criticism. There's no great ruckus if an automobile company issues a defective fender or a prizefighter gets caught reading poetry. But if a censorable film comes out, or a movie notable tosses a fist in front of a night spot — wow!

Poor Publicity

What are the sources of Hollywood's poor publicity? Number One: the antics of some of its inhabitants. The colony attracts many kinds of people and some of them are bound to cut some capers that will look bad in print.

The industry has always suffered because of its short-range viewpoint. It has always been concerned with selling today's stars and today's pictures and letting tomorrow take care of itself. When big problems arose they were "solved" by hiring such high-powered help as Will Hays, Eric Johnston, James Byrnes, Paul McNutt, Donald Nelson, etc.

Hollywood might fare better with longer vision. Instead of tossing out news of the latest color of Lana Turner's hair, tell about the great job Hollywood did in the war. Instead of throwing a big premiere, put the money in a program for children's movies.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS

By The Canadian Press

The New York State Athletic Commission yesterday suspended boxer Jake Lamotta until June 21 and fined him $1,000 for having concealed facts of his physical condition before he was stopped by Billy Fox of Philadelphia Nov. 14 at New York's Madison Square Garden.

Lamotta has been under "temporary suspension" since Nov. 21, when he admitted to the Commission that he went into the Fox fight with an injured side and against the advice of his doctor. The bout was halted in the fourth round after Lamotta had taken a fierce beating from the Philadelphia negro.

Toronto-born Ted Atkinson came through with a photo triumph astride the 2-5 favorite Marine Band, in the sixth race at Hialeah yesterday and thus passed the $5,000,000 mark in all-time earnings on his mounts.

Smiling Jimmy Demaret shot a seven-under-par 64 on the 6,045 yard Harlingen, Tex., course yesterday to take a long lead in the lower Rio Grand Valley open golf tournament.

The United States' Olympic hockey team, which didn't compete in the recent games at St. Moritz, defeated the Swiss Olympic team 8-6 at Basle, Switzerland, last night.

The Intercollegiate Ski Union championship team of Middlebury College swept into the lead in the 38th annual Dartmouth winter carnival competition yesterday with Montreal's McGill University holding third place.

University of Western Ontario Mustangs beat Montreal's McGill Redmen 50-39 in a senior intercollegiate basketball game at London last night.

Coach Frank Carlin of Montreal Royals of the Quebec Senior Hockey League said he will submit a formal protest to league president George Slater on grounds that Shawinigan Falls Cataracts ended a league game at Shawinigan Falls Wednesday with a minute of playing time remaining. Cataracts defeated the Montreal squad 4-3.

The Power of the Holy Spirit

ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Scripture—John 14:25, 26; Acts 2:1-4; Acts 3:1-4:31; Galatians 5:22-26.

By Alfred J. Buescher

On the day of Pentecost the apostles were gathered together and suddenly "there appeared unto them cloven tongues like as of fire, and it sat upon each of them."

At the gate called Beautiful one day a lame man asked for alms. Peter said he had no money, but taking him by the hand, he said, "In the name of Jesus Christ, rise and walk," and he did.

The people, excited by this miracle, gathered round the man and Peter told them that they had killed the "Prince of life," but in His name the miracle was performed.

The temple officials kept Peter and John in jail overnight and questioned them next morning, but let them go, and they went to their own company.

MEMORY VERSE—Psalm 27:14.

Jacob's Midnight Encounter With the Unseen Wrestler

By REV. E. R. JAMES

THE DIVINE WRESTLER

Jacob said: I will not let thee go except thou bless me. Gen. 32:26.

An inspiring story which has gripped the imagination of countless multitudes during four thousand years. It is written in the Book of Genesis, which a poet has called: "A book of beautiful stories." They were master storytellers; very probably sitting at the tent door with the family around listening intently. These stories were passed from father to son till they found a place in the sacred writings. Their dominant note is that they tell of God's revelation of Himself as men were able to bear it.

"Jacob was left alone and there wrestled a man with him until the break of day." Your child mind thrilled at that midnight encounter with the unseen Wrestler. Now that you have come to man's estate are you able to see its inner meaning? It is a word picture of your own struggle with God in the day of your adversity and temptation. You were facing a financial loss, or a serious illness. In strong middle life you were brought face to face with the Divine Wrestler.

Jacob was a strong man physically and intellectually. Twenty years earlier he had crossed that stream a poor man with his staff only. Now he is rich and influential. He is a capable business man. Above all he is a leader of men. He is returning to his old home and has sent a messenger to greet Esau, his brother whom he deceived in days gone by. The messenger has returned. 'Thy brother Esau cometh to meet thee." Being an oriental he pauses before he gives the essence of his news. "And four hundred men with him."

The family fued is still alive; how natural. Jacob sends forward valuable presents to his brother. He is left alone to face his problem. In the still watches of the night he finds himself in the grip of the Divine Wrestler. He has met his match. Jacob has prided himself upon his cleverness. But now he is weak in the hands of the strong One. He can do nothing but cling to Him, crying over and over again: "I will not let Thee go except Thou bless me."

Jacob's life in the past has been far from honourable, but he has a spark of faith which he must develop and strengthen. This is the reason for his new name, Israel, which means "a prince with God." God draws near to Jacob in the day of his distress and tests him whether he has perseverance. He holds on to God.

Forty centuries have passed by and the important question is, has this been your experience in your days of trial and anxiety? Is your faith in God developing as you consciously cling to Him with the cry, "I will not let Thee go except Thou bless me, O my Lord and Saviour"? Then the spiritual strength enters into you. This scripture is written for your inspiration. There is that sin that so easily besets you. It is your weak plank. Do not struggle against it in your own strength and will, saying, "I will not do it again." Then the devil rejoices. He knows that sooner or later your will will give way. But fill your mind with the thought of God wrestling with you to overcome that sin. "Turn away mine eyes lest they behold vanity." With the thought of victory you will discover your new strength.

For this reason God became man and took our nature upon Him that He may draw near to you and struggle with you to overcome your sin. The God Man will whisper to you: "I will never leave thee nor forsake thee. When thou passest through the waters I will be with thee and through the rivers they shall not overflow thee. I will take thee by the right hand and hold thee up. No man can pluck thee out of My Hand. Only be strong and very courageous.

The arms of his hands were made strong by the hands of the Mighty God of Jacob.

Power of the Holy Spirit Difficult to Understand

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

(The International Lesson on the above topic for February 15 is John 14:25, 26; Acts 2:1-4; Acts 3:1-4:31; Galatians 5:22-26, the Memory verse being Psalm 27:14, "Wait for Jehovah: Be strong, and let thy heart take courage; Yea, wait thou for Jehovah.")

While Jesus was still on earth with His disciples, He tried to tell them that in a short time He would be leaving them to suffer martyrdom and death, but that He would rise from the dead; but they could not understand Him.

Even the last night of His earthly life, He talked to them and gave them rules for living as He would have them: "keep My commandments; love one another . . . These things have I spoken unto you, being yet present with you."

"But the Comforter, which is the Holy Ghost, whom the Father will send in My name, he will teach you all things, and bring all things to your remembrance, whatsoever I have said unto you."

Jesus was crucified, He rose from the dead, and ascended into Heaven, and we are told by Luke how this Holy Spirit did come to the disciples to comfort them and give them courage and power.

"And when the day of Pentecost was fully come, they the disciples) were all with one accord in one place.

"And suddenly there came a sound from Heaven as of a rushing, mighty wind, and it filled all the house where they were sitting "And there appeared unto them cloven tongues like as of fire, and it sat upon each of them.

"And they were all filled with the Holy Ghost, and began to speak with other tongues, as the spirit gave them utterance."

The Holy Ghost and the Spirit mean the same thing. Filled with the Spirit, they not only spoke in their own tongues to men of different nations, telling them of Jesus and His gospel, but they received rare courage so that those, like Peter, who had denied his Lord because he was afraid, was no longer a coward, but a bold, fearless man, as witness his action from that time on.

Some time later we do not know just when), Peter and John went together to the temple at the hour of prayer. Now a certain man, lame from birth, was carried each day to the Gate called Beautiful to beg. Seeing Peter and John about to go into the temple, he asked alms of them. Peter looked at him, saying, "Look on us." The man waited, expecting to receive money, but Peter said, "Silver and gold have I none; but such as I have give I thee: In the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth rise up and walk."

Taking the man by the right hand, Peter lifted him to his feet and his feet and ankle bones received strength, and he leaped up and walked with them into the temple, praising God. And all the people who had known him from childhood were filled with wonder and amazement. They gathered around the three men in the porch called Solomon's, and Peter talked to them, accusing them of being the cause of Jesus' death when Pontius Pilate would have let Him go, and accepting a murderer in His place.

"Ye denied the Holy One and the Just . . . And killed the Prince of Life, whom God hath raised from the dead; whereof ye are witnesses.

"And His name through faith . . . hath made this man strong, whom ye see and know."

Wins Five Thousand

Peter then told them he knew it was through ignorance that they had acted as they had done, and then asked them to repent and be converted, and five thousand were won to Christ.

Now the priests and Sadducees came upon them and "being grieved that they taught the people," they laid hands on them and put them in prison until the next day. The were then taken before two wicked high priests, Annas and Caiaphas and others, who asked them by whose power they had performed this miracle. Peter spoke forth boldly, saying that it was through the power of Jesus Christ whom they had crucified. The priests saw the man who had been healed and they consulted together and decided to let the apostles go with a warning that thy were not to preach the gospel any more. Peter, however, answered "Whether it be right in the sight of God to hearken unto you more than unto God, judge ye. For we cannot but speak the things which we have seen and heard."

They were further threatened and turned loose and went to their own company, who praised God and prayed, and the Holy Spirit came again, "filling them with boldness."

Paul, writing to the Galatians told them of the sins they must avoid if they would follow the Spirit, and then what benefits would come if they led righteous lives under His teachings.

"But the fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, longsuffering, gentleness, goodness, faith.

"If we live in the Spirit, let us also walk in the Spirit.

"Let us not be desirous of vain glory, provoking one another, envying one another."

GAS LINES FREEZE

Frost has been reaching down to gas services. Ross L. Dobbin, Utilities manager, reported 131 thawing jobs in January, with the prospect that this month's total will exceed that number.

APPOINT LIBRARY BOARD

John R. Marshall, Weller St., has been appointed representative of the Board of Education on the Public Library Board, the Board of Education stated Thursday night at the regular meeting held in South Central School.

NO INQUEST

Dr. Herbert N. Young, City Coroner, reports there will be no inquest arising from the death of Frank B. Pritchard who died from a heart attack at the wheel of his car while driving south on Highway 28, at noon Friday, February 13. Mrs. Frank Pritchard was in the front of the car with her husband but was uninjured when the car, out of control, ploughed into a snowbank. The accident occurred near the Kendry crossing on the C.P.R.

HOLD LONG SESSION

Members of the finance and ways and means committee of the Secondary Rink organization held a four-hour session at the Y.M.C.A. Friday night. Alderman Hurrell Dodds, Alderman Doug Miller and Dick Ouimet who had been named a committee to inspect the rink at Hespeler were unanimous in their view that such a structure would be ideal for this city. The various committees have been packing a lot of work into this week, and detailed announcement of their plans will be made early next week.

EVEN THE "CABBIE" WALKED

A good many citizens were displeased when they realized there was only "shank's mare" as a means of transportation early Friday evening. But that was nothing to the disgust one taxi driver expressed, when, after struggling on the icy slopes of Ashburnham for more than an hour he abandoned his car, and started homeward on foot. Finding the going hazardous, he went to a telephone and called for a "cab", only to be informed they were not taking any calls at present . . . and from his own office too.

ONE CALL ONLY

Only one alarm was rung in to the Fire Hall Friday. The department were called to 185½ Bolivar (Mr. A. Platt), the cause of the alarm being a chimney fire. No damage was reported.

W. M. CLIPSTONE ADDRESSES LIONS

Lions Club will hold their bi-monthly dinner-meeting Monday night. Guest speaker for the occasion will be W. M. Clipstone who will tell of some sea experiences while serving with the Royal Navy in two wars.

NO QUORUM

Ald. Gordon Armstrong called a meeting of the property committee of the council Friday at 4.30. Only Mayor Ovens joined him. Weather and business barriers kept the Aldermanic members of the committee away from the city hall.

R.C.A.F. VISITS STUDENTS

Approval has been given by the local Board of Education for a qualified R.C.A.F. officer to visit senior classes in P.C.V.S. to give first-hand information to any students who might be interested in making the Air Force a career. Date has been left for Mr. C. S. Browne, principal, to arrange.

FAREWELL VISIT — Hum Hoy, who has operated a cafe on George street for 32 years, is shown telling a group of his young friends that he has sold his business and hopes to see his family in China in a few months. He has watched four generations grow up and has always been especially interested in Peterborough's young people. Listening with interest (seated left to right) are Miss Marie Andrews, Hum Hoy, Miss Betty Milburn and Miss Mary Jane Fitzgerald. Standing (left to right) are Miss May Cauley and Miss Joan Wade.

LOUIS ANTHONY

place at St. Peter's Cemetery. The cathedral was filled with mourners.

Mr. Anthony has lived in Peterborough for the past 64 years and was head of the trucking and cartage firm of Louis Anthony & Sons which, by his industry, he built from a horse and wagon unit to a motorized fleet of seven trucks. He was born in Villa Littoria, Salerno province, Italy, and son of the late Frank Anthony and Feliche Mongoni, and came to the city at the age of nine.

Mr. Anthony was very interested in athletics and sponsored teams in hockey and bowling and, at one time was interested in a bowling club. He was a member of the Knights of Columbus and Moose and of the Fish and Game Association.

Sportsmen Feed Wild Ducks On Detroit River

Windsor Feb. 14 (ENS)—An unusually servere winter in Essex County has resulted in death through freezing or starving to nearly 1000 wild ducks whose habitals is the Detroit River area. Migrants from Northern Ontario and Western Canada, the birds head for the more temperate climate of Essex County when the freeve-up comes in those two regions.

Windsor Sportsmen's Association are living up to their name by brining grain to the hungry birds and freeing those that have become frozen tothe ice. The feed is spread along the ice at the edge of water holes and into the water holes for those species thatprefer to dive for their dinner.

Thousands of birds "bluebills," "mallards," "saw bills," whistlers" are to be found; but "canvas backs" are most prevalent.

The Upland Game Commitee of that association started feeding the ducks more than 10 days ago when it was noticed that they were freezing to the ice at the river's edge and were becoming so weak with hunger that they were unable to fly away.

Mr. C. A. Smith and his committee say the y will stop feeding them when the emergency is over; and said this would be when the ice breaks away from the shore allowing the ducks to get at the crayfish close by the river bank.

Aggravating matters is the unexplained fact that there are more of the birds than usual spending the winter at the tip of the Niagara peninsula.

Canvas backs, mallards and bluebills are edible and sportsmen are particularly anxious to preserve them.

32 Years On George St. Hum Hoy Gives Up Business

By JEAN STENTON

The village of Mouse Mountain (Hsu Shaan) is bustling with activity today following the news that one of its sons, absent from China for 40 years, may soon be returning home. Having done his duty to his children and the family of Hum, he hopes to return to the land of his birth to enjoy the prerogatives of old age.

For 32 years, Hum Hoy has been an institution on George street. In his quiet way, he has made friends with young and old from every walk of life. Now dogged by ill-health, he has sold his business to a nephew, Thomas Hum, formerly of Vancouver and Picton. He hopes to go to China before too long to enjoy his family and his remaining days. In China, to grow old is a great honor. Having done everything possible for his children, he can now relax and enjoy the things he has never had time for.

Although he will be reunited with his family, it will not be easy for Hum Hoy when he says goodbye to Peterborough and Canada. One of the proudest moments of his life occurred last summer when he was awarded his Canadian citizenship. While China is home to him, he has been away so long that he has become more Canadian than Chinese. He has often laughingly remarked to his friends: "I think better now in English, than I do in Chinese."

His plans to live in Canada for many more years, have been discarded because of his failing health. Mr. Hum also feels life in Canada would be too difficult for his wife. At her age to be without friends in a land with strange customs and language, would be a great trial.

But his heart is warmed at the thought of the welcome which awaits him on the Hum estate. His wife and four daughters are eager to have him back, and his son, Tommy, who returned to Kwantung from Peterborough early in the summer of 1947, is looking forward to seeing his father again. When he returns, there will be feasts and gifts to celebrate his homecoming.

While his friends here regret seeing him leave, they will be happy in the thought that Mr. Hum can once more enjoy the things his memories have kept vivid through the years. They can picture him under the flowering trees around his home that he missed so much. In the dusk, he can relax under the large tree where birds alight, bringing good luck to his household.

Renew Acquaintances

When he becomes restless and nostalgic for the feel of business, he may leave the old-fashioned Mouse Mountain village and journey to Canton city. Here he can drop in and spend pleasant, leisurely hours with friends and relatives in the business houses of thta great city. Over a cup of tea, he can discuss business, family gossip, politics and give advice, for hours at a time, and come away alert and refreshed.

Or prehaps, if he wishes, a chance to be alone, he will slip away to "the temple high up beside the lake." Always, he has remembered the beautiful, restful hours he enjoyed here on his visits to China. The "Ain Woo Toh," is a temple high in the mountains outside Canton, run by a very old order of monks. It is a place frequented by tired business men, upset by many cares. To reach it, the visitors must climb or be carried up a very narrow, steep trail on an hour's journey. The serene beauty of the temple surroundings brings healing to weary spirits in what is almost another world.

He may once more be able to take part in the family pilgrimage to the temple begun by his great grandfather. This is an integral part of the Hum family background. Here the names of all the Hums are inscribed, and the family history. There is a book too, which goes back hundreds of year, giving the detaiis of births, marriages and deaths. It is the duty of each succeeding generation to keep up the temple properly.

Mr. Hum has more than once recalled how the younger folk pay a visit once a year while the elders go once every four or five years since the trip is arduous. It is a day of celebration for the clan. Sometimes (at least in China's happier days) they hired a band to go with the procession. There is an enormous quantity of food taken along and a big picnic takes place when the temple is reached. Everyone has a wonderful time remembering the ancestors and seeing that everything is in good repair. According to the laws of China, the temple and the ground around it cannot be violated by outsiders.

Honored Name

The Hum name is a very old and honored one in Canton. Hum Hoy's great grandfather was a wealthy and influential man in the great metropolis. His great grandson has also brought honor to the name in his adopted country. He has been a fine citizen.

During his long years in Peterborough, he has seen the city grow into a bustling, modern city. He has seen four generations of

Regret Retirement

OTTAWA, Feb. 14—(CP)—Defence Minister Claxton, commenting last night on the retirement of Maj.-Gen. E. J. Renaud, CB, CBE, general officer commanding Quebec command, said the "Canadian army is losing one of its most eminent officers and the Canadian people one of its most devoted servants."

MIDDLE EAST DEVELOPS

New industries such as dyeing and tanning, lignite mining and production of fertilizers have been developed in the Middle East.

Storm Had Funny Angles And Good Samaritans, Too

It was at the height of the melee on the slippery streets. The heavily loaded city bus was whizzing and churning and fuming like a mad monster, but it wasn't getting anywhere. It was just tying itselt in knots in the middle of Reid Street. For fifteen minutes it slithered into the ditch and out of it. Then a slight young woman appeared from behind All Saints' Church. She may even have come out of the church. She carried a pail filled with ashes and made her way to the rear wheels of the bus, and, as nobly as Queen Elizabeth spreading a cloak for Sir Walter Raleigh (or was it the other way around?) she spread ashes before the whirling wheels. The burnt offering was seized upon by the wheels, the bus crawled into a position parallel with the sidewalk, and with a roar of thanks from the motor the bus rumbled carefully on up the street. The anonymous lady disappeared, taking her empty pail with her.

In one Ashburnham home, the boarder just entered the bathroom as the lights went out. He just had to brush his teeth, so he reached for the brush, in its usual place, and also found the tube of paste. Unfortunately, someone had placed a tube of hair groom in the water tumbler where the tooth paste was normally left. It did not take long for him to discover his error.

And at a west-end home, one of the males had a heavy date. He had to shave—and the lights went out. After much rummaging around he found a candle. He scraped away at the beard, with the bathroom door closed. Ten minutes before he was finished, the lights were on, but he didn't know it. He continued to shave by the light of the candle.

Fortunately there were no babies ushered, into this world at either of the local hospitals during the blackout.

Police Officers Report More Transients

A reflection of the increasingly tightening employment situation in Canada can be seen in a big red book in the Peterborough police station. Known as the "Lodgers' Book", it lists the names and last addresses of thousands of wandering, homeless, jobless men. As with all city police forces, it gives shelter to those drifters who are without the money or the appearance to apply for rooms in normal lodgings.

Since the first of this year, there have been 134 entries made, an increase of about 30 over that period in 1947. Only information recorded on these footloose wanderers is their names and the places where they spent their last night. This is taken so that the police network can later check if a series of break-ins or other crimes appears to follow the routes of particular transients.

Canada's present employment problems—and a barometer by which the economic conditions of the past years may be determined—are reduced to their simplest terms here.

Officers on duty mention the significant fact now bothering government agencies . . . for the "lodgers" of the police stations of Canada are now predominately young men who should be gainfully employed. Ages of these stray bits of humanity who do not fit into the conventional pattern of things are mostly in the 'teens and twenties.

Almost permanent fixtures of most city stations are the "regulars" — sort of address-me-in-care-of-the-jail people who make for the cells every night when the weather is rough. But, nightly now, they are joined by two or three strangers.

Some of these transient lodgers are from the Maritimes, a few from the west. They all tell the same story: there had been no work for them wherever they have been. Moving from province to province, city to city, they grasp at whatever temporary employment is available.

Veteran officers of the night desk here state that this present influx has been no surprise to them. For they have become accustomed to seeing the season and economic conditions register in the book

Through the years, a checkup of the records show how sensitive a barometer the list can be, marking the rise and fall of prosperity in the country. During the high-employment, easy-money period of the war, there were few voluntary guests in the cells. In the grim depression years of 1929-33 there was a full house almost nightly. At that time, not all the men were manual workers. Many were white-collar workers, professional men, advanced students.

Figures have not nearly reached the high records set in that period, but there is a definite swing upward, a trend which has become increasingly noticeable since 1946.

It is still on the upgrade.

Rangers Plan Show Sunday Afternoon

Fidst post-war mobile exercise of the 50th Heavy Anti-Aircraft Regiment (The Prince of Wales Rangers) RCA, will take place tomorrow, Sunday, from 10 o'clock when the unit will parade at the Armory for training.

The morning will be spent in preparation for action and drills for mobile operation, followed by a lunch in the gunners' mess. The afternoon's program includes mobile operations about the city, followed by coming into action in the Market Square with predictor, height finder and one of the 3.7" HAA guns which were made in Peterborough during the war. It is stressed that the action drill is strictly in the line of training and not as a demonstration, although citizens are invited to view the local regiment at their work.

Route the regimental convoy will take includes George St., Lansdowne Ave., Highway 28 to Charlotte St., and thence to the Market Square, weather and road conditions permitting.

A full parade of the regiment is expected, including more than 12 recruits who have joined the regiment for training within the past three weeks.

Fined $10 And Costs

Michael McMahon, 5 Maniece Avenue, was fined $10, and costs of $2.50, when he pleaded guilty to being drunk in public in Police Court Saturday.

WINS TOP HONORS — LAC Clifford McKinstry, DFC, son of Mrs. Elizabeth McKinstry, 742 Lansdowne St., has received a special award of merit at Camp Borden Technical School when he graduated with top honors in the aero engine course. During the war he attained the rank of Flight Lieutenant and received the DFC. Following discharge in 1944 he took a position as co-pilot with North Star Aircraft Company, but rejoined the RCAF as an aero engine mechanic in 1946. Since graduation LAC McKinstry has been posted to Rockcliffe Station, Ottawa.

January electric power peak was 22,500 h.p. as compared with 22,000 h.p. a year ago, R. L. Dobbin, manager, reported to the Utilities Commission Friday.

"It was equal to the average monthly peak in 1947. Consumers appear to be observing the request to conserve electrical power. Otherwise our peak would be higher."

Mr. Dobbin's review of the first month's work in the three utilities departments continues:

"There was not much construction work done during the month on account of the cold weather. However, the circuits in the Arndon Sub-division were completed and a new power circuit to supply the sewage disposal pump on Sherbourne Street.

Controllers were installed on many water heaters, and we now have these attached to all flat rate heaters in the city.

Twenty-eight privately-owned flat rate water heaters were connected during the month. The total number of these heaters is 3,600.

The pumpage for January was 115,072,000 gallons as compared with 106,766,000 last year. The increase was 270,000 gallons per day.

The pumping station was painted and a new operators' office was built in the centre of the room. The operator now has a clear view of all the pump house floor.

Work progressed on the laying of mains in the Arndon sub-division. 1,065 feet of 6" main were laid, and 147 feet of 8". Two new fire hydrants were set.

This work was carried out under difficult circumstances, there being four feet of frost in most places, necessitating the continual use of the air compressor and breaking tools.

The weather was much colder this year than in 1947. The average temperature for January, 1948, was 10.9°F. while in 1947 it was 15.4°F.

Only two water services were frozen on the street, but if the cold weather keeps up there will be many more. Two fire hydrants were found by our inspectors to have ice in them, and were cleared out as soon as discovered.

Gas Department

Gas made at the plant continues to increase. In January last year, 6 million cubic feet were made, and this year, 7½ million.

We received no oil during the month, and we had only three weeks' supply at the end of January. We have hopes of securing sufficient oil to keep us going until the end of March, when we expect to have the new propane plant running."

Domestic Gas Up 30 Cents; Costs Soaring

Domestic service charge for gas will be increased from 45c to 75c a month beginning March 1 as decided Friday by the Utalities Commission in the necessity of raising revenue to mee tadvancing costs.

The gas department last year lost $3,294.73 on operation, compared with a profit of $7,311.90 for 1946.

"It is apparent that the expected loss at the present method of operation might be $10,600 for a year," Mr. Dobbin reported to the Commission in a summary of the production facts which have been fully scrutinized in recent months. Prospect of an increase in the gas service charge to domestic consumers has been anticipated from the widening adverse gap between income and outgo.

Cost of coal, coke, oil and labor are at higher levels than a year ago. Supply of oil has been cut off, leaving the Commission with a quantity on hand, about 10,000 gallons, only enough for three weeks. As recently reported the Commission is countering this emergency by putting in a new propane gas system. The contract has been let, two big tanks have been ordered, and it may be that there will be some reduction in costs this year when the new plant is completed.

The gas department sold 6,684,000 cu. ft. in January as compared with 5,668,700 cu. ft. in January last year. Increased use was shown in the domestic and industrial divisions.

"This is the first time in 15 years that the gas charge has gone up," said G. S. Matthews, chairman. "Before that we had reduced the rates four times but we have to do something about the present level of costs."

There is no change of rates to the industrial customers, but some increase may be made to them if the B.T.U. content of the gas later in the year raises its efficiency and economy as expected.

Pair Remanded

The preliminary hearing of Carl Milheron and Vernon Revoy charged with perjury, was remanded this morning until February 24 at the request of the Crown and consent of the accused. Bail was set at $1,000 each.

Leafs Line Up Players For Week-End

By The Canadian Press

The Detroit Red Wings, leading the National Hockey League by three points over Toronto Maple Leafs, have only one game this weekend — against the Boston Bruins at Boston tomorrow night. The Leafs have two games on tap, one tonight against Montreal Canadiens and another Sunday at New York Rangers.

So that if the Leafs win both encounters and Wings lose theirs, there will be a new leader Monday.

Toronto will use Wally Stanowski on defence against the Canadiens tonight. Wally, one of the most popular members of the Leaf outfit, a dipsy-doodle artist and Winnipeg native who has been held in reserve lately, will be shoved out there as the Leafs drive to tie or pass the Wings.

Effective Rearguard

Stanowski will start on defence with Bill Barilko, and the Leaf rearguard strength should be effective despite the loss of Garth Boesch, the moustached Winnipeg blocker who is out of action with a recurring knee injury.

Up front Leafs will probably use big Syl Apps again. The veteran Toronto centre who has been out for some time with a leg injury was on skates yesterday and was cavorting like his old self. If Syl is on the starting lineup he'll be at his usual spot between big Harry Watson and stockey Bill Ezinicki.

Gerry Plamandon, high-scoring right winger of the amateur Montreal Royals, arrived with Canadiens in Toronto. Fighting for a play-off place, the fifth-place Canadiens decided to use Plamandon tonight and again tomorrow night at Chicago. Gerry was on the Royals' Allan Cup team last season.

While Leafs and Canadiens battle at Toronto tonight, New York Rangers will be at Boston. Sunday all teams are in action—Toronto at Rangers, Canadiens at Chicago and Detroit at Boston.

Seek 'Mad Parson'

LONDON, Feb. 14.—(CP)—Scotland Yard yesterday intensified its widespread manhunt for John Edward Allen, 35-year-old "mad parson" who escaped seven months ago from the Broadmoor asylum for criminal insane. Allen fled in a business suit but was known to be carrying a suitcase containing clerical garb. The search centred in London where the "Mad Parson" was believed to have been in the Fleet Street area within the last few days.

STUBBORN BEAST

The llama, used in Peru as a beast of burden, can carry about 100 pounds, and will not move if he is overloaded.

SUSPECT SHOT — Brought down by two police bullets, one of which went through his body, during a chase which followed what was described by detectives as suspicion of attempted auto theft, 27-year-old William Campbell, of Montreal, is shown in a hospital after Const. W. Lafond shot him through the chest and in the arm. His condition was reported good. He was accompanied by another man, who was also placed under arrest.

Charge Of Communistic Speech Brings Fireworks In Commons

By D'ARCY O'DONNELL

OTTAWA, Feb. 14 — (CP). — Demands by private members for government action in various fields multiplied quickly in the Commons yesterday as representatives from all parts of the country continued the debate on the Throne Speech.

The usual quiet Friday atmosphere was enlivened by one heated incident as members demanded a return to price controls, appointment of a minister in charge of the tourist trade, a distinctive Canadian flag, development of western oil fields, higher allowances for veterans and a lengthy list of other changes.

The demands in the debate, which allows members sufficient latitude to express their own views and grievances, came from Gordon Isnor (L—Halifax); Lewis Menary (PC—Wellington North); Liguori Lacombe (Ind—Laval Two Mountains); E. B. McKay (CCF—Weyburn); Douglas Harkness (PC—Calgary East); J. W. Murphy (PC—Lambton West); H. G. Archibald (CCF-Skeena); and Rene Jutras (L—Provencher).

The interruption in the continuous run of speech-making came when Labor Minister Mitchell charged that the speech made by Mr. Archibald was a "speech made in Moscow." Mr. Archibald retorted that the minister's speeches were "made in Berlin" — and the fight was on.

Mr. Archibald initiated the fireworks by saying that the Canadian government was governing for a segment of the population and was destroying the faith of the people in democracy. When charged with making a Communistic speech, he said that during the 1945 election campaign, Mr. Mitchell had Tim Buck, Labor-Progressive party leader, "around your neck."

Must Be Careful

"Just because you have carried out the spy probe and sent a few fellow travellers away on a one way ticket and chased Sam Carr (former national organizer of the Labor-Progressive party) to Mexico is no reason why you should try to damn the movement of the Canadian people," said Mr. Archibald.

Mr. Mitchell tried to close the incident by agreeing to change his charge that Mr. Archibald's speech was similarf to speeches made in Moscow, but Joseph Harris (PC—Toronto Danforth) decided to prolong it.

Mr. Harris said he hoped Mr. Archibald would "mature and take a broader view than one which set one class of people against another. It was time young men in the house had something to say from their own experience and not something based on "some essay" handed to them by some agency outside the House.

Mr. Lacombe asked for adoption of a distinctive national flag after saying that the red ensign, with the Union Jack in the canton still is flying atop parliament buildings.

Sacred Heart Victors Separate School Loop

Sacred Heart seniors retained their Separate School Hockey League championship when they defeated St. Peter's 8-6 on the round, in the second playoff game being a 3-3 tie. It was a tight tilt on the McDonnel St. rink, but play was clean. Legrow received a slight cut over the eye in the first period. Each side counted three times in the open third period. The teams:

Sacred Heart— Goal, O'Brien; defence, Shaughnessy and Fitzgerald; centre, Caravaggie; wings, Gooley and Livings; alternates, Gilmore, Farley, Cross, Kearns, E. Crough and P. Crough.

Warsaw Winners

NORWOOD, Feb. 14 (ENS).—Warsaw found Westwood a hard team to beat Thursday night. Tempers flared, blood was drawn in the first few minutes of play, and the play was not called. Young Morris of Westwood was off for the rest of the game and made a trip to the local doctor, where it was found that six stitches were necessary to close the wound. Doug Evans of Warsaw played a good clean game, getting the first goal on a nice pass from L. Lonsberry at the 15-minute mark in the first period. Simpson, L. Lonsberry and Warr were given minor penalties. Don Sharpe counted for Warsaw early in the second, with Doug Evans and E. Payne assisting. Stan Lonsberry beat Renwick late in the second period. B. Warr, Mason, Simpson (Warsaw), G. Payne Thompson and E. Payne spent time in the box, Warsaw usually managing to take a man off with them. G. Payne was gated early in the third. Ivan Watts tallied on a solo play and again three minutes later on a pass from Joe Watts. Woods from Mason scored Westwood's lone goal in the last 90 seconds of play. Despite the score they were a threat from start to finish. Penalties went to E. Payne, Warr and Simpson.

The line-ups:

Warsaw —Goal, Patterson; defence, D. Sharpe, G. Payne; centre, S. Lonsberry; wings, D. Evans E. Payne; alternates, L. Lonsberry, J. Watts, I. Watts, Paterson, Simpson.

Maple Leafs May Buy The Stadium

TORONTO, Feb. 14. — Mayor Robert Saunders has recommended that the city accept an offer of the Toronto Baseball Club to purchase the Maple Leaf Stadium for $200,000 it was learned yesterday. The International League club lost the stadium in 1931 through non-payment of taxes and since then has played there on a rental basis.

The stadium was erected in 1926. The club pays an annual rent of $14,000 to the Toronto Harbor Commission and, said Peter Campbell, Leaf president, "unless we can take over the stadium and operate it for baseball and many other events, the club is doomed."

Mayor Saunders said yesterday that the $200,000 offer is equivalent to what the stadium was worth in 1931, together with accrued arrears. Board of control will discuss the offer at an open meeting.

Keene Victors 3-1

NORWOOD, Feb. 14 (ENS). — Havelock and Keene played a good brand of hockey in their game on Thursday in Norwood, fairly clean throughout, Poor refereeing sent Wright, a clean player always, to the penalty box twice the last period. There was plenty of action in the first period, Keene keeping the play in the Havelock zone much of the time, but failed to beat Hill, who turned in his usual sensational performance. Wight, Hermans, and J. Houle were given penalties —the latter two for roughing. Thomson put one in to start the scoring. Green from Nobes tied it later and Houle made a solo rush, making it 2-1 at the end of the second. There was one goal scored by Ted McCarthy alone in the third period, and that when Keene were short a man. Penalties were given to Patterson, Nobes, Green, and Wright 2. The final score, 3-1 for Keene. The line-ups:

Keene — Goal, Musgrove; defence, Stock, J. McCarthy; centre Ted McCarth,; wings, J. Wright, J. Houle; alternates, B. Thomson, N. Paudash, Whalen, Adamson, W. Thompson.

Havelock — Goal, D. Hill; defence, Hermans, Patterson; centre Nobes; wings, Seeney, Green; alternates, J. McMillan, Wight, Revoy, J. Brown.

Referee—Jack Crowley; linesman, Paul Petticrew.

Fascinating Blacks Soon Leave Ottawa For Good

BY DOUGLAS HOW

OTTAWA, Feb. 14 (CP)—The sad word is getting around Parliament Hill that George and Martha Black won't be coming back for the next parliament. Man and wife, they have fought their last general election.

The 74-year-old Progressive Conservative member for Yukon confirmed the report with the somewhat wistful observation: "we've been wandering back and forth across this country long enough, more than a quarter of a century in fact; it's time we settled down."

But the real, climactic reason is the action of the commons last session in shifting the boundaries of his constituency to take in a vast tract of the Mackenzie district of the Northwest Territories. George Black fought the proposal, and lost. He still wonders how man is going to represent an area larger than Ontario, but that is not his worry.

This Parliament, now in its third session, will be his last. It will see the end of a career begun with an election victory in 1921, topped by his elevation to the speakership during the Bennett regime and interrupted when he fell ill in 1940 and his wife Martha fought and won and held his seat until he came back in 1945.

For years, they have come down to Ottawa with a perennial youth and sparkle that goes right back to the frontier days when their child was born in a Yukon camp. Today, the man who first left his native New Brunswick to follow the gold trail of '89 and "did all right" is bald and slow, but he still bears himself with a straightforward quiet dignity.

His wife, white-haired and smiling has long been one of the brighter and more fascinating facets of the Ottawa scene. When Barbara Ann Scott came home last winter with her world skating title, one of the first people she went to see was Martha Black.

When they settle down for good, they will divide their time between their homes and law practices in Dawson city and Whitehorse, working among the miners, trappers and other they know so well.

Then Ottawa will only have its memories.

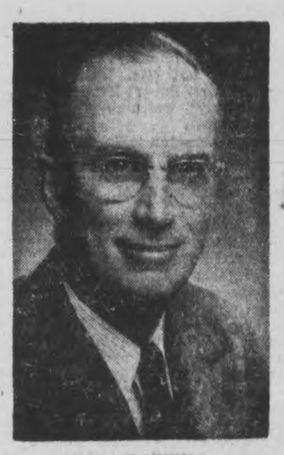
PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS

W. S. MIDDLEBRO', K.C.

The president, Mr. Middlebro' in addressing the shareholders pointed out that the net profits for the year amounted to $80,708.00, an increase of about 10% over last year's net profit, while the Government taxes were $10,700, a decrease of $3,525.00, and that we carried forward reserves this year $29,293.00 as compared with $18,321.00 last year. It will be noted that while our capital subscribed and paid for is $544,700—our general and investment reserves amount to $255,000.00 or about 41% of our total capital, and this reserve partly accounts for the present increased value of the company's stock.

Our deposits and Guaranteed Investment Certificates show an increase of $1,796,000, or 22%. Our investments in Dominion, Provincial and municipal bonds and security holdings show an increase of $289,000.00 or about 4% It will be noted that the bonds are shown at cost price, which is less than market value by probably a couple of hundred thousand dollars.



Our mortgage investments have shown a remarkable increase. They have increased from $2,266,000.00 to $3,718,000.00, or a total increase of $1,447,000.00 which is equal to an increase of 63%.

Estates under administration of our trust branch amount to $3,083,000.00, an increase of $506,000.00 or 23% and our receipts for the administration of trusts this year are $20,200.00 as compared with $17,485.00, an increase of 17%.

We have just completed the purchase of the building block in which our Peterboro office is situated for $135,000.00, primarily for the purpose of securing our present location for the company's offices at the expiration of our present five-year lease, but estimates show that the net rental from the premises will be sufficient at the present rates to pay a return of about 5% on our investment, while owing to the increase in rents up to the year 1952 we will then receive about 5½% net on our investment of this property, so that apart from the securing of our present office premises the investment itself yields a fair return.

With regard to the present high cost of living, while many theories have been advanced as to the cause thereof and as to the remedy therefor, in my opinion the remedy for reduced cost of living is not an increase in the amount of wages nor in the reduction of hours of work but in an increase all round in production, to fill the present gap and scarcity of goods until such time as there is a slight surplus in the supply over demand. In other words until such time when the storekeeper will say the "customer is always right" which means an earnest desire to dispose of his surplus goods.

GENERAL MANAGER

O. E. MANNING

Mr. Manning, in his address, emphasized the fact that the continuing success of the company lies in sound progressive policies. The ten million dollars on deposit is amply secured by investments and mortgages which have been carefully selected for their sound security. $3,000,000 is in short term bonds and cash.

The manager pointed to wide distribution and conservative valuations as safety factors in mortgage loans. The increase of $1,447,202 in mortgage loans has assisted to some extent in the building of new homes. The company is serving 14,325 customers, an increase of 2,500. This does not include 3,300 new Penny Bank depositors.

Total assets of all trust companies operating in Ontario between 1938 and 1946 increased 9% against an increase in the same period of 237% for The Grey which our Peterborough office is

"No business stands still," said Mr. Manning. "It either goes ahead or goes back. You cannot develop a business without informing the public what you do. I would attribute the progress of our Company to carefully planned advertising."

In inaugurating the Penny Savings system in Peterborough and Owen Sound, Mr. Manning felt that a real public service was being rendered and would create a savings habit in our younger boys and girls. The manager also outlined a new monthly savings plan for maturing War Savings Certificates so that these Certificates can be left with the Company and automatically invested over a period of years. The estates department has prepared and distributed booklets on the Succession Duties Act and estate administration.

Mr. Manning dwelt briefly on the personnel of the Company. He pointed out that the trust business was specialized and required a highly trained staff.

The general manager's speech was illustrated by graphic charts which gave a clear picture of the company's gratifying progress.

BAROQUE BRIM PROFILE—This is a small hat, but it has such a beautiful brim line with which to frame one's face that it becomes as dramatic as a romantic cartwheel. The curved slashes of the mauve color balibuntl brim, which overlap themselves at the side front, plus the sheaf of lavender sweet peas and the loops of violet ribbon, make a line which has the graceful, elaborate design we call baroque. Your spring print frocks, soft suits, plain crepe frocks, will all find it flattering.

Valentine Tea and Bazaar Successful in Spite of Rain

Cupid shot no arrows from his bow Friday afternoon, but he was happily looking on as the ladies of Peterborough Chapter 161, Order of the Eastern Star, entertained at tea in the green room of the YWCA. Big and little hearts be-decked the room and bazaar tables were entwined with red streamers, seeming all the brighter as weather conditions became increasingly bad outside. Yes, it was operation "S" for slippery on the streets, and it was the traditionally unlucky "Friday, the 13th" but Mrs. Walter Wheeler and Mrs. Robert Hendry were kept busy welcoming a crowd of guests.

Presiding at the tea table during the afternoon where Mrs. H. Beatty, Mrs. H. G. Jocelyn, Mrs. W. Greenslade, Mrs. A. M. Partridge and Mrs. T. Monk. Light from her candles in silver candelbra made tiny shadows dance on the big red hearts and featured the perfectly formed pink bloms of the potted hyacinthe in the centre.

Those who served included Mrs. A. Malby, Mrs. L. Bearne, Mrs. A. Munro, Mrs. D. Partridge, Mrs. C. Northey, Mrs. F. Parsons, Mrs. W. Beggs, Mrs. R. Paris, Mrs. R. S. Sutton, Mrs. F. Simpson and Mrs. W. Dyer. Mrs. W. Hurrle was in charge of the kitchen assisted by Mrs. B. Hewitt, Mrs. J. Anderson, Mrs. W. Terrace and Mrs. A. Butcher.

Baked goods in the form of cake, cookies and biscuits made a most tempting display, and Mrs. E. McIlraith, Mrs. A. Rightmeyer, Mrs. P. Windrim, Mrs. G. Webb, Mrs. H. Green and Mrs. C. Ferguson were there to wait on the customers. A variety of fancy things were available at the bazaar table where Mrs. J. Craig, Mrs. G. Ireland and Mrs. T. Craig made sales. At another booth, Mrs. B. McLean and Mrs. J. Baird took silver from those guests, who might "touch" the prettily wrapped parcels.

A very busy couple were Mrs. F. Merrett and Mrs. A. Watkins who had to keep up with the demand for tickets on the layer cake, donated by Mrs. R. Paris, and the doll looking so pretty in pink dress and bonnet with hand smocking done by Mrs. C. Ferguson. Mrs. W. Wheeler drew the ticket purchased by Mrs. Baker of RR 3, Peterborough, and she is to enjoy the cake. More tickets will be sold on the doll and the winner decoded at the chapter's dinner party, March 23, when they are celebrating the 21st birthday.

Entertainment for the afternoon was by Mrs. A. J. Lashbrook, Mrs. W. Halstead and Mrs. W. Greenslade.

Convener of the tea was Mrs. K. Armstrong who is to be congratulated on the splendid arrangement. Mrs. A. J. Newton was the treasurer.

Knox Couples Discuss Budgets

On Friday evening Knox Church Married Couples Club assembled for a very interesting meeting at which the president, Mrs. Wm. Gasking presided. Mr. and Mrs. Roy Gillies were in charge of the worship service, which the Rev. H. G. Douglas opened with prayer. The theme was "God's gift of friendliness." After a poem read by Mrs. Gillies, Ray Gillies read the scripture. A short story on "The Origin of St. Valentine" was read by Mrs. Gillies.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Clark were in charge of the discussion period. Jack Clark gave a talk on "Housewives and 85 cents" which led to a discussion on budgeting and planned spending. He suggested the income should be divided into five parts: shelter, food, clothing, operating expenses and development and saving.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Murduff led in Valentine games. Mrs. Clark and Mrs. Hughes served a lunch, bringing the evening to a close.

Dewes-Hanwell

In New Toronto United Church this afternoon, Florence Maud, youngest daughter of Mr. E. J. Hanwell and the late Mrs. Hanwell of Peterborough, became the bride of Stanley Dewes, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Dewes of New Toronto. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. Dyer.

The bride chose a powder blue silk jersey dress and wore a corsage of roses. Her sister, Miss Olave Hanwell, Toronto, was bridesmaid, wearing dusty rose crepe. Mr. Reginald Dewes attended his brother.

A reception was held afterwasd in the Queensway Community Hall. Later the couple left on a trip to Niagara Falls and Buffalo.

Mr. and Mrs. Dewes will live at 30 Elder Ave., Long Branch.

Splendid Cough Syrup Easily Mixed at Home

To get quick relief from a distressing cough, mix this recipe in your own kitchen. Once tried, you'll say it's your favorite cough medicine, and it's so simple and easy.

First, make a syrup by stirring 2 cups granulated sugar and one cup of water a few moments, until dissolved. Anyone can do it. No cooking needed. (Or you can use corn syrup or liquid honey, instead of sugar syrup.)

Then get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any druggist. This is a special compound of proven ingredients, in concentrated form, well known for its quick action on throat irritations.

Put the Pinex into a 16 ounce bottle, and fill up with your syrup. Thus you make 16 ounces of very efficient medicine, and you get four times as much for your money. It tastes fine and never spoils.

And for quick, satisfying relief, it is splendid. You can feel it penetrating the air passages and taking hold of the cough. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the irritated membranes, and eases the soreness. Thus it makes breathing easy, and lets you get restful sleep.

Just try it, and if not pleased, your money will be refunded.

Pinex Is Swift Acting. Saves Money. Easily Mixed.

World-wide Plan Followed On Day of Prayer

More than 300 women, representing all Protestant churches of Peterborough, were assembled in All Saints Church Friday afternoon to take part in the annual World Day of Prayer program. Fitting theme for the service was "The Lord's Prayer", taken first as a whole, and then line by line with scripture selections, prayers and hymns to bring out the full scope and meaning of such phrase.

Before conclusion, Mrs. Mendell Braund sang "The Lord's Prayer', clearly and sincerely, making the words grip the hearts of her audience.

In Canada, this annual day of prayer is directed by the Women's Inter-Church Council, and the service followed was prepared by members of the World Day of Prayer committee of the United States. The offerings received at meetings throughout the world are grouped and allocated to missions wherever there is need.

Offertory collections on this occasion in 1947 amounted to $16,225.00. This year it is hoped that amount will be greatly exceeded and a special grant for relief in Europe and Asia will be added to those already made for help in Europe.

At the evening meeting, the women followed the same program as in the afternoon, with the addition of an address by Mrs. Chas. MacDonald (nee Elizabeth Walker, Presbyterian deaconess) taking as her subject, "Lord, Teach Us To Pray." Miss Alma Blanchard was soloist in the evening. Mrs. W. A. Logan was the organist for both services.

Leader for the afternoon service was Mrs. E. G. Johnston. Those taking part were Mrs. T. H. Floyd, Mrs. J. Howard, Mrs. Cecil Thackeray, Mrs. H. Tremaine, Mrs. E. Alton, Mrs. Chas. Watt, Mrs. V. Boorman, Mrs. C. G. Boyd, Mrs. G. Rutherford, Mrs. H. Halcrow, Mrs. R. Laing, Mrs. Ed. MacDonald, Mrs. E. Harrow and Miss T. Mathers.

Mrs. Jas. Howard took charge at the evening service, assisted by Mesdames Pullyblank, Robinson, McMilan, McKenzie, Pammett, Q. McKinney, S. Harrison, and Misses Helen Weddell, Margaret Eastwood, Margaret Dainton, Olive Tedford, Margaret Reid, Doris Menzies, Mina Henderson, Phyllis Kidd and Agnes Stout.

Davies' Fantasy Tickles Audience At Drama Festival

By KAY REX

KINGSTON, Feb. 14—(CP)—The audience chuckled and adjudicator Robert Stuart had some good laughs as players from the Ottawa Drama League Workship romped their way through "Eros at Breakfast" at the Eastern Ontario Regional Drama Festival.

"Superb," was Mr. Stuart's word for the acting of the Ottawa group in this lively fantasy, written by Robertson Davies of the Peterborough Examiner. It was one of three one-act plays presented at the afternoon matinee.

As to whether the actors had correctly interpreted the work, Mr. Stuart left that to the judgment of Mr. Davies, who was in the audience.

"I don't want to take the players apart, because they all gave such a delightful performance," the adjudicator concluded.

The scene is set in the solar plexus of a young man in love.

His intelligence, heart, liver, all are personified, and each report the conditions surrounding his new state.

Mr. Stuart referred to it as "not really a play, but a conversation." However, the actors "glossed this over so nicely," that there was never a dull moment.

In "Possession," the second workshop entry, Mr. Stuart found the interpretation "excellent," and the team work "good." He described this piece of writing by Laurence Housman as "not an easy play to produce."

At "Wurzel-Flummery," produced by Queen's Faculty Players of Kingston, Mr. Stuart levelled the same criticism as he did last night at the Brockville Theatre Guild's production of "Lovers and Friends."

"With so many good plays being published every year, it seems a pity one has to go back to such poor material," he said, describing the A. A. Milne work, which Kingston presented, as "an idiotic play that isn't even funny."

Chinese Woman Doctor To Give Address In City

Dr. Victoria Cheung, Canadian born Chinese doctor, will speak at St. Antrew's Church on Wednesday evening, February 18, at 8 o'clock at a gathering of all denominations.

Dr. Cheung was born in Victoria, B.C., and is the daughter of one who was among the first group of Chinese converts to be received in the Methodist Church in Victoria. When five or six years of age, she was placed in the Oriential Home of the Woman's Missionary Society, where she was educated in the primary and secondary schools. Here her personality and school record were such as to warrant special attention. She firmly resolved to become a medical missionary, and when no family funds were available, she was given assistance by the Christian Church.

The president of the Presbyterian Woman's Missionary Society spotted Victoria Cheung, and a scholarship fund was established, enabling her to proceed to the Faculty of Medicine of the University of Toronto. Upon graduation, she was accepted as the first woman interne in the Toronto General Hospital, a gracious professional tribute to her poise and maturity of character, and also her technical efficiency.

In 1923 Dr. Victoria Cheung became a full-fledged medical missionary in the Marion Barclay Hospital at Kongmoon in South China. Owing to anti-foreign and anti-Christian agitation everywhere, strikes were occurring in schools, factories and all kinds of places. Despite all this, in five years this efficient Canadian-born woman broke all records for outpatients, in-patients, and confinement cases in her hospital. In addition, from her meagre salary, she refunded all the scholarship fund to the Canadian Church, with a request that it be used to educate other Chinese Canadians for Christian service.

Following a furlough in Canada, she returned to Kongmoon, this time to meet the invader. Kongmoon fell in 1939 and all Canadian doctors were ordered home. Dr. Cheung had taken her mother back to China, but owing to Canadian immigration laws, her mother could not return to Canada. Dr. Cheung remained at her post, and added the men's hospitals and refugee camps to her responsibilities. There was no interference for a time by the invaders. Meanwhile the Canadian press dare not utter her name, lest the identity of her nationality become known. The Japanese assumed she was just a Chinese doctor. Dr. Cheung labored under a terrific nerve strain, and not until the war ended, and the lines of communication again opened up did she return to Canada, where she is now on furlough, studying in Toronto.

The Woman's Missionary Society of St. Andrew's United Church presents this cultured Chinese doctor, as a direct result of the missionary effort of the Woman's Missionay Society of the United Church in Canada. A cordial invitation is extended to people of all denominations to hear this outstanding and courageous woman.

THE STARS SAY . . . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Sunday, February 15

SUNDAY'S horoscope shows excellent stimulus for the intellectual faculties, in which versatility and diversified interests could afford much pleasure as well as some prized accomplishment. Such might involve much stirring-about, literally or in the realm of the mind and aspirations. Affairs of the young should flourish and afford much pleasure or excitement. Joint interests are encouraged under new contracts or understandings. New deals should thrive.

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may prepare for a year of change, travel, new contacts, publicity, advertising and communications should be very active. Speech making might be successful, probably in connection with affairs of the young and active, perhaps in athletics or sports. New associations and agreements might yield much pleasure. The mind is particularly alert and studious, prone to fresh slants on progressive lines.

A child born on this day has an exceptionally active and keen mind, with inclination to move about, travel, engage in writings and publicity. It should succeed and prosper in some cultural production.

For Monday, February 16

Monday's astrological forecast is for the danger of overdoing and carrying all affairs of the day to heights of failure and probable loss. Under an aggressive and strenuous impulse, the energies, activities, plans and projects may be carried to extremes and impulses and forces may be dominant rather than controlled in energies and tactics. Anger, strife, accidents and rebellion may cause grief, with separations, litigation, even fatality and ill health.

On the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may find themselves in year of self-undoing, through the turbulence and strenuousness of their emotions, impulses and forces. Intellectual and physical urges may be carried to extremes, excesses and loss of opportunity, causing inharmony, quarrels, estrangements and personal dangers. Fire and accident may accent such aggressive and turbulent behavior. Attend rigidly to organized programs.

A child born on this day, although being fond of labor, planing and sound reflection, might also "fly off the handle," with little provocation to its great loss and detriment.

DOROTHY DIX . . . .

MOTHER'S DUTY TO DAUGHTER
Girls Require Guidance In Religion, Truth, Appearance, Etc.

✧ ✧ ✧

WHAT SHOULD a mother teach her daughter? To worship God; to speak the truth; to keep herself clean, morally and physically; to accept her responsibilities in life, and to feel that something more is expected of her than just to be a dressed-up doll and a pretty plaything.

Dorothy Dix

From the time the girl baby is old enough to understand anything at all, her mother should begin teaching her how to be a woman, with credit and profit to herself and pleasure to all who come in contact with her. For being a woman is no easy job and it takes a lot of knowhow and skill to make a success of it.

First, then, Mother should begin her basic treatment by trying to teach her daughter to be a lady, and to look like a lady, and act like a lady, and talk like a lady. Of course, to the bobby-soxers this will seem like something that Grandma brought down from a trunk in the attic. Most of them don't even want to be ladies. Their ambition is to be glamorous and to look sultry and as if they had just broken all of the Ten Commandments.

This may get them a good time for a little while, but be not deceived. It doesn't last. And it does not lead to the altar. When a man who is worth having gets married, he wants a lady for a wife, not a roughneck. Whether a girl wants to marry or to have a career, she can have no better asset than just being a lady.

Pleasing Personality

Next, a mother should cultivate a pleasing personality in her daughter. That involves teaching a girl to control her temper and not to fly into rages over every trifle, and not to get into arguments that make her enemies. The homeliest girl who has a friendly, gracious manner, and who always says the right thing at the right time, can not only snap her fingers in the face of Miss America, she will make one of the wives who never figure in the divorce court.

Next, every mother should teach her daughter how to make the most of her looks, for nobody in these days need be as ugly as Nature made them. It is a crime to let a girl grow up with snaggly teeth, or a crooked nose, or bow legs when there are cosmeticians and dentists and surgeons standing ready to turn ugly ducklings into white swans.

Furthermore while clothes may not make the man, they certainly do help out the woman, and if Mother doesn't trust her own taste in dress, it is her sacred duty to turn over her daughter to a stylist who will dike her out in the garments that bring out all of her good points and camouflage her bad ones. When we say how beautiful Isabella is, nine times out of ten we really mean how smart Isabella dresses.

And not the least important thing that Mother should teach her daughter is to be a good cook and housekeeper. For the chances are that daughter will marry and then her happiness, her retaining her husband's affections, and her general prosperity are going to depend on how skillful she is at her trade. For it is nonsense to talk about a marriage being a success when a wife runs her house in a sloppy, slovenly, hit-or-miss way, and feeds her husband on food that would give a dog peptic ulcers.

True, some brides do learn how to cook, but many a divorce would be saved if mothers would only teach their daughters before they get married how to make an edible biscuit.

Russia Feared

the wind and I was then enabled to bring her close to battle.

"In this situation I soon found the enemy's forces too superior to expect success unless some very fortunate chance occurred. I continued the battle for two hours and 10 minutes. By then we had the mizen shot away by the board, top masts shot away by the caps, main-yard shot in pieces, lower masts badly wounded, lower rigging all cut to pieces, a small proport only of the foresail left to the foreyard, all the guns on the quarter-deck and forecastle disabled and several shot between wind and water, a very great proportion of the crew killed and wounded. The enemy in comparatively good order, had now shot ahead and was able to place himself in a raking position without our being able to return fire, being a perfect wreck and unmanageable, I deemed it prudent, though painful, to surrender His Majesty's ship."

Naval Power

Then, as now, leading powers kept a watchful eye on naval power. Listing of four of the leading countries January 18, 1813, reveals the following strength:

BRITISH NAVY.—At sea, 79 ships of the line—9 from 50 to 44 guns—122 frigates, 77 sloops and yachts—4 bombs, etc.—161 brigs, 54 cutters, 52 schooners, etc. In port and fitting, 39 of the line—11 from 50 to 44 guns—29 frigates, 18 sloops, 4 bombs, etc.—36 brigs, 6 cutters, 11 schooners, hospital ships, prison ships—28 of the line—2 from 50 to 44—2 frigates—1 yacht. Ordinary and repairing for service, 77 of the line—10 from 50 to 44 guns—70 frigates—37 sloops—3 bombs—11 brigs, 1 cutter, 2 schooners. Building, 29 of the line—4 from 50 to 44 guns—12 frigates—5 sloops—3 brigs, making a grand total of 1,545.

FRENCH NAVY.—In various ports of France, Holland and Italy, are 65 sail of the line and 61 frigates ready for sea; 32 sail of the line and 26 frigates building and fitting out. In a short time we will have opposed to us, —97 sail of the line and 87 frigates. However those in the Scheldt are badly manner.

UNITED STATES NAVY.—Has the following frigates—Constitution 44, United States 44, President 44, Chesapeake 36, New York 36, Constellation 36, Congress 36, Boston 32, Essex 32, Macedonian (late British) 38, the John Adams Corvette, Hornet sloop of 6 guns, Syren, Argus, Oneida brigs of 16 guns, Vixen, Enterprise and Viper, schooners of 12 guns, 170 gun boats stationed at New Orleans and the Vengeance, Vetna, Vesuvius and Spitfire bombs.

RUSSIAN NAVY.—53 of the line—34 frigates—59 cutters, brigs etc.—smaller vessel 226, carrying in all 4,428 pieces of cannon. This estimate includes ships of every class and condition from a first rate to a gun brig.

Today, across the span of 135 years, the same nations, with a few additions, are facing the same problems. The only difference appears to be in the alignment of allies and "villains." People were thinking and talking then much as they are worrying and speaking now. The people of 1813 came through their time of troubles and probably the people of 2047 will study with interest how the people of this era navigated the uncharted political seas.

This old volume of British papers is the property of W. J. Laird, Toronto.

LAW INTERRUPTS HONEYMOON — The law interrupted temporarily the honeymoon of 12-year-old Betty Jo Bishop (left) and J. C. Barker, 44, (right). The bridegroom was arrested on a charge of having carnal knowledge of a minor and perjury in obtaining a license. A relative of the child bride of two days filed the complaint. Authorities said the child's mother was also arrested on a charge of contributing to delinquency. Also taken into custody was a sister of Barker. Police say that she posed as the girl when the license was obtained and signed the records with an X. The three were later released on bond and the case will be studied by a county court grand jury. Betty Jo, large for her age, told the police that she loved Barker. The December-May honeymooners lived in nearby Pell City, Alabama.

Windsor Plant Workers Return Monday

WINDSOR, Feb. 14 — (CP). — Auto Specialties Manufacturing Company will recall its 350 employees Monday, regardless of the natural gas situation in other Windsor plants, it was announced yesterday.

The busy Windsor foundry will be the first here to resume full-scale operations since the western Ontario gas shortage tied up industry and put more than 20,000 men out of work three weeks ago.

One of the chief suppliers of the city's auto industry, Auto Specialties has made adjustments in its own equipment to provide fuel for the operations formerly functioning with natural gas. The adjustment is workable for a temporary period.

For continued production, the company, like others, is dependent on the results of the gas-rationing plan announced in Toronto Thursday.

If weather holds up during the next few days it is expected to combine with the rationing to bring industry back into operation all through western Ontario by next Tuesday.

Anglicans Plan Primatial See

OTTAWA, Feb. 14.—(CP). — The establishment of an Anglican Primatial See at the head of the Great Lakes where it will be centrally located to all Canada is being considered, Most Rev. George Frederick Kingston, Archbishop of Nova Scotia and Primate of All Canada, said last night.

The Primate said that location of a permanent home for the head of the Church of England in Canada was one of the subjects which arose during his visit to Ottawa.

"It has been suggested that it should be at the head of the Great Lakes where it would be central to all Canada," Archbishop Kingston stated, "but it may be some time before a place may be opened."

He left last night for Sault Ste. Marie for a visit to the diocese of Algoma, following which he will make a visit to the diocese of Huron.

On March 7 he will attend a special convocation at the University of Western Ontario where the president, Dr. George E. Hall, will confer on the Primate the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws.

GLACE BAY, N.S., Feb. 14—(CP)—Charles Small, about 56, shot and severely wounded his wife, fired a second time at his son and later killed himself in his Bedeckal St. home here last night, police reported. Police gave no reason for the shooting.

Find Girl's Body

STRATHROY, Ont., Feb. 14 — (CP) — The frozen body of Miss Margaret Stratham, 32, object of a 24-hour search was found yesterday on the banks of the Sydenham river in this Middlesex county town. Miss Statham, member of a well-known district family, had been missing since Thursday afternoon.

"WALKING IN A WINTER WONDERLAND" — Winter completely transforms familiar scenes when a heavy coating of hoar frost builds up on grass and shrubs in the many valleys that cut across the prairies. Three hikers in Saskatchewan's Qu'Appelle valley are photographed near Lumsden walking through a shimmering white fairyland that is ordinarily a somewhat drab scene before the snow and frost come.

Waterworks Has Net Surplus of $775.05

The annual financial statement of the Waterworks Department of the Utilities Commission is printed elsewhere in this issue. For the year ending December 31, there was a net surplus of $775.05 after setting up the usual reserves.

Total revenue increased by $7,000.00. Part of this was from the added domestic consumers, but the bulk was from the industries of the city. Also, the charge to the city for water for public fire protection was increased by $2,000.00 for the year.

Operating expenses increased by $15,000.00, due to several conditions. Labour and material costs have increased to a great extent, and the expansion of the system and added consumers have had their effect.

Debentures to the amount of $24,000.00 were paid off in 1947, but $100,000 were added to pay for the construction of mains and services in the annexed areas.

More than two miles of 8" and 6" mains were laid, and 347 new water services. Twelve new fire hyrants were placed, which materially improved the fire protection facilities in the districts where they were installed.

The work of laying these mains and services proceeded throughout the winter months, aided by the use of the air compressor and frost breaking tools.

During the summer months extensive use was made of power shovels at a considerable increase in speed of construction and lowered costs.

The department is still far behind in the construction of new mains, progress being hindered by the shortage of cast iron pipe and other materials. Towards the end of the year a good supply of cast iron pipe was obtained, and as a consequence, faster progress will be made when the spring opens up.

Requests, not yet filled, for one mile of 8-inch main and three miles of 6-inch main. On these mains 300 services have been applied for. The estimated cost of these new mains and services is $85,000.00.

A right-of-way has been arranged for a large part of the route of the proposed 24-inch force main, and 9,000 feet of cast iron pipe is on order to be delivered next summer. It is hoped that laying of this main will start in the fall.

Pumpage Capacity Increased.

The two new pumping sets at the station have been completed and have been operating for some time. The installation of these pumps has increased the capacity of the station by six million gallons per day in waterwheel-driven pumps.

The total amount of water pumped to the city was 1,381 million gallons, an increase of 84 million over 1946. The average per day was 3,784,000 gallons.

In this connection it is interesting to note that 30 per cent more water is being pumped than ten years ago. The average per person per day is 108 gallons.

The maximum day's pumpage was on August 13, when 6,315,000 gallons were delivered. On this day the temperature was 92 degrees F., which probably accounts for this, the largest day's pumpage in our history.

Water temperatures reached 79 degrees F. on August 13, the average being 50 degrees for the year.

The year was somewhat colder, on the average, than in 1946, being 42.8 as against 44.3 degrees.

The filtration plant was again stressed to the limit to supply enough water for the city's needs. The rated capacity is 6 million gallons per day, but in August it was run at 9 million gallons per days. This resulted in a water of higher colour than normal, but the sanitary quality was kept to the usual high standard, by the use of additional amounts of chlorine.

It is evident that an addition to the filter plant will be required in the very near future.

Frazile ice was prevalent on nineteen occasions, and the steam pumping set was kept in readiness throughout three months of the year.

Owing to the reliability of electric power, it is suggested that the steam set should be abandoned and an electrically-driven pump substituted as a standby. Much expense would be saved thereby.

Child Dies In Fire

ST. PAUL DALIBAIRE, Que., Feb. 14 — (CP) — Three-year-old Charles Eugene Dumont died Thursday when fire of unkown origin broke out on the second floor of the Dumont home in this Matane county township. The parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Dumont, suffered serious burns to hands and face in efforts to reach the child.

Four Canadian Cities See Macbeth Staged

BY PAT USSHER

NEW YORK, Feb. 14 (CP)—Following in the footsteps of the Dublin Gate Theatre Company, Michael Redgrave and Flora Robson will appear next month in four Canadian cities in a production of "Macbeth."

The Shakespeare tragedy, produced by Morris Houghton, will have its premiere in London, Ont., playing there March 11 and the two following days. It will be in Toronto for the week of March 15. Ottawa will see "Macbeth" for one night, March 22, and it will be presented for the balance of that week in Montreal.

Subsequently the production, sponsored by theatre incorporated in association with Brian Doherty of Toronto, will be brought to New York for a limited engagement.

"John Bull's Other Island"

Fresh from its Canadian tour," the Gate Theatre Company of Dublin opened at the Mansfeild Theatre this week in Shaw's comedy, "John Bull's Other Island." Hilton Edwards was extraordinarily vivid as Tom Broadbent, the pompous Englishman who determines to save Ireland by the introduction of English "efficiency." Micheal MacLiammoir is just as convincing as the cynical Irishman who is fully aware of the oddities of the Irish temperament and they are supported by an excellent cast. It isn't Shaw at his best but there are enough Shavian witticisms to make it an interesting performance and the diction of the company is a treat.

Oil Refinery Fire Purely Accidental

TORONTO, Feb. 14 — (CP).—A special board of inquiry into last Wednesday's $500,00 British-American oil refinery fire, yesterday found that the four-alarm blaze was "purely accidental" and was caused by short circuit in a truck battery.

"The inquiry revealed that a flash fire from a short circuit in a truck battery was responsible for the fire that swept through the warehouse, the canning and refining buildings, the washrooms, locker rooms and the barrel storage plant," said Fire-Marshal Hill.

Labs And Test Plots Develops Agriculture

TORONTO, Feb. 14 — (CP). — Laboratories, test plots, experimental farms and various other devices and policies have given Ontario recognition "as one of the most advanced agricultural areas on the face of the earth," Premier Drew said last night in a transcribed address prepared for delivery over a provincial radio network.

Delivering one in a series of speeches on the work and accomplishment of the Ontario government, the Premier said research alone was not enough to sustain a Progressive agricultural economy, and he referred to the work of the government agencies, chief of which he said was the system of county representatives, and "to the third division of the department's work — higher agricultural education."

Mr. Drew discussed the projected Ontario food terminal to be established on 45 acres on the Queen Elizabeth Highway just west of Toronto and claimed it would be "one of the most modern fruit and vegetable markets in the world." He said it would serve the entire province.

UAW Makes New Pay Demands

DETROIT, Feb. 14.—(AP). — The United Auto Workers (CIO) came up yesterday with pay demands against Chrysler Corp. exceeding 35 cents an hour.

The figure is five cents higher than adopted recently by the union's policy committee and approved by its international executive board.

U.A.W. delegates from 14 Chrysler plants in Michigan, Indiana and California set forth the demands in a resolution approved by the union's national Chrysler conference.

These are the demands voted by the conference on behalf of 70,000 Chrysler workers:

1—A 30-cent hourly wage increase.

2—Social security benefits

3—An "adequate" pension plan.

4—Improved vacation provisions.

5—A guaranteed weekly wage.

Sending Guns

JERUSALEM, Feb. 14—(AP)—Issa Bandak, mayor of Bethlehem, said yesterday that heavy guns now en route to the Arab army will bombard Jewish sections of Palestine "within a few weeks." Bandak is a member of the Arab higher committee.

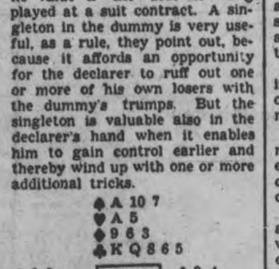
PENNY



—By Harry Hoenigsen

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

SINGLETON HAS A VALUE

MOST bridge books and most bridge instructors, both amateur and professional, teach that a singleton in the declarer's hand has no value if the deal is being played at a suit contract. A singleton in the dummy is very useful, as a rule, they point out, because it affords an opportunity for the declarer to ruff out one or more of his own losers with the dummy's trumps. But the singleton is valuable also in the declarer's hand when it enables him to gain control earlier and thereby wind up with one or more additional tricks.

(Dealer: South. East-West vulnerable.)

South	West	North	East
1 ♠	Pass	2 ♣	Pass
2 ♠	Pass	4 ♠	Pass
5 ♠

It's a good thing South didn't succumb to the temptation to hop into 6-Spades when his partner supported the suit to game. He would have been set a trick if he had.

"You know, partner," he said, after the deal, "if I had held a singleton in diamonds instead of a doubleton, I would have tried the small slam."

North argued that a singleton in South's hand would have been of no value, whereupon the pair reconstructed the entire hand.

"Now," asked South, "if I gave my five of diamonds to East in exchange for his three of hearts, could I have made a slam or couldn't I?"

North looked over the situation and was obliged to admit South was right. You will note, upon counting up the apparent trick-takers in the two hands, that South had six winners in spades and five in clubs, plus one in hearts, a total of twelve. But with a doubleton in diamonds, he had to lose two tricks in the suit before he could begin scoring his own tricks.

Your Week-End Question

Suppose your hand is more than strong enough to bid, and yet you can't find a good bid in it. What's the better thing to do then—make a bid you don't like, or pass?

children take their place in the world and has been a friend to all.

As a young man in his early 20's, he sold his grocery store in China and came to Canada. When he first arrived here in 1909, he worked for a time at the Dominion Cafe and then went to Ottawa. In 1916 he returned to this city and went into business for himself at the spot where he has remained for 32 years.

At 59, he is now "the old man" in the Chinese group here. But he recalls with delight the friendships with such men as R. R. Hall, E. A. Peck, Chief Dan Thompson, Chief Samuel Newhall, L. J. Pettit, Alex Elliott, Dr. Ralph Honey, Alex Sollitt and many others. In his early days here, Chief Dan Thompson of the police department helped to teach him English and his attendance at St. Paul's Sunday School also improved his knowledge of the language.

Like the old-time "party men," Hum Hoy has two impregnable beliefs. They are faith in the government of Chiang Kai-Shek and living up to the Confuscian code of behaviour to his fellow men.

Young People's Friend

One of his greatest contributions to Peterborough and perhaps the least known, has been his interest and help to the young people here. Away from his own children, he has given the youth of Peterborough the same kindly, wise advice and control he would have given to his own. There are many parents who will never be aware of the debt they owe this quiet Chinese. The teen-agers have thronged to his cafe and they have been as safe as at home. For the kindly proprietor will not tolerate anything but the best behaviour. Not only has he always been obeyed, but he has earned the love and respect of his young patrons.

Two years ago when he was very ill, a young woman told me:

"We owe him more than we'll ever realize. When our gang used to sit in the cafe plotting mischief or getting just a bit careless, he always pulled us up short. Yet I never heard him scold. He would saunter over to our table, his smiling eyes peering through his thick glasses, and his great dignity always made us feel ashamed. You just couldn't do anything cheap in front of him. I am only now beginning to understand what a true friend we had."

Even when the children have grown up and left school, his interest has been unflagging in their progress. And they have remembered him. One of his most pleasant moments came a few months ago when he received a wedding invitation from a young woman in Alberta, to whom he had been kind in her childhood here. She, like so many others, never forgot her friend.

Take Up Collection

During the war when part of his home was destroyed by Japanese bombs, a group of Peterborough friends built up a small fund. The money was later presented to him, a token of their esteem and sorrow at his loss.

Chinese hospitality is well known and Hum Hoy enjoyed extending it to good and deserving friends. The highest honor he felt he could confer upon them was to entertain them at a sumptuous Chinese dinner in Peterborough or in Toronto. These banquets were feasts in the true sense of the word.

Yes, Peterborough will miss Hum Hoy. Representing the best of old and new China, he is a man whose breeding and integrity make him stand out in a crowd, Chinese or Canadian. He has been a just leader of the Chinese community in Peterborough.

Perhaps the finest tribute the city could pay him is to say: Hum Hoy is a good and kind man, a man who can be trusted and a worthy friend.

Asphodel Militia

"Newcastle, too, her quota sent,
Of men both good and true;
In truth it was a cheering sight
Their bearing high to view.

"Of Cobourg, too, I needs must sing,
Which on that trying day
The fire of virtuous loyalty
Did to our eyes display.

"There Conger with his company,
With Calcutt and with Clarke,
And Warren with his rifle band,
Whom every eye did mark.

"And on they went, a gallant set,
To stop the foes rebelling,
How many prisoners they took
Would take some time in telling.

To repel an expected invasion of the Frontier, the Newcastle District Militia were placed on guard . . . an event which was noticed by the Cobourg Poet:—

"At first, I hear, 'twas their intent
At Waterloo to land.
But Newcastle's good rifles there
Were ready to their hand."

It may be that the volunteers from Asphodel were among those noble defenders, as Richard Birdsall went as far as the Frontier, and probably others as well.

GREASED LIGHTNING

In India and Persia the cheetah, a kind of leopard, has been used for centuries for hunting antelopes and other fast game.

ICE HARVESTING IN ALBERTA—Moose Jaw, Sask., district farmers have come into town to take off another kind of a crop—the 1948 ice harvest—in which the yield is measured in tons, not bushels. Ice cutting on the Moose Jaw river began just after Christmas and during February will be taking off the second crop in some spots, where water has frozen again to the required depth of about 20 inches. The health department has tabooed the ice for cooling martinis, and has ordered that it be used for refrigeration and wash purposes only. Ice harvesting here bears strong resermblance to logging, for men float on the huge chunks of ice until it reaches the cutter, and manipulate the frozen water with long-handled sticks with sharp prongs on the ends. Norman Low, who is manipulating the ice-cutting machine in the picture is typical of the ice harvesters.

Words Fly As Landlord Tried For Threatening To Kill Tenant

LINDSAY, Feb. 14—(ENS)—What Magistrate E. A. Gee called "an Irishmen's war on Lindsay Street," culminated in a verbal battle in police court here Friday—a battle in which 70-year-old James C. Healey attacked Chief Constable R. H. Lawler and the Lindsay police department in general, but ended up facing a possible three months prison term.

Healy, who owns an apartment house in Lindsay, was charged with threatening to kill a tenant, Mrs. Gertrude Knox, and on being found guilty, was ordered to post a $200 bond to keep the peace for one year by not later than 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon, or in default to be imprisoned for a period of three months.

The accused, acting in his own defence, flatly denied threatening Mrs. Knox, although Chief Lawlor, who was on the scene, testified he had heard Healy say he would kill her.

"We're not trying the Chief today," Magistrate Gee said after the elderly man had used some very strong language in addressing Chief Lawler, who testified that Mrs. Knox had called him and Constable Gordon Eberts to the apartment house following the alleged threat.

On taking the stand, Mrs. Knox stated that on Feb. 4, Healy was attempting to force a door in the apartment house with an axe, and that when she told him to stop, he had raised the axe and said, "If you come up here I'll split your head open." Mrs. Knox said she had wired and nailed the door shut at the order of Sanitary Inspector T. H. Davies, and although the door led into Healey's own apartment, he therefore had no right to open it.

Waving Hammer

Evidence showed when the police arrived the argument was still raging, and both officers claimed they heard Healey's threat to kill his tenant. "He was waving a hammer around when we got there," said Chief Lawler.

The aged landlord said both hammer and axe were in his possession solely to open the door.

Mrs. Kathleen Teatro, another tenant who appeared as an independent witness, confirmed the statements of Mrs. Knox and police.

"She's an infernal liar," said Healey of Mrs. Knox, and in the midst of the hearing there followed a sharp exchange of words between the two.

Mr. Healy looked around the courtroom. "I had several witnesses to prove my point," he said, "but I see they've all deserted me." He told the magistrate he had asked two Peterborough lawyers to defend him, but both had gone to Florida on vacation.

"That's what you said happened when you came before me last year," replied His Worship. Laughter resounded in the crowded court room.

Magistrate Gee pointed out that the accused had been in court several times before over differences with Mrs. Knox, his tenant of one year. Only two months before he had appeared on a charge of assaulting her, he pointed out.

"Two of my tenants are conspiring to have me sent back to the Burwash prison farm," declared Healy, "and Mrs. Knox is one of them."

Exorbitant Rentals Blow To Merchants

TORONTO, Feb. 14 — (CP). — A Toronto paper said yesterday newspage story that a survey it conducted showed "scores—perhaps hundreds — of Toronto's smaller merchants will be forced either to pay exorbitant rentals or go completely out of business early in April."

It adds that a "crisis" is arising by reason of the Federal government's removal of rent controls on commercial properties, effective March 1.

"More than a dozen storekeepers have informed the paper personally that their rent as of April, is to be increased by more than 100 per cent and some by as much as 300 and 400 per cent," the paper says.

SCOTT'S SCRAP BOOK —

County Farm Notes

—By HARRY THEOBALD

Pennsylvania Buyer Optimistic of Steady 1948 Market For Export Canadian Dairy Cattle — C. N. Downer Predicts Light Hog Supply By Midsummer — John MacLeod Recommends Varieties of Barley.

Clarence Lyons of Lancaster county, Pennsylvania, left yesterday for his home at Mountjoy after buying 40 Holstein cattle in Napanee and Peterborough district.

"About 20 head in each district," Mr. Lyons said. "In this area I got part of my shipment from Carman Seymour, Rich. H. Coughlin, Joseph T. Tully, the estate of Mrs. Chas. Coughlin, David McIntyre, Stuart Nelson and Norman McConkey. I think the prospects for 1948 are real godo. Prices are holding up, although later on there may be some little decline, possibly resulting from what appears to be some general recession in prices.

From what I see and heart about, I think there are more empty stalls in both the United States and Canada than at any other time in the last two years. The price of beef largely explains that because of the number of ordinary cattle that have been moving to the stockyards. In Pennsylvania there is two per cent fewer cattle on the farms than in 1944."

Mr. Lyons was in this district on an average of once a month last year, and he is expecting that his visits will be about the same frequency this year. Some of his orders were for entire herds. He has one order of that kind in his book right now for 30 or 40 head. Incidentally, he recalled that the Holstein herd he bought last year from Joseph and Fred Mann of Smith was for one farm. "They have been doing exceptionally well for their new owner, especially the heifers."

Mr. Lyons had a broad background of experience as a fieldman for the Holstein Association prior to the war. He went overseas, and while he was six months in hospital recovering from war wounds he decided to go into cattle breeding for himself. He is buying and selling pure bred cattle and has begun a fairly long time program for building up a herd for himself. And he says he has gone into it with confidence of what the future holds.

"Your Canadian (mostly Ontario) Holsteins are very well accepted in my State primarily because our people force their cattle harder than your farmers do. The result is that your cattle come down there and do splendidly in those conditions. At our community sales, cattle from Canada demand more attention than those from our local herds. One reason is that buyers are inclined to suspect that local breeders may be unloading some of their second-rate stock, and they know the cattle from Ontario have been bought by selection.

I have quite a number of farmers who buy kind of frequently. I recall one man bought 17 head all told from me last year, taking two or three at time. He tries to get the tops in some of the shipments. The fact that he comes back so often is proof that he is well satisfied. I had five young fellows come with me to Canada on different trips in 1947. They were interested in beef breeds and buying cheap animals. From what they saw on their trips each one of them got so enthusiastic that they have started pure bred herds of their own.

This may interest your dairy men. On my first trip after I got out of the service, I somehow headed up toward Canada, and crossed at the international bridge down near Kingston. Almost at once I ran into the Hays Supreme offspring. Holstein men know what I mean. I learned that the J. R. Henderson herd had spread the most effect in that area. By accident I came up into this section, and again I found marked traces of the same type, Hays Supreme through his son Grand Slam.

If I may venture my conviction, I believe the biggest mistake that was made in the Holstein breed in this area was when Grand Slam was sold down to Virginia. I say that from the fine type and uniform quality of the daughters of Hays Supreme and Grand Slam. I learned a lot up here about both those sires, and I knew that Norman McConkey had sold Grand Slam to a breeder in Virginia. I was so impressed by what I had seen up here, that I went down to that Virginia Farm to see if I could buy Grand Slam for myself. The owner told me that he wouldn't take $10,000 for him. Grand Slam is now 10 years old, and I don't think they have taken the good care he got up here."

There is nothing effusive about Clarence Lyons. He is quiet of speech, but he said in his mild manner: "If you had kept Grand Slam up here, I am positive this section would have been a Mecca of Holstein buyers. I don't think there is another bull up here that would have done what he would have if he had stayed. That impression is from the type and quality of the many of his get I have seen. I had three Grand Slam animals at my sale last fall. They were three of the five top cows at the sale. By the way, I'm trying to buy his son from Mr. McConkey to build my own herd around him. At least that's what I'd like to do. There is no other bull that I know of in Canada, and I'm not excluding western Ontario, that has produced the same uniformity in his female offspring."

Mr. Lyon said that another of his impressions was that Peterborough has the most energetic Holstein club of all the counties he had visited.

"Some very modest men accomplish things far beyond their own estimate of what they have done. One of them was your late Robert Holtby. From what I hear, I really think he is appreciated as he deserved to be among the Holstein breeders. I don't know of any other man in Canada or the United States who contributed more to the Holstein cattle industry than did Mr. Holtby. Your county and district Black and White shows are one reason why so many of your cattle have gone to the States, and also why so many Canadian cattle are among the All-American rating."

One of the cows Mr. Lyons bought was Idylwylde Lady Ann Creator from Carman Seymour. Her mother is Idylwylde Betsy Ann, the cow that won for Mr. Seymour the long time production certificate that was presented to him at the Holstein Association dinner his week. Again, incidentally, Grand Slam was a son of Hays Supreme and the good McConkey cow, Ruby Pabst Posch.

Mr. Lyons said he hoped the Peterborough district breeders would extend their energy and activities into an advanced program this year, "because you can't stand still; you've got to keep moving on, or the first thing you know you're slipping back." He fels that he knows this district just about as well as Lancaster county in Pennsylvania.

BARLEY IN THE GRAIN PROGRAM

"It has long been recognized that barley is one of our best hog feeds, and that its use in Ontario has been partly responsible for the good quality of Canadian hams and bacon," says Mr. R. Keegan, associate Professor of Field Husbandry, O.A.C. "Yet, the acreage of barley in Ontario has declined from 622,000 acres in 1929 to 228,000 in 1947."

Reasons for this decrease he suggests are probably: barbed awns make barley a disagreeable crop to harvest; increase in mildew damage in central Ontario in recent years; barley requires more fertile soil than oats for high yields; oat straw is more popular with live stock farmers.

These objections may be wholly or partly overcome by: the sowing of smooth-awned varieties; some yield higher than the rough-awned varieties, and do not appear to suffer as much from mildew; improving soil fertility; early seeding on well cultivated land.

Varieties of barley recommended by OAC for growing seed grain are: Galore, smooth awned and strong of straw. "It is one of the best yielders of grain ever tested at O.A.C."

Barboff, smooth awned and very strong of straw; an excellent feed barley as the weight of barley is high, and the kernels large and plump. It is recommended for combine harvesting as the straw is strong and not too heavy.

Byng is a semi-smooth awned variety bred at Macdonald College. It is a heavy yielder, but is not recommended for very fertile soils as the straw is not as strong as that of the Galore and Barboff. None of the above should be grown for sale as malting barley, as the first three are unsuitable.

"It is estimated that 200,000,000 bushels of feed grain should be grown in Ontario in 1948 to avoid a repetition of shortage. This amount is 50,000,000 bushels more than the average annual production for the ten year period 1936-1946, or only 8,000,000 bushels more than the amount produced in 1942 when Ontario produced 192,000,000 bushels of feed grains."

In this project of increased grain production, John D. MacLeod, director of the crops, seeds and weeds branch of Ontario Department of Agriculture, stresses the importance of each farmer planning carefully his crop program.

"On farms where consistently good crops are produced and fertility is high, one of the secrets will generally be the growing of considerable clovers and legumes in the rotation. If farmers would make their soil fit to grow clovers and grow them, it would solve 90 per cent of their crop problems. Phosphorous and potash must be added to the soil for good clover production.

In considering barley and oats in the rotation for this year, sow the barley on the fields which are highest in fertility. Usually barley follows a hoed or cultivated crop or may be sown after a hay crop or pasture. If it must be sown as a second grain crop in the rotation, care should be given to maintaining fertility, as barley is not a profitable crop on soils where plant food is not readily available. Oats may be sown in the same place in the rotation as barley, but it is a better crop to sow as a second grain crop if this is necessary. If sowing as a second grain crop in succession, which is usually as a nurse crop, an early variety give best results. Early oats are probably a better nurse crop than most barley varieties, while late oats are not as good as barley.

A mixture of oats and barley will give a higher yield of grain than either oats or barley alone, and consideration should be given to sowing one or more fields of mixed grain on fields of good fertility.

On farms where fields have been seeded down and the sod is no longer producing profitably, it is a sound recommendation to bring these into the rotation in 1948. On spring-plowed sod, corn or soy-beans would be a good crop to sow, but grain may be sown where the soil is not too heavy.

Plans should be made to fertilize the better hay and pasture in the rotation to bring their production up to a level where the farmer can afford to plow down his less productive sod to make room for more grain.

Due to the high prices of protein concentrates, it is advisable for farmers to include in their rotation a protein crop, such as field peas, soy beans or flax. These should follow a sod crop where fertility is fairly good. Corns for silage and robts are crops that should be included in the rotation and should follow a sod crop as much as possible.

A well planned rotation will mean a well-paid farmer at the end of the year.

DARTFORD MAN SECOND

Lewis Dunk of Dartford stood second amongst the 3,506 North American Holstein breeders who tried their skill as judges in the All-American Judging Competition which was conducted in connection with the selection of All-American Holsteins in 15 of the regular show classes. The official placings were made by a panel of the judges at the leading shows of the continent. Mr. Dunk had a score of 142 out of a possible 150 points, and was beaten only by Joe Chingway of Watertown, Wisconsin, with a score of 144 points.

The nearest Canadian to Mr. Dunk was Tom Dent, Jr. of Woodstock who tied for sixth with his score of 138 points. Other Canadians who stood well up in the competition were Walter Honey, Dartford, with a score of 132 points; Mrs. C. E. Moore, Peterborough, with 132 points; Irwin Brubacher, Bridgeport, Ontario, and Clarence Stewart, Strathroy, Ont., 131 points, and M. J. McKay, Cornwall, Ont., Don Moore, Peterborough, E. L. Paull, Matsqui, B.C., and J. G. Stothart, Ottawa, 130 points each.

OFFERS $1 PER FLY

A reward amounting to $1 per fly to anyone who can find a fly in its plant, has been offered by a fish-packing firm in Tilgham, Maryland.

"Our company is offering $10 to anyone who can find 10 flies in our crab, fish and canning plants, warehouse or machine shop at any time," said the firm's president in a recent announcement. DDT was employed to spray the entire plant and the surrounding area. To date, no one has qualified for the award.

DURHAM FEDERATION

More than thirty members of Durham County Federation of Agriculture were present at their recent meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Reynolds.

Plans for the collection in the county of funds for the aid of children in Europe were left to the following committee: Charles Osborne, Walter Rundle, M. H. Staples, A. Hendry and Joseph J. Mellor.

Yelverton Farm Forum asked for Federation support to a campaign to control the warble fly. This project will be studied, and each township council will be asked for co-operation. A suggestion from Ontario County to join with Durham in a broadcasting program was set over to a later date.

Walter Reynolds and Mr. Mellor were appointed trustees of the Federation camp site, and the committee in charge was instructed to proceed with arrangements with the Ganaraska authority to set up some permanent organization. The president and secretary were asked to nominate a county committee composed of a member from each township to assume administration of the camp. The next meeting of the Federation will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Staples.

RADIO FORUM SUBJECT

"Are Farmers Business Men?" is the mildly titillating question to be discussed on Radio Forum: Monday night. The Forum Guide provides a preview of the subject which it summarizes in two affirmative statements: "Yes—if they plan their production according to business principles; —and if they keep records of the business so they know where they stand financially and how they can improve on their methods."

H. R. Hare, in his book, "Farm Business Management," distinguishes between farm practice and farm business this way:

Farm practice is concerned with how to grow crops, how to handle livestock, and how to produce livestock products. Farm business is concerned with which crops should be grown, which method of handling livestock should be adopted, and what livestock products should be produced in order to obtain the greatest long-term return.

British Sending Cruiser In Antarctic Land Dispute

JOHANNESBURG, Feb. 16—(Reuters). — The 8,000-ton British cruiser Nigeria has sailed for the Falkland Islands in connection with the Argentine-Chile disputed claims in the Antarctic, it was reliably learned here today. The Nigeria is a cruiser from the South Atlantic station. An Admiralty statement in London yesterday said she was being withdrawn from the station temporarily.

Falklands territory in the Antarctic has been the subject of rival political claims of Britain, Chile and the Argentine.

Britain and Argentina also are disputing ownership of Deception Island in the south Shetlands. An Argentine task force left Buenos Aires Feb. 12 for manoeuvres which included a visit to Deception.

In London, the Admiralty confirmed that the Nigeria was being temporarily withdrawn from the station.

"Her destination is a secret," the spokesman said. He declined to comment further.

Fit Pieces Together

London newspapers linked the cruiser's departure with the South Atlantic island disputes.

The Daily Telegraph's correspondent wrote:

"The Argentine and Chilean governments are disputing Britain's title to territory in the Falkland Island Dependencies, and have rejected the proposal that the matter be submitted to the International Court of Justice. Argentina has proposed an international conference at Buenos Aires."

The correspondent said it was reported in Santiaga last week that President Gabriel Gonzalez Videla of Chile was to visit the Antarctic lands claimed by Chile, and that the visit would be made during the president's current tour of South Chilean waters.

Earlier reports said Videla will visit an area of Graham Land in the Antarctic where Chilean claims conflicted with Britain.

Russians Start Puppet Rule In North Korea

SEOUL, Korea, Feb. 16 (AP)—A high American official said today a Russian puppet government has been established in North Korea. He declared it was an army, a flag, and a constitution, in open defiance of international agreements.

The official charged that establishment of the government was timed to coincide with the United Nations Commission's recent announcement of failure of its mission to Korea.

Russian occupation officials are charged with government of North Korea. Americans administer South Korea.

The UN Commission was refused entry into the Russian zone to plan elections preliminary to giving Korea self-government. Chairman K. P. S. Menon is to report the Commission's failure to the Assembly next week.

The American source said "we have ample information" that an army estimated at 200,000 North Koreans is equipped with Russian materials, medium tanks and light planes.

He expressed belief the Russians were planning to act alone in North Korea, regardless of any UN decision.

A radio broadcast from Pyongyang, Soviet occupation headquarters, announced creation of the "North Korean Peoples' Army," and a constitution which woud "establish the Democratic Peoples' Republic of Korea."

850 Teachers Begin 'After Hours Strike'

HAMILTON, Feb. 16—(CP)—More than 850 Hamilton public and secondary school teachers begin an "after hours strike" tomorrow over a salary dispute with the Board of Education.

The teachers will suspend their participation in such extra-curricular activities as athletics, choirs, dramatics, orchestras and social clubs until June 30, although classroom studies will continue as usual.

The action was taken "because of the arbitrary action of a majority of the Hamiliton Board of Education."

The eight-month salary negotiations ended last Thursday when the Board of Education adopted its salary committee's report giving the teachers a $200 increase. The teachers had originally asked for $400 increase.

Judson Pue Crushed On Highway

Pinned Against Truck While Fixing Chains; Dies Shortly After

A. Judson Pue, Lakefield, 46-year-old father of four children, died at St. Joseph's Hospital here Saturday afternoon shortly after being crushed against his truck near Fowler's Corners, about seven miles north-west of Peterborough.

The dead man was operating a plow-equipped truck owned by Frank Coyle, Lakefield, and had parked by the side of the highway to adjust a chain on the rear wheels.

He was struck by the car of Thomas R. Lawrence, R.R. 2, Peterborough, and thrown against the back of the truck.

Slight cuts were received by Mrs. Lawrence and by Mrs. Nettie Hunter, R.R. 2, Peterborough, passengers in the car.

The victim was born on R.R. 2, Ida, the son of the late Robert J. Pue and Annie Robertson. He was educated in South Monaghan.

His wife, the former Clover Finnie, survives. Children are all of Lakefield and are: Joan, 20; Norman, 18; Jon, 13; Brenda, 14 months.

He was a member of Lakefield United church and of Clementi Lodge 313, AF & AM, in which he was junior steward.

Other survivors are five sisters and one brother, Mrs. C. M. Davis (Luella), Detroit; Zena, Detroit; Mrs. Ida Dawson, Peterborough; Mrs. Walter Lord (Jean), R.R. 2, Ida; Mrs. Frank Coyle (Marjorie), Lakefield; Chalmers, Woodstock.

The body is at the home at Lakefield for funeral service at the Tedford Funeral Home at 2 p.m. on Tuesday, under Masonic rites. Rev. G. F. Kelly, Lakefield United church, will be in charge.

Pallbearers will be: Frank Coyle, Douglas Davis, Roy Bullock, Roy Brown, P. J. Chaplin, Theo Downs.

Provincial Constable Joe Hanson investigated the accident.

Second Union Official Held As Communist

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16—(AP)—Federal agents today arrested Ferdinand Christafer Smith, national secretary of the National Maritime Union (CIO) as an alien communist.

Smith, a native of Jamaica, was removed to New York's Ellis Island without bond for deportation proceedings, the justice department announced.

The arrest was made by immigration service officials and Federal Bureau of Investigation agents when Smith left his home in New York city this morning, the announcement said.

First 60 Days Decide Fate In New War—Eisenhower

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16. — (AP).—If war comes to the United States again, the first 60 days will decide the winner, Dwight D. Eisenhower forecasts.

Eisenhower, now an elder military statesman, said so in his farewell report as army chief of staff. He dealt with matters diplomatic as well as military, however, in writing his final official statement.

He saw the European recovery plan feathered by State Secretary Marshall as vital to "our sister democracies" and the United States.

Eisenhower did not mention Russia by name but said:

1. If the western European countries were to "become the pawns of totalitarianism, America's security would be in dire danger."

2. If the democracies of the Mediterranean area should fall and that corridor between east and west were blocked, "the effects would be instant and catastrophic.

"War, in such case, would be close to us."

Looking down the purely military road, he predicted:

"Because major nations, in the future, will be armed with weapons of terrifying destructive power, a series of lightning blows might conceivably end a future war at its ouset. . .

"A corollary to this is the need for a system of major and alternate or secondary bases around which can be organized, first our own defence against air attack, and next our retaliatory counter offensive.

"This concept, featuring as it does the hope that in air power resides the possibility of avoiding long drawn out and costly land operations, nevertheless and inescapably requires the availability of effective land forces; without them, we will have no bases and can seize none speedily. We would be wide open to attack and helpless to do anything positive about it."

Has College Plans

DAVOS PLATZ, Switzerland, Feb. 16—(CP). — Enrolment in a domestic science course at a Canadian university today was included in the list of future plans of Barbara Ann Scott. The winner of the world's, European and Olympic figure skating titles said last night she hoped to take a domestic science course in the near future. She did not specify the college she plans to attend.

Cardinal Dies; Ranked Next To Pope Pius

VATICAN CITY, Feb. 16. (AP) —Gennaro Cardinal Granito Pignatelli di Belmonte, 96-year-old dean of the College of Cardinals of the Roman Catholic Church, died today.

The aged prince of the church, who had known five popes in his lifetime, died at 4:13 a.m. EST, in his simply-furnished apartment in the historic Vatican Church of Santa Martha.

His death reduced the membership of the College of Cardinals to 60. Its full strength is 70.

Cardinal Pignatelli, second in rank only to Pope Pius in the hierarchy of the church, was stricken with a bladder ailment last week. Because of his great age little hope had been held for his recovery.

Pope Pius visited him last Saturday and gave his blessing and a message of sympathy. Extreme unction also was administered Saturday. He fell into a coma last night.

The prelate, as Prince of Belmonte, was a member of the Italian aristocracy. As Count of Copertino he held a place in the society of his native Naples before many of his brother cardinals were born.

Francesco Cardinal Marchetti-Selvaggiani, 76, Bishop of Frascati and vicar-general of Rome, succeeds Cardinal Pignatelli as cardinal dean.

Vatican authorities, however, said there was some doubt as to whether the state of his health would permit him to assume actively the duties of dean of the college of cardinals. He was reported suffering an illness affecting his legs.

Grafton Man Killed By Car

COBOURG, Feb. 16 — (ENS). — Garnet Clitheroe, 48-year-old Grafton resident, was instantly killed Saturday evening around 5.30 when struck by a car shortly after he had alighted from a bus at Grafton. Mr. Clitheroe had got out near his home and as the bus pulled away, walked around from the rear of it and headed towards his house on the opposite side of the highway. Police said an oncoming car, proceeding west and driven by Joseph Brennan of Ottawa, struck Mr. Clitheroe.

He was employed with the maintenance department of the Toronto Transportation Commission and a few months ago had come out of the veterans' guard after a long period of service. He is survived by his widow who was Gertrude Brown of Cobourg; two daughters, Marilyn of Grafton; Dorothy of Cobourg; Robert, with the navy on the east coast; a brother Cecil in Grafton and a brother Stanley, in Toronto. Also surviving are two sisters, Mrs. M. Patterson and Mrs. G. Coe of Toronto. A few years ago, a son of Mr. Clitheroe was killed accidently when a .22 rifle discharged.

TUC Supports Unity

LONDON, Feb. 16 — (AP). — Britain's Trades Union Congress, with 8,500,000 members, has decided to back the cause of western European unity even if it means trouble with its former associates on the continent.

The developing row between the T.U.C. and some other elements in the world federation of trade unions, originally supported by trade unions in 50 countries with 65,000,000 members, is part of the east-west dispute over the course of European reconstruction.

The T.U.S. has co-operated with the W.F.T.U. as a member body and approved the W.F.T.U. constitution adopted in 1945.

No Warning Given To Citizens

Dinners, Traffic Badly Disrupted; Will Change System

TORONTO, Feb. 16 — (CP) — Compulsory rationing of Hydro-Electric power went into effect without warning in Toronto today snarling traffic undirected by signals, delaying noon editions of daily newspapers by as much as half an hour and rousing the ire of housewives suddenly plunged into a dim-out. Teletype machines of The Canadian Press, carrying domestic and international news to Canadian papers, were silent for approximately 40 minutes.

E. M. Ashworth, manager of the Toronto Hydro-Electric Commission said all consumers, including hospitals, would be cut off today for periods up to half an hour. Exemptions from the order were the Toronto Transportation Commission, the city water works and the sewage disposal system.

"We were advised today that the Ontario Hydro will not be able to supply us with enough power to meet demands for today," Mr. Ashworth said. "We have been expecting something of this nature to come. It is not possible to say what will happen tomorrow or the next day. Today all Toronto will be affected."

The Ontario Hydro-Electric Commission issued the following explanation:

"Due to reduction in the volume of purchased power arriving out of low water conditions in Quebec, the Commission has been obliged to ask some of the larger municipalities to reduce their load. Every effort is being made to hold the reduction to minimum and there will be a further announcement as soon as possible."

K. Clark Keith, general manager of Windsor Utilities Commission, announced that London and Windsor have each been ordered to reduce consumption of Hydro power by 4,000 horse power for 16 hours a day beginning at 7 a.m. today. The reduction was expected to continue for at least this week. With industrial plants still closed because of a natural gas shortage, it was not expected there would be any need for reduced consumption today. Tomorrow, however, with the return of a normal gas supply, the new problem must be met.

Hydro officials at Brantford, said they expected at any time an order to reduce kilowatt hour consumption by 15 per cent. The only way it could be effected would be by cutting off power to various sections of the city for short periods.

A. W. Brandt, manager of the Hamilton Hydro System, said Hamilton industries have been cut off for half an hour. Tomorrow commercial businesses and residential consumers could expect a cut. Hospitals would also be asked to take their cut. "They will have to arrange their operation schedules to fit in with our plan," said Mr. Brandt.

Toronto Hydro officials said methods of warning consumers of impending cut-offs were being studied to avoid a repetition of NO WARNING

Padlock Newspaper

MONTREAL, Feb. 16 (CP). — Police, acting on orders from Premier Maurice Duplessis, as Attorney-General of Quebec, today padlocked the offices of the Montreal weekly newspaper Le Combat, a Leftist organ. The action was taken under the so-called "padlock law" of Quebec which gives the Attorney-General power to close up places held to be centres of Communist activity.

Barbara Ann Retains World Crown

OTTAWA, Feb. 16 (CP)—Triumphant queen of the blades, Barbara Ann Scott, will figure-skate her way across the Dominion a two-months barnstorming tour to bring the unbeatable champion into the personal sight of thousands of Canadians.

Although the tour is exhaustive in scope, covering centres in Alberta, Manitoba and Ontario, there will be many places the World, Olympic and European women's figure-skating titleholder, will be forced to miss.

"Much as Barbara would like to accept all invitations, it is an impossibility," said Charles Cummings, secretary-treasurer of the Canadian figure-skating association.

From the moment she steps off a Trans-Canada Air Lines plane in Ottawa about March 11 until she returns late in April, the winsome 19-year-old blonde won't have more than a few days rest.

Civic and government authorities here are preparing lavish welcomes. Prime Minister Mackenzie King cabled her: "Canadians await your return to accord you a truly national welcome." Said Mayor Stanley Lewis: "We'll shoot the works on a gigantic reception" and in a message cautioned Barbara Ann to "rest for your homecoming."

No Rest

Following the homecoming celebrations—on March 15— Barbara Ann probably will make a five-day trip to Toronto to appear at a carnival to be staged at Maple Leaf Gardens.

From Toronto she will hop to Calgary to compete March 24, 25 and 26 in the Canadian figure skating championships—the competition she neglected last year because of her European commitments.

If she wins the contest — and there is little doubt about it— Miss Scott will have won every major amateur championship.

Calgary will have Barbara Ann for another three days after the Canadian championships. Then she will appear in Manitoba, at Brandon and Winnipeg early in April.

Three days later she'll be in her old training quarters at Schumacher, where she'll stage another exhibition with the Porcupine Skating Club Carnival on April 8 and then back to Ottawa to join her friends at the Minto Skating Club when they put on the Minto Club Follies April 15, 16 and 17.

But she won't stop there. On April 20 she returns to Toronto to CANADA PLANS

Truman Makes Appeals For Restraint In Palestine Situation

Arabs Will Fight Any UN Police Force To Carry On Crusade; League Official Blames US Intervention

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16—(AP).—President Truman has made personal and direct appeals to other governments for "restraint in dealing with the Palestine situation." His secretary, Charles G. Ross, gave out this brief statement: "In an effort to prevent the spread of disorder in the Middle East, this government has, during recent months, addressed appeals to certain interested governments stressing the importance, in the interest of Middle East security and world peace, of the exercise of restraint in dealing with the Palestine situation. Some of these appeals were made directly by the President."

Ross's statement was prompted by questions growing out of a radio report that Truman had appealed directly to the kings of Saudi Arabia and Iraq to use their influence to prevent a spread of violence.

Arabs Will Fight

CAIRO, Feb. 16 — (AP). — An Arab League spokesman said today Arabs would fight any United Nations police force sent to Palestine.

"Jews, supported by Americans, have started civil war in Palestine and set the Moslem world on a crusade," said Abdel Rahman Azzam Pasha, secretary-general of the League. "God only knows when it will end. One thing is sure: if we are defeated, the Jews must be prepared for reprisals."

Azzam Pasha said the proposed Jewish state in Palestine would not serve the Jews themselves. Thousands of Jews in Moslem countries, who formerly lived in peace, would find no more peace.

"We could have reached a peaceful solution through negotiations, but America did not want it this way," he continued. "If America wants a solution now, let her disarm the Palestine Jews and we will disarm the Palestine Arabs. If she cannot do that, let her send 100,000 troops to implement partition."

To Ask More Money For Greece, Turkey

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16 (AP). — President Truman told Congress today he will ask more money for military assistance for Greece and Turkey.

Truman gave this word to the legislators in a report on use of the $400,000,000 they voted last year to help the Greeks and Turks resist Communism. He did not say how much more will be asked.

Last year's fund was $300,000,000 for Greece and $100,000,000 for Turkey.

In a letter sent to Congress with the report on use of this money, the President said Greece has been subjected "to ever higher increasing pressure" by a Communist minority subservient to "foreign influence."

Robert Nixon Found In Ditch Badly Frozen

Robert Nixon, Peterborough, is in Civic Hospital today after a harrowing experience last week in which he was exposed for more than a full night in sub-zero temperature. Suffering from frozen legs and hands, his clothes had to be cut from his body. One leg, it is reported, was frozen "solid" to the knee. Hospital authorities this morning state that it is not possible to ascertain the extent of any permanent injuries to him until the bandages are removed in a day or two.

The 33-year-old man was found lying in a 30-foot ditch on No. 28 highway a mile south of Young's Point on Friday afternoon by two school boys, William McIlomyle and Vernon Dunford, who were returning from school and walking along the top of the embankmen. They noticed that the man had attempted to climb the steep ledge back to the road and had apparently fallen back.

The boys telephoned Police Chief Garnet Samis, Lakefield, who came to the scene and assisted the still-conscious Nixon back

Steal $15,000 Hidden In House

TORONTO, Feb. 16 — (CP).—One of the largest robberies of its kind here in 10 years, $15,000 was stolen last night from the home of Mrs. Rebecca Waldman in Central Toronto. The money was in bills in denominations of $100, $50 and $20, Mrs. Waldman told detectives. It had been collected over a long period of time and many of the bills were of the large-size type of former years.

The robbers entered the house when Mrs. Waldman was absent by forcing a screen off a rear basement window and then forcing the window, police said. Jewellery and other money was left in dresser drawers and there was no evidence the drawers had been searched.

Police said the break appeared to be the work of persons who knew Mrs. Waldman hid large sums in her home. Police said the money was sewn between two shoe holders tacked on a cupboard door. The cloth was ripped away. Apparently a search for the money was made in a bed and mattress before the hiding place was found.

Invest Three Billion In Four Years

Ontario Has Been Spending Most On Post-War Industrial Enterprises

OTTAWA, Feb. 16 — (CP). — The industrial power which Canada brings into the post-war world is indicated in a report from the Department of Reconstruction and Supply which estimates that investment by Canadian business enterprises is likely to exceed $3,500,000 in the four years 1945-48.

The department has details from 4,212 companies representing two-fifths of all business investment and four-fifths of all manufacturing. These reporting companies have spent or plan to spend $1,400,000,000 on 8,054 projects, and it is these figures that are broken down.

By regions:

Ontario $605,000,000; Quebec $509,000,000; British Columbia $165,000,000; Maritime Provinces $65,000,000; Prairie Provinces $48,000,000. Per capita. British Columbia's industrial expansion is largest.

Among cities Montreal leads in total with $247,000,000, but per capita St. Catharines is at the top, followed by Kingston, Kitchener, and Three Rivers, Que.

Big Business

Figures for cities in millions of dollars are:

Montreal 247; Toronto 172; Hamilton 61; Vancouver 58; Ottawa 25; St. Catharines 24; Kingston 17; Kitchener 17; London 17; Windsor 11, Fort William 10; Brantford 10, and Sudbury 8.

By industries the figures include:

Wood, pulp and paper products $369,000,000; vegetable and animal food products $195,000,000, the greater part for processing and canning vegetable products; iron and steel $170,000,000; textiles $122,000,000; non-metallic minerals $122,000,000, including cement, lime, salt, clay, stone products, fuel and fuel products; chemical and allied group $117,000,000; commercial shipping $101,000,000.

Expectations of reporting industries:

Annual gross value production of $8,600,000,000, 2½ times in dollar value and 1¾ in physical volume their pre-war production;

Export target of $2,100,000,000, 3½ times pre-war value and 2½ times pre-war volume;

Employment level of 980,000, twice pre-war.

The report comments that expenditures in St. Catharines are mainly due to expansion of industrial capacity in iron and steel products, textiles and food processing; in Kingston to large expansion in the production of aluminum and chemical products and transportation and railroad equipment; in Kitchener to rapid industrial development in the manufacture of rubber goods, sheet metal products and industrial equipment.

Chinese Workers Seek Membership In TLC

VANCOUVER, Feb. 16.—(CP).—Heartened by equal rights and privileges they received during the Second World War, British Columbia's Chinese workers today opened a drive for member ship of 10,000 in their union and eventual affiliation with the Trades and Labor Congress (AF).

At the first annual convention of the Chinese Trade Workers' Association here last night, plans were laid for a three-month provincial organizational drive culminating in affiliation with the TLC, embodying full status and equal rights.

Now composed mainly of restaurant and hotel employees, the Association's drive will embrace all classes of Chinese workers in the province.

Business Man H. J. Russell Dies At Age 81

MILLBROOK, Feb. 16.—(ENS).—The death of Herbert J. Russell, life-long resident of Millbrook, occurred suddenly on Saturday, in his 81st year. Mr. Russell had been in ill health for sime time, but was up on Friday.

He was the second son of the late William G. Russell, and his wife, Margaret Burton, two pioneer families of the community.

Following the death of his mother, several years ago, Mr. and Mrs. Russell and family moved into the large frame homestead on King St. west, built by his late father more than 100 years ago, still in excellent condition. About 40 years ago, he married Ada Trull of Garden Hill. She predeceased him by two years.

W. G. Russell and Sons was the firm name under which a large coal and lumber business was carried on for many years, and was retained even after the father's death, until advancing years and ill health compelled the two older sons to retire from an active business career. In earlier years of village history, the Russell business included a foundry, a lumber and planing mill, a store where tools and machinery were sold, and an extensive apiary, the sale of honey on the Peterborough market each Saturday making W. G. Russell, and later his sons, familiar figures weekly. The property, east of the C.N.R. station, where the Russell coal and lumber business was established, has since been sold to the Ontario Sawmills Ltd., whao carry on on the same site.

Immediate surviving relatives include two daughters, Mrs. Clyde Ashby (Elizabeth), of Peterborough; Mrs. Norman Hamill, (Margaret) of Garden Hill; two sons, Lynden, who served overseas in the last war, and has remained in England, and Burton, who served in the RCAF, and has now joined the permanent air force, and is at present stationed at Aylmer; also two brothers, William E., at present living in Toronto; and Dr. Alfred, of Bailieboro; there are four grandchildren. An only sister, Edith (Mrs. C. H. Winslow), predeceased her brother.

Mr. Russell was a member of St. Thomas' Anglican church, and the rector, Rev. C. M. MacLean, will conduct the funeral, which took place today, Monday, Feb. 16, at 2 p.m. from his late residence, with burial in Gardiner's cemetery, Millbrook.

MONTMORENCY FALLS CEASE TO FALL—For the first known time in history, Montmorency Falls, near Quebec City, is frozen over, its roaring cataract stilled completely. Not even a bare trickle of water pours over the 265-foot waterfall. Higher than Niagara Falls, but less famous because the volume is smaller, Montmorency is a familiar landmark to travellers along the St. Lawrence River below Quebec City.

UN To Consider Two Challenges

LAKE SUCCESS, Feb. 16 — (AP).—Two challenges to the authority and prestige of the United Nations come up for airing here this week. They are:

1. The defiance expressed by the Arabs of the Middle East to the Palestine partition plan.

2. The boycott by Soviet Russia and the Slav countries of the Korean commission.

Delegates expected the Palestine question to move toward a climax with completion of the special report from the five-member Palestine commission, which has been meeting daily in secret session.

Reports from the commission said the report would stress the need for an international UN force to make partition effective.

The little assembly, also boycotted by the Slav bloc, will take up Korea Thursday. The Korean commission, established by the Assembly last November to speed the independence of Korea, has been barred from the Russian-occupied northern zone. The commission has asked for fresh instructions.

appear at the Toronto Granite Club.

Barbara Ann today holds the world championship for the second successive year following victory over the cream of the amateurs from Europe and North America.

Her climb to the top has been studded with victories unknown in the Dominion's history of sport. The 19-year-old "Darling of the Blades" who capped a life-long ambition with her Olympic triumph less than two weeks ago, became the first Canadian in the 28-year history of the Olympic Games to win the event.

Her official score in winning the world title with the convincing official point-total of 1,643.4 and 11 placements, which in the final analysis was the deciding factor in the complicated scoring system, was astounding.

Eva Pawlik, Austria's champion, was a poor second with 1,601.1 points and 25 placements.

Seven of the nine judges rated Barbara Ann tops on their scoresheets—the only dissenters were judges Hans Meisner of Austria and Ilemer Tertak of Hungary who each awarded her a second placing.

Will Investigate Fruit Prices

OTTAWA, Feb. 16. (CP)—Paralleling its impending investigation into bread prices, the Commons Prices Committee is also going to open inquiries "very soon" into vegetable and fruit prices, it was learned here last night.

This investigation is developing from charges made in Toronto of the exorbitant rise in fruit and vegetable prices.

The inquiry into these two products will be a preliminary one, however, with only a few witnesses being called. But it will tie into work being done by the committee's research people. A more thorough inquiry probably will come at a later date. This preliminary work is believed already to have a salutary effect on prices, sources close to the committee said.

$5,000 Blaze Destroys House

DUNSFORD, Feb. 16.—(ENS).—A fire of unknown origin destroyed a cement block house at Dunsford, in Emily township, on the 14th concession, Saturday morning, and damages are estimated between $4,000 and $5,000.

The house was formerly owned by Noel Arnold and known as 'Fox Farm.' It is presently owned by Henderson's Chick Hatchery of Lindsay. No one was on the premises at the time of the fire.

William McGahey, who was working in an adjacent field with his team and sleigh, noticed flames coming from the house at about 11.45 Saturday morning. He hurried to his home and his wife notified the telephone operator and neighbors. In less than 20 minutes several neighbors arrived in their cars to fight the flames, but it was evident that the fire had gotten too firm a hold and little could be done to save the house.

There was little furniture in the house at the time as the property had only recently been taken over by Henderson's.

The cause of the fire is unknown; no one had been near the house since the previous day wehn Mr. G. Henderson had been doing some work. The garage and fox pens were saved by the volunteer fire brigade.

DISTINGUISHED K.C. DIES

One of the most distinguished legal counsels of the province, Duncan Henry Chisholm, K.C., resident of Port Hope, died Friday evening at his home. In the afternoon he is said to have felt ill and returned to his residence where he died about 7.30 p.m.

Gas Shortage Now Easing 20,000 Return To Jobs

TORONTO, Feb. 16. (CP)—Because today is traditionally washday, upwards of 20,000 southwestern Ontario workers, idle since dipping temperatures and natural gas shortages struck almost a month ago, will not begin their trek back to work-benches until early Tuesday.

A. R. Crozier, Ontario fuel controller, said yesterday he had agreed to restoration of gas services to almost 350 industrial firms after engineers assured him that field pressures had improved.

However, as home hot-water heating units would be in general use today, he said the order will not be effective until tomorrow.

With the controller's long-awaited order came a pat on the back for domestic consumers:

Their response to his order of last week calling for both compulsory and voluntary rationing—with mounting temperatures—are responsible for the improved situation, he said.

An example of how the district co-operated during the emergency was given by Mr. Crozier. The steel company of Canada at Hamilton agreed to accept 70,000 gallons of tar for fuel and, in turn, released 1,000,000 cubic feet of natural gas to the United Gas and Fuel Company of that city for every 3,000 gallons of tar consumed.

Obtained by the Union Company of Windsor, the tar was a by-product of an oil-cracking process for manufacturing gas.

About 350 plants in the area are expected to call back employees as gas pressure resumes and normal production is restored.

this morning's confusion. Overcast weather caused a heavier drain in power, it was explained. If the sun went behind a cloud, lights would be switched on in certain areas necessitating new cuts.

The emergency move caught thousands of Torontonians at lunch.

Housewives resorted to grandmother's Monday morning washing technique as electrically-powered washers hummed to a standstill.

The sudden curtailment of power brought protests from hospital officials, expecting to be included in the exemption list. "It must be a mighty urgent situation when the Hydro will discontinue power to a medical building where hundreds of sick people are being treated," said William Johnson, manager of the Medical Arts Building. Heat was removed from the building, elevators stopped, electric drills and surgical instruments were affected.

Arthur J. Swanson, superintendent of Toronto Western Hospital, said the measure was a "very delicate matter which will have to be considered very carefully before anything is done. We have emergency lighting in our operating rooms but what is going to happen if we have an emergency case on an elevator and the power is cut off?"

Thieves Bind Woman Leave Her In Bath Tub

WALLACEBURG, Feb. 16.—Police here are investigating the robbery early Sunday of Mrs. James Bunda, Oak St., by three masked men who bound and gagged her with bedclothes and left her in the bathtub of her home with the cold water faucet open.

The woman was found by her son after she had lain helpless in the tub for more than four hours. He and two other children, asleep in another section of the house were not disturbed by the three robbers.

They broke into the home about 3 a.m. and pounced on the woman in the bedroom, demanding her bonds and money. One of the thugs slugged her with a knuckle-dusters as another stuck a flashlight in her face, blinding her with its glare.

The trio got only $45 from the woman's purse.

Rev. B. Harrigan Addresses Catholic Teachers

Members of the English Catholic Teachers' Association of Peterborough met Saturday at Mount St. Joseph, with Sister Marion, president, presiding. Reverend J. Coughlin opened the meeting with prayer.

The president began her remarks with a challenging question "Why does the teaching profession appeal to so few?" She then proceeded to review the causes of discouragement and lack of appeal, and offered the heartening balm of a great educationalist, "that while the teachers seldom see the fruits of their labors they may be assured that the seeds they have sown may lie dormant until the quickening power of experience brings them to life."

Mr. E. Boland, representing the OECTA on the Teachers' Council brought up some business matters which were dealt with. Two musical interludes provided by Miss Helen Hajnik lent enjoyable variety to the program. She was accompanied by Miss Bernice Greenan, accompanist.

Guest speaker, Reverend Father B. W. Harrigan, past president of the OTF was introduced by Reverend Father Coughlin. The basic ideas that Father Harrigan wished to leave with the teacher group, were: first that we must get a broader view of the general picture of our organization. "Step back from the one inch of your own classroom, and widen your interests to embrace the problems of all the teachers of the federation" he urged. He placed the objective of becoming nationalistic rather than local in outlook before them. Secondly, he asked they keep in mind that the view of the Catholic school is not simply training students to make a living—but rather how to live. "We believe in training for citizenship here—and in Heaven."

In order to stimulate interest in the wider unit Father Harrigan held out hopes for a new booklet containing a code of ethics and the history of the federation. He pictured for them the actual possession of a 22-room Federation House in Toronto and all the benefits that would accrue from the contact of permanent secretaries representing the five groups. He emphasized the possibilities of educational reform resulting from the 51-page brief representing the views of 24,000 teachers which is now in the hands of the Royal Commission.

Sister Stanislaus gave an interesting report of the activities of the Home and School Association in Lindsay. She explained clearly the objective of this organization, reviewed its development and reported on the fruitful contacts made beween parents and teachers in the Lindsay district.

Health Officer Closes Two Businesses

COBOURG, Feb. 16 (ENS). — During January orders were issued for the closure of two food handling establishments it was revealed in the report for that month of the Northumberland and Durham Counties Health Unit. It was found necessary to close one restaurant in Colborne after repeated visits to educate the operator in the sanitary handling of foodstuffs had failed to create any improvement and the general maintenance of the establishment had continually deteriorated.

The killing of animals and fowl in a slaughterhouse in Hope township was prohibited until the unsatisfactory structural condition and the lack of necessary facilities have been remedied.

A special travelling chest X-ray clinic was held at the Port Hope Hospital under the auspices of the Provincial Division of Tuberculosis Prevention in place of the usual monthly clinic. This clinic was held on three days, 21st, 22nd and 23rd January, in order to accommodate the large number of persons from Port Hope and nearby townships who were due for re-examination at this time. A total of 115 persons were X-rayed. As a result of this clinic four new cases of tuberculosis were discovered but none of these was recommended for admission to sanatorium at present.

At the regular monthly chest X-ray clinic at the Cobourg Hospital, 32 persons had a chest X-ray and one case of tuberculosis was discovered but admission to sanatorium was not recommended now. The January clinic at the Cobourg Hospital was the last one in which the old X-ray will be used. The new X-ray was installed later in the month. The Cobourg Kinettes are raising funds to assist toward the payment for the new X-ray machine for the Cobourg Hospital. One other case of tuberculosis in a resident of the Health Unit area was discovered as the result of an X-ray taken elsewhere in January and reported to the medical officer. This patient was admitted to sanatorium.

Unit staff nurses in co-operation with the family physician, arranged appointments for these clinics and assisted at the clinics. Volunteers from the Port Hope Red Cross assisted at the clinic there. United staff nurses made 92 home visits to cases and contacts of tuberculosis. At the 39 immunization clinics in January the persons receiving protective inoculations included 606 school children who were given reinforcing doses of diphtheria toxoid.

Quadruplets Born Sunday Reported Doing Nicely

LATROBE, Pa., Feb. 16 (AP).—Quadruplets were born Sunday to the 26-year-old wife of a metal works inspector.

A boy and three girls, weighing a total of 13½ pounds, they were born within five minutes to Mrs. Barbara Wagner Zavada. The babies, whose multiple birth was forecast by X-rays last November, were delivered by caesarean section.

Dr. J. Wiley Hartmann, chief obstetrician, said the quads and their blonde mother seem to be doing fine.

The first infant, a 3½-pound boy, arrived at 1:32 a.m., just 15 minutes after Mrs. Zavada was wheeled into the hospital operating room. Then came the three girls, weighing 3¾ pounds, 3½ pounds and 3 pounds.

Dr. Hartmann said the girls were identical triplets, born of a single ovum or egg. The boy was born of another egg. The babies were not due until April.

The dazed father, Andrew Zavada, 35, could only mutter, "I'm glad it's over. I hope Barbara and the babies are all right." Zavada, who makes $1.20 an hour as an inspector for the Latrobe Die Casting Co., says he isn't worried about supporting his enlarged family.

The entire staff of the Latrobe Hospital was mobilized for the event, the biggest ever to happen in the western Pennsylvania town of 12,000. Nurses hurried the newborn infants to waiting incubators in a cubicle near the delivery room.

A half hour after their birth, Father Theodore Hodobay of St. Mary's Greek Catholic church, christened the babies John Michael, Bernadette Elizabeth, Barabar Rose and Anna Mary.

If The Suit Shrinks Don't Blame Cleaners

COBOURG, Feb. 16 (ENS). — The suit or pair of trousers that shrinks after you take it to the cleaners usually means an irate customer of the cleaning and pressing establishment but it is not the fault of the cleaning process, Rueben Freeman, local proprietor of a pressing and cleaning plant, told the Rotary Club here at its regular luncheon. Mr. Freeman spoke on his recent trip to Ottawa for the convention of the cleaners and dyers research group.

The speaker showed the Rotarians two white and grey samples of cloth used for comparison purposes in determining the proper degree of cleanliness in cleaning clothing. One headache of cleaning plants is dye coming from poorly-dyed linings into the outside cloth while spotting. Another source of trouble is the filler in windbreakers settling to the bottom while the garment is being cleaned.

Some cases occurred where a textile mill would stretch its cloth to bring it to the required length of bolt and when the garment was taken to be cleaned it would shrink to its original size. Usually the cleaning establishment gets the blame for it. However the Bureau of Standards has taken the problem under consideration, Mr. Freeman said.

Alex Kay Talks To Cobourg Club

COBOURG, Feb. 16 — (ENS). — Alex Kay, well-known bird lecturer, was the speaker at the monthly meeting of the Northumberland Fish and Game Association. Mr. Kay, who has very extensive knowledge of birdlife, talked on the many varieties of birds in this part of the province and gave his listeners much valuable information in a highly interesting manner.

H. O. Taylor, president of the association, referred to the work which the revolver club had done in building a new target backstop for both revolver and rifle shooting and urged the members of the Association to give the revolver club good support. During the program, Win Fisher showed two movies, one on skiing and one of the Louis-Conn fight.

LIVERPOOL, Feb. 16 — (Reuters). — Canada is "a fine place—for Canadians," in the opinion of H. He brought his wife and two daughters, aged 21 and 16, back with him.

Afterwards the body was taken to Kingston for a Libra service in the chapel of St. Mary's Cathedral with burial in St. Mary's cemetery.

WA Raised $1,000 In Its 50th Year

HASTINGS, Feb. 16.—(ENS). —St. George's annual vestry meeting was held on Thursday, following which supper was served by the ladies of the congregation.

Canon C. R. Spencer reported on visits and meetings. He stressed the co-operation of laymen with the rector each doing his share to increase church attendance and further the task of the church.

C. B. Plant, the people's warden, gave his report, showing a balance. He also reported on the rectory fund and Anglican advance appeal.

The report of the WA, given by its treasurer, Miss D. Plant, indicated a busy year, the ladies having raised slightly over $1,000 during 1947. The 50th anniversary of St. George's WA this past year was mentioned. Some of their outstanding accomplishments were re-wiring the church, and installing the lighting system.

The Sunday school reported a balance on hand and good attendance. A beautiful prayer book and hymn book, donated by Mrs. Clifford Baker, was won by Cloa Dainard for attendance.

The officers for the year 1948 were elected, with few changes from 1947: C. B. Plant, people's warden; A. Warrington, rector's warden; G. Marryat, auditor. William Gillespie was appointed chairman of the sidesmen, with Clifford Baker's name added to their list.

More Laughs Needed Sennett Believes

By BOB THOMAS.

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 16 (AP). —"The picture business will have to go back making entertainment—or else give up."

Mack Sennett, the man from Denville, Que., who made a continent laugh, was telling his views on the state of the screen.

"I see all the pictures that come out. Many of them are terrible; there's too much murder in the films. Where are the belly laughs that we used to put on the screen? Comedy is becoming a lost art. Why? Because there is no training school for comics."

Sennett, who left Canada to become a film Titan as a producer of comedies, gave a rare interview. Surrounded by mementoes of the past, including an Oscar for his great contribution to film comedy, he lives alone and conducts his business there.

Movement Forgotten

He had much to say about how the screen has forgotten the value of movement. He also commented on some of the newer comedians. Red Skelton, he said, is "wonderful," Danny Kaye "amusing." Of Bob Hope: "He throws so many puns at you, you have to laugh at some of them."

Charlie Chaplin, whom Sennett discovered, is "the greatest comedian of all time." But he didn't approve of Chaplin's latest film.

"I told Charlie: 'There are hundreds of actors who can do that serious stuff as well as you, but no one can match your comedy. Why waste your time trying to be dramatic?'"

Still Busy

He told me he keeps an office in New York and is reissuing his old comedies. "Trink of the possibilities in 16 MM and television," he said. He also plans a feature-length collection of some W. C. Fields and Bing Crosby shorts and others. He showed me the manuscript of a fiction book he had written. And MGM and Warners are bidding for his film biography. "Do you call that being idle?" he asked.

Sennett attributes the eclipse of his comedies not to the advent of sound, but to the double feature. The culprit, he declared, was a theatre owner of Providence, RI, whose customers complained they had nothing to do after the show was out at nine o'clock. So he gave them another picture to keep them happy. The double feature idea spread, and finally killed the two-reel-comedy, ending a happy and colorful era of movie industry.

In closing, Sennett upheld the purity of his films. They never made sport of religion, politics, race or mothers, he said.

Oshawa Unions Plan To Support CCF

OSHAWA, Feb. 16. — A conference of representatives from eight industrial unions and the Oshawa Labor Council Sunday pledged full support to the Ontario Riding CCF Association in the forthcoming bly-election.

The meeting passed a resolution asking the CCF "to immediately begin a vigorous election campaign and nominate its candidate as soon as possible." The resolution also urged all farmers "to join with labor in working for the election of a CCF candidate."

GUNMAN SLAIN—The body of Thomas J. Kavanagh, 33, lies in front of the counter in the Trans-Canada Airlines ticket office, New York, after he was shot to death by "planted" detectives, as he attempted to hold up a clerk and rob the place. William Murdy, one of the two detectives who were hiding inside the office as a result of the recent series of holdups, was critically wounded by a stray bullet from the gun of his fellow officer. Kavanagh, it turned out, was using a toy make-believe gun in the ill-fated stickup. George Mahoney, the clerk, is shown behind the counter.

Impressive Address Given At Roseneath

ROSENEATH, Feb. 16—(ENS). —Roseneath United Church commemorated the World Day of Prayer on Friday. A large congregation was in attendance to hear an inspiring speaker and take part in the impressive service.

Theme of the program was, "The Lord's Prayer."

Miss Isa Lewis of the Baptist Order of Deaconesses of Great Britain and Ireland was the speaker. Miss Lewis spoke from Luke 11:1, "Lord teach us how to pray", a request of the disciples, when they saw their Lord in prayer, and wished for the same fellowship.

"Prayer takes time," she said, "prayer—life arises out of a set time for prayer; much time should be spent in prayer privately; it should be built up in steps. Prayer of thanksgiving, unhurried and quiet, brings God very near. Then confession, petition and intercession, where all problems of life are brought before Him, the rush and bustle, the feeling of panic is gone."

The service was conducted by Mrs. R. C. White, president of Roseneath W.M.S. Assisting Mrs. White as leaders, were: Mrs. Earl Braithwaite, vice-president of St. James Anglican Church, W.A.; Mrs. N. C. Leach, president of Fenella W.M.S.; Mrs. N. Marsden of Alderville United Church; Mrs. B. Thackeray, president of Roseneath W.A., and Miss Hilda Arthur of Centenary W.A.

Mrs. Burton Roberts, Fenella W.M.S. played a piano solo and Miss Lewis played the organ. Prayers were offered by Mrs. Roberts, Mrs. W. Smith, Mrs. Fred Lewis, Mrs. A. Halstead, Mrs. F. Derry, Mrs. F. Norris and Mrs. A. Nill, Mrs. T. S. Coyle dedicated the offering gathered by Mrs. Andrew Brown and Mrs. J. A. Nichol.

Immigrants For Industry

During 1948 more than 100,000 immigrants will come to live and work in Canada. This will be a good increase on last year's total, but is still small compared with the flow immediately after the first war and with Canada's present need. The majority will come from Britain but there will be many central Europeans, chiefly displaced persons for whom a quota of 20,000 has tentatively been set.

* * *

These D.P.'s, potential Canadians, are not Germans. They are Poles, Ukrainians, Estonians, Latvians and others now barred from their homelands by the Soviet hammer and sickle. They will be useful workers and are likely to make very good citizens because they are carefully selected. They undergo seven separate "screenings" before they are admitted to Canada. The International Refugee Organization makes a preliminary selection at the D.P. camp. The Canadian selection team then makes its investigation of the individuals. The industry which is contemplating hiring the people may have its own selecting committee on the spot. A medical screening then follows, succeeded by screening by the Department of Labour to determine suitability for employment, and by the R.C.M.P. for security reasons. The Department of Immigration carries out its own screening before visas are issued. At each stage unlikely or undesirable persons are rejected. Canada has immigration offices at Paris, Brussels, The Hague, Rome and Heidelberg. Prospective immigrants may also be examined and granted visas in Oslo, Stockholm, Copenhagen, Warsaw, Berlin, Prague, Berne, Athens, Lisbon and Moscow. There are six travelling teams of immigration officials examining D.P.'s in Germany and Austria.

The Department of Labour has now 20,200 applications from industry, agriculture, hospitals and private individuals for D.P.'s. Before an application is accepted the prospective employer must show that the D.P. is required for a job for which there is no Canadian available and he must guarantee housing and wages equivalent to that which a Canadian in the same work receives. The International Refugee Organization pays the way of all D.P.'s to the port of debarkation in Canada. The employing organization provides transportation to the job, the cost of which is deducted from the new employee's wages over a ten-month period. Mining and lumbering companies have made the most numerous requests for D.P.'s, but concerns like the C.P.R. and the Ontario Hydro-Electric Power Commission have each asked for 2,000.

* * *

In helping itself through the Federal Government's immigration policy, Canada is also helping Europe. The D.P.'s cannot remain forever displaced and homeless. Canada is taking no more than a just share—Britain, for instance, hard put as she is for food and accommodation, is taking 1,500 a week—these in addition to the many thousands of refugees to whom she has given harbour during the last ten years.

Racial Issue In U.S. Presidential Election

For the past sixteen years, Presidential election campaigns in the United States have been marked by the introduction of the racial issue in certain sections of the Southern States. This year, the introduction was made easy by legislation recently recommended by President Truman, based on a report made to him last October by his Committee on Civil Rights. This fifteen-member committee, under the chairmanship of Mr. Charles E. Wilson of the U.S. General Electric Company, had been appointed to "appraise the condition of (U.S.) civil rights and to recommend appropriate action".

The committee found that in twenty states of the U.S. laws were in force compelling racial segregation in public places. Compulsory segregation is enforced in public schools in seventeen states, and in several others minority groups are severely restricted in private schools. The poll tax requirement for the right to vote is retained by seven states. The committee also found that since 1936 there have been at least forty-four lynchings of Negroes in the United States.

On the basis of this report, President Truman recommended the legislation which immediately aroused rumours of a new "secession" movement of Southern Democrats from the national party. His proposals would:

(1) Establish a permanent commission on civil rights, to make recommendations; also a joint Congressional committee on civil rights, and a civil rights division of the Department of Justice.

(2) Abolish the poll tax and the "white primary".

(3) Make lynching a Federal offence, removing its prosecution out of jurisdiction of local and state governments.

(4) Establish a commission to do away with job discrimination.

(5) Outlaw "Jim Crow" restrictions in transporting facilities, restaurants and schools.

Criticism from the "Solid South" was immediate. President Truman was trying to "mongrelize" the South; he was "kissing the feet of minorities". Representative E. E. Cox of Georgia publicly wondered if, "after all, Henry Wallace is such a bad man". There was loud talk about withholding the South's 127 electoral votes if Mr. Truman were the Democratic Party's candidate in 1948. And in the North, the Republican Party was quick to see the possible effect of the bill on Democratic fortunes, moving to support legislation which would be most unpopular in sections of the South—and which would bear Mr. Truman's name.

Most political observers in the United States doubt if the Southern grousing and the Republican moves will be a deciding factor in the Presidential election to be held in November. They point out that there have been threats of "secession"—never carried out—in every Presidential campaign since 1932. And they add the pertinent observation that President Truman, a Southerner himself, is more popular with congressmen from the Southern States than the late President Roosevelt ever was.

Fires And Cold Weather

For a month or more the weather has been unusually cold, and in consequence we have had an unusual number of fires, many of which have caused the death of adults and children. The two circumstances are directly related: extreme cold weather puts a greater strain on heating apparatus, and if the apparatus is old, or poorly cared for, a fire is likely to be the result. We have heard people exclaiming at the ill fortune which brought so many fires in cold weather; such a lack of perception astonishes us; cold weather is precisely the time when frequent fires may be expected.

Many of these fires could be avoided if householders would make regular checks of their heating appliances. The time to do this is during the summer, when worn-out parts and dangerous pipes can be replaced without causing inconvenience. No fire should be started in the autumn without some check having been made of the furnace, or the stove, for once the fire has been lit, it is altogether too easy to take it for granted, and to minimize obvious dangers.

The Canadian winter is not a thing that anyone can safely ignore. It may, at any time, bring a prolonged spell of severe cold, and heating appartus will be strained to the fullest extent of its capacity. Comparatively few fires are caused by sheer accident; carelessness accounts for many of them.

NOTE AND COMMENT

A pathologist says that pink lungs are a rarity in Toronto. Could this possibly account for some of the drab opinions expressed by Torontonians?

We now learn that Marshal Stalin refused an invitation, issued by Mr. Truman in 1946, to visit the U.S.A. and make a speech. Maybe he thinks the acoustics aren't as good as they are at home.

A geologist explains that if we dug a hole straight downward here in Canada we would not emerge in Australia, but somewhere in the Indian Ocean. Don't worry, friend; we never seriously meant to do it.

According to a news item, UNESCO must ask ECOSOC for its opinion on MONACO's application for membership in UNESCO. At least "Monaco" can be explained: it is the principality noted for its town Monte Carlo.

"Of Cabbages and Kings"

By PETER ELIOT

IN many departments of literature, quality and quantity go hand in hand together. It is not a usual combination and it is not a gift which every author receives. That great English historian, Sir John Marriott, not only lectured at Oxford, and spent many years as a member of Parliament, but he also found time to write some three dozen serious books on historial topics, many of them text books in history classes.

John Buchan who came to know Marriott as a colleague at Westminster, shared this rare trait and Buchan added to it an ability to write both fiction and serious works. His last book was his autobiography "Memory-Hold-the-Door" (published by Musson). Buchan wrote it while he was Governor-General of Canada and staying at Rideau Hall, the official residence. Of the bigraphical materials which a reviewer sees, it seems to me that this work stands out as one on which much effort was spent.

HIS sister Anna, (otherwise known as O. Douglas) tells of his early interest in writing for other's enjoyment. John went up to Oxford on a scholarship and he kept at his writing in his early years.

"While pinned to my bed during the first months of war," he says in Memory-Hold the-Door, "and compelled to keep my mind off tragic realities, I gave myself to stories of adventure. I invented a young South African called Richard Hannay, who had traits copied from my friends, and I amused myself with considering what he would do in various emergencies.

"IN "The Thirty-Nine Steps" he was spy-hunting in Britain; in "Greenmantle" he was on a mission to the East; and in "Mr. Standfast", published in 1919, he was busy in Scotland and France. The first had an immediate success, and since that kind of thing seemed to amuse my friends in the trenches, I was encouraged to continue. I gave Hannay certain companions—Peter Pienaar, a Dutch hunter; Sandy Arbuthnot, who was reminiscent of Aubrey Herbert; and an American gentleman, Mr. John S. Blenkiron." There was Sir Edward Leithen, an eminent lawyer, who is protagonist or narrator in "The Power House", "John Macnab", "The Dancing Floor' and "The Gap in the Curtain"; and in his particular group were the politician, Lord Lamancha, and Sir Archibald Roylance, airman, ornithologist and Scots laird. It was huge fun playing with my puppets, and to me they soon became very real flesh and blood. I never consciously invented with a pen in my hand; I waited until the story had told itself and then wrote it down, and since it was already a finished thing, I wrote fast. The books had a wide sale, both in England and in translations, and I have always felt a little ashamed that profit should accrue from what had given me so much amusement. I had no purpose in such writing except to please myself, and even if my books had not found a single reader I would have felt amply repaid."

MR. Gladstone once paid a visit to a Tweedside country place and in the afternoon went out for a walk and came to a gate which gave onto the glen. It was late in November, a snowstorm was threatening, and the sheep, as is their custom, were drawing out from the burn-side to the barer hill where drifts could not lie. An old shepherd was leaning on the gate, and to him Mr. Gladstone spoke in his high manner: "Are not the sheep the most foolish of all animals? Here is a storm pending, and instead of remaining in shelter they are courting the fury of the blasts. If I were a sheep I should remain in the hollows." To which the shepherd replied: "Sir, if ye were a sheep ye'd have mair sense."

ONE of the finest of the many Library Series is Everyman's. It is fine because it has nearly one thousand titles of very good choice (and not least because the volumes are reasonably priced).

"When we planned out the first fifty" (writes its famous editor, Ernest Rhys, the Welsh poet, scholar and anthologist in "Wales England Wed"), "we had not yet found the one convincing title which would appeal to both the keen reader and the man in the street. Though good at titles, in this case I was utterly baffled, and we were getting very near the date when the books had to be put on the market. Then, one morning, hurrying to Bedford Street, past the Garrick Club, by some association of ideas, I thought of the old play and muttered: 'Everyman, I will go with thee and be thy guide, in thy most need to go by thy side.'

"Shade of Garrick! I laughed and broke into a run. When I got to the office the old chief (J. M. Dent) was looking disconsolately at his watch, and I called out: 'Eureka!' and quoting the line—'Here's our title — Everyman's Library.'"

"IN those purgatorial years, when the huge first batches of 'Everyman' were getting ready, I had a regular London beat between the British Museum and Bedford Street, where the old chief, J. M. Dent, sat in wait. In his exorbitant way he was so obsessed by his great scheme that he could think of nothing else. He would often send by post a list of twenty authors, known and unknown, famous and obscure, that had been suggested for Everyman volumes, which, he expected me to read before noon, and sum up in a sentence. Then in the Museum I would work through a mountainous heap, having learnt by a sort of desperation to get at what an explicit friend called 'the guts of a book' quicker than any other book-finder on record. It was nothing to be proud of; it meant only an uncanny faculty for book-testing, as having to reach the office in time for lunch, and as Museum books are often delayed, I would look in panic at the clock, and yet reach Bedford Street a little late, which threw the old man into an inarticulate fume."

ONE of the strangest, otherworldly of men, was T. E. Lawrence who achieved his greatest fame for his exploits in Arabia in the first war and became world famous as "Lawrence of Arabia". Fame was the last thing he wanted; he shunned lights and in order to live an ordinary life he joined the ranks of the services—first the Tank corps, then the Air Force. For this life, he gave up a fellowship at Oxford.

"For amusement and recreation he would have books", (writed R. G. Sims, one of his friends, in 'T. E. Lawrence, by His Friends', an enjoyable book.) "People sent him books for review, criticism, friendship, and the writing of forewords. Of all the books that had ever been written in the world, he had found that there were scarcely 1200 that merited re-reading.

"How to dispose of surplus books at Clouds Hill would be a problem. In town the method that he had evolved was to take a midnight stroll, and drop unwanted volumes in letter boxes. He marked out promising boxes of a large size on front doors during the day time, mentally measuring the slots suitable for the reception of books on his disposal list. He had one or two especially favorite letter boxes in town, that received his volumes with a very satisfying boom; these he frequently patronized."

"T.E. was a very busy man during his last few months at Bovington for he was beginning to print the final (private) version of "Seven Pillars". He had piles of correspondence by every post, and all kinds of unlikely people were offering to subscribe to the limited edition. Among these was a major-general at the Staff College who asked if T.E. would pay him a visit some Saturday afternoon. T.E. went to Camberley and arrived at the house just as the general himself was stepping out of his car. T.E. marched up to him, saluted smartly, and said: 'Excuse me, Sir, are you General So-and-so? The general looked T.E. up and down and then snapped: 'Who are you—damn you?' T.E. looked him in the eye and said 'I'm T. E. Lawrence, and damn YOU!' Then he saluted smartly and strode off. Needless to say, the General's name was not on the subscription list."

DESIRABLE IMMIGRANT

Should Headmasters Be Teachers?

By SIR CYRIL NORWOOD
In The London Sunday Times

THE appointment of a man who has never taught in school to be the new Headmaster of Rugby must have been of late the topic of many conversations and some doubts, but all will wish Sir Arthur fforde well. The Rugby staff, which has provided so many headmasters for other schools, can doubtless be relied on to do the teaching part of the business for him, though this used once to be thought rather important, in fact, the headmaster's special business.

But the appointment has a Gilbertian flavour all the same: the old advice to "stick close to your desk, and never go to sea" may be now paralleled by a newer version, taken from real life, "stick fast to your law, and never teach a class." For what is wanted in these difficult times, if we are to believe the chairman of the Governors, is the grasp on reality, the larger view, which may be found in the modern administrator, but is not to be expected in the modern schoolmaster. It is a heresy which needs exposure, for it is capable of doing great harm.

It is argued that neither Arnold nor Temple had ever "taught" in the narrow sense of the term. Yet both had prepared themselves to undertake "a cure of souls," and in that spirit both went to Rugby. It is argued again that modern masters are lacking vision and range, a statement for which there are no grounds. When a new foundation for university work in Africa was sought, the Master of Marlborough was sent, and succeeded in the task. When those engaged in the task of re-educating Germany were flagging, the Headmaster of Charterhouse was sent and he has already created a new spirit. When the studies of the new Sandhurst had to be planned, the retiring Headmaster of Shrewsbury was invited to direct. All these had laid sound foundations in their work in the classroom, and so had the present Archbishop of Canterbury, the Bishop of Durham, the Dean of Durham, and many others throughout the Church.

A Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

I will greatly rejoice in the Lord, my soul shall be joyful in my God; for he hath clothed me with the garments of salvation, he hath covered me with the robe of righteousness, as a bridegroom decketh himself with ornaments, and as a bride adorneth herself with her jewels. For as the earth bringeth forth her bud, and as the garden causeth the things that are sown in it to spring forth; so the Lord God will cause righteousness and praise to spring forth before all the nations. (Isa. 61: 10, 11.)

✧ ✧ ✧

And it shall be at that day, saith the Lord, that thou shalt call me Ishi; and shalt call me no more Baali.... And I will betroth thee unto me for ever; yea, I will betroth thee unto me in righteousness, and in judgment, and in lovingness, and in mercies. I will even betroth thee unto me in faithfulness: and thou shalt know the Lord. (Hos. 2: 16, 19, 20.)

And I heard as it were the voice of a great multitude, and as the voice of many waters, and as the voice of mighty thunderings, saying, Allelula: for the Lord God omnipotent reigneth. Let us be glad and rejoice, and give honour to him: for the marriage of the Lamb is come, and his wife hath made herself ready.

And to her was granted that she should be arrayed in fine linen, clean and white: for the fine linen is the righteousness of saints. And he saith unto me, Write, Blessed are they which are called unto the marriage supper of the Lamb. And he saith unto me, These are the true sayings of God. (Rev. 19: 6-9.)

Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, who hath blessed us with all spiritual blessings in heavenly places in Christ: according as he hath chosen us in him before the foundation of the world, that we should be holy and without blame before him in love. (Eph. 1: 3, 4.)

Jail For Jackers

New Brunswick's campaign against "jackers" — persons who hunt animals, chiefly deer, with the aid of lights—is producing impressive results.

In the neighbouring province the law has "teeth" in it and New Brunswick is the only province making imprisonment mandatory for this offence.

It is a despicable form of "sport" and the New Brunswick authorities have taken precisely the right course in their efforts to stamp it out.—Halifax Herald.

BOOKS TO RE-EDUCATE YOUNG GERMANS—In response to an appeal from overseas the Montreal Local Council of Women has shipped three consignments of public and high school text-books—600 in all—to the British Zone of occupation in Germany. The photograph shows a group of the Council inspecting packed boxes which recently started on their way to Germany by way of St. John, N.B., and London. They are, left to right: Mrs. W. S. Edgar, chairman of the International Relations Committeee of the Local Council; Mrs. A. Turner Bone, president of the Local Council; Mrs. Montague Cunningham and Mrs. H. G. Hatcher, members of the International Relations Committee. The task of collecting and forwarding school books was undertaken by this committee after hearing of the dire need for educational equipment in Western Germany as described by Lady Nunburnholme, a vice-president of the International Council of Women, while visiting Montreal last Fall. The books will be used in the re-education of the younger generation of Germans in the ways of democracy, were collected mainly from members of the sub-executive committee of the Local Council.

Gideons Hold Banquet At Y

A Gideon Field Day banquet was held in the YMCA Saturday evening, February 14. This was a prelude to their week-end convention in Peterborough when 13 ministers allowed their churches to be used by visiting Gideons, for services and addresses pertaining to the activities of the Christian Commercial Men's Association of Canada.

Arthur J. Burnham, Toronto, General Secretary for Canada, was chairman Saturday evening, and he introduced the Dominion chaplain Alex Waters of Brantford, who read the scripture lesson for the evening. Frank Stevens, president of the Peterborough camp, welcomed the visiting Gideons and the local ministers and laymen.

President of the Ministerial Association, Rev. Geo. Semple, BA, STB, ThD, said it was his privilege to bring greetings to the convention from his association.

Bernard Aldridge, National extension director of the Gideons, remarked that he had received many letters from Algiers, England, Ethiopia and Italy, requesting that Bibles be sent to those countries, and laid stress on their great need for them. He quoted from several of these letters, where expressions of gratitude were made for the blessing the recipients of the Gideon Bibles had received.

During the evening Mrs. Hilliard Orton of Toronto sang two solos, "The Unveiled, Christ," and "God Leads His Dear Children Along." Eric Hartshorn accompanied her on the piano.

A special Gideon prayer meeting was held at the McGillis Hotel, 9.30 Sunday morning, before the speakers went to the local churches for the special services.

Night Students Use Modern Equipment

Vocational centres have been trying for years to so equip their schools that they can give training to students of motor mechanics on the latest equipment available. The motor mechanics department of the PCVS is headed by W. Switzer and assisted by George Beals and at the present term 160 students are learning the operation and maintenance of hydromatic transmission, disel engines, ignition, hydro-vac brakes, front and rear axles and complete engine overhauls.

The manner in which Peterborough industry has got behind the training programs at the PCVS motor mechanics night school is the finest effort of its kind in the Province, if not in the Dominion For instance, on one evening, the entire mechanical staff of J. K. Hughes Ltd., attended regular auto mechanics classes to get first hand information on hydromatic transmission.

It is a far cry from the former practice of vocational schools when only used second-hand parts were purchased from wrecking companies for training units. It has been the policy of the Peterborough Board of Education to supply the latest mechanical units available.

Hydro Users Get New Rating

LINDSAY, Feb. 16. (ENS)—The Lindsay Hydro Commission is considering placing on a rural service basis all consumers located outside the town limits and supplied by the Lindsay Hydro lines. This has been announced by J. Lightbody, secretary of the commission. He says this arrangement would place all consumers in Ops township supplied from Lindsay on the same basis and would eliminate discrimination between consumers. He adds that the proposed action is in line with what has taken place in many other instances where service was supplied outside the boundaries of urban centres.

Mr. Lightboy said the commission would compensate any consumers outside the town who paid for the lines from the corporation boundary to their own homes, in the event that they proceed with the proposed plan. The Hydro-Electric Power Commission recommends this action be taken, he said.

12 Fatalities At Weekend Traffic Mishaps Total 5

By The Canadian Press

Twelve persons lost their lives in accidents in Eastern Canada during the week-end, five of them in traffic mishaps, a Canadian Press survey showed today. Of the others, two died in fires, two in falls, one was asphyxiated, one accidentally shot and another struck by a train.

Mrs. Frank Donnelly, 59, of Dublin, Ont., was killed and her husband suffered severe injuries in an automobile-truck collision near Mitchell in Western Ontario's Stratford district. Police later charged truck driver Kenneth MacVicar of London, Ont., with dangerous driving.

Other victims of traffic accidents were Judson Pue, 45, Lakeview, struck by an automobile as he adjusted a skid chain on his snowplow truck; Henry Gadden, 42-year-old Ottawa mill worker, knocked down on the outskirts of the capital; Linton Brock, 65, Toronto, hit by a bus; Garnet Clitheroe, Grafton, Ont., struck by a car.

Stove Explodes

A flash fire started by a gasoline stove explosion cost the life of Clayton Lucas, 46, of Dresden, Ont., who was burned to death in his home after a rescue bid failed. John Flahey, 50-year-old market gardener, set fire to a mattress while smoking in bed and died in a Toronto hospital.

Switchman James Finnucane, 22, of Killaloe, was killed at Hamilton when struck by a locomotive as he signalled a train to stop.

John Ward, 19, of Port Colborne, died of a broken neck suffered in a fall from a haymow. Alex Miller, 52, was fatally injured in a fall down a flight of stairs in his Toronto home.

Capt. Gordon Noble of the Toronto fire department was overcome by carbon monoxide fumes in his garage. Fellow firemen tried in vain to revive him.

Rent For 200 Veterans' Homes Set At $32 And $37.50 A Month

Two hundred Wartime type houses are to be built during the 1948 building program and the maximum rental of $37.50 per month for the larger houses, and $32 for the two-bedroom house was established at the Housing Committee meeting held in the Legion Hall Sunday afternoon.

Harold Yelland in the chair invited Alderman Gordon Armstrong to read the report of the City Council's meeting re housing. As chairman of that committee, Ald. Armstrong said that the Council's Special Housing Committee held a conference on October 17. Present at this meeting were members of the Board of Education, and officials of the Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation, and Mr. W. W. Scott of Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation. He outlined the terms and conditions under which the Government proposed to erect a permanent type of house for ex-service men, to which the municipalities would be required to lend financial assistance. The cost to the municipality was not to exceed $600 per housing unit. The report showed that at the time of that meeting the Canadian Legion's Housing Committee had on record 650 families of ex-servicemen who claimed that they had unsatisfactory housing accommodation.

"The city council," Alderman Armstrong said, "passed a resolution requesting the Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation to construct 200 houses in Peterborough during 1948. Of these 125 were to be built as soon as possible. The city agreed to supply the sites and also the services. The council requested that these houses be equipped with full basement and furnace. The city of Peterborough was the first municipality to make a request for houses under the proposed 1948 program of the Government. This request was tentatively accepted by the Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation."

Considerable thought had to be given to the locating the sites [illegible] houses, the report said, and there was the problem of extending to them municipal services, particularly sewers, also a question of bus routes and the matter of school accommodation. The services of the City Engineer were used in regard to the problem of sewer construction. It was decided that the houses should be dispersed in several parts of the city.

Secured Options

City officials began immediately the task of securing options on selected properties. To date the committee had been successful in securing the options or the outright purchase of more than 130 lots. These lots have been approved by the Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation as being suitable, and these properties lie mainly in three areas: Ashburnham with approximately 46 being on Caddy and Beverley Streets; in the Hatton Subdivision in the West Ward, and in the southern portion of the city.

Alderman Armstrong said that the Committee were successful in having the Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation approve the sale to the city of approximately 31 lots on the Hatton Subdivision. These lots are already furnished with sewer, water services, and roadways and are ready for immediate use.

With the progress made to date it is confidently expected that the construction of the first 125 homes will be commenced as soon as springtime conditions permit. It is possible that the city will have to purchase a sizeable tract of land and commence an entirely new housing subdivision for the other 75 houses. That problem is under study."

Alderman Armstrong concluded his report by saying that it is important that the the prospective tenants of these houses know that the Government has fixed a maximum monthly rental of $37.50. While the final plans of the houses have not been studied as yet, by the City Council it is expected that the houses to be built here will have two and three bedrooms. It is expected that Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation will call for tenders for the erection of these houses in Peterborough immediately following the signing of the agreement with the city.

In closing his address, Mr. Armstrong said that his committee would press for a speedy construction.

P. Burke, president of Branch 52, Canadian Legion, asked if the houses would be for rental only or could they be purchased. Mr. Armstrong said that the houses would be definitely for rent only.

Discuss Priorities

When the question of what priorities were required for an ex-serviceman to apply for a house, it was reported that the same conditions would apply as previously when applying for a house under the Wartime Housing plan. Those ex-servicemen with the longest service and most urgent need would have first priority. It was also given at the meeting that no previous residence in the city prior to enlistment was necessary.

Mr. Burke asked also about the position of an ex-serviceman who had volunteered early in the war, but through no fault of his he was never sent overseas, and therefore though active saw no active service. The chairman replied that these cases would be taken on their merits and such a man would not be penalized just because he saw no actual fighting.

A report of the Housing Committee of Branch 52, Canadian Legion, was read outlining the proposals put forward by the Legion, arising from a meeting held in the Legion Hall April 27, 1947, and not previously made public: "That immediate action by the City Council be taken to start construction of houses requested as soon as weather conditions permitted, and that such houses be provided at a rental of from $30 to $35 per month.

That a central committee be formed of the various service clubs, church organizations, local branch of the Red Cross and others interested, to help and give advice to our fellow citizens so badly in need of housing accommodation, or to those desirous of building their own homes.

That assistance and leadership from the Ontario Government to the housing problem of our province. To date our Government has been very indifferent to these needs. If they will not render assistance in this matter then they should at least curtail immigration until our housing shortage is solved for those who are here already. We welcome our comrades from the British Empire, but feel that they have every right to know, before coming to Ontario, of the housing shortage and should not be encouraged to bring their wives and families to be disappointed and discouraged as so many have.

Want Protection

That some form of protection be given to veterans, buying or building under today's high cost, that any reasonable equity they may have or paid will not be taken from them unjustly. In the case of sickness, lower wages, or work stoppage they should have their equity in the home applied as rent for a period of time, equal to half their equity and not lose possession of all they have tried so hard to achieve."

The report showed that the total number of applications for homes, by returned veterans in the Canadian Legion was 585, and of this number 124 wished to buy and 461 to rent a home. The average value placed on a home by those who wished to buy was $4,000, while the average rent that the veterans felt was fair was between $30 and $35 per month.

President P. Burke proposed that the report and resolutions be accepted and moved a vote of thanks for those who had done so much towards getting the proposed 200 houses.

Woman 82 Says She Can't Become Excited Over Word She Inherits 2 Million Dollars

VICTORIA, Feb. 16.—(CP).—"The telegram did give us a flutter—but we were over it within a matter of minutes." That is the way 82-year-old Mrs. Arthur Lovekin described her re-action to word received Saturday that she had inherited $2,000,000.

The telegram announced she was to receive one-third of the $6,000,000 estate left by her brother, a textile magnate in the Eastern United States.

"Dear me," she said, "I don't know what I'll do with it. My husband (age 85) and I are comfortable now. We don't worry about money."

The bequest was contained in the will of Moses T. Stevens of North Andover and Boston, who died Feb. 4.

Mr. and Mrs. Lovekin, who some years ago lived "overseas" in Honolulu, currently are patient-guests in the Mount St. Mary's Hospital here.

They have two children, Dr. Osgood S. Lovekin of San Diego, Cal., and Mrs. Jerome S. Donovan of Yorkton, Sask.

Rotarians Take The Round Against Whitby

Peterborough Rotarians eliminated Whitby on Saturday in Whitby with a 2-0 shutout to take their second OMHA midget round 6 to 0. Bob Batley earned his second straight shutout with a fine display in a tight tussle with play fast and hot all the way. It was rough enough, also, with the winners drawing six of the 10 penalties handed out. Goolay and Douglas drew two each with Jenson and Bigford getting the others. Levine, Lowe, Ward and Johnston of Whitby were penalized.

Jones scored the first Rotary goal half-way through the initial inning on a pass from Douglas. The second was scoreless, but Bigford rapped home one more early in the third. The Rotarians then staved off a hard Whitby drive to bring home the bacon. They all turned in a swell performance to advance into the third provincial playdown round.

The teams:

Rotary— Goal, Batley; defence, Bigford and R. Ferguson; centre, Jenson; wings, Douglas and Jones; alternates, Shearer, Telford, D. Ferguson, Gooley, Byron, Robinson and Gandy.

Whitby — Goal, Brown; defence, Levine and Rousseau; centre, MacDonald; wings, Ward and Lowe; alternates, Johnston, Harlow, Dennis, Switzer, Adair, McDonald, and Greer.

Marines' Cagers Gain A Victory Over Burlington In Fine Game

Cage fans saw the game at its best Saturday night in the Collegiate gym when the Marines "A" team took a 52-39 victory over Burlington Stags. Playing their best basketball of the season against one of the strongest senior "A" teams in the Niagara district, the Clark crew showed they are still of championship calibre and will be tough to take in playoffs three weeks hence.

Both teams turned in a swell showing of ball handling with deceptive plays set up regularly. Stags had difficulty penetrating Marines' tight zone defence and most of their points were scored 20 to 25 feet out by Peall and Carrigan. Marines also did well on long shots with Chum Gillespie leading the way with four. Using a fast-breaking attack, Marines built up a 31-18 lead at the half.

In the second half, Marines slowing up some to protect their lead, the visitors drove hard but found the homesters playing smart holdoff ball most of the way, though the scoring margin wasn't too great in the open tilt. Carrigan and Peall showed the way for Stags, scoring 30 of the 39 points in a fine display. All the Marines figured in the scoring and the team dished up a well-balanced display of team-work throughout. The teams:

Burlington: Bard 6, Gnup, Peall 18, Carrigan 12, Leggot 2, Hunter, McPherson, Reader 1.

Marines: J. Stewart 8, Burns 2, Gillespie 8, Edger 10, Nicholls 10, A. Stewart 5, McPherson 2, Menzies 2, Wood 5.

A Close One

"Y" junior boys pulled out a close 17-15 decision over Towne Togs' girls in a prelim exhibition, getting a basket in the last minute of play for the nod. It was a well-played joust with Togs showing nice ball handling in the first half to gain a 10-7 lead. In the second half, play was nip and tuck with the boys gradually outrunning the lasses to finish up a bit stronger. R. Hewitt, B. Pringle and N. Whetung were effective for the maidens on the attack and J. Castle strong on defence. Young, Ackford and Cranford went best for the boys. The Montgomery Maids didn't come down because of road conditions. The teams:

Togs: B. Dobbin, V. Maracle, R. Hewitt 6, B. Pringle 2, N. Whetung 2, M. Kennedy 2, J. Vass 2, J. Castle 1.

"Y" Boys: Cranford 2, Grafstein, Ackford 7, Noble 2, Young 2, Hempstead, Jamieson 2, Boorman, Graham 2.

PCVS Cagers Win Trio Over Oshawa

The PCVS boys' basketball teams reported back to Peterborough early Saturday morning with three wins in four games record after playing the return matches with the OCVI teams in Oshawa. The Senior B and Junior A teams repeated victories gained the Friday before at PCVS. In addition the Senior A's not only won their game, but the round as well when the Oshawa "A" team was beaten 35-24 on the game and 62-54 on the round. The only PCVS loss was that suffered by the Junior B boys when an eight point lead at the end of the third quarter vanished with a strong OCVT rally. The score was 23-20 and leaves the two teams tied for first place with three wins and a loss.

The Senior A round score was tied at the end of the first quarter as PCVS led 7-4. By half time the Peterborough boys had forged four points ahead on the round and 15-8 on the game. McKee was prominent with six points on three important loops up to this point. Crawford with four points helped to keep Oshawa in the game.

Built It Up

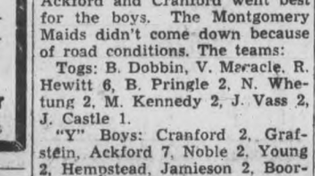
The third quarter saw a further slight increase in the PCVS lead as deadly accuracy on foul shots added six single points to the four field goals against 2 foul shots and four field goals for Oshawa. The last quarter scoring was divided evenly, six points each. Hugh Dibben had nine valuable second half points on three field goals and three fouls, while Al Lee had two of each. Buchanan of OCVT had two and two for six points, while Szigskay had four points on two hoops.

The Junior A game was a tight fit all the way. PCVS was always in front, but never by more than five points. A wild last quarter when the five points were reduced to two almost saw a second whirlwind Oshawa finish for victory. The close checking of the home team had the Peterborough shooting continually off balance and only Neil Thompson was able to find the mark with any consistency in the second half. Actually Oshawa outscored the winners from the floor 12-11, but seven out of 11 foul shots as against three out of twelve saved the game for PCVS The 29-27 final score is an indication of how close the home team came handing the PCVS team its first defeat.

Were Better

The Senior B game was dominated by the Peterborough boys throughout. The winners went to the front quickly on baskets by Payne twice and Hempstead and led 15-4 at the half. A low scoring half, during which the visitors held off the Oshawa boys without much trouble brought a rather low scoring finish at 23-13. Archibald rebounded in the only tow PCVS second half buckets.

The Junior B game was all Peterborough for 24 of the 32 minutes and PCVS led 18-10 at the three quarter mark. Then the home team caught fire and caused the PCVS team to crack wide open. The score was tied with a minute to go 20-20. Simpkins' last minute basket and Coggins' foul shot gave OCVS its only victory. Coggins with seven points led the winners' scoring. Batchelor had eight points for PCVS while Ackford had five.



The teams:

Windsor Blanks Marlies 2-0; Gens Triumph

(By The Canadian Press)

At least the Junior A fans of the Ontario Hockey Association can't call Toronto "hogtown" any more with the final Queen City team — Marlboro juniors—gracefully bowing out of the playoff picture Saturday. The other two Toronto teams, St. Michaels College Majors and Young Rangers were the two last-place clubs for most of the season and were not given much rating from the start.

All teams in the junior loop now have consolidated their positions either in or out of the "money series", and only a few remaining games are left to finish out the regular schedules.

Top - place Windsor Spitfires squashed any mathematical hope the Marlies had of taking a play-off position by handing them a 2-0 whitewashing. St. Catharines Teepees took over sole possession of that coveted sixth position standing the Marlies were seeking, when they edged out Guelph Biltmores 4-3. Galt handed St. Michaels a 6-4 decision in overtime while the second-place Oshawa Generals trounced Stratford Kroehlers 8-2 and Barrie Flyers swamped the hapless Young Rangers 16-1.

Tigers Triumph

Only two games were played Saturday in the senior A loop as the league-leading Hamilton Tigers finished their schedule with a neat 5-1 victory over Owen Sound Mercurys and Stratford Indians played solid hockey to hand Hamilton Patricias a 4-0 defeat.

Windsor scored their two goals in the first period on plays by Jim Uniac and Johnny Wilson and then settled back to play brilliant defensive hockey as the junior Marlies drove in desperately. Ivan Walmsley in the Spitfire nets had to be good to hang up the shutout and stave off the goal-hungry Duke forwards who roared in time and again in their attempt to make that final playoff spot.

At Oshawa, the Generals wiped out any hope Stratford Kroehlers had of tieing Barrie for third place as they defeated Stratford in their final home game of the season. Evenly matched for the first two periods, the Generals ran wild in the third to score five times. Top men were Gerry Scott and Ross Lowe with two goals apiece while Georgie Scholes, Dick Gamble, Joe Lafrance and Sandy Air added the other Oshawa tallies. Dinny Flanagan and Billy Mitchell counted the two Kroehler markers.

Marmora Winners Against Hastings

MARMORA, Feb. 16—(ENS)—By the score of 11-5 Marmora defeated Hastings in the return game at Madoc on Saturday evening. The visitors arrived with only nine players. Although Marmora had the edge on play Hastings forced a number of lively scrambles around Koski's citadel in the clean game.

Scriver in the Hastings net was playing his first game in two years. Regardless of the goals that beat him he stopped numerous close on drives from the Marmora team. Brooks for the losers scored his first goal of the season. Marmora lacked the services of their left wing, K. Trumble.

Teams:

Hastings—Goal, R. Scriver; defence, L. Petticrew and West; centre, P. Petticrew; wings, Crowley, J. Herrington; alternates, Brooks, Neilson, Scriver.

Marmora—Goal, Koski; defence, G. Leonard and E. Leonard; centre, Cousins; wings, Loveless, Goodchild; alternates, McInroy, E. Trumble, Doyle, Forestell; spare goalie, S. Brooks.

CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

At a gathering of sports scribes in Toronto on Saturday, it was announced that the Emblem Trophy, an 18-karat gold gadget worth $4,450—we go for gadgets like that—would be offered for the Canadian performing the outstanding athletic achievement of '48. Winner holds it a year and then has his or her name engraved on it, as well as getting a permanent $500 silver replica. Poll of sports writers will decide the winner. Also $1,000 prizes for fans estimating the number of votes the winner will receive. And the writer or sportscaster turning in the best effort up to 600 words this year will get $100, with second prizes of $50 in each of the provinces. Hmmm. More on it in ads shortly.

Team Wrestling Match

In line with our suggestion last week, Promoter Tunney has thrown a team wrestling match fan-ward this Wednesday eve at the Brock Arena. With Ben Sharpe and Earl McCready teaming up against Wee Willie Davis and the Masked Marvel. The popular former two are tackling a lot of muscle in Wee Willie and the villainous Mask, the pair scaling over a quarter of a ton between them. If these four big guys get in there together, along with hefty Referee Maxwell—well, we wouldn't advise any careless customer to leave little Junior parked in his pram under the ring. Something might give. It ought to be a hot evening all the way, with Jack Moore vs. Dick Raines (not the alderman) in one prelim, and Korman vs. Flanagan in the other.

OHA senior "B" group schedule up this way has terminated—though at the moment we don't know if Legion will be playing one more in Belleville. It doesn't mean anything, but the Quinte crew may want the gate—what gate there'll be now. Petes finished on top with eight wins, a tie and three losses for 17 points. Legion were next with six nods and five reverses for 12 points, with a game not played yet. Kingston got the third playoff spot with four wins and two ties in 12 for 10 points. And Belleville won three and tied one, while losing seven. So it's Kingston vs. Legion in the best-of-five group semi-finals, the Petes sitting by for the four-in-seven finals.

Vets Have Had it, Eh?

Quinte columnist comments: "Yep, we've had it. The Veterans can do all their senior B-ing from the sidelines for the remainder of the season for the tie in Omemee gives the Saints the third playoff position by one point. So that's that. And now on the heels of the gusts of hot air that have emanated during the past four days from the sports writers down that way will likely come a final triumphant blast about poetic justice. And, as the Petes' scribe mentioned a few days ago, the Rodden shirt can now go back to its proper place. The honor of the International Hall of Fame city is vindicated, egad. No longer can those heartless Belleville scribes and referees put the bee on the downtrodden Saints. Another aspirin, Murgatroyd."

Some Keen Cage Tussles

Marines "A" hoopsters were in top form here Saturday night to trim the strong Burlington Stags 52-39 in a fine exhibition of how basketball should be played. Locals' teamwork was first-rate. "Y" junior boys just managed to eke out a 17-15 nod o'er Towne Togs' damsels in another neat exhibition. Three Collegiate crews were successful in Oshawa over the week-end, senior "A", senior "B" and junior "A". The senior "A" PCI-ers won their round 62-54 in a swell showing. While the junior "B" boys lost, they're still tied atop their group with Oshawa. Tonight at eight in the YWCA, Normals have a playoff girls' game with Electrics.

Here and There In Sport

By The Canadian Press

Canada could probably stage the 1949 world figure skating championship if it wanted, H. J. Clarke, of London, president of the International Skating Union, told the Canadian Press at Davos, Switzerland, Saturday night.

"Canada and the United States have the world's singles champions and they'll have first priority on venue if they ask for the tournament," Clarke said.

Although Canada had not formally approached the I.S.U., "I can see no reason why they should be refused," Mr. Clarke said. "It costs money to get European skaters to North America and back, but if they want to underwrite the expenses of the competitors, they'll have the first priority when the subject is discussed at the I.S.U. meeting this summer."

Canada's RCAF Flyers, Olympic hockey championship team racked up two victories over the week-end, defeating the Bern Hockey Club 5-2 and downing the Mont Choise club at Lausanne 12-3.

Paisley, Ont., opened its new $35,000 war memorial community centre and Toronto Marlboros hockey team of the Ontario Hockey Association Senior A League, liked the new rink so well they defeated the district Intermediate all-star team 14-6 in an exhibition game.

Harvey (Busher) Jackson has returned to the hockey wars. This time as coach. Saturday he guided Nanaimo, B.C. Clippers to a 6-3 victory over visiting New Westminster Cubs in the Pacific Coast Senior B Hockey League.

Lions Rub Out Whitby In OMHA Play

Peterborough Lions beat Whitby 13-1 Saturday on the latter's ice to win their OMHA bantam series 15 to 3. It was a rough game, with eight penalties handed out, one a major to Whitby. Pammett, McGrath, and Stewart suffered shiners and cuts in the rugget fray. Langhorne opened the scoring on Pammett's pass, and the latter got another in the first period from Ferguson as Donald tallied for Whitby. In the second, Langhorne put Pammett in the clear for a neat one, and Pammett pulled the hat trick with a nice one in the third. McGrath and Stewart were cut down in the final frame.

Delahaye made some lovely saves in the winners' cage and Byrne was really steering all the rushers into the corner. Pammett led the scorers with three goals and an assist, and the whole team went well. They have scored 47 goals, with 11 against them, in eight games. Their third round is with Bowmanville, first game Wednesday at 7:30 in Omemee.

The teams:

Lions — Goal, Delahaye; defence, Stewart and Byrne; centre, Pammett; wings, Ferguson and Langhorne; alternates, McGrath, Spencer, Scriver, Allen, McGillen and McCormick.

Whitby — Goal, Shannon; defence, Beaton and Donald; centre, Badford; wings, Kapusconski and Rorabeck; alternates, O'Connor, MacDonald, Ward, Simpson, Wilson, Smyth, and Pickell.

Referee—W. Leggitt.

Referees To Meet

TORONTO, Feb. 16—(CP)—Referees in the Ontario Hockey Association's Junior A and Senior A leagues will hold a special meeting here Feb. 19, it was announced last night. They will discuss rules interpretation.

Buddy O'Connor keeps piling up the points at a steady clip and during the week-end the feather-footed New Yorker upped his National League production to 50 points on a goal and a pair of assists. Toronto's Max Bentley fired two goals to keep the second spot, but dropped six points behind the leader. Bud Polie of Chicago earned an assist to move into a third-place tie with Elmer Lach of Canadiens who went pointless.

Leafs Tie Wings For Lead After 2 Weekend Tilts

By HARRY ECCLES
Canadian Press Staff Writer

The Toronto Maple Leafs drove into a tie with Detroit Red Wings for the National Hockey League leadership in a week-end of close battles, and there wasn't anything any closer than the way the Leafs wiped out a previous Detroit lead of three points.

Saturday night the Leafs beat Montreal Canadiens 4-2 at Toronto, while New York Rangers and Boston Bruins were tying 4-4 at Boston. Sunday the Leafs tied Rangers 4-4 at New York, and Canadiens lost by 2-1 at Chicago. The Detroit Wings were beaten 3-1 at Boston in their only start of the two nights.

The Rangers could be forgiven for thinking they had the Leafs whipped at Madison Square Garden last night. They led 3-1 in the second period, and had a 4-2 lead with less than nine minutes left.

Frankie Eddolls, Ed Kullman and rookie Don Raleigh banged in the first three Ranger goals, with Bill Ezinicki getting one back. Ted Kennedy got another for Toronto before Phil Watson scored Rangers' fourth goal. Dipsy-Doodle Max Bentley then brought it to 4-3 in Rangers' favor and it was that when Leafs gained a face-off in the Ranger zone, yanked Turk Broda from the nets, sent six men up and got the tying goal with 15 seconds left on the clock as Watson from close up scored on the short pass from Apps.

Injures Leg

The game produced a hard break for the Leafs when forward Vic Lynn crashed heavily into his own goal and was taken off with a torn cartilege in the left leg.

In the game at Toronto, an uproarious cheering section of 100 members of Montreal's Junior Chamber of Commerce didn't have much to cheer for. They presented Syl Apps with a plaque and within two minutes Max Bentley scored the first goal for Toronto and Apps collaborated with Harry Watson on a second. Ted Kennedy in the second and Nick Metz in the third period got Toronto's other goals, while Glen Harmon and Billy Reay scored for Montreal. Reay was the star of the night.

The other Saturday night game at Boston, was the 10th tie for the Bruins in 45 starts. There were only three penalties. This one was close all the way. Clare Martin scored first for Boston, then Edgar Laprade tied it. Defenceman Frank Eddolls and top-scorer Buddy O'Connor got two for the Rangers before Fern Flaman of the Bruins tallied. That sent the teams into the finals with Rangers leading 3-2. Pete Babando and Woody Dumart scored to give Bruins a 4-3 lead, and the tying goal was scored by Phil Watson with less than four minutes to go.

Had Better Luck

Against the Wings last night Boston had better luck, with Frankie Brimsek turning in a brilliant job in the Bruin goal. Brimsek had no less than 41 saves, while Harry Lumley had only 17. But Lumley was beaten by rookie Paul Ronty in the first period, Grant Warwick in the second and Jimmy Peters in the third, while the only one that Brimsek lost was a dead-on shot from Leo Reise on a long pass-out from Jack Stewart.

The Wings in an effort to maintain sole possession of first place did everything but score, Brimsek facing a barrage of dangerous shots throughout.

At Chicago, victory for the tail-end Hawks brought them within two points of the fifth-place Canadiens. Gerry Plamondon scored for Montreal early in the first period, but that was the only one that the Hawks allowed. Meanwhile Durnan was scored on by Gaye Stewart and Gus Bodnar as Hawks continued their mastery over the Canadiens. They've won three straight now over the Montrealers.

Police Holding Safe-Crackers

OTTAWA, Feb. 16 — (CP). — Hull police are waiting the arrival of Deputy-Chief John Patrick of Kitchener to launch an investigation into the possibility that three men held in Hull may be members of the notorious, safe-cracking "Numbers Gang."

Chief Constable J. Adrien Robert said yesterday he expected the Deputy-Chief to arrive Monday and that in the meantime the men are being questioned. They were arrested in a Hull hotel last Thursday in possession of arms and safe-blowing materials.

On Saturday Kitchener police said they believed the trio were suspects in the attempted armed robbery last December 7 of a Kitchener five-and-ten cent store where Constable Richard Cowan was wounded by gunmen who shot it out with police.

Lorne Morgan Burns of Toronto, captured after the gun battle, was sentenced last month to 20 years for armed robbery and wounding. Three other bandits escaped during the shooting.

The men held in Hull have been identified as Douglas McAvella 29, of Toronto; William Campbell 23, of Hamilton; and Eugene Nadon 30, of Montreal. They have been remanded a week without plea on charges of illegal possession of firearms.

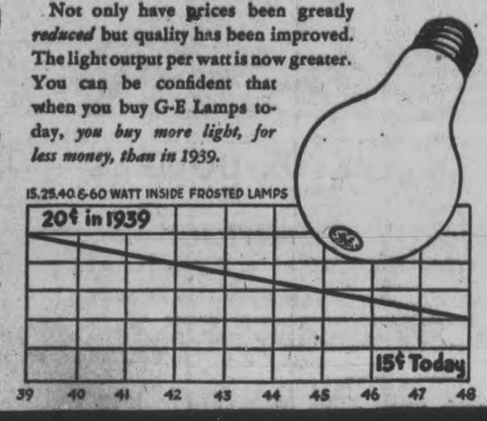
Merchants Begin Luring Buyers

By The Canadian Press

The last few months have furnished a number of signs of a levelling-off of prices — quite aside from the current United States commodity break — but they have been obscured by the rises in the price of food.

The signs have been showing in the wording of advertisements, the return to selective appeal to the customers, and in many of the lines appearing in shop windows.



Not so long ago a customer just asked and hoped for a "suit"—almost any suit. Now he is being catered to again.

The evidence can also be seen in good-quality lines which are re-appearing, still higher than controlled prices but inclined down from their peaks. Many retailers have seen customer-retsistance developing and have taken steps to meet it.

The Christmas buying rush obscured these moves to some extent and special pressures on food, including high American prices and some peculiarly Canadian factors, kept people worried.

The extreme rise of prices in the United States to mid-January was in many ways a speculative boom; buyers chose to think that because of European requirements the end was not yet. More cautious observers feel that without European requirements the American structure might soon face real danger, and chose to think of it as a cushion against drastic falls. At this stage that is what it seems to be.

GENERAL ELECTRIC LAMPS
Here is a household necessity that hasn't gone up in price. During the war and post-war years of rising prices the cost of popular types of G-E Lamps has been reduced by 20 to 25 per cent.
Not only have prices been greatly reduced but quality has been improved. The light output per watt is now greater. You can be confident that when you buy G-E Lamps today, you buy more light, for less money, than in 1939.

Driverless Quebec Car Just Misses Freight

LONDON, Ont., Feb. 16 (CP)— A driverless car rolling down Quebec street toward a westbound freight train on the C.P.R. tracks last night was stopped by a watchman — with the aid of a snowbank—within an inch of the moving train.

When Gordon Siegrist, watchman at the crossing, found he was having little success flagging the car to a halt, he ran to the vehicle, grabbed the rear fender and with the help of a snowbank stopped it. Police said the vehicle stopped "one inch" from the freight.

The car was owned by Jack Burch of London who had parked it in front of his home but neglected to put it in gear or to put the brakes on.

Electric Power Cut 15 pc To Industries

Virtual rationing of electric power was applied today to Peterborough's industries in the distribution of effect of a reduction of 2,000 horse power in its daily requirements for manufacture.

This threat of an indefinite period of shortage was mentioned some months ago in correspondence from the Hydro-Electric Commission to the Peterborough Utilities Commission. With no alternative, the Utilities body instructed Mr. R. L. Dobbin, manager, to arrange with industrial management for their co-operation in proportionate assumption of the shortage.

"We are getting fine co-operation," Mr. Dobbin said today. "We received the notice from the Hydro on Saturday, and arranged for a cut of 15 per cent in the quantity supplied to each of the industrial consumers."

That means the supply of electric power to each of Peterborough's industries was cut today 15 per cent. The city is receiving 1500 kilowatt hours less power than last week.

"We do not know how long this period of shortage will continue," Mr. Dobbin said today. "Various factors enter into the cause. One of them is a prolonged dry season in Quebec, with consequent drop in water at the power dams and reservoirs."

It is expected that Peterborough's needs will again be supplied in full before long as the expedient of rationing moves around the industrial circuit.

Niagara Falls Man Pleads Guilty To Forgery Police Claim He Cashed Cheque For $300

Pleading guilty to forging the endorsing signatures on the back of a $300 insurance cheque and cashing it, Harry A. Wellman, 31, of Niagara Falls was remanded for sentence until Feb. 23. He entered his plea in police court this morning.

The accused is also wanted in Niagara Falls for charges of forgery and it is stated that further charges are pending in Peterborough.

Wellman was arrested Saturday afternoon when officials of the YWCA, Simcoe Street, telephoned police to report the accused was "hanging around" and acting suspiciously. Acting Det. Sgt. John Stevenson arrested him on a nominal charge of vagrancy and brought him to the detective office.

Acting on a "hunch," Det.-Sgt. Stevenson had the man write the signatures of Mr. and Mrs. Norman H. Killingbeck, Lundy's Apartments, George Street. The loss of a $300 cheque from an insurance company had been reported in December. The cheque had been cashed at a local bank, but the endorsing signatures did not compare with those of the actual payees.

Confronted with the identical signatures he had made in the detective office with those on the back of the cheque, he told Sgt. Stevenson that he was guilty.

Gunners Make Mobile Run Display Heavy Equipment

Citizens of Peterborough had their first glimpse of the 50th Heavy Anti-Aircraft Regiment (Prince of Wales Rangers) RCA, Peterborough's artillery unit, Sunday afternoon, when the unit made a mobile run about the city, winding up with the setting up of fire control instruments and a 3.7 'HAA' gun at the Market Place. The training was witnessed by a number of interested citizens, despite the cold.

With the parade under command of Lieut.-Colonel V. M. Eastwood, MC, ED, the training, under direction of the A and T staff of the regiment was termed a success and is the forerunner of a number of similar outings for the regiment.

Especially interesting in addition to the firing equipment, was the newly-acquired turnout of heavy gun trucks and vehicles, as well as the wireless-equipped jeep with which the regiment kept in touch with its headquarters during the entire exercise.

Feature of the day's training was a dinner served by members of the regiment, at the Armouries, during the training. Little difficulty was experienced in the mobile move, and only drawback in the exercise was the icy condition of the Market Square.

Capt. P. W. Sargeant, A and T officer, assisted by BSM W. H. Pushie, Sgt. B. L. Smith and Sgt. G. Dunn, of the active force training staff, were in charge of training, while Capt. H. R. Hammell was tactical control officer of the day. Lieut. C. R. Payne was gun position officer for square training, with BSM R. G. Huggins as his assistant. Predictor drew included Sgt. A. S. F. Watson, Sgt. J. M. Watson, Sgt. J. K. Brown, Sgt. J. Parry, Sgt. K. W. Schram, Gnr. Dinsdale, K. J., Gnr. Griffin, T. A., Gnr. Hughes, A. J., while heightfinder detachment included Sgt. Jones, D. T., Gnr. Jones, W. F., Gnr. Kennedy, R. R. Driving the trucks for convoy duty were Sgt. Jarvis, A. W., Sgt. Gilders, N. R., Bdr. Powers, W. L., Gnr. Kennedy and Gnr. Torrance, W. H.

Gun crew, which received congratulation from the staff since the greater portion of them were new recruits, included BSM Davidson, H. B., Sgt. Simmons, R. W., Gnrs. Kitchen, P. A., Newnham, C., Bryan, K., Bryan, H. A., Byers, J. W., Golloher, D., Golloher, D. J., Harman, G. V., Rose, R. E., Walker, F. F., French, S. R., Clancy, P. P., Johnson, A. W., and McIvor, W. A.

Officers in charge of batteries of the regiment included Major H. Willis, ED, Capt. L. Foster, and Capt. W. R. C. Perry, while in charge of rear-convoy was Major M. E. Clarke, second-in-command, assisted by Sgt. Killingbeck, E.A., NCO in charge of wireless communications. At headquarters, Gnr. Bugg, N.R., and Gnr. Simpson, A. J. held down the communications role. In charge at regimental headquarters was Capt. P. M. Turner, adjutant, with RQMS Leach, F. J., BQMS Sedgwick, T.V. at quarter stores. Sgt. Gant, F., Sgt. Webb G., and Sgt. Hopgood, F. were in charge of rations. Capt. J. D. Londerville and Capt. H. L. Ashwin, assisted by Bdr. Chapman, C. held down the pay duties of the regiment.

Training will continue as usual on Tuesday night when recruits will be received and the results of the Sunday training applied in further practice.

OPERATION SNOOZE

A guest at a city hotel on Sunday was blissfully unaware that his actions were under close scrutiny by the military. Engaged in the common Sunday afternoon habit of an innocent nap, the gentleman was unfortunate in the choice of locale for the nap—the chair in front of an open window.

A short distance away, while the Prince of Wales Regiment held an exercise with heavy AA guns—and visual detectors. Having nothing better to aim at, the crew in charge of the sighting apparatus trained their lens on the recumbent gentleman. During a "smoke break," the magnification powers of the instrument were demonstrated to interested onlookers—again focused squarly on the unknown subject.—R.B.

AND HE DIDN'T NEED A GAFF

A resourceful fisherman is never stymied no matter how tricky the problem at hand. Take the case of one George Street rod enthusiast for example. While dreaming of last year's catch and of an even bigger one to come, he hung out of the back window of his second-storey apartment Sunday afternoon and pinned a summer suit on the clothes line. A sudden gust of wind suddenly whipped the suit from the line and deposited it on the flat roof of the apartment below. Use of a ladder proved to be impossible as the edge of the roof was icy. An ordinary mortal might have been nonplussed at this stage of the game; but this man was a fisherman. With a confident smile he flexed his casting rod, baited only with a "straight hook", made three passes and then caught the garment with a perfect cast. There may not have been a two-hour fight but there was plenty of flapping.—D.W.

HEAVY VALENTINE'S DAY MAIL

NO SERIOUS FIRES

Firemen had several alarms over the week-end but no serious outbreak was reported. At 2 p.m. Saturday there was a chimney fire at the residence of Gordon Innes, 306 Brock St. Sparks were reported coming from the chimney of the Civic Hospital Nurses' residence, 49 Argyle St., just before midnight; but there was no indication of fire. When alcohol boiled over in the car belonging to Donald Chamberlain, 332 Reid St., early Sunday morning it ignited and the blaze was not extinguished until firemen arrived with a hand-pump. Little damage was reported. A chimney fire broke out at 11.16 a.m. at the home of D. Moffatt, 319 Simcoe St. Less than two hours later another chimney fire brought firemen to 96 Stewart St., residence of J. Kearns. At 7.30 a.m. Monday a small explosion and cloud of smoke at the Gasworks, Simcoe St. caused an unidentified person to call the Fire Dept. It was explained that this was a usual occurrence when lighting fires there, and was not an indication of an uncontrolled outbreak.

The only accident officially reported to police to date resulting from the sleet storm on Friday afternoon was an incident at the Post Office corner of Water and Hunter streets. The car of R. Blackwell, of the Co-op. Services, was parked there and a truck, driven by O. Curtis, 140 Park street, skidded while attempting to stop for the red light. The rear of the truck slid into the parked car. Damage to the car is estimated at $35. There was no damage to the truck.

Cash Support May Prove Theatrical Movement Spark

By KAY REX

KINGSTON, Feb. 16—(CP). — A little "cash" encouragement may prove the spark which will set the amateur theatrical movement ablaze throughout the Upper St. Lawrence and Ottawa Hinterland.

Announcement that the Eastern Ontario Regional Drama Festival has set aside a fund of $200 to encourage small theatrical groups to hold more competitions, came Saturday at the close of the three-day Regional Festival.

Ottawa Little Theatre groups were undisputed winners of this year's festival. They captured every prize on the board.

For its presentation of "Papa Is All," Ottawa Drama League took the Davies Trophy, awarded by Senator W. Rupert Davies, publisher of the Kingston Whig-Standard, for the best full-length play.

Further honors came to the Ottawa group when adjudicator Robert Stuart selected Bernard McManus as winner of the best-actor award for his presentation of "Papa" in the winning play.

Presentation of a Canadian-written comedy, "Eros at Breakfast," won the Fulford Shield for the Ottawa Drama League Workshop, as the best one-act play. The rollicking fantasy by Robertson Davies, editor of the Peterborough Examiner, last year won the $100 award in the Workshop's playwrighting contest.

Ottawa's Carleton College Drama Class was represented on the festival prize list by Ruth Ruggles, who took the best actress award for her portrayal of Ellen Creed in "Ladies In Retirement."

In his adjudication of this popular play, Mr. Stuart emphasized that amateur groups should attempt more public performances to give their plays that necessary "polish."

"One public performance is worth 10 rehearsals," he said.

Tourist Queries Show Increase

Judging from the correspondence already received by the Chamber of Commerce from intending tourists to the Peterborough district from the States, it would appear that 1948 may be a boom year.

J. J. Dorris, secretary-treasurer of the Chamber of Commerce, reported that as far as can be ascertained Peterborough district had between 25% and 30% more tourist business in 1947 than the previous year. "Already we are receiving a great volume of mail from the States, requesting us to furnish them with information on hotels, lodges, and tourist camps. These enquiries are all from people who have never been to this district for a vacation. "Yesterday", said Mr. Doris, "twenty-eight letters were posted to various enquirers in the States, giving them the information they required. It is only February, and already we have received an exceptionally large number of requests for this kind of information. By the end of March and well into April and May, we shall be swamped with letters from intending vacationists to this district."

Last year, Mr. Dorris reported, every available lodge, tourist camp and hotel was filled to near-capacity. Only one instance could he quote, where business was not as good as it might have been. The reason was obvious. After three days stay at this particular lodge, the visiting Americans left on account of the poor food they had been given. They told the Chamber of Commerce that during their entire stay they had had all their food out of cans.

Mr. Dorris also said that the Americans were loud in their praise of the type of hotel, and lodge that the Peterborough district offered the vacationists, and in nearly every case the tourist remarked that their next vacation would be Peterborough-wards. Apart from satisfaction given by the lodge keeper, the attraction offered by the excellent fishing proved to be a big drawing card to this area.

CGIT Worship At Trinity Sunday Evening

Evening service at Trinity United Church Sunday was given over to the Canadian Girls in Training of Peterborough who were concluding a week of celebrations with their annual church parade. The speaker was Miss Elizabeth Kerr of Toronto, secretary of the Girls' Work Board, who is also affiliated with the Religious Education Council.

Miss Kerr's text was taken from the scripture reading of Isaiah. Chapter six, "Here am I, send me," which is also the theme of CGIT week. Speaking of the vision which came to him, she said Isaiah described it as something that seized his emotions until he gradually saw the need, and he gave not only his mind, but his will and determination to the work God wanted him to do.

"Today, psychology teaches us to be skeptical of our emotions and not to be guided by them," said Miss Kerr. "There are many things which tempt us with which we are faced every day. CGIT teaches us to choose the right way and become leaders in the service for others."

The things which a nation does during peace time are very important the speaker pointed out and there is probably good reason today to be concerned about what is going on. "Be careful not to allow yourselves to be pushed around by circumstances," she warned, "but rather be pulled forward toward God."

"It is true that there is much need for those who can give full time to church work," said Miss Kerr in conclusion. "Perhaps someone here will find their vocation in that line, and can truly say, "Here am I, send me."

Assisting in the service were Misses Joan Krogh, Jean DeNure and Joyce Pitchford of CGIT, assisted by Rev. Dr. D. B. Gordon.

Charming Junior Hostesses At Valentine's Day Tea

It was the younger set's afternoon to entertain at tea Saturday in the YWCA. It was Valentine's day, too, and the green room was decked with symbolizing motifs. Loveliness of the Nu Phi Mu sorority was a special treat to the guests, who admired the "new look" fashions they displayed, featuring longer skirts cut to flare gracefully or fall in gathered fullness from tiny waists, or make the wearer look pencil slim with a bustle bow or peplum to relieve the straight lines. The little archer, Cupid, occupied a decorative position among the array of hearts and Valentines, surrounded by sheafs of golden arrows, just in case his bow needed refilling.

Receiving at the door was Miss Marcelle Crough, vice-president of Nu Phi Mu Epsilon Chapter of Ontario, assisted by Miss Mildred McIntyre, registrar. Miss Mary Scollard was taking tickets.

Emblematic pink roses centred the oval tea table, arranged in a silver bowl, and the sorority colors, blue and silver, were brought out in triple sets of candles and the stars that bordered the white damask cloth.

Pouring tea were Mrs. M. B. Pringle, Mrs. J. E. Gatfield, Mrs. R. J. Bolton and Mrs. C. C. McIntyre. The hostesses were Misses Joan Meadows, Margaret Kennedy, Joan Phillips and Doreen Gilders, assisted by Miss Mary Hickson, who replenished the serving plates

Skirting the hand-made goods table was a galaxy of red hearts, effectively arranged on white background, with cupids on the wing, darting here and there, by the convener, Miss Donna White, who was assisted by Miss Yvonne Harvey. Parcels on the "white elephant" table were distinctive with blue and silver seals on white paper and attended by Misses Ann McFadden and Jean Johnston. Superb masterpieces of the culinary art soon disappeared from the home-cooking table where Misses Beverley Pringle and Audrey Firth presided, and small baskets of homemade candy were for sale by Misses Betty Jackson and Mary Bolton.

Highlight of the event came when Miss Barbara Cook declared raffle ticket sales closed on the five-pound box of chocolates, and Mrs. R. J. Bolton made the draw, giving the coveted prize to Mrs. B. Lang, McDonnel St.

Misses Ann McFadden and Barbara Carter looked after the arrangements for food supplies. Miss Betty Jackson was general convener, assisted by Misses Mary Knox and Mary Bolton.

Valentine's Day Highlighted With CGIT Program

CGIT Week, February 9 to 15, was a round of special activities for all groups, culminating in a grand rally Saturday afternoon at the YWCA. The much anticipated visit of Miss Elizabeth Kerr of Toronto, secretary of the Ontario Girls' Work Board highlighted the occasion, as she took part in the program of games, songs and worship. A brief talk on the importance of being a "Chevron Group" was received enthusiastically.

Educational aspects of CGIT were shown in the display of craft work by Miss Anna Edmondson, which included posters, spatter work, monogrammed letterheads and place cards, felt and leather work, novelties in shells, raffia and plaster of paris. Games were directed by Miss Beryl Hart and Miss Ruth Barns took the worship service. The camp displayed featured a miniature Camp Inglestane arranged by Mrs. Bruce Gordon and Miss Jean DeNure. Miss Leta Brownscombe had given the Canadian Girls in Training use of Y facilities, including the pool, and a splash party provided the apex of delight to the girls.

A Valentine supper was served in Murray St. Church rooms where gay decorations followed the red and white color scheme. One hundred and thirty were served by Mrs. E. Huffman, Mrs. C. Allen, Mrs. J. Arnott, Miss R. Young, Mrs. J. Hayward and Mrs. A. Smedmor. Miss Marion Pogue was in charge of arrangements, and also acted as chairman

Miss Kerr spoke to the girls on importance of being a Canadian Girl in Training, one of 30,000 members in Canada, and of 11,000 in Ontario. "CGIT girls are very active" she said. "They work hard on their ideas and like to accomplish things, and they really get them done in a hurry."

One aim of CGIT is to be a service to the community which gives girls a purpose and goal to think about. "It is important to know where you are going and to find out what fun it is to do something for others" she told them. "This is the type of girl who can best serve God in her daily life."

Miss Kerr also brought greetings from CGIT groups at Oshawa, St. Catharines, Kitchener, Guelph, Fergus, Galt and Toronto where she had visited during the week's activities. She spoke as one of the girls, in language which was suited to her audience, interspersing the serious parts with amusing incidents in her experience.

Other out-of-town guests present were Miss Wright of Cobourg, who conveyed greetings from her group, and Mrs. Wannamaker of Lakefield, accompanied by eight of the 30 members in the one-year-old group there.

An official and personal welcome to Canadian Girls in Training, their leaders and guests, was given by Mrs. Ivan C. Morgan. "I hope you will consider your time here well spent, and that the rally will increase interest in CGIT in the city" she said.

Mrs. H. A. Mitchell led the girls in singing favorite camp and group songs from their CGIT books, with Mrs. Morgan accompanying at the piano.

An amusing skit entitled "A Day On the Farm" by Murray Street CGIT group was delightfully entertaining. The voice off-stage was that of Miss Jean Mailing.

A vote of thanks to Miss Brownscombe for use of the YWCA was voiced by Miss Joan Krogh, president of the Girls' Cabinet.

Following adjournment of this gathering, Miss Kerr met informally with leaders of all Peterborough groups to take part in discussions and offer advice.

Irwin-Starr Vows Taken At St. Luke's

Saturday, February 14, was a fitting day for weddings, according to tradition, and Rev. W. J. Gilling officiated at a lovely ceremony in St. Luke's Anglican Church, which was prettily decorated with daffodils. Exchanging vows were Doris Mary, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas C. Starr, and Harold Irwin, son of Mr. and Mrs. James O. Irwin of Oakwood. Wedding music was played by Mr. Johnson.

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a beautiful wedding dress of white satin with inset of sheer at the high neckline, embroidered with seed pearls, and long sleeves coming to lily points over the hands. When the bride and groom left later for Toronto, the bride was wearing a gabardine suit of loganberry wine shade, with grey accessories, and topped with a brown fur coat.

16-20 Third Anniversary Gaily Celebrated Saturday

With the third birthday of 16-20 Club falling on Valentine's Day, the decorative scheme just had to be red and white. Catherine Graham and her committee worked hard for some days making very pretty posters with scenes from lovely old-fashioned Valentines to deck the YMCA gym. The anniversary mark was a large "3" centring large red hearts at each end of the room. Red and white ribbons were criss-crossed overhead adding greatly to the effect, enhanced by colored lighting.

Members made up a splendid orchestra to play for dancing. The vocalist, Miss Irene Tucker, sang two popular songs. Making her debut was a pronounced hit. The musicians and their instruments are: Jerry Rose, drums; Dick Crowe, trumpet; Wes Parnell, trombone; Jack Veeman, saxaphone; Bob Murray, clarinet, and Doug Dobson, pianist.

Woman Has Privilege In 1948 Of Proposing Marriage

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: There is a man with whom I am associated in business. We are both in our middle forties. We have the same education, personalities, social standards, about the same amount of property, and we also do the same type of work. Neither of us ever has been married. We frequently go out together and enjoy each other's society greatly.

Dorothy Dix

The question is: Would it be proper for me to suggest marriage, so we could be together and enjoy having a good home? The problem is up to me, for I know he never will propose. I feel that we would be very congenial and happy.

SALLY ANNE.

ANSWER: It is Leap Year, Sally Anne, and that gives you your chance. Take it. Pop the question and the chances are dollars to doughnuts that he will say YES.

Many a man is a lonely old bachelor simply because he was too shy ever to ask the girl he wanted to marry him. He couldn't summon up courage to tell Sally Anne or Mary Jane or whatever her name was how much he loved her and wanted her, and he hung around and hung around without ever coming to the point. And she waited and waited for him to speak until she got tired and discouraged and married somebody else.

Women No Longer Timid

Anyway, women are not the timid creatures now that they used to be. When they want a thing they go after it. They don't waste their time in wishful waiting. So if you love this man and are pretty sure that he loves you, and both of you are at an age when you want to settle down and have a home of your own, why, I think you would be perfectly silly not to take advantage of your Leap Year privilege.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: My boy friend is overseas and will be home very soon. This is my problem: Will he be changed, as people tell me, after his long absence? It has been two years since we have been together, but we write often and I have dated no other boys. I am 17 and Joe is 19.

ANSWER: Of course, your boy friend will be changed after two years in the army in a foreign country, where everything has been new and different to him and where all his habits and tastes will have altered. Every soldier who was in the war came back a changed man, and that is what has brought about the thousands and thousands of unhappy marriages and divorces that are wrecking so many lives.

No one is to blame for it. It is just life. The boy was no longer a boy. He was a man who had outgrown his wife or his sweetheart. He had seen the world. He had faced death and suffering. And the things that once satisfied him, satisfied him no longer. And the girls had changed, too.

Between 15 and 17 years of age there is a gap that takes time to bridge. So you are a wise child in sensing this and realizing that you and the boy friend will have to get acquainted all over again and see whether you want to scrap your childhood romance or not. My earnest advice to you is not to marry in haste. Take time to think it all over.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: My wife died a few months ago, leaving me with three children whom I am trying my best to rear properly. My chief problem is my daughter. She is 15½ years old and does not learn readily. All through grade school she had a hard time mastering her studies and I have to help her every night with her high school work, but she fails in every test and examination. She tries so hard to learn and is so willing, and the harder she tries the less she seems to accomplish.

She is studying music and slowly is making headway. She is very anxious to quit high school and go to work in a department store where a friend of ours, who is the manager of it, will get her a job and train her in the work. What do you think about it?

REVEREND H. A. M.

ANSWER: I think that is the ideal solution of your difficulty. If your daughter is in high school she must have gotten a fair practical education, enough to fit her to do the work she wishes. Not all people are bookish, nor does all education come out of books, and the things that your daughter will learn in business will be just as important to her as anything she could learn in school.

If your girl is unhappy and bored in school, the chances are that, as she has no mother to look after her and protect her, she will be in danger of running wild and getting into bad company. By all means let your daughter take the job that is offered to her.

SUBJECT FOR DEBATE—With an eye to Montreal bylaw terms, some newsdealers have kept the popular magazine bearing the cover shown here way back on their stands, or—as telephone calls to a Montreal newspaper said—behind other publications. Police said there had been no actual orders issued about the photo, but that dealers were obviously being careful about the rules against displaying too much of . . . ah . . . milady.

The Stars Say . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Tuesday, February 17

JUDGING by a disconcerting array of adverse aspects, affecting and disrupting cherished plans and objectives, there may be a fay of hope, or consolation anyhow, by a prudent and judicious use of the personality, social standing, sentimental or romantic factors, where "turning on the charm" may prove a remedy for blunders, bad judgment and turbulent conduct.

If It Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may find themselves beset by so many and varied problems, complications and dilemmas, affecting all its affairs and commitments, that they may find a wise and judicious utilization of influence, personality, popularity and prestige, might be justifiable. Poor judgment, rash conduct or the failure of proper understanding in grasping basic facts and procedures may prove fatal, causing disruption and errors, in fact downright blunders and false moves, but it may be worth the effort to recoup lost causes by prudent charm, social or cultural influences.

A child born on this day may be weakly constituted for practical living and workaday endeavors, but well endowed with social graces and talents.

NOTE: After twenty years of writing cookery material I have had the sweet experience of hearing a French chef say that he thought Canadian cooking had improved.

It is highly unlikely that this tribute is due to any of my efforts because he lives hundreds of miles from here, but if we keep on for a couple of hundred years we may become a race of top-ranking cooks. So — if I happen to know anything about cooking that you want to read about, write me a letter. Address Mary Moore, in care of this paper.

QUESTION: A couple of different ways of serving carrots as a vegetable would be appreciated by, Annie Laurie.

ANSWER: Good old carrots—they fill a lot of needs this weather.

Shredded Carrots And Onions

Eight medium carrots, 1 medium onion (preferably Spanish), ½ cup water, 4 tablespoons butter or salad oil, 1 teaspoon salt. Shred pared carrots and peeled onion. Cook with remaining ingredients, in tightly covered saucepan, for about 10 minutes, or until just tender. Nice with broiled meat cakes.

Savory Carrots with Celery

Cook 4 cups slivered pared carrots with 2 cups celery cut in 1-inch pieces until tender in very little water. Add 3 tablespoons cream (or butter), 2 tablespoons minced parsley, salt and pepper to taste. These are good with the addition of a few finely chopped stuffed olives OR 1 tablespoons chopped green pepper or pimiento.

Shredded Steamed Carrots

Shred carrots into top of double boiler. To 4 cups add 2 tablespoons boiling water, 2 tablespoons shortening, salt and shake of pepper, and cook over boiling water, tightly covered, until carrots are tender.

QUESTION: Could you tell me exactly how to make a pie with a lemon filling in a graham cracker crust with a meringue on top? I know how to make a cream pie with a graham cracker crust, but would like to try something else now. I am fourteen years old.

Marilyn.

ANSWER: That's a better show of cooking than my Marianne of 15 years can put on.

Lemon Pie With Graham Crust

Lemon Filling: Beat 3 egg yolks with 1 can of sweetened condensed milk very well, then add grated rind 2 lemons and juice of 2 large lemons.

Line a pie plate with

Graham Cracker Crust: Roll graham crackers until you have 1½ cups. Add ½ cup sugar to them and ¼ cup melted shortening—good shortening or butter. Take out ¼ cup of this mixture. To the remainder add 1 egg white beaten stiff, then press into pie plate to line it.

Pour in filling (above). Make a meringue of the two egg whites which remain, by adding 4 tablespoons sugar to them and beating until very stiff. This may be spread over the filling or folded into filling before it is poured into the crust. Whichever you do, sprinkle the reserved cracker dust over top and bake at 325 deg. Fahr. for 25 minutes.

QUESTION: There is a way of making tea biscuit pinwheels using meat. I saw them in an advertisement for flour. Could you use ground ham in these. Would you mind printing how to do it.

Ethel B.

ANSWER:

Devilled Ham Pinwheels

Sift together 1½ cups sif. flour, ½ teaspoon salt, 3½ teaspoons baking powder. Add 2 or 3 tablespoons shortening, working it in with the finger tips. Add ½ to ¾ cup milk, stirring with knife. Turn out on floured board, knead for 20 seconds, then roll out ¼-inch thick. Spread with minced cooked ham flavoured with mustard, roll up like jelly roll, cut in 1-inch slices, put in greased muffin tins and bake at 450 deg. F. for about 12 to 15 minutes.

thousands give 1 day TO SAVE THE CHILDREN OF OUR WORLD . . .

As representatives of Canadian workers, we know that saving the lives, minds and bodies of the world's children is the most important task facing our world today.

Most of the members of Canadian unions have children of their own. We know that a large proportion of the world's children who are hungry, ragged and homeless, growing up bitter and suspicious, are the children of workers. We know they must have food, clothing and education if we are to assure a healthy peaceful world for OUR children.

CANADIAN APPEAL FOR CHILDREN has given all of us the opportunity to share in this vital work. Its importance is so apparent that we are assured of the full support of Canadian workers. We are asking the members of our organizations to pledge one day's pay to the Canadian Appeal for Children.

Labour is solidly behind this appeal — an appeal upon which the future of the world depends

NEW DISCOVERY PROTECTS HUMAN FLESH — A new discovery expected to substantially reduce aviation fire hazards, a flame-resistant paneling that protects human flesh within an inch of fire up to 2,200 degrees Fahrenheit, has been perfected by the plastics industry. The fireproof panel is made with a base of cellular cellulose acetate, a plastic material so light four cubic feet can be balanced on the fingertips, sandwiched between sheets of extremely thin carbon steel. In official tests the steel and plastic paneling withstood heat in excess of 2,200 degrees Fahrenheit for more than 30 minutes. Specifications for airplane fire-walls require material to withstand heat of 2,000 degrees for 15 minutes. At the end of the official test period a human hand could still be held comfortably less than an inch from the new panel on the side opposite the fire. This laboratory technician is holding 40 strips of cellular cellulose acetate, commonly called CCA, the heat-resistant plastic material which promises great things in reducing aviation fire hazards because of its light weight, strength and heat resistance.

Urges Lenten Laws Be Strictly Observed

SAULT STE. MARIE, Feb. 16—(CP). — Archbishop George F. Kingston, Primate of the Church of England in Canada, yesterday urged members to observe strict adherence of Lenten laws. From the pulpit he once held as Bishop of the Diocese of Algoma, he told the congregation of St Luke's Pro-Cathedral that "the world tends to draw everything down to the earth's mundane level."

"There is something lacking in our civilization if we do not have a proper conception of the meaning of sin. I describe sin as that of evil thoughts, bad feelings, and bad habits."

Report Surplus Shows Increase

OTTAWA, Feb. 16 — (CP). — Surplus in the Canadian Treasury at the end of the first 10 months of the current fiscal year jumped ahead to $741,313,889 compared with $646,230,921 a month previously and $354,226,458 a year ago, it was shown in the monthly report of the Comptroller of the Treasury.

However, the Comptroller, B. G. McIntyre, drew attention this month to the fact that this surplus did not take into account loans to the United Kingdom and other governments, amounting to $384,450,030. He emphasized that while this amount could not be charged aaginst government expenditures, it could not be included in the surplus as a cash asset, since the loans were provided for out of the total surplus. On this basis the actual surplus would amount to $356,863,859.

Previous reports had not taken into account the loans, advances and investments, Mr. McIntyre said. The monthly statement of receipts and disbursements showed that from April 1, 1947 to last January 31, unrevised revenues amounted to $2,304,212,935 and expenditures to $1,562,899,046

In the same 10-month period of the previous fiscal year, total revenues were $2,318,510,430 and expenditures $1,964,284,072

General Inquiry May Develop Into Freight-Rate Structure

OTTAWA, Feb. 15—(CP).—Some possibility is developing of a general inquiry into Canada's freight-rate structure, on top of the Board of Transport Commissioner's recently-concluded hearing on the railways' application for 30-per-cent. freight-rate increases. In that year-long case, the board's radius of operations was somewhat restricted. It did not delve into the structure as such, confining itself in the main to the railways' necessity for more money.

Some of the provinces opposing rate increases indicated pretty broadly they wanted the whole base of freight rates investigated. With a view to levelling off various inequalities, and that they would call for an inquiry of this kind later.

What they do in this respect will depend on the verdict of the board in the 30-per-cent. case, due in a few weeks.

The railways have not ruled out a general inquiry. They walked into the last case with a skimpy dossier, looking for a couple of weeks of hearings, but they are getting set now for a long one—just in case. The latest general inquiry—in the 1920's—lasted two years.

Fish.

The government is planning the appointment of two scientists whose jobs will be to supervise the culture of Canadian fish in their two main categories—shell fish and the others.

Stewart Bates, Deputy Minister of Fisheries, says the two men will be occupied entirely with the development of conditions that will better the environment for growth, output and the various products themselves.

Marshlands.

Maritime Liberal members in a body will shortly approach Agriculture Minister Gariner with new proposals for reclamation of the Tantramar Marshlands straddling the Nova Scotia-New Brunswick border. The Maritimers seek something in the way of a Maritime version of the Prairie Farm Rehabilitation Act for this area.

The project to reclaim the lowlands, first rescued from the sea by early settlers through dykes 200 years ago and later lost through inundation, has been under way for years. Late last year the Maritime Liberal caucus decided to take it up again. In the next few weeks, they will once more press the claims of the Maritimers to financial Federal aid.

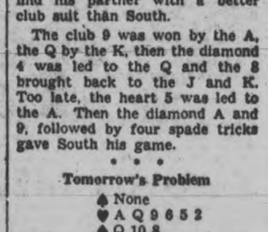
CHOOSE BETWEEN EVILS

IN MANY extremities, you have to make a choice between evils, selecting that which you consider the lesser. In its most striking form, that point arises when you have a hand which, in high card strength, is "too good to pass," yet too poor to open any one particular bid you consider good. In the long run it pays to make the best bid you can find, no matter how bad, in preference to passing. In slightly different form, the same decision confronts you in responses to an opening bid, or in some subsequent bid, if your hand in general is good enough for another call but you can't find a very desirable way to show it.

(Dealer: East. Neither side vulnerable.)

East	South	West	North
Pass	1 ♦	Pass	1 ♠
Pass	2 ♣	Pass	2 ♥
Pass	3 NT	Pass	3 NT



That deal was passed out by a number of pairs in a duplicate game. South in those cases insisted on having "three honor tricks" when he had no suit longer than four cards, not realizing that frequently two suits of four cards are more desirable than one of five, also not appreciating the value of the spade J and the J, 10 and 9 in the minors. Players who know the old count of A 4, K 3, Q 2 and J 1, making an average hand add to 10, will almost never pass a holding which contains 13 points of that kind, especially if it has something extra like a 10 or a couple of 9's.

After the South in the above sequence opened, his club rebid was a natural, just as North's first response of 1-Spade was. On the second round, North really won the hand for his pair by bidding that insignificant heart suit. The effect was to get his side into a No Trump game and also prevent West from leading hearts. In view of the position of his honors, West decided to try to find his partner with a better club suit than South.

The club 9 was won by the A, the Q by the K, then the diamond 4 was led to the Q and the 8 brought back to the J and K. Too late, the heart 5 was led to the A. Then the diamond A and 9, followed by four spade tricks gave South his game.

Tomorrow's Problem

If West led the diamond J, how would you play for 6-No Trumps in the South?

Sometimes we know not when we will meet our loved ones there.

Fond hearts that loved you in life most sincerely
Always will love you in death just the same.

All the buds in beauty blooming
Will rejoice to see her more.

WANTED
TWO MIDDLE-AGED BUSINESSMEN AND SALESMEN

Wanted — Two Mature Businessmen or Salesmen who will represent United States Manufacturing Firm in Canada. M. E. Richman, new man starting mid-year, earned $6,331.02 first six months. Average of over $1,000 per month. D. W. Orr earned $4,484.76 first seven months. In past 5 years, C. A. Solberg earned a young fortune of $54,749.64. (Solberg works only about eight or nine months per year.) Earnings right at start: S. N. Tansley $103.00 first two hours. T. D. Stookwell, $167.85 first day. J. L. McCullough $526.00 first week. Over 150 of our men have earned $400 to $3,000 in one month, many being new men. (These are Sworn Statements.) These gross earnings are, of course, exceptional. Many of our top men have been doing this well for years. It's a foregone conclusion that they will do even better now with increased demand. Men who were "bankrupt" when they started now have big new homes, some two cars instead of one, are sending children to college and enjoying security for the future. Man is needed for this area—also several others for nearby territories. Our most successful men are those who are able to be away from home travelling one or two weeks at a time—outdoors in healthful, fascinating occupation. Our Product (U.S. Pat. No. 2,392,813, Canadian Patent Applied For) is sold on long trial credit terms, no down payment to high-grade, dignified trade such as manufacturers, business officials, schools, merchants, large farm and ranch owners. Immediate delivery. Earnings advanced weekly. Big season just ahead. Rush name, age for full details. President, Dept. D, P.O. Box 711, Fort Worth 1, Texas

Says Travel Industry Needs Minister

OTTAWA, Feb. 16 (CP)—J. W. Murphy (PC — Lambton - West) said in the Commons he felt there should be a federal minister in charge of the tourist industry.

Speaking during the Throne Speech debate, Mr. Murphy said he did not think it was sufficient to have a Dominion Travel Bureau. There was a need for a federal cabinet minister who could co-operate with the provinces and possibly co-ordinate all Canadian tourist industry activities.

Mr. Murphy said there was no reason why Canada could not develop the tourist industry to a point where the income from this source went over the $1,000,000,000 mark. The government should embark on a intensive publicity program. Steps could be taken to improve conditions at Canadian border points because they did not compare favorably with United States services.

SCOTT'S SCRAP BOOK —By J. R. Scott

Harry A. Gadd Works Mgr. Cobourg Plant

Harry A. Gadd has recently been appointed Works Manager at the new Cobourg Plant of the CGE, a promotion from his former position as Superintendent of the Plastics and Porcelain Departments of Peterborough works.

Born in Jamaica, Mr. Gadd went to school in England, training in mechanical engineering at Rugby College of Technology. Starting his service with the firm at British Thompson Houston Company, and his Canadian career at Davenport Works, his story is one of continuous progress from millwright to foreman, to manager of Carboloy and Metal Products at Head Office, to superintendent of the Machine Division at Genelco, and from his last position at Peterborough Works to works manager at Cobourg.

Vets' Pensions To Be Studied

OTTAWA, Feb. 16.—(CP). —A general discussion on, veterans' affairs, with the accent on pension rates and students' allowances, may emerge in the Commons this week along with detailed study of the Government's dollar — conservation legislation and continued debate on the speech from the throne.

Sometime during the week it is expected that Prime Minister Mackenzie King or Veterans' Minister Gregg will announce new increases in veterans' pension rates and student allowances. This, or the minister's intention to establish a select committee of 30 members on veterans' legislation, may release a flood of criticism which has been building among opposition members.

The two developments may come simultaneously, with the Government using the announcement of increases to temper opposition speeches now being prepared to greet the motion to establish the committee. In addition, here is a considerable body of criticism within the ranks of Government supporters.

If the boosts don't match expectations, the storm may develop and linger for some time.

The terms of reference of the proposed veterans' committee would allow members to "consider the legislation relating to pensions, treatment and re-establishment of former members of the forces and of other persons who have been otherwise engaged in pursuits closely related to war, and to make recommendations from time to time."

Saturday, they tied Hershey 3-3 and Sunday edged New Haven 3-1. Buffalo won its only outing, downing Springfield 6-5.

The Eastern pace-setting Providence Reds split a twin bill with Philadelphia, dropping a 5-1 decision on Saturday, but coming through last night to win 8-4.

Pittsburg Hornets, leaders in the West, battled the tail-end Washington Lions to a 2-2 stalemate. Indianapolis whipped Hershey 5-2 last night after losing 7-3 to St. Louis on Saturday.

In the only other contest, New Haven whipped Springfield 7-2.

Takes Chance On New Theatre

OTTAWA, Feb. 16—(CP)—A Britisher has taken a "flyer" on the national theatre market in Canada, and chances are his bid will shoot the stock sky high.

With The Stage Society, a new Ottawa group organized along professor lines, Hugh Parker, former RAF officer, hopes to set Canadian theatre off on the right foot.

"The time has come to start thinking seriously about the professional stage in Canada," he said in an interview. "And that's why I'm making this society my full-time job."

Mr. Parker has had plenty of experience in the grease paint world. At 14 he was shifting scenes in a London theatre. He wrote his first operetta at 78, and now, at 37, he already has several radio and stage plays to his credit.

Stationed in Victoria during the war, it was he who wrote and directed the chief production for the provincial capital's centennial celebration in 1940. He also headed the RAF stage show which toured Canada and the United States in 1942.

Eight or 10 weeks repertory work is what Mr. Parker has in mind for his company this summer.

Spanish Dictator's Security Unshaken Reporter Finds

(For the first time since Spanish Civil War days, a Canadian Press staff writer has visited Madrid to learn at first hand how the Republic is progressing under the Franco regime. What he learned is covered in a series of nine stories.—Editor.)

By STUART UNDERHIL
Canadian Press Staff Writer.

MADRID, Feb. 16 — (CP). — Nine years after emerging victor in a bloody civil war, Francisco Franco is still cock of the roost in Spain and there is little indication any rival will emerge in the immediate future.

Some times Spaniards let their thoughts stray to the possibility of the monarchy being restored, but, as far as the general public is concerned, the idea is not strong enough to be considered seriously.

Undoubtedly Royalist plotters are at work. But the plump little general with the sulky mouth and black moustache probably knows of all their activities and how far it is safe to let them go.

A more serious threat to his security, in the opinion of many observers, is Spain's internal financial crisis. Signs of acute inflation have multiplied alarmingly in recent months and the government has been curiously slow in taking any concrete steps to check them.

Perhaps Franco counts on relief under the Marshall aid program, from which Spain so far is excluded. Spanish officials are highly optimistic that 1948 will bring a change in international opinion—that not only will Marshall aid be extended, but that Franco Spain will be accepted as a member of the United Nations.

You can sense it in the almost arrogant tone of their conversation as they describe Spain's long fight against Communism, a struggle they say now has become international. They contend the world should recognize the basic justice of Spain's attitude.

Controls Army

Franco's hold on his office is consolidated by his control of the army, which dominates the country. Few Spaniards see anything strange in this, or in the fact that after nine years of "peace" there are still no civil trials for political offenders, who may languish more than a year in jail before being brought before courts-martial.

Such measures are excused for reasons of "security," on grounds political scheming would otherwise result in Communist-incited civil strife, which Spaniards fear more than anything.

"Spain is a mixture of left and right," one influential cabinet minister told me. "On the one hand we are conservative, in that we insist upon protecting the security of the family. But where measures for workers are concerned, we are almost socialist."

More has been accomplished in the field of social service under Franco than under any previous regime. Social insurance of various kinds has been extended to more than one-third of the population and schools, hospitals and housing estates are being constructed.

But accomplishment has been nowhere up to planning. It will be years before the great barrier of illiteracy and ignorance, which shuts off the people from self-government, can be worn down.

Economic difficulties have harassed the program. Poorly-paid staffs try to scrounge extra work elsewhere to supplement their salaries, with the result that administration suffers.

Political Apathy

Politically, the situation is stagnant after nine years of rigid press censorship. All serious, organized opposition has been stamped out or driven underground. People seem curiously indifferent to politics.

Because they are allowed to print only articles which reflect credit on the government, the newspapers are held in contempt by most readers, whose attitude is to doubt everything they read.

They can see through propaganda moves of the government, such as the Bill of Rights, a statement of noble, liberal principles which has been approved by the Cortes (national assembly). No legislation has been introduced to make possible the liberties it proposes, although the newspapers frequently refer to it in applauding terms as an example of the government's liberalism.

Franco's enemies criticize his economic policy, which recently has been particularly hard to understand. But he has brought the country through some difficult times, hampered by drought, shortages of raw materials, and indifferent administrators. His hope obviously is to make Spain self-sufficient.

Franco is no spell-binder. Millions are undoubtedly mildly against him. An equal number hate him. But it looks as if he will be around for a long time.

Mosley Launches New Newspaper

LONDON, Feb. 16 (Reuters)—Sir Oswald Mosley, leader of the British Union of Fascists, today published the first number of "Union," weekly organ his new Union p launched F

Union, ch incorporates the pre-war British Union of Fascists' paper "Action," carried on the front page a large photograph of Sir Oswald, beneath which was the caption "The Leader." The title block incorporated the "Flash of Lightning" emblem through the letter "O" of the word union (the lightning flash symbol was associated by the British Union of Fascists before the war and many of Mosley's supporters have worn lapel badges of the same device at recent meetings.)

An editorial in the periodical stated: "The Union movement comes to the fore at an hour of national and European destiny . . . the price we are prepared to pay for the union of Europe is measured not in dollars, not in pounds sterling, but in the efforts and sacrifices of a dynamic ideology. From today forward we strive for the power in Britain and in so doing we fight for the eternal soul of Europe."

Belgian Troops At Power Plants

BRUSSELS, Feb. 16 — (Reuters).—Belgian troops today were sent to power plants in the Ghent area after a breakdown in power production caused by a strike of gas and electricity workers.

Elsewhere throughout the coun everywhere thousands of power plant workers stopped work in sympathy with the 58,000 miners and frontier workers whose strike has paralyzed 80 per cent of the country's coal mines, power output was cut sharply.

In Brussels, postal workers today decreed a lightning strike to back wage claims. This strike, however, was confined to Brussels and suburbs, and was joined by postal delivery workers only.

Police were called to restore order when a group of postmen strikers attempted to clear the public from the Brussels post office bank.

Total number of workers affected by the strike had today reached 140,000—about five per cent of Belgium's total working population.

SCENE OF WILD RIDE — A huge, roaring snowslide swept three passenger cars off the rails of a Colorado mountain climbing railroad yesterday and carried them several hundred feet down the steep side of a canyon. The cars stopped just before plunging over the edge of a 700-foot deep gorge. Two of them are seen at the lower right; the other stopped higher up. Our aerial picture makes it hard to believe that no one was killed. Injuries were reported slight, but all the passengers were suffering, understandably, from "shock."

Suggest Pensions For Widows Be Increased $10

By DOUGLAS HOW.

OTTAWA, Feb. 17 — (CP). — Government proposals for new financial aid for pensioned and student veterans were before Parliament to-day and the emphasis lay particularly on the needs of the family man in the face of record living costs. Protests from a veterans' bloc within the Liberal Party in the Commons were believed virtually to have ended after Prime Minister Mackenzie King announced yesterday that:

1. The Government is nearly ready to bring in a revised pensions bill which would boost the rate for a totally disabled veteran from $75 to $87 a month; from $25 to $30 for his wife; from $15 to $18 for a first child, $12 to $14 for a second, $10 to $12 for others, giving a man with wife and three children $161 instead of $137 and putting lesser pensions on a proportionate percentage scale.

2. Widows' pensions would be raised from $60 to $70 and there would be the same increases for their children as for those of totally disabled pensioners; the maximum rate for a dependent parent would be increased as for widows; and orphans' rates would go up from $30 to $36 for a first child, $25 to $28 for a second and $20 to $24 for others.

3. The 16,000 married veterans attending universities or vocational schools would get $90 a month instead of $80, plus $18 a month instead of $12 for a first child, $14 for the second instead of $12 and $12 for a third instead of $10. Thus a man with wife and three children would get $134 instead of $114.

16 P.C. Increase

Monday's announcement worked out to about 16 per cent or $12,000,000, raising the annual pensions bill to more than $84,000,000. The Canadian Legion has been asking 25 per cent. A lead-

THREE BABIES DIE IN OSHAWA FIRE—While their fostermother was shopping a short distance away, Allan Grabowski, 4, his sister Gloria, 2, and Patricia Ann Adams, 18 months, all wards of the Oshawa Children's Aid, perished in the fire which destroyed the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tony Mask of Fairport Beach, near Oshawa, yesterday afternoon. Storekeeper Mrs. E. Chambers was serving the mother who was buying biscuits and candy for the children.

3 Children Burned At Oshawa

Mother At Store Only 75 Yds. Away But Rescue Fails

OSHAWA, Feb. 17.—(CP). — Three youngsters whose foster mother worried about leaving them alone in the house were burned to death in their beds while she shopped at a store only 75 yards away.

Mrs. Molly Mask, 33-year-old Irish war bride, before going shopping yesterday tucked in her foster children, Patricia Ann Adams, 18 months; Alan Grbowski, four, and his sister, Gloria, two.

Fire broke out in the Masks' small frame cottage at Fairport Beach, 15 miles west of here, and an hour later firemen found the children's bodies—Patricia Ann in her charred crib and Alan and Gloria huddled together in what remained of their bed.

The children were wards of the Children's Aid Society here. Mr. and Mrs. Mask had taken out adoption papers on Patricia and while Alan and Gloria, boarding with the Masks, were to return to the Children's Aid Society home in a month.

Mrs. E. Chambers, proprietor of the store where Mrs. Mask shopped, said: "Molly was always so nervous when she left the children to come to the store that she always rushed in for her groceries and was never gone for more than five minutes.

Mr. Mask, notified of the fire, returned from his job at nearby Port Union to find the children dead, the house he had built in his spare time destroyed and his wife prostrate and under the care of Dr. V. E. Cartwright, coroner of nearby Pickering, who said an inquest will be held. Cause of the fire has not been determined.

Mrs. Florence Farquhar, a neighbor, and her daughter Florence, 17, passed the house on their way to the same store and saw the blaze in the rear. They hammered and called at the front door, which was locked, thinking that Mrs. Mask was inside. Getting no response they ran to the store and found the mother there.

The three of them ran back to the house and Mrs. Mask drove her fist through the window of the children's bedroom in an effort to get to them. She suffered severe gashes to her arm and was driven back by the smoke and flames. Mrs. E. Chambers, proprietress of the store, and Mr. and Mrs. Tannerhill, also tried to get in the house but were driven back by the heat and smoke.

If Co-operation Continues Will Not Be Faced With Pulling of Switches

TORONTO, Feb. 17.—(CP).—Toronto citizens went through another day of power cutoffs today, in line with Hydro policy of curtailing consumption in the face of a shortage which may last until the spring breakup restores normal water flow conditions through generating plants.

There were cutoffs too at several Ontario cities—among them Brantford, Hamilton, London and Sarnia—as local Hydro officials took steps to meet a conservation order from the Hydro-Electric Power Commission of Ontario, which supplies most of the power used in the province.

However, at Windsor—also affected by the order—it was hoped to meet the situation by voluntary conservation measures.

There was hope of an easing in Toronto — which went through three cut-offs yesterday hitting different sections of the city at different times. General E. M. Ashworth of the Toronto Hydro Commission said it was hoped that "only one round" of the city —one half-hour break — would meet the situation today.

Yesterday this city of 700,000 was thrown into confusion for two half-hour periods during the day and a later 15-minute break when the Toronto Hydro-Electric system without prior announcement shut off power in homes, offices, factories and hospitals.

The resulting outcry brought a statement from R. L. Hearn, general manager of the Hydro-Electric Power Commission of Ontario, that though the commission had ordered a 10-per-cent. cut in all southern Ontario power by Wednesday, it did not agree with the Toronto system's way of handling it.

It also brought a statement from Premier Drew of Ontario that the Toronto system had ignored advice from the commission which would have avoided the blackouts. He said the local system had full control over the power it receives from the commission and "the serious inconvenience to Toronto consumers . . . is the responsibility of the Toronto Hydro." . . .

Regular Cuts

E. M. Ashworth, general manager of the Toronto system, said the power cuts will continue at the same hour each day under the necessity of saving 350,000 kilowatt hours daily on instructions of the HEPC.

"The duration of such interruptions will, however, vary according to the amount of reduction in the consumption of power that is required from time to time."

In a statement the Ontario body said that "owing to a continued shortage of water in certain areas of Ontario and Quebec, power supplies to all Hydro municipalities and direct customers in the southern system . . . will be reduced by 10 per cent, effective Feb. 18."

Officials said power will be allocated on a basis of 90 per cent of the daily average killowatt-hour consumption in October 1947, and that the enforced reduction resulted from a water shortage caused by sub-normal rainfall last autumn.

Commission spokesmen, saying they had tried to obtain additional power from every possible available source without success, added that a general reduction to all classes of consumers was taking the place of a cut to industries. The latter could take no further extensive cuts without

Many Cities Hit By Hydro Cutoff

By The Canadian Press

Following is a summary of conservation measures taken in Ontario cities to meet a shortage of Hydro power:—

Toronto—Power cutoffs continued for the second day, with indications that there might be a single half-hour break compared with two half-hour and one quarter-hour cutoffs yesterday.

London — Staggered 15-minute cutoffs in residential areas began today. Merchants and industrialists co-operating in voluntary conservation.

Brantford — 20-minute interruptions of domestic service started at 8 a.m. Industrial users not affected.

Kitchener — One-hour cutoff, from 4 to 5 p.m., starts Wednesday. City's three rubber plants to be cut off from 7 to 8 p.m.

Galt — Conservation drive started in effort to avert cutoffs.

Hamilton — Three half-hour interruptions today.

Windsor—Voluntary conservation in effect to avert cutoffs.

Toronto — suburban areas — Cutoffs expected to start Wednesday.

In London a wave of legal 'bulb snatching' spread through the city as major users of Hydro power began to take restrictions seriously. City council started it last night by ordering removal of bulbs from all places in municipal buildings where light might be conserved. Similar action was being taken in public parks.

As chairman of the Peterborough Utilities Commission, Gordon S. Matthews expressed today his pleasure with the co-operation of the industries of this city in voluntarily rationing the electricity used by them on Monday.

"We asked them to cut their demand, also the kilowatt-hours used, by 15 p.c., and how they succeeded is shown by the totalizing charts at the Aylmer St substation," Mr. Matthews said. "The peak demand Mon., Feb. 9 was 22,000 horse power. Yesterday the corresponding figure was 19,500 h.p. The reduction aimed at was 2,000 h.p.

The kilowatt-hours used in the city a week ago totalled 322,000. Yesterday the figure was 290,000 kdh. The total cut requested by the Hydro-Electric Power Commission for the day was 24,000 kwh.

These restrictions will continue until further notice, but the Commission would like the public to know that this is a temporary emergency arising from subnormal rainfall, and as soon as water conditions correct this shortage they will be lifted.

However, thanks to the splendid co-operation of the industries and the citizens generally, it is hoped that this city will not be further inconvenienced, and the confusion exhibited elsewhere will be avoided."

Latest Information

Mr. Matthews referred to the latest letter from he Ontario Hydro Commission received this morning. Excerpts indicate the present power problem.

"Owing to lack of rain in Quebec last fall, the Commission has been notified by the Gatineau Company and MacLaren-Quebec Co. that they must cut their delivery of firm power under the contracts by a total of 8,000,000 kilowatt-hours a week. The Quebec companies have been most cooperative in giving us every bit of energy they had available above the amounts provided in their contracts.

8 Men Missing As Carrier Launch Upset

HYERES, France, Feb. 17. — (AP).—An officer and seven men of the United States aircraft carrier Midway are unaccounted for in the swamping of a Liberty launch off the Riviera today, a French police official said.

The official, from the prefecture of nearby Toulon, said no bodies had been recovered. He said that the officers of the carrier did not know whether the men drowned or merely failed to report back from shore leave.

(A Reuters News Agency dispatch from Marseilles said that it was announced that six sailors were drowned and 12 were missing following sinking of the launch).

The French press agency earlier said 15 bodies had been recovered. The Toulon official said he believed his version was more exact. The official added that the sea was very rough when the sailors were returning in the early morning hours from a party ashore.

Officers conducted a roll call aboard the Midway, which has a complement of 3,500 men, to determine definitely how many are missing.

Accounts of how the accident occurred were not immediately clear. Most reports said the launch was carrying from 160 to 200 men. One said the launch hit a pyramid of stones, throwing all the men into the water.

The Agence France-Presse said the launch struck an obstruction and sank.

The men were returning from a Casino at the small island of Hyeres, off the Riviera. The Midway is anchored off the [illegible] small islands in the Hyeres group.

The accident occurred at 8 p.m. Monday.

The Midway, which the United States has maintained in the Mediterranean for several months, was paying a courtesy call to the French Riviera.

Council of British Nations Suggested For Empire

LONDON, Feb. 17—(CP).—Viscount Bruce, former Prime Minister of Australia, said today in the House of Lords that "unfortunate situations" are sometimes caused by the present system of Commonwealth consultations and recommended establishment of a "council of British nations" to discuss common policies. Such a council, which would be the supreme consultative body of the Commonwealth, should comprise the Prime Ministers of the self-governing countries or their representatives, backed by a permanent secretariat, he said.

Machinery should be established at once, even if all the governments were not in agreement at first.

Plenary meetings of the council would replace what is known as Imperial conferences. Specific meetings could be called to discuss specific questions like trade, finance and communications. Ordinarily, meetings would be held in London at least once a month, with the United Kingdom Prime Minister or his delegate in the chair and the Dominions represented by high commissioners or visiting ministers. Meetings could be held in any part of the Commonwealth when convenient.

Little Information

Presenting a motion to have the House of Lords declare the opinion that closest relations within the commonwealth are essential, Lord Bruce said that about 90 per cent of the information made available within the commonwealth came from the United Kingdom while information from the Dominions to the United Kingdom is "small and fragmentary while exchanges between the Dominions themselves are negligible."

Information should be available, he said, but instead there is usually only last-minute consultation when the United Kingdom has decided its policy and the time for action is imminent.

Lord Bruce suggested that the Council comprise equals and that the only commitments would be where a representative, after consultation with his government, approved a policy and was prepared to participate in its implementation.

Bandit Trio Grabs $2,200

WINDSOR, Feb. 17.—(CP). — Police today pressed their search for three bandits who hustled four persons into a vault at gunpoint and made off with between $2,100 and $2,200 in a pre-closing time holdup at the recently opened Tecumseh boulevard branch of the Royal Bank of Canada yesterday.

No new leads have been uncovered and police have little information from the three employees and one customer, Rev. George Burdikoff, who spent five minutes in the vault while the bandits scooped up the money.

The manager, D. W. Boynton, today was nursing a bump behind the right ear where he was struck with the butt of a revolver when he was slow to obey an order which he didn't hear.

Mr. Boytnon said a lone man entered the bank at about 2.50 p.m. and took up his position behind Mr. Burdikoff at the teller's wicket.

Employees assumed he was a regular customer.

However, he turned up his coat collar, drew his revolver and waved the teller, T. G. Gibson, [illegible] back to the wall. Simultaneously two other men entered the bank. One was armed with a revolver, his face covered with a handkerchief. The other man remained at the door. It was not known whether he was also armed.

While the four men were guarded, the original bandit went around behind the counter and scooped up all bills.

They then ordered the four into the vault and told them to stay there for five minutes.

Uranium Ore In Falklands

LONDON, Feb. 17 — (AP). — There were reports in London today that uranium deposits might be the prize sparking the current dispute over possession of the bleak Falkland Islands, far down in the South Atlantic.

The News Chronicle, without disclosing its sources of information said in a front-page story: "Uranium in the Falkland Islands is believed to be one of the reasons for Argentine and Chilean challenges to British sovereignty."

Uranium is basic mineral used in the production of atomic energy.

Britain announced yesterday that her South Atlantic flagship, the cruiser Nigeria, is steaming toward the Falklands to "show the flag" in what the government considers British territory.

Britain has promised full support to Governor Miles Clifford against Chilean and Argentine claims to the strategic islands, which lie northeast of Cape Horn, about 300 miles east of Argentina.

Gas Shortage Ended 22,000 Workers Back

WINDSOR, Feb. 17.—(AP). — The month-old shortage of natural gas to Union Gas Company industrial consumers ended, most of the 22,000 idle western Ontario workers were back at work today.

It was expected that within 48 hours normal employment will be restored.

Windsor's three big auto plants, which laid off almost 10,000 employees during the gas curtailment, went on full production with the hope that mild weather will continue.

[illegible] restrictions on use of domestic gas are in force. A. K. Watt, geologist in the Department of Mines, will be here tomorrow to see that Windsor consumers don't use more than the December average consumption of gas.

Recapture 3 Convicts Used Keys To Escape

JACKSON, Mich., Feb. 17.—(AP).—Three long-term prisoners who fled Southern Michigan prison yesterday afternoon were captured early today, 20 miles from here.

The trio — two lifers and a third man serving 15 to 30 years —were returned immediately to the prison. They apparently made their get-away by using secretly-manufactured keys, officials said.

One of the fugitives, Melvin O Childress, 43, was convicted in July, 1943, in a sensational Detroit crime, the strangling of Mrs. Sybella McGratn. Benson identified the other escapees as John Woos, a 25year-old Chinese prisoner sentenced to life four years ago in the slaying of a theatre owner in Bay City, Mich., and Harry Hoffman, 34, sentenced from Van Buren county in 1941 as a three-time felon.

Writer Escapes With Life After Trial By Arab Court

JERUSALEM, Feb. 17 (AP)—A National Broadcasting Corporation correspondent said today that he was arrested and tried yesterday by an Arab National Guard court in Jerusalem.

Don Peretz of New York, said in a story published by the Palestine Post, that he was freed "on condition that I never set foot in an Arab area again."

Peretz, an American Jew, gave this account of his experience:

"I was arrested by the Arab National Guard while going to the Jewish section of the city from the Y.M.C.A. I was halted by a group of armed Arabs who requested my identity card. Upon showing them my NBC card and U.S. army discharge papers, I was told they were inadequate, and my American passport was demanded. I did not have this with me."

Peretz wrote he was taken into a room under heavy guard and brought before the Jerusalem commander of the Arab National Guard. A priest acted as interpreter.

After being asked many questions, Peretz said he was taken to another room while his case was being decided, and then:

"After a few minutes I was brought back into the court. The priest smiled at me and I felt that all would be well. I was told: 'You are very fortunate, for we are letting you go. You are not to enter Arab territory again.'

"I was asked to sign a statement saying I had been well and fairly treated, and a photograph was taken from me and attached to the statement."

Ask Armed Force

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., Feb. 17 — (AP). — The Palestine Commission predicted today that the United Nations plan to partition the Holy Land will fail unless an adequately armed force is provided to back it up.

The Commission, made up of representatives from five of the smaller members of the United Nations, asked the security council to provide such a force, presumably on an international basis, before May 15.

"The Commission," its members said in a strongly-worded report issued last night, "has decided to refer to the security council the problem of providing that armed assistance which alone would enable the Commission to discharge its responsibilities. . ."

Charge Tax Evasion

BALTIMORE, Feb. 17 — (AP) —A Federal Grand Jury to-day indicted retired Brig.-Gen. Bennett E. Meyers on a charge he evaded $15,658 worth of income taxes. The 52-year-old army career man was accused to-day of reporting a $3,808 income in 1941 when he actually made $36,301.

High School Students Planning Walk-Out

HAMILTON, Feb. 17 —(CP)— Representatives of hundreds of secondary school students said today a "protest walk-out" would take place at 10 a.m. Thursday unless extra-curricular activities, such as sports and dramatic supervision, are restored.

The situation today appeared to be that all secondary school students were in sympathy with teachers in their salary dispute with the Board of Education, as a result of which the teachers voted to cut out extra-curricular activities.

However, H. M. Brouwers, chairman of the teachers' salary committee, today denounced the strike plan which he said "cannot do any good to anybody but which harm themselves."

Senators Back Plan For European Aid

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17 (AP) —The United States Senate Foreign Relations Committee today formally approved 13 to 0 a four-year European recovery program to be started with $5,300,000,000 for the first year. It decided that $3,000,000,000 of this sum should be financed from the 1948 budget surplus of the United States. The committee also wrote into the bill a statement that countries getting aid must balance their budgets as soon as practicable.

Policeman Shot, Arrest Couple

LONDON, Feb. 17 — (CP). — Scotland Yard today took into custody a man and a woman living in a small boarding house in the Stockwell district south of the Thames and announced that the couple are being held for questioning in connection with the murder last Friday night of police constable Nathaniel Edgar.

No charges were immediately laid against the couple, Donald George Thomas, identified as an army deserter, and Mrs. Noreen Winkless. The woman's photograph had been widely circulated in the newspapers as wanted for questioning in the case.

The suspicions of the couple's landlady, Mrs. Edward Smeed, were drawn to her tenants after she had seen the woman's photograph in a newspaper. She telephoned police and officers burst through a bedroom door to seize Thomas.

Princess Visits Juvenile Court

LONDON, Feb. 17 — (Reuters). — Princess Elizabeth unexpectedly visited the Tower Hill Juvenile Court today and listened to the cases of several juvenile delinquents.

The impressions among several boys and girls were varied. They had been informed that the Princess was in the court by a girl, who, when her case was finished, rushed into a corridor full of the news.

One little girl, clinging to her mother, cried: "Whatever will she think of me. I'll never be naughty again."

"Coo," murmured a boy, accused of theft. "I bet my mum wishes she had come with me now. She stood for a night and a day to see the Princess once. She could have had a marvelous close-up without waiting today."

The Princess, dressed in powder blue, showed keen interest in the cases.

Battle Stations Manned Across Prairies As Farmers Wait Grasshopper Attack

REGINA, Feb. 17 (CP). — Storm warnings are flying along Saskatchewan's farm front and official statements say Canada's greatest wheat-producing province faces its biggest plague of grasshoppers in eight years.

Hordes of the ravenous insects swept the wheatlands last year, leaving millions of eggs in ditches and stubbled fields. Farm officials now say only vigilant control measures can stop them from wreaking more than $14,000,000 damage they caused in 1940.

Official forecasts warned the whole south-west— stretching from North Battleford some 300 miles south to the American border and from Alberta to a line running north through Estevan, Weyburn and Regina —can expect above-normal numbers.

Forecasts show a light infestation in the East, but say only extensive use of poison bait—a mixture of sodium arsenite, sawdust and bran—can save south-western crops from the heavy damage.

Thomas Pryde P.C. Candidate Wins By-Election

SEAFORTH, Feb. 17.—(CP).—Thomas Pryde, 59-year-old monument maker from the village of Exeter, brought about a fresh triumph at the polls yesterday for Premier Drew's Progressive Conservative government of Ontario.

The Scottish-born veteran of two wars won Huron riding by a majority of 684 votes over Liberal Benson Tuckey in a two-party fight in Ontario's first provincial vote since the Drew government's resounding victory in the 1945 general election.

The result keeps the Progressive Conservtaive strength in the 90-seat Legislature at 66 against 11 Liberals, eight CCF, two Liberal-Labor, two Labor-Progressives and one Labor.

Mr. Pryde's election was assured less than two hours after the polls closed in the mainly rural riding—it contains no cities — lying alongside Lake Huron.

When returns were complete he had 7,618 votes to 6,934 for Mr. Tuckey, a fellow business man from Exeter. Dr. R. Hobbs, whose death last December led to the by-election, polled 7,081 votes in the 1945 general election to 5,152 for Liberal James Ballantyne and 1,211 for CCF candidate J. E. Huckins. The CCF did not contest yesterday's by-election.

Favorable weather and good road conditions combined to bring out a record 14,552 of about 20,000 eligible voters. In the 1945 election, held in June, 13,444 voted.

Mr. Pryde won eight of the riding's 13 municipalites and four of the eight townships. Mr. Tuckey led in this town 22 miles west of Stratford where returning officer W. E. Southgate established his headquarters.

Senator Warns Russians May Destroy Democracy

OTTAWA, Feb. 17—(CP).—A blunt warning that Russia, if she discovers the atomic secret, may seek to destroy the Western democracies, was sounded yesterday by Senator J. W. de B. Farris (L—British Columbia). In a speech outlining the evidence of Russia's consistent "hostility" and her "very active desire" to possess the atomic bomb, he told the Senate:

"Any nation that does not act on the assumption that Russia will have the bomb dangerously soon is living in a fool's paradise."

He said the choice now is between "complete, effective disarmament" and Western unity in "armed defence."

Senator Farris said the democracies must arm themselves against potential aggression and have so many bombs, planes and guns that Russia will not dare attack them.

Must Unite

He said there is no hope for the world unless the English-speaking democracies stand together against the forces apparently bent on destruction of the peace.

The Senate heard from its newest member, Senator Ian Mackenzie (L—British Columbia), another criticism of its practice of referring matters to committee before they have been approved in principle by the upper chamber as a whole.

The former veterans minister, who made a similar criticism last Thursday and was informed he'd learn the Senate and the House of Commons differ in many ways, combined his remarks with a suggestion that the "old, historic rules of parliament" be followed.

Senator J. H. King, the speaker, reminded him the procedure for starting a debate on rules is to place an appropriate motion on the order paper — the Senate's daily business.

WINS ELECTION — Thomas Pryde, Progressive Conservative who was elected last night in the Huron provincial by-election.

MORE ABOUT—

The Commission is of the opinion that no further extensive cuts can be made to customers now being interrupted with seriously affecting employment in this province and therefore, that it has no alternative but to give notice to municipalities and direct consumers of the Commission in the southern Ontario system, that:

"Effective February 18th, 1948, and continuing until further notice, the daily consumption of kilowatt-hours shall be restricted to a maximum of 90 p.c. of the average daily consumption of kilowatt-hours in the month of October 1947. This reduction shall not apply to consumers whose power supply was interrupted by the Commission in October 1947 to the extent of 10 p.c. or more of normal delivery."

The Commission wishes you to know that this is a temporary emergency arising from sub-normal rainfall and that this restriction will be lifted just as soon as water conditions warrant. In the meantime, if the specified reduction in the consumption of electricity is not obtained, it will be necessary to cut off the supply of electricity entirely for definite intervals of time each day wherever the specified consumption of electricity is being exceeded.

Your average daily consumption of kilowatt-hours for October 1947 was 252,348.

Appeals For Help

From that information from the Hydro, Mr. Matthews said that an additional cut may be necessary to conform with the present required rationing. He appealed to housewives, merchants and all commercial consumers to curtail their use of electricity. By doing so, they will help to keep the local wage earner employed.

Peterborough was one of six cities notified last Friday by the Hydro virtually compelling a 15 per cent reduction in electric power consumption. The others were Toronto, Windsor, Hamilton, London and Ottawa. The local Commission, composed of Mr. Matthews, George A. Macdonald and Fred Hills, had anticipated this climax several months ago, and had arranged with local industries for the necessary power cut.

The instructions of Friday required the reduction to be put into effect on Monday. Peterborough was prepared for the emergency. Toronto was not, and the plight of Ontario's biggest city was generally reported yesterday and today. With no plans at hand, Toronto simply had to pull the switch on all power users. Peterborough transferred the emergency to its industries with immediate results which undoubtedly caused internal shifting of production programs, but relieved the community as a whole of the snarls and stalemate experienced throughout Toronto, in homes, factories, stores, theatres and so on.

Acted Early

It will be remembered that first intimations of the power shortage came from the Hydro-Electric P[illegible] Commission in [illegible] cut off store fronts and appealed to householders and merchants to economize as much as possible in consumption of kilowatts. That meant turning off lights that were not really needed at home and also using domestic machines sparingly.

Many citizens did co-operate. Others were more or less indifferent in their compliance, and chiefly to them Mr. Matthews directs the further request for their assistance in power-saving if local industry is not to be further inconvenienced until the present stringency passes.

Factory Co-operates

Hydro orders to secondary cities in Ontario were sent out Monday to take effect on Wednesday. As an example of the spirit of Peterborough's industrial managements, Western Clock Co., fulfilled the wishes of the Utilities Commission, and also had prepared a pamphlet explaining the situation, a copy of which was given to each employee for home effect.

There is no immediate lifting of the restrictions in sight. Only spring rains can build up the power dam reservoirs, as explained in the Hydro letters to the Utilities Commission. Until then every horse power saved by collective domestic and commercial consumers, the homes, stores, offices, will be an advantage to Peterborough's industries and their employees.

Expect Coal Price To Increase $1 Ton

[illegible], Feb. 17 — (CP). — Householders looked to their fuel supplies today following a prediction that an increase of more than $1 a ton in the price of coal produced in Alberta mines would follow yesterday's announcement of settlement of the contract dispute between the Western Canada Bituminous Coal Operators Association and District 18, United Mine Workers of America (C.C.L.).

The forecast was based on earlier statements by both union and operator spokesmen that any wage increases would have to be passed on to the consumer.

Jury Considers Serious Charge

Clayton Eason, Peterborough, who is being tried by jury in the Spring Sessions of the Supreme Court of Ontario, came before The Honourable Mr. Justice Wells, Tuesday morning. Eason is charged with rape.

The following jury was empanelled: John J. Callaghan, 87 Lock St.; Sidney C. Hughes, Concession 10, North Monaghan; Franklin Horton, 368 Brock St.; William Cuffe, 60 Park St.; George T. Baker, 15 Hilliard St.; Thomas H. Best, 1198 Kenneth Avenue; Thomas Heffernan, Concession 10, Otonabee; Cephas Bullock, Lot 42, Concession 13, Smith, Young's Point; Frederick Ford, 744 Mark St.; Francis G. Allen, 206 Perry St.; Arthur Ebbs, 247 Mark St.; and Harry Cherney, 204 O'Carroll Ave.

It is alleged that the accused committed rape upon a 16 year old girl. The girl testified that Eason had driven her home from a dance and instead of taking her directly home, went to a place near Crawford's Grove. While there, she said, accused stopped his car and forced his attentions upon her. She resisted but was unable to overpower him and the plaintiff testified that he committed assault.

After taking her home, the plaintiff that her mother questioned her for being out so late, (it was three o'clock in the morning when she arrived home) and noticing her distressed condition asked her what was the matter. Plaintiff said that she replied "nothing was the matter." But on being pressed further she told her mother that Clayton had hurt her. The mother telephoned for the police, and later plaintiff and her mother went to a doctor for examination.

W. J. Arthur Fair is defendant's lawyer and the case is proceeding.

Russia Charges Secret Talks

MOSCOW, Feb. 17. — (AP). — Russia has accused Britain and the United States of conducting secret talks for a separate peace with Germany in the midst of the Second World War.

The Soviet Union made the charge last night in the fourth instalment of its reply to United States state department disclosures of documents regarding Russian-German relations.

A statement said Allen W. Dulles, a brother of John Foster Dulles, represented the United States in talks with a German spokesman in 1942 which touched on the question of concluding a separate peace with Germany.

It also charged that the son of Lord Beaverbrook, British publisher, represented Britain in similar peace talks with a German representative in September, 1941.

Voluntary Reduction

Mr. Hearn said London and Hamilton power officials had arranged a voluntary power reduction. The desired reduction was hardly 10 per cent and he thought city officials should inform manufacturers and residents of the need for saving electricity before taking drastic action.

When the acute shortage will be relieved is dependent on the flow of water in the Ottawa river and a thaw was needed. Sometimes, he said, "we get an early break in March."

Justifying yesterday's Toronto interruptions, Mr. Ashworth declared that power shortages can only be met by saving power. Any prior announcement would have [illegible] by a storm of protest.

The city's power cuts will end by 7 p.m. and there will be no interruptions to trolleys, waterworks, sewage disposal plants or street lights, he said.

The pensions boosts will be retroactive to Oct. 1, 1947, but the larger cheques will not go out until "a matter of weeks" after House approval. The bill will be sent to a select committee on veterans affairs.

The students' increases are retroactive to Jan. 1 and will be put through by order-in-council, that is without reference to the House. But it may be April before cheques reflect the change. It will add $1,200,000 to expenditures on veterans' training which are expected to run to $20,000,000 this year.

Recovery Continues For All Stock Groups

TORONTO, Feb. 17—(CP). — The recovery shift continued in light trading on the stock exchange today as all groups, led by the industrials, moved up for modest gains. Industrials were firmest in selective trading, while the mining stocks were relatively quiet and somewhat irregular.

Volume for the first three hours was 477,000 shares, about 215,000 less than yesterday's similar period.

Industrials generally traded on gains in fractions with the occasional point advance. Newsprints were a strong centre with steels and liquors holding well. On the gain side were Abitibi, Bell, Brazilian, Canadian Breweries, Canadian Canners, Consumers Gas, Distillers, Dominion Foundries, Dominion Steel, Ford, Gatineau, Great Lakes, Walkers, International Petroleum, Winnipeg Electric, Massey-Harris, Westeel, Powell River and International Paper.

Golds were mixed within narrow price range. Ahead were Canadian Malartic, Cochenour, Donald, Eldona, Hollinger, Lamaque, Macassa, Negus, Upper Canada, Preston, and losers included San Antonio, Teck-Hughes, O'Brien, Lake Shore, Giant, East Malartic, Dickenson, Chesterville, Aunor, Belleterre.

Road Roller To Be Bought By Commission

Purchase of a road roller will be one of the expenditures of the Suburban Area Commission this year, Mr. M. H. Gainey told the finance committee of the city council last night. He was accompanied by his fellow Commissioners, A. E. Middleton and A. W. Archibald.

The city's representative on the Commission, Mr. Gainey said that the renting of a roller involved unnecessary expense when it was held idle in wet weather, but the cost was going on just the same. "We think it should have been bought years ago, but we didn't have enough money."

The Commission had a deficit of $900 last year, and in 1946 the county council paid the $1,200 excess of expenditure on that year's operations. Mr. Archibald outlined the work program and estimated outlay for this season. One of smaller details of expense is some straightening of curves on the river road along the Douro shore north of Nassau. Ald. J. P. Anglesey remarked to the Examiner afterward that he hoped that the road would not be "improved" too much, that part of its attraction was the easy going corners that tended to keep traffic at a pleasant pace.

Ald. Doug Miller enquired whether that road could be paved. Ald. Gainey said it was paved to the railway "but we haven't had enough money to do any more. The last work was done by Mr. Chalmers and cost around $2,800 to $3,000 a mile." The Commission has two snow plows, one on a truck and the other attachable to a grader in emergency.

"I have been eight years in the council, and I can say that we have always had the most co-operative relations with the Suburban Area Commission," said Ald. Swanston. "We like to see them even if they visit us only once a year. The council feels that its share of the suburban area expenditure is wisely spent, and we have nothing to worry about in our relations with the Commission."

"We are all pleased with our relations with the Commission," said Mayor Ovens.

Artificial Insemination Is Described

COBOURG, Feb. 17 (ENS). — Artificial insemination of cattle is receiving much consideration during the past months, and the history and progress of this scheme has been outlined by Ralph Banbury, agricultural representative for Northumberland County.

Cattle raising, especially for dairy production, has long been the main source of farm income for most counties in the Quinte district. In the reproductive program it was necessary to keep a sire for at least each herd of 20 and the good farmer tried to get the best bull available at the price he could pay. A decade ago, artificial insemination was felt by most livestock men to be wishful thinking.

Gradually the practice developed and no one person seems to stand out as the discoverer, but in all provinces men of inquiring minds kept working on the idea. It was well known that nature is generous with the seed supply of all flora and fauna, otherwise the species would disappear. Professor Howitt of OAC, Mr. Banbury points out, said that a single shepherd's purse plant produces over 50,000 seeds. With microscope and trial-and-error methods it was found that bovine semen could be safely diluted and divided 25 times. In other words, one male need be kept for 500 cows instead of one for 20.

As time went along, units were established in various parts of Ontario and the details were learned. The farmers of this area watched the progress with interest, but were somewhat cautious about putting the practice to work. Recently all interested in agriculture agreed that the time had arrived. In the area planned, the statistics of June, 1946, give the following numbers of dairy cows in thousands:

Hastings County 42, Northumberland 33, Lennox Addington 23, Peterborough 20, Prince Edward 13. The figure for the island county looks low, but 150,000 cows mean a lot of milk, butter and cheese, Mr. Banbury stated. For the first time in 20 years, the milk product prices are approaching a fair value. The consumer, long accustomed to cheap food in Canada, should compare prices with those in United States and other parts of the world, he said. Payment of milk, however, is done on the butter fat test and most farmers find this test rather low. Few cheese factories average much over 3 per cent. Artificial insemination makes the 4 per cent butter fat, 20 thousand pound producing lines, possible to the average man. It is quite within the realm of reason that the fat test can be raised in two generations to an average of 4 per cent even with Holstein cattle. A 1 per cent increase is the same as a 25 per cent increase in butter production and means much to the producer and a hungry world. Only one farmer in 10 keeps pure-bred cattle, but all are equally interested in production and profits. The good grade herd from which most heifers are raised, will profit much. In addition to increased production of the heifers, animals sold will bring much more money when known to have such paternal ancestors. Even the man who veals most of the calves can profit as there will be a keen demand for heifer calves from the sires of the unit. Much could be said about handling dangerous bulls on farms that have not enough hired help. The cost of feeding a bull varies up to $150 a year. Each of the counties is asked to form two local units of about 600 cows. Grants to assist are available.

Five Point Three Billion Dollars

When Mr. Marshall, the American Secretary of State, appeared before the U.S. Senate Foreign Relations Committee three months ago to justify his request for billions of dollars for the European Recovery Plan, he took a firm stand. He wanted Congress to give the money asked for or none at all. He said that seventeen billion dollars for the four-year period was a minimum: less would doom the plan to failure. That figure was a careful American revision of the sum (twenty-two billions) which the sixteen European nations had considered essential.

* * *

These large demands made many American politicians uneasy. It was sanely decided to make a definite commitment for the first year only. The State Department asked for 6.8 billion dollars as the first 15-month instalment — two billions less than the European nations requested. The Senate Foreign Relations Committee, after prolonged delay, has recommended that 5.3 billion dollars be authorized for the twelve-month period beginning April 1st. This is substantially the same as the State Department's 15-month figure. Senator Vandenberg, the Chairman, explained that the foreshortening of the time-table was made so that "the new Congress and the new Administration (following the elections this year) should have the earliest possible opportunity to pass upon the European Recovery Program and its evolution".

* * *

The sum of $5,300,000,000 is immense, but so is the E.R.P. undertaking. It is encouraging that the Senate Foreign Relations Committee has approved it and strongly endorsed the conception of a Western Union of European states. The "Marshall Plan" was designed by the Democratic administration; the present Senate majority is Republican. The unanimity of purpose and policy is reassuring and there is a good likelihood that the Senate Appropriation Committee to which the measure must now be referred, will accept its monetary terms. Meanwhile, time is wasting. Europe's need is great. The date set for the initiation of the program is but six weeks away. The Foreign Relations Committee has not left Congress much time.

The Record Of The Gallant Second Battalion, C.E.F.

The violence of events since the first Great War confines our vision to continuous immediacies. Recollections of even the recent war have an unreality; to call to memory the great events and names of the earlier war seems an effort of nostalgic piety. Yet the heroism and despair, the fame and honourable achievement of the fighting forces of that war should not be forgotten.

We have at hand the published story of the 2nd Canadian Infantry Battalion, the "Old Iron Second" of the Great War, of which the Prince of Wales Rangers is a perpetuating regiment. The book's appendices listing casualties, decorations for gallantry and nominal rolls contain hundreds of Peterborough names; the history therefore should specially interest local people who served with the 2nd Battalion, their friends and descendants. It is published by the Historical Committee, 2nd Battalion, 69 Brighton Avenue, Ottawa, and can be had at a low price because of the generosity of various friends of the battalion whose money gifts made the production possible.

The History has been in preparation for a generation. The author, Colonel W. W. Murray, has taken time and care to make the record not only sincere and comprehensive, but accurate and detailed. It is the well told, well illustrated story of a famous battalion and its men who fought during four years in 21 major battles, incurred a total of 75 per cent. casualties and gained two V.C.'s, 11 D.S.O.'s, 53 M.C.'s, 41 D.C.M.'s and 161 M.M.'s. Such a record deserves to be set down in print.

Intellectual Malnutrition In Canada

The Ontario Legislature, we observe, has established a $500 prize to be awarded annually for the best picture in the Ontario Society of Artists' show; the Legislature may also buy the prize pictures if it wishes to do so. We think that this is a good plan, for it will give some encouragement to artists, and will also encourage the Legislature to acquire some good pictures. But as we have said many times before, prizes alone will not bring forth art and literature in Canada; artists of all kinds work for the recognition of their fellow citizens, and that is a type of recognition which Canadians are sometimes reluctant to give.

We were struck by the concluding words of a theatre review which appeared in the February 7 issue of Saturday Night: the review described some admirable work which had been done by a group of Irish actors from the Dublin Gate Theatre, dwelling upon the perfection of teamwork, the originality of design, and the freshness of conception which had been shown by the Irish artists. "But of course", said the Toronto critic, "it requires also a cultured and imaginative audience"—and the implication was that such audiences were not common in Canada.

Every country has its artists—writers, painters, musicians and actors — but they cannot function in a void. If they create, they need people to be interested in their creations, to criticize them, to understand them, to give them intelligent attention. Artists, as well as other people, need to feel that they are filling a place in the life of a country; they do not like to be outcasts, engaged in work which most of their fellow citizens regard as queer, unimportant and outside the range of normal human interests. This attitude is unfortunately too common in Canada; it is born of a contented ignorance and a lack of curiosity. It is an attitude which we must get rid of if we expect to become a great nation.

Canadians, upon the whole, suffer from intellectual malnutrition. It is not fashionable in our country to be deeply interested in the arts or to seek in art the emotional experience which it alone can give. Such interest in the arts as there is tends to be self-conscious, and confined to minorities in every community. In spite of our high standard of living (which is usually interpreted as meaning a high standard of eating) and our much-vaunted educational system (which teaches our children everything except a love of learning) we are still content to live and think on a very humdrum level; as a nation we are content to get very little real joy out of life. Until Canadians discover that thinking can be fun the arts in this country must expect to fare poorly.

Civil Marriages

The Peterborough Presbytery of the United Church has been considering the advisability of requesting the civil authority to provide for the performance of civil marriages. There were six supporters for the proposal and thirty who opposed it. It was felt that even if the Presbytery were not opposed to civil marriages, any request for legislation authorizing them should not originate with the church.

In this country the only people legally qualified to perform marriages are the clergy. It therefore happens that sometimes ministers of religion are put in the embarrassing position of performing a marriage to which there is no legal obstacle but to which they have personal conscientious objections. To foist the obligation upon some other clergyman is merely passing the buck. If a civil form of marriage before a J.P. were permitted, the legal, contractual aspect of matrimony could be discharged without the unwilling sanction of a minister and his church.

There is, too, the other side of the question. Many people look upon matrimony primarily as a civil institution. They say that marriages are not made in heaven, and are not the church's business. They resent being compelled to go through a religious ceremony which is for them a mockery. The law should allow such people the freedom to marry without benefit of clergy, and ministers of religion the freedom to withhold the sanction and ceremony of the church. Thus the honesty and moral scruples of both the minister of religion and the nonsectarian betrothed couple would be protected.

Our London Letter

By J. D. CAMBRIDGE

THE London news is the new wages and profits policy of the government as announced by the Prime Minister in Parliament on February 3. This is a decision of extraordinary importance for the nation as a whole, and is part of the general campaign to protect Britain's export position, already seriously challenged by rising prices at home and devaluation policies abroad, such as the French plan. Like every other country in the world, Britain has been experiencing a steady rise in wage costs with little relation to production. Blame does not lie with any one group of the community: the employees have naturally responded to higher costs of living by demanding more pay, while the employers have protected their position by raising prices, and so the old, old story goes on its way.

✧ ✧ ✧

FEW Canadians will realize how courageously the government is acting in this matter. The British Labour Party is officially separate from the Trades Union Congress, (the combined C.C.L. and T.L.C. equivalent) but in effect is the political arm of the organized labour movement. No trade union could officially approve of a wage freezing policy in peacetime without impossible guarantees, and every attempt of the government to come to an agreement with the T.U.C. has foundered on this point. Now the government has said in effect that while they will not freeze wages, they will not permit any price raising on the basis of increased labour costs. This will of course harden the employer in bargaining—a cost absorbed is a very different horse from a cost passed on to the consumer. As the largest employer in the country, it is presumably a declaration of wage policy for government enterprise as well. Make no mistake about it, this policy will be highly unpopular with labour, and already the Communist party is trying to exploit it as a sell-out to the employers. Abstract economic theory is not well understood by any section of the community, and certainly not by the average workingman. He will be suspicious of any attempt to control wages, particularly as the government has given no indication of how they plan the control of profits, the second phase of the new policy. On Feb. 5 the Prime Minister went on the radio for a short talk to the nation, explaining the reasons why his government had to take this step, and it was obviously directed at the trade union members rather than others. He carefully explained that wages in certain undermanned industries would be allowed to catch up to those prevailing in other fields, but gave blunt warning that coal, steel, and agriculture were not included in these. While he did not give the industries he had in mind, the most important would be the textiles, wool and cotton. They have long been noted for low pay, and it has been very difficult for them to maintain staff in competition with better paying industries in the recent years of labour shortages. Altogether, it is a cheering sign of political maturity for the government to take such bold action in the face of strong opposition from their chief supporters.

AN amusing sporting incident was reported in London this week, concerning two of the local soccer teams in the big league. Soccer is the popular sport of the masses here, rather like hockey in Canada. This is the sort of higher judgement that many an aroused fan in every sport has frequently demanded, but I cannot ever recall it being granted before. Fantastic as it may seem, a referee was struck by lighting just as he was about to blow his whistle. The whistle was never blown, the play continued, and the game ended in a tie. To keep the story amusing I hasten to add the referee was not seriously injured, only stunned.

SPEAKING of entertainment, I might mention the sad plight of the British movie houses, known as cinemas over here. The virtual banning of American films last year by a 75 per cent. tax, and the Hollywood retaliation of stopping all exports to Britain have finally begun to show in the movie houses. At the time of the ban, a large number of films were on hand but not yet released, but now these reserves are practically finished. British production of pictures is so low that there is no chance of replacement from this source in several years, so movie house owners are trying desperately to make up the shortage by revivals of old films. A few French and Italian films are shown, but in spite of English sub-titles, they are more popular with the critics than the general public. The "Evening Standard" reported on Friday that attendance had dropped off sharply. This shortage of new films is particularly hard on the theatres where new films are usually first shown. They charge considerably more than the neighbourhood theatres, and if only second-hand fare is offered, most people are unwilling to pay the high difference. In these first-run theatres there are about five different prices according to position in the house, with the lowest figure about 90 cents and the highest $2.50. Not cheap by any means. In spite of Hollywood hopes, there is little chance of any change in the government tax. More urgent things are needed with dollars than films.

THE women's skating competition at the Olympic Games has been widely publicized in London papers, and Barbara Ann Scott duly acclaimed for her victory. The "Times" correspondent had nice words to say about another Canadian competitor, Marilyn Take, whom he described as having given as thrilling an exhibition of free skating as he had ever seen. Canada has gained a great deal of prestige by this victory, and judging by Canadian standings in the other events, it was badly needed. Maybe they will let Barbara Ann have her new car now.

POISONING THE WELLS

Sir: In Thursday's issue of your paper there appeared an account of a lecture, given at the Normal School by Rev. W. H. Hudspeth on "China Today". In the course of this lecture he stated that there was a great deal of inefficiency and corruption in the Chiang Kai-Shek government, but that the Communists have a well organized band of workers, many of whom are actuated by the highest ideals, and that they have great sympathy for the farmer class.

To those of your readers who have seen the published statements of Prime Minister Attlee, Mr. Churchill, Prime Minister King and Premier Drew, made within the past two weeks anent the Communists, the above statement is an insult to their intelligence. Our social clubs often make the mistake of inviting as a guest speaker, some itinerant lecturer who avails himself of the occasion to put across his propaganda. This is indiscreet, but it is not merely indiscreet, it is damnable to misinform and poison the minds of the future teachers of our children.

The speaker stated that there was much corruption in the Kuomintang. Would one condemn the Liberal government at Ottawa or the Conservative government at Toronto because some of the followers of each were corrupt? This is a little of the record of the National government: it liberated the people from the tyranny of the Manchu Dynasty, that held them in slavery for nearly three hundred years. It set up a republic that improved very much the condition of the people during the few years of peace that followed. It fought Japan for eight long years and thus made possible McArthur's ultimate victory. During this time the Chinese Communists, to show their loyalty, sided with the government, but gave it little more help than did their Russian brothers give to the besieged Polish garrison at Warsaw. They merely used the occasion to strengthen their own ranks. While the greater part of the Western World has perceived the danger of Communism only within the past two years, China saw the danger long ago and has fought against it with very little outside help for over twenty years.

Of course the Communists have great sympathy for the poor farmers. This is their propaganda. But wait till China is within the iron curtain, and we shall see that sympathy al la Tito.

In Sound-Proof Rooms

A Memphis movie house has installed a sound-proof glass booth where mothers may take their infants if the infants start to wail. This is a good start toward the logical end of a completely compartmentalized theatre.

There could also be separate and separated sections for the smokers, the peanut and popcorn eaters, the commentators, and the young couples in love. Oh, yes—and a small section for those who just come and sit quietly while they watch the picture.—Calgary Albertan.

(This Week)

The other day as we were struggling to get off our local bus, we fell to wondering why the rush hour always seems more crowded in Winter than Summer. We asked a friend who works for a transportation company. "Don't you realize", he said, "that passengers are 10 to 20 pounds heavier and half a foot bigger around in Winter?"

"No", we said. "Why?"

"Overcoats!"

A Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

And Moses said unto God, Behold, when I come unto the children of Israel, and shall say unto them, The God of your fathers hath sent me unto you; and they shall say to me, What is his name? what shall I say unto them? And God said unto Moses, I AM THAT I AM: and he said, Thus shalt thou say unto the children of Israel, I AM hath sent me unto you. (Ex. 3: 13, 14.)

Let all the earth fear the Lord: let all the inhabitants of the world stand in awe of him. For he spake, and it was done; he commanded, and it stood fast....

The counsel of the Lord standeth for ever, the thoughts of his heart to all generations. (Ps. 33: 8, 9, 11.)

O the depth of the riches both of the wisdom and knowledge of God! how unsearchable are his judgments, and his ways past finding out! For who hath known the mind of the Lord? or who hath been his counsellor? ....For of him, and through him, and to him, are all things: to whom be glory for ever. (Rom. 11: 33, 34, 36.)

John Grierson At Work

(From an Article by Lillian Ross, Writing from Mexico City, in the New Yorker.)

One man who will almost certainly be awarded a Unesco Oscar for enthusiasm is John Grierson, the organizations director of mass communications and director of public information. He is a bouncing, restless little Scotsman with a suggestion of the early Charlie Chaplin about him.

"Here, for the first time, all the prima donnas of the world are being given an opportunity to integrate their work realistically!" he shouted at me when I met him in a corridor. "All the sentimental slobbery of the world uplifters is out! We are the professional conscience of the world. We're not going to be another Committee on Intellectual Cooperation, the old League of Nations what-do-you-call it." Grierson is impatient with all the red tape that always seems to be part of any internationally minded organization.

"We've got too many clerks!" he went on, pronouncing it "clarks", in a tone that would have terrified anyone who had ever spent much time around a filing cabinet. "If the reports are in duplicate, the clerks want them in triplicate. When they're in triplicate, they want them in quadruplicate. To hell with paper-pushing! Let's get on with pointing the finger at the scientists and educators and saying, 'What are you doing about peace in the world today?'"

Source Of Embarrassment

The good behaviour of the inhabitants of Hunnebostrand, a small place near Gothenburg, Sweden, has for many years been a source of embarrassment to the local prison authorities. The continued lack of any kind of offender has now resulted in the decision to close the local prison altogether and to offer its entire stock of convicts' costumes—numbering three—for sale by auction.—London Times.

Here and There In Sport

By The Canadian Press

Sydney Dawes, president of the Canadian Olympic Association, said yesterday in a report on the winter Olympics at St. Moritz "that all our winter sports competitors were good ambassadors of Canada." And described Barbara Ann Scott as "the most popular individual at the winter Olympic games."

He stated that the Canadian hockey entry was "well-chosen," and won themselves friends and respect everywhere as well as winning the Olympic hockey championships "under trying circumstances."

"Ice hockey in Europe is a very clean game, and the least roughness calls for a penalty, which is immediately increased if the recipient talks back to the referee. This was the first lesson that our team had to learn on arriving in Europe," he said.

Lloyd Mangrum moved out in front among the winter circuit money players with his playoff victory over Jimmy Demaret yesterday in the $10,000 lower Rio Grande open at Harlingen, Texas. Mangrum fired a five-under-par 31-34 65 in the playoff to take the top prize of $2,000 and raise his earnings to $8,188.

Demaret won $1,400, bringing his winnings to $7,448, which is second only to Mangrum.

Makes Hole-In-One Crosby Buys Drinks

DEL MONTE, Cal., Feb. 17—(BUP)—Bing Crosby said today the sun was in his eyes when he made a hole-in-one yesterday on the 222-yard, three-par 16th hole at Cypress Point.

Crosby drove his ball 205 yards across an inlet of the Pacific Ocean and on to the green. He was the second man since the course was built to make a hole-in-one on the tough 16th.

"I was shooting into the sun, so I just stood up and smacked one blind", Crosby said. "The caddy said it looked pretty close, but I didn't think it was in the hole."

It was and Crosby had to buy a round of champagne at the clubhouse.

"It would happen on a Sunday when everybody in the world was there", he said.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Martin Mark 50th Anniversary

"Take lots of good exercise and don't worry". This is the advice of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Martin, 257 Dalhousie St., who marked their fiftieth wedding anniversary today, Feb. 16. Bob, as he is better known, retired two years ago on pension from the CGE Peterborough works after 46 years continuous service as a carpenter. But he only retired from a routine schedule. Every day he may be found taking an active part in curling, and in summer months, he follows lawn bowling with the enthusiasm of a man many years younger.

While Mrs. Martin does not take an active part in sports today, like her husband she did follow lawn bowling and carpet bowling. Her chief interests, apart from her home and grown family, are her connections with several women's organizations. In this connection, Mr. Martin stated he has been a member of one fraternal organization for 57 years, and another for 53 years.

A Cold Day

Recalling their wedding day, 50 years ago, Mr. and Mrs. Martin said that the thermometer hovered around 25 below zero and that a blizzard blew all day. Their attendants, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Borland, live about a block away from them today.

Mr. Martin was born in the house two doors east of their present address while Mrs. Martin was born in Port Hope but came to Peterborough as a child. She is the former Martha Raby.

Believing in the old saying that one is as old as he feels, Mr. and Mrs. Martin rise every days about 7:30 p.m. and the clock is approaching the turn of another day before they retire. They are both in excellent health and look forward to many more years of continued good health.

Women Don't Retire

Mrs. Martin, who has always taken her full share of responsibilities around the home, frequently makes joking reference to her husband's retirement which is all taken in good part. "They speak of men retiring from their work, but it isn't very often that women retire from their work in the home," she said. No, Mrs. Martin is not looking for help from anyone; she is quite capable of doing the work herself.

The Martins have three children. Eldest of the family is Hubert, who has been physical instructor at the University of Toronto for about 25 years; second is Mrs. Joseph Watson (Viola) of Peterborough; and the "baby" of the Martin family is Orville of the Production Department, CGE.

HELD AS HOSTAGE — The Chinese Communist radio broadcast a virtual ultimatum to the U.S. navy western Pacific headquarters demanding complete withdrawal of U.S. forces from China as the price of safety for five U.S. marines held prisoner by the Reds since last Christmas Day. Pfc. Thomas Kapodistria (above) 19, of Buffalo, N.Y., is one of the five marines being held. The radio report also added that the men would be given clemency if the demanded guarantees were forthcoming. The Reds say that the marines were captured when they were found fighting alongside Nationalists.

ALLOCATION OF HYDRO POWER

SOUTHERN ONTARIO SYSTEM

It has become necessary, due to a reduction in the amount of purchased power available, to issue the following notice to municipalities and direct customers of the Commission in the Southern Ontario System.

"Effective February 18, 1948, and continuing until further notice, the daily consumption of kilowatthours shall be restricted to a maximum of 90% of the average daily consumption of kilowatthours in the month of October, 1947. This reduction shall not apply to customers whose power supply was interrupted by the Commission in October, 1947 to the extent of 10% or more of normal delivery."

This is a temporary emergency arising from sub-normal rain fall last Autumn which has forced two of the Quebec power companies to drastically reduce their deliveries of power to The Commission.

This restriction will be lifted just as soon as circumstances permit and in the meantime, all consumers must play their full part by saving electricity at all times. If the specified reduction in consumption of electricity is not obtained, it will be necessary to cut off the supply of electricity entirely for definite intervals of time each day, wherever the specified consumption is being exceeded.

Stratford Hands Spitfires A 7-5 Defeat

By The Canadian Press.

It looks as though that fight for final first-place standing in the Ontario Hockey Association Junior A loop between the two top dogs—Windsor Spitfires and Oshawa Generals—won't be decided until the final whistle of the last game between the two teams.

Windsor could have clinched first place with a win over Stratford Kroehlers last night, but just to keep everybody guessing, Stratford handed the favorite Spitfires a 7-5 defeat. Oshawa Generals now can tie Windsor at 57 points if they defeat the Spitfires at Windsor in the last scheduled game there Wednesday. If that happens, goal average will have to settle the feud.

At that, Stratford had to come from behind to win as Windsor went into a 4-1 lead at the end of the first period. The Kroehlers came back in the second to narrow the gap with the period ending 5-4. Then Stratford scored three times in the third frame while Windsor was unable to get any.

Winning Goal.

Right-wing flash, George Armstrong, potted the winning third period goal and also added another just eight seconds later to put the game on ice. Scoring was well distributed with Dunc Daniels, Matt Mesich, and George Armstrong scoring twice each for Kroehlers while Malcho potted one.

Windsor marksmen were Jack Taylor, Johnny Wilson, Lorne Wilson, Bert Giesebrecht and George Ouellette.

No senior games were scheduled for last night, but to-night all eyes will turn to Toronto where Marlboros tangle with Owen Sound Mercurys in their final game of the schedule. The Marlies, safely entrenched in the second place, will be shooting for two individual honors—the scoring crown and the best goal average.

Rotarians Win

The local Rotarians beat Port Hope 7-2 on the latter's ice last night in the first game of their OMHA midget playdown series, the third round for Rotary. The return game, goals counting, will be played in Omemee tomorrow night at 8.30, following the bantam tussle.

Shearer, Douglas and Garvey scored in the first frame with the latter, Jenson and Shearer each having an assist. Jenson and Douglas counted in the second while Jones aided on both. Jones and Jenson each scored and each aided on one in the third. Freeman and Stark got the lone markers for the losers. The first line of Jones, Douglas and Jenson stood out for Rotary with Shearer good both ways, and Stark and Freeman the pick of the Port Hopers. It was a clean contest.

O'Connor Keeps 5-Point Scoring Margin

MONTREAL, Feb. 17 (CP). — Buddy O'Connor, New York Rangers' feather-footed playmaker, heads into the last five weeks of the National Hockey League schedule with a comfortable five-point lead at the top of the scoring list.

Official statistics released today show Buddy ruling the roost for the seventh straight week, with Toronto's Max Bentley, two-time winner of the scoring crown, in second spot five points behind.

O'Connor was an even 50 points on 21 goals and 29 assists, while Max Bentley boasts 25 goals and 20 assists for his 45-point total. Each collected three points during the last week.

Norman (Bud) Poile of Chicago Black Hawks edged into the third place with 43 points, one better than Montreal's Elmer Lach, who went pointless during the week.

Detroit's prize marksman, Ted Lindsay and rookie star Jim McFadden, failed to add a single point to their totals in the last week, and now find themselves in a fifth-place tie with Doug Bentley of the Hawks, each with 41 points.

Lindsay's 26 goals rate tops in that department, but Max Bentley is coming fast and now has 25 markers to his credit. O'Connor leads the assists column with 29 helpings.

Harry Lumley of Detroit, most improved netminder in the circuit, has the best goals-against average among the backstops. Harry has allowed 111 goals in 47 games for a 2.36 percentage. Toronto's Turk Broda comes next with a 2.45 goals-per-game average. Lumley also tops the shutout list with six.

Bill Barilko, the Leafs' rugged rearguard, still is off by himself in the penalty parade, with 123 minutes spent in the cooler.

Hastings Reaches The TVL Playoffs

NORWOOD, Feb. 17.—(ENS).—Hastings scored a goal in the last second of play here last night to edge out Warkworth, 3 to 2, and creep into the TVL playoffs. Paul Petticrew's counter at 19.59 put them into the charmed circle. Warkworth being out of the race.

It was a rugged, keen fight all the way on fair ice and before the best crowd these teams have yet drawn. C. Moore and West were gated in the third period for fighting. The teams:

Warkworth—Goal, O'Halloran; defence, E. Greenley and Tucker; centre, Edgar; wings, Edwards and Ball; alternates, Weatherson, Grills, Bowen, R. Greenley, H. Moore, C. Moore and Dudley.

Hastings — Goal, Nelson; defence, L. Petticrew and West; centre, P. Petticrew; wings, J Herrington and Crowley; alternates, V. Herrington, Brooks, Philips and Radford.

Referee—D. Edgar; linesman, R. Scriver.

Summary:

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Lacrossers are holding regular meetings now and making progress on plans for the season ahead. They're checking on several senior "A" and "B" stars in Orillia, Owen Sound and Fergus, as several replacements will be needed by the Petes this summer. Retirements and that sort of thing, and the club has every intention of retaining its provincial crown for another year. A club constitution has been drawn up and plans are also going ahead on a strong minor setup. The club will supply program cards for each senior "B" home game so fans can follow the players. And the best local player each home tilt will get a prize. Yeah, they're rapidly wishing winter away.

* * * * * *

Two of our PMHA teams, presently in provincial playdowns, are doing okay for themselves, seeing as they're arena orphans. The bantam Lions and the midget Rotarians have advanced to the third round of OMHA playdowns now, rubbing out Lindsay and Whitby opposition en route. Good stuff, and it speaks well for the local minors, their coaches and the organization. Lions play Bowmanville next at 7.30 tomorrow night in Omemee. Rotarians' next game is at 8.30 tomorrow in Omemee against Port Hope. In PMHA play tonight, Lions meet Morrow Park bantams at eight over east, while Trojans tackle Rotary midgets at nine. These are round-robin playoff tilts.

Speaking Of Taxes

Dan Odette writes in the Kitchener sheet: "Members of the Ontario Arenas Association are being urged to do something that every amateur sport body should do—ask the provincial government not to levy a 10 per cent tax on gate receipts of various amateur events. It has been intimated that the federal government might forego its 20 per cent amusement tax in favor of a 10 per cent provincial government tax. The catch is that the present federal tax is only applied to the gross gates of professional sports, but there is no stipulation that this tax will only apply to professional events if the province takes over this tax field."

That'll be a hot senior "B" semi-final series betwixt Kingston Saints and the Legionnaires. On account of big Bud Goodfellow has been suspended for the rest of the season by the OHA for clubbing Bill Crowley of Legion, Bud having been previously cut by another Legionnaire in Lindsay. They'll play for keeps, don't worry. It's a best-of-five serial, opening in Lindsay Wednesday, with the next number in the Limestone City on Saturday. Must finish it ere the end of next week, as the Petes are ready for the four-in-seven finals with the survivor. If there's ice around by then.

Senior "B" Series

Arrangements were completed this morn to have the senior "B" semi-finals start tomorrow (Wednesday) night in Lindsay, instead of Friday. So the Legionnaires won't be going to Belleville tonight. They clash with Kingston tomorrow on Scugog ice, and the second tilt will be Saturday eve in Kingston. Games next week are Monday, Wednesday and Friday, if necessary. It doesn't give too much time to advertise the Wednesday fray, but no doubt a huge crowd will be on hand for this opening of playoff hostilities. And mayhap quite a few will go from here to see the Saturday scrap.

* * * * * *

While the TVL-ers reached trail's end as far as the schedule goes last night, there are a couple of postponements to be worked in ere playoffs start. Hastings squeezed in last p.m. with a 3-2 nod o'er Warkworth, while Lakefield were beating Campbellford 9-3, and Norwood was winning 9-4 over the Combines in Stirling. And Marmora trounced Frankford 17-4 with Cousins and K. Trumble getting four goals each, and McInroy three. The Marmora men have won 16 and lost but two this cool semester, and scored 197 goals. Looks like they really have the punch and will be tough onions in the money series. More on the playoffs again if, as and when we get it.

Normals Take One

In colleens' cage competition yester gloaming at the YWCA, Normals pulled out a 26-20 victory. Louella Homan and Irene Stewart were the chief scorers on either side. Tomorrow at seven it's St. Paul's vs. Lock Works in a round-robin playoff. And Friday sees Nurses versus Neill's at 8.15 in a round-robin playoff, followed at 9.15 by an exhibition betwixt Belleville and Towne Togs, who are so far. But it'll be cleared up shortly.

awaiting LOBA playdowns. Haven't the dope on men's basketball here this week-end yet, nor are we sure of the COSSA group setup

Jack Britton, 37 years old and with 19 years' ring experience behind him earned a creditable draw with 19-year-old Dave Shade to hold his welterweight boxing title. The bout was staged at New York 26 years ago tonight. "Mickey" Walker outpointed Britton in a 15-round fight the same year to take the crown.

Ben Sharpe and McCready Tackle The Mask and Davis

THE MASKED MARVEL

Four big human powerhouses will be flying around the Brock Arena ring tomorrow night when the team bout gets underway in the feature spot. The team of Earl McCready and Ben Sharpe meets the team of the Masked Marvel and gigantic Wee Willie Davis. Approximately 1,000 pounds of bone and muscle will be involved besides the referee and the carnage can be expected to set a new high.

One of the conditions of the team bout is that even if the Masked Marvel himself does not lose a deciding fall but if his team loses he still must unmask. Two other bouts will have Dick Raines of Texas meeting Jack Moore and Al (Krusher) Korman testing popular Pat Flanagan.

Normals Take Cage Win Over Electrics

Normals defeated CGE 26-20 at the YWCA last night in their Girls' Basketball League playoff game. They built up a neat 12-4 margin at halftime but Electrics came back strongly in the second half to outscore them 16-14 and make it close enough. With three minutes to go CGE had whittled the lead to two points but they couldn't hold the strong Normals altogether in check.

Louella Homan led the way in scoring for the Normals with 12 points, eight of them in the second half. Peggy Brown had seven and June Ashley four. I. Stewart topped the Electrics in sniping with 11 points, as Marg Kennedy and Marg Perrin had three apiece. CGE missed Theresa Stewart, who is sick. Neither side could do much on foul shots. The teams:

Normals: P. Brown 7, J. Ashley 4, L. Homan 12, M. Curtis, R. Jordan 2, M. Jackson 1, M. Hickey.

CGE—B. Stewart 1, I. Stewart 11. H. Gardner, N. Shearer, M. Kennedy 3, J. Meadows, M. Perrin 3, Mary Perrin 2.

Winter Rules Banned In Professional Golf

NEW YORK, Feb. 17 — (AP) —Don't be surprised if there is a swelling in the size of scorers on the professional golf circuit. Ed. Dudley, president of the Professional Golfers' Association, has issued a directive that henceforth no PGA-sponsored tournament will be played under winter rules. Instead, the mercenary shotmakers must adhere to the standards laid down by the United States Golf Association, he said.

There is one exception. Players may carry 16 clubs instead of the 14 which they are limited to under the USGA. But no more teeing up in the fairway and other liberties which go with winter rules, declared Dudley. They are out.

Rickey Defied Opposition To Give Robinson Chance

WILBERFORCE, O., Feb. 17—(AP).—Branch Rickey, president of Brooklyn Dodgers, defied the formally expressed opposition of 15 major league clubs to give Jackie Robinson, first Negro star, his chance at organized baseball. Robinson broke in with Montreal Royals of the International League before coming to the Dodgers last year.

Using the annual football banquet of Wilberforce State University, a Negro school, as his sounding board, Rickey said last night:

"After I had signed Robinson, but before he had played a game, a joint major league meeting adopted unanimously a report prepared by a joint committee which stated that 'however well intentioned, the use of Negro players would hazard all the physical properties of baseball.'

"You can't find a copy of that report anywhere, but I was at the meeting where it was adopted.

"I've tried to get a copy of the report, but league officials tell me all were destroyed."

"But let them deny they adopted such a report, if they dare."

"I have had this Robinson story inside me for a couple of years, Rickey said, "and I've decided the time has come for me to tell just how I feel about the whole thing."

"I believe that racial extractions and color hues and forms of worship become secondary to what men can do. The denial of equality of opportunity to quality for work to anyone, anywhere, any time, is ununderstandable to me."

Actions Count

"The American public is not as concerned with a first baseman's pigmentation as it is with the power of his swing, the dexterity of his slide, the gracefulness of his fielding, or the speed of his legs."

Rickey said that he had spent $25,000 in 1945 scouting negro players, but that his scouts thought they were seeking talent for a negro league.

"In seeking my first negro player I needed a superlative man, a man who had to be an outstanding player on the field, and a thorough gentleman off it.

"When I called Robinson to my office he had no idea I wanted him for a white team. I dramatized six situations I knew he would come up against in baseball. I called him names. I all but hit him. And don't kid yourselves, this Robinson is no 'gentle breeze.' He's a competitor, a gentleman, and he has great personal respect."

Thompson Outpoints Majury Of Toronto

TORONTO, Feb. 17 — (CP).—Nearly 7,000 fans watched at the Maple Leaf Gardens last night as Johnny (Spider) Thompson of Buffalo, NY, outpointed Ernie Majury of Toronto in the main event of the Newsboys' Welfare Fund boxing show.

The crowd hooted the decision and marred later proceedings, including the presentation of the Willie Frankel Memorial Trophy to the gamest loser, Bernie Meinzinger of Kitchener and a special award to the best prospect on the card, Mike Garcia of Guelph.

Thompson, a Buffalo golden gloves champion who is regarded as a sure bet for the United States Olympic boxing team, outboxed Majury in a close scrap, but the best fight on the card was the bout between Garcia, a lightweight, in his five-round decision over Joe Garza of Detroit.

Garcia used a good left jab and telling blows to head and body all the way on his willing opponent. Results included:

Another Job Soon

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17 (CP).—Buck Newsom said to-day that he expects to announce pretty soon that he has another job in baseball. Asked by a reporter about the outlook, Newsom replied: "Just tell 'em I have narrowed my choice down to 15 clubs, all in the majors. It may be any team except the Yankees."

His release from the Yankees became official yesterday when all clubs waived on him.

Make-Up Magic Does Wonders In Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 17 (AP).—Make-up magic has turned the plight of the movie monster into a virtual cinch.

Actors who played Frankenstein's Monster, the Wolf Man, etc., used to submit to six or eight hours of applying painful make-up before each day's work. They need suffer no more. For "The Brain of Frankenstein," expert Buddy Westmore has devised skin-tight rubber masks to be worn by Lon Chaney (Wolf Man) and Glenn Strange (Monster). The new process takes a mere hour and a half to apply.

Westmore is the guy who dreamed up the mermaid costume for Ann Blyth. Nothing seems to faze him.

Around The Lots.

Mack Sennett told me Glenn Ford would be ideal to portray the famed Canadian-born comedy producer's life on the screen . . .

Vera-Ellen has joined Virginia Mayo in departing from the Goldwyn fold. Economy marches on! . . . Tyrone Power's next picture will be "The Dark Wood," with Jennifer Jones mentioned as his co-star . . .

Robert Walker says he won't do another film for M.G.M. until they find a script he likes . . .

John Payne is hoping for Ava Gardner for his leading lady in "Larceny." But how long will Metro keep farming her out? . . . Jimmy Durante is spending all his time at Palm Springs between air shows. He has a couple of months before starting "My Only Son," in which he'll play the father of four . . .

More Miscellany

Fredric March says he'll start the Columbus film a month after he finishes "The Judge's Wife." So hopeful producers can stop casting him in their pictures . . . Pat O'Brien has a daily finger wave for his "Boy With Green Hair" role. He objected to have a picture taken of the process, but acquiesced — after sticking a manly cigar in his mouth . . .

Xavier Cugat now is in the business of selling candy, drinking glasses caricatures, ties, chihuahuas and music boxes. Just in case the rhumba business blows over, as he thinks it might . . .

10-Second Review

"Sign of The Ram" (Col.) is an auspicious return of Susan Peters to the screen. She purposely chose an unsympathetic role and she shines in it. Portraying a crippled Englishwoman who uses deceit to dominate her family, she delivers a fine performance and it is hoped that more roles can be found for her.

STEAM-DRIVEN ICEBERG—A woman passenger waves from a window of the ice-coated Swedish American liner Drottningholm upon arrival in New York City, from Gothenburg, Sweden. The vessel, making her last westbound voyage under the Swedish flag, docked 48 hours late and Capt. John Norlander, her skipper, reported the crossing as the worst in his 28 years at sea. The ship will be operated by the Panamanian Navigation Company for service between Mediterranean ports and South America.

Legion Sponsors Lively Carnival

APSLEY, Feb. 17 (ENS). — The local branch of the Canadian Legion sponsored an ice carnival at the Apsley rink on Saturday. Two games of hockey were played:

Apsley Legionaires No. 1 vs. Apsley Lassies. Score, Apsley Lassies 3, Legionaires 2.

Apsley Legionaires No. 2 vs. Apsley Legion. Legionaires won 3 to 2.

Races for boys and girls ranging from 7 years and under 16 years and over were closely contested.

Many fine costumes appeared. Among those in costume were Arnold Brown, Ted Wilson, Joan McCauley, Mary Jean Wilson, Mary Ellen Caverly, Elaine Brown, David Nichols, Mrs. Stewart Brown, Mrs. R. Caverly, R. E. Watson and Chas. Smith.

An exciting events was a game of "Broom Ball" played with a rugby football between Apsley Aces and Apsley Legion. This game was closely contested all the way though and consisted of a great deal of close, hard checking. Goal tender Glen Nichols of the Legion played a good game, it being almost impossible to score on him. Dr. Fetterly also of the Legion played an outstanding game and R. E. Watson on defence broke up a lot of well planned plays. The Apsley Aces were all in good form, and played their usual hard, clean game.

Lunch was served by the Ladies Auxiliary and was followed by dancing to music of Sid McCauley and his band, in Legion Hall.

SAVES BUSINESS SECTION—Prompt action of a telephone operator, Mrs. Margaret Ford (left), was credited with keeping down Meaford business section's loss when a $15,000 fire (right) broke out in a cleaning plant early yesterday. Mrs. Ford summoned police to investigate when she got no phone response at the plant, which was afire. Last month Mrs. Ford, under similar circumstances, turned in the first alarm for a fire at the Gilchrist Manufacturing Co.

Youngest Skater — Harry Ross Reynolds.

Oldest Skater—A Bott.

Draws were also made on the blanket which was won by Jim Scott, and the beautifully decorated 3-storey cake donated by Mrs. B. Wagner to the Junior Hockey Team was won by Eugene Young.

Many attended from Young's Point, Coe Hill, Bancroft, Mount Julian and Peterborough. Among those from Peterborough were Ruby Reynolds, Oris Smith, Doreen Hales, Norma Hales, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Leard, Jean Caverly.

Miss Carol Thompson and Jack Thompson of Mount Julian attended.

Madrid's Suburbs Shelter Families of Cave-Dwellers

By STUART UNDERHILL
Canadian Press Staff Writer

MADRID, Feb. 17 — (CP). — Dinner at eight o'clock is an unheard of thing in Spain—no one would dream of dining that early.

Instead restaurants start filling about 9.30 p.m. and really hit their stride between 10 and 11. No one knows how the custom developed. Efforts have been made to reverse the trend but without success.

Even tiny villages keep late hours, but their similarity with the cities ends there. Madrid, for example, is a sleek, fast-moving European capital—though there are cave-dwellers on its outskirts. Most of the thousands of little villages dotted over Spain haven't changed in 300 years.

And don't feel too sorry for the cave-dwellers. I inspected the home of one family, and found a series of big, airy rooms dug out of dry soil. It even had a front door that closed.

"It's better than squeezing the family into one room in the city," said the housewife, whose husband had come from the Valencia area to seek work in Madrid when last year's orange crop failed. "Besides, there's no rent to pay."

Their quarters were better than many village homes I saw. In architectural line all of these possessed a graceful beauty, but the stonework of most was crumbling after 200 or 300 years of neglect. Big rooms let in the rain and draughts. Often the only cooking or heating facilities were a handful of twigs on the hearth, or a brazier of charcoal under the table to warm the feet of an honored guest.

Outside, heavily-laden mules plodded up rough, narrow streets, coming or going from fields where villagers were picking olives or pruning grapevines. Social facilities were as meagre as sanitation almost non-existent. But among the people was a general feeling of dignity, continuity and contentment.

About half of Spain's 28,000,000 population lives this way. The women find relaxation in exchanging gossip in the village streets; the men by dropping into the local cafe where, like their big-city cousins, they can while away the time until 2.30 or later.

Wherever they are, Spaniards gregariously like to get together. Madrid's broad boulevards and narrow winding side streets bear a careless flow of pedestrians, window-shopping or just parading, and cafes are packed with patrons who spend hours drinking "cafe con leche"—half milk, half coffee.

The crowds are liberally dotted with the khaki-clad army and grey-clad police. Soldiers slouch along in twos and threes, their forage caps over their eyes, the red tassels brushing their noses. Broad-shouldered officers march purposefully through the throngs.

Traffic cops are tyrants in Madrid. White-helmeted, wearing blue raincoats and leather leggings, they overwork their whistles, blast pedestrians who try to cross in the middle of the block and endlessly delay others at intersections, even though motor traffic has been cut to a trickle by gasoline restrictions.

But they pay no attention to the black market vendors who ply a busy trade, usually at the exits and entrances of subway stations. Women offer American and British cigarets, bread and candy, and small boys sidle up with fountain pens and costume jewelry. Vying with them in soliciting attention are raucous newspaper vendors and licensed beggars who peddle lottery tickets.

Except for the weight of numbers, there is little outward evidence of police control in Spain. People crack their little jokes about Gen. Francisco Franco—he was Francis the Eighth when he cut the olive oil ration to an eighth of a litre a month, and is frequently the butt of a riddle in which he is called "Fran."

Why Fran? Because the "cisco" comes afterwards—"cisco" meaning "disaster" in Spanish.

There is no sign of organized opposition, however, and those who are rash enough to foment it usually find themselves, after court-martial at some remote town, sufficiently far removed from any large city to prevent the chance of demonstration.

MILLBROOK, Feb. 17—(ENS) —Mrs. J. Ridge was appointed leader of Group A of the WMS of St. Andrew's United Church, held Wednesday with Mrs. Edmund Ball as hostess and president, Mrs. G. C. R. McQuade, in charge. Mrs. Ridge takes the place of Mrs. M. McDowell resigned owing to ill health. Assisting with the opening worship service were Mrs. Weston Fallis, who read the lessons, Miss Ethel Hatherly who gave the poem, Mrs. Jean Winslow who sang. The hostess gave the theme talk on "Faith—the Key." Mrs. John Rowland gave the report on clothing shipped for relief in Europe, three large carton having been sent; a special offering was received at the close to meet freight expenses.

Mrs. F. J. Smith gave the message on stewardship, and Mrs. D. L. Lunn that on temperance, and conducted the study period.

An invitation from the WMS of St. Andrew's Church, Peterborough, was received, inviting member to a public meeting to hear Dr. Cheung, China, on Feb.

Council Asks To See Lease Plant Building

Canadian Sealright Company's lease of part of the former Nashua Paper Company building at Ai- mer and Perry Streets, which is owned by the city, was approved by the council last night in the adoption of the industrial development committee's report read by Ald. P. J. Anglesey, chairman.

"What are the terms of this lease?" Ald. Adam Sands asked. "Can it be cancelled? It is the only space we have if a factory wanted to locate in Peterborough."

"The lease hasn't been before the committee yet," Ald. Anglesey said.

City Solicitor Huycke said it wasn't necessary to draw another lease. All that is needed to be done by the council was to give assent to the assignment of the existing lease to CGE Co., and that was done by Sealright Company who have succeeded Nashua Paper as lessor of the entire building. Sealright had previously been a tenant of Canadian Nashua Paper. Mr. Huycke said he would advise against preparing a new lease.

City Clerk Outram made the further explanation that Sealright Company was now the lessee of the entire building, and by terms of the lease the council must consent to the giving of a lease of any part of the building by Sealright Company. "The sublease is what the council is interested in," Mr. Outram remarked.

Ald. Grant Miller: "I think the council should get the lease so that the members may be familiar with the terms of it. We should know the details."

Ald. Miller immediately proposed a motion embodying his suggestion, but Mayor Ovens advised that it be deferred until the council was dealing with general business. At that stage Ald. Miller moved, seconded by Ald. Sands, that "Canadian Sealright Co. be informed that while the council is in favor of leasing part of the building to CGE Co., the council reserves the right to approve the terms of the lease before giving consent to it."

The clause in the industrial development committee report was: "That a letter having been received from the Timken Silent Automatic division of the Timken Detroit Axle Co., stating that due to unsettled conditions of the fuel oil supply the company has decided not to proceed at his time with plans to establish a Canadian manufacturing plant, and that the company will not be requiring the building at the Sealright Company's plant; therefore, the Canadian Sealright Co. be granted permission to lease this building to the CGE Co. for manufacturing purposes."

Council Ratifies Trust Appointment

The appointment of James Hamilton to the City Trust Commission for five years beginning Feb. 1, recommended by the finance committee of the council, was ratified in the committee's report last night. Its adoption was moved by Ald. Swanston, who read it, and was seconded by Ald. Armstrong. There was no comment.

The appointment was later authorized by bylaw which was given three reading and passed.

Council also endorsed the committee clause, "that a letter of appreciation be sent to Mr. George A. Gillespie for his valued services as a member of the City Trust."

City Will Pay $70,000 As Share of 200 New Houses

The 200 houses which the council is asking Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation to build this year represent an investment of approximately $1,300,000. On the same basis of rough estimate they would yield the city $15,000 a year in taxes, and might cost the municipality in value of land and providing of services an initial contribution of something like $70,000.

These figures took fairly clear outline in the conversation of W. W. Scott, head of the negotiations section of the Corporation, and the finance committee of the council last night.

The proposed agreement between the committee and the city for the construction of these 200 houses of permanent type primarily for ex-service men was discussed clause by clause. Some of them are to be changed immediately in a redraft, and several others are for later consideration.

Economic conditions in Peterborough have been thoroughly surveyed as a preliminary to this new work. Mr. Scott said Central Mortgage was chiefly concerned about the rent level, and wished to build a good type of house that would not exceed $37.50 a month, if that is possible.

Payments to the city instead of taxes, until these houses are sold, would be $70, $75 and $80 a year, according to the number of rooms. However, the estimated cost of a six room house, largest of the three, will probably take it out of further consideration.

Mayor Ovens remarked that the amount of $70 a year would not cover the cost of education of one child, and might therefore arouse objection in some places. An answer by Mr. Scott was generally that these 200 houses would probably be taken by people who are already residents of Peterborough, that their children are already attending Peterborough schools and that the people themselves are now receiving the benefit of fire and police protection and the various other community advantages shared by the people as a whole. It was altogether likely, Mr. Scott conceded, that some of the occupants would move in from elsewhere, but most of them would be families moving out of cramped and makeshift quarters. To that extent they would not entail an increased cost on the community, because they were living here now and the they would continue to receive as tenants of the 200 additional houses.

First in 1948

It is expected that the first 1948 Central Mortgage contract will be let for the Peterborough houses. A special housing committee headed by Ald. Gordon Armstrong has been working through the winter on lining up properties for the new group. One of the present uncertainties is whether these houses can be built at the figures estimated by Central Mortgage in its planning. Windsor is another of the municipalities taking a large block, but they are not so far advanced as Peterborough with the property to be occupied.

Mr. Scott is remaining in Peterborough several days to take up details of the agreement and any other present preliminaries. Mr. H. S. Longhurst accompanied Mr. Scott in his discussion with the finance committee.

TOWER GOING UP

Workmen began Monday morning the job of erecting the steelwork on the new Ontario Provincial Police transmitting tower on the Chemong road. The tower should be completed this week, it is stated.

Rambling Reporter

IT HAPPENED IN PETERBOROUGH

As everybody knows, Peterborough is a neighborly city: not at all like Toronto, for instance. One little incident that happened last week illustrates that point. A woman and a small child were carefully picking their way along a slippery north-end street last Friday night. Icing conditions were the worst of the winter. Although she was having difficulty keeping her own balance she was more concerned about the toddler, as all mothers are. Suddenly she lost her footing on the treacherous surface and fell heavily to the icy sidewalk fracturing a bone in her leg. A well-dressed woman approached the injured mother and the helpless child. "Please get some help," gasped the mother. Said the well-dressed woman: "Sorry, there's nothing I can do for you; I'm in a hurry." And she walked on.

5 King Scouts Given Awards At St. Andrew's

One of the features in the city for National Scout Week was a parents' night held by the 8th Peterborough (St. Andrew's) Boy Scout group at St. Andrew's parish hall Monday evening. About 80 parents watched a lively display put on by Rod McNab and his cubs and Stan McGann and his older scouts. The only five holders of King Scout badges to the city were presented with the tokens by Alderman R. Raine, in the absence of Mayor W. G Ovens. District Commissioner E. Wolff also presented the King Scouts with Bushmen thongs. The boys were Patrol Leaders David Fanning, Bill and John Frisken, Asst. Patrol Leader Bob Hutchinson and Troup Leader Doug. Fanning. Asst. District Commissioner A. Hope presented the boys with first class badges as well, and the Inter-Troup Patrol Shield was won by the Fox Patrol.

The Ladies' Auxiliary provided refreshments and the program drew to a close around 10 o'clock with the traditional camp fire conducted by Scoutmaster Stan McGann.

United Church Minister Is Good Neighbor Offers Hall To Priest So Mass Can Be Said

Rev. Dr. J. Semple has a special interest in the Trinity United Church at Smiths Falls. This church which is adjacent to the ill-fated St. Francis de Sales Church recently destroyed by fire, was his church for six years.

While Dr. Semple preached at Trinity United Church, he and the very Rev. J. T. Hanley, parish priest of St. Francis de Sales Church were joint chaplains of the Curling Club. This week Dr. Semple received from the present minister of Trinity United Church a newspaper cutting, relating that since St. Francis de Sales Church is now completely unuseable, he has offered his church hall to the priest in order that his (the priest's) congregation may still attend mass.

Dean Hanley, the cutting reads, said it had been decided to accept the general offer of officials of the United Church, and Rev. C. E. Armstrong, the minister, and as a result masses will be celebrated in the spacious United Church hall.

It was announced that masses would be held at eight o'clock and 9.15 on Sunday mornings, a change from the usual winter schedule which saw Sunday masses celebrated at 8.30 and 10.30 a.m.

Junior Chamber Votes $1000 to New Rink

Discuss Tourist Information Booth On Highway

Tentative choice of site for the prospective Tourist Bureau and endorsement of the secondary rink project with financial support "up to the best of its ability" were the two major items decided when the Junior Chamber of Commerce met Monday night at its monthly meeting in Knights of Columbus Hall.

Amid a clash of conflicting opinions it was finally moved by David House and Douglas Delaney that pending the approval of the Minister of Highways and Public Works, the No. 1 site for the Tourist Bureau should be at the junction of Highways 28 and 7A. The remainer of the details was left in the hands of the Tourism Committee.

Chairman of the Tourism Committee, Douglas Vaisey said that body had been set up to select a site or get a few facts on it. Considered were such matters as availability, cost, and accessibility. Apart from the highway location (junction of 28 and 7A), the George Street Wharf and a Charlotte street site had been examined but found less ideal.

A fourth possibility was mentioned by William Garner who said it was believed that the corner of the Market Square opposite the Empress Hotel might be available, and maintained the year round.

Earl Wellman said that if the organization failed to obtain the highway location he was willing to donate for one year a piece of land for the Tourist Bureau on the south side of Highway 28, some 500 yards east of the Kawartha Club.

Several methods of financing the Jaycee contribution to the secondary rink were discussed. After long debate, however, it was decided that the Junior Chamber of Commerce was in favor of a secondary rink and would support it, up to the best of its bailiy, to the sum of $1,000. The specific method of financing was not mentioned.

Due to the press of his aldermanic duties Patrick Anglessey handed in his resignation and his place as a Director and chairman of the Self-Development Committee were taken by William Swiss. An added Director was considered necessary by the executive, and the post went to Marlow Banks.

Secretary Douglas Vaisey reported that a four-man delegation from the Jaycees would meet with the Senior Chamber of Commerce some time in the near future to discuss in general the subject of "tourism."

It was announced that past-president Elwood Jones would attend the Region 6 conference to be held at Ottawa at the end of the month.

Stewart Loyst reported on the Jaycee contribution to the Nassau ski meet held recently when tents and food were provided.

President Kenneth Jones introduced new members, Kenneth Cox, Peter Carnegie, Reubin McDonald, Keith Pilkington, and Leonard Martin.

Included among the guests of the evening were Albert Bowen, Gerald Donaghue, Harold Louden, William Edworthy, and Douglas Darling.

Rae McWilliams outlined tentative plans for the Jaycee Jamboree expected to be held about May 24. Details will be worked out in committee and the findings reported back to the main body.

More than 40 members present heard Joseph Cook say that the organization should strive for more membership and greater attendance. He stressed the need for the Jaycees to play a more active part in local activities, and said this in itself would enliven interest.

A buffet supper was served at the conclusion of the meeting.

Plan To Improve Lacrosse Bowl Alderman Says

Postponement of the lease of the Townsend St. lacrosse bowl to the Lacrosse Club, pending decision on a new market building site, was held up by the objection of Ald. Douglas Miller, president of the club, at the council meeting Monday night.

The clause in the legal committee's report read by the chairman, Ald. Adam Sands, was: That decision regarding terms of the lease to the Peterborough Lacrosse Club, for the property on which the lacrosse bowl stands be postponed pending decision regarding the location of the new market building.

Ald. Miller said the committee's proposal would embarrass the club in its plans of improving the bowl. "We want to put new stands at the end, build a modern dressing room, and make other improvements for the coming season. At present we have no lease at all, but the Lacrosse Club has an investment of nearly $10,000."

Ald. Miller said that if the committee's recommendation was adopted by the council the Club would not be in a position to go ahead with its plans, and it was hoping that favorable action would be taken soon.

Mayor Ovens said he did not think the market question would "interfere with the lacrosse setup":

"The legal committee gave this matter serious consideration," His Worship said. "A new market site is something that has been pending, but it is not likely that there will be any development for ten or twelve months. The committee felt that in this position it could not grant a 10-year lease."

Told To Go There

"We were assured that the bowl site would be acceptable to the council," Ald. Miller said. "In fact we were told to go there. In 1937 the Lacrossse Club bought property from the McDonald estate. It became a war casualty. I needn't go into that. We turned it over to the city to avoid paying taxes at that time. All we got back was property to replace the property we had previously bought."

Ald. Gordon Armstrong seconded Ald. Miller's amendment that the clause be deleted from the report, and also that action be taken as soon as possible.

Ald. Sands said he would be happy to strike out the clause. He recalled that he had sat in with Aldreman Swanston and Ralph Standish, Mr. Miller and two other members of the lacrosse club last year. Apparently, he said the proposed lease had become mislaid.

City Solicitor Huycke said the terms stipulated that the bowl lease was "to be during the pleasure of the council." This amendment carried without opposition.

The only other clause in the legal committee report was approved: "That the letter from Jack Wineburg of Club-Aragon requesting the providing of bus transportation to the Club be considered with the management of the Peterborough Bus Lines when the terms of the new franchise with that company are being drafted."

Plan Dental Health Survey Across County

Peterborough and District Dental Public Health Committee, possibly the only type of such organization in the province, will attempt to have a complete survey of the dental health of the rural sections of Peterborough county made. This was decided at its annual meeting held Monday night, at which Dr. J. J. Craig was re-elected chairman.

Formed last year and composed of laymen and dentists interested in the subject, the Committee conducted the only Dental Health Week carried on in Ontario last year, and during that week and throughout the year, developing an educational campaign of films, speakers, posters, radio addresses and other means, to impress on the public the need for dental health.

The Committee will ask the Red Cross to assist in financing the proposed dental survey. On the basis of the finding of such a survey, the Committee will try to arouse sufficient interest to establish a Health Unit in the county, which will include a dental officer. The survey was described as "the important first step."

One of the tributes paid to the work of the Committee was that of Dr. S. L. Honey, director of the dental division, Welland and District Health Unit. His letter states: "yours was . . . the most outstanding Dental Health Week yet carried on in Canada . . ."

Mrs. Charles Ray, Red Cross representative, was elected vice-chairman. R. S. Hull is treasurer.

Other members of the executive committee elected were: Mrs. A. W. Nelson, Home and School; Mrs. F. E. Birdsall, Women's Institute; James Gifford, County Council; Mrs. William Nash, IODE; Miss M. Grady, Catholic Women's League; Mrs. Hubert Eastwood, Local Council of Women; Dr. Ralph Honey, Dental Association; Harold Pulley, industries. Representatives of the Health League and the Federation of Agriculture are to be appointed.

Plan New Equipment For PCVS Department

Remodelling of the Home Economics Department of the Collegiate and Vocational School is now under consideration by the Advisory Vocational Committee of the Board of Education. The Committee decided Monday night that it would investigate specific plans for such a move.

Rough estimate given for the cost is $10,000, but it pointed out that this would be dependent on many factors. New equipment would take up a large part of the expenditures, with an urgent need for additional stoves, laundry facilities and other branches of work so that the department could more effectively handled the increased number of students.

Estimates for the operation costs of the Vocational Department were passed at the meeting. The total is $18,623.52. This includes $10,600 in salaries to night school teachers.

Charge Howe Economic Dictator In Debate On Industrial Imports

By GEORGE KITCHEN

OTTAWA, Feb. 17—(CP).—Progressive Conservative members sniped at the Government's currency-conservation bill throughout yesterday's Commons proceedings and concentrated their attack on Trade Minister Howe, who will be granted wide powers over industries seeking to import capital equipment from the United States. Tempers were ruffled in a half-dozen minor clashes as Opposition speakers likened the brusque Trade Minister to an economic dictator and said any Minister granted such powers as he might be tempted to blend favouritism with his administration.

Bogging down on a preliminary clause dealing with the issuance of import permits, the chamber by a standing vote of 49 to 42, rejected a CCF amendment which would have focused the whole force of the import quotas and prohibitions against the United States. As the bill now stands, the restrictions apply equally to all countries.

Won't Publish Letters

External Affairs Minister St. Laurent said the government "is not disposed" to publish its confidential correspondence with the King in connection with new letters patent for the Governor-General.

Labor Minister Mitchell said indications are that the "rather unfavorable" employment situation in the Maritime Provinces is largely seasonal in character.

With Mr. Howe and Mr. Abbott piloting the legislation, the Commons currency debate prompted these ministerial statements:

From Mr. Howe:

1. Estimates are not yet available on the savings in U.S. dollars which will be made through restrictions on the import of capital goods. However, it is expected those applying to the automotive industry will save $70,000,000.

2. His depactment is preparing regulations as rapidly as possible so it can cover each industry separately.

3. As an example of the time limit set in which an industry granted a permit to import capital goods had to start earning U.S. dollars, a pecmit was issued to a pulp mill that would start bringing in American funds in about 18 months.

4. He would have no authority over industrial projects which did not require U.S. materials.

5. As for the duration of the restrictions, any domestic industry which expanded its operations on the assumption the controls might continue for a year or two would be adopting an "unwise" policy.

U.K. Imports

Mr. Abbott:

1. In December, the first full trading month following imposition of the restrictions Nov. 18, Canadian imports from the United Kingdom totalled $20,254,000 against $11,664,000 in December, 1946.

2. The quota system provided a strong incentive for trade with the U.K. and British exporters already were moving in to take take over Canadian markets formerly served by the U.S.

3. Permits soon will be issued for the importation of carrots to bolster faltering domestic supplies. However, permits for the entry of American vegetables will not be issued to the extent where there will b a "flooding" of the market just before domestic produce becomes available.

Howard Green (PC—Vancouver South) protested that Mr. Howe's powers were making a "farce" of parliament since they enabled the minister to do "just whatever he wishes without any curb on him by parliament or the government." Merely by letter, he could "arbitrarily" tell industry what it could do.

In a brief clash with John Diefenbaker (PC—Lake Centre), Mr. Howe told the western member he was taking statements "from the sewer of his own mind" but bowed to the ruling of committee chairman Ross Macdonald (L—Brantford) that he should withdraw.

Half-Brother Taking Roses To Barbara Ann

MONTREAL, Feb. 17—(CP)—William MacLaren, 32-year-old half-brother of Barbara Ann Scott, women's Olympic and world figure skating champion, took off from Montreal airport today with a bunch of red roses he hopes to deliver to the Ottawa skater in Switzerland Friday.

Mr. MacLaren, who lives with his wife and two children in Regina, is delivering an Anson aircraft to a Swiss air line.

The former RCAF flying officer is a son of Barbara Ann's mother by a former marriage.

GANDHI'S BODY BORNE TO SACRED RIVER—Gandhi's funeral procession as it proceeded along Kingsway, with the Secretariat buildings and Parliament House in the background, wound its way along a five-mile route from Birla House to the Jumna banks, lined on either side with people of every creed and every age. Gandhi lay exposed to view on an army trawler bedecked with flowers. The National Tricolor, to which his life of dedication had given a meaning and a reality, covered his body. Sardar Baldev Singh, Pandit Nehru, Sardar Patel and Mr. Devdas Gandhi were on the trawler beside him. The procession was headed by four armoured cars, followed by representatives of the Armed Forces and volunteers. Then came the Governor-General's Body Guards on horses, flying their red and white flags. Behind them were Gurkha troops, prominent Congress leaders and civil and military officials. The cortege which followed was drawn by men of the three Armed Services.

Mission Plans Brought Disease To Many Natives

"There are few people who have a greater admiration for the excellent work done by various medical missionaries, than I have, but in many respects it is my opinion that the benefits accorded many so-called heathens is indeed a mixed blessing."

This was the opinion of W. M. Clipstone, when addressing the Lions Club at their bi-monthly dinner meeting held at the Kawartha Club Monday night.

Mr. Clipstone spoke mainly of his experiences in New Guinea and on some of the South Sea islands where he lived for some years. "I do not for one single minute want any of you to go away with the impression that my remarks are anti-God or anti-Christ. I am a Christian and believe in the faith of my forebears, but in many respects, and from my personal observations, I feel that the practices of some mission stations leave much to be desired. Some years ago I happened to visit a small island in the south seas. The natives were sun worshippers and also worshipped certain animals that were regarded as being the reincarnated souls of other members of their tribe who had died. They respected these gods in as much that they could both see, hear and feel them. For countless generations these natives have worshipped this death cult, and from my own observations they are a happy carefree people, interfering with none and asking none to interfere with them."

"Some years later," continued the speaker, "I again visited this island, and during that time two mission stations were operating. The natives were told that they should worship the Great Master, and they were told in simple language, mostly spoken in the much-to-be-deplored plugin English that the Big-Feller-Belong-a-Cross-up - Topside (God, and topside being Heaven) would not wish them to continue to live their lives in the nude.

Never Wore Clothes

The pigment of the natives skin is entirely different from ours. They have never worn clothes, except in some cases where they might deign to wear a diminutive lava-lava, or small loin cloth, which is guaranteed to cover little more than an average sized mole. Never-the-less these female natives were persuaded to wear hideous neck to ankle Mother Hubbard dresses, and sun bonnets, while the men wore denim pants and singlets. In many cases too they were compelled to live in 'civilized' compounds and their homes were constructed in many cases of corrugated iron, this mind you in a tropical climate where the temperature rises into the 130 mark, and the climate is humid at that. It is no exaggeration to say that it was not long before many natives went down with T.B. I have seen many graves where natives had been laid low with consumption. Had he been allowed to follow his natural way of living, hunt for his own food in his own way, live in the native villages where the houses are made from bamboo poles and the walls and roof of banana and palm leaf thatch, I venture to say that for a much longer period of time they would have continued that happy habit of breathing and enjoying their unspoiled Eden-like existence."

"Many people", said the speaker, "will immediately run away with the idea that I am propagating an anti-Christian campaign. That is definitely wrong, but I do feel that we have no right at all to take the Bible and pump our particular pet ideologies into these simple and unspoiled natives of the South Seas. We consider ourselves the salt of the earth just because we are Christians (unfortunately in name only I fear in many cases). I have visited and lived on a score or more of these islands during my work on research and I have yet to find in single case of immorality. These natives have every respect for their women and when they marry they definitely stick to the women of their choice. The introduction of Christianity has all too often meant the introduction of vices for the natives hear of many of the practices of the white-boss and being told that the white man is a much more superior being, (otherwise why should we try to make them follow our way of living) they try to follow our practices. Excessive drinking has often resulted in their following in the white man's footsteps, and should anyone deny this, he has only to go to these places and prove it for himself."

"If the state of our present country and Europe is an outstanding example of the following of Christian principles, then it is better that the natives of these sunlit tropic isles be permitted to follow their own lives in their own native fashion, and the teachers of these principles endeavour to do a better job in their own country and take a firmer hand in a job of housecleaning.

W. M. Clipstone was introduced by Stan Darling and a vote of thanks was moved by John Duncan.

Canada Expands Plant Facilities

By The Canadian Press

A large part of the money spent in Canada and the United States in the last year and more has been on capital expansion—that is, on increasing the facilities with which to produce goods, rather than in actual production of the goods themselves.

This is sound so long as plans are made successfully to dispose of the goods which will be produced with the increased facilities.

To Canada it is a $64 question, or it is essential that she sell goods to other countries if her citizens are to keep jobs and themselves get the greater share of production which is desirable.

Many take the view that North America at least has moved onto a new social level which will be consolidated, and that peoples here, and later in the rest of the world, will in the future enjoy a higher scale of living—barring wars.

Apparently industrialists, judged by the extent of their expansion, believe in future activity.

Henry Ford II said the other day:

"We have come to realize that the old economic theory that world trade depressions were caused by over-production is now outmoded and we know that the root of the trouble was bad distribution." He called for a greater exchange of goods and ideas as the path to peace and prosperity.

6 Rooms Damaged In Blaze At School

TORONTO, Feb. 17 — (CP) — Six classrooms of Fern Avenue public school in west-end Toronto were damaged today by a two-alarm fire which broke out early this morning before classes had begun and swept from the basement to the third floor.

Deputy Fire Chief Albert Steen said damage was estimated at $27,000. Cause of the blaze has not been determined. Thirty teachers and more than 1,000 pupils will not be able to use the building for several days.

Junior Farmers Seek Warble Fly Control

KINGSTON, Feb. 17 —(CP)— Kingston and district junior farmers are circulating petitions for township legislation supporting warble fly control in Kingston and Pittsburg Townships. Main method of control is use of anti-warble fly powder issuer by authority of township councils which have adopted a bylaw making control compulsory. The flies attack milch cows and beef cattle particularly.

The cut breathing and escape holes through the skin of the animals in which they are living.

Dominion Agriculture Department officials estimate these flies cause losses of $14,000,000 in reduced milk supply among the cattle affected.

Asks Flexibility For Arrests

TORONTO, Feb. 17.—(CP).—Dr. Stuart Jaffary, who was picked by the Ontario government to investigate riots at Burwash Industrial Farm near Sudbury, thinks the policeman should have "a wider discretion" in arresting law breakers.

The associate professor at the School of Social Work, University of Toronto, told a panel discussion on prison reform last night that though the strict letter of the law binds a policeman to arrest every offender, there are many cases where the officer uses his own discretion.

He instanced lumberjacks at Burwash jailed for going on a spree, who if they had hit a lenient town would have sobered up and gone back to work. But other towns took a serious view of such offences and gave them six months in prison.

"Don't blame the courts but the law," he said. "The magistrate needs facilities to know the man before him as a person. We need greatly extended staff of probation officers and more psychiatric facilities."

Maj.-Gen. Ralph Gibson, commissioner of penitentiaries, said a psychiatric ward would be opened at Kingston penitentiary "and we hope to extend this to other penitentiaries."

Former Inspector Describes Work In North

Trials and tribulations of an inspector of Public Schools in Cochrane District, related with both interest and humor by Les Woodruff, Normal school teacher, was the highlight of the Rotary luncheon at the YMCA Monday, February 16.

Mr. Woodruff, (introduced by Harry Northrop) gave one of the most interesting talks Rotarians had listened to for a long time. Used as the members of Rotary are to tales of travel, Mr. Woodruff's talk was of travel, but in the confines of the province of Ontario.

The speaker related many humorous incidents during his stay in Cochrane district, pertaining chiefly to the almost primitive conditions prevailing in this northland. His tales of the conditions when travelling on the northland railway system from Cochrane to James Bay, where he inspected the public schools at Moose Factory and Moosonee, showed that in this northern portion of Ontario, where timber is king, the people may be rough in the extreme, but hospitality towards their neigbhor and to the stranger who came into their homes was their watchword.

Mr. Woodruff's area was as far north as Moose Factory, on James Bay, east to Hearst, and the western limits of his district were at Mace, near the Quebec border. Speaking of the friendliness of the northern Ontarians he mentioned that he and his wife had been in Cochrane but a couple of days when almost two-thirds of the population had visited him, and came to see what little office they might perform to make both he and his wife feel they were among friends. "Not one of them came empty handed," said the speaker. They brought a pie, or some meat, in fact anything that they thought I might be short of at that time."

"Some of the schools on the properties operated by the big lumber concerns are some of the best public schools I have seen. They are well built, and have every possible modern convenience, with electric light, heat and water services. On the other hand there are unfortunately too many schools in the country areas where the children lack many things to make them comfortable while at school. Poor lights, no proper heating, and badly built schools in sad need of repair.

Ted Outram moved a vote of thanks to the speaker, remarking that few addresses had been given to Rotary showing how very little is known of the conditions prevailing in the northland of Ontario.

THE MAN WHO PULLED THE SWITCH—With a flick of thumb and forefinger, Bill Love, operating engineer at the high level power station on MacPherson Ave., took Hydro service away from North Toronto, yesterday. The city's 50 stations and sub-stations hadn't the power to deliver. The Ontario HEPC had ordered a saving of 350,000 kilowatt hours a day.

Gas Shortage Has Faded; Workers Return

WINDSOR, Feb. 17.—(CP). — Southwestern Ontario today watched its month-old natural gas shortage fade away and prepared to face a new crisis—province-wide cut-backs of Hydro.

Meanwhile, about 22,000 workers idle during the shortage that drained more than $2,000,000 from pay envelopes, began to trek back to re-opened factories in London, Chatham, Sarnia and Windsor.

Arrival of mild weather after weeks of sub-zero temperatures, combined with rationing of gas to domestic consumers, is credited with breaking the back of the fuel problem.

Enough gas has been assured the district and unless a new cold spell strikes no recurrence of the industrial tieup is expected.

However, the shortage continued to be the butt of labor critics at London. Last night the Trades and Labor Council (AFL) presented council with a brief asking the city to form a committee "to prevent such a crisis ever occurring again.

The brief said that if the city gas company had not been permitted "to demolish the artificial gas plant the supply could have been kept up to full strength."

Farquhar Oliver, Ontario Liberal leader, said reducing of the Progressive Conservative majority by two-thirds was an achievement in itself.

"I consider the Liberal party made a great showing in view of the circumstancec," he added. Road conditions had made it "quite impossible to get out into the riding as one would wish to meet electors."

Britons Now Bewildered By Cripps' Tough Policy

The feeling of optimism which pervaded Britain before Christmas seems to have changed to one of bewilderment as Government spokesmen hammer at the same old theme of production needs and the dollar scarcity. The Government has tried to take the people into its confidence as much as possible on steps to meet economic difficulties but its subject is far beyond the grasp of the average worker—it even bewilders many experts.

What the average man knows is that he was heartened at the year-end by the rising figures of coal and steel production and other industrial output and by the fact that scarcities forecast in the early autumn hadn't materialized.

From the point of view of food, he had the best Christmas since the war and entered 1948 with the conviction that everything was going to be all right.

The first New Year shock was the sudden jump in prices. They've been mounting steadily since the war but the Government kept brakes on many commodities with subsidies. Removal or pegging of these subsidies meant prices increases passed on to the consumer.

Commodities which have gone up steadily in the last few weeks include eggs, chocolates, furniture, textiles, shoe repairs—and those are only a few.

Then Wage Freeze

While moans over the mounting cost of living were becoming louder, Prime Minister Attlee announced what amounts to a freeze of wages but Sir Stafford Cripps, Chancellor of the Exchequer, cushioned it by proclaiming that prices of most commodities would be pegged at New Year levels.

But at the same time, Sir Stafford has become more and more forthright in his demands for increased production to try to bridge the dollar gap. He doesn't hesitate to use phrases like "fighting for your life" when exhorting workers to additional efforts.

However, the average worker may take a more materialistic view than Sir Stafford, who tackles difficulties with the inspiration of his religious beliefs. The workman is more likely to agree with trade union leaders who contend that if you peg wages, you take away the incentive to work harder.

The Marshall plan is another confusing factor. Most Britons have only the haziest idea of what the plan involves. They see it as a vast fund for the relief of Europe that will be released after due palaver at Washington. They feel that it will buoy Britain through her present difficulties.

Sir Stafford, doubtless unintentionally, has fostered this feeling by his recent statements that Britain can't hope to close the dollar gap without some assistance.

Hemlines Lower 'New Look' to Stay

PARIS, Feb. 17.—(AP).—Paris dress designers have substantiated the "New Look" vogue in this season's showings to such an extent that it seems to be all set for a long stay.

Skirt lengths, which seemed to provoke the greatest controversy last summer, were dropped to seven inches from the ground by several fashion houses. The moderates have settled for around 12 or 13 inches. Skirts lengthen as the day shortens.

Artificial aid for the figure is widely condoned, but opinions vary on how tight the corset strings are pulled and how many layers of padding are used.

Buckram is used extensively for lining basques and top coats and for flared petticoats, to make skirts look twice as full as they really are.

Although no completely new silhouettes have emerged this season, variations on the original theme have been plentiful.

The strictly tailored suit has been replaced by dressier affairs with fancy fluted peplums of all depths.

Bustles and poufs seem to be bigger and make the wearer often look as though she's stepped out of a gay '90s musical comedy.

Pencil skirts, often slit to the knee, are prime favorites, particularly on suits and button-through dresses. Pierre Balmain has introduced an effective "half bias" cut which he uses for innumerable pencil-lined numbers in his collection.

Skirt fulness, via panels, gores and plaits, both pressed and unpressed, is either strung from a snug hip yoke or falls from a fitting waistline.

Sunray and accordion pleating has made a comeback. It was seen in every collection.

Junior Sorority Forms Committees

A meeting of Epsilon Chapter Nu Phi Mu was held Monday evening at the YWCA. Vice-President Miss Marcelle Crough was in the chair in the absence of Miss Irene Bernie.

Subject of discussion was the Valentine Tea held Saturday. Total receipts have not yet been received, but the tea was a social success. This was the first endeavor to raise funds for the newly formed junior sorority. A letter from the "Help the children Fund" asking for donations was read by Miss Doreen Gilders, and the matter left open for discussion.

A "contact committee" was formed with Misses Jean Johnson, Beverley Pringle and Barbara Cook in charge for one month's time. These girls will call each member before each meeting to remind her of the time and place. A committee to begin a scrap book of club activities was formed with Miss Donna White as chairman.

Miss Mildred McIntyre, registrar, gave a short talk on the sorority's ritual, explaining the foundation on which it is formed. Members were reminded of the invitation extended by Beta Sigma Phi, Alpha Theta Chapter, to attend a meeting on Monday, February 23, at eight o'clock in the YWCA.

Refreshments were served by Miss Anne McFadden and the social committee.

West Skeptical Of New Fashions

VANCOUVER, Feb. 17.—(CP).—There is a new trend in women's fashions here. No, it isn't the "New Look"; it might be called the "Montreal and Toronto Look."

Maybe the absence of Vancouver representation on a Canadian magazine's recent list of Canada's ten best-dressed women—it must have rankled a bit—had something to do with it. Or maybe it is just the restrictions on United States apparel.

At any rate, Montreal and Toronto dress designers appear to have lured milady here away from the "California" influence. At two spring fashion shows last week, the Canadian-made "new look"—with the required padded hips, lifted bust and tightened waist—was received with delight. There were evening gowns with no neckline and skirts slit to the knee on one side; suits, featuring the ballerina skirt, with two types of jackets—hip-bone length and the bolero, and taffeta petticoats.

But, will this awareness of style overcome handicaps of rainy winters — dictating tweeds, rubbers and California sport slothes —and place Vancouverites on the same level of fashion as Torontonians, Montreals and Ottawans?

One chic young wife wasn't hopeful: "Women here are not as fashion-conscious as in the east. They want to 'wait and see'."

Ex-Service Girls Arrange Enjoyable Supper

Members and guests of Elizabeth Smellie Branch 452 BESL held a "pot luck" supper at the Peterborough Armouries Monday evening when more than 30 attended. The supper was still another feature of the work of this branch which has, throughout, the winter been engaged in getting together former women of the military and air forces as a club.

Gunners' Mess of the Armoury was the scene of the supper, made available through Lt.-Col. V. M. Eastwood, MC, ED, local commanding office of the 50th HAA Regiment. Tastefully decorated tables greeted the guests, who spent the evening in entertaimnt and gams.

Convener of the supper was Mrs. Molly Curtis. Entertainment included solos by Miss Beatrice Curtis, accompanied by Mrs. R. King, and B. Morin, accompanied by L. Galley, and films, with Sgt. B. L. Smith officiating at the machine. A sing-song was one of the highlights of the evening.

The club is now "recruiting" for members to take part in their activities, which are held every second Monday, and any ex-members of the women's armed forces will be welcome to attend.

Among those atending this function were Mr. and Mrs. B. Morin, Mr. and Mrs. D. Vaisey, Mr. and Mrs. K. Humphries, Sgt. and Mrs. B. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. B. Campbell, Dr. and Mrs. H. Ball, Mr. and Mrs. B. Merritt, Mrs. R. King, Mrs. Molly Curtis, Misses Beatrice Curtis, F. Gynane, Irene Vivash, Norma Shearer, Pat Moyles, Helen McFarlane, Agnes Bowler, Eileen O'Connor, Grace Simpson, Vi Wilson, and Messrs Frank Heath, Lorne Galley, Reg. Harte-Maxwell.

British People Facing Need Speaker Says

Tables were lovely with red tulips and silver candles at the monthly dinner meeting of Peterborough Business and Professional Women in the YWCA Monday evening.

Mrs. R. Whalon, guest speaker, talked with authority on the tragic conditions of postwar Britain, having recently returned from a year's visit there. She touched on the point-rationing system of food and clothing and gave examples of the vital need for these necessities. She explained the pathetic situation of the flood victims who are also the people worst hit by the blitz, and had just managed to gather together small homes and bits of furniture when it was again destroyed. A particular point of interesting advice was that when preparing new articles of clothing for shipment to Britain, they should first be washed, but not ironed, and can then be accepted duty free. Mrs. Whalon also gave evidence to show that the "Marshall Plan" is not at all satisfactory in alleviating hunger, since highly expensive luxuries make up the bulk of shipments.

Miss Iris Whalon entertained with two lovely vocal numbers, and was accompanied by Mrs. Percy Hooper at the piano.

During a short business meeting, plans were discussed for the International Night which is celebrated by clubs throughout the world on February 28, and world broadcasts will be heard during the noon hour. The candlelight ceremonies in this connection will take place on the fireside night, Monday, March 1.

Two parcels of food are being prepared for immediate shipment to sister clubs at Peterborough and Truro, England, by Miss Helen Lytle.

ANOTHER NEW LOOK is launched by a Paris designer, who started the trend to long skirts last autumn. Skirts, as you see here, are shorter and somewhat peculiar. The gaiters may not catch on, but then again you can't tell with the fickle feminine public.

THE TWO-PIECE RESORT DRESS—The one-piece model with a two-piece look continues to draw attention. Designed for resort luncheon and dinner wear, the outfit shown here is a good example of this type of frock. The top is a blouse of sheer white crepe that fastens off-centre with pearl buttons, and is tucked on each side down the sleeves. The softly flared skirt is of green, blue and chartreuse ribbon print, and has a sash belt looped with long ends. It is typical of the lady-like, unobtrusively smart yet colorful clothes seen at warm weather winter resorts this year.

Women's Land Army Proves Asset to Britain's Farmers

BY JAMES McCOOK
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Feb. 17 — (CP)—Sturdy young women in green sweaters and cord breeches who left sheltered homes and warm offices to farm Britain's lands in wartime are being invited to stay on the job.

Agriculture Minister Williams announced in the Commons Britain must be ready to keep the Women's Land Army for a few years and aim at reaching the highest possible strength to maintain enlarged farm production.

He proposed to improve condition of service, including more attractive dress.

The W. L. A. reached a peak of 80,000 members during the war when young women over 18 volunteered for farm work. They received a minimum wage of 22s 6d ($4.50) weekly, plus overtime, with a guarantee of regular employment, a minimum of one week's holiday with pay, no deductions for sickness or wet weather and a stout uniform.

"This young sun-tanned, green-sweatered, cord-breeched army of one-time shop girls, typists, manequins, mill girls, hairdressers, parlor-maids, through the war was in the forefront of the battle," said an agriculture review.

"They figured in every ordeal and triumph farming has to offer. . . . They went through all the campaigns of winter and summer, struggling with storm and mud, sowing, harvesting, threshing, living in wild, unfamiliar parts of the country among strangers and strange ways, often completely cut off from the world in which they had been brought up."

After the war many girls went home and the total membership dropped to 17,000.

In the last two years the force was built up to 26,500 and recruits are coming in at the rate of 100 weekly.

Improvement of hostel facilities-- now provided at 450 centres--will be undertaken and recruits and experienced workers will be reminded that more home-grown food means a vital contribution to Britain's recovery.

Woman Gets High Diplomatic Post

WELLINGTON, N. Z., Feb. 17—(CP)—Miss Jean McKenzie, senior woman diplomatic officer in New Zealand's department of external affairs, is setting what is believed to be a precedent for the British Commonwealth. She is at present acting high commissioner for New Zealand in Australia and is thought to be the first woman in the Commonwealth to have achieved this status.

Miss McKenzie is normally the first secretary to High Commissioner J. G. Barclay, at present in Ceylon.

Educated at Invercargill in the south of New Zealand, Miss McKenzie joined the government service as a member of the public works department. In 1926 she was one of the staff selected to institute the prime minister's department, from which the department of external affairs later developed.

She was a member of the New Zealand delegation to the Ottawa Conference in 1932 and after serving in the New Zealand trade commissioner's office in Toronto, was transferred to the high commissioner's office in London.

In 1941, after acting as private secretary to the prime Minister during his visit to Britain, Miss McKenzie went to Washington as second secretary and helped to established the New Zealand legation there. From Washington she was tranferred to Australia as first secretary.

Many Doings At Grove School

The week ending February 14 was a busy one for members of North Monaghan Grove Social and Athletic Society.

Dave Brown was busy Wednesday night with senior badminton and table tennis players. There are 34 members of this Club.

Friday night Mr. and Mrs. Eric McKinstry had 20 youngsters, nine years and over from 6 to 8 p. m. teaching badminton, table tennis, and numerous other games

Following the children's recreational hour the weekly card party was held. This is the only means the society has for financing the operation of the large rink which was erected and supplied with lights this year. Despite the icy roads there were eight tables of euchre. First prize were chickens and the ladies prize went to Mrs. Eric McKinstry and the men's prize to Mr. Lorne Hartman. Ladies second was won by Mrs. E. Simmons and men's second by Mr. Archie Patterson. Consolation prizes were won by Mrs. A. Manley and Philip Giannini. Mr. A. Patterson also won the prize for the most lone hands, donated by Mrs. E. Houghton.

Sandwiches, cake and tea were served by social conveners Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sanders and their committee.

Saturday afternoon, children of the School were treated to a skating party by the ladies of the Home and School Association. Mr. Fred Sanders was in charge of the children at the rink and Mrs. W. W. Sheppard, Mrs. W. Wood and Mrs. Bowler were the conveners in charge of serving hot dogs, milk and cakes.

Saturday evening, members of the Senior Badminton Club and their friends numbering about thirty couples, enjoyed a sleigh riding party. Following the ride they returned to the school where dancing and games were enjoyed. Mr. and Mrs Earl Druery were in charge of this party and Messrs. Gordon Simmons, Philip Giannini and Miss Irene Davies were in charge of planning the program.

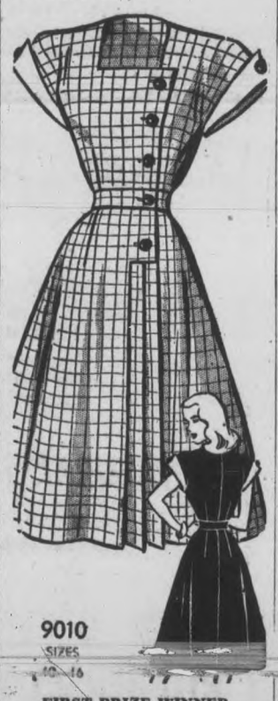
All these activities are held in the Grove School with the kind co-operation of the School Board and all the help is voluntary. Programs and future events are planned at the regular meetings held twice a month.

My! How she's picked up lately

IF a child's diet lacks certain food elements serious things can happen. Stunted growth, soft bones, poor teeth! Faulty nerves, loss of appetite, defective eyesight!

Ovaltine supplements the diet with food elements frequently deficient in ordinary foods. Three glasses of Ovaltine made with milk provide a child's daily requirement of Vitamins A, B1, C, D, Riboflavin (B2) and Niacin and Minerals Calcium, Phosphorus and Iron.

But Ovaltine is more than just a vitamin and mineral carrier. It also provides basic food substances — complete proteins to build muscle, nerve and body cells — high-energy foods for vitality and endurance. It thus acts as an insurance against food deficiencies that retard normal growth.



So if your child can't gain weight, is thin, and nervous, or eats poorly, why not turn to delicious Ovaltine?

OLD MAIDS
Supply of Unmarried Women Now At All-Time Low

ACCORDING to current statistics, the supply of old maids is at an all-time low. No longer can we speak of spinsters as unappropriated blessings, as we did of yore. They are in such demand as wives that they have been grabbed up at sight and there is not enough of them to go around, even if they were rationed out. Now, why this boom in the Girl Bachelor preferred stock is not immediately clear, as reporters say, but several factors have contributed to it.

One is that the unmarried woman has improved her technique and thereby increased her sales value. No longer is she the shabby down-at-the-heel, scared rabbit sort of creature that she used to be. What with good clothes and lipstick and eye shadow and rouge and whatnot, she is so changed in looks that her own mother wouldn't know her. Result: The men who used to run from her now run after her. Casualties: One more wife, one less old maid.

Also, the unmarried woman does not now sit on the side line and suck her thumb and pray for a husband, as our maiden aunts used to do. She knows that Heaven helps those who helps themselves to a husband. When she sees what looks like a good meal ticket she goes after it, and unless he possesses supernatural powers of cunning she gets him, and that removes one more old maid from the ranks.

Women Self-Supporting

Still another thing that explains the shortage in the supply of old maids is that practically all of them are not only self-supporting, but also able to maintain a husband in the style his mother has done. This makes an irresistible appeal to the Weary Willies who find it easier to marry for a living than to work for it, but it cuts down the number of single women with good jobs. However, the biggest inroad on the old maid crop occurred during the war when thousands of little bobby-soxers rushed into marriage and forever sacrificed their status as single women.

But whatever caused the slump in the number of old maids, it is a sad blow at domestic felicity. For no home is a real proper home that hasn't an old maid auntie in it to rock the baby to sleep, and hear the kids' prayers, and kiss a hurt and make it well, and do all the other chores that Mother is too busy to do.

When God especially blessed a family He put an old maid in it whose whole life is a sacrifice for others. It is the old maid daughter who nurses querulous old parents through years and years of invalidism. It is the old maid sister who gives up her own youth and love and chances of happiness to toil to educate her brothers and sisters and give them advantages she never had.

It is the old maid cousins, who never had a romance of their own, who listen with sympathy to the confidences of the little teenager about her Boy Friend and give the bewildered child the wise counsel that keeps her on the right road. What a sorry plight a family is in without an old maid!

And where would the world be if there never had been any old maids? Suppose there never had been a Florence Nightingale to pioneer modern nursing, or a Clara Barton never had founded the Red Cross, or a Jane Addams the Hull House, or a Frances Willard the Women's Christian Temperance Union, or a Susan B. Anthony to make the fight that gave women suffrage. Wouldn't it set civilization back to the Dark Ages?

No, we can't do without our old maids, either in the home or out of it. They are one of our greatest assets. Let's hope and pray that not all the girls will get married.

Directions

The egg and crumbs on the veal chop for the low-calorie dinner adds to the caloric value but can be reduced by making the beaten egg very thin by adding 3 tablespoons water to 1 beaten egg; this way such a thick coating of crumbs does not adhere to them.

Baked Cottage Roll, if sliced with very sharp knife, may be sliced thinly when hot; and when used cold can be extended for 2 more meals if carefully sliced

To make the dessert fruit salad without using lettuce which is so expensive this month, line a plate or dessert bowl with a border of grapefruit sections; inside this place a border of apple slices with red skins on, but dip apples in grapefruit juice to prevent browning; in centre place large pear half, rounded side down; fill centre with cheese ball rolled in nuts; garnish with stuffed dates. Pass mayonnaise or garnish with whipped cream.

SOME strange, unaccountable, even fantastic or unique visitation, in a critical situation of far-reaching consequence, might be responsible for such sudden lurch in the wheel of destiny as to bring about a complete reversal of the complicated and dubious state of affairs. While it is possible that this occurrence might prove disastrous and fatal, it could also beget a dramatic success and swerve the whole thing into high gear and breath-taking adventure and profit. Shrewd and practical grasp at the right moment would stabilize wobbling plans and programs. Exceptional factors challenge.

Those whose birthday it is stand at the eve of a dramatic or critical stage of affairs, the outcome of which depends on the degree of shrewdness and alertness to peculiar conditions which are exercised. There are subtle and unpredictable undercurrents challenging the wise use of unique faculties, urges, or ideals as well as the application of ingenuity, unusual skill and executive ability. Detective Plans To Make Home At Kingston

TORONTO, Feb. 17 — (CP).— Alex Deans, partner in a well-known detective team who resigned from the Toronto City Police yesterday, said he plans to move to Kingston at the end of the month to seek employment.

Deans, with Det.-Sgt. Arthur Keay, was responsible for recovery of $200,000 in bonds by us-The two were separated in a recent shake-up at detective headquarters which brought protests from Alderman Allan Lamport, who said the two officers did outstanding duty together.

After Deans and Keay were separated, they received permission to work together in the recovery of $200,00 in bonds by using a mine detector. A few days later they found another $81,000 and last Thursday recovered an additional $122,100, all of which was stolen in a bank robbery here last August. A few days ago Deans was promoted to the rank of detective-sergeant.

"I have been considering this move for some time, as I feit I could better my position in another city," said Deans. "Insofar as treatment by my superiors is concerned, I have nothing to complain about."

Before joining the police force, Deans was a third-year student at Queen's University, Kingston.

WRITER DIES—Kenneth C. Cragg, Ottawa correspondent of The Globe and Mail, who died suddenly, after a heart attack in the Parliamentary Press Gallery while at work yesterday afternoon.

Kenneth Cragg Dies Suddenly

OTTAWA, Feb. 17.—(CP). — Kenneth C. Cragg, 43, parliamentary correspondent for the Toronto Globe and Mail and author of "Father On the Farm," died yesterday a few hours after collapsing in the lounge of the parliamentary press gallery. He had been in ill health for some time.

It was while he was confined to his home here by illness last year that Mr. Cragg wrote his widely known book of humor, "Father On the Farm." The book was partly fictional, but its essence was soundly based on recollections of his own farm upbringing near Drayton in Wellington county. "Father" in the book was, in real life, his uncle, on whose farm the author had stayed as a boy.

In 1943, he became the resident correspondent of The Globe and Mail in Ottawa and had lived here ever since.

Among his big assignments were the arrival of R-100 at St. Hubert airport in 1930, the first and last dirigible to be moored there. In 1945 he covered the San Francisco Conference and thus was present at the gathering which wrote the charter of the United Nations. The story he liked most to talk about was the North Grey by-election of 1944 when Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton was defeated as Liberal candidate on the conscription issue. Mr. Cragg was in North Grey throughout the by-election and had half a dozen abusurd tales to tell of behind-the-scenes incidents he witnessed there.

Speed Action To Admit Chinese Families

OTTAWA, Feb. 17.—(CP). — Wives and children of Chinese who have become Canadian citizens will be admitted to Canada as soon as the Dominion's newly established immigration office in Hong Kong begins to function, it was announced today.

A. L. Jolliffe, director of immigration, said H. T. Peters, now with the resources department at Vancouver, has been appointed to the Hong Kong post and will go there within two months.

The announcement came shortly after a delegation from the Committee for the Repeal of the Chinese Immigration Act met with Resources Minister Glen to press for abolition of an order-in-council which the committee contends subjects Chinese in Canada to "the status of an inferior people."

The order-in-council prevents wives and children under 18 years from joining Chinese here who have not become Canadian citizens.

It was passed about a year ago —when the repeal of the Chinese Immigration Act of 1925 paved the way for admission of wives and children of Chinese who have taken out citizenship.

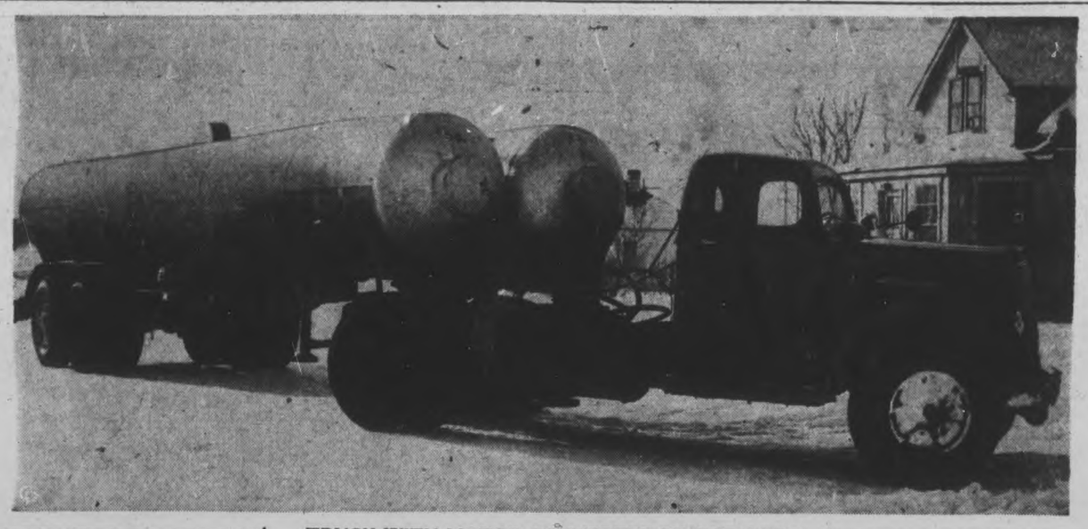
The delegation told Mr. Glen that, in spite of the appeal "not one single wife or child of a Chinese male who is entitled to bring them in under existing law, has been admitted.

No Action.

Spokesmen for the committee added they "understand" a number of applications have been on file in the Resources Department for six months and that no permits have been issued.

The delegation urged government review of its immigration regulations affecting the Chinese "with a view to bringing the Chinese under a general imimgration law that will have equal application to everyone living in Canada."

The "discrimination" in the Order-in-Council was contrary to Canada's obligations as a member of the United Nations. Any policy which separated husbands from their wives and children because of non-citizenship was "unnatural" and "contrary to all religion, humanity and social good."



It was "very unlikely" that repeal of the Order-in-Council would lead to any full-scale influx of Chinese immigrants. The delegation estimated removal of the citizenship requirement would mean a maximum of 4,000 Chinese immigrants within 10 years.

TRUCK WITH MOTOR CONVERTED TO BURN PROPANE GAS—This truck, which runs 7,000 miles on each change of crankcase oil, travelled 100,000 miles before having an overhaul and then only required a set of piston rings. Ham's Fire Distress Alarm Travels Around Continent

SHEDIAC, N.B., Feb. 17 — (CP). — A radioed distress call made a non-scheduled, three-stop circuit around North America in eight minutes flat today to bring firemen from Moncton, 25 miles away, bearing down on this seaside village as a $200,000 fire destroyed five buildings.

Telephone lines were knocked out soon after flames broke out in a five-family apartment building and spread in a high wind through sub-zero atmosphere. Eugene Fougere cranked up his home-made radio transmitter and sent out a call for the Moncton fire department.

Eight minutes later the department received the message, and two minutes after that Fougere was off the air because his power was disrupted.

The message went first to Florida, where a second ham operator picked it up and relayed it; from there the words "Shediac, New Brunswick is on fire, need help from Moncton," flashed to Alaska into the receiving set of yet another ham. He relayed it and it was heard by Station WINX in Boston.

The Boston station telephoned the Moncton department, and its sirens screamed a few seconds later.

Five families evacuated the apartment dwelling after cries of a baby, irritated by smoke, had awakened its parents about 5 a.m. They fled in nightclothes.

From there, flames spread to an adjoining tinsmith's shop and to a garage where two trucks were parked. Before volunteer firemen could bring it under control, the fire had swept over a vacant lot and ignited two other buildings.

No one was injured, but 29 person were forced out of their homes and lost most of their furniture and personal possessions.

Destroyed were the Mercantile Exchange building, the tinshop, garage, drugstore and a dwelling. Both the exchange building and the drugstore contained apartments.

It was the second threat to the existence of this settlement of 2,-200 in two years. During summer of 1946 a forest fire devastated a summer colony fringing Shediac and forced evacuation of the town by train.

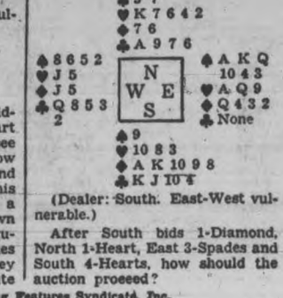
WHO GETS THE CREDIT?

THERE are players who learn from experience. But what is it they learn? In many cases, they learn the wrong lesson. With a leaning toward some particular kind of tactics, they keep their wishful eyes open for examples that prove the soundness of their ideas. And they seize upon the sorts of odd developments as such proof, whereas really it is no proof at all. The best thing to do if you have such a partner frequently is try to protect yourself against his or her peculiarities. You can never win an argument with such a player as to who gets the credit when a successful result is obtained despite cockeyed bidding or play on his or her part.

(Dealer: North. East-West vulnerable.)

North	East	South	West
4 ♥	Pass	4 NT	Pass
5 ♥	Pass	5 NT	Pass
6 ♣	Pass	6 NT



You might consider South's bidding cockeyed after the 4-Heart opening, if you did not see North's hand and did not know North. But South knew her, and his reason for not wanting his name used is because he is a lawyer who on advice of his own counsel seeks to avoid an argument with his wife. She takes credit for the slam score they made, and who is he to attribute it to his own fine bidding and play?

West led the singleton diamond J, whereupon he saw that if he could bring in all the diamonds and clubs for nine tricks, he still couldn't get game with the two major aces but would have to score one of the queens. And he [illegible] he finessed the club J and laid down the K, which dropped the Q. Now he could complete his plan to develop a gratuitous major suit finesse by aid of the defense. He led to the diamond 10, came back to the A, K and 7, then threw the defense in with the spade 10, hoping that both major kings were properly placed. East took it with the J and, not wanting to lead into the heart A-Q, could only return a spade. He used the 7, which the Q won, assuring the contract. The spade A, club 8 to the A, club 10 and heart A took the rest of the tricks.

His comment later, about her liking for "cockeyed pre-emptive bids" was: "Now she knows she's still right. Hi-ho!"

Cornered Wolf Battles Hound

LINDSAY, Feb. 17 — (ENS).—A trapped and crippled wolf gave two Fenelon Falls men some exciting moments and seriously mauled a fine huning dog on Saturday afternoon about three miles south of that village.

George Calder, Sr., and his son both of Fenelon Falls, were hunting when they spotted the wolf running before them. According to Mr. Calder, the chase had lasted about 40 minutes when the wolf decided to back into a fence corner and fight it out. The hunter said he was surprised at this aggressive move on the animal's part, but soon saw the reason. The wolf had been trapped and was still carrying the trap on its paw.

Although handicapped, he says it put up a stubborn fight, and only a well directed shot ended the battle, in which Mr. Calder's fine hound was badly injured.

Shot 35 Years Ago Bullet Near Heart

ELKHART, Ind., Feb. 17 (AP) —Police Commissioner Edward J. Cullen went to hospital for a routine physical checkup.

An X-ray technician looked at one of his plates yesterday and told him: "You're lucky to be alive." He found a bullet within half an inch of Cullen's heart.

Cullen decided that must have been the reason it hurt when he was shot in the back 35 years ago with a "blank" cartridge while on a boyhood camping trip. He said his family doctor at that time treated him for tetanus and released him.

Cullen says he hasn't decided what to do about the bullet.

Jewish sources said 57 Arabs were killed and scores injured in the engagement. They said one Jew lost his life and one was injured.

Youth Under 17 Playing Big Part In British Crime

LONDON, Feb. 17 (Reuters). — Britain's undermanned police forces, fighting an expected post-war crime wave, have found that youths under 17 are playing a big part in the increased housebreaking, theft and crimes of violence.

Government statisticians, in a report published today, disclose the exact extent of these developments.

The latest available annual total of juveniles found guilty in the English courts, that for 1945, was 73,620, compared with a pre-war average of about 55,000.

Three types of offence increased out of all proportion to this general rise. There were approximately twice as many convictions for breaking and entering and for violence as before the war. And the number of sexual offences jumped by one-quarter to one-third.

In 1939, about one in every 13 persons convicted was a juvenile. In 1945, youth rated almost one in every six.

The number of persons found guilty of indictable offences increased from 78,000 in 1939 to nearly 116,000 in 1945. Most alarming increases were of breaking and entering, which almost doubled; sexual offences, up by more than 50 per cent; and violence against the person, up by 40 per cent.

Notice Decline

The less serious, non-indictable offences, declined considerably, particularly illegal betting and drunkenness.

The drop in drunkenness has been helped, but not fully accounted for, by cuts in the supply of spirits now that Britain is expecting a substantial proportion of the output. Britons drank 9,000,000 proof gallons of spirits in 1946, compared with 10,000,000 annually before the war.

The police force dealing with the crime wave in England and Wales numbered 51,000 in 1946, more than 10,000 less than in 1939 and nearly 14,000 short of authorized establishment.

Average prison population increased from 10,328 in 1939 to 14,708 in 1945.

Not Satisfied With Vet Grant

TORONTO, Feb. 17.—(CP). — Rev. Sidney E. Lambert, president of the War Amputations of Canada, said today that the Association was "disturbed at the inadequacy" of government proposals for a 16-per-cent increase in the basic rate of pensions for disabled war veterans.

Protesting the announcement of Prime Minister Mackenzie King in the House of Commons in Ottawa yesterday, the Dominion Council of the Association met in emergency session last night and dispatched telegrams of protest to the Prime Minister, the Leader of the Opposition and leaders of other political parties. An opportunity to appear before the Parliamentary Committee on Veterans Affairs was requested.

"The various associations of war disabled throughout Canada are unanimous in asking for a 33 1-3 per cent increase in the basic rate of war disability compensation established over 25 years ago," said Mr. Lambert in a prepared statement.

Anything less, the Dominion Council felt "would fail to take into account the considerable rise in the Canadian standard of living during the past quarter century — it would condemn those who have suffered grievous permanent injury in fighting for their country to an inferior way of life."

More Atrocities Told At Trial

TOKYO, Feb. 17 — (AP) — A woman today was charged with serving American airmen's livers at a Japanese officers' mess.

She is Shigako Tsutsui, former army nurse and the first Japanese woman to face trial on war atrocity charges. She and 27 men co-defendants are accused of killing eight B-29 fliers in medical experiments.

Five of the men, who were alleged to have ate the livers with liquor, are charged with cannibalism.

United States military prosecutors said the woman defendant made all arrangements for experiments on the Americans. The charges include cutting open the heart of one—while he still lived—and attempting to stitch it up again. The fliers have not been named.

Allied headquarters said the experiments occured in Kyushu Imperial University's medical school at Fukuoka. The prosecution charged that livers of the fliers were served at a special lunch for army officers and hospital surgeons—and that the diners were fully aware of what they were eating.

The hospital's chief surgeon, Dr. Fukujiro Ishiyama, hanged himself shortly after he was arrested.

Peace Talk Charge Makes Aitken Laugh

LONDON, Feb. 17.—(Reuters). —Max Aitken, Conservative Member of Parliament and son of Lord Beaverbrook, Canadian-born British publisher, today denied and described as "laughable" a Russian charge that he had tried to start peace talks with the Germans at Lisbon in September, 1941.

Aitken said he was at a RAF night fighter station in Britain in September, 1941, and was not at Libson until 1943 when he was on his way back to the Middle East.

Aitken added that he had never heard of Gustav Von Koeber, mentioned in the Moscow statement as a Hungarian "acting with the authority of the German Ministry of Foreign Affairs" with [illegible] Hungarian [illegible]

Hope To Probe Mars' Secrets During Swing

FORT DAVIS, Tex., Feb. 17 — (AP—Astronomers at McDonald observatory here hope to settle within the next 24 hours two key questions about the possibility of life on Mars.

As the planet swings closer to earth tonight than it will be at any other time in two years, they may determine:

1. Whether or not water, in the form of ice or water vapor, is present.

2. Are the green areas obvious on Mars trees or grass or weeds, like our own, or are they some other vegetable form?

The astronomers not only hope to settle some of the intriguing questions about Mars, but they plan some close-ups of the moon through the observatory's 82-inch reflecting telescope.

Dr. Gerard P. Kuiper, observatory director, said it would "not be surprising" if the observations revealed the green areas of Mars to be a primitive, Lichen (moss-like) plant that can withstand "terrible cold and terrible periods of drouth." Such plants grow on rocks of the western deserts.

"Good telescope in a good climate shows some interesting things about Mars."

Thus observable are:

White clouds float occasionally in its atmosphere, storms of yellow dust blow over wide areas.

Mars has polar caps that grow during its very cold winter and areas show up on the surface of the planet. They grow in size and become greener after the polar cap melts.

There are no oceans or lakes.

Apsley Aces Defeat Coe Hill Boys 7-0

APSLEY, Feb. 17—Apsley Aces pushed Coe Hill out of third place in the Northern Hockey League Monday night in a 7-0 score. It was a fast, clean game with only one penalty.

In the first period Howden scored from Roger Tucker in a fast play from centre ice. Two minutes later Howden scored from Keith Watson. In spite of Coe Hill keeping a close watch on the Howden-Watson line, these boys came through again to push across another score for Apsley. With one minute left in the first period Howden and Jeff made a breakaway from centre making the score 4-0.

Coe Hill Boys put on the pressure in the second period but to no avail. After ten minutes' play Howden scored from Watson and Jeff, and scored again with an assist from Roger Tucker before the bell rang.

In the third period the play slackened down. The hockey fans saw a goalie get the first penalty of the season when Coe Hill goalie hooked Howden's stick and held it. This was served by one of their wing men. With the game almost over Howden scored on a beautiful play from Gerald and Keith Watson.

This game made Howden the leading scorer in the Northern Hockey League. The teams:

Apsley—Goal, Spencely; defence, Tucker, Jeff; centre, Watson; wings, Howden and Watson; alternates, Tucker, Lapham, Smith, Thompson, Tanner, Tucker, Caton.

Coe Hill—Goal, Peters; defense, Lehigh, Peters; centre, Giles; wings, McCoy, Whitely; alternates, McCaw, Turner, Peters, Giles, McCauley, Moore.

Referee—Dr. Fetterly.

Flood Danger Lessens In U.S.

CHICAGO, Feb. 17—(AP)—The crest of river floods, which took seven lives in three states last week, rumbled oceanward today, diminishing the menace upstream but intensifying it along downstream lowlands.

Hundreds of families who fled before high water, especially in Tennessee, began to return to their mud-encrusted homes and places of business. A much smaller number were evaculated as the crests swirled downstream.

Sunshine, which reappeared over the week-end after a long absence, began to slow process of drying out dirt roads, made impassable by nearly two weeks of soaking rainfall.

The turbulent Cumberland River was reported receding at Nashville, Tenn., after cresting. It still rose, however, at other points, sending muddy streams into low-lying streets.

Elsewhere in Tennessee the flood spectre waned.

The danger likewise diminished in Kentucky, West Virginia, Ohio and Indiana. Five persons had lost their lives from the floods in West Virginia and once each in Indiana and Mississippi.

Alert Operator Saves Stores

MEAFORD, Feb. 17—(CP)—Prompt action of an alert telphone operator, Mrs. Margaret Ford, early today was credited today with saving the business section of this Grey county town of some 2,600 people, when a $15,000 fire broke out in a cleaning plant.

Mrs. Ford summoned Constable William White to investigate when no response came to signals from the switchboard to the cleaning plant.

Andrew Gawley was awakened at the rear of the cleaning plant by crackling flames.

"I tried to get a light on but the power had burned the line," said Gawley. William Boswell, asleep in the same building, assisted Gawley to safety.

Exploding drums of cleaning fluid, blasted out windows and doors in the plant.

Fire threatened surrounding buildings for a time, but a volunteer brigade finally brought it under control.

Platypuses Happy Now Lots of Worms On Menu

By STEWART NEBBS.

NEW YORK, Feb. 17—(CP)—New York's three ornithorhynchus anatinus are happy about the whole thing because there is an abundance of oligochaets.

That simply means that the three duck-billed platypuses in New York's Bronx Zoo are assured of their daily quota of worms, their main dish.

Among the latest additions to the Zoo, the three imports from Australia presented somewhat of a problem as each eats 800 worms a day.

Zoo officials scratched their heads, took another look at the "strangest animals on earth" and finally decided that the only way to satisfy the appetites of the platypuses was to start a worm farm.

"We bought more than 3,500 fat and beautiful worms from California and Ohio," an official said. "Then we built two score little breeding boxes and a big, deep, earth-filled hatchery-nursery for the eggs and wormlets.

"Earthworms reproduce by casting off the egg capsules. Each capsule averages three worms. Counting pin heads in loose earth is quite a job, but we think we have 60,000 to 90,000 egg capsules—and they are hatching, that we know."

It's a good thing that the worms are turning because the amount of food that a platypus can consume is comparatively enormous, considering that a fat male weighs only about 4¼ pounds, and a female considerably less.

One female, who answered to the name of Jill and who weighed exactly two pounds, ate 1¾ pounds of food—400 large earthworms, 338 grubs, and 38 crayfish—in one night while she was nursing her baby, the Zoo informant recalled.

Chile Moves To Establish Antarctic Military Base

SANTIAGO, Feb. 18—(AP).—Chile's President moved to establish a military base in disputed Antarctic territory today after invoking the Western Hemisphere defence pact to bolster his country's claims. While Britain hinted an appeal to the United Nations and Australia weighed sending a warship to the Falklands, Chilean President Gabriel Gonzalez Videla pushed farther south on his spectacular expedition to set up the base on what Chile calls Bernardo's O'Higginsland.

The site is on part of the territory known as Grahamland, which is claimed by Britain. It lies astride the Antarctic Circle.

Dispatches to the Santiago newspaper Mercurio from the President's ship, the transport Presidente Pinto, quoted Gen. Ramon Canas Montalva, Chilean army chief-of-staff, as saying the President's action is a step toward "building up Chile as a South Pacific power."

A similar mission for Argentina was announced in a broadcast today from an Argentine task force en route to Antarctica. It said two Argentine cruisers and six destroyers "are going to show the flag in the icy waters of the Polar seas." The ships, it said, will visit points where the Argentines have set up weather stations, which "by their permanency confirm at all times Argentine sovereignty in the area."

"The bad habits of antiquated European imperialisms," the Chilean President asserted, "threaten with armed violence to

3 Bandits Seize $30,000 Loot

MONTREAL, Feb. 18 —(CP)— Detectives combed Montreal's underworld today for a tip that would lead to the arrest of three masked gunmen who netted nearly $30,000 yesterday in the largest and most daring holdup here in several years.

The bandits—with drawn guns—entered a jewelery manufacturing firm located in the second floor of the Southam building on downtown Bleury street, bound and gagged the owner and three employees and made off with cash, gold, rings and diamonds.

Safe Open

The safe was open at the time and the bandits took their time in selecting the valuables. They scooped up $1,500 in cash, $1,200 in powdered gold and about $27,000 worth of rings, cut and uncut diamonds.

After ransacking the premises, the gunmen locked the door leaving Lasker and the employees lying on the floor.

Lasker succeeded in freeing himself and called police.

He told detectives the bandits rummaged through the office for more than half an hour, carefully selecting the jewelery they wanted.

Wholesalers Blamed For Prices

Charge 37 Per Cent Profit Made On Orange Shipments

By ROSS MUNRO

OTTAWA, Feb. 18.—(CP). — The inquiry into high prices of fruits and vegetables was contined today in the Commons price committee with the prospect that wholesalers may be called soon to answer charges aimed by the Retail Merchants' Association of Canada.

Representatives of the fruit and vegetables wholesalers of Toronto sat throughout yesterday's session while an official of the retail organization charged that "excessive" margins of profit were being made by wholesalers in these commodities.

George Christensen, national director of the food division of the Retailers' Association, produced several retail invoices, indicating that wholesalers were making as high as 37 per cent profit on oranges.

The Prices Board only allowed a 15 per cent profit during the war, added the witness.

In addition to its present initiated inquiries, the 16-member committee, seeking the causes of the present increase in prices, may investigate increased commercial rentals being asked for the period after controls on this form of rent end next month.

Goes to Committee.

Donald Fleming (PC-Toronto Eglinton) asked if the scope of the committee's inquiries included commercial rentals. The matter has been referred to the Steering Committee.

He said he had many complaints from people in Toronto that an increase of 350 to 400 per cent was in prospect in that city in these cases.

Earlier, Mr. Christensen hesitated to make public the names of retailers, noted on the invoices which he used to back up his charges against the wholesalers.

He indicated that he felt the wholesalers might penalize the retailers.

However, the witness finally submitted the invoices to the committee, without the names of either retailer or wholesaler being made public.

Strike Closes 14 Collieries

SWANSEA, South Wales, Feb. 19 — (Reuters). — Fourteen collieries, employing 4,700 men in the Swansea and Amman valleys, were idle today as a result of stoppages in support of the "stay down" strike at Tareni Colliery, Godrergraig.

The men object to what they call interference in local arrangements by the National Coal Board which threatens to prosecute striking miners because official conciliation machinery is being "ignored and flouted."

Representatives of 17 collieries in the area will meet tonight to consider the whole question, and to discuss a resolution passed by the area council of the National Union of Mineworkers which condemns the use of stay-down and sectional strikes as "undermining the organization of the union."

Peterborough Girls Have Wild Ride In Hamilton

HAMILTON, Feb. 18 (CP). — A wild ride through the city early this morning in which a truck and a house were hit and the car almost demolished was related by witnesses in Magistrate's Court to-day during the trial of John eBaver, 24, of Hamilton. He was convicted of reckless driving and will be sentenced next Wednesday.

A passenger in the car, Violet Whatman, 19, of Peterborough, who said she met the accused last night, said the car was travelling between 45 and 50 miles an hour when it hit a truck on Main Street. Accused did not stop, she said, and after going on for two miles, he got out and another of the party took the wheel. After hitting the house the driver disappeared, she said.

Det.-Sgt. Ernest Barrett testified that the car was believed to be a stolen one and that the licence on it had been issued to a Windsor man for a 1937 model.

Three passengers in the car who have been located by the local police — Violet Whatman, Helen Thompson 18, also of Peterborough, and Fred Bauzide 18, of Windsor.—are being held here for Windsor authorities.

Increased Use of Hydro Disappointing

Greater Measure Of Co-operation In Peterborough Said Essential

Memo to the women of Peterborough (and also the merchants): "Do you wish to do your own electric power saving or do you prefer to have the Hydro-Electric Commission 'black-out' your homes and stores any time of the day?"

While Monday's reduction of 32,000 kilowatt hours was most encouraging to members of the Utilities Commission and the management, Tuesday showed that 32,000 had been cut to only 18,000, which was a movement in the wrong direction. Greater co-operation must come immediately especially from the householders and merchants if there is not going to be a pulling of switches, one official said. Industry so far has borne the brunt in the kilowatt hour saving made, he intimated, and now it is up to business and householders to show what they can do.

Ross L. Dobbin, Utilities monager, posed that question with the comment: "If we don't do something about this power question ourselves, promptly and generously, the Hydro will step in and do it."

The director of Utilities looked into a main street store this morning. It was ablaze with five rows of big ceiling lights, and bright sunshine outside. Mr. Dobbin suggested to the manager that he could cut out one row and not miss it.

"The switch was pulled on one row, and there was no noticeable difference in the store lighting. Those people can voluntarily cut their power consumption by one-third, and it won't interfere with their business.

Of course, if the people want all the power off as in Toronto they are likely to have it that way by simply doing nothing in the present emergency. The power shortage will continue for some months, but the days are lengthening, the sun is shining more brightly, and conditions are in favor off power economy.

Mr. Dobbin said he understood from J. A. Jebson that merchants were considering a meeting to discuss among themselves what they can do to co-operate with the two power commissions, Utilities and the Hydro.

Damage Heavy in Power Cut

TORONTO, Feb. 18—(CP).—Many Southern Ontario cities today faced another day of intermittent power blackouts and the probability that power commission men would continue to pull switches at intervals until the spring thaw restores shrunken water supplies in lakes and streams which feed the generating plants' big turbines.

From a dozen communities came reports of loss in industrial processes, of food destroyed, of inconenience in hospitals and of confusion on streets and highways when traffic lights blacked out and police radio systems went off the air.

Without warning, power cutoffs started in Toronto Monday and spread swiftly to other communities in central and western Ontario.

Officials of the Ontario Hydro-Electric Power Commission said that in Toronto the cutting off of power was to be "the last resort, not the first." They say Toronto Hydro heads could have banned use of electricity in heating equipment and could have appealed to industries to stagger hours or institute night shifts.

Premier Drew said that even after the switch-pulling started in Toronto—E. M. Ashworth, general manager of the Toronto system, assumed responsibility for the unannounced cutoffs—Ontario Commission officials suggested to Toronto Hydro men other ways in which power conservation could be effected.

No Alternative

"The answer was that there was no alternative, and the switches were pulled in rotation throughout the city during the day, apparently without any attempt to notify consumers in advance."

A statement issued after a conference between Toronto Hydro Commission, city council and Board of Trade representatives said that power use had to be cut, the problem was to choose the fairest method and "this necessarily involves interruptions to the supply of domestic consumers."

In Hamilton, where initial cutoffs yesterday caused an estimated $250,000 damage, Hydro officials said sections of the city would be blacked out for a half-hour period today.

A textile plant lost $25,000 in materials when a dye vat stopped agitating. A Steel Company of Canada official said that the firm's Canada works loss in ruined material would run into thousands of dollars — "and if this keeps up we'll have to shut down the plant as the risk of operation is too great." All lamps in production yesterday at Canadian Westinghouse Company were lost. Bakeries and canning plants reported food destroyed.

Truman Requests Congress For 570 Million For China

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18—(AP).—President Truman today asked Congress for $570,000,000 for aid to China. In a special message to the legislators, Truman said that the aid would be conditioned on China's taking adequate measures to achieve "economic stability and recovery." The help would begin when Congress voted it and would continue until June 30, 1949 — roughly a one-year program.

Truman said the economic situation in China now is getting worse in spite of the aid the United States has given the Chinese in the past.

Woman Recluse Dies In Debris

NEW YORK, Feb. 18. (AP)— Mary Warner Fowler, 52-year-old recluse and daughter of a wealthy patent attorney, was found dead last night in her debris-filled, rat-infested Manhattan apartment.

The body of Miss Fowler, who neighbors said rarely had left her quarters during the last 20 years, was lying on the bathroom floor. Police, summoned to investigate an odor in the building, said she had been dead at least a week.

The only space through which a person could walk in the $150-a-month apartment was a passageway leading to the woman's bedroom and another leading to the bathroom.

There were cartons of food, piles of tin cans which had contained food, great stacks of newspapers, old clothes, rags, magazines and every kind of household utensil. The stacks of newspapers reached nearly to the ceiling.

Elizabeth's Car Strikes Taxicab

LONDON, Feb. 18 (AP)—Princess Elizabeth and Prince Philip escaped unscratched today when their limousine and a taxi bumped near Buckingham Palace.

Court sources said the King and Queen were uneasy over the accident. They recalled the King's warning to Philip about his driving after his car crashed, without injury to himself, before the royal wedding last November.

Philip was driving today from Kensington Palace to the Admiralty, where he has a desk job. Elizabeth, the heiress-presumptive, was to be dropped off at the palace. Traffic was heavy.

Like a common motorist, Philip told a traffic policeman at a congested Hyde Park corner that his car and the taxicab "just bumped and I'm sorry it happened."

The cabbie apologized upon recognizing the royal couple. He said the few dents in his fenders were nothing. The officers waved everybody on, since there was no injury. All parties said there would be no complaint.

Philip's keenness for speed is well known among his navy friends and other associates. The King likes to drive fast, too, but he warned his son-in-law last fall he should take no undue risks.

Britain Outlines Nationality Bill

LONDON, Feb. 18 — (CP). — The British Government today published the text of a nationality bill bringing its policy into line with the Canadian citizenship passed at Ottawa in 1946.

Under the measure, the people of Great Britain and Northern Ireland and of the British colonies will for the first time be given a particular status as citizens of the United Kingdom, while retaining the common status as British subjects which applies to all the Commonwealth.

As in the Canadian measure, the United Kingdom gives married women their own citizenship, putting them for nationality purposes in the same position as a single woman.

Women who marry aliens will not lose their United Kingdom citizenship; and those who have already lost British nationality by marriage will automatically reacquire it. An alien woman who marries a citizen of the United Kingdom will not automatically acquire his citizenship.

King, Queen At Church On 25th Anniversary

LONDON, Feb. 18.—(Reuters). —The King and Queen will dirve to St. Paul's Cathedral April 26, for a service to commemorate their silver wedding anniversary, it was officially announced today.

As the Duke of York and Lady Elizabeth Bowes-Lyon, they were married at Westminster Abbey in 1923. In celebrating their 25th anniversary at St. Paul's they are following the precedent set by King George V and Queen Mother Mary in 1918.

John A. Costello Elected New Premier By Five-Vote Majority

Principal Opposition To Former Head Of State Blamed On 16-Year Term; Five Separate Parties Support New Man

DUBLIN, Eire, Feb. 18—(AP).—John A. Costello today was elected Prime Minister of Eire a few minutes after parliament defeated Eamon de Valera's bid for re-election. The 65-year-old De Valera had headed Eire's government since 1932. He mustered only four votes outside his own party, the Fianna Fail (Soldiers of Destiny), in his bid for return to power. He lost 70 to 75.

Costello, 56, a Dublin lawyer, was nominated for Prime Minister and was supported by five Opposition parties.

The vote for Costello was 75 to 68.

Cheers burst from De Valera's foes when the result was announced. Oliver Flanagan, an Independent, leaped from his seat, pointed a finger into De Valera's face and shouted:

"Thanks be to God I have lived to see this day!"

Flanagan was rebuked by Speaker Fahy, who told the members he "should not start off on the wrong foot so early in the new dail."

Fianna Fail is six votes short of the necessary 74-seat dail (parliament) majority, De Valera had expected to recoup by geting a half-dozen National Labor party and Independent votes. But the gaunt prime minister's hopes were dashed last night when five National Labor party deputies suddenly switched to the anti-De Valera coalition.

The principal opposition seemed to grow from resentment at De Valera's long term in office De Valera opposed a coalition government in his campaign speeches and said he would resign if his party did not get a majority.

Lined up in opposition to him were the Fine Gael (31 seats), headed by Gen. Richard Mulcahy; the Farmers (seven seats); Clan Na Poblachta (Republicans, 10 seats); National Labor (five seats) and Labor (14 seats).

Political obserers were dubious as to how long the Conservative Fine Gael party would work in harness with the Socialist-inclined Labor and Republican parties. Both of these favor drastic monetary reforms.

Composer Thanks Reds For Correcting Music

MOSCOW, Feb. 18.—(AP).—Serge Prokofieff thanked the Communist party today for helping him correct the mistakes he was making in his music, the trade union newspaper Trud reported.

The paper said the Russian composer, widely-known for his "Peter and the Wolf," commented in a letter to the Union of Soviet composers that the Communist party's resolution on Feb. 11 "separated the decayed tissues of musical art from the healthy tissues."

The party's resolution censured Prokofieff and six other Russian composers for writing music with a "vicious formalistic trend against the people."

Reporter Gets Grey Hairs Over Barbara Ann's Medals

By JACK SULLIVAN

ZURICH, Switzerland, Feb. 18. — (CP)—"The Box" and I were up early today, prepared for another nerve-wracking day. The first thing was a quick peak at the contents of the light brown box. Barbara Ann Scott's Olympic gold medal still was there with an Olympic torch surround by five Olympic rings on the front and inscribed: "Citius altius fortius." The reverse inscription was "Vmes jeux Olympiques d'hiver St. Moritz 1948."

Flanking it was the world championship medal. A little larger than a half dollar, it has the figure of a woman figure skater on the front and the words "Palmovi meruit ferat." On the back in inscribed: "Lady champion of the world Davos 1948".

Also safe was the Ottawa star's European medal. It is a little larger than the Davos award.

Attached to the latter is another medal in bronze. This one was given to all the Prague competitors. There also is a silver tray awarded the champion at Davos. Inscribed on it are the words: "World championship in figure skating Davos first prize."

Over breakfast I had a heart to heart talk with the contents of the box.

"Look," I said, fingering the Olympic medal Barbara Ann won so brilliantly. "You and your pals just take things easy from here in."

"I promised the champ I would get you to London and put you on a Canada-bound plane.

"When you get to London you will be insured to the hilt, done up in fancy paper, and forwarded to the champ's hometown. She will claim you from doting citizens on her return.

"So let us never lose sight of each other until you are put on the plane."

Lindsay Man Crushed By Box Cars

LINDSAY, Feb. 18 (ENS). — George Wilson, 64-year-old section foreman with the CNR, was instantly killed late on Tuesday afternoon in the freight yards here when he was crushed between a moving box car and a loading platform. Ed. Thibadeau, section man working with Wilson saw the approaching box car just in time to save his own life.

According to R. W. Groves, the chief dispatcher at the station, Wilson and Thibadeau were clearing out a drain to allow accumulated water out of the yards. They were working at the end of a high ramp at the Cambridge Street crossing close to a railway siding.

Groves said four box cars were standing on the siding, when apparently the yard engine, operated by Engineer G. Saunders of Lindsay, ran another car toward it. The car moved slowly down the track to connect with the four idle ones.

Wilson, working between the stationary cars and the moving one, apparently had no warning of the latter's approach, and did not hear the shunter. He was jammed between the car and the ramp.

Dr. F. M. White, railway physician, and Coroner Dr. W. R. Crowe were summoned. Crown Attorney L. W. Jordan said an inquest will be held March 1.

The victim was for some years a resident of Lindsay and is survived by his wife, two daughters and one son. He was a Past Master of the Masonic Lodge at Sunderland.

Price Controls On Citrus Fruits

OTTAWA, Feb. 18 — (CP). — The Prices Board today announced reimposition of markup control on oranges, grapefruit, limes, lemons and tangerines in a move to clip dealers who have been taking "unreasonably" high margins of profit on citrus fruit sales.

The controls become effective tomorrow.

Officials said the action was in line with the government's policy of imposing markup—margin of profit—control on those imported fruits and vegetables now under import restrictions.

1 Dies, 15 Overcome By Gas In Montreal

MONTREAL, Feb. 18. (CP) — At least one person was asphyxiated and more than 25 others were overcome today by escaping gas in a building on east end St. Hubert Street.

Inhalator squads of Quebec Hydro and doctors and ambulances from three hospitals were called to the scene to revive those overcome.

Police announced that the fatality was 40-year-old Mrs. E. Moreau. Nine other persons were taken to hospital, slightly overcome.

First to notice the escaping gas was Fred Clairmont, 47, who responded to the ringing of his alarm clock at 7 a.m., rose up in his bedroom and then collapsed. He had sufficient strength to crawl to a telephone and get the police who immediately sent emergency crews to the scene.

Serious Friction Developing In UN Group

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., Feb. 18 — (AP). — Serious friction was reported today to be developing in the United Nations Palestine Commission.

While U.N. officials stressed that the Commission's two reports to the security council were approved unanimously, private sources indicated a growing conflict in the secret meetings.

This was reflected yesterday in statements by Dr. Karel Lisicky of Czechoslovakia, commission chairman, and the Philippine representative, Senator Vicente J. Francisco.

Lisicky told a press conference that he did not feel the commission should express its views on the nature of the international military force needed to carry out the partitioning of the Holy Land.

Francisco did not attend the conference held by the other four members of the Commission. He issued a statement later, however, saying the force should be supplied by the five big powers. He also wanted further efforts made to settle the dispute, although the Commisston's report indicated this was hopeless.

Will Begin Debate

The security council decided to begin debate on the Commission's two reports next Tuesday.

The trusteeship council was called into session today to begin debate on a draft statute which will serve as a constitution for the international zone of Jerusalem. Under the partition plan, the trusteeship council has responsibility for administering Jerusalem.

The security council was scheduled this morning to resume debate on the Indonesian question. The council also called an afternoon meeting to take up the India-Pakistan dispute.

Will Never Wake

FRAMINGHAM, Mass., Feb. 18. —(AP).—The long-sleep that began for Ralph C. Abott, 32, a year ago yesterday, continued today and doctors said he never will waken again. On Feb. 17, 1947, his automobile struck a tree and he was hurled against a stone well. Surgeons reported that damage to his brain governing voluntary motion, consciousness and the emotions was past repair.

U.K. WAR-TIME MEASURES TO WIN PEACE — Just as in war-time, when every available piece of arable land was put to work to feed the nation, England now reverts to similar tactics in her effort to save herself economically. Using small tractors, men plough a section of a mile-long stretch of roadside near South Mimms. Ploughing the roadside is the first stage in an attempt to add to England's food supply by cultivating wide verges on many roads for corn, wheat and barley production.

CLSU Deadlocked On Wage Talks

MONTREAL, Feb. 18. (CP) — The Canadian Lake Seamen's Union, formed a little more than a year ago when its president, J. A. (Pat) Sullivan broke with the Canadian Seamen's Union (TLC), announced today that it had been negotiating for contracts with more than nine steamship companies involving 7,000 men but that the talks were at a standstill over the question of wages and overtime.

A CLSU statement, which charged that "the Communist-dominated Canadian Seamen's Union" was trying "to effect a backdoor agreement" with the companies, named four of the firms as Paterson Steamship Co. Ltd., of Fort William, Ont., Canada Steamship Lines Ltd., of Montreal and Sarnia Steamship Lines and Colonial Steamship Lines of Port Colborne, Ont.

It said that in negotiations starting last month "both parties agreed to the majority of the clauses in a collective agreement."

Aliens Use Detroit Tunnel To Sneak Into US—Charge

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18 (AP). —Aliens are using Detroit as their biggest gateway to sneak into the United States, Representative John McDowell (Rep.-Pa.) asserted today.

"The situation," McDowell told reporters, "has become a very, very bad one."

He said he has heard that "busloads" of Communists have slipped past immigration officials.

"Unquestionably something has to be done up there," McDowell said. As chairman of a House of Representatives un-American activities sub-committee, he called in immigration inspector Francis Langthorne for questioning behind closed doors.

Langthorne, on duty several years in the tunnel linking Detroit and Windsor, was described as a "friendly witness." He said he has reason to believe the inspector has information that "hardened Communists, criminals and Fascists have been coming through thick and fast."

McDowell said they apparently head for Detroit, after getting into Canada from overseas, because more people go in and out of the country there every day than at any other spot along the borders.

"Thousands of good, proper Canadians work in Detroit factories," he said. "And thousands of good, proper Americans go into Canada. Because there are so many thousands, the inspectors sometimes are careless and that gives these aliens a chance to sneak by."

Arab Leaders Assail UN Plan

NEW YORK, Feb. 18 (AP). — Arab leaders to-day assailed recommendations of the United Nations Palestine Commission that an international force be sent to police the Holy Land.

The New York deelgation of the Arab Higher Committee for Palestine said in a statement that the proposal served the Jewish cause, which they said was to exterminate Arabs in the Holy Land.

"After 30 years of experience in Palestine," the statement said, "Great Britain came to the conclusion that the mandate was unworkable because it could not be implemented except by brutal force and drastic measures against the Arabs.

"Britain....could not justify the use of force to exterminate the Arabs of Palestine. It is incomprehensible to us, therefore, how a United Nations Commission could recommend such a course."

The statement declared the Commission's advocacy of an international force was in reality a face-saving measure.

Trade Agreement Will Continue

OTTAWA, Feb. 18 — (CP). — Regardless of what happened in the current Havana trade conference, there is no reason to believe that tariff concessions granted and obtained by Canada under the Geneva agreements will not continue, the Senate Trade Committee was told yesterday.

Senator Charles Bishop (L-Ontario) got that answer from J. J. Deutsch, foreign trade official of the Finance Department, after quoting press reports that the Havana conference was hanging in the balance in its search for an international trade charter.

Mr. Deutsch said results of the previous conference at Geneva fell under two heads. First was the schedule of tariff concessions which Canada and seven other countries had ratified provisionally and which now were before Parliament. These signatory countries represented 60 per cent of world trade and could carry on with their pact regardless of what happened at Havana.

The second part consisted of general undertakings on trade rules and procedures. Some countries had observed approval of tariff cuts because, for one thing, they wanted to be sure their own development would not be curbed by concessions granted larger countries.

Doesn't Want Citizenship Student Lives In Ruins

KASSEL, Germany, Feb. 18.—(AP).—Because he doesn't believe in being a citizen of any country, Henry Martyn Noel, Jr., former Harvard student, is living in a candle-lit room over a pigsty in this bomb-ruined German city.

Noel, 27, renounced his American citizenship to live as a laborer in Germany's thin, post-war economy. Noel entered the American occupation zone of Germany last September after working in France with the United States Aid to France Commission.

He said today he renounced his American citizenship because of his "one world" ideals.

"National interests are incompatible with humanity," he says.

In explanation of his action, Noel said he was prepared for "any and all consequences."

Some of the "consequences":

He eats ordinary German rations of 1,550 calories daily — when they can be obtained. He works as a laborer at a salary that leaves him about 25 marks ($2.50) a week after deductions.

His room is part of a small hall, partitioned by a blanket. It contains scant furniture and no light bulb. From his bed the smell of the pigsty below is strong.

Noel says he chose Kassel because it was heavily bombed and thus will give him a taste of what the Germans are enduring.

He hopes to stay here a year or two. United States military government officials however, question the legality of his entrance into Germany. He may be returned to France.

Belleville Gets Cut

BELLEVILLE, Feb. 18 — (CP).—This eastern Ontario city joins the ranks of the power-less today. A meeting of local Hydro officials and citizens decided yesterday power would be cut off from 7.30 to 8.30 a.m. and 4.30 to 5.30 p.m. daily to meet the power conservation order of the Hydro-Electric Power Commission of Ontario.

Thousands Of Ducks On Ice Below Falls

NIAGARA FALLS, Feb. 18 — (CP). — A fifteen-mile stretch of the upper Niagara River between the Horseshoe Falls and Fort Erie today is dotted with thousands of ducks in what game overseers describe as the finest display of water fowl seen along the Niagara frontier in many years.

The presence of ducks at this time of winter is unusual. Officials fear that unless the birds move off before the big spring ice run commences hundreds may plunge to their deaths over the falls.

Block Appointment

OTTAWA, Feb. 18.—(CP). — The protested appointment of a cabinet minister's secretary to the job of executive assistant to the Indian affairs director has been blocked by the appeal promotion board of the Civil Service Commission, it was learned yesterday.

Short Circuit In Wiring Starts Horn Going Burning Car Provides Own Fire Alarm

MILLBROOK, Feb. 18 (ENS). —Damage of $200 to $300 was caused to the car of Harvey Sanderson, Tupper Street, when its interior was badly damaged. The lucky angle to the fire was that possible serious fire damage to nearby buildings was avoided because the car's horn started to blow, effected by the short circuit which is believed to have caused the fire.

About 11:30 Tuesday night, the Sanderson family, seated in their house, heard the car horn blowing from the garage. A call to the Fire Department was answered after a false start in which the engines raced to the other end of the village, believing the site to be at the home of another Sanderson family.

Car seats, upholstery, the floor boards and interior fixtures were destroyed by the blaze.

Gas, Oil Export Halted By U.S.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18 (AP)— The United States commerce department last night halted the issuance of all export licences for gasoline and fuel oil for 48 hours.

Before Friday a new cut in export quotas probably will be announced, a department spokesman said, to save oil for chilly United States homes. Canada's oil supplies are covered by a special agreement and it is not affected by yesterday's move.

The suspension of export licences was announced after two false starts. Shortly after 5 p.m. EST. the department told reporters of the temporary licence suspension.

Within half an hour an information official notified reporters that the suspension "has been called off." Instead an announcement of a cut in quotas was being prepared. Then—in another half-hour — the department officially announced that the suspension was in force.

The cut-off of licencing will permit officials to scan foreign oil needs.

Wallace Candidate Sweeps Election

NEW YORK, Feb. 18 — (AP). —The smashing, unexpected triumph of a Henry A. Wallace-backed American labor party candidate in a special Bronx congressional election handed Democratic party leaders a severe jolt today.

Leo Isacson, the ALP nominee, captured yesterday's 24th district contest easily by rolling up more votes than his three opponents combined.

The victory, and especially its size, was amazing to political observers. The Democratic candidate was expected to win handily, since the 24th district has sent members of that party to Congress for years.

Isacon, a 38-year-old lawyer who will become the second ALP member of Congress, won 22,697 votes. Karl Propper, Democrat, 12,578; Dean Alfange, Liberal party, 3,840, and Joseph de Nigris, Republican, 1,482.

British Doctors' Plebiscite Disapproves Health Service

LONDON, Feb. 18—(Reuters).—The British medical profession today voiced its disapproval of the Government's National Health Act and agreed to abide by the decision of the majority who voted against accepting service under the scheme. The results of a plebiscite conducted during the last two weeks among 58,000 doctors, climax to a battle of nearly two years between prominent medical men and the Ministry of Health, revealed that 89 per cent. of the 45,548 doctors who cast their ballots disapproved of the Act in its present form.

Since it was endorsed by parliament in 1946, the Health Act has brought protests from the medical profession on the grounds that it interferes with the professional freedom of the doctor, segregates the general practitioner from the specialist, provides for a basic state salary, and abolishes the old system of buying and selling practices.

The ministry of health, whose chief, Aneurin Bevan, made it clear recently that he disapproved of the methods of carrying out the plebiscite, has indicated that the results of the vote will not interfere with plans for putting the health service into effect on July 5.

May Register

One of the next steps towards carrying out the plan will be an invitation to doctors to register for voluntary service under the act, which is designed to give every Briton, regardless of income, medical aid, hospital service and medicines for a small weekly payment.

Rejection of the plan faces Bevan with the problem of manning the national health service when it comes into operation. But many observers believe that problem can be met. If people are paying for health care they'll expect to get it without additional charge, and will go to health service doctors, they argue.

Council Approves Sewers, Sewage Plant

COBOURG, Feb. 18.—(ENS).—Thirty-five clauses in the new taxi bylaw occupied bylaw committee chairman Harvey Brent for almost an hour in reading the long list of regulations at the meeting of town council. The bylaw passed. Designed to give some control over who shall drive a taxi, the bylaw stipulates that both owner and driver shall be licensed and that each license must first be approved by the chief of police. Taxis are to carry $20,000 insurance coverage for the protection of the taxi fares. Amount of the taxi license was set at $10 for the first car and $5 for each succeeding car.

Council passed a bylaw which would authorize the issuance of $152,000 to cover the cost of construction of trunk sewers and a sewage disposal plant. Also passed was a bylaw to authorize borrowing of up to $152,000 pending the issuance of debentures. The bonds will bear 3 p.c. and be for 20 years. Another bylaw covered a debenture issue of $16,000 for the water and sewer services extension to the wartime housing unit in the west end of the town at 3 p.c. for 10 years.

Councillor Roy Dodge expressed the opinion that the wording did not make it clear that the sewer bylaw was being passed because it had been a mandatory order from the provincial department of health. Councillor Brent explained that the legal phraseology indicated that it had been an order.

Parking on the west side of McGill St. throughout its length was banned in a bylaw, along with parking on the east side of Division St. from the northern limit to the parking meters to James St. The parking restriction on Division St. will not apply to cars parked during church services, funerals or weddings.

Another bylaw appointed William Skitch and Dr. W. Wade to the parks board and a further bylaw appointed J. J. Oulahen at the town's real estate agent.

STYLES GOING BACK

BORDERLINE ANEMIA*

can put ugly, tired lines on your face!

So many young girls watch the fresh color and beauty fade from their faces—wonder why tired, unflattering lines appear. They should know that such effects can come from a blood condition. If you have them, you may have a Borderline Anemia, a mild anemia due to a nutritional deficiency of iron. Your red blood cells may be shrunken and faded—too weak to transmit full energy to your body. Many people—women, men and children—go dragging through life with this tiring Borderline Anemia.

How Ironized Yeast Tablets Build Up Your Blood and Vigor

So, if your healthy good looks and "pep" are waning—and this common blood condition's to blame, take Ironized Yeast Tablets. They are formulated to help build up faded red blood cells to healthy color and size. Of course, continuing tiredness and pallor may be due to other conditions—so consult your doctor regularly. But in a Borderline Anemia, take Ironized Yeast Tablets to help build up your blood. Take them to start your energy shifting back into "high"—to help restore your color. Take them so you can enjoy life again!

Mattress Afire Guest Rescued

COBOURG, Feb. 18 — (ENS). — Discovery of smoke by a hotel employee brought help in the nick of time to S. S. Foy of Toronto, who was asleep on a smouldering mattress at the Baltimore Hotel. The fact that the hotel proprietor favours metal bedsteads as a fire precaution helped retard the progress of the fire.

Last night when he was finishing up for the night, beverage room manager Jim Tracey smelled smoke and notified the proprietor, Gordon Fielding. They traced it to a hotel room and opening the door with a pass key met a thick cloud of smoke when they entered. Mr. Foy was sound asleep with a lighted cigarette in his hand. Another ten minutes and it would have been too late, Mr. Fielding estimated.

Winnipeg Group Sets Sights For Festival

By JACK AVESON

WINNIPEG, Feb. 18 — (CP). — Le Cercle Moliere of St. Boniface set its sights today on the Dominion Drama Festival after scoring an outstanding triumph in the Manitoba region festival, gaining four of the six awards.

The long-established French-language group—back in active competition this year after wartime absence—took top honors last night for the best stage presentation among the five entries with its one-act comedy "La Donation," written by Gabriel D'Hervilliez.

Armand LaFleche was given the best actor award with Leo Remillard in the runner-up position. A third member of the "La Donation" cast, Pauline Simon, was runner-up for the best actress award, won by Florence Shaen of the University of Manitoba Dramatic Society.

The University players, whose entry was Bernard Dryer's "John Doe," were a close second in adjudication for the best play of the festival. Adjudicator Robert Stuart of London, England, did not announce the placing of the other three groups competing, the Brandon Little Theatre, Winnipeg Repertory Theatre and Winnipeg Theatre Worshop.

In a preface of his adjudicatory remarks, Mr. Stuart praised Manitoba for its awareness of the drama and said it was to be regretted the province was off the beaten track for touring companies.

Windsor Asks Law To License Machines

WINDSOR, Feb. 18 — (CP). — City Solicitor Lorne R. Cummings today is drawing up a petition to the provincial government asking for legislation to permit Ontario municipalities to licence all automatic coin vending machines.

Windsor city council has given support to the suggestion to tax such things as pay telephones, pay toilets, peanut machines and juke boxes.

However, most members seemed at the same time to be doubtful whether permission would be forthcoming.

Controller Gordon G. Ellis said "one thing wrong with the municipal setup is that all we can tax is property. Here is another source of great wealth and it ought to be taxed."

Lindsay Consumers Cut Power Quickly

LINDSAY, Feb. 18.—(ENS).—J. Lightbody, secretary-manager of the Lindsay Hydro Commission, said today there has already been a tremendous decrease in power consumption here following Tuesday night's emergency meeting of consumers. He said there was a drop of almost 30 per cent. in power used and that manufacturers, merchants and householders are showing excellent co-operation.

Whitby Council Ups Tax Rate Two Mills

WHITBY, Feb. 18 — Town council Tuesday night struck the 1948 tax rate at 38 mills, an increase of two mills over last year. The new figure was unanimously adopted after an amendment to fix it at 40 mills was rejected by a vote of six to two. It was pointed out that there would be increases in the future due to large capital expenditures for a proposed new school and sewage disposal plant.

TOOTHBRUSHES NEEDED?

CANBERRA — (CP). — Surgeon-Commander W. E. Roberts of the Royal Australia Navy said after examining 600 recruits: "I have been struck by the lack of care of the mouth." Teeth of Australians as a whole are "very bad" he said and "some mouths examined were "shockingly neglected."

Members Present Annual Concert To Association At Collegiate

The Peterborough Concert Association presented Tuesday night in the PCVS auditorium its annual members' concert. This concert which is a bonus one to the regular series is provided by the members of the association. The attendance this year was one of the largest in the history of these concerts and amply demonstrated the desire of the membership to continue them.

The program consisted of both vocal and instrumental numbers and these were programmed in such a way as to provide a delightful evening's entertainment. Some of the artists appearing have been heard before at the members' concerts but others were making their debut before the association.

The program opened with a group sung by a ladies' trio consisting of Mesdames H. A. Mitchell, E. J. Johnston and R. Williamson. Their numbers were "The Star" by J. H. Roger; "A Winter Lullaby" by De Koven; "The Bells of Aberdovey" a Welsh air arranged by Percy Fletcher and "Hey Derry, Down Derry" arranged by Diack and Baker and taken from Bach's "The Pleasant Cantata".

Norman Lowes was held in the piano numbers "Ballat des Ombres Heureuses" by Gluck-Friedman; "Capriccio—Op. 76, No. 2" of Brahms; "Etude—Op. 2, No. 1" by Scriabine and "Hornpipe" by Brahms-Grainger.

Mrs. W. K. McLaren, elocutionist, presented "The Cattle-Thief" by Pauline Johnson and "Mary-Anne's Mother Steps Out".

The Peterborough String Trio of Messrs. Cecil Searles, Tom Smith and Charles Allen were heard in three numbers "Bolero, Op. 1, No. 1" by E. Fernandez-Arbos; "Rondino" by Kreisler and "Waltz, Op. 66, No. 6" by Tschaikowsky and taken from the ballet "The Sleeping Beauty".

Kevin Leahy's two violin numbers were "Allegro Brilliante" by Ten Have and "Hejre Kati" by Hubay.

The three vocal soloists were Misses Alicia Langley, Hazel E. McLaren and Mr. Arthur Jones. Miss McLaren, a mezzo-soprano, sang "Thy Sweet Singing" by Alarence Olmstead; "Turn Ye To Me" an old Highland melody which is arranged by Lawson and "Mountains" by Oscar Rosbach. Miss Langley, a lyric soprano, was heard in "Les Filles de Cadix" by Leo Delibes; "The Joys of Love" by Martini and "A Little Folk-Song" by Schumann and Mr. Jones, a baritone, sang "The Worship of God in Nature" by Beethoven; "The Windmill" by Nelson and "Time, You Old Gipsy Man" by Besly.

Mary Baker's three piano numbers were "Ald-Wien" by Godowsky, "Caprice" by Saint-Saens and "Intermezzo in Octaves" by Leschetisky.

The concluding number was two euphonium solos "The Holy City" by Adams and "The Warrior" arranged by Captain Phil Caeelinat by Arthur Shadgett.

The accompanists for the artists were Olive M. Searles, Elsie Chambers Flett, Marion Best Aman, Charles Allen and Eric Hartshorn.

Planning For The Hydro Shortage

The city of Toronto has been aroused by an unannounced cut-off of electric power which took place on Monday; the lack of power caused great inconvenience, discomfort, and in some instances positive danger among the inhabitants of the provincial capital. No comparable cut-off was experienced anywhere else in Ontario, and some Peterborough people have been wondering if anything of the sort will happen here.

* * *

We can assure them that it will not. On Friday last six Ontario cities—Toronto, Hamilton, Windsor, London and Ottawa—were told that they would have to reduce their consumption of electric power by a fixed amount; all of them, except Toronto, made arrangements to do so, and began power conservation along the new lines on Monday. Only in Toronto was there no warning and no planning for the saving of power; the unannounced cut-off which threw Toronto into confusion was simply a piece of bad management and nothing like it need be expected elsewhere.

* * *

Peterborough has been told that it must reduce its use of power to the extent of 2,500 horse-power. The greater part of this saving has been effected through arrangements with local industries which are great users of power; the remainder of the saving must be made by voluntary saving on the part of retail stores and dwelling-houses. If we use as little power as we can we may be able to save what is needed without a cut-off of any kind. It should be remembered, by the way, that turning out electric lights saves some power, but not nearly as much as judicious use of heavy domestic installations such as electric stoves and heaters.

* * *

Toronto's controllers of hydro have no cause to be proud of Monday's fiasco. Toronto uses about half the power produced in Ontario, and has not been co-operative in conserving current. To begin a conservation program by throwing the city into confusion seems to be a drastic and rather foolish procedure.

Pipe Dreams About The Federal Surplus

The Canadian Treasury ended January with an accounting surplus of $741,313,889 for the fiscal year which began last April. This reputed surplus of revenue over expenditure of nearly three-quarters of a billion dollars is huge. It is very satisfactory. It should give us confidence in our financial stability. But it is not as rosy as it seems. People should not get the notion that the Government can afford to take a whopping big slice off our taxes—income tax, sales taxes, indirect taxes and the like. It cannot. It has not got the money.

More than half of the accounting surplus is [illegible] in the budget as expenditures, on the theory that they are loans, not gifts, and will be repaid some day. Nevertheless, the money has been spent—$384,450,030. The Treasury has not got that money. Britain, France, Holland and other countries have it. The loans were granted because they would help those countries, and assist them to buy our goods and thus support our export trade.

The fiscal year ends March 31st. During the last two months of that year revenues are likely to decrease from the rate of the first ten months because of tariff losses through the emergency import restrictions. Expenses will not decrease. Looked at properly, the surplus is not and will not be as great as it seems. It will nevertheless be good. It should make possible a sizeable reduction of the National Debt, if our parliamentarians are brave enough to resist absurd pleas for large tax reductions. It may be possible to lower the sales tax or abolish it altogether on certain items. But Canada will be no taxless paradise.

E.R.P. And The Slump In Grain And Livestock Prices

The tumble in grain and livestock prices in the U.S. is a good augury for the Marshall Plan, because it indicates that the domestic market is well supplied and that farmers and commodity groups will be dependent more than they expected on the export market. The export market depends on E.R.P. financing, and mid-western isolationists will view the Marshall Plan more favourably. The drop in prices is also an indication that the prospects for world recovery have improved, for nations buying grain under E.R.P. will be able to buy more for less.

The slump in the food markets is due to several factors. The U.S. Department of Agriculture has revealed that American wheat stocks are much larger than has been supposed—there will not therefore be frantic government buying for European relief, which has hitherto boosted the prices. The southern hemisphere, particularly Australia and Argentine, has had better crops than expected. Greater European agricultural productivity is anticipated this year. Speculative interest in the grain and livestock market is sharper than was realized. But the chief factor in the grain market is the amount of grain available for export next year, and that largely depends on next summer's crops. As the Financial Post remarks:

> It must be remembered that weather holds the ultimate key to prices for many commodities in months ahead. Round-the-world surveys of crop conditions at this time may tell a favourable and reassuring story. But forecasts and harvests can be very different things. Until Northern Hemisphere food crops are actually coming to market, the most important factor on the price outlook will be known only to heaven.

Notwithstanding market speculations and the unpredictability of the weather, the price declines are good news.

Fratricide In India

Since October troops of the Dominion of India and of the Kashmir State have been fighting Moslem tribesmen, for Kashmir's prince, a Hindu, asked that his state be incorporated into the new Dominion of India although the people are predominately Moslem and favour Pakistan. Last week in one Kashmir battle 1,900 Moslem raiders were killed and 2,000 were injured. The fighting continues while the Security Council of U.N. studies the situation. Though Hindus and Moslems differ in speech and religion, they are Indians and live in the sub-continent which Gandhi hoped would become a united country. It is civil war, as would be armed conflict between French-speaking Canadians and English-speaking Canadians. The slaughter is fratricidal.

Since the death of Gandhi there is danger of civil war even between Hindus and Hindus in the country already torn by communal feuds between Hindus and Moslems. In an effort to promote peace at least between Hindus, the All-India Hindu Mahasabha, the orthodox Hindu organization of which the alleged assassin of Gandhi is said to be have been a member, has decided to suspend political activities. It has outlawed terrorism as a means of achieving its aims (a politically united, Hindu-dominated India). The political and tribal unrest which caused the Mahasabha to suspend its political activities is more ominous of a dire future than the temporary renunciation of its tactics is an omen of a peaceful future.

NOTE AND COMMENT

"Shoddy Goods, Poor Service, False Labels Foisted on People of Moscow", says a heading. The commies are copying capitalism, obviously.

[illegible] of consequence are laying eggs with shells coloured a delicate cyclamen or mauve. Can they step up production for the Easter trade?

Conservation of electric power is the current slogan. The other evening at six o'clock we noticed in a local bank window a sign: "SAVE ELECTRICITY And Keep Your Pay Envelope Full". It seemed to be good advice. The bank was deserted and all the lights were on.

Prime Minister King has been elected to membership in the exclusive French Academy of Political and Moral Sciences. In a Parisian paper his admission to the Academy was welcomed in these words: "His perfect knowledge of our language, his familiarity with our authors of the 17th and 19th centuries, his taste for our music of the reigns of Louis XV and XVI give his conversation charm which, for a Frenchman received by him in Ottawa, has the savour of home". This would be headline news for Quebec papers.

WEEKLY BOOK REVIEW

Current And Choice

By SAMUEL MARCHBANKS

SCOTT-KING'S MODERN EUROPE by Evelyn Waugh (Chapman & Hall). This little book (88 pages) is in Evelyn Waugh's best vein; it tells, with great economy, of a journey undertaken by a dull English scholar to a Middle European country called Neutralia, there to take part in the tercentenary celebrations in honour of a dull poet called Bellorius; in the exposition of this plot the author tells us what life in Middle Europe today is really like. Sometimes I am compelled to think that humour is the best medium for conveying horror; without solemnity, portentousness or prodigality of adjectives Mr. Waugh gives us an excellent idea of the intellectual bankruptcy and moral squalor of those parts of Europe which have decided, belatedly, that totalitarianism is the only really workable system of government, and that revolution is the only effective means of registering dissent. This is a first-rate little book, very funny and very sad.

✧ ✧ ✧

THE DARK PHILOSOPHERS, by Gwyn Thomas (Little Brown). Gwyn Thomas is an expatriate Welshman, now in the U.S.A., who writes of the Rhondda Valley—the worst of the "depressed areas" before the war. His story, however, is not depressing, nor is it bitter. Very briefly, it is the story of a preacher who began his life as a speaker of truth and a leader of the people, later became the tame creature of the mine bosses, and at last recovered his courage, only to die when he began to speak truth again. The dark philosophers mentioned in the title are four unemployed coal miners who, having no work for their hands, begin to work with their brains. They evolve a considerable quantity of philosophy which makes up in poetic grandeur for what it lacks in tight reasoning, and their opinions are the best things in the book. For a century or more readers have been accustomed to the special humour of Scottish writers, and the rich poetry of the Irish; it is good to see that the eloquence and the satirical genius of the Welsh is now beginning to find an outlet in novels written in English, and that readers on this continent find such novels to their taste.

✧ ✧ ✧

SQUARE PEGS, by Constance Butler (Clarke Irwin). Since the appearance of this book, the author has died; it is a pity that we shall have no more of her special brand of wit. She tells in this story of the adventures of a number of British people who were caught in the South of France at the outbreak of war, and whose life thereafter was a series of inglorious escapes and humiliating rebuffs, as they tried to return to their homeland. It is not the war which the fighting forces knew which appears in this book, but the war of dreary "making-do" in Geneva, of attempting to find some sort of useful employment, and of enduring the snubs and slights of minor diplomats. In spite of its depressing material the novel never becomes dreary or shrill; nevertheless it is an admirable treatment of a theme which several novelists have attempted during the past three years, without success. I recommend it highly.

✧ ✧ ✧

THE STRANGE LIFE OF IVAN OSOKIN, by P. D. Ouspensky (Musson). Although I cannot say that I thought this a conventionally good novel, I enjoyed it more than many a gracefully written and well-plotted book. Its author, as many people will remember, was the originator of some unusual theories about the nature of the universe and the meaning of life. Briefly, this is the plot of his novel: a young man whose life has been compact of frustration and failure reaches a point where suicide seems the only solution for him; he wishes, however, that he might have another chance at his life, so that he might benefit from the knowledge which failure has given him. To his amazement, a magician grants his request, and Ivan Osokin sets out upon the second edition of his life. But alas, he learns that it is not to be a revised edition; the knowledge of his errors does not save him from committing them again. This does not sound like a particularly stimulating book, but I found it so. It has imaginative power and a quality of thought far beyond what is usual even in good novels, and I recommend it to readers who like by-paths of literature.

AGENTS AND WITNESSES, by P. H. Newby (Clarke Irwin). This is a story about a [illegible] French archivist [illegible] in Algeria. It is [illegible] study of personality, and as such it is interestingly complex; without the author's careful analysis of his characters it would be simply another dull tale of dirty politics.

THE Macmillan Company have reprinted two admirable books in attractive form. One is "Scenes of London Life" by Charles Dickens, with thirteen of the original illustrations by Cruikshank. We are accustomed to find these printed in the "Sketches by Boz" and it is pleasant to be able to get them by themselves. They were among Dickens' earliest published pieces, and his genius is clearly apparent even in these trifles. The other is "The Diary of A Nobody" by George and Weedon Grossmith, certainly one of the best bits of humorous writing produced during the nineteenth century. I am always surprised to find how few people know it. Here is your chance to get it in a very pleasant little edition.

FAIR ENOUGH

A genial-looking gentleman wanted a bottle and went to a chemist to buy one.

"How much?" he asked.

"If you want the empty bottle it will be a penny, but if you want anything in it you can have it for nothing."

"Well, that's fair enough; put a cork in it!"

The Finest Wine Of The 20th Century

(THE CALGARY HERALD)

THE finest wine of the Twentieth Century has been produced in the Anjou district of France. So say the experts who sampled it, and who are we to disagree with them?

It seems that last year's weather produced wonderful grapes in the Anjou vineyards, and the grapes produced wonderful wine, excelling even the famous vintage of 1893 and 1921. Furthermore, there's plenty of it: dispatches from Paris quote the price at 200 francs, or $2.00 Canadian.

Now if there's one thing France would particularly like to have, it's Canadian dollars: so we are on safe ground in suggesting that France should sell some of this marvellous Anjou wine to thirsty Canadians. There's no doubt in the world that France would be glad to do just that.

But here we run into snags. The moment the French wine arrives, the federal government slaps a stiff tax on it. It is true this tax has been reduced under the new trade agreements, but the reduction is very slight: in the case of champagne, for instance, the Canadian tariff has been cut from about $1.05 per quart to about 83 cents per quart.

Next, the French wine goes into the hands of the various provincial governments, whose policy is to charge all the traffic will bear, and then some. In Quebec and Ontario, where wine may be sold by the glass in restaurants and hotels, there is a third impost—the profit collected by the hotel-keeper or restaurateur. The end result is that a glass of French wine, served in a Toronto hotel, may cost four or five times as much as a glass of the same wine served in France.

All this is good news for Canadian vintners, of course: it is also good news for Canadian brewers and distillers, since any kind of liquor imported from abroad competes with the whole domestic industry. But it is bad news for France, because that country would like to buy a good many products from Canada.

At present, owing to her shortage of Canadian dollars, France is buying very little from us outside of bread grains, and we may wonder whether these purchases will long continue, since the French government is planning to return to its pre-war policy of self-sufficiency in wheat — even though it costs far more to grow wheat in France than in Canada.

IF Canada wishes to sell her products to France, she must obviously be prepared to let French products come into Canada and—what is equally important—to see that they reach the Canadian consumer at a price he is willing to pay. That is certainly not the case with French wines and brandies: by the time they get to the shelves of the provincial liquor stores, they are selling at a price which discourages all but the well-to-do. So the average Canadian has to do without French wine, and France has to do without Canadian dollars.

Some of the blame for this, no doubt, rests with the federal government, which could and should allow French wines in on easier terms. But the major part of it rests with the provincial liquor commissions, which may be described without hesitation as the greediest and most ruthless monopolies ever known in the chequered history of our nation.

Unconsidered Trifles

The employer remonstrated when one of his employes asked for an increase in salary on the ground that he worked too hard.

"Why," protested the employer "you have an easy time. Look! There are 365 days in a year. Eight hours each day you sleep. That makes 12 days, leaving 243 days. Eight hours of every day you have all for yourself. That leaves 121 days. I give you an hour for lunch every day and that amounts to 15 days more, leaving 106. You do not work on Sundays, 52 more days off, leaving 54. You get Saturday afternoon off—another 26 days, leaving 28 days. You have two weeks' holiday every summer and you take off about a week for sickness. Only seven days, Easter Monday and Christmas Day, Boxing Day, Good Friday are yours. Why should I give you a raise? You owe me money!"

"I suppose," said the recruit to his new chum, "you used to do big things in civil life?"

"I did that," was the answer. "I had a job washing elephants at the zoo."

A young soldier in hospital had received many kindnesses from a woman visitor, who asked him one day if there was anything she could send to him to while away the long hours of his convalescence. He replied that he would like to have a gramophone record of Beethoven's "Moonlight Sonata."

Some days later he was astonished to receive a letter which read: "I have got you a record of Frank Sinatra singing 'Moonlight,' but nobody seems to have heard of Bert Hoven's band!"

A Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

O ye Corinthians, our mouth is open unto you, our heart is enlarged . . .

Be ye not unequally yoked together with unbelievers: for what fellowship hath righteousness with unrighteousness? and what communion hath light with darkness? (II Cor. 6: 11, 14.)

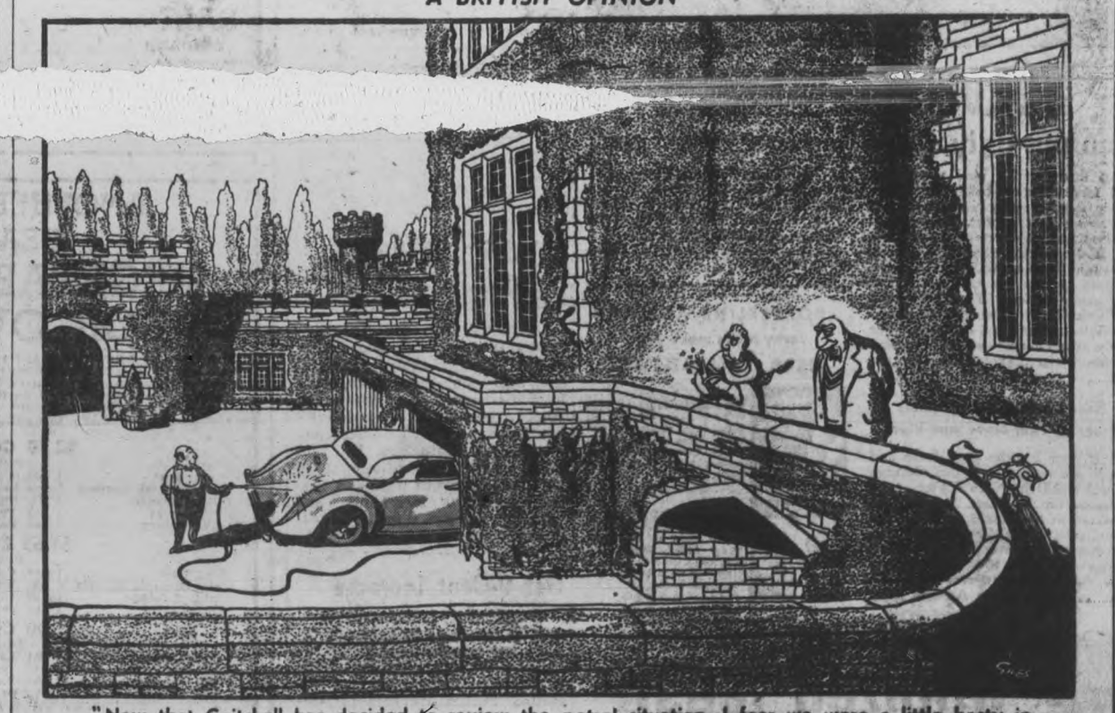
Lay not up for yourselves treasures upon earth, where moth and rust doth corrupt, and where thieves break through and steal: but lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven, where neither moth nor rust doth corrupt, and where thieves do not break through nor steal: for where your treasure is, there will your heart be also . . .



No man can serve two masters: for either he will hate the one, and love the other; or else he will hold to the one, and despise the other. Ye cannot serve God and mammon. (Matt. 6: 19-21, 24.)

Hear thou, my son, and be wise, and guide thine heart in the way . . .

Buy the truth, and sell it not; also wisdom, and instruction, and understanding. (Prov. 23: 19, 23.)

600 Ministers Get $100 Bonus

TORONTO, Feb. 18.—Over 600 United Church ministers will receive a cost-of-living bonus of $100 for 1947, it was announced yesterday by Dr. George Dorey, general secretary of the Church's Home Mission Board. The board will affect only those ministers who work under the Home Mission Board and are carried on an aid-receiving list because their respective fields are unable to handle the entire burden of paying them. The bonus will bring the annual amount such ministeers receive $1,900, plus a furnished house.

Rev. J. C. Torrance, secretary of the Toronto Centre Presbytery, said that only about a dozen ministers here would be affected by the bonus. He explained that the Toronto Centre Presbytery has no "aid-receiving charges," but makes grants to various institutions supported by the Presbytery. Ministers connected with such missions will receive the bonus as well as a $50 special grant voted by the Presbytery.

The cost-of-living bonus was granted as recognition of recent sharp rises in prices of various foods and goods. Dr. Doresy said the board hopes to put through a similar bonus for 1948 by April of this year, but explained that the $50 special grant, voted in Toronto, would not be added throughout Canada.

UPHOLSTERY: "Where can my husband and I be taught upholstery? Do the night schools teach it?"
No upholstery is taught in night school, I'm sorry to say. Education officials think you would need to be apprenticed in such a place as Thornton Smith's or Ridpath's.

DRESSMAKING: "Where in Toronto can I be taught dressmaking at a reasonable cost?"
The board of education teach dressmaking one night a week at Central Technical, Danforth Technical, Northern Vocational and Western Technical schools. Also there are several design schools such as Sinden's, 1139 Bay Street, where you can take an excellent course.

T.B. CHECK: "I have three children and live in the Lakeshore district. Where can I have them T.B. tested free of charge?"
Phone the Gage Institute, 223 College Street, MIdway 7394, for an appointment. Examination is free and best of all you are made welcome.

CARROT JUICE: "Which is better for the eyes, carrots or carrot juice? Do carrots lose their vitamin content when cooked? What would you do with a husband who won't eat carrots?"
Say the doctors, carrots are better than carrot juice. Raw or cooked doesn't matter much to the vitamin content; it stays high in both cases. Your husband won't eat carrots? Lady, I want to live! I'm not interfering in this one.

VETERAN VISITORS: "I have 30 lively Girl Guides who want to come from Elmira to Toronto. They plan to visit a hospital for veterans and bring gifts to them. We have saved $60 of it of which we must first pay transportation. What would you suggest we bring?"
Why not bring apples from your own part of the world. Your apples are so good and the veterans' appreciation of them is so heartfelt. It would be almost as good as home-made cookies. There's a thought. Why not bring some cookies?

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Minor hockey holds the spotlight at Omemee tonight with two OMHA playdown games listed. Local bantam Lions tackle Bowmanville at 7.30 in the first fray of their two-game provincial playdown series, it being the third round for Lions. And at 8.30 there, midget Rotarians take on Port Hope in the second game of their third-round series, Rotary being up five goals. These boys are playing fine hockey and making a good OMHA showing, so they deserve fan support. In PMHA play tomorrow eve at the Bowl rink, Northend bantams meet Lions at eight, while Rotary midgets mix with St. Peter's an hour later. Friday there it's Morrow Park bantams vs. Northend at seven, and Trojan juveniles vs. Kinsmen at eight. Round-robin playoffs.

Members of the Peterborough Arena Committee are meeting regularly and preparing for their financial campaign coming up shortly. Not much to disclose yet until all plans are completed, but we're told that nothing will be neglected once things start. They're out to raise the required amount before spring so that work can commence on the rink this summer and be completed by Nov. 1. Lots of work to be done but those on the committee are prepared to push it through to a successful conclusion and bring hockey back to Peterborough after its lengthy layoff.

Kingston And Legion

OHA senior "B" group playoffs start in Lindsay tonight at 8.30 when Kingston Saints tangle with Legionnaires. First game of their best-of-five semi-finals, winner to meet the Petes. No need to deal at length on the importance of this tilt to both clubs or to tell fans that it'll be a hot number. The rivalry between Kingston and Legion has reached a bitter stage—since Bud Goodfellow was suspended—and there'll be no quarter asked or given. Sure to be a sizzler before a big crowd. Next game is in Kingston on Saturday.

* * * * * *

This whole senior "B" setup has been screwy most of the season, though it has all added up to keen competition and a lot of interest. Even if bad weather often kept the crowds down. Petes would beat Legion, then Legion would take Kingston, and darned if Kingston wouldn't turn around and beat Petes. That sort of thing, and the Saints just made the group playoffs by one point over Belleville. In their four frays so far, Legion won three over Kingston and lost one, which might give 'em a little edge on paper for the big money series. But the game tonight won't be played on paper, mes hearties. Both clubs will be really shooting the works from here on in.

Petes Waiting Around

Coach Red Creighton will keep the Petes practicing while they await opposition in group finals a week or so hence. They had hoped to get in an exhibition game with Oshawa Generals in Omemee this week-end, but apparently the junior "A" playoffs won't permit the Generals time for any exhibitions. Petes were disappointed in not getting Don Crowe passed by the OHA, and it seems Art Heal has no intention of returning to the hockey wars this season. However, the club is pretty strong as it is, and hadn't too much trouble leading the pack during the schedule. The Petes will be tough enough in the final sawoffs.

* * * * * *

Word came through last p.m. that the Triple Link team begins OHA junior "B" group semi-finals in Whitby tonight, second of the two-in-three series being in Omemee on Friday evening. In the other bracket, Oshawa and Danforth Byers tangle, and the group finals will open next week. The IOOF-ers had a bye into group playoffs, having no home ice, but they've been practicing and getting in the odd exhibition game to keep in trim, and now is their chance to show their stuff. They'll leave the hall shortly after six in order to have time for a good workout on Whitby ice ere the big joust. Don't forget the return go (games to count) in Omemee this Friday night at 8.30 o'clock. Good luck, boys.

Here and There In Sport

By The Canadian Press

Mindful of the fuss created last year when she accepted an automobile from the city of Ottawa, Barbara Ann Scott yesterday said she would be "glad" to auction off a pair of skates in Canada for charity if it did not interfere with her amateur status and providing she received permission from all the figure skating associations and the International Skating Union.

Miss Scott gave up the automobile after Avery Brundage, chairman of the United States Olympic committee, had suggested that its acceptance might raise doubts as to her amateur status.

RCAF Flyers, world champion Canadian hockey team, last night defeated the Czechoslovak Olympic team 5-2 in Prague's winter stadium. The Canadians led 3-0 at the end of the first period. Both squads failed to score in the second frame and each scored twice in the finale. It was the first of six games scheduled for the Flyers in Czechoslovakia. They play the same team here Thursday and then will tour the country.

Bob Hesson, Negro lad from Stratford, earned a split decision over the experienced Tommy Wallace of London in the five-round main bout on the Chicken Coop AC amateur boxing card. It was the third victory for Hesson.

An Olympic village, estimated to cost $140,000, is being built in Richmond Park for the summer games in London, England. The cost will be borne by the British organizing committee for the games. The village will provide accommodation for 1,700 athletes.

Britain's Freddie Mills last night retained his European light heavyweight championship with a second-round knockout victory over Paco Bueno of Spain in a scheduled 15-round bout at London.

Canadian quarter-mile champ, Bob McFarlane of London, Ont., will be among 47 runners starting in the 600-yard run in the United States AAU indoor track and field championships at New York, Saturday.

Marlies Trounce Mercurys In 12-1 Battle

By The Canadian Press.

It was a night of high-scoring last night as favored teams handed their oppositions drubbings in three scheduled games— two in the Senior A and one in the Junior A divisions of the Ontario Hockey Association.

A total of 31 goals among the winners loomed large over a total of nine for the losers.

The highest scoring tilt was the Toronto Marlboros-Owen Sound Senior A fixture with the Marlies handing the Mercurys a 12-1 trouncing. The other senior game between Hamilton Pats and Kitchener-Waterloo Flying Dutchmen finished at 9-4, with the Dutchmen on the big end of the score.

In the lone junior affair, Galt Rockets laced Marlboros Juniors 10-4.

At Toronto, the senior tilt was a scoring spree for the Marlies as Johnny McCormack rang up a goal and two assists for three points to win the league's individual scoring crown. McCormack is the first Toronto played to win the award—the Robert (Moose) Ecclestone Trophy. Unofficial figures give McCormack a total of 75 points in league play, one more than Clare Shillington of Hamilton Tigers.

Earns Tie.

Howie Harvey in the Duke nets earned a tie with Art Childs of the Tigers for the best goals-against average in the league when he allowed just one goal during the game. Both goalies ended the season with 86 goals let by.

Little Ike Hildebrand also was flying for the Marlies as he earned a hat-trick performance, all his goals coming in the second frame. Leo Curik was next best with two goals, while Tommy Burlington managed the lone Mercury tally.

Kitchener - Waterloo Flying Dutchmen moved into fourth place by virtue of their victory over Hamilton Pats and the Owen Sound loss. The Dutchmen had 37 points before the game, just one point behind Owen Sound in fourth place. With their win, they moved one point ahead of the Mercurys and two points behind third-place Stratford Indians who have 41 points. The Bauer boys were top men for the Dutchmen in their 9-4 win with Bobby receiving two goals and an assist and Don bagging one goal and two assists. Murray Phillips paced the Hamilton team with two goals.

Brown Takes Trophy At Harriers' Meet

Jack Brown, former mile champion of Hamilton Central High, won the Cherney Cup at the Peterborough Harriers Club meet last night in the YMCA, doing the mile in five minutes and 25 seconds. Ray Donnelly was a close second, and Bob Green finished third. In the 1,000-yard race for the Harriers Cup, J. McGillis finished first in two minutes and 52 2-10 seconds, with Jack Brown next and Ron Douglas third.

This was the second winter meet held by the club and saw some good running, the 1,000-yard event being new to those competing last evening. A full meeting of the harriers will be held Thursday of this week at seven p.m. in the "Y" and all should be on hand to deal with important business.

Lindsay Gains 3-3 Oshawa Tie

LINDSAY, Feb. 18. —Oshawa and Lindsay battled to a 3-3 tie here Tuesday night in an OHA junior "B" fixture that was postponed last Friday due to weather conditions.

Although played on slushy ice, it was one of the fastest, roughest, junior games seen on local ice this year. Flaring tempers reached their climax in a brawl during the final period.

Oshawa came from behind in sensational fashion when Towns of the Motor City knotted the count with seven seconds of play remaining. There were 14 penalties.

Oshawa—Goal, Claus; defence, Morrison, Barnes; centre, Hooper; wings, Weddup, Welsh; alternates, Towns, Jenkins, Bradley, Turnbull, Wilson, Robinson, Bone, Maddock.

Lindsay — Goal, Quigley; defence, Gleeson, Kelley; centre, Parker; wings, Coombs, McInnis; alternates, Robinson, Dysart, McPhee, Burns, Hennessy, Corley, Arthur, Ferguson.

Referee — Herb Payne, Peterborough; linesman, I. Eberts, Lindsay.

First Period

Lindsay—Robinson 13.34
Oshawa—Wilson (Bradley, Turnbull) 15.20
Penalties — McPhee, Wilson, Barnes.

Second Period

Lindsay—Dysart 9.52
Lindsay—Corley 19.10
Penalties — Hooper, Dysart, Gleeson, Wilson, Bradley, Turnbull.

Harmonica Band

EDMONTON (CP)—Don't confuse the Edmonton Philharmonica Club with a symphony orchestra. It has 42 members and its object--as its name suggests--is to organize a harmonica band.

Lakefield Bantams Defeat Deloro 7-4

LAKEFIELD, Feb. 18.—(ENS). —Despite soft ice and the absence of two of their power line players, the Lakefield Sea Scout bantams took Deloro for a 7-4 touch last night in Madoc. It was a hard-fought game, with the lads giving everything they had.

Brooks led in the first period with Twist and Heffernan following with one each, Mathews getting an assist. Brooks led again in the second period and Twist retaliated, followed with a marker by Sloan. Wilson collected the first penalty of the game.

By the time the last period started the ice had hardened up somewhat and play became faster. Mantle and Brown scored for Deloro and Pearson, Twist and Heffernan one each for Lakefield. In a flurry of excitement Nickle, Twist, Sloan and Pearson found themselves cooling off in the penalty box.

The teams:

Lakefield—Goal, Wingett; defense, Pearson and Wasson; centre, Twist; wings, Sloan and Mathews; alternates, Wilson, Hunter, Brown, Heffernan and Spencer.

Deloro—Goal, Lynch; defense, Meehan and Nickle; centre, Brooks; wings, Brown and Mantle; alternates, Moon, Paranuik, Clemens, Bonter and Cassibo.

Referee—T. Junkin; linesman, Nickle.

Team Wrestling At Brock Tonight

It's Tag Team Wrestling in the Brock Arena ring tonight when the team of Ben Sharpe and Earl McCready meets the team of Wee Willie Davis and the Masked Marvel. The big bout should be one of the most interesting of the whole season. If Earl and Ben come up with a win the Mask must take his hood off and Pat Flanagan that's an event the fans have waited a long while to see. Apart from the un-masking possibilities the bout itself should be a rip-snorting melee throughout.

Dick Raines will be introduced here but the Texan gets no easy mark when he goes in against Jack Moore of Ohio. In the completing bout the well-liked Pat Flanagan returns from the States to tangle with Al Krusher Kurman.

Manitoba Defeats Saskatchewan

WINNIPEG, Feb. 18 — (CP).—Manitoba and Saskatchewan rinks will meet today in a sudden-death game to determine the Dominion high school curling championship, with Stan Gowling's foursome from Morden, Man., given a slight edge.

The game was necessitated last night when Manitoba—last year's 'spiel winner—set back the Keith Lackey rink from Weyburn, Sask., 10-9 in the last match of the round-robin series. Saskatchewan previously had been undefeated, while Manitoba had lost its draw with Alberta.

When regulation play ended last night Manitoba and Saskatchewan were deadlocked for top place with four wins and one loss apiece, Ontario third with three wins and two losses, Alberta fourth with two wins and three losses, and Quebec and British Columbia sharing bottom position with one win and four losses each.

Ontario came through with an 11-6 win over Alberta in the night draw, while Quebec surprised with an upset 11-7 triumph over British Columbia.

Wings, Leafs In Good Shape Others Fight For Playoffs

By HARRY ECCLES
Canadian Press Staff Writer

With the Toronto Maple Leafs and Detroit Red Wings deadlocked for the National Hockey League lead, today was a good time to start figuring on the league's championship.

The Leafs have a game in hand, with 14 to play compared to Detroit's 13 remaining games. The Leafs still have seven road games, seven at home. Wings have seven away games, six at home.

It's likely that the championship will be settled by the final week-end, when the Wings play at Toronto March 21.

Before that wind-up, the two contenders meet once more at Toronto next Saturday night. Each has a mid-week game, with Detroit at New York and Boston at Chicago tonight, while Leafs are at Montreal Thursday night.

In Good Shape

Both top teams are in good shape. It turned out yesterday that left-winger Vic Lynn wasn't so badly hurt as was first feared when he was slammed into a goal-post at New York Sunday night. Instead of a torn cartilage, the injury was diagnosed as nothing worse than a bad bruise, and Lynn was on skates at the Leaf practice in Toronto Tuesday.

Lynn admitted after the practice however that his knee hurt when he attempted sharp turns. Further heat treatments were ordered with the expectation he would be in the Toronto line-up at Montreal Thursday.

And while the Detroit-Toronto leadership tussle continues, practically anything could happen to the rest of the standings. The bottom two teams of course won't get into the Stanley Cup playoffs, but it's a brash prophet who'll name the two discards right now. Because the tail-end Chicago Hawks are only one game back of Montreal Canadiens, and the Canadiens are only five points back of the Boston Bruins who presently hold the fourth and last play-off spot.

Barons Down Washington 7-2

By The Canadian Press

Cleveland Barons today are only six points out of first place in the American Hockey League's western circuit and with 15 games left to play, Barons are given an even chance of finishing on top.

The tail-end Washington Lions last night proved no match for Cleveland, and went down to a 7-2 setback. Roy Kelly and Johnny Holota sparked the Cleveland attack with a brace of goals each while Church Russell, Bob Carse and Roger Gagne each scored once. Johnny Carr-Harris and Laurier Archambault counted for Lions.

Eddie Bush of Philadelphia Rockets rammed in two goals last night to tie the AHL record for goals scored by a defenceman in one season. The two tallies gave Bush 22 for the year and helped Rockets edge Springfield Indians 5-4.

In the only other game last night, St. Louis Flyers battled the faltering Hershey Bears to a 3-3 stalemate. Don Grosso, Eddie Olson and Bill McComb scored one each for Flyers while Pentti Lund, Len Gronsdahl and Joe Cooper hit the mark for Bears.

Marchildon Gives Pointers To Children

MIDLAND, Feb. 18.—(CP).—Before packing his bags and heading south to the Philadelphia Athletics training camp last night, ace-hurler Phil Marchildon of Penetanguishene visited Midland YMCA where he gave pitching, batting and fielding pointers to a group of young baseball enthusiasts.

Besides handing out advice to the young hopefuls, Marchildon also touched briefly on the game at Cleveland last year when he lost a perfect and no-hit game following a walk with two out in the eighth inning.

"I lost my relaxation after that decision and I didn't get it back until the 11th inning," he said ruefully.

Remember When—

By The Canadian Press

Montreal Canadiens signed goaler Roy Marchand 25 years ago today to replace George Vezina, the Chicoutimi player rated one of hockey's all-time great goalkeepers who had been injured in a game against Hamilton. Vezina returned to the Habitants until illness forced him to retire Nov. 28, 1925. He died March 28, 1926.

No One Can Find Lost Documents

NEW YORK, Feb. 18 (AP). — Baseball's newest controversy — touched off by Brooklyn Branch Rickey's charges that the other 15 big league clubs voted to bar negroes from the majors—took on the complexion of the old button game to-day. Everybody was asking:

Documents, documents, who's got the documents?

The Dodger president arrived here from Chicago last night and refused to retreat in the face of a round of denials from top baseball men.

"The best evidence is the documents themselves," Rickey said. "Everybody knows about the documents and what were in them."

The Brooklyn boss said copies of a resolution to bar negro players — adopted unanimously, he declared, by a joint major league meeting, Brooklyn excepted — were taken back after the vote.

"You can't find a copy of that report anywhere," he said earlier.

Several major league club executives insisted no such papers ever existed. Alva Bradley, former president of Cleveland Indians, declared: "As a matter of fact, I was the chairman of that meeting and we never discussed the subject."

Banquet Climax To Second Day Of Ont. Bonspiel

TORONTO, Feb. 18. (CP) — Possibility of an even greater Ontario Bonspiel in future years was suggested as curlers called for more ice sheets at the banquet last night climaxing the second day of the 21st annual Ontario Bonspiel.

Sixteen rinks of the 128 are left in the race for top honors. They are: R. E. Wilson, London; K. A. Miles, Toronto High Park; W.A. Kennedy, Hamilton Thistles; J. Johnson, Kenora; B. C. Hall, Kitchener; L. G. Doner, Toronto Granites; Dr. A. E. Walkey, Hamilton Vics; C. R. Madill, Oshawa; C. Asmussen, Kitchener; B. C. Phippen, Sarnia; Andy Grant, Toronto Royal Canadiens; J. H. Bolton, Toronto Granites; C. H. Johnston, Toronto Curling Club; G. R. Meech, Toronto High Park; T. C. Hawkins, Toronto Royal Canadians; and B. W. White, Oshawa.

Outstanding features of the day was the game which ended third-round play in the Premier Royal York Trophy when G. R. Meech drew his shot and skipped his Toronto High Park rink—1947's second award winners—to a 7-6 victory over W. J. Fulton's Civil Service foursome.

Last year's third cup holders, K. A. Miles' Toronto High Park rink, won a 9-7 decision over the Agincourt foursome skipped by L. E. Ross and 1947's sixth award winners, R. E. Wilson's London group, defeated J. P. Walsh's Kingston outfit 8-7.

A dark horse loomed in the major competition with an unknown Oshawa foursome skipped by C. R. Madill. The rink is undefeated in three starts.

In the first round of the Seibering Trophy, E. G. Braund of Peterborough was defeated 13-8 by W. F. Lickley's rink, New Liskeard.

Parents Enjoy Movie Check Baby, Parcels

REGINA, Feb. 18 — (CP). — Theatre ushers scooted frantically up and down the aisles trying to locate the baby whose cries were interrupting moviegoers' enjoyment of a tensely dramatic moment.

They finally found him in the check room, with a hat-check stuck in his bonnet. His parents had checked him with the rest of their parcels.

ALL OUT FOR BRITAIN — One of Britain's hopes for the women's shot-putting event in the Olympics, to be held in London later this year, is Mrs. Kitty Dyer, who works in a confectionery manufacturer's. Here she is training at the News of the World sports ground, Mitcham, England, where several Olympic aspirants are going through their paces.

Longden Goes After His 3,000th Winner

ARCADIA, Calif., Feb. 18 — (AP). — Johnny (Moneybags) Longden, who has ridden more winners than any other jockey in North America, is out to boost his total to 3,000 by this summer.

The 38-year-old veteran, who began his jockey career on western Canada tracks, has 40 to go, and at the rate he's clicking now at Santa Anita he'll make it. He was the United States champion last year and set the modern American record of 316 winners. He was national champion in 1938, also.

Longden is regarded as the wealthiest jockey in the business. He maintains a huge stock farm in Nevada, flies his own plane, and manages to keep busy, otherwise investing his money under the counsel and guidance of financial leaders whose friendship he holds. He doesn't bet horses.

Johnny will be aboard William G. Helis' Salmagundi Saturday in Santa Anita's $50,000 San Vincente handicap at 1 1-16 miles for three-year-olds.

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 18.—(AP). —C.I.O. President Philip Murray said yesterday the National Maritime Union has asked the United Steelworkers to organize 13,000 Great Lakes seamen. Both the NMU and the Steelworkers are CIO affiliates. Final jurisdiction over the seamen would be left for later settlement, Murray said.

Marlene Lists 10 Most Fascinating Men

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 18—(AP) —Marlene Dietrich comes up with a list of the 10 most fascinating men she knows.

This was no small chore for Marlene, who has known a lot of fascinating men. I mentioned the list to her on the "A Foreign Affair" set. She pondered long and hard.

"'How about some of the noted generals?" I suggested.

"Army men are very dull," she answered, "except during a war."

I mentioned a few Hollywood actors and got nothing but a scowl.

Marlene took the matter under advisement and five days later submitted a list, broadened to include men of other nationalities. Two factors might be pointed out: 1, Only three are native Americans; 2, Only one is an actor. Here's her list, in order of fascination:

Eric Maria Remarque, novelist.
Alexander Kirk, former United States ambassador to Italy, now a Colorado rancher.
Igor Stravinsky, composer.
Ernest Hemingway, author.
Roberto Rossellini, Italian film director of "Open City" and other films.
Pablo Picassor, artist.
Erle Stanley Gardner, mystery writer.
Salvadore Dali, artist.
Noel Coward, theatrical jack-of-all trades.
Arturo Toscanini, conductor.

Comments On Academy Nominations

Surprises: The John Garfield and Susan Hayward nominations ....20th-Fox sank $5,000,000 apiece in "Forever Amber" and "Captain From Castile," which got no mentions except in musical scoring; its "Miracle of 34th St." named one of the five best pictures...

One of the best picture directors is currently unemployed—Edward Dmytryk, a native of Grand Forks, B.C. ("Crossfire") ...Paramount is out of the running after three years of top winners ("Going My Way," "The Lost Weekend," Olivia DeHavilland in "To Each His Own"). The studio is too busy making money.

Hollywood Sights and Sounds

Most of the "Three Musketeers" cast complaining about their roles ...William Powell lugging a mermaid (a dummy, not Ann Blyth) around the "Peabody" set...Keenan Wynn pushing a stranger's stalled automobile outside a Hollywood theatre...Joan Bennett, one of the few stars who applies her own makeup, daubing on greasepaint on the "Hollow Triumph" set.

JOE LOUIS SAILS THURSDAY

A stout 225-pound Joe Louis, world heavyweight boxing champion, sail for London, England, Thursday where he will give a 26-bout exhibition series. Accompanying him will be six other men and 350 pounds of steak.

Louis will make 78 appearances but will box only 26 times. The rest of the time he'll shadow box, jump rope and punch the bag. As soon as he returns in April, he'll start light training for his 25th title defence.

BEERY THE FATHER? — Actress Gloria Whitney is pictured with her week-old baby, Johan R. Schumm, at Los Angeles, Calif. The 33-year-old actress, whose real name is Gloria Schumm, named veteran screen actor Wallace Beery, 63, as the "father of her child." She filed suit in superior court to establish paternity of the child and also asked a "reasonable sum" for support. Miss Whitney declared that the child's birth followed a long-time romance with Beery. The screen actor denies the charges, but was ordered to appear before Superior Judge Rhodes on March 2 to show cause why he should not provide temporary support for the child pending the suit. Said the veteran character actor, "I feel flattered that a man of my age should be accused of anything like this." Beery is divorced from his second wife, Rita Gilman. His first marriage, which also ended in divorce, was with Gloria Swanson.

Cuban Boxers Shoot At Title

NEW YORK, Feb. 18.—(AP).—When Humberto Sierra fights Willie Pep for the featherweight championship of Miami next week, it will be (as far as the records show clearly) the first time a Cuban boxer has had a title shot since the days of Kid Chocolate and Black Bill.... Those are a couple of pretty good names to start on, though there's nothing in the records to show that Sierra belongs in the same class. His best win is a somewhat uncertain triumph over Sandy Saddler last summer.... Kid Chocolate, you remember, earned New York recognition as featherweight champion back in 1933, when dual championships were common. But he couldn't stand prosperity and faded out while Freddie Miller went on to clear up the situation. Black Bill, another great little fellow, progressed as far as the final of a New York tourney to settle the flyweight championship, losing to Midget Wolgast in 1930....If Sierra, known as a defensive fighter, fails to make the grade, Cuba still stands another chance. Kid Gavilan, hailed as the best fighter to emerge from Cuba since Chocolate, has a non-title date with lightweight champ Ike Williams. If he makes a good showing, Gavilan likely will earn a title match.

Nice Chap, Man

Boisterous Ben Chapman, the Phillies manager who has something of a reputation as being a tough guy, spends some of his spare time in the off season officiating basketball games.... This week's sporting news relays the story of Ben's working a somewhat rugged game between Alabama and Louisiana State... After some strenuous action under the basket, a couple of players started to rough it up a bit ....Ben stepped between them, grabbed the ball, and said: "I'll hold the ball if you fellows want to step down to the foul line and fight it out."....The Collegians sheepishly admitted they'd rather play basketball and Chapman had no further trouble.

Italian Heavyweight Needs Experience

CHICAGO, Feb. 18. (AP)—Enrico Bertola, bulky Italian heavyweight champion, needs considerable experience in the North American way of the ring before he can strike fistic gold.

The 24-year-old son of a marble cutter from Carrara, Italy, made his American debut last night with a five-round knockout victory over Jimmy Bell, Washington, DC, negro heavyweight. The victory was impressive enough but the 190-pound invader revealed that he lacked defensive ability blocking and needs to shorten up his punches.

Bertola's blows to the head were wild, but he proved to be a murderous body puncher, always wading into close range.

He dropped Bell for a nine-count in the second round with a right hand blast to the chin and floored him with another right behind the ear in the fourth. The bell sounded at the count of six enabling the Washington fighter who weighed 189½, to return to his corner to recuperate. Forty-three seconds after the start of the fifth round bell fell victim to a heavy right to the head.

France Plans To Send 50 On Arctic Trip

PARIS, Feb. 18.—(Reuters).—Preparations are being made here for a French government-sponsored expedition which will set out for the Arctic in March to instal a radio-meteorological station in Central Greenland and collect data for use in aviation, navigation and the study of radioactive matter.

Although France is pre-occupied with rigid economy measures aimed at stabilizing the purchasing power of the franc, a French government spokesman said she considers that this expensive expedition is justified because major air lines of the future will form a network over the Polar wastes.

About 50 scientists and technicians are busying themselves with equipment and preparing their personal gear while administrative arrangements are being worked out at the French national centre of scientific research.

International Program

The expedition is part of an international program drafted by the Swedish geologist, Hans Halhmann.

Leader of the expedition will be 30-year-old Paul Emile Victor, an authority on Polar geography, lore and natural science, and probably the only Frenchman with a fluent command of the Eskimo languages — which he learned during a 12-months' stay in an igloo with a family of Eskimo hunters.

The explorers will bring back the results of several months' close study of the ice structure off Greenland for the attention of geologists.

Alta. Waitress Held For Murder

CALGARY, Feb. 18 —(CP)— Police announced early today that they had arrested Bernice Dubensky, 20-year-old Calgary waitress, and charged her with the murder of Mah Kuo (Charlie) Wing.

Her arrest was the first break in the murder of the 50-year-old Chinese tailor last June 25.

Wing was found lying on the bedroom floor behind his oriental tailor shop in East Calgary last June. He had been bludgeoned to death by a blunt object.

Police refused to disclose circumstances leading to Miss Dubensky's arrest, but said she had been under police investigation for some time.

Weather Man Refuses To Go Out On Limb But Thinks Mild Spell Here 3 or 4 Days

TORONTO, Feb. 18 (CP)—The weather man said yesterday mild temperatures may prevail in the southern part of Ontario for the next three or four days, and then again they may not.

The forecaster at Malton airport, commenting on the chance of comparatively warm weather that would boost water supply and thereby ease the electric power shortage, said he expected the southern half of the province would continue to have readings in the 40's for the "next several days but probably less than a week — and I'm going out on a limb when I say it."

However, "the chances are at least 50-50," he said.

What made the prediction risky was a body of cold air, in the area roughly north of a line from Sault Ste. Marie to North Bay in Northern Ontario. While districts south of that have been having 40-degree temperatures, communities to the north have been shivering in weather ranging from sub-zero to 10 degrees.

This cold belt could easily move south, reaching the Toronto district in as little as 12 hours.

Station Master Held For Wreck

LILLE, FRANCE, Feb. 18 — (AP) —Station master Albert Dufour of Thumeries was jailed today on charges of involuntary manslaughter in connection with a train wreck last night which police said took at least 24 lives.

The accident caused when a passenger train colided with a freight freight occurred near Thumeries, 15 miles from here, just after the passenger train took aboard a number of factory workers.

Police said there may be more bodies in the wreckage. They said the number of wounded totalled about 40.

Police said Dufour told them he had had an argument with an employee and had become upset; that he prematurely gave a signal for the passenger train to leave Thumeries. Ordinarily the passenger train collided with a ion until the freight passed. They added that Dufour realized his error and tried to stop the freight, but was too late.

Police said at least 18 of the dead were women.

Wave of Illegitimacy Shown In Children's Aid Reports

Eleven unmarried parents came to the attention of the Children's Aid Society during the month of January, of this number two were from outside the Peterborough County, six from the County of Peterborough and three from the City of Peterborough, and a flare up of illegitimacy in one community has given the Society some concern.

This was revealed at the monthly meeting of the Children's Aid Society Tuesday afternoon. The superintendent said in her report, that one sought maintenance, three are looking after their own babies, two made their own arrangements about the placement of the babies, one in an adoption home and one with a relative, and five wished assistance in care of their child.

The number of children admitted to care, probably one of the largest for one month, was 12. Of this number two were private adoption placements, three were placed on adoption probation by the Society, one illegitimate child whose father has deserted and whose mother is incapable of looking after him was taken into care; wardship action was initiated for five children, four whose parents had been evicted and one child born out of wedlock.

Twelve children were taken out of care, six of whom were wards. Two wards reached their majority, two, were married and two returned to their parents. Four adoptions were completed and two children on adoption moved to another district.

Thirteen families were brought to the attention of the Society during January, making a total of 153 families under supervision. Six of the 13 required short service and problems presented in the others were mental defectiveness, non-attendance at school, and inadequate supervision, theft, incorrigibility, non-support, and indifference to family responsibilities. There were two investigations for family allowance.

Members on the arrangements committee for the annual meeting of the society elected were as follows:—Mr. Gordon Miller, convener; M. J. Sharp, Mrs. J. S. Fanning and Mrs. L. L. Maguire.

The nominating committee appointed was, Mr. W. J. Grady, convener, F. B. Sargent, Mrs. D. Diplock and Mrs. J. H. Vernor.

Those appointed to the Local Council of Women were:—Mrs. L. L. Maguire, Mrs. K. Lech and Mrs. L. Yeotes.

It was decided at the meeting to form a special committee for the foster home drive in the hopes of finding foster homes for the wards of the Society. The following were appointed to the committee:—J. Dutton, Archdeacon Robertson, Mrs. F. Lynch and Mrs. J. Wharry.

13 Admitted

A report of the children at the shelter showed that as at January 1, 1948, there were seven children in the shelter, 13 more were admitted during the month; nine children left, leaving 11 in the shelter at present. Four children had doctors examinations, two had tonsils and adenoids removed. Two children had their teeth filled by the school dentist and two children were in isolation hospital with the measles.

The following ladies had met regularly at the weekly sewing meeting at the Shelter, Mrs. Keith Lech, convener, Mesdames H. G. McGinnis, F. Horton, C. Batchellor, W. King, W. R. Wilshire, C. Hughes, E. Hunter, F. Watson, E E. Lee, R. J. Maniece, R. Krant, W. Wheeler, R. Johnston, A. Martin, E. Oxley, R. Harvey and R. Tuck.

Mr. J. McKerchar occupied the chair at the afternoon's meeting and the following members were in attendance, Reeve McIlmoyle, James Dutton, W. Grady, R. Parsons, Mrs. J. Vernor, N. Higgins Mrs. Keith Lech, Mrs. L. Yeotes, Mrs. J. S. Manning, Archdeacon Robertson, J. Hamilton, Rev. Father Killen, Mrs. J. J. Wharry, Mrs. F. Lynch and Miss R. Young.

Peterboro' Girl Blind Operates Booth

Loss of sight is no barrier to Norma Hughes of Toronto, and formerly of Peterborough. Miss Hughes, one of the scores of sightless people in Toronto leads a very active life and operates a refreshment stand in the hall of a downtown building.

For the past five years Miss Hughes has not only operated this stand but has developed it into a regular Bureau of Information, and directs visitors to the various offices in the building. She holds that it is the duty of all sightless people to use the white cane when travelling in the city, as both traffic operators and pedestrians coming up from behind have no other indication that the person in front of them is blind.

The end of the business day does not mean an end to her day's work, for after office hours Miss Hughes works as a member of the executive of the Blind Merchants Association, and at present is finding her hands full in making the necessary plans for the annual banquet, to be held in the spring.

Travelling in and about Toronto holds no fears for her, and she is able to find her way from one part of the Queen City to another as well as those who have not lost the gift of sight. She is very fond of lectures and good plays and in her spare time also reads extensively being an avid Braille reader.

Educated in Peterborough, Miss Hughes holds a certificate for teaching but unfortunately is unable to teach as the Ontario laws will not permit a blind person to follow this profession.

GOVERNMENT FORGES CAPTURE GREEK GUERRILLAS — A column of guerrillas, part of the rebel forces desecribed by President Truman as "subservient to foreign influences," is paraded through the streets of Langadia, east of Salonika, after capture by Greek government forces. More than 150 guerrillas were taken by government troops in fighting which followed shelling of Salonika by the Communist rebels.

Bushman Thong Awarded To Four Scouts

At the beginning of Scout Week on Monday five boys of the 8th Peterborough (St. Andrew's) Boy Scout Troop were awarded the highest award in scouting as far as this country is concerned—the King Scout badge. The Bushman's Thong, the highest award as far as Scouting is concerned, was also awarded to four of the same boys. The four boys to take both awards were TL Doug Fanning, PL David Fanning, and PL Jack and Bill Frisken. The other King Scout was A-PL Bob Hutchinson.

To begin the evening the Cub Pack, under Cubmaster Rod MacNab, gave a normal pack meeting, explaining to the parents, the life of a boy beginning as a Cub. Then two Cubs, Doug Ham and Bright Julian graduated from the Pack to the Troop. The impressive "going up" ceremony took place, and after the Cubmaster wished the boys success in their new venture they were taken along the road to Scouting. TL Doug Fanning introduced the boys to the Scoutmaster Stan McGann and invested the boys into the Troop. A typical Scout program followed, each boy demonstrating a part of the Scout's life. The presentations were awarded, Skipper Groombridge awarding the 1st and 2nd Star Cubs with a crest as a token of their accomplishment. Next, Patrol Shield to TL. Doug Fanning for the Fox Patrol by DSM George Siddall The King Scout Badges were awarded by Ald. Dick Raine for His Worship the Mayor; the Bushman's Thong by DC Ernie Wolfe. To top the evening the five boys were given a certificate of merit in their accomplishment of gaing the King Scout and the Bushman Thong awards by President Bert Burgess.

Snow and Broken Wires Isolate British Columbia

WINNIPEG, Feb. 18 —(CP)— Telegraph and telephone emergency crews were working frantically in an effort to overcome one of the worst communication tie-ups in years, which left British Columbia isolated all day from the the rest of the Dominion, except for radio contact.

The disruption of wire communications occurred early in the morning, following a heavy, continuous fall of snow and sleet which brought on snowslides in the Rocky Mountains between Ruby Creek, 60 miles southeast of Vancouver, and North Bend, 75 miles northeast of the coast city.

Repair gangs were promptly rushed to the scene of the break, but although they had been working in the trouble zone for hours, they had not succeeded in establishing contact with the outside by early Tuesday night to report on the extent of the damage.

No reports of casualties had been received although eastbound trains from Vancouver were hours late as a result of the snow-slides.

Complicated rerouting was necessary for long distance telephone calls.

No Ottawa Blackout Use Automatic Control

OTTAWA, Feb. 18 — (CP). — The only city in Ontario to have automatic induction regulators, Ottawa is able to reduce electric power consumption without experiencing "blackouts."

This was disclosed by S. W. Caniff, general manager of the Otawa Hydro-Electric Commission yesterday.

By use of the regulators, he said, it was possible to make a seven per cent reduction in the voltage supplied, which results in a reduction of approximately 10 per cent in kilowatt hours.

How to Make a Splendid Cough Syrup at Home

Cough medicines usually contain a large quantity of plain syrup—a good ingredient, but one which you can easily make in your own kitchen. Take 2 cups of granulated sugar and 1 cup of water, and stir a few moments until dissolved. No cooking! No trouble! (Or you can use corn syrup or liquid honey, instead of sugar syrup.)

Then get from your druggist 2½ ounces of Pinex, pour it into a 16 oz. bottle, and fill up with your syrup. This gives you 16 ounces of really splendid medicine for bad winter coughs. It makes a real saving, because it gives you four times as much cough syrup for your money. It lasts a long time, never spoils, and children love it.

This is a very effective, dependable, quick-acting cough medicine for the whole family. Quickly, you feel its penetrating effect in the air passages. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the irritated membranes and makes breathing easy. You will be delighted with its quick effect in clearing up coughs.

Pinex is a special compound of proven ingredients, in concentrated form, a well known reliable soothing agent for winter coughs. Money refunded if it doesn't please you in every way.

Pinex Is Dependable. Saves Money. Easy To Mix.

U.S. Carrier Remains 2 Days Seeking Bodies

Aboard The United States Aircraft Carrier Midway Off Hyeres Roads, France, Feb. 18—(AP)—The 45,000-ton Midway will stay here another two days while search is continued for the bodies of eight missing men believed drowned in a launch accident Monday night.

The missing men—one officer, a marine and six seamen — were part of the big carrier's 3,500-man complement. They were returning from a farewell party given at the small island of Hyeres when the accident occurred.

Fifty-three other men of the Midway were rescued from the water off the French Riviera.

Investigators aboard ship were trying to learn from survivors what caused the accident. Initial reports indicated a freak sea had quickly filled the 50-foot motor launch while leaving it upright and intact. A rescue boat was damaged when it rammed the launch later, in the dark.

German Bride In Brantford Once Slapped By Goering

BRANTFORD, Feb. 18—(CP).—First German war bride to arrive here, Mrs. Bert Cudney, once was slapped by Hermann Goering. The 20-year-old woman, her maiden name is Gisel, told this story:

While attending one of the training camps of the compulsory German youth organizations for girls she showed a lack of interest in the organization.

Goering was inspecting the camp. Strutting, he lectured her on the proper attitude of women toward the "new order."

Then, he hauled off and slapped her across the face.

Her attitude toward the Nazi party: "I am a Catholic, a good Catholic, so I was not a Nazi."

Mrs. Cudney's parents didn't fare any better. They were fined $9 a week for neglecting to attend Nazi meetings.

A native of what now is the Russian zone of Germany, her dislike for the Russians led to her meeting with her husband.

She fled the Russian zone to the United States zone where she met Mr. Cudney, then a sergeant in the United States army. Occupation laws required that their marriage last December take place twice—once before a German justice of the peace and again before a United States chaplain.

She arrived here recently with her husband. He was born in the United States but was raised here where they intend to make their home.

Steel Price Raises Cost 68 Million Year

NEW YORK, Feb. 18—(AP)—Price raises on steel products in the last week will cost steel users around $68,000,000 annually, the Iron Age, trade weekly, said today.

"It could possibly be," the publication commented, "that some of these increases are anticipating the wage demand to be made this week by Philip Murray, steel union head."

Boosted prices on pipes and tubes, certain semi-finished material and extra charges on structural steel shapes were pointed to by the publication as evidence of steelmakers' "faith in the solidness of steel demand."

Operations this week continued unchanged at 93 per cent of rated capacity, it reported.

CP President Asks Libel Rule Changed

TORONTO, Feb. 18 — (CP) — Frederick I. Ker, president of The Canadian Press, yesterday requested that Justice Minister Ilsley introduce legislation at the current session of parliament to provide that charges of conspiracy to libel be tried in the province where the newspaper involved is published.

In a letter to the minister, Mr. Ker, publisher of the Hamilton Spectator, said amendment of the Criminal Code is necessary to assure newspapers of "the protection which parliament intended they should have and which is necessary to avoid vexatious prosecutions."

Similar petitions have been sent to Mr. Ilsley by the Canadian Daily Newspapers Association and the Periodical Press Association.

Fear Future

Mr. Ker's letter said members of The Canadian Press, national news-gathering co-operative, "view with apprehension the significance of certain phases of the criminal proceedings currently being taken by the attorney-general of Alberta against Jack Kent Cooke and Harold Dingman of the New Liberty magazine."

Both the men, residents of Ontario, been charged with publication of demamatory libel they would have the right to be tried in Ontario under provisions of section 888 of the code. Instead they have been charged with conspiracy to publish a defamatory libel.

Since every publication in a daily newspaper involves acts by more than one individual, crown officers were now in a position arbitrarily to circumvent section 888 by charging conspiracy rather than publication. Thus, Mr. Ker's letter said, publishers, editors and employees of daily newspapers could by a technicality be deprived of the protection and advantages intended to be given them by parliament.

Establish First Psychiatric Ward In Canadan Prison At Kingston

OTTAWA, Feb. 18 — (CP). — The first psychiatric ward in a Canadian prison is almost ready for occupancy at Kingston Penitentiary, Maj.-Gen. R. B. Gibson, commissioner of penitentiaries, said today.

The commissioner said the ward, part of a plan to extend psychiatric treatment throughout Canadian penitentiaries generally, will have a capacity of about 12 patients and will be in charge of a psychiatric specialist.

The new ward, which is being installed in a building apart from the prison hospital, will have facilities for electro-therapy, physiotherapy and other treatments.

Aim of the penitentiaries branch, Gen. Gibson said, is to have its own facilities all along the line for the handling of borderline and mental cases. Prisoners actually insane will continue to be dealt with in provincial mental institutions as at present, under arrangement between the Federal and provincial governments.

Gen. Gibson declared it was hoped eventually to have a psychiatrist in each penitentiary, but this would depend on government authorization to set up the various positions.

Also, the spread of the program would be based on the extent of its success at Kingston. At the moment, it was not planned to set up special wards in the other penitentiaries.

Food Rationing Remains Headache For Housewives

By JAME McCOOK
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Feb. 18 (CP). — Britain's diet sheet in 1948 seesaws between scarcity and sufficiency, with gains in food supplies in one direction offset by losses in another.

The margarine ration is helped by a few more whales taken in the Antarctic and weakened by slow progress in bringing new acres of peanuts to production in Africa.

A three-month agreement with Canada ensures bacon shipments for the time being, but future meat supplies from Argentine, which provides one-third of Britain's needs, are jeopardized by difficulties in negotiation.

Poland, Denmark, Russia and other European countries undertake to send food for man and beast, but they can't send enough to compensate for the £66,000,000 ($264,000,000) reduction in food purchases from dollar countries.

Vast Australian areas of waste land will be brought into use to raise livestock and crops, helped by British finances if necessary. But it will be years before this production fattens the British ration. In the meantime, Food Minister Strachey says he may be unable to maintain the potato ration of three pounds a head weekly.

Soon the peace will be three years old — and British rations are smaller than when Hitler stood on the French coast. The new year dawned with the promise rations would give the individual 2,700 calories daily compared with 2,870 in 1947 and 3,000 before the war.

Prices Mount

Food prices are increasing. Shell eggs have been boosted from 1s 9d to 3s a dozen. Other recent increases have been bacon, up by between 5d and 9d a pound, sugar by 3d to 5d and tea by an average of 4d.

These gains follow the government decision to hold present food subsidies at the present level of about £392,000,000 ($1,568,000,000) annually. This means that when higher prices are paid for Canadian bacon and similar imports the individual consumer feels the effect at once.

Britain's children still get special consideration, including rations of cod liver oil and orange juice and free milk in schools. But older people especially elderly couples or those living alone, find rationing increasingly harsh. The basic ration which includes nine ounces of bread daily, 1s worth of meat weekly, and eight ounces of butter and fats, provides a bare subsistence diet.

Extras which used to be available, such as canned meat, dried eggs and imported apples, are harder to find.

Food Minister Strachey is often under fire at housewives' meetings. In his own Dundee constituency he was silenced by women who shouted that there was plenty of food but they were not allowed to buy it. Strachey later said the women were from the better-off section of the community and had nothing to grumble about.

Think Mars' Green Spots Lower Form of Plant Life

McDONALD OBSERVATORY, Fort Davis, Tex., Feb. 18.—(AP). —The green spots on Mars may be some lower form of plant life.

But they are not plants like the earth's trees and grass.

Astronomers at McDonald observatory last night failed to give a flat answer to the intriguing question of whether there is life on Mars, but Dr. Gerard P. Kuiper, director of the observatory, listed these factors for and against the possibility.

For:

1. There is some water.
2. The temperatures are not too cold.

Against:

So far, it appears the deadly ultra violet rays of the sun would kill any form of plant growth.

The conclusion that the green spots are neither seed plants nor ferns—the two highest forms of plant life—was reached by comparing infra-red photographs of such earth plants with those of the verdant areas of Mars, Dr. Kuiper explained.

Another factor favoring a primitive form of plant life on Mars is the knowledge that temperatures, while "desperately cold," are not prohibitive to such life.

The Mars studies will continue at top peak for the next two weeks. Mars came within 63,000,000 miles of the earth last night, closest it will be for another two years.

Its aim is also to combat ignorance . . . re-equip "classrooms" (too often open fields or ruined buildings) . . . re-establish laboratories, libraries and training schools . . . enable doctors, scientists, artists and engineers of the future to regain the ground lost in the years of destruction.

To those lands in ruin now, the world is eternally indebted. They can make their contribution again — to our life and the life of our children — but only if we save their children now, give them new faith and courage.

This vital phase of the campaign is the special responsibility of the Canadian Council for Reconstruction through UNESCO — a volunteer body representing Canadian organizations which are active or interested in educational, scientific and cultural progress. They are undertaking special projects to aid teachers, students, scientists, artists, university students and faculty members, and to supply them with technical and material needs sorely lacking in war-devastated countries. The restoration of leadership is an indispensable step towards making the world of tomorrow secure for the children of today

Further Strain Likely On U.S. Markets

By The Canadian Press

United States grain markets face the possibility of further heavy strain.

In Chicago yesterday wheat was down 3½ to 4½ cents a bushel and at $2.36 the May future had lost 70½ cents since Jan. 16, most of it in the last fortnight.

A factor which makes the market vulnerable are large supplies held by farmers.

So far the majority of American farmers still hope for a recovery. If they lose faith in present prices and decide world demand is not enough to justify them even at present levels, or if they should have any tendency to panic, the market could come under sharp attack.

As yet the real value of wheat has not been determined, although it would seem it must still be high.

The background to the price situation may supply some explanation for the break.

Unexpected Trouble

At the beginning of 1947 many predicted a recession within the following six months. The predictions failed partly because domestic demand continued stronger than was expected, but also because Europe ran into unexpected difficulties.

The first half of the year had almost unprecedented snow, while coal disrupted transport and cause a fuel crisis. Spring floods interfered with planting and later there was drought.

These factors sent prices soaring. Almost unnoticed they began to change—especially European crop prospects and world wheat supply.

Europe is certainly no land of plenty, but for trading purposes a relatively small margin may be the difference between absolute scarcity and tolerable supply.

Wheat was under most pressure in Chicago yesterday. Oats lost slightly but corn gained. In Winnipeg, where there is no futures trading in wheat, fair gains were made by oats, barley and rye.

Will Pay $20.50 Bill Cheaper, Council Says

PORT ARTHUR, Feb. 18 (CP) —City Council Finance Committee has authorized payment of a press shop bill for $20.50 submitted by a woman who fell and damaged her dress and stockings. Mayor C. W. Cox previously had approved the bill despite Council's rejection. The matter had precipitated a struggle between the Mayor and Council. Last week Council had decided to dock the Mayor's pay the amount of the bill. The Mayor had countered by submitting a bill for $21,000 on expenses incurred in travelling in the last three years but for which he had not billed the city.

Spanish People's Great Fear Of War Aids Franco Rule

By STUART UNDERHILL

MADRID, Feb. 18—(CP).—Gen. Francisco Franco has one great ally in his political domination of Spain—the terrifying memories its people retain of the 1936-39 Civil War. It is a wound that is often prodded.

All open organized opposition to the present regime is stamped out with the explanation that ultimately any change would lead to civil strife. The mere thought makes Spaniards shudder.

Sometimes in their clubs and cafes—where they talk with surprising freedom—they gossip about the possibility of another regime, based perhaps around a royalist or at least a conservative oligarchy.

But such talk shows no indication of becoming general or organized, nor is it likely to unless it is speeded by some domestic crisis, such as uncontrolled inflation.

Furthermore, it takes place only among a few millions of Spain's 28,000,000 population. The majority, chiefly agricultural workers, show little interest in political affairs.

"We have a democracy of our own kind," said an earnest Madrid business man, who had just finished criticizing government intereference in his affairs.

"You can see people walking about the streets freely, cheerful and well-fed. No one interferes with them. They have security. You must live through a civil war to understand its horrors. People were denounced and dragged off and shot at a moment's notice. Houses were destroyed—families separated.

"If we sentence men to jail for political offences, it is because they otherwise would destroy that security and bring back those conditions of terror. We Spaniards are violent; we have not yet learned to do things gradually."

Course No Surprise

A two-year jail term for a woman who had an insignificant role in a plot to reorganize a former Socialist group — the leaders got up to 25 years — and sentences running to eight years for some university students who had a similar idea, don't seem to strike the average Spaniard as harsh. They look on such people as enemies who would open the gate to Communism and civil war.

Franco has had nearly nine years to shape these beliefs. Newspapers harp on two ideas — hurrah for Spain and down with Communism! Although the Falange, Spain's only permitted "political" party, has lost much of its drive and influence, it still has an important hold on youth. Men and women in their 20's have come through this mill, their minds forcibly closed to any opposition arguments.

Youth movements and class instruction get them at a pliable age. Many of their own accord pursue these activities in university, where professors of suspected liberal views talk with care because of students informers.

One of Franco's trump cards is his persistent anti-Communist campaign. Because repressive measures have been effective, it is impossible to point to any man or group of men who might take over from Franco. People of such calibre walk discreetly in Spain today.

Indian CWAC Busy Mailman And Shopper

CALEDONIA, Feb. 18.—(CP).—It's a busy life for Lillian Green, Mohawk Indian girl who served during the war with the Canadian Women's Army Corps and was the only woman employed at drafting at the Long Point ordnance depot at Montreal.

In peace, she's taken up a mail bag to deliver letters and parcels on rural route number four at Caledonia and also helps her brother operate the local dry-cleaning establishment. The customers on R.R. No. 4 aren't prejudiced against their woman mail carrier. Quite the contrary, for Lillian on her morning round helps the women by bringing in goods they need from town.

She plays baseball, too—five times a week in the summer for a Brantford team.

Rich Engineer Leaves Money For Scholarship

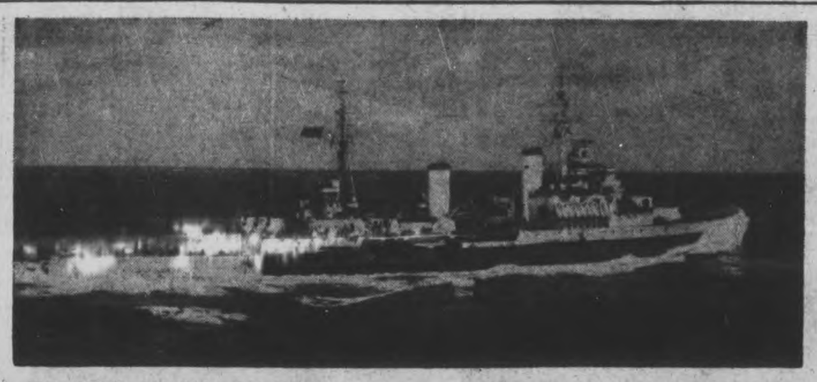
MONTREAL, Feb. 18—(CP)—A $100,000 endowment to create a scholarship in honor of one of McGill University's former professors has been made through the will of the late Ernest Hibbert, mining engineer, who died in Toronto recently.

The scholarship will be in memory of Prof. Harold H. Hibbert, brother of the late engineer, who served the university for many years as the E. B. Eddy professor of industrial and cellulose chemistry.

He did much to foster research in the Pulp and Paper Research Institute at McGill directed towards conservation and a better usage of Canada's foremost resources.

The will, through which the endowment was made, provides that the scholarship shall be for research to be carried on at McGill but open to students of other universities.

The total value of the estate of the late Ernest Hibbert as outlined in the will is $1,122,942.



Professor Hibbert died in 1945 two years after his retirement from McGill.

The will set up funds of $100,000 each to pay life incomes to Mrs. Beulah Cole Hibbert, of Newhaven, Conn., widow of Professor Hibbert and Louise Hibbert living in England, widow of another brother, Arthur.

Legacies of $25,000 each, plus the residue of the estate to be held in trust to pay income, went to each of two nephews and a niece in England. A Finnish couple who worked as houseman and maid were left $5,000.

Motorcar Heir Drunk So He Bought Picture

LONDON, Feb. 18 — (AP) — Maj. Horace E. Dodge, jr., Detroit motor heir, testified Tuesday he was drunk when he bought a painting from a London art dealer back in 1945.

Dealer Charles Lewis is suing Dodge for payment of £6,800 ($27,200). Payment had been stopped on a bill of exchange for that sum.

Cross-examined, Dodge was asked:

"Your case is that you were so drunk that you know nothing about the purchase or giving the bill?"

"It's a bad way to put it, but it's true," he replied.

Dodge testified he was tricked into buying the painting as a genuine work of Sir Thomas Lawrence, an 18th Century master.

London art authorities and the picture were in court yesterday One of the critics testified the painting was not a Lawrence.

Express Thanks For Food Parcels Sent By WA

HARWOOD, Feb. 18 — (ENS) — The principal work of the W.A. this month was the planning of quilts and serving for the remainder of the winter. Mrs. W. Stevenson, the president, was chairman.

The correspondence included a letter from the Rev. Maurice R. Kingsford of Nuneham Courtenay, Oxford, England, expressing appreciation for food parcels sent by the W.A.

His letter, in part, reads: "Instead of England helping Canada, now it is Canada helping England. I personally visited every house in Fyfield and Tobermory, and gave them each something. If you could have seen how pleased they were you would have been delighted. Practically everything you sent is looked upon now as a luxury."

The sick report was given by Mrs. Walter Johnston. Mrs. W. A. Lyons read the chapter of the study book.

Rev. L. J. Delaney brought the Lenten missionary boxes and the forward magazines and planned the parish visit.

The hostess served refreshments. The March meeting will be at the home of Mrs. W. A. Lyons.

HAVELOCK'S PHYSICIAN FOR FIFTY YEARS—Dr. and Mrs. Joseph Holdcroft came to Havelock 50 years ago today to open a country doctor's practice. The Doctor is famous as a local surgeon, and ardent fisherman and a friend to five generations of district people.

Dr. Jos. Holdcroft, Havelock Served Village 50 Years

Fifty years ago today, with the temperature showing 30 degrees below zero, young Dr. Joseph Holdcroft arrived in Havelock to establish a practice as a country doctor. He had decided not to buy a ready-made practice but instead to establish his own. He made a start by buying a horse and drugs from Dr. V. Fowler.

Dr. Holdcroft is 81 and has had a long full life and in order to best describe this man one must go away back to the roots from which he sprung and his early background. His parents were of good Northern Irish stock. His father, James Holdcroft, of the Irish Constabulary, was born in Monaghan and his mother, Margaret Cliffe, came from Limerick.

The young couple came to Upper Canada to relatives in Leeds County and soon established a home three miles north of Gananoque in a railway station. The young father, because of his fine build, became a section foreman on the Grand Trunk Railway. Six children were born in this dwelling and the youngest, Joseph, recalls that it was rather a lonely spot with a farm house nearby as the only neighboring dwelling. Joseph attended a country school a mile from his home and at the tender age of 10 years tried his entrance examinations and passed.

He trudged three miles back and forth to Gananoque High School for the next four years. "Was I small for my age?" asked he, "Yes. I had to stand on a bench to work on the blackboard."

His headmaster was Clarendon Lamb Worrell, who later entered the ministry to eventually become the Primate of the Church of England in Canada. Dr. Holdcroft recalls that he holds the distinction of being one of the two boys that My Lord Bishop threshed.

Tried Telegraphy

He left High School rather hurriedly at the age of 14 and decided to make some money quickly. The easiest-looking course seemed to be that of a wireless telegrapher, truly a new-fangled contraption in those days and there was good money in it, $1.15 a night. Undaunted by his age and size, he bearded the tough local superintendent and secured full-time employment at a monthly salary rather than pay on a "trick" basis as was then the custom.

This job led him to about 20 different locations during which time he saw many cruel accidents on the road in the days of linchpin car connections. When he finally assisted in sewing up a boy's foot, that had been nearly severed on a scythe, he decided his bent was toward surgery and medicine. After three years "on the road" he started to save his money religiously and applied for entrance into the Royal Medical College, Kingston, later Queen's University. But there was a slight hitch, the matter of a matriculation certificate. Remember how hurriedly he left High. School? Anyway, he sat down and wrote his papers, after three years away from school, and passed again, now a full-fledged medical student.

The Doctor does not recall anything really outstanding about his student days except that he went through the four-year course and came out with his shiny sheepskin and $20 richer than when he originally entered. He held four degrees, one each from Queen's University, Trinity College, Toronto, Ontario Medical College and Quebec Medical Council.

He started his first practice in Quebec's Eastern Townships at Inverness and not only gained a fine respect for French-Canadiens but a bride as well, Beatrice Rowe, daughter of the local Anglican clergyman.

Started At Merrickville

The doctor had a hankering for surgery and bought a practice 12 miles east of Smiths Falls at Merrickville. Here, he felt, was the place for a young surgeon to prove his ambitions in a country practice. Medical "bigwigs" were located in Ottawa, Brockville and Montreal and he proved his theories of country surgery by successfully performing his first 125 apendectomies successfully. He spent over six years furthering his skill until he decided to move to Havelock and settle down.

Dr. Holdcroft's career is not one of those biographies of a country doctor loaded down with statistics of the thousands of births he has attended, the number of horses, buggies, cutters, cars he has worn out, the thousands of miles of travel involved. No sir. He went through all this as his every-day work but likes to look at his well-rounded life as a man in the community, instead.

He tells with pride of his horse "Kate", known affectionately far and wide as the "Doctor's Old Gray Mare". Kate knew the highways and back country trails better than the Doctor and had the distinction one year of pulling Roman Catholic Archbishop J. V. Cleary in an open landeau in March and carrying "King Billy" the same year on the Glorious Twelfth. After 25 years of friendship, rather than service, she was given to a farmer with orders to shoot her when she was 'through'. She died peacefully six years after that.

Many medical cases were not without a sprinkling of humour. The Doctor recalls with much amusement the 'Case of the Strangulated Hernia.' He was called to a patient on Dummer's 9th Line with Dr. Ford of Norwood. After many miles of weary driving they were confronted before getting out of their rig by the man of the family. He wanted to know the cost of the operation in advance. "Not any more than a good funeral", said Dr. Holdcroft in disgust. With the aid of a borrowed oil lamp the operation was successfully performed on the cabin's kitchen table and a bill was tendered many months later for $50. Came the reply:

"I want to bring to mind the charge for the operation on my wife. We heard about you charging so much and you told me in the presence of Dr. Ford that it would not cost me any more than a good funeral and here is the undertaker's figures, $28 to $33. He

Cost To City Per Unit Said Too High

"If the Federal government isn't going to subsidize housing, why should we keep on at it?" was briefly the sentiment of the finance committee of the council Tuesday night as it balked at the prospect of assuming approximately $70,000 of the cost of the new 200-unit housing project.

Mayor William Ovens said Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation, in the agreement submitted to the committee Monday nigh by W. W. Scott, Toronto, representing the Crown company, was placing an unfair burden of cost on the taxpayers of the city and discriminatory conditions unfavorable to private builders in their plans for 1948.

Mayor Ovens' motion, seconded by Ald. Gordon Armstrong, recommending that consideration of the agreement be deferred until this prospective assessment against the city, as a means of obtaining 200 houses, was discussed further with the Corporation.

The $70,000 is arrived at by multiplying $350, the expected contribution by the city in cost of lots and services, by 200. But, it was broadly proposed in the plans first stages that the charge against the municipality would not exceed $600 a house. However, estimates and opinion since then were inclined to the probability that this involvement of the municipality might be held to $350 or $400.

On the other side of this problem is the necessity facing the community of action to get "low-rental" houses. When it turns to the wish for industrial expansion, partly to fill up vacant areas in the new sections of the city, the council encounters objection "you haven't enough houses for the people already living here." Also, when the members think of leaving housing initiative to private enterprise they are unable to find any prospct of new houses going up to rent at $37.50 a month. These factors indicate the position of the council.

The attractive aspect of the Central Mortgage 200-house job is the rental rate. But, the city has to provide the land and also the services. Some of the property is on streets already supplied with sewers and water mains, but others are not.

One-Year Term For Car Theft

Elgie Dunford, 181 Murray St., was sentenced to one year definite and four months indefinite in the Ontario Reformatory, when Magistrate W. R. Philp, K.C., found him guilty of car theft. Judgment had been reserved from Feb. 11, when evidence had been heard.

The magistrate termed as "unreasonable and untrue" the story which the accused had given in his evidence regarding a mysterious third party who had been responsible for the theft, he said.

Magistrate Philp pointed out that the accused, having been proved and admitted to be in recent possession of stolen goods, was required only to raise a "reasonable" doubt as to his innocence. The story in the evidence of the unknown third party's connection with the offence had not done so, the judgment said.

No Puddle-Jumpers On Stewart Street Please, Mr. Commissioner, Our Streets Too?

Street Commissioner James Brugess will have himself to blame if he is stirring up a general demand, now and next winter, for the refinement in snow removal that is being demonstrated on Stewart St., south of Charlotte St.

This is a residential area, distinguishable from the Charlotte and Water business strips. On Stewart St., the street grader swung in on the sidewalk and pushed aside the inner snow ridge which had been thrown up by the sidewalk plow. The walks were as clear of snow, slush and water as the centre of the street.

The improvement eliminates the necessity of pedestrians to engage in the usual display of agile puddle-jumping.

Every spring, from the old town days, sidewalks have been turned into shallow canals at this season or later in March.

Mr. Burgess' sample shows that, by brushing off the curb line crest of snow, the sidewalk water on 40-degrees days goes, too. The street commissioner doesn't get many bows for good work—doesn't look for any—not even after being out in the weather until 1.30 or 2 a.m. last Friday, but the expression "he's got something there" seems to apply definitely to the new sidewalk snow-cleaning technique, especially after the outriders of spring arrive.

Houses With All Lights On Stick Out Like Sore Thumb

The objective of 2,500 horse-power to be saved in Peterborough during the power shortage should be reached, judging by an afterdark survey of the city's business and residential districts. It has become for several months an accustimed sight to see George St. naked of blazing neons or well-lighted fronts. Paradoxically, it takes this darkness to give a real appreciation of how many tube signs there are located along the main commercial district. They hang now, unlit, like so many masses of neatly coiled spaghetti, hardly legible under the street lights.

Another feature of "normal" times also noted by its absence is the lavish spread of lighting in store windows. These nights, speculative shoppers strain, squint and peer closely, nose-to-glass, to make out the goods displayed.

The city policemen regret the necessity for curtailing store lighting. It means more work for them, one of the officers on a commercial district commented. Although he acknowledged the necessity for conservation, he pointed out that store lights are still "the cheapest form of insurance there is."

However, the danger of the darkened premises inviting the attention of those of shady professions is lessened by the fact that stores are permitted to leave burning "protective" lights near the back of the store where the safe or strong-box is kept. This throws a semi-light on much of the premises, making a ransack of the place highly dangerous to enterprising burglars.

Theatre managers are covered by a specific ruling allowing them 2 watts of light per square foot of marquee area. They have had tiny wattage bulbs placed to enable them to keep the number, and at least the illusion of well-lighted premises.

In the residential districts, the citizens showed—or rather, did not show—the amount of light they were saving. On the whole, most of the houses displayed a minimum amount of lights burning. The co-operation has been complete to such an extent that the few exceptions seem to stand out like the proverbial sore thumb.

Several of the offenders appeared, to observers, to be making every effort to run up the highest possible light bill. Unless there were people in every room from the cellar to the attic, the homes were deciddly wasting power.

Water Tanks To Cost $7500

City Engineer Chalmers estimates at $7,500 the cost of two water reservoirs to provide fire protection for the Downer's Corners area at No. 7 Highway and Armour Road. Ald. Dodds suggested at the meeting of the finance committee Tuesday night that this outlay might pay for a considerable stretch of water mains.

"The policy of the Utilities Commission is to lay mains only where they will get sufficient revenue," Ald. Swanston, chairman, said.

It was also said that if the water pipes are laid, the next application would be for sewers. Mayor Ovens undertook to get some definite information about water main costs from the Utilities Commission.

Dismiss Youth In Theft Case

The explanation of the accused was "not unreasonable," said Magistrate W. R. Philp, KC, in dismissing a charge of retaining stolen goods against Murray Nice, 581 Douglas St. Evidence in the case had been heard Feb. 11.

Police testimony was that the accused had been found in possession of a gold compact when he had been searched at the police station while being held on another charge. The compact, it was later stated, had been stolen that night from a purse left in a parked car.

The accused had stated that he had found the compact at a city skating rink, and the magistrate pointed out that this explanation was reasonable, in the absence of any evidence as to his actions on that night.

Fire Dept. Figures Total $110,195, New High Plan To Hire Six New Men

Estimates of the fire department passed the $100,000 mark for the first time in its development as the finance committee of the council looked Tuesday night into the figures presented by Acting Chief George Smith. At the present stage of budgeting, the finance committee likes to lean on the word "tentative," assuming that when they bring the prospective expenditures into sharper focus, something not only definite but especially subtractive is going to be done about it in the cause of retrenchment.

At any rate, first draft of the fire department's requisition amounts to $110,195 and another item of $150,000 will likely have to be allotted to the board of works in its turn.

City Engineer Chalmers' contribution through the board of works added up to $184,000, but the Ontario Department of Highways pays the equivalent of one mill in the tax rate on certain road costs. And one mill this year will raise $33,110. Subtract that gift from the boards of works' estimates and the amount to be paid out of the municipal treasury is $150,890. Still, it should be remembered that these figures are also tentative.

Glancing back at Chief Smith's chapter of the budget, approximately $110,000, the committee paused for a while on the item of salaries which was $80,475.46. The 1947 salary total was $63,000 as anticipated, and the actual payments amounted to $65,285.95.

For the brigade of 39 men, Chief Smith figured the salary total on the current rates of pay. But, the firemen and also, it is understood, the policemen, are asking for an adjustment of salaries according to the 1948 trend, which taxpayers are aware of being upward. Furthermore, the council last year ordered an aerial ladder, delivery of which is expected some time this year. It will require four additional men. Two others who are mentioned for preventive inspection work in a shift of appointment which may possibly come into effect. That would increase the department to 45 men.

Wages Climbing

Hence with increases to the staff plus increase of salary, the $80,475.46, put down by Chief Smith as the estimated salary item for this year, was altered to the round and tentative figure of $100,000. That substantial item in the total of $110,000 suggests that municipal wages are not what they used to be, and also reflects something of the financing and tax-levying chore the council is up against this year.

Down the list of ordinary expenditure, Chief Smith had done his own paring, keeping such essential needs as light and power, laundry, telephones, alarm system, repairs, supplies and so on at the same levels as last year.

The estimated cost of uniforms and overcoats for the present strength of the department was $2,895 as compared with the estimate of $2,000 last year and expenditure of $1,819.36. To buy a suit of clothes for a fireman in 1948 takes something like $60.

The requisition for caps and shirts is up from $300 to $725, and if six additional men are taken on the department their uniforms, caps and shirts will cost around $780. Chief Smith had left the coal bill at $700, but the committee tacked on $50. Among the necessities were 1,000 feet of 2½-inch hose at $1,850; fleet insurance up from $450 to $525 in the Chief's list and advanced by the committee to $650, in the expectation of a higher rate, and including coverage of the new aerial ladder.

The department's appropriations last year amounted to $73,650 and payments totalled $75,794.75.

Who's To Pay For Hospital Drive?

Three jobs for the new Civic Hospital are listed in City Engineer Chalmers' book for this year. They are: gravel driveway, $3,000; storm drains, $7,200; sewer, $6,000. Total, $16,200.

"I think we should notify the Board of Governors that we expect them to pay for the work," Ald. Dodds said.

Mayor Ovens said: "They would like us to do the work, but there has been no intimation about who pays for it. We'll have that point clarified."

Cancer Kills 70 Local People a Year

Society Plan County-Wide Drive To Curb Disease

night for a county-wide "fighting unit" in the battle against cancer, at a meeting of the Peterborough Unit of the Canadian Cancer Society. A nominating committee, headed by Miss Myrtle Sargent, will prepare plans for the annual meeting within the next month, at which it is expected, there will be representatives from all sections of the district.

Mrs. Stewart Cann, secretary, reported that, during the first year of operation of the Peterborough unit, there had been 300 members. Balance at the conclusion of the year's work is $314.26.

James Hamilton, president, reviewed briefly the work which had been done during 1947. He mentioned speakers, distribution of literature, display booths at health exhibits.

Dr. Russell K. Magee of the Civic Hospital emphasized the devastating effect of cancer — deaths due to it during the war years were double those on the field of battle.

He condemned the "it-can't-happen-to-me" attitude of a large portion of the public. Doctors, too, he said, were often at fault, in making incorrect diagnosis of cancer cases.

"The best prevention of cancer is in the management and care of those things which lead to it," he said.

Reviewing briefly the technical nature of cancer, he defined it as a "malignant tumor in any part of the body." Its cause is yet unknown, for certain, he said, although there are several theories. The cancer cells reproduce rapidly and for no apparent reason.

On the question of whether there was a decline in cancer cases, he stated that it was difficult to estimate. More of Canada's population is reaching — and passing — the forty-year mark, beyond which it is most prevalent. He added that more cases were being reported now than in the past.

There is a hereditary factor in cancer, the doctor said, but is not now a dominant one.

The speaker reviewed the early signs of the growth, and stressed the importance of an immediate check if any cancer is suspected.

The audience responded to Dr. Magee's invitation to ask questions. He displayed a cancer which had recently been removed in operation locally.

G. H. Molleken, representative of the Ontario branch of the Canadian Cancer Society, said that it was the intention of the national organization this year to make a dominion-wide survey of all doctors to check their knowledge of cancer and to bring them up-to-date on modern treatment.

He said that the city would be asked to be the center of the anti-cancer campaign for the county of Peterborough, as the county formed a unit of 50-60,000 population. Far-range plans of the Society include the establishment of cancer treatment clinics in units of that size, he pointed out.

Deaths in Peterborough county, he pointed out, have been more than 70 per year almost 6 a month, during the past eight years.

Lindsay Users Told Cut Power Or Face Four-Hour Shutdown

LINDSAY, Feb. 18.—(ENS). — Nearly three hundred persons, manufacturers, merchants and domestics Hydro consumers, attended an emergency meeting called by the Lindsay Hydro-Electric Power Commission in the town hall Tuesday night. J. Lightbody, secretary-manager of the Commission, told the consumers outright they must conserve power voluntarily or have it cut off completely from 10 a.m. to 12 noon and from 4 to 6 p.m. daily. "We are asking manufacturers to cut consumption from 10 to 15 per cent, the domestic user 10 per cent and the merchants 50 per cent," he said. "If this is not done I shall be forced to pull the switch and all power will be cut off in these hours."

Manufacturers and merchants agreed to cut consumption at once, and it was decided to hold a meeting of manufacturers Wednesday to reach an agreement on staggering working hours so they will conform with the Commission's plans.

Mr. Lightbody said there must be a cut in consumption of from 7,000 to 13,000 kilowatt hours per day in the town. To accomplish this he suggested people use their radios less and cut listening by 50 per cent. He suggested firms now closing on Saturdays could help disperse the power load more evenly by shutting down another day instead." "Arrange to cut the power when it suits you, or the Commission will cut it off when it suits them," he declared.

"This meeting was called to give fair warning," the manager continued. "We did not take the same procedure as in Toronto." He said the use of Hydro had increased "tremendously" here in the past two years, and it required the co-operation of every citizen to remedy the situation," he said. He stated firms could help save daylight power by operating more at night.

D. McAuley, representing Allan and Hanbury Co. Ltd., said that firm would co-operate but he did not feel the Commission should threaten to cut power. J. W. Gravestock, manager of the crayon factory agreed. "I don't believe in pulling any switches," he said. "We're not going to have workmen crippled through improper lighting due to power failure."

Postmaster A. R. Warner said the move would cripple post-office machines and interfere with dispatching the mails on time. "There will be no exception made in this matter," replied Mr. Lightbody.

23 Accountants For Chapter

At a preliminary meeting held here recently a group of 23 accountants voted to organize a Peterborough chapter of the Canadian Society of Cost Accountants and Industrial Engineers. A board of directors has been appointed, composed of the following:

R. C. Bastable, Peterborough Lock, chairman; G. Langhorne, A. Wander Ltd., vice-chairman and membership; Stanley Adamson, Canadian General Electric, secretary - treasurer; Gordon Hodgson, Canadian General Electric, attendance; Blake Bell, Quaker Oats, program; G. T. Cheatle, Canadian Nashua Paper Co., publicity; W. H. Toal, public accountant; Arthur Pitchford, Quaker Oats Co.; John S. Grant, De Laval.

The chapter proposes holding regular monthly meetings at which guest speakers will present explanations and new ideas for dealing with the problems of industrial accountants and related phases of business management. The inter-change of ideas among the members and the promotion of studies supervised by the affiliated Society of Industrial and Cost Accountants of Ontario will also help to enlarge the capacity of members so that they can be of greater service to industry and the community.

Next Monday an open meeting is to be held at the YMCA at 8.00 p.m. The speaker for the evening is Mr. M. C. Coutts, RIA, of the Sangamo Co., Ltd., and chairman of the Toronto chapter. The directors of the chapter invite all persons interested in accounting and other business management problems to attend this meeting.

Cannot Reach U.S. Balance During 1948

TORONTO, Feb. 18—Even with the utmost effort there is no hope this year of Britain reaching a balance of payments with America and finding the dollars for the things she must have to survive, G. G. Vincent, director of the United Kingdom Information Office, told the Junior Legue of Toronto at a luncheon meeting here yesterday.

In spite of the fact that her general level of production is 17 per cent above the prewar level, the outlook would be grim but for the prospects of the realization of the Marshall plan, he said.

"Before the war," Mr. Vincent recalled, "Britain was the greatest creditor nation on earth," and of we'd called in all the monies owed us, the world would have had to pay us 100 pounds each for every living being in Britain." Overseas losses alone from the war were 17 billion dollars. Now Britain is the greatest debtor nation in the world, owing as much per head as she had been owed before.

The fundamental ill, according to Mr. Vincent is that world trade is desperately out of gear. Britain has to send goods to countries that are not producing and cannot pay in dollars, while she must buy the things she used to buy from them in the dollar countries. "So the United States credit was used more quickly than was expected, partly because of these continued world shortages and increased United States prices; partly because of our high dollar expenditure in Germany, but mainly because of the slow rate of recovery in Europe and the Far East.

No Totalitarianism

Continued imposition of further restrictions should not be taken as a sign that Britons are becoming fodder for a totalitarian regime, Mr. Vincent emphasized. "If in the gray light of our drab circumstance we look like sheep in doing so, let no man be fooled. We do it with our eyes open, because we feel the need for such self-imposed discipline is there, if we are to get out of the mess, as indeed we will. But we are still free men and women."

In spite of the situation, progress has been tremendous. Export drive figures show an overall 8 per cent rise last year over 1938, and those figures take into account the heavy setbacks of last winter's fuel crisis. Coal is already being exported to a number of countries, steel production is up more than a third over 1938, more than half the ships being built in the world are being made in Britain, chemical exports are up and motor cars are going abroad at two-and-a-half times the rate they did before the war.

"The goods are coming along. We are anxious, desperately anxious to send you all that you will buy, and the only limit, so far as we are concerned, is what we can produce and the extent to which some of that production is already ear-marked for other markets," Mr. Vincent said.

Britain needs Canadian products too, he admitted. "The only limit is the problem of finance. The dollars. As and when we have them, we buy your goods."

Two Pay Fines For Cafe Disturbance

Frederick Delong, 219 Caddy street and Joseph Kelly, 184 Edinburgh street, were each fined $10 and $2.50 costs when they pleaded guilty to creating a disturbance in a Simcoe street restaurant.

Police Inspector James Reid said that the two youths had been "pushing each other around" in the restaurant and had refused to leave when requested. Police had difficulty in bringing them to the station, he added.

George Fox, 220 Wolfe street, was fined $25 and $1.75 costs when his plea of guilty was accepted to a charge that he had failed to file income tax returns for 1945.

Donald Dorsett, 320 Euclid avenue, was fined $4 and $2.50 costs for failing to stop at a red light.

C. G. Collins, 528 Hunter street west, paid a fine of $3 and $2.50 costs for failing to stop at a through street.

Members voted to make recommendations to the Dominion Department of Agriculture and the Department of Trade and Commerce, and a committee was named to take up the matter with the federal government. Jap Hermit Has 2,100 Bride Applications Will Pay Wife 20,000 Yen, Make Her Work

TOKYO, Feb. 18 — (AP). — Ichiro Akimoto, bald 60-year-old hermit of Tokyo, said today he is trying to decide which of 2,100 anxious applicants to make his bride.

Akimoto said he is wavering between an eager 55-year-old woman with 500,000 yen and a 19-year-old geisha.

Other Japanese men seem puzzled over the hermit's appeal. But they appear to accept his boast that 2,100 women have answered his advertisement for a wife. Akimoto boasts also that he eats two dozen rats a month.

"They taste just like chicken," he told interviewers. "I'm not crazy! Why should I pay big prices for food on the black market?"

Akimoto lives in a dingy little house, but makes a handsome profit from his modern, competitive post-war profession: rolling tobacco from cigaret butts into new cigarets.

He said he will settle 20,000 yen on his wife after the wedding, invest 3,000 yen in a business for her, and provide 2,000 yen a month for living expenses. (At official exchange, a yen is worth two cents; in the black market, far less than that.)

He also said he'd throw in a sewing machine (so she can earn more money).

Labor Forces Studying Defence Fund

A "Defence Fund" to combat anti-union activities was mooted Tuesday night at the bi-monthly meeting of the Allied Labour Council.

Mentioned was a coming vote of the International Typographical Union to be held today, proposing a 4½ per cent assessment of total earnings to combat anti-union legislation—particularly such as that similar to the Taft-Hartley Bill in the United States. The setting aside of a "Defence Fund" similar to the typographers proposal and shared by union members, Canadian Congress of Labor and Trades and Labor Congress, was proposed.

It was moved that letters be sent to the local Senators, members of parliament, and labor ministers, both provincial and federal, deprecating any attempt to introduce anti-labor legislation into Canada.

In an attempt to secure the Riverside Park and 'Bowl' for the Labor Day celebrations, it was moved that a letter be sent to the Parks Department of the city requesting this site for that particular date.

A committee was appointed to look into the securing of a vacant room in the basement of union headquarters on George St. to provide a workingman's club. It was felt that this would provide an opportunity for different members to know one another better.

As a contribution to the starving children of Europe and Asia, $25 was voted.

John Beggs was elected treasurer when A. E. Borland resigned.

It was mentioned that the Allied Labor Council wanted the present anti-noise law repealed or amended so it could use loud speakers of a mobile nature that could address large numbers at out-of-door meetings.

Legal Experts Say Parliament Can't Enact Bill Of Rights

OTTAWA, Feb. 18—(CP).—Highlight of the latest legal opinion on the question of a Canadian bill of rights is a majority belief that parliament has no power to enact such a measure. Justice Minister Ilsley tabled in the Commons Tuesday letters in which a provincial attorney-general, a law school dean and a professor of constitutional law submitted that opinion.

The letters are in reply to a Dominion-wide survey by the Joint Senate-Commons Committee on human rights and fundamental freedoms. Some of a similar group of letters tabled before the Christmas recess expressed the same belief that parliament is legally unable to frame a comprehensive bill of rights.

"In my view this is a most desirable development, a development which is really past due. However, no one, I think, will deny that such a development requires the co-operation of the provinces, because it involves the setting up of a process whereby their powers and rights may be modified."

Brings Curtailment.

Prof. Pigeon said that a Federal bill, in trying to secure human rights or fundamental freedoms from interference by the provinces, would "clearly amount to a curtailment of the powers" of the Legislatures.

"The Dominion Parliament would thus assume the power which the British North America Act confers upon the Provincial Legislatures of amending provincial constitutions."

A four letter tabled by Mr. Ilsley was from Attorney-General Wismer of British Columbia, who said most of the matters discussed by the joint committee "are for the most part dealt with and safe-guarded by the common law which is part of the law of this province."

Attorney-General Currie of Nova Scotia, wrote:

'In my view, because of the distribution of subject matters of legislation between the Dominion and the provinces, as contained in the British North America Act, and because a bill of rights would doubtlessly affect both subject matters that belong to the Dominion and subject matters that belong to the provinces, the Parliament of the Dominion of Canada would not be competent to enact (the bill)."

No Such Power

Vincent C. MacDonald, dean of the faculty of law at Dalhousie University, Halifax, said: "I desire to express the opinion that Parliament has no such power."

Louis Philippe Pigeon, professor of constitutional law at Laval University, Que., expressed a similar view and noted that Canada's constitutional evolution "has clearly not kept pace with recent developments in national sovereignty and independence."

"As long as legal power over Canada's constitutional remains vested in the British Parliament, it would clearly be a retrograde step to seek constitutional safeguards of human rights and fundamental freedoms. This could properly be done only by seeking at the same time to evolve a process of constitutional amendment consonant with Canada's situation as a sovereign power.

Dosco Miners Accept 40-Cent Raise

GLACE BAY, N.S., Feb. 18.—(CP).—The 13-man executive board of the United Mine Workers (CCL) District 26 will meet here Feb. 23 to make plans for formal signing of a new contract with Dominion Steel and Coal Corporation. The new contract will call for a daily basic wage of $7.64.

In a district referendum yesterday the union membership voted by an overwhelming majority to accept Dosco's 40-cents-a-day across-the-board increase. Current basic daily proposal for a 55-cent increase which would have been conditional on acceptance of a six-point plan for revision of working conditions in all collieries.

The Board next Monday also will open wage negotiations with the small operators in Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, who usually follow Dosco's lead. Dosco employs the big majority of Maritime mines labor and hoists 87 per cent of the coal mined.

Of the some 9,000 miners who voted, more than 6,000 ballotted for acceptance of the 40-cent offer, about 1,400 rejected both and fewer than 800 plumped for the 55-cent proposal.

The union originally asked for an increase of $1.10 a day.

The contract will be retroactive to Jan. 31 when the old agreement expired.

Dosco already has jumped the price of coal here 40 cents a ton, bringing the rate to $10.60 a short ton with trucking charges of $1.20 a ton extra.

The extension to the present roundhouse is to accommodate the heavier type engines.

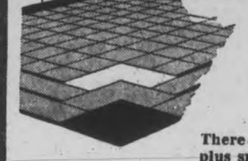
Cobourg Gets Power Cut-off



COBOURG, Feb. 18 — (ENS).—In line with a province-wide program of electric power restrictions, the Cobourg Public Utilities Commission held an emergency meeting yesterday and announced that there would be a current shut-off from 11.30 a.m. until noon each day, commencing February 20. The ruling will be in effect until further notice. It was explained that the shut-off period was timed to coincide closely with the peak consumption period. However, this may shift the time of the peak load. Factories have indicated they will co-operate but many housewives would rather see the shut-off in the late afternoon rather than in the morning when it will interfere with the noon or main meal of the working man.

Fear Many British Theatres Close For Lack Of New Films

By MICHAEL O'MARA

LONDON, Feb. 18—(CP).—Londoners have always been enthusiastic movie-goers, but the last few weeks have proved that their enthusiasm cools rapidly when the entertainment provided consists of revivals of old films. The chill reception accorded to showings of old-timers has cast a shadow along Wardour Street, narrow West-End thoroughfare lined by the offices of most of those connected with the film industry in this country.

They've had a problem thrown squarely at them: How to keep movie-houses filled when Hollywood refused to ship new productions on which it has to pay a 75 per cent. tax? Public apathy to yesterday's pictures indicates they'll have to think up something new.

Distributors have a meagre store of American movies that entered Britain before the tax was imposed last fall. They're releasing them grudgingly—one a week, and sometimes not even that, instead of the old rate of three or four. Unofficial estimates are that the stock will be exhausted by March.

The revivals have been put on with fanfares of publicity but people have stayed away just the same. "Great Expectations," one of Britain's best post-war movies, played to almost empty houses in the West End and suburbs on its second run, and a revival of the popular "Mrs. Miniver" lasted only a few days.

Can't Produce Enough

British movie-makers are doing their best to step up production but they still fall short of the number of pictures needed.

The harassed business men of Wardour Street gloomily predict that large numbers of Britain's 4,700 movie-houses will be closing down by midsummer unless Hollywood finds some way of circumventing the heavy tax.

Their gloom is understandable, for up to now the business has been worth £100,000,000 ($400,000,000) a year. Before the tax, Hollywood took £17,000,000 of that in precious dollars.

London's big West End theatres are the first to feel the pinch. Their prices are higher than in the suburbs and provincial towns, and people apparently won't buy expensive seats for revivals.

"By the end of this month it will be necessary for the number of film re-issues to be doubled, if all the cinemas are to remain open," said The Evening Standard of London in an editorial.

"Experience so far has shown that, with one or two exceptions, no revival can remain in the West End for longer than two weeks, and even then at receipts below average . . ."

Transfer 2,642 From Maritimes

OTTAWA, Feb. 18 — (CP). — Labor Minister Mitchell told the Commons today 2,642 persons were moved out of Nova Scotia in 1947 under his department's policy of transferring unemployed to areas where work is available.

Of the total, he said, 2,354 were men. Through the National Employment Service, 254 went to gold and base metal mines in Northern Ontario, 211 to a nickel refinery, 761 to farm implement plants and the remainder were absorbed by foundries, paper mills, textile mills, other manufacturing and construction.

The 288 women and girls transferred found work in shoe, textile, rubber and food processing plants. Under this plan, transportation and medical examination costs were paid by the Federal Government.

In addition, jobs were found for residents of the Maritimes, individually. Mr. Mitchell estimated 1,200 men and women were thus referred to vacancies offered by employers elsewhere during 1947.

VC Winner Speaks For Red Cross Work

TORONTO, Feb. 18.—Col. Paul Triquet, a Victoria Cross winner who saw the Canadian Red Cross Society work in war, finds its peacetime program "well worthy of the support of all more fortunate Canadians," in a statement supporting the Society's campaign in March for $3,000,000.

Col. Triquet, who was awarded the V.C. in December, 1943, for outstanding gallantry and leadership during the Moro River battle in Italy with the Royal 22nd Regiment, and who now lives in Vancouver, says: "As a veteran, one of the great many who fought to preserve a Christian way of life, by personal regard for the Red Cross is very great. Exports To Argentina Larger Than In 1947

LONDON Feb. 18—(Reuters) Aggregate British exports to Argentina this year are expected to be appreciably larger than last year, it is authoritatively stated in London.

It is tentatively estimated that British exports, including scheduled capital goods and consumers goods which Argentina has agreed to admit, and the value of remittances to Britain will just about balance against Britain's non-food imports from Argentina plus a sum of £5,000,000 ($20,000,000) or more which Argentina can spend from her now "unblocked "A" account.

Argentine railway purchase money is likely to be paid over at the end of this month unless some unexpected delay occurs. Of the total of £150,000,000 ($600,000,000), $110,000,000 will be set aside as Britain's advance payment for Argentine food.

Denies Cars Drain

OTTAWA, Feb. 18.—(CP). — Trade Minister Howe said yesterday in the Commons he would produce figures showing the motor car manufacturing industry in Canada was not a drain on the country's American dollar reserves. Mr. Howe said the three companies manufacturing motor cars in Canada exported more than they imported and therefore did not drain American dollars. Reserves were eaten into, however, by importations of cars made wholly in the United States.

Says Ottawa Losing 500 Million Yearly

TORONTO, Feb. 18.—(CP).—Premier Drew of Ontario last night told the Retail Men's Wear Association the "economic lunacy" of a "brain trust" at Ottawa "is costing Canada a minimum of $500,000,000 a year."

He said increases totalling that amount in foreign capital investments, the tourist industry, and added gold production could be brought about by devaluing the Canadian dollar in the international exchange.

"Before July, 1946 (when the Canadian dollar was brought back to par) $273,000,000 investment capital was coming into Canada from the United States each year," said the speaker.

"This would have been increased to at least $300,000,000 or even $400,000,000 by now. The minimum increase in gold production would be $100,000,000 and the tourist industry would boom by at least $100,000,00. The U.S. tourist, like everyone else, likes to think he's getting an extra 10 cents or so for his dollar."

Great Britain Can Triple Car Exports To Canada

OTTAWA, Feb. 18 — (CP). — Britain can more than triple her current exports of automobiles to Canada under a new quota arrangement, it was shown yesterday in a document tabled in the Commons by Finance Minister Abbott.

The quota provides that Britain—and each of the other non-dollar countries—may ship to the Dominion this year up to $7,500,000 worth of cars. Last year, imports from the United Kingdom in this line were only $2,000,000.

The new quota, effective March 1, replaces the outright ban on the importation of all automobiles into Canada imposed last November 17 as part of the dollar-conservation program.

Announcement of the easing of the ban was made last week by Mr. Abbott, but the British allocation was not made public until yesterday. However, Trade Minister Howe had indicated earlier it woud be considerably above last year's figure.

Mr. Abbott announced the British figure in tabling a memorandum from Trade Minister Howe setting out details of new quotas allocated both dollar and non-dollar countries.

As announced last week by the Finance Minister, the quotas from the dollar countries are heavily slashed from the amounts imported before the embargo.

Canadian purchases of United States-made cars will be cut to about 16 per cent of the 1947 total. Import of automotive parts also is hacked down considerably.

Find Antique Anchor May Belong To Wolfe

OTTAWA, Feb. 18 — (CP). — An antique anchor which may have helped moor General Wolfe's ships off Louisburg, N.S., before his successful attack of the historic port, fell into the hands of the Transport Department today.

Officials here received word that the department's icebreaker Saurel pulled up the old anchor and chain at the end of its own anchor today. The Saurel anchored off Louisburg last night.

Capt. William Poole, master of the icebreaker, informed department officials that the shape of the ancient anchor dates it back to the days of Wolfe.

How a better range-element makes new jobs for Canadians

The original Calrod element consisted of a resistance wire embedded in magnesium oxide, and the whole encased in an iron tube.

In an effort to get faster cooking and longer life, tests were conducted with numerous other metals. These tests showed that tubing of Inconel, an alloy containing 79% Nickel, outlasted all other metals as sheathing for heating elements.

The Calrod element of today consists of a resistance coil of Nickel-chromium alloy inside an Inconel tube. Inconel is strong, rust-proof, and resistant to corrosion by food acids.

Since 1929 when the Calrod element was introduced, hundreds of tons of Canadian Nickel have been used in producing fast, long-lasting elements for electric ranges and other appliances.

This new market for Canadian Nickel was brought about as a result of scientific research. It has created employment for many men in the Canadian Nickel industry.

The expansion of the electrical industry because of better heating elements, has given employment to additional hundreds of Canadians. Thus does research develop better products, create more employment.

Board Of Works Had Overdraft $22,840 In 1947

Peterborough's board of works department spent last year $174,929.34. The city received a road subsidy of $30,739.26 from the Ontario Department of Highway, the amount equal to a mill in the tax rate, leaving $144,190.08 to be drawn from the city treasury.

The financial statement from City Engineer Chalmers to the finance committee of the Council last night showed an overdraft of $22,840.08. In the following examples of estimating and spending the amounts quoted are in order, the Council's appropriation for 1947, the amount spent, and the present estimate for 1948.

Classified as road maintenance Cleaning pavements $12,000, $15,276.81; $14,000; cleaning streets, $3,400, $4,142.97, $4,200; road maintenance, $17,000, $17,632.94, $17,000; pavement maintenance, $400, $1,085.93, $1,000; dust laying, oiling, $8,000, $16,423.40. $16,000; snow cleaning roads, $10,500, $21,209.84, $18,000; sanding roads, $2,000, $4,825.40, $5,000.

Total of 1947 estimates, $53,300, spent, $80,597; estimate for this year, $75,200.

Concrete walks are grouped similarly. The appropriation was $8,600; amount spent, $14,597.19; proposed for 1948, $14,900

Snow cleaning was the largest item in that group. The Council had figured on $3,000 for last year but spent $8,779.99; sanding the sidewalks was allotted $4,000 but cost $5,387.64. City Engineer Chalmers verified to Mayor Ovens his recent observation that snow and sanding had already cost around $40,000 for the winter now nearing its close.

The appropriation for sewers last year was $24,600; the city spent $26,567.68; and the proposed amount for this year is $27,200. Those figures include provision for the maintenance of the sewage disposal plant. It cost $15,785.72 and the appropriation was $16,000.

Here are some more of the details of the Chalmers looking — both-ways statement again in order — 1947 appropriation, amount spent, and estimate for 1948.

Small tools, $150, $364, $500; new equipment, $5,000, $3,878. $10,000; miscellaneous, $10,000. $5,553, $5,000; municipal yard, $3,600, $2,979, $3,000; workmen's compensation, no appropriation, spent $6,209, proposed for this year $6,500; railway crossings, $1,900, $1,324, $1,500; signs and guard rails, $3,900, $4,666, $1,500; creeks and water courses, $500, $1,534, $1,500; weeds and grass cutting, $2,300, $2,525, $2,600.

Nothing was decided by the committee last night. It was content with the cursory scanning of many of the departmental requisitions, and will get down to "serious business," to quote a phrase of Mayor Ovens, next Friday night.

McGillen, who paid tribute to him for the efficient and capable manner in which he has carried on his work during the past four years.

He was delighted, said the speaker, to have the opportunity to address an audience comprised mainly of parents, since "A good home is the best guarantee against mental illness." He further stated that the school helps build character, but only on the foundation laid in the home. He advised the parents in several matters, but particularly not to attempt to live their children's lives. Dr. Kelly's address was so enlightening and instructive that the keen interest of his audience was held throughout. A very gracious vote of thanks was tendered by Mrs. N. McConkey.

The reception was held in the Mount Royal Hotel, after which the bride and groom left for a wedding trip to the Laurentian Mountains to spend their honeymoon skiing. The bride was wearing navy blue tailored suit and hat and a fur coat. They will reside at Deep River, Ontario.

Five Missionaries' Lives Studied By Trinity WMS

WMS of Trinity United Church met Tuesday afternoon in the ladies' parlor with an attendance of 29. President, Mrs. W. T. Fanjoy, conducted the opening worship with Mrs. W. B. Gordon as pianist. Scripture lesson was taken by Mrs. A. Noftall and Mrs. A. Fife led in prayer.

Members were asked to help in the Aid to China clothing fund by bringing cleaned, used clothing for a bale to the March meeting. Mrs. G. Hill, community friendship secretary, reported 20 calls had been made during the month and expressed hope that all members would aid in visiting the shutins. Mrs. H. Martin in her Christian stewardship report, suggested reading the Acts of the Apostles, during the month, devoting more time to religious reading.

Mrs. B. Gordon and Mrs. W. Edmondson gave splendid reports on the recent annual meeting of Peterborough Presbyterial.

Mrs. W. Edmondson, Mrs. A. Stanley and Mrs. B. Gordon presented a chapter of the study book on the lives of Adoniram Judson and his wife, first American missionaries to give the Bible to Burma. Also Wm. Carey, first British missionary to India and Henry Martyn, a chaplain to the East India Company's officials and troops in 1806, and Robert Morrison, pioneer missionary in Canton, China.

The thank-offering meeting will be held on March 16 at 2:30 p.m. with Rev. H. G. Douglas as guest speaker.

Mrs. Maurice Holt outlined the plan for helping Kinsmen with their Horse Show. Reports were given by Mrs. Harry Tewsley, secretary, and Mrs. Allan Wilson, treasurer.

An evening meeting will be held in March at the home of Mrs. Wilson Langan, 550 Aylmer St.

Day of Prayer Program Followed

The Women's World Day of Prayer was observed by 29 members of Springville WMS at the home of Mrs. S. S. Staples, Springville, on Friday afternoon. Mrs. O. Dunford, president, opened the meeting. After a brief business session, Mrs. Harold Rowan, leader of group 2, took charge. The program outlined in the Missionary Monthly was followed and the following led in prayer: Mrs. Dunford, Mrs. Shaw, Mrs. Preston, Mrs. C. Johnston, Mrs. Staples, Miss Tripp, Mrs. J. Whitfield and Mrs. Bothwell. Mrs. Walter Bowles read the scripture. Reports of the Peterborough Presbyterial were given by Mrs. Preston and Mrs. J. Whitfield. A report of Miss Mayowna's address was written for the society by Mrs. Vesee, a delegate to the Presbyterial who was not at the meeting because of illness.

It was voted to give $2 to the Women's Inter-Church Council of Canada.

Lunch was served by the committee.

SCOTCH SPRING FLING—A fairly wee lassie, size 10 to 16, can get about in a bright, fashionable manner in this Spring suit which borrows plenty from the Highlands. The coat is navy, the skirt navy plaided with red or bright yellow, and the matching plaid cape is both reversible and detachable. The short coat buttons high in regimental manner, and is nipped in becomingly at the waist.

Wonderful Year of Activity Shown in YWCA Reports

Mrs. Paige Rowell, president of Peterborough YWCA, was chairman for the 57th annual meeting Tuesday evening in the Green Room.

Rev. Dr. Jas. Semple spoke briefly of the courage and ability shown by the speaker of the evening, Mrs. A. B. Colerick, in looking after girls during the war. Also of the Peterborough YWCA which he described as "an institution in which the residential life is something to be proud of." He then read a portion of scripture and followed with an address to give active minds ample scope for thought.

Taking examples from everyday life he pointed out that no one knows who invented the round wheel, who first used fire, or who was the first man to pry a stone loose with a lever, and in the Bible there is no record of the host's name when the Last Supper was held. "These people, like the writers of many favorite hymns, are listed as "Anonymous" he said. So it is that "No one can set a limit to the amount of good a person can do if he doesn't care who gets the credit."

"If the world is to become secure and livable, it will be done by Anonymous" Dr. Semple said, "and that means you and me, who are a part of the forces making public opinion in the world today." Concluding he said "There is a multitude in this organization who will be "Anonymous" in the annals of the world to come."

The annual report was prepared and read by Mrs. T. J. Carley, vice president. A resume of the detailed reports submitted included mention of the World Youth Conference at Oslo, Norway, attended by Miss Grace Veals, senior girls' work secretary; First National Assembly of "Y" membership at Oolahwan, Quebec, attended by Miss Hazel Wilson, president of the Girls' Council; raising of $703.00 for the World Reconstruction Fund, exceeding the quota of $685.00 by $18.

Regional Conference of Central Ontario associations held in the local YWCA with the Girls' Council in charge and Miss Flora Metcalfe as chairman, visit of Miss Lillian Thompson, National general secretary, who spoke at the annual meeting and also at the opening dinner of the Community Chest campaign; Mrs. Rowell, president, and Miss Leta Brownscombe, secretary, delegates to the annual YWCA meeting in Toronto, where Mrs. Rowell was made member of the Standards Study Commission.

In the local Y she mentioned the residence which is constantly filled, housing 61 business girls and seven members of staff, and serving two meals a day. The building has been made as attractive as supplies, workman and costs will permit through efforts of the repair committee with Mrs. C. Ray as convener.

An increasingly large number of girls are enrolled in the health education department where Miss C. Littlefield is physical director in gym and dancing classes, and Mrs. V. Currie in charge of the swimming department. In the girls' work department, secretaries Miss Grace Veals and Miss Annabeth Reidel, have considerably extended the work among teen age groups and have formed two new groups, also keeping up the older clubs with programs designed for their special interest. The 20 Plus Club and 16-20 Club are under joint supervision of the YM and YW, and the So-Ed also comes in this class. Arts and craft classes are popular, as well as the Outdoor Sketch Club, and the Children's Theatre.

All girls assisted with the World Reconstruction Fund, raising the money by every means from a fashion show to a rummage sale. Board members gave personal donations and were responsible for a large community bridge.

The Y camp at Inglestane, Stony Lake, directed last year by Miss Gertrude Crich of Toronto with Miss A. Reidel, Peterborough, as business manager had an enrolment of 134 girls. At a reunion in December 61 were present and winners received prizes and camp cups from the donor, Mrs. C. G. Collins.

Miss Leta Brownscombe, general secretary of the YWCA, was called upon for comments on the year's work. She expressed appreciation to the president, board of directors and committee members for guidance and help, and to the staff for faithfulness, vision and ability shown in the varied program of activity, saying it had been a wonderful year of accomplishments. "Early in the year it was decided to make this a year of building our YWCA purpose into the life of every group and individual," she said. "To what extent we have succeeded may never be known, but we face another year, confident that, though new problems must be faced, new opportunities welcomed, new methods tried, new people met, the same spirit of friendship and goodwill will carry the association to greater service."

Report of the nominating committee was given by the convener, Mrs. W. R. L. Blackwell, who announced the resignations of, Mrs. A. Moir, Mrs. W. Perks and Miss Margaret Hamilton from the Board of Directors The vacancies were filled by Mrs. Russell Morgan for a three year term, and Mrs. J. S. Cann and Mrs. Dougald Brown for one year each to complete the unexpired terms of the resigning members.

Presbytery Report Given St. Andrew's WMS

Afternoon Auxiliary of St. Andrew's United Church WMS met Tuesday in the ladies' parlor. President, Mrs. F. W. K. Harris, opened with a poem written by Miss J. C. Adams, a nurse who was killed on the Phillipine Islands.

Mrs. E. F. Reid, supply secretary, reminded the members of the need for clothing for a bale to be shipped abroad. Mrs. R. King, delegate to the Presbyterial meeting, had arranged a very fine report. She said the allocation of $1,050 had been passed and the balance forwarded to the building fund for a doctor's home at Bata River, Manitoba. She also told of the interesting address by Miss Louiza Mayowna on her work in Northern Ontario among New Canadians, and of Rev. H. G. Douglas' reminiscences of student missionary days on an Indian reserve.

Mrs. C. W. Holman issued an invitation to all to attend the meeting in the church Wednesday, Feb. 18, at 8 p.m. and hear Dr. Victoria Chiung, Canadian-born Chinese missionary. Mrs. E. Tood favored with a solo and she was accompanied by Mrs. W. A. Henry at the piano.

Devotions were in charge of the M. J. Kerr group. Mrs. M. J. Aiken took the program from the Missionary Monthly on "The Bible for Women of the World" emphasizing the meaning of prayer, and the Bible being a common bond. Mrs. A. Munro related a story of the "Woman of the Book." Mrs. R. Bullock told of the dedication of Namur School in Quebec, and Mrs. F. Langton described work in the WMS, stating the workers exceed the supplies.

Task of Younger Women To Step From Homes And Promote Better World

"The future is dependent on the vision, courage and purpose of younger leaders in YWCA" said Mrs. Allan B. Colerick Tuesday evening in an address following the annual meeting of Peterborough YWCA, held in the Green Room. As an executive member of the World's YWCA Council, who leaves shortly to attend a conference in Geneva, and a member of National Board, who has been chairman of various committees concerned with welfare of industrial girls, she spoke on "The YWCA and the world today."

Whether the outcome of the next 25 years will be peace and good will is based on everyone sharing in attaining that goal she told the members. "Since two women of England stepped from their homes at a time of national need during the Crimean period and started a little group where women met for guidance and prayer, the thread of concern for women through the YWCA has not been broken" Mrs. Coledick pointed out.

At first the YWCA was a residence for girls away from home but has grown to be also a meeting place for groups, with more and more University trained leaders to assist them. "We care where women live and where girls are going, and we care about the opinions of each person and the pooling of these for the common good" she said. "When Peterborough YWCA over - subscribed their allocation to the World Reconstruction Fund they showed the girls of Europe that they cared giving them faith and confidence. Those girls who have suffered so much during the war, hunger not only for food, but for love and friendliness" said Mrs. Colerick. "The hardest task in the world to come is wrestling with confusion and despair until we have worked through this revolutionary period."

"The YWCA is the largest international group of women and girls, not because of money—YW's never have money—and not for material things. It is simply made up of people who have hearts that love others and devote themselves to practising Christian actions. They have taken the pattern given by Jesus and now is the time to make it bear fruit. People of 69 countries are looking to the YWCA to go forward in helping to build a new world." Mrs. Colerick believes it will not be done by power or justice, but by giving the world one God and one standard of living.

Explaining why the last World Council meeting was held in China, though the plan was greatly criticized because of heavy expense, Mrs. Colerick said their purpose was to take strength and Christian love and guidance to

Of Interest to Women

Custom of Buying Wife With Cattle Disappearing

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa, Feb. 18 (CP).—As natives take more and more to town life, old tribal customs — including the payment of "lobola" (payment of cattle) by a prospective bridegroom to the bride's father — are falling into disuse.

L. I. Venables, manager of the non-European affairs department of the Johannesburg city council, said in an interview that the reasons for this were the lack of parental influence on natives in the townships near Johannesburg, and economic circumstances.

"The system of lobola is not observed in the old tribal way, and in the majority of cases no substitute payments are made to the girl's parents," said Mr. Venables.

It has long been a custom among natives, particularly Zulus, to make payments of cattle to the head of the family according to his tribal status. The rule was the lobola varied from ten head of cattle for an "ordinary" wife to about 100 for a chieftain's daughter.

Mr. Venables explained that in recent years a new type of union, known as the Johannesburg form of marriage, has grown among the natives. Those who adopt it simply live together. Sometimes they paid lobola in the form of money, and sometimes they make promises about the payments but rarely fulfil them.

Affects Family Life

"This new development is an unfortunate one, and has serious repercussions on family life among the natives," said Mr. Venables. "The man very rarely recognizes his responsibility towards the woman and her offspring, and when this happens the women ofter forsake their children, with the result that there is a certain amount of anarchy among native children on the Rand."

Rand natives also engage in two other forms of marriage.

One is known as a marriage by civil rights, the ceremony being performed by a marriage officer duly appointed by the government. Under this system lobola is known as customary union, and although regarded as legal it is not necessary for a native to renounce polygamy.

Mr. Venables added, however, that because of economic circumstances polygamy was fast disappearing from native urban life.

DOROTHY DIX . . . .

OLD PEOPLE
Many Young People Find It Difficult To Talk To Cultivated Elders

◇ ◇ ◇

DEAR MISS DIX: Recent I attended a party given in honor of my young daughter. Most of the guests were young marrieds. A friend who was visiting me went with me. She is in her late fifties, beautifully groomed, beautiful manners, and handsomely dressed. She is well known. In fact, is a celebrity. But the young people, after being introduced, didn't bother to notice her at all.

Dorothy Dix

Later I spoke to my daughter about it. She said: "Why Mother, she is old! Who wants to be bored with an old woman? No one nowadays has any time for older people, so why bother? We have nothing in common. Just read any newspaper or magazine that says anything about older women and you will see what I mean."

Now here is my question: When these young people get old themselves, won't this propaganda which is being poured into them now, kick back and create a dreadful complex, making them feel unwanted, not admired and completely unnecessary?

E.K.R.

ANSWER: Naturally the bobby-soxer and the sophisticated woman of the world would bore each other to tears because they have nothing in common. The teenagers' idea of making themselves attractive is to be always on the go, jump around like a monkey an a stick, talk a jargon without sense or meaning or wit, and scream the loudest. Hence, their style is cramped when they are brought into contact with older people who are educated and cultivated and travelled and who have observed life in many places for many years.

Youngsters Stricken Dumb

Naturally, when these youngsters are stricken dumb when in the company of their cultivated elders, it is very disheartening to their parents, who feel that they have wasted much money and effort in trying to educate those who refuse to take an education. But fathers and mothers should not take this phase of their children's development too seriously. In a little while they will outgrow their uncouthness, for time and friction with other finds polish even the roughest diamond.

Your fear that these young people who are so bored with old people now will be punished by being unwanted and undesired when they are old, is unfounded. God's consolation prize to age is that old people always think that they know more than anybody else and that their opinions are always infallible, and that the young, especially, hang upon their words.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: My husband and I love each other very dearly, but we are always arguing and fighting over foolish little things—never over big, important things. But in the end we always kiss and make up. I have been on the point of leaving my husband many times, but I have stuck it out for the sole purpose of holding my home together for my two little girls.

What do you think of my situation?

FOREVER GRATEFUL.

ANSWER: Dubious. Any marriage that depends upon the mood and temper of a husband and wife who are forever quarrelling and making up is held together by a very flimsy string that may snap at any moment. You may think that a kiss blots out all the animosity that underlies a domesaic brawl, but it does not. Long after you have forgotten the kiss the memory of the cruel things that you said to each other festers in your heart. In reality, there is no such thing as forgiving and forgetting. So if you can so easily make up after a fight, why have the fight? Why not live together in peace instead of always patching up a quarrel?

I thing a woman who has small children and who is dependent on her husband for their support should endure a great deal of harsh treatment from her mate before she gets a divorce. She owes that much obligation to the helpless little creatures she has brought into the world.

DEAR MISS DIX: We are two identical twins, 16 years old, and we are both in love with the same man. This man leads us on. One day he acts like he loves one of us. The next day he declares he loves the other one. Neither of us feels she can drop him, yet our sisterly love continues. What shall we do?

ANSWER: You are so young you don't know what love is. You are not in love with the man; you are in love with love. The sooner you drop the illusion, the better for you. He bodes you no good.

SOMETHING NEW AFOOT—Prettiest revival for many a long season is that for the slightly tinted stocking of sheerest gossamer weight, in the lovely nylon which makes a veil of hosiery possible. Chronologically, the originals of these colored hose, far heavier and less subtle of necessity, came along shortly after the Gibson Girl went out after her original fashion sway; it is interesting to see how often fashion, if not history as they insist, repeats itself smack on schedule. But to return to today's colored hose, they are fifteen-denier nylon, and of face powder softness in tint . . even if green or blue is the color. In this picture, a Carnegie printed frock with a hazy blue backkround is complemented with face powder blue hose. You will find the hazy green stockings wonderful with any beige frocks or soft suits.

Pert Dancer Trains McGill Chorus Line

MONTREAL, Feb. 18 (CP). — Busiest co-ed at McGill University these days is 24-year-old Moira Wedderspoon, dance director of the college's annual show, the Red and White Review.

In addition to part-time work to supplement her savings, and her studies as a fourth-year arts student, Miss Wedderspoon spends her free time training a chorus line of 16 attractive young ladies to rhumba, samba, and tap dance —a job for which she's well qualified.

Born in Yorkton, Sask., the death of her father sent her at the age of eight to live with relatives in Scotland, where she studied all forms of dancing.

Back in Canada in 1940 she finished collegiate in Ottawa and went into government work as a secretary. Her work took her from the National Film Board there to the Canadian Wartime Information Board in New York and back to the Department of External Affairs in Ottawa. Her evenings were devoted to dancing in troupe shows; her earnings she saved for college.

Pert, petite and cute enough to be in the chorus line herself, Miss Wedderspoon is a veteran of the last two college Revues in which she did solo work. But despite her love for dancing, after graduation she want to do newspaper or advertising work. She'll continue dancing just as a hobby.

Quebec Debates 3 Million Housing Loan

By The Canadian Press.

The Quebec Legislative Assembly yesterday debated a $3,500,000 housing loan measure after Premier Maurice Duplessis said his government was prepared to "go the limit" to settle the housing problem but beforehand wanted reasoned views on all angles of the question.

A commission investigation into housing already has been provided for by other legislation. It will cover means of obtaining building materials, possibility of reducing their cost, the question of labor and the availability off property.

The housing loan plan would authorize Quebec credit unions and lending agencies in the province to make 30-year plans amounting up to $6,000 for one family dwelling augmented by $4,000 for each additional family unit in a new house. The loans would cover up to 100 per cent of the value of a new dwelling and would bear interest up to 5 per cent.

In the Saskatchewan Legislature A. W. Embury (armed services) attacked Provincial Government soldier-settlement policies. He charged that the government dominated veterans' cooperative farms and the veteran-settlement tract at Carrot River in North-eastern Saskatchewan.

Premier Angus L. Macdonald of Nova Scotia announced that the 1948 session of Nova Scotia Legislature, featuring ceremonies to mark the province's 100th year of responsible government, will open March 2.

Setting of the Nova Scotian opening date followed announcements that the New Brunswick Legislature will meet March 2 and the Prince Edward Island Legislature February 24. The Ontario Legislature will assemble March 3.

A WINTRY FRAME—Ol' man Winter has cloaked this Saskatchewan farmer's home with snow and frost, giving it an ethereal look. Farmers on the plains are encouraged to plant "shelter belts" of hardy trees, which have an important job to do in the matter of prevention of soil drifting. Wind erosion during the dry thirties did a great deal of damage to land on the Saskatchewan plains.

Victoria County Hogs Were Better In '47

LINDSAY, Feb. 18—(ENS)—In Victoria County 44,059 hogs were marketed in 1947 as compared to 36,959 in 1946, and 36,317 in 1945. The increase in 1947 over 1946 was nearly 20 per cent.

"Perhaps the most encouraging feature of this report is the fact that hogs from Victoria County showed a big increase in quality during the last year, standing in third place for the province," said M. H. Winter, local agricultural representative commenting on a hog marketing survey.

Of the total number of hogs marketed, 43.9 per cent were of "A" quality, as compared with 42.1 per cent the previous year.

"Our farmers are to be congratulated on this high standing," Mr. Winter pointed out.

AUCKLAND, N. Z. (CP)—Here's a fish story about a man who landed a fish, but didn't get it after all. The fisherman caught a striped marlin and left it on the dock while he went for a camera. When he got back, children had cut up most of his fish for bait.

Silver Ethiopia

STOCKHOLM. (CP)—A magnificent set of church silver, consisting of 24 chalices and as many patens, or wafer dishes, have been executed for Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia by a firm of jewelers here. The pieces, made of gold and silver brought from Ethiopia, are to be donated to various churches in that country.

Refuse To Establish Time Limit For Dollar-Saving Program

By GEORGE KITCHEN

OTTAWA, Feb. 18—(CP). — The Commons made limited progress yesterday in its clause-by-clause study of the Government's currency-conservation bill, backbone of the dollar-saving program, and turned aside a Progressive Conservative attempt to pin a time limit on the contentious legislation. By a standing vote of 40 to 29, the Chamber rejected an amendment by Harry Jackman (PC—Toronto Rosedale) which would have provided that the measure expire 15 months after it comes into force.

Finance Minister Abbott explained that many of the tariff and other regulations embodied in the bill were in the nature of "budget" changes and it was essential that no advance notice be given of their removal.

At the same time, the Minister himself made several minor changes in sections dealing with ministerial powers to meet Opposition objections that his powers under the Act would be too broad.

He also amended, at Opposition request, a section dealing with offences and penalties to limit prosecutions to persons who "knowingly" commit an infraction under the Act.

All the clauses had been passed at the adjournment hour, but as the tariff schedules forming the substance of the bill were reached, CCF members served notice that they planned to seek elimination of items in the schedule of prohibitions which ban the importation of fresh fruits and vegetables.

External Affairs Minister St. Laurent indicated Canada will accept her full share of responsibility in any action taken by the United Nations security council to implement the partition of Palestine or avert further bloodshed there.

Mr. Howe said much of the "positive" side of the conservation program was aimed at making Canada independent of the U.S. in the manufacture of parts.

Reconsider Kerosene

Mr. Abbott promised to consider requests to permit the entry of kerosene refrigerators used by farmers in areas where there is no electricity. Some 15 categories of items already have been shifted from the prohibited to the quota list.

He also said he would look into the cases of persons suffering from high blood pressure and diabetes who claimed that fresh fruits and vegetables, now banned, were essential to their diets.

Revenue Minister McCann entered the debate briefly to report that his department had hired 250 extra employees, 100 of them women, to help enforce the regulations across the country.

Donald Fleming (PC—Toronto Eglinton) charged that the government had broken a "solemn undertaking" last year by Justice Minister Ilsley that the government would not use the foreign exchange control board action for purposes other than to restrict the movement of certain types of capital.

Mr. Abbott said there had been no solemn undertaking, merely a statement.

Defence Minister Claxton Urges 20 PC Officers Come From 'Ranks'

OTTAWA, Feb. 17. (CP)—Defense Minister Claxton told the Commons today that it is hoped that "as many as 20 per cent of the officers in the Canadian armed services will be selected from the ranks."

The former battery sergeant-major of the First Great War was reviewing for the House arrangements for officer training.

He said that officer cadets from the ranks will attend either the Royal Military College at Kingston, or Royal Roads at Victoria, or will go to universities at government expense.

Another educational scheme of importance is the institution of language training, Mr. Claxton continued.

"The army is putting into effect French classes in every command and training centre. At headquarters 178 officers are taking voluntary French courses."

Maj.-Gen. G. R. Pearkes, VC (PC, Nanaimo), asked Mr. Claxton if there is any obligation for officers who are trained at RMC, Royal Roads or universities under the services plan, to join the active force.

The minister replied that they are free to join either the active or reserve forces.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

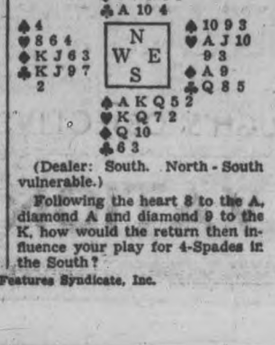
HOW IS IT BETTER?

WHEN your hand has not been bid at all, there are two contrasting ways in which it can be better than your partner would normally expect—offensively and defensively. If it has a bit of high card strength, or length in the opponents' suit, it is better defensively. If it has length in your partner's suit, with shortage elsewhere, it is better offensively. In the latter case, if it also is lacking in high cards, you are in an ideal spot to take out a business double by him.

(Dealer: South. East-West vulnerable.)

South	West	North	East
1 ♠	Pass	1 ♥	3 ♠
4 ♥	Pass	Pass	Dbl
Pass	4 ♠

At two duplicate tables, the bidding was exactly as given, except for one difference. West in one case left in the double of 4-Hearts and in the other he made the take-out of the business double into 4-Spades as indicated.



Note how West's hand fulfills the exact prescription for such a takeout. He has a hand which appears utterly worthless on defense, and so can't be expected to aid in it to the extent of even a single trick. He has, however, a holding which is far from worthless in support of spades, with his four trumps and his two doubletons, to say nothing of the possible value of his five clubs. Furthermore, with his side vulnerable, a game for it would mean so many points that poor consolation would come from setting the not-vulnerable opponents unless by at least four tricks.

Where the 4-Spades takeout was made, East scored his game, losing tricks to the diamond K and A and an over-ruff of the third diamond. The balance of the play was quite simple for East, who used his diamond Q to discard the heart 5 and ruffed his heart Q and 9 without risking a loss of the heart finesse.

The 4-Hearts contract was set only one trick, East and West getting one in spades and three in trumps. That produced a measly 100 points instead of the value of game.

* * *

Tomorrow's Problem

(Dealer: South. North - South vulnerable.)

Following the heart 8 to the A, diamond A and diamond 9 to the K, how would the return then influence your play for 4-Spades in the South?

Heavy Advertising Forecast For 1948

James R. Knox, of Maclean's Magazine, addressing members of the Sales and Ad Club at the Kawartha Club Tuesday evening said a survey indicates 43 per cent of the big advertisers in Canada will spend more on advertising in 1948 and 33 per cent will spend at least as much as they did in 1947.

His talk dealt with the history of advertising and its growth in methods, technique and importance down through the years. He stressed the importance to retailers of handling brand names and tying in their local ads with those of the national advertisers.

Touching on the important points to remember in laying out an ad he said: "Be consistent and advertise regularly whether the ad is large or small; insist on simplicity; make the series of ads interesting; make them readable; use lots of white space; use an open layout; keep copy brief; use distinctive borders.

He dealt at length on the importance of the retail clerk in any selling enterprise, and said thousands of dollars worth of business walk out the doors every day because the clerks are not doing a job.

The speaker was introduced by Mr. George Howson, and the thanks of the club was voiced by Herbert Jamison. Ted Weir was in the chair. Frank Stinson won the booster prize donated by Harry Silver, and one new member, Harry Van Atter, of Canada Packers, was introduced.

says he can conduct a good decent funeral for those figures.

"I understand you charged me the full amount of the operation and after attendance did not do anything only operate. Dr. Ford done the attendance after and gave the chloroform, too, but rather than have any trouble about it, I will give you $5 more."

On the strength of this, the Doctor got his Irish up and advised the quibbler that if he did not settle in full, there would be court action.

It was paid in full, alright, but not without a parting shot which read as follows:

"Find $20 enclosed for the balance on operation. Sir, anybody that would read your letter sent to me the other day would know there was no gentleman about you. I would call you a d——d hog only you have not got the brussels."

Some people would "blow off" at such accusations, others might turn to drink but Dr. Holdcroft found a balm for his soul in fishing. A year after he settled in Havelock, he built a cottage on an island on Lake Kashabogamog, where his wife and three growing sons spent two months each summer and himself a full four weeks. He and his boys probably know "Kosh" better than anyone. Early in the 1900's he started stocking every stream within 12 miles of Havelock with Government trout fingerlings, all except one. This, known as Belapraine Creek, he has leased from the farmer-owners until the present day as his private trout stream. It was here that Mrs. Holdcroft caught a four-pound two-ounce squaretail speckle, a challenge yet to be beaten.

Every day in trout season, from the time he arrived in Havelock, the Doctor gets up before the birds and fishes the country streams. "It's not the fish you catch, but the fishing," he says. "You get to know nature at first hand which is the main appeal of it all."

His creed for a worthwhile life is to be honest with one's self, regardless of consequences. He has been driving cars since 1911 and when the writer apologized for wasting his time in driving him to the station, he was told to "get in and be quiet". And there is the nub of the man, to the point, take it or leave it. He is as full of fun as his parents from Northern Ireland and has five generations of Havelock people who call him their physician and friend.

Jury Locked Up During Night

All the evidence was heard in the case of Clayton Eason, 19, charged with rape, in the Peterborough Spring Session of the Supreme Court of Ontario, Tuesday afternoon.. The court adjourned at 4:30 p.m. and the jury locked up for the night. The case was resumed Wednesday morning when both counsel for defence and the Crown Attorney will address the jury.

Dr. C. M. Scott testified that he had been the family physician of the plaintiff's mother for some years. He said that on examination of plaintiff it was clear that intercourse had taken place.

Miss Verda Taylor Vincent, analyst for the Attorney General's department said that she had made tests of a smear on a slide, supplied through the Provincial Police by Dr. Scott. The tests were positive.

Accused admitted that he had taken the plaintiff for a ride in his car after taking her from a dance hall on the night of Jan. 15. He also admitted that he refused to take her directly home, even after her pleading with him to do so, and when asked by the Crown why he stopped his car at a lonely part of the highway, and turned the lights off he again admitted that he had intentions on the plaintiff.

Eason, it was apparent, felt his position very keenly, and time and time again he was ordered to speak up. He told both the Crown and the lawyer for his defence, Mr. W. J. Arthur Fair, that at no time did plaintiff resist his attentions.

The Stars Say

By Genevieve Kemble

For Thursday, February 19

UNDER greatly accelerated faculties and forces, this should prove to be a day of exceptional production and achievement in the direction of launching most advanced aims, as well as practical objectives. Initiative, aggressive action, quick grasp of underlying factors and prospects, should be decisively and definitely moved to spectacular heights spurred by alert and shrewd mentality, astute and ready to pounce on the golden opportunity. Bright plans and keen manipulation should attract and secure the heart yco-operation of those in high places. Honors and distinction mark the climax.

If It Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may anticipate a year of conspicuous achievement, urged to high goals of very ambitious as well as practical plans and programs, by quick grasp of opportunities. The mentality is particularly clever and alert, and the energies splendidly stimulated for bold strokes and dramatic coups. The happy combination of forces and faculties is bound to attract the capital and genuine endorsement of influential personages, with place and honors the final outcome. Swift change and clever moves may be expedient.

A child born on this day is splendidly blessed with a keen, versatile and alert grasp of the main chance, with skill and ingenuity assuring support and honors from high places.

Task Of Younger

the east, showing them that their problems were shared by others. She said that in Japan the YWCA building now houses the army, but little groups are springing up all over the country as the women search for a Christian meaning, knowing that every day some of their members will fall dead by the wayside from hunger. The spirit of YWCA lives in their hearts giving them hope for a better world full of love and faith.

"It is not easy to be a YWCA worker" Mrs. Colerick told her younger listeners. "You work hard, but you never know, when you enter the door, what is ahead" and she cited her own position as an example. Having a modest beginning with the YWCA in St. Catharines, she went on to give leadership to girls' groups because of her personal concern for them, and was also District Commissioner for the Girl Guides. During the war she chaired the Farm Service Force Department, giving vision and enthusiasm to the girls, remembering that she wanted to work at Grimsby during the first war. From the history of YWCA which goes on sale this year, covering 50 years of international service, it will be seen how girls throughout the world receive guidance from the time they first enter swim or gym classes, then seek responsibility of office and finally become heads of clubs. The task of improving the world today is falling to the girls who are leaders in YWCA work. By caring and sharing they will bring peace of mind to countless women."

Will Strand Trial In Murder Case

LONDON, Feb. 18. (Reuters)—Donald George Thomas, found in a London boarding house yesterday after thousands of police had engaged in a five-day manhunt, today was charged with the murder of police Constable Nathaniel Edgar.

Mrs. Noreen Winkless, who was living with the 23-year-old Thomas in a southwest London boarding house, was allowed to go home after questioning. The woman, publication of whose picture led police to the boarding house hideout, was taken into custody along with Thomas yesterday.

Thomas will appear in court tomorrow.

Edgar was shot and killed last Friday night while engaged on anti-burglary patrol in Southgate, a north London suburb. He was found dying after he had challenged a man.

Two people told police they had seen the gunman running down the road.

Meantime in a neighbor's house in the south London borough of Camberwell, the woman's husband, Stanley Winkless, awaited his wife's return. He said he has not seen her for three weeks.

"I want to make a fresh start with her," Winkless told reporters. "She is a good mother and devoted to her children."

15-Year-Old Girl Killed By Boy Friend

INSINGER, Sask., Feb. 18 (CP)—Mrs. Polly Pindus, the mother of 15-year-old Rosie Pindus, who was shot and killed at their farm home near here yesterday, was treated at a Yorkton hospital last night for head injuries she said she received when Frank Prokop, the alleged slayer, hit her with a rifle and a chair and later killed himself.

Mrs. Pindus told police she was at the hen house on her farm, 40 miles northwest of Yorkton, when Prokop, a 20-year-old neighbor who had been keeping company with her daughter, visited the house. Hearing a shot, she went inside to investigate and Prokop struck her, she said.

Police said Prokop, then apparently borrowed a rifle and shot himself fatally.

Health Forces Councillor To Quit

COBOURG, Feb. 18 — (ENS). —Councillor Fred Bell announced yesterday that he would resign shortly from the town council on the advice of his doctor who warned that he must avoid all undue strain. Councillor Bell is recovering from an illness, involving his heart, which he suffered last Christmas.

"I appreciate the honor and responsibility bestowed upon me by the electors but I feel that I could not devote the energy to the job of town council that I should, on account of my health, and I am accordingly resigning so that I can be replaced by someone whose health will not be a handicap in the performance of his duties," Councillor Bell said.

The executive will be named at the March meeting, from the total of 30 members.

Farm Federation Plans Aid To Children of Europe

W. W. Dawson, president, Norman McConkey, vice-president, and John Kitney, secretary, were appointed a special committee by the Federation of Agriculture last night to arrange for a canvass for funds in aid of children in Europe. They have authority to select other members to assist them.

The appeal is sponsored by the Canadian Federation, and is being made through the various commodity groups. It is thought that there may be county residents not members in these groups, and it is for their canvass that the special committee was appointed.

A resolution by Wesley Bell requests the federal department of Agriculture to "speed up" a T.B. re-test of the cattle of the Peterborough area.

The Federation decided to hold its picnic in June this year instead of August. The program will be similar to that of last summer with a judging competition and exhibits of home craft products and school work. The announcement is made now to provide ample time for the women of the county and the school children to prepare their exhibits.

Milton Clark and Fred A. Eason were appointed to choose a committee to reorganize the beef producers of the county. They have power to name delegates to a provincial meeting.

Mrs. Herb McFarlane and John Kitney were appointed representatives to the Dental Public Health body.

The Peterborough contribution to the Ontario Federation was assessed at $591. Payment of this sum was authorized last night, an increase from the grant of $500 last year. The provincial budget has been set at $51,000, and county groups are being asked for proportional support.

Organization of the cream producers is another of the projects on the Federation program. The leadership is being left to Reeve James Gifford of Ennismore who was not present last night.

Tried Extortion 3 Under Arrest

TORONTO, Feb. 18. (CP) — George Miloff, 19, Joseph Adams, 20, and Samuel Adams, 32, today were remanded in custody to Feb. 25 on charges of attempted extortion of $10,000 from Michael Blidner.

Magistrate R. L. Browne refused bail for Joseph and Samuel Adams, but said he would discuss the matter with Crown Counsel A. O. Klein later.

The charges arose out of a series of threatening telephone calls allegedly made to the home of Blidner. Blidner, part owner of the Dominion Fruit Company, said repeated telephoning demands had been made, asking him to pay $10,000 or suffer the consequences. Firing of a rifle bullet through an upstairs window followed one demand.

The final call was made a week ago when Blidner was ordered to pay $5,000. Police said this call provided them with the clue which led to the arrest of the men.

HISTORICAL NOTE

At last, their secret is out. The paternal origin of those haughty parking meters has been dragged into public view.

This discovery was made this morning, beside one of the meters on Water street. A fine old horse, bearing his years of wisdom with dignity, sauntered up to one of the imperious posts and, with a movement borne of knowledge, casually nudged his lead-rope next to the meter standard.

No more can the meters boast of their mechanical ingenuity.

They are nothing but glorified hitching posts.

Fire Protection Stressed By Grand Jury

Recommendations on fire prevention and fire protection were the main features of the findings of the Grand Jury when their report was submitted to The Honourable Mr. Justice Wells, this morning.

The Grand Jury made their inspection of various public institutions Monday, Feb. 16, and the following is the main portion of the report submitted to His Lordship.

Due to the fact that there have been so many fires in public institutions in the last month with a resulting heavy loss of life and property damage, we the Grand Jury recommend that proper authorities make a thorough inspection in the City and County of Peterborough with regard to fire prevention and fire protection and proper fire exits and escapes. The county gaol, was visited and found generally satisfactory. We feel that some thought should be given to supplying heavier clothing so that the prisoners get outdoor work in the winter months.

House Of Refuge

We wish to commend the management on the cleanliness and general condition of the House of Refuge.

We recommend that fire doors be equipped with self-closing devices, that all windows leading to fire-escapes should have panic bolt hardware and that further fire-doors be installed at certain strategic points. We also recommend that electric wiring be inspected by competent authorities and thought be given to installing wall switches.

While dormitories are clean and comfortable, thought might be given to brightening up the rooms with window drapes and pictures.

We checked the boiler room and recommend that the smoke breeching of the boiler be replaced. We also recommend that the refrigerator compressor be either moved or protected to eliminate the draught and noise in the men's dining room.

The Anson House

The Anson House is in wonderful condition, bright and cheery and we wish to commend the management.

We recommend that action be taken to improve the fire escape system and that quick releases be placed on all doors to replace buttons and nails.

House Of Providence

This house is in good condition and well managed, however the fire escape system is inadequate and two exits are blocked by beds.

In all the institutions visited in case of a fire in the main halls and a number of the occupants would be blocked off from the present fire escapes, and we recommend that this situation be remedied. All of which is respectfully submitted, Wilbert A. Davidson, foreman of the Grand Jury.

Alberta Hospital Claims It Cures Problem Drinkers

EDMONTON, Feb. 18—(CP)—The only hospital of its kind in Canada — and possibly on the entire continent—is operated by the Edmonton chapter of Alcoholics Anonymous.

It will be two years next July 16 since the Alberta government bought a large nine-room house in the central residential section and leased it to the Edmonton AA chapter for a three-year period at a nominal rate of $1 a year.

Since the chapter was formed in Edmonton in the summer of 1945, Premier E. C. Manning has been impressed with the reports he has received about the work of the A.A. Others in the cabinet—Works Minister W. A. Fallow in particular—also were impressed. It was through Mr. Fallow's department that the deal for a chapter house and hospital was financed.

A.A. members wished chiefly to obtain offices and clubrooms for regular meetings. But the idea the place would also serve as a hospital for alcoholics soon found favor.

Three well-furnished bedrooms, each containing two beds, were set aside. Soon the "patients" began to come in. Though the undertaking was not a large one, scores of alcoholics have been been admitted and discharged since the chapter house began functioning.

Those admitted for hospital care are, so far as can be ascertained in advance, are only those who sincerely desire to quit the liquor habit through the psychological and spiritual therapy afforded by A. A.

In principle, no one is refused admittance. No attempt is made to treat those seriously ill with acute alcoholism. Any such cases are received by the regular city hospitals after examination by physicians indicate they are serious.

Medical Examination.

Everyone admitted to the chapter house is examined by a doctor called in by an A.A. officer or a member of the three-man house committee.

Two non-member physicians, Dr. C. F. Connolly and Dr. Kenneth Hamilton, always are ready to lend a helping hand. The housekeeper is Mrs. Gertrude Flintoff, a practical nurse.

Main objective of the hospital treatment is to allow the sufferer to rest until his physical condition has improved sufficiently to enable him to absorb the basic teachings of the A.A. Only the true alcoholic or problem drinker is admitted to the chapter house hospital.

"Controlled" social drinkers who perhaps get a bit too rowdy on occasion are not encouraged to use the A.A. house as a hideout until they sober up.

When a patient feels well enough to return to work or to his family, a house committee member hands him a bill. He is told the chapter expects to be paid if and when he can spare the money. The hospital care is provided at actual cost.

Every effort is made to hold the patient's interest in the practise and policy of A.A. Top officials of the movement claim that 75 per cent of all who join sincerely wishing to quit drinking "make the grade" and live happy, useful and sober lives thereafter.

Officials here say the hospital care provided by Edmonton chapter is proving successful. Chapters here and in the United States are watching the experiment with keen interest.

Liaison Men Under Arrest

SEOUL, Korea, Feb. 18—(AP)—The United States army reported today that two of its liaison officers were manhandled and placed under temporary arrest at Pyontyant in Russian-occupied North Korea.

They were trying to watch a parade of the newly-disclosed North Korea people's army.

They were Maj. Daniel G. Costello and Maj. Richard C. Biggs.

A spokesman for United States occupation headquarters said the incident occurred Sunday. The Americans were taken in custody of the Korean constabulary while Russian officers looked on. The two were released unharmed—and without explanation—about 30 minutes later.

An American spokesman said Costello and Biggs were trying to find a place near the reviewing stand to see a parade "marking the second anniversary of the founding of the North Korean people's republic."

Halifax Leaders Alarmed As City Now Ghost Port

HALIFAX, Feb. 18 — (CP) — Halifax, which for six war years bustled with activity as 30,000 ships came and went with war supplies and troops, today is almost a ghost port.

Civic, industrial and labor leaders expressed great alarm over the drastic slump as unemployment reached a new peak Saturday—7,000 jobless.

Many Not Haligonians

While fewer than 100 of the 1,800 members of the Longshoremen's Association were working on what was called "Black Saturday," a port official said that many of the unemployed were wartime influx of workers, attracted here by lucrative jobs, who had not yet "gone back to the farm."

He said that actually there are three more shipping lines doing business here than there were last year. One line has taken its business elsewhere.

Compared with the sister port of Saint John, N.B., the unemployment situation might look bad but Saint John had fewer stevedores, he said.

Blame Freight Rates

The longshoremen blamed the situation on the equalization of freight rates between Halifax and Saint John, N.B., and Portland, Me. Shippers said this was partly the cause of the heavy unemployed list.

Meanwhile, Mayor John E. Ahern scheduled a meeting today in Montreal with Halifax's two members of Parliament for discussion of the Halifax waterfront, unemployment and the steel shortage. He went armed with complete reports on the situation and determined, he said, to get to the bottom of the problem—"or else."

Storm Buries Prairies; Roads Barred

Blizzard In Manitoba Ontario May Be Next, Alert Wrecking Crews

WINNIPEG, Feb. 19—(CP).—February was mustering its forces today to become the rowdiest month of the winter in Western Canada, with storm conditions which yesterday plagued the west coast and Alberta now sweeping Saskatchewan and stretching wind-lashed fingers into Manitoba. The storm centre was in Saskatchewan, with children in some rural areas spending the night in their small schools rather than venturing through blinding blizzards to their farm homes.

Conditions were not as bad in Manitoba, although a 50-miles-per-hour wind whistled through Winnipeg early today, while in Alberta snow shovels and plows were working overtime to clear drifts which had clogged highways and sideroads early in the week. British Columbians were recuperating from gale conditions which Tuesday night swept the coast.

A Japanese workman, Tetsuo Otsu, was killed in inland British Columbia when caught beneath an avalanche while repairing disrupted Canadian Pacific telegraph lines at Iago.

At Estevan, Sask., winds were reported reaching a velocity 55 miles an hour last night, while nothing has been heard since early Wednesday of two rotary snow plow operators trying to clear a road south of the town.

At Shaunavon, Sask., the weather was sunny early yesterday, with the temperature 30 degrees above zero, but by nightfall the mercury had dropped 40 degrees and Neil McLean, weather observer, said storm conditions had never been so severe since 1918. All trains were running late, some by several hours.

No Effort Made to Fix Prices on Fruit

Wholesalers Declare Costs Established By Free Play Of Supply, Demand—No Monopoly

OTTAWA, Feb. 19—(CP)—A spokesman for the Toronto fruit and produce wholesalers told the Commons price committee today that "there is no effort made to fix prices or to control supplies."

Taking the stand in rebuttal of charges levelled by the retailers that the wholesalers were profiteering, George Reynolds, secretary of the Toronto Wholesale Fruit and Produce Merchants Association, added that "prices are established by the free play of supply and demand."

"There is no monopoly or combine in the Toronto wholesale fruit trade."

The wholesalers were called to testify after retail representativs completed their evidence and two uproars rocked the committee.

George Christensen, national director of the Foods Division of the Retail Merchants Association of Canada, charged that he had been "abused and slandered" and "made a fool of" by the committee yesterday.

Ralph Maybank (L-Winnipeg South Centre), acting committee chairman, assured the witness that this was not the case and sharply brought the meeting to order.

Earlier, another row broke out when Hughes Cleaver (L-Halton) tried to commend the Prices Board for re-imposing margin-of-profit controls on citrus fruits.

In his testimony for the wholesalers, Mr. Reynolds said: "From the perishable nature of the merchandise handled and the vagaries of the weather, prices are continually fluctuating. Wholesalers sell at the market as established by buyers' demand whether such sales are at a profit or loss..."

Prices Drop

At Toronto California oranges dropped between 60 cents and $1.20 a crate wholesale today following the Prices Board announcement of a profit ceiling on imported citrus fruits, while grapefruit sold more than 50 cents a crate lower and lemons 20-70 cents.

With the 17 per cent markup control effective today, wholesale markets quoted California navel oranges at $4.30 to $7 a crate, compared wtih $5.50 to $7.60 yesterday; grapefruit at $3 compared with $3.50-$4.50 and Messina lemons at $5.30 compared with $5.50-$6.

Entire City On Trial For One Week

Plants Do Their Share So Must Citizens, Or Cutoff Monday

Peterborough is asking for a Hydro "blackout" with summary disruption of employment and wage-earning, business generally and the domestic way of life.

Just because the local factories have so far carried the responsiility and the make-shift of compliance with the Hydro order of a 15 per cent reduction in local electric power consumption, the rest of the community, and especially the householders, apparently imagine nothing is required of them.

Peterborough is asking for a Hydro "blackout"—any hour of the day—with summary disruption of employment and wage-earning, of business and the domestic way of life.

This community is on trial before the records of the Hydro charts tracing power usage this week. The self-condemning story is told in the graph of electric power consumption as follows (these figures are kilowatt-hours):

Mon. Feb. 16 .... 290,000 kwh.
Tues. Feb. 17 .... 304,000 kwh.
Wed. Feb. 18 .... 295,360 kwh.

And this is what we are required to do—to cut our power load to 90 per cent of 252,348 kwh, the average last October.

Charts To Decide

Tuesday we were nearly 50,000 kwh above the 252,348 mark. And when we get down to that level we have cut off another 10 per cent. So far Peterborough has had the option of voluntary co-operation with the Ontario Hydro-Electric Commission. Our response will be studied on the charts until the end of this week.

If we hold out, through the

U.S. Traitors Being Trained Now In Russia

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19—(AP).—George M. Dimitrov, exiled Bulgarian political leader, said today "American traitors" are being trained right now in Russia for eventual duty in the United States.

Dimitrov also told a Congressional committee that:

"America is Communist target No. 1."

Under the Red plan of world domination, America is supposed to suffer most and get the cruelest treatment of any state.

Bulgarian Communists have extended their activity into the United States. He said they have formed organizations and are publishing a Detroit newspaper called "Peoples Will."

Dimitrov testified to a House of Representatives un-American activities sub-committee. The committee is gathering information to use in drafting legislation to curb Communists in the United States.

Dimitrov said that a Russian representative in Bulgaria told him: "The end of the conflict with Germany means the beginning of another with the Western plutocrats. No victory will have been won by us until the heads of the British and American Imperialism have been smashed."

Labor Captures By-Election

GLASGOW, Feb. 19—(Reuters).—The Labor Government party today retained the House of Commons seat of Paisley, near Glasgow. The Labor candidate, Douglas H. Johnston, Scotland's Solicitor-General, was elected by a majority of 6,545 votes over the National candidate J. John MacCormick, vice-chairman of the Scottish Liberal Party. Johnston polled 27,213 votes to 20,668 for MacCormick.

In the general election of 1945 Viscount Corvedale polled 25,156 votes for Labor. Lieut. T. C. Galbraith, Conservative, obtained 14,826. Lady Glen-Coats, Liberal, received 4,352, and Capt. A. R. Eagles, Independent, 765.

The by-election was the first of the 37 since the general election in which the Government was opposed by a joint Liberal-Conservative candidate.

The decision to support a joint candidate followed the recent Conservative by-election victory in the Glasgow constituency of Camlachie where for the first time in the lifetime of the Attlee government the Opposition captured a seat from Labor.

Elevation of Viscount Corvedale to the House of Lords following the death of his father, Earl Baldwin, necessitated the by-election.

Lady Glen-Coats resigned as chairman of the Liberal Party several weeks ago in protest against the decision to unite with the Conservatives in the Paisley campaign.

The two parties, traditionally on opposite sides of the House of Commons before Labor entered the political scene, are sponsoring a joint candidate at Gateshead, Durham, for the next general election. Gateshead is represented in parliament by Konni Zilliacus, leader of an extreme Left-Wing Labor group.

Prisoners Smuggle Dynamite Dust In Shoes Blow Out Doors, Windows, But Can't Escape

FAIRBURN, Ga., Feb. 19—(AP).—Nine prisoners were foiled in an attempt to blast their way out of a prison here with dynamite dust smuggled in their shoes, Warden M. F. Tyree reported last night.

One prisoner was wounded by gunfire in the escape attempt made Wednesday morning.

The explosion in a concrete barracks housing about 100 (Negro) prisoners blew out 10 windows, shook the prison courtyard and hurled fragments of the door 150 feet.

The prisoners had been working in a stone quarry, Tyree said, and he believed they had shaken the dynamite dust into their shoes. The dust passed as dirt upon inspection.

One of the men was believed to have smuggled the dynamite cap into the barracks in his mouth.

Forge Last Link In Chain Of Soviet Western Defence

By EDDY GILMORE

MOSCOW, Feb. 19—(AP).—Russia has forged the last link in a chain of treaties intended as a barrier against the "Imperialist states," Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov announced last night. Molotov spoke after the signing of a Russian-Hungarian friendship and mutual assistance treaty.

Russia now has, he said, "pacts of friendship and mutual assistance with all states on its western frontier—from the Black Sea to the Baltic.

"We Soviet people see in this an important success in the realization of Prime Minister Stalin's foreign policy, directed toward the strengthening of friendship with all neighboring states and consolidating a general peace."

Observers in Moscow said the Russian - Hungarian agreement prevented possible participation by Hungary in the Marshall Plan or in any western European union of nations.

Russia also concluded trade pacts last night with Belgium and Luxembourg.

Ignore Canada In Korean Vote

LAKE SUCCESS, Feb. 19 — (CP). — The United Nations Little Assembly voted to-day 37 to 1 over Canada's protest to adjourn debate on the Korean question until next Tuesday. Canada obstained in the voting.

Under pardiamentary procedure forbidding delegates to debate a motion before the Little Assembly, Canada's representative, L. B. Pearson, was unable to gain the floor to present his views until after a vote had been taken.

When Pearson was able to speak, he protested heatedly that the delgates "might as well go home" as adhere to the "unfortunate" decision to adjourn debate from to-day until Tuesday.

Off the floor, he said bitterly that the adjournment motion was railroaded through.

After the motion had been made, Lebanon proposed that the interim committee "continue discussion at once" on Korea.

Has Bomb In Basket 32 Hurt At Market

JERUSALEM, Feb. 19 (AP). — A thousand former illegal Jewish immigrants are due here today from camps on the island of Cyprus. They are to be processed by the Jewish Agency at the former British detention camp at Nathanya and admitted as legal immigrants.

In Ramle, on the highway between Jerusalem and Tel Aviv, a bomb exploded in a central market. Unofficial reports said six persons were killed, but a police report listed 32 wounded, 16 seriously, and no dead.

A man dressed in Arab clothing brought the bomb into a store in a basket.

Rev. Dr. Kelly Dies

COBOURG, Feb. 19—Rev. Dr. P. J. Kelly, priest in charge of St. Michael's parish here, died at 1. p.m. this afternoon. He was formerly rector of St. Peter's Cathedral, Peterborough, where he was born in 1879, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Kelly.

Rev. Dr. Kelly was educated at the Peterborough Collegiate Institute, St. Michael's and Ottawa Colleges and the Grand Seminary, Montreal.

Hungry, Battered Sailors Found On Mystery Ship

OAKLAND, Calif., Feb. 19. — (AP) — Even such landlubbers as the police knew all was not well aboard the freighter Thomas E. Mitchell.

Her bottom was rusty as a bucket. Her insides were dirty. Her sailors peeked through blackened eyes. Some had knots on their heads. They bawled loudly for edible food and their pay.

The 10,000-ton Mitchell (operated by the Prudential Steamship Co. of New York) made this port 5½ months after leaving New York. Docksiders said the sailors were punching each other on deck. The Coast Guard visited the ship. It said all was quiet.

But trouble flared again and one man went to a hospital with a knife wound. Another went to jail. Others told police that narcotics were hidden on the ship. That brought federal agents. They found a small amount of marijuana and a lot of filth.

And they heard this story from crew members:

The Mitchell laid over a long time in Venice and ran out of fresh food. She picked up a light cargo of fatty untanned hides.

In Sarnia she loaded salt for Japan. She arrived in Japan with no food and only two days water supply. The untanned hides went into the galley.

Lifeboat Rations

From Japan the Mitchell sailed for Oakland in ballast. The last two weeks the men lived on lifeboat rations.

Police found in her storerooms half a sack of flour, some rotten Italian potatoes, molded beets, pancake mix and remains of the rancid hides.

Capt. James F. Church of Boston went ashore in Oakland. He had not returned last night. The Coast Guard, crew and delegates of the National Maritime Union looked for him. He was needed to straighten out the payroll.

The second mate, Peter Keenan, said he had never seen anything like the Mitchell in 21 years at sea.

The federal agents went on looking for narcotics.

Burner Explodes 2 Die In Fire

LORETTE, Man., Feb. 19 (CP) —Two persons died and two others were badly burned in a fire which swept a two-storey farm house in this southeastern Manitoba district last night.

Dead are Mrs. Alice Funk, 28, overcome by flames while trying to rescue her two young children from the burning building, and her 5½-year-old daughter Dorothy.

In serious condition in hospital are Benjamin Funk, 29, and Rita, 1½.

The fire started when an oil burner exploded while being filled with fuel by Mr. and Mrs. Funk. Their clothing drenched with oil, they rushed to a bedroom to rescue the two children, but flames swept the house before they reached safety.

Mrs. Funk died at the scene but Dorothy lived until shortly after admittance to hospital.

Public Enemy No. 1 Extradited To Buffalo

TORONTO, Feb. 19 (CP)—Oscar Campbell, known in the 30s as Canada's Public Enemy No. 1, will be extradited to Buffalo, N.Y., today to stand trial on charges of breaking into a tea company office.

The 50-year-old Campbell was released from penitentiary at Kingston, last November after serving nine years and three months for armed robbery of a branch of the Bank of Nova Scotia at Richmond, near Ottawa.

He was re-arrested at the penitentiary gates following his release. Last month Judge J. C. Reynolds of Kingston recommended his extradition.

Two Buffalo detectives were scheduled to escort Campbell across the border.

Discuss Wage Demand

TORONTO, Feb. 19 — (CP). — Co-ordinated wage demands for 1948 were discussed yesterday at a meeting of 25 leaders of Canadian Congress of Labor Unions, representing 350,000 Canadian workers.

Discuss Legislation

TORONTO, Feb. 19—(CP). —A meeting of the Ontario Cabinet late yesterday discussed legislation to be introduced at the session of the Ontario Legislature which opens March 3. It was reported earlier, the Cabinet had been called into emergency session to discuss power cutoffs in Toronto.

Daylight Time Not Solution In Conservation of Power

TORONTO, Feb. 19—(CP). — Adoption of Daylight Time would have "absolutely no effect" on the Ontario power shortage, A. W. Manby, assistant general manager of the Hydro-Electric Power Commission of Ontario, said today.

In reply to suggestions flooding the commission office, Mr. Manby said: "In the wartime years when we needed Daylight Time to help the power situation it was because we were troubled by heavy over-loading at peak periods. Institution of Daylight Time simply staggered peak times.

"Now we are troubled with the matter of energy. There isn't enough power being produced. It doesn't matter what time it is being used, we just haven't got enough. Changing to Daylight Time would not lessen the amount of power used.

Mr. Manby said the difficulty lay in low water levels at Ottawa Valley power plants.

CanDoublePopulation In 15 Years–Gardiner

TORONTO, Feb. 19 —(CP)—If Canadians "all get busy and boost" the Dominion can double it's present population of some 12,000,000 in 15 years, Agriculture Minister Gardiner said today.

In an address prepared for delivery to the Empire Club of Toronto, Mr. Gardiner said that natural increase would account for 4,500,000 and "the other 7,500,000 would come to us."

"Churchill said about two years ago that Britain could stand a reduction of 7,000,000 people. If we received our share of them and the others from Europe and the United States we would simply be taking our part in promoting a migration of European people and ideals which has been going on since Columbus discovered America...."

Safecrackers Bludgeon Dog

TORONTO, Feb. 19 — (CP).—The highly-trained seeingeye dog of a blind proprietor was killed and another dog slugged into unconsciousness early to-day by safe-crackers who broke into the Standard Auto Body Company, and stole $350.

John Berezanski, the proprietor, notified police after he entered the building and sensed something was wrong when the dogs failed to demonstrate a greeting.

Laddie was shot and it was believed both dogs were bludgeoned with a mallet. Sparky is improving after treatment by a veterinary surgeon for a bump on the head.

16 Airmen Killed In Australian Crash

BRISBANE, Australia, Feb. 19 —(CP)—The bodies of 16 airmen were recovered from the charred wreckage of a Royal Australian Air Force bomber which crashed at Amberley airport in Queensland, about 30 miles from Brisbane.

The plane was on a flight from Laverton, Victoria, to Amberley.

The plane, a Lincoln bomber, exploded during a landing attempt when a wing touched a runway. The plane, during its first attempted landing, had overshot the runway and the pilot was trying to gain altitude for another try when the accident occurred.

15 PC Tourists Here Three Days

OTTAWA, Feb. 19 — (CP). — Only 15 per cent of United States tourists stay three days or more in Canada, but they spend 83 per cent of the over-all amount of tourist money, the Senate Tourist Committee was told to-day.

Herbert Marshall, head of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, gave that estimate in reporting that 85 per cent of the Americans who cross the Canadian border stay no longer than 48 hours. He made a preliminary estimate of $230,000,000 as the value of US tourist expenditures here in 1947, compared with $216,000,000 in 1946, and $163,000,000 in 1945.

In answer to questions by Senator W. Rupert Davies (L-Ontario), Mr. Marshall said that while the number of US tourists in 1947 exceded 1946, their average expenditures were lower.

Bigger, Better Blackouts Predicted For Toronto

TORONTO, Feb. 19.—(CP). — By cutoffs and by voluntary conservation, Southern Ontario communities sought today to conserve electricity while their citizens waited for the spring break-up to bring some relief from the power shortage.

In Toronto, Acting Mayor H. E. McCallum of Toronto said the power shortage is "getting worse and worse" and that greater demands may be made today for conservation of the city's power. "The peak load worry has now been extended from 7 a.m. to 11 a.m., and it looks as if the city is in for bigger and better blackouts." He feared today's cutoffs would have to be of longer duration. Previous blackouts were for 30-minute and 45-minute periods.

Speed Developments

OTTAWA, Feb. 19 (CP)—The crippling power shortage in Ontario is forcing the Ontario Hydro-electric power commission to speed up its development schedule, George Challies, Ontario minister without portfolio, said yesterday.

The commission will call for tenders within the next two weeks for construction work at the Chenaux project, located about 40 miles above Ottawa on the Ottawa river.

Top priority also is being given the Des Joachims project on the Ottawa about 160 miles northwest of the capital.

"Construction work should get under way early in the spring," said Mr. Challies. "Within three months there should be some 4,000 at work on the Des Jochims and Chenaux sites."

Initial Capacities

Initial capacity at Des Joachims will be 360,000 horsepower, second only to the Queenston-Chippewa station at Niagara where the normal output runs 500,000. At Chenaux the initial capacity planned is 160,000 horsepower.

The accelerated program is scheduled to complete in three or four years what normally would take eight or nine, he said. Turbines at Des Joachims may be spinning as early as 1950. Power generation at Chenaux may be expected in 1951 or 1952.

Chinese Troop Behead Daring 'Red' Chief

SHANGHAI, Feb. 19—(AP)—Chinese troops today beheaded a daring Communist Guerrilla chief after he was slain with 13 of his raiders in a six-hour battle outside Shanghai.

The leader was Ting Shih-Shan, one-time kidnap gang chief who later headed anti-Japanese Guerrillas.

While thousands of Chinese villagers stared, the head was hung from a wire on a gate.

Challenges US Tribunal Says Partisans Soldiers

LONDON, Feb. 19 (Reuters). — Lord Vansittart, former chief diplomatic adviser to the British government and advocate of a hard peace for Germany, today termed an American tribunal's ruling at Nuernberg against Balkan partisans "a very dangerous misconception of the state of affairs during the war."

The American tribunal said that Balkan partisans killed during the German occupation were mostly illegal units and could not be "generally regarded as qualified for belligerent status under international law."

Lord Vansittart said:

"The Allied governments always gave full recognition to the various resistance movements and supplied them with arms.

"To pursue the matter beyond the Balkans, what happens about the resistance movements in France, the Netherlands and elsewhere?

"Apart from any old-fashioned legal niceties, it seems to be that if an aggressive power invades a country and makes total war on all the inhabitants, all the inhabitants are entitl l to resist whether for the moment they can get full-blown uniforms or not.

"That is the line we took, and we supported all these people."

Life Sentence

NUERNBERG, Germany, Feb. 19 — (CP). — Field Marshal Wilhelm List today was sentenced to life imprisonment following conviction on two counts of an indictment arising out of his wartime acts as Germany commander-in-chief the Balkans.

Gen. Walter Kuntze, one of List's army group chiefs, also was found guilty by the tribunal, which ruled in the course of its final judgment that these men should have known better than to carry out orders to slaughter hostages beyond the limits allowed by military law.

In the trial, the records showed that List's armies killed a hundred Serbs or Greeks for each German soldier killed by Partisans, and at least 50 for each German wounded.

Margarine Battle In Senate

Senator Opens Personal Fight Against Ban; Third Time In 3 Years

OTTAWA, Feb. 19 (CP)—Senator W. D. Euler (L—Ontario) continuing a long, personal battle for removal of the ban on oleomargarine, dropped the controversial question into the Senate's lap yesterday—for the third time in three years.

After he launched the debate with a one-hour speech, three other Senators outlined their reaction. Two supported him and one was opposed.

Senator Euler said he is convinced the dairy interests alone are not 'overwhelmingly in favor' of ending the ban on importation, manufacture and sale of the butter substitute.

With prices at "shocking" high levels, it was "indefensible to deprive millions of consumers of at least one method of reducing the cost of living by permitting them to have this inexpensive and excellent "food."

Adjourn Debate

Debate on his motion for second reading of a private bill to end the margarine ban was adjourned by Senator Cyrile Vaillancourt (L—Quebec). The same bill was defeated in the last two sessions of parliament.

Senator Euler's support came from Senators C. C. Ballantyne (PC—Quebec) and Arthur Roebuck (L—Ontario), both former farmboys. They agreed that thousands of city-dwellers cannot afford butter—now under a 73-cent-a-pound ceiling. They should not be denied a substitute they can afford.

Opposition came from R. B. Horner (PC—Saskatchewan). To remove the margarine ban would be to strike another blow at the farmer, he said.

Three Liberal Senators criticized the government's request for a two-year extension of controls over certain exports and imports.

Senator Roebuck rapped what Senator Hayden called "the great dangers inherent" in the principle of the enabling legislation, which would extend the government controls for two years.

The bill was given second reading and sent to committee for study.

Chile Sets Up 2 Army Bases

SANTIAGO, Feb. 19—(AP).—Chilean President Gabriel Gonzalez Videla headed home today after formally setting up two military bases in disputed Antarctic territory — which he called a "land of tomorrow." The bases were established at Chilean weather stations in defiance of long-time British claims, recently reiterated.

Gonzalez inaugurated the first base Tuesday—a weather station at Port Sovereignty on Greenwich Island in the South Shetlands, some 500 miles south of the southern tip of South America.

He dedicated the second yesterday at another weather station, 60 miles to the south, on a peninsula known to Chile as O'Higgins Land and to Britain as Graham Land. Bernardo O'Higgins, a Chilean patriot of Irish extraction, was the first chief of state of independent Chile.

Dispatches to this Chilean capital told of the ceremony. The corvette Covadonga anchored among icebergs. The President went ashore with other officials.

Then, standing amid snow and ice, he said his presence was "one more confirmation of Chile's sovereignty over the extreme south of its national soil."

In Buenos Aires, Louis Irigoyen, Argentine Under-Secretary of Foreign Affairs, said in a statemen that "by virtue of the Rio accord," his country does not recognize the existence of European colonies in the area.

He was referring to the Inter-American Defence Treaty signed last year. This puts the Falklands in the Western Hemisphere defence area.

Senior Golds Keep Good Market Showing

TORONTO, Feb. 19.—(CP)—Prices improved mildly in quiet trading on the stock exchange today with senior golds maintaining good showings while juniors turned irregular. Industrials were narrow on a mild majority of fractional gains while base metals were mixed. Trading generall ywas featureless.

Volume for the first three hours was 526,000 share, about 98,000 less than yesterday's similar period.

Ahead fractions and at new highs for the year among the senior golds were Dome, up ¼ at 23, Lake Shore ½ at 14, and McIntyre ¼ at 61. Base metals posted gains for Noranda, Labrador, Nickel, Golden Manitou and Eureka.

On the gain side in the industrials were Abitibi, Algoma Steel, Bell Telephone, Brazilian, B. A. Oil, Canadian Breweries, Canadian Celanese, Dominion Foundries, Famous Players, Walkers, Massey Harris, Winnipeg Electric and Brown Co.

House Thrown In Uproar Over Hong Kong Report

OTTAWA, Feb. 19—(CP).—An angry but short-lived scene developed in the Commons Wednesday when Gordon Graydon (PC—Peel) urged the Government to take more active steps for the release of the evidence of the 1942 Royal Commission on the Hong Kong defence. With Liberal members shouting him down, Mr. Graydon told Prime Minister Mackenzie King the Government should indicate clearly to the British Government that it wants the right to table the evidence, which up to now has been kept secret at Britain's request.

The argument stemmed from a motion by John Bracken, Progressive Conservative Leader, for production of the evidence. Mr. King, asking that the motion stand, said the Government had not yet received a reply to a request to the British Government to relieve it of its wartime undertaking that it would be kept secret.

As Mr. Graydon pressed the Prime Minister to take firmer action, a rising clamor of shouts to "sit down" came from the Liberal benches, and Mr. Graydon retorted angrily that he would not be told when, and when not to sit down by the Government side.

Want It Tabled

"We ought," he shouted above the din, "to have this government say to the British Government that they want these things tabled."

Speaker Gaspard Fauteux intervened and told Mr. Graydon that such motions were not debatable.

"Mr. Speaker, I have a right to call for a vote on this motion," said Mr. Graydon.

"Call for it, call for it!" came a challenge from the Liberal ranks.

Dr. Fauteux said that the motion was not before the House and that Mr. King had asked that it be allowed to stand.

"Neither the Prime Minister nor anyone else has a right to say whether this motion will stand," snapped Mr. Graydon. "It's up to the House and to you."

Mr. King then said the British Government had reasons of which he was not informed for asking that the evidence not be made public. The evidence could not be tabled before this because the British Government had asked that certain portions not be disclosed.

Joseph Ginsberg, 1027 Carling Ave., Ottawa, and George G. Bell, Shruce Terrace, March Road, Brittania Heights, were each fined $5 and costs of $2.50 for speeding in the city.

Obituaries

MRS. HELENA PACKENHAM

Mrs. Helena Packenham, a well-known and long resident of Peterborough, widow of the late Frank Packenham, died Wednesday in hospital in Hamilton after a lingering illness.

The deceased was born in Hamilton, but spent a great deal of her girlhood in the village of Embro, and came to Peterborough about fifty years ago when she was the first woman employed on the office staff of the Canadian General Electric. In June, 1903, Helena Hannon became the wife of Frank Packenham (Jerry), who was also associated with the CGE for 45 years.

For many years both Mr. and Mrs. Packenham were ardent workers in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, but when church union was brought in, they returned to the Anglican Church where Mr. Packenham had belonged since childhood. Here they were faithful attendants until Mr. Packenham's death in September, 1940.

Mrs. Packenham was a life member of the WMS of St. Andrew's, and also a member of the WA and the Ladies' Guild of All Saints' Anglican Church. Her brother, William Hannon, died some years ago, and her sister, Mrs. Laura Burns, pre-deceased her four months ago.

Left to mourn her loss, is her only daughter, Mrs. Alexander Runnett, Willowdale (Gwylda), and two grandchildren, Robin and Blythe.

Funeral service for Mrs. Packenham will be held in the chapel of Comstock's Funeral Home, Water St., on Friday, at 2 p.m. Rev. Kibblewhite, All Saints' Anglican Church, officiating. Interment in the family plot, Little Lake Cemetery.

He is survived by his wife, the former Georgina Lee, one son Edward of Cavan, Miss Mary Johnston, and a brother, Robert, both of Port Perry. Mr. Johnston was a retired farmer and a member of Fairmount United Church.

The body is resting at the Comstock Funeral Home from where funeral service will be held on Saturday at 2 p.m. Rev. C. S. Reddick of Fairmount United Church will officiate and burial will take place at Little Lake Cemetery.

snowdrifts after the worst blizzard of the winter. As night came, winds were moderating and there was only intermittent snow. Almost all rural roads in the province were blocked and some of the main highways were closed. All schools remained open in Calgary, one of the hardest hit points, but many parents kept their children at home. Many rural schools were closed.

British Columbia was whipped during the day by gale winds that reached 61 miles an hour in Vancouver, even though most of the coastline was bathed in sunshine. The gale imperilled eight passengers aboard a 35-foot ferry navigating in Howe Sound, 25 miles north of Vancouver.

Wrecking crews had cleared the CPR's main line near Golden, BC, where a west-bound freight of 20 cars piled up yesterday. Trains both ways, however, were running several hours behind schedule. In the same area, work gangs battled heavy odds to repair communication lines. The topography is such that linemen at times had to be lowered by rope over the side of rock cuts to effect repairs.

Union Officers To Pay $10,000

VANCOUVER, Feb. 19 (CP).—The 622-day-old strike of printers of the International Typographical Union (AFL) at the Vancouver Daily Province has been declared illegal by Mr. Justice J. C. Wilson of the Supreme Court of British Columbia.

Mr. Justice Wilson, in a 22-page judgment, yesterday ordered a total of $10,000 damages to be paid by six officers of the Vancouver Local of the ITU. Action was dismissed against three International officers, Woodruff Randolph, ITU president, Harry Finch, Canadian representative, and James D. Davidson, Western representative.

The judgment assessed no damages against rank-and-file union members formerly employed by the Province, due, His Lordship said "to forbearance of the plaintiff" in waiving claim to compensation.

The strike began June 5, 1946, and the claim for damages was filed by the Province, one of the Southam group of newspapers, in the fall of 1946. A 10-day hearing of the claim was held in October, 1947.

The Province action was against officers of the local; rank-and-file members who were Province employees; and the three International officers.

week, turning on lights and machines as if we could afford to do so, recklessly, then next week the Hydro may step in and do the turning off at one switch, cutting off the whole of Peterborough.

This appeal and warning comes from Ross L. Dobbin, manager of the Utilities Commission. Already, Mr. Gordon S. Matthews on behalf of the Untilities Commission, has explained the responsibility now resting on Peterborough voluntarily to cut down use of electric current.

Indefinite Shortage

The point Mr. Matthews emphasized was that the period of power shortage will extend into the spring indefinitely, and therefore the practice and habit of saving power in homes, stores, offices and other places of business should be adopted today. If we don't do it, the Hydro will do it for us, and without consideration of whose ironing or washing machine is going to be stilled.

Mr. Dobbin is stressing this fact; Peterborough is on probation this week. If every family and every merchant will join in this economy of power we can escape the rigors of Hydro intervention. Utilities Commission has a man going around checking up here and there, discussing the possibility of making reductions.

Do you wish factory employment to be cut a couple of hours a day, hitting men and women in the Pocketbood? What about the bakeries (and your bread), if they are cut off for the same time?

All the discommoding of community routine can be avoided if Peterborough people will put their hearts and their common sense into this effort of saving power.

Given Warning

You won't be able to say next week, if we fail now, that you were not warned; that you did not have advance notice of what was entailed in leaving those unnecessary lights on and all the rest of the saving that can be accomplished.

J. A. Jebson said that merchants were likely to meet next Monday. Officers are out of town at present.

"We start in our own store," Mr. Jebson said from the Braund store at George St. and Park Hill Rd. "We cut off on Monday seven groups of lights, and we have nothing to complain about."

Possibly, Monday be too late for the merchants and all hands.

Push the power peak up around 300,000 kilowatt hours the rest of this week in stupid indifference to the provincial problem, and Miss Mazda will find herself with no power in any Peterborough circuit for a couple of hours day after day until the rains build up the water reservoirs at power dams down on the Ottawa river.

"On the Spot"

The Hydro-Electric Commission is "on the spot" for possibly several months, and it is being forced to cut off power circuits if the people themselves refuse to do so.

Peterborough has until the end of this week to pick its place in the power map. We can do our own rationnig by voluntarily doing without a lot of electric lighting and machine operating. If we let that opportunitty go by this week, it will mean, in all probability, that the Hydro will the rationing for us.

And, too late, we're not going to like it.

Perhaps you think it can't happen here. Toronto is still wailing about what happened there.

And this is how Ontario's power blackout reads from other sections of Ontario:

Toronto—Two blackouts, with possibility of longer periods than yesterday's 45-minute breaks.

Toronto Suburbs — Blackouts ranging from half an hour to an hour.

London— Two one-hour shutdowns in residential areas replace previous 15-minute breaks.

Windsor—Cutoffs not necessary yesterday; may come today.

Owen Sound—Half-hour cutoff yesterday; may be another this afternoon.

Woodstock—No further power cutoffs at least until tomorrow.

Kitchener—Extra one or two-hour cutoff possible if one-hour blackout today fails to achieve power-saving objective.

Galt—First cutoff today, two half-hour interruptions.

Kingston—Voluntary measures continue.

Trenton —Two daily one-hour cuts start today.

Smith Falls—Half-hour cutoffs six times a day, start.

Korean Turmoil Passed On To UN Assembly

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., Feb. 19 — (AP). — The knotty problem of Korea's political future was handed to the United Nations little assembly today.

It was the first major test for the year-around body. Designed as an organ of the full 57 countries, the little assembly has been operating without Russia and five of her satellites. The Russian boycott was expected to continue, even though Russia is concerned directly in Korea.

K. P. S. Menon of India, chairman of a U.N. commission sent to Korea, drafted a speech outlining the situation there. He noted that the Soviet Union which occupied northern Korea, has refused to co-operate with the commission or to permit Korean elections as directed by the general assembly.

Menon presented these alternatives:

1. The Commission could go ahead and hold elections in southern Korea, occupied by the United States, and set up a government for all of Korea in the south. Two-thirds of the Koreans live in the southern zone.

2. The Commission could hold south Korean elections for the purpose of constituting a provisional government for that zone alone.

3. The Commission could explore other possibilities for a union of the north and south.

1,359 Veterans Get Credits Since War's End

COBOURG, Feb. 19.—(ENS). Thousands of dollars in veteran re-establishment credits have been paid out in Cobourg, ... revealed in a report by ... Pickford, veterans' officer. Since the inception of office after the end of the war, he has handled 1,359 applications for these credits, and most of the money was used to buy furniture and household equipment, some of it going as payment on dwellings. Seventy-five men were assisted in starting up in business; some bought the tools of their trades and some repaired their homes. Eighty-six were granted an allowance after their farms or businesses were started, to tide them over the early stages.

In Cobourg and district alone, nearly 700 men and women returned home from war, and Mr. Pickford has had more than 4,000 interviews with veterans or their relatives during the past two years. Of this number, 2,357 concerned information regarding the settling of family upsets, hospital care, pensions, loans, financing a home, starting business, vocational training, housing and other problems. Fifty-five cases were referred to the chief medical officer, Kingston; 62 cases were referred to the War Veterans' Allowance Board; 61 informed on benefits under the Veterans' Land Act. Through the National Employment Office here, 775 jobs were found, and during the winter months when many were unemployed, 242 received out-of-work allowances for their wives and children.

Many men are now learning a trade, taking training on the job with local employers. Others have profited by their training at one of the vocational training schools and now have good jobs or are in business for themselves. A numbers of local boys are taking university training with fees and living allowances paid by the Government.

"While the period of entitlement to training and similar benefits is over for all except those discharged last year, there are still problems to be solved, and so long as there are problems, the Department of Veterans' Affairs will endeavour to help solve them," said Mr. Pickford. "There is still much re-establishment credit to be applied for, and it is available to a veteran for ten years after discharge or the end of the war, whichever is later, and I shall be happy to discuss with any veteran the purpose for which this money may be used."

FOOD HANDLERS MEET—Food handlers of the city have responded well to instructive meetings sponsored by the local branch of the Health League of Canada. Raise $40,000 For New Town Hospital

CAMPBELLFORD, Feb. 19 — (ENS). — $40,000 has already been collected through direct canvassing by Campbellford and district towards the original $150,000 objective for the Campbellford Memorial Hospital.

The original plans called for a 20-room hospital, but these plans have been altered in order to enlarge the building to 30 rooms. This will mean a considerably increased expenditure; Mayor H. M. Donald estimated final costs between $200,000 and $250,000. Besides the $40,000 collected, there is a town debenture of $40,000, a township debenture of $20,000, and $34,000 promised by the government, making a total of $134,000.

The Memorial Hospital will serve a wide area, the district being bounded by Norland in the South, Roseneath on the west, Havelock in the north, and Springbrook to the east.

At a recent meeting Mayor Donald, who is chairman of the Memorial Hospital Committee, said that he hoped the people living in the district would give their fullest support to this drive for funds as the hospital woud be their hospital. "We hope that work on the new hospital will commence this year," said the Mayor, and canvassing will have to be resumed with emphasis on Ward 4, and among all industries. The charter with the Department of Health granted in November, 1946, will expire in November, 1948, if work is not begun by that date.

Fox; educational secretary, Miss H. Atkinson; press secretary, Miss D. Kingston, empire study, Mrs. Arthur Loucks; health clinic, Mrs. H. Taylor; flower fund, Mrs. T. Craighead; post-war conveners, Miss Jean Wallace and Mrs. George Free.

The treasurer announced that $8.30 was cleared from a recent dance. The annual reports of the secretary, the treasurer and the post-war convener showed that excellent work was done during the year.

For 1948 the members were divided into five groups and the group making the most money during the year will be entertained at the Chapter's annual dinner. The meeting night was changed to the third Thursday in each month, instead of the third Wednesday and the next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Stuart Anderson on March 18.

Looted Cabins While Snowbound Three Youths Get Reform Terms

LINDSAY, Feb. 19 (ENS). — "Find a job and settle down when you get out of jail. Stick with it and put some money in the bank for a rainy day." That was Magistrate E. A. Gee's advice to James H. Stone, 23, Coboconk, in police court here Wednesday afternoon.

Stone was sentenced to 12 months definite and six months indeterminate in reformatory for breaking and entering and theft. Also charged were Donald Hontoon and Lawrence O'Keefe of Lindsay, who were given four and three months respectively on the same charges. All three pleaded guilty.

R. I. Moore, KC, acting for Hontoon and O'Keefe, both 22 and veterans, said he believed Stone had been the ringleader of an escapade when the three men smashed and entered three cottages at Long Beach on Sturgeon Lake in December, 1947. Counsel Moore asked that the younger men be released on suspended sentence, but the suggestion was opposed by Crown Attorney L. W. Jordan. Stone had no defence counsel. Mr. Jordan read Stone's record. Hontoon and O'Keefe had no previous records.

Evidence revealed that early in December the three had entered the Sturgeon Lake cottages of E. Aucher, J. Nicholson and E. Hills, all of Toronto. In statements made to Provincial Police here and read in court Wednesday, the men said they had gone to Long Beach "just for the ride," and their car became stuck in a snowbank. Unable to get out, they entered the nearby Aucher cottage "to get warm," by forcing the lock. After a snowplow had freed their car, they proceeded to loot the cottage before returning to Lindsay. The following day they returned and ransacked the other cottages. Stone said his companions had been drinking wine at the time, but that he had touched none. Neither had he taken active part in the looting, he said. He had just driven the others out in his car, according to his evidence.

PC Ray Lawson of Lindsay testified the first he heard of the breaking was when he was told on Jan. 14 that three men had tried to sell an oil stove and fishing tackle to residents in the Sturgeon Lake area. The officer said he heard further reports of Hontoon selling a variety of household goods to persons in Lindsay on Feb. 9, and on searching his premises found some loot concealed in the garage. Here Lawson said he found two alarm clocks, kitchen utensils, blankets, a saw, sickle, camera, set of scales, coffee pot and many other items. Hontoon told him it all belonged to Stone.

The officer said he arrested Stone at Burnt River Feb. 10, and picked up O'Keefe in Lindsay shortly after. Hontoon and O'Keefe admitted selling fishing tackle, toasters and other items to persons here. An electric stove belonging to E. Hill and identified in court by the owner was sold by Hontoon to a fellow veteran for $20. Mr. Hill pointed out that many items missing from his cottage had not been recovered.

Must Bop Icicles

COBOURG, Feb. 19.—(ENS). — Stores with long overhanging icicles which menace the public will have to see about removing them. A bylaw is in effect by which the town can force store owners to keep the icicles from dangerously overhanging the pedestrians, and the town solicitor will so advise the owners in question.

MIXING FOODS O.K.

Healthful foods do not create poisons just because they are mixed, say nutritionists. Mixing foods should not cause indigestion unless the two foods are naturally hard to digest when eaten by themselves.

Ralph Banbury To Speak Here

Ralph Banbury, of Brighton, agricultural representative in Northumberland county, will be the speaker at the meeting of the Horticultural Society Monday, February 23, at the YWCA. His main topic will be the planting and care of home gardens, as a means of assisting members in their plans for this season.

Films will be shown indicating methods of preventing loss from garden insects. Door prizes of seed collections will be offered, and some members are being specially appointed to assist members in presenting questions about their own flower and garden problems.

"We know that for various reasons some questions go unasked," W. C. Wilks, secretary, said today. "To help them, some of our committee will be designated by badges so that they can be easily identified. To them, people can give their questions before or after the meeting, because it is the wish of the Society to provide every possible assistance to members. Our membership for this year is off to a good start, and with many valuable premiums offered, plus an instructive series of meetings, we are hoping to surpass the total of last year."

Peterborough's Grime

This city used to be a clean place. It is so no longer. To gas fumes, pidgeons' guano and the ordinary litter apparently inseparable from city streets has been added "smog". This is a combination of smoke, oily vapour and soot which hangs in the air like a pall, creeps into buildings and settles on everything—windows, walls, laundry on the line, babies in prams and pedestrians' faces. The heaviness of it and its presence everywhere in town has been fully and disgustingly revealed during the recent thaw. The surface of the snow is indistinguishable from soot and muck. Even the snow on the roofs is filthy. This filth shows the kind of air we have been breathing these last two months. It is the kind of dirty snow one expects to find in Toronto or Montreal, but not in a smaller urban centre like Peterborough.

* * *

The smoke menace is caused by four things: increased industrial activity and freight traffic; increased population with a consequent increase in the number of household chimneys; poorer grades of coal in wider use; careless, unskilful, uneconomic firing of furnaces, boilers, stoves and the like. Until coal can be processed so that it burns without smoking, cities cannot avoid smoke entirely, but they can do something to lessen the pollution.

* * *

Last week Toronto introduced a new by-law, replacing a 1915 smoke-control law. It provides for a campaign to acquaint plant owners and operators with methods of smoke-control. The law limits the emission of dense smoke to six minutes in an hour. Smoke indicators are to be installed, likewise dust-separating equipment. Provision is made for control of gas, fumes, fly ash and solids. The railways are co-operating and Toronto expects soon to have no coal-burning engines in its yards.

* * *

Peterborough has no regulations at all for smoke control. Several years ago a special by-law was considered but no action was taken because of the difficulties of enforcing the regulations. The time has come to surmount the difficulties. Scientific studies have demonstrated that the menace of smoke can be curbed and other cities are successfully applying smoke regulations. There is far more smoke in Peterborough than is necessary and far more than the good health of the citizens and the clean appearance of the city can withstand. Industries and railway companies are not the only offenders—office buildings, Federal buildings, schools, the City Buildings, and churches all belch copiously on cold days. Peterborough lies in a valley, but that is no excuse for hiding it in smoke.

A Newspaper's Responsibility

The matter of a newspaper's responsibility to reflect the opinion of the community in which it is published is interestingly discussed by Margaret G. Andrew in the current issue of Food For Thought, a magazine published by the Canadian Association for Adult Education. Mrs. Andrew has been reading some of the reports on the press which have recently been made in the U.S.A., and in her article she attempts to apply the findings of these reports to Canada. We are in agreement with most of what she says, but we should like to discuss one point which she expresses thus—"The central point of the Commission's advice to newspapers is that they assume the responsibility of the common carrier and include opinion and news not necessarily conforming to the bias of the owners. The best of our papers claim to; they could go much further".

Criticism of this sort raises the vexing question: what is a newspaper? Is it a public utility, or is it a private business? Does it serve its purpose best when it sticks to one opinion, or when it wobbles among several opinions? To what extent has the publisher the right to express his personal views through the paper which he owns?

None of these questions admits of an unqualified answer. A newspaper has a duty to the public, but it also has a duty to the man who owns it and who has to get his own living, and that of all his employees, from it. Publishers have to balance the moral value of a crusade against the rising cost of newsprint, and such deliberation gives them a sobriety of view which critics of the press rarely appreciate.

Nevertheless, we think that all reputable Canadian papers give prominence to opinions which are decidedly not those of the publishers. The letter columns of Canadian papers are open to those who honestly want to express minority opinions. But they are not open to people who cannot distinguish between a letter to the press and a free advertisement for some cause of their own, nor are they open to people who want to use violent language under the protection of a pseudonym. As Mrs. Andrew doubtless knows, a newspaper publisher is responsible in law for every word, slip and inadvertent libel which appears in his sheet, and he understandably does not want to be held responsible for opinions which he personally abhors.

Nor must it be forgotten that publishers are human, and they sometimes get sick of everlastingly being fair to people who have no intention of being fair to them. No priest or parson is expected to open his pulpit to his enemies; why should an editor give his valuable white space to those who seek to destroy him? This whole argument was once ably summed up by the late John Dafoe, who said: "If they want to write damned nonsense, let them do it in a paper of their own!"

A Prayer Against Being Pushed

Prayers sometimes take curious forms. Newspapermen are particularly fond of that prayer offered up by an English clergyman which began: "O Lord, as Thou hast doubtless read this morning in the Manchester Guardian...." In Canada, our parliamentary prayers are never a matter for speculation; they are prescribed by custom and are unvarying. But in the House of Representatives of the U.S. Congress each chaplain is allowed to have his head, and to address the Almighty in any terms which he thinks fit the current political situation. We reprint here a prayer offered on January 16, which has given great delight in some circles:

"Our Father, we turn to Thee because we are sore vexed with our own thoughts. Our minds plague us with questionings we cannot answer, and history confronts us with responsibilities we cannot evade. Who among us is sufficient for these things?

"We are humbled by our experience of failure and driven by pressure to act before we are sure that Thou wouldst have us do. Thou knowest our deadlines as Thou knowest our need. We cannot push Thee, for Thou wilt not be hurried. But only Thou canst keep us from being pushed".

Clemency In Waterloo

One of the employees of the L.C.B.O. shop in Waterloo who was involved in the liquor scandal in that part has at last been brought to trial, found guilty, and given a suspended sentence. Our readers will remember that in Waterloo it was discovered that the liquor in the local shop was being watered, thus defrauding the purchasers.

The clemency which has been shown to the offender who appeared in court may reflect a certain tenderness of conscience in official Ontario circles. After all, this man who was caught watering the drink was only doing in a small way what the L.C.B.O. has been doing for years in a big way. The Liquor Control Board, which was founded "not for profit, but for control" is certainly one of the most profitable government agencies in the province, and it operates with that utter disregard for the opinion of the public which has always characterized government monopolies.

NOTE AND COMMENT

The war must really be over after all. Mass unemployment is reported in Halifax.

A headline in a contemporary reads: "Three Critical After Car Hits Train". As, in this case, the car hit the train between the 22nd and 23rd cars we think that criticism of the driver is in order.

A geologist reports that Hamilton was once a mile under ice. The Hamiltonians, as usual, will dismiss this as a sneer from somebody who is jealous of their Mountain.

A news note says that the Royal College of Surgeons in London has the oldest known mummy, that of Ra-Nofer, dating from 2900 B.C. The hired wag of the Ottawa Citizen wonders what ranofer him? We can't say, but his name certainly suggests that he belonged to one of those Egyptian die-nasties.

Tourists For Post-War Europe

By PAUL SCOTT MOWRER

WESTERN Europe is getting ready for its first big tourist season since the war.

This is important. Tourists bring foreign exchange. Goods sold to them and services rendered are an indirect form of export. All these countries need foreign exchange, especially so-called hard currency like Swiss and Belgian francs and American dollars.

It has been the tendency among government planners over here to consider nothing mattered much except industrial production. Today governments are realizing that no modern country can really function unless service trades are also prosperous. Among these, the tourist trade is outstanding, and governments are beginning to encourage it accordingly.

ALSO, I sometimes wonder if the right to travel should not be ranked among the fundamental human rights. For if considerable numbers of people are not able to go abroad and see for themselves how others live, how can sound public opinion be formed and how can democracy function?

Anyway, Sweden, Norway and Denmark want tourists. So do Switzerland, Belgium and Holland. So do Britain and Ireland. So do France and Italy. And now that the Franco-Spanish frontier is again open, it will be easy to get to Spain and Portugal.

HOTEL accommodations in all these countries are ample. Train schedules are almost back to pre-war standards. There are also a good many long distance bus lines. Passenger planes fly in all directions. And people who can afford it will like to travel by car. Even when there is no gasoline for others there is always gas for tourists. And if any food shortage develops anywhere tourists will certainly be the last to notice it.

Generally speaking, hotel and restaurant meals on the continent are once more excellent. There are virtually no discomforts connected with travel. Frontier formalities are being reduced and prices in American terms are not exorbitant.

All these countries are interesting in themselves, each in its own characteristic way, but because of its central position none more so than France. I don't know, of course, what French prices will be by next summer. But as things are here since the opening of the free money market to Americans with dollars, Americans will probably find they can live better here and more reasonably than in any other western European country.

IT so happens I just returned from a motor trip across France and through one of its most popular tourist regions — the famous Mediterranean Riviera. Forty years ago this lovely mountainous coast was chiefly known as an international winter resort. Two things have changed that. One is the vogue of winter sports which takes crowds of people to ski fields of the Alps. The other is the vogue of sea and sun bathing, so that the main season on the Riviera is no longer winter but spring and summer. Last year from Easter on, there was hardly a room to be had.

However, there's also the winter season. Warm sunny February days, one following another like a string of gems, make it possible to lunch out of doors in gardens golden with mimosa, looking out over the sea or back to snow-capped mountains. Yet this year there was almost no travel. Half the hotels couldn't afford to open. Even crowds at the carnival of Nice consisted mostly of people who came by bus from Marseille or other nearby towns.

THE Riviera especially misses the British, who are, at present, all imprisoned in their island by currency restrictions. However, there were not many Swiss, Belgians, or Americans either. Some think the exaggerated stories of the last French strike scared them off. I think it was because the French prices before the recent devaluation were prohibitive. There were not even any French tourists. In the first place they can't get gasoline. In the second place, they were all frozen in the panic, pending the outcome of the government's drastic monetary measures.

To add to the general gloom, the crazy rumour suddenly spread that the Russians were about to march across Italy and invade the Riviera.

BUT already before I left, conditions were changing. French tourists had begun to drift in. Swiss and Belgian cars and some American appeared on the corniced roads that make a coast drive so attractive. Devaluation and the free dollar market have corrected the price distortion. By May, when the British government promises to allow its people to travel abroad again, there will probably be a shortage of rooms all along the Riviera. Yet right now, if any considerable number of Americans should arrive from Cannes or Nice, they would probably be welcomed by a brass band.

One Every Three Hours

It is as well to realize how we are governed. I have been looking into the number of Statutory Rules and Orders—i.e., Orders emanating from various Government Departments and having the force of law—which were issued last year. The total so far is 2,909. I say so far, because though 1947 is over there may be still one or two laggard documents to come from the printer. But 2,909 in any case is a respectable total. It means that every three hours, day and night, throughout the year a new Order burst on a largely unconscious public.

It actually means more, because the great mass of the Orders was issued on the limited number of days on which Parliament was sitting. Still, one Order every three hours is good enough. — London Spectator.

Victorian Etiquette

(By HAROLD NICOLSON IN THE LONDON SPECTATOR)

IT is astonishing, on looking back over the last half-century, to realize how completely the social conventions of our childhood have lost their validity. The other day I wanted to check some figures regarding the rise in the cost of living since Victorian days, and I consulted Mrs. Beeton's work on Household Management, which was first published in 1861. The table of wages in itself provided a startling comparison. A cook in those days expected to receive an annual wage of £12 to £36, a gardener £20 to £40, a housemaid £6½ to £10, whereas a stableboy got only £6 a year.

I was tempted to read further and to consult those subsequent pages in which Mrs. Beeton describes the then prevailing etiquette. It was before the days of cocktails or sherry, and Mrs. Beeton recognized that the pause before dinner was announced was apt to be trying for a nervous hostess. "The mistress," she writes, "must display no kind of agitation, but show her tact in suggesting light and cheerful subjects of conversation, which will be much aided by the introduction of any particularly new book, curiosity of art, or article of vertu (sic), which may pleasantly engage the attention of the company."

In those days, moreover, some ritual was observed in the drinking of wine. It was regarded as bad form to sip one's wine before the soup and fish had been removed. Finger glasses were provided at the end of the meal. Mrs. Beeton utters sharp warnings against the disgusting continental habit of a rince-bouche. "It is the custom," she writes, "of some gentlemen to wet a corner of the napkin; but the hostess, whose behaviour will set the tone to all the ladies present, will merely wet the tips of her fingers, which will serve all the purposes required. The French habit of gargling the mouth is a custom which no English gentlewoman should in the slightest degree imitate."

A less remote handbook on Victorian etiquette is that written under the title From Kitchen to Garret by Mrs. J. E. Panton, which had run into ten editions by 1896. Her suggestions for a simple meal for a middle-class household appear to us today as excessive. There were to be Soup, Soles, Stuffed Pigeons, Roast Beef, Wild Duck, Mince Pies, French Pancakes, Cauliflower au gratin, and dessert. Her ideas on interior decoration fill one with horror; every door was to be draped in a portiere; there were to be ferns and footstools, brass and pottery, cosy corners and Japanese screens. Under no circumstances were cigars to be tolerated; occasionally, however, "a spoiled guest might be allowed to smoke a cigarette in the conservatory."

Unlike Mrs. Beeton, Mrs. Panton is aware that a slow sad change is coming over the face of England. She faces the situation with robust realism. "The lower classes," she writes, "are rapidly climbing, thanks to education. They will rise whether we like it or not, and we had better, on the lowest grounds, assist them to share the place they will take and push us from." One should for these reasons be kind to one's servants. "Each servant," she writes, "should have a separate bed, if possible." A cupboard of some kind should be provided in their bedrooms. And a considerate mistress should take the trouble to tell her servants about the balls and parties and theatres which she has attended. "Servants," comments Mrs. Panton, "like to know what is going on, even if they cannot go to things themselves."

It is evident, when we compare these two volumes, that some change had occurred since Mrs. Beeton first published her famous handbook in 1861. Mrs. Beeton was convinced that the existing formula was both right and durable: Mrs. Panton was equally convinced that it was right, but not equally convinced that it would prove durable. The change which had occurred was a marked diminution in self-confidence. We are old enough in my generation to admit that these Victorian conventions had a certain meaning and a certain charm. But to our grandchildren they will appear as senseless as the taboos of East African tribes.

Wise Mr. Towers

A notable thing in the annual report of the Bank of Canada issued recently is that Governor Graham Towers doesn't go off the deep end about the Marshall Report and what it may mean to Canada. Wise Mr. Towers contents himself with the cagey statement that the Plan is "of great interest to Canada", and then goes on to caution that it does not remove the need of our being up and stirring for ourselves.

In other words, what Mr. Towers is telling us in that it is up to us to save ourselves; that we must, as far as possible, stand our own feet. There was need, judging from statements we have seen, for somebody like Mr. Towers to say this.—Ottawa Journal.

Sales Tax

The sales tax will take more than $325,000,000 from the people of Canada in the current fiscal year. It takes money not only from those who can afford to pay, but from the poorest consumer. As it is a percentage tax, it increases in actual amount as prices increase. The sales tax must come down. And inadequate pensions and allowances should go up.—Toronto Star.

A Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

And I, brethren, when I came to you, came not with excellency of speech or of wisdom, declaring unto you the testimony of God ... And my speech and my preaching was not with enticing words of man's wisdom, but in demonstration of the Spirit and of power: that your faith should not stand in the wisdom of men, but in the power of God.

Howbeit we speak wisdom among them that are perfect: yet not the wisdom of this world, nor of the princes of this world, that come to nought: but we speak the wisdom of God in a mystery, even the hidden wisdom, which God ordained before the world unto our glory. (I Cor. 2: 1, 4-7.)

✧ ✧ ✧

For it is written, I will destroy the wisdom of the wise, and will bring to nothing the understanding of the prudent. Where is the wise? where is the scribe? where is the disputer of this world? hath not God made foolish the wisdom of this world? (I Cor. 1: 19, 20.)

✧ ✧ ✧

Thus saith the Lord, Let not the wise man glory in his wisdom, neither let the mighty man glory in his might, let not the rich man glory in his riches: but let him that glorieth glory in this, that he understandeth and knoweth me, that I am the Lord which exercise lovingkindness, judgment, and righteousness, in the earth: for in these things I delight, saith the Lord. (Jer. 9: 23, 24.)

A BRITISH OPINION

"In future, Mrs. Jones, every time you eat a sausage say to yourself, 'Wallop! There goes another British-owned railway in Buenos Aires.'"

SCOTT'S SCRAP BOOK —By J. R. Scott

Has Axe Ready For Daily Dip

HALIFAX, Feb. 19.—(CP).—As the steely grey dawn cracks icily over the waters of Halifax's Northwest Arm, 74-year-old John F. McCarthy follows a habit of almost 40 years' standing and takes his daily swim.

Several mornings this winter he has been confronted by a thick layer of ice, but the well-known athlete of bygone days keeps a shovel and an axe for just such a condition.

The coldest day this winter so far was seven degrees below zero, although Mr. McCarthy didn't consider it much worse than ordinary zero weather. His favorite spot for swimming is in front of the Northwest Arm Rowing Club and the most likely hour to find him is about 6.30.

A native of Ireland, John McCarthy is the last surviving member of the Halifax Polar Bears' Club, whose ranks were once 12 strong. The other hardies have all died and there has been no one to take their places.

Also by way of keeping in trim, Mr. McCarthy dons the blades and spends some of his time gliding over the ice. He has a particular fondness for figure skating and is vice-president of the Bluenose as well as a life member of the Halifax Skating Club.

Rugger Enthusiast

His abandoned career covers service as a player and later coach of Wanderers football team in Halifax, coach of Cape Breton's famed Caledonia rugby team and rugby coach at Dalhousie and Acadia Universities. He is generally credited with introducing Rugby League football in Canada.

An equally ardent oarsman, he rowed with the Dolphin Rowing Club of Dublin. He also held a county cap for lacrosse and was winner of the Ulster title for the quarter-mile swim.

When Mr. McCarthy isn't flexing his muscles, he earns a living as collector for a Halifax trust company—a job he prefers because it keeps him out of doors so much of the time. He has no plans for retirement.

If there is one aversion in his life, it is his antipathy to newspaper reporters. When he goes in for a swim he does it for enjoyment and doesn't want any photographers taking pictures of him or "a lot of stuff in the papers."

Drop Dive-Bomb Plan

PROVINCETOWN, Mass., Feb. 19.—(AP). — The United States Navy last night abandoned plans to dive-bomb a seven-mile-wide ice field in Provincetown harbor after a shift in wind moved the floe away from shore.

Legion Whips Kingston 4-2 In First of Semi-Finals

Legionnaires defeated Kingston Saints 4-2 in Lindsay last night before over 800 fans in the first of their best-of-five OHA Senior "B" group semi-final series. The next one is in Kingston tomorrow night and the third in Lindsay on Monday. The winner of this series meets the Petes for group honors. The crowd was smaller than expected due to the mild weather but the ice held up surprisingly well. It was fairly fast all the way, though a bit chippy, and the pace of the game was fast all through. It was a clean game, though shinny most of the way, and Legion had a good edge on play. They should have won by a larger count. It was 3-1 for them in the first frame and 4-1 going into the third chukker. Only six penalties were drawn.

Udall Busy

Both goalies looked good, with Udall much busier in the cage in every period than Ross Nicholls. On the defence, Ned Vitarelli and Bill Mortimer of Kingston were outstanding, and up front it was Bob Greenlaw and Ernie Nicholls of Legion, with Catlin and the two Aitkens of the Saints. But there were no real outstanding stars as they were all in there pitching every minute of this tilt.

Play opened fast and it was even for a spell but Legion soon got pressing. Ned Vitarelli got the first one shortly on a screened shot on Bob Greenlaw's passout as they ganged up close. Joe Aitkens went off for hooking and Scotch Vitarelli cashed in on it with a hot shot right in there in a scramble, with Parnell and H. Greenlaw rating assists. With Aitkens back, Rochetta got the finger for slashing and, while he was off Ernie Nicholls checked Mortimer the latter's blue line and raced fast to tally a nifty one to make 3-0. With all back, Legion still had an edge, though Belwa tested Nicholls hard once. A Greenlaw-Crowley drive came close and then Jack Aitkens scored from Joe Aitkens on a smart return pass at close range.

Fast Shinny

It was speedy shinny most of the second stanza with Legion having a good edge on play though they only got one marker. Catlin almost counted early and Scotch Vitarelli made a good try right after. Ace Nicholls went off for boarding and Ernie nearly got one on a breakaway. Ace was back when a Godfrey-Parnell thrust nearly clicked, and then as Kingston ganged up late Rochetta broke from his blue line fast and went in to sink it neatly and make the count 4-1 for Legion. He went off toward the end for high-sticking.

The third was less than two minutes old when Joe Catlin bashed one home for Kingston when he tipped in Mortimer's forward pass at close range. It was hot and even for a time, with Ernie Nicholls coming close twice on nice work. Legion pressed for a bit but Kingston fought back hard. Hicks got the nod for tripping and they kept Ross Nicholls busy till he returned, and then it was fast and even. Udall robbed Bob Greenlaw on Rochetta's close-in pass and Kingston got going the last several minutes to make it real interesting. Scotch Vitarelli pulled a fine try and Kerluk went off for roughing just before the finish as Legion pressed again.

The teams:

Kingston: Goal, Udall; defence, Stephenson and Mortimer; centre, Catlin; wings, Cameron and Ohlke; alternates, Jarrell, Joe Aitkens, Jack Aitkens, Kerluk, T. Goodfellow, Belwa and Laird.

Legion: Goal, R. Nicholls; defence, Godfrey and N. Vitarelli; centre, Rochetta; wings, R. Greenlaw and Crowley; alternates, E. Nicholls, A. Nicholls, Burns, D. Vitarelli, H. Greenlaw, Parnell and Hicks.

Referee, W. Morrison; linesman, R. Wakelin.

Lock Works Win Cage Tilt From St. Paul's

Lock Works defeated St. Paul's 27-18 last night at the YWCA in their round-robin Girls' Basketball League playoff game. It was a good tussle most of the way with the winners showing more accuracy in shooting. They played the last four minutes with but four players as B. McIlwain sat it out with five fouls, but their earlier lead carried them through.

The count was 14 to 7 for the ultimate victors at the halfway mark, and they still outscored the Saints 13-11 in a tight second stanza. Y. Harvey, J. Johnston, B. McIlwain and A. Firth were all prominent in scoring for the winners, while J. Smedmore went best on the attack for the other side. The teams:

Lock Co.: Y. Harvey 7, J. Johnston 6, J. McIntyre, B. McIlwain 8, J. Reynolds, A. Firth 6.

St. Paul's: J. Smedmore 12, J. Abbott, C. Raper 1, B. Deyell, L. Coones, J. Smith 1, B. Beggs 1, E. Whittaker 3.

Referee—L. Grose.

Lions Hammer Out OMHA Win

The local Lions hammered out a 16-1 verdict over Bowmanville in Omemee rink last night in the first of their two-game OMHA bantam playdown series. They will carry a 15-goal lead into the return tilt of this third round. The Pammett pack was really clicking in this one and Bowmanville, although they tried hard throughout, were never in the hunt.

Lions rolled up a 7-0 margin in the first period and it was 9-1 to end the second, a much tighter chukker. But they rolled again for a 7-0 edge in the final frame. Only four penalties were handed out, three to Peterborough. Stewart and Pammett paced the attack with four goals each, the former also having two assists and Pammett one. Langhorne was in on four goals, and Ferguson, Spencer and McGrath three each, with McCormick getting one. Dowell counted on Bickel's pass for Bowmanville. The teams:

Bowmanville—Goal, King; defence, Bickle and Martin; centre, Masters; wings, Ellis and J. Masters; alternates, Dewell, Brooks, Haynes, Ferguson, McCoy, Sellers and Piper.

Lions —Goal, Delahaye; defence, Stewart and Byrne; centre, Pammett; wings, Langhorne and Ferguson; alternates, Spencer, McGrath, McCormick, Allen, Cunningham and Scriver.

Referee—W. Legitt.

REFUSES INVITATION

The English Lacrosse Union announced yesterday at London, England, that the Canadian Lacrosse Association has refused an invitation to send a team to participate in an exhibition lacrosse series in conjunction with the Olympic games.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

There'll be a number of guests at the Optimists Club dinner next Monday evening. On account of several trophies will be presented. The Fred Craig Memorial Trophy will be given to Ken Pammett as most valuable ballster last season. The club will present two cups for the best sportsmanship shown in junior and senior school sports last year. And they'll make a presentation to Robert (Red) Creighton for being chosen "Mr. Optimist" in 1947. Red lost practically all the sight in one eye last spring, but came back in his usual cheery style to coach the Petes to a senior "B" lacrosse title—and returned to the puck wars this winter. The Optimists and other service clubs of the city are doing fine work for local boys athletically inclined.

* * * * * *

No less than five hoop tilts tomorrow night here. Two girls' games at the YW, Nurses vs. Neill's in a playoff at 8.15, and Belleville vs. Towne Togs in an exhibition an hour later. And at the Collegiate, it's Cobourg vs. PCVS bantams in a playoff at 6.30, Port Hope vs. PCVS junior "B" at 7.30, and Cobourg vs. PCVS senior "B" at 8.30. The junior "A" and senior "A" teams are away in playoffs on Saturday. And then at the Collegiate on Saturday e'en, Montgomery Maids of Toronto, senior Canuck champs, have a 7.30 exhibition with Towne Togs in a girls' joust, while Lindsay men meet Marines "B" bunch at 8.30 in a Lakeshore League fixture.

Such A Clime, Tch, Tch

Hockey clubs have not taken kindly to the weather this winter so far. Sure, it was plenty cold throughout January and the first part of this month. But it was too bloomin' frigid for the fans. Puck clubs need gates when they're in OHA competition, and the Petes in particular took a beating on the weather. Then it turned too mild altogether—and poured rain one night when a big game was on the program. How long this extra mild weather will last we can't say, but it could be that there won't be much more real ice-making weather around these centres where one must depend on the vagaries of the clime.

Oddfellows will be unveiled, so to speak, tomorrow eve at 8.30 in Omemee when they play the second game of their OHA junior "B" group semi-finals with Danforth. A two-in-three series, with the winner next week meeting the Oshawa-Whitby victor for group honors. Coach Archie Weir and the Triple Link hockey officials have worked hard in keeping junior hockey alive in Peterborough, and they have some fine young players on this year'r squad. Of last year's team, Sullivan is in junior "A", Mortimer and Edgar are in senior "B" (latter as sub goalie for the Petes), and Montgomery has been up with the Petes. So, these juniors are future senior stars. They rate plenty of fan support.

IOOF-ers Get The First

The IOOF-ers got off on the right foot last p.m. in Whitby when they knocked off Danforth Byers 8-6. A fine fray, we're told, on fair ice. It was speedy and open, quite clean, too, despite some stiff bodying in spots. The Weir crew had a little edge the first frame, Danforth dangled back hard in the middle stanza to have a margin, but the Oddfellows finished strong to look better. Dugan, Montgomery and Collins were strong on the attack, with Conlin also helping both ways, and Goalie Byers solid in the visitors' citadel. It wasn't one-sided, though, and anything may yet happen ere it's over. But a fine start, anyway, for the rinkless Oddfellows.

* * * * * *

Well, it's one up and two to go with Legion after their 4-2 win o'er Kingston in Lindsay last e'en. First of their best-of-five senior "B" semi-finals, next one in Kingston on Saturday and then back to Lindsay on Monday. Legions looked better throughout on ice that held up surprisingly well in a fast, clean game of shinny. The locals should have won by an 8-2 count on territorial play. If they can take it Saturday, it should be three straight and we're all for that as the ice may go out in a few more weeks. We liked the work of Ned Vitarelli on defence and Bob Greenlaw and Ernie Nicholls up front especially, though there weren't any real outstanding stars for Legionnaires in this tilt. They all went well.

Crowd Enjoyed The Go

Biggest mat crowd of the season last night packed the Brock Arena to see the team bout at the end of the card. And they saw a sizzling scrap with Earl McCready and Ben Sharpe holding their own to get a draw with the villainous Masked Marvel and his partner in crime, Wee Willie Davis. Fans would have liked it if the bout had been continued but the gong beat them. Oodles of rough action in this tussle every minute with the four in there swinging at the bell, and little Referee Fox looking most misplaced in the hot going. The semi-windup was a draw, too, betwixt Dick Raines and Jack Moore, while Pat Flanagan beat Al Korman in a lively prelim.

100F Juniors Get First Over Danforth

WHITBY, Feb. 19.—(Special.)—The Triple Link team of Peterborough defeated Danforth Byers 8-6 here last night in the first game of their best-in-three OHA Junior "B" group semi-finals. The return game will be played in Omemee on Friday evening and third, if necessary, early next week on Whitby ice.

The Triple Link had an edge in the first period to count two goals, with Danforth coming back later for one. Keeble missed a nice chance once on a breakaway. Play was fast and clean with some stiff body-checking in spots on fair ice. Montgomery went well the first inning. Byers had an edge in the second heat to go ahead with two markers, making it 3-2 for them. The Petes' goalie had to be good. Fidler was gated for roughing it up.

The visitors outplayed Danforth in the lively third, sparked by Dugan and Collins. Play was quite fast and wide-open in this chukker, with both goalies kept on the jump as play swept back and forth at a hot clip. It was clean enough with but two penalties handed out as both sides tried hard for that important first-game victory. On the play, the Peterborough pack deserved to win but not by too large a margin.

Arnold Dugan paced the Petes' attack with some nice work going in on the Danforth citadel. Montgomery and Collins were also prominent on the attack and Conlin turned in a good effort. The whole team worked well from Goalie Byers out. Moore, Gee and Keeble went well for the losers. The teams:

Peterborough—Goal, Byers; defence, Menzies, Stock; centre, Conlin; wings, Dugan, Montgomery; alternates, Pagett, Floyd, Collins, Crowley, Clark, Griffin, Brooks (sub goalie.)

McCready and Sharp Draw With Davis, Masked Marvel

Before a sell-out crowd in the Brock Arena last night the team of Earl McCready and Ben Sharpe fought to a thrilling draw with the team of Willie Davis and the Masked Marvel. It was the best team wrestling match that has appeared here so far and the huge crowd were well pleased with the fast action and bruising style of the four contestants.

The "good guys" lost the first fall when Ben Sharpe was counted out on the floor after being strangled in the ropes. It took 31 minutes to complete the task.

McCready came back like a lion to even the count with his punishing rolling cradle splits. The action was fast and furious as the four wrestlers alternated in the ring and sometimes all four were in together.

When the four giant athletes, McCready at 242, Sharpe at 240, Davis at 267 and the Mask at 258, returned to the ring, the heroes were right on their toes, and the fans have seldom seen such pell-mell action.

In the remaining minutes of the hour time-limit Earl and Ben literally threw Davis and the Mask from pillar to post. Twice the Aurora Farmer got his famed finishing hold onto to Davis and each time the Mask interfered and managed to get it broken up. When the bell rang all four were in the ring and the air was full of flying bodies with Referee Cliff Fox of Belleville looking bewildered and like a midget.

Both McCready and Ben yelled long and loud for the match to be allowed to go another five minutes. The crowd, which by the way was a record for the season, wouldn't have minded the bout going longer.

Semi-Final Rough

The semi-final between Dick Raines and Big Jack Moore went to a 30-minute draw and produced a pair of toughies neither of which would have won the Lady Byng trophy for clean mat work. Raines was the favorite though why is a secret only the fans could solve. The boys worked in a lot of dirty stuff, Moore using the knee and the odd finger to the optic and Raines using his fists and feet.

Pat Flanagan flew to a flying tackle win over his old opponent, Al Korman in 24 minutes. Flanagan now weighs 221 quite a few pounds heavier than a year ago when he was troubled with a long-sustained neck injury.

Toar Morgan of Lindsay was on hand for last night's show. Morgan suffered a serious back injury while wrestling in Knoxville, Tenn. and will be on the sidelines for quite a spell.

Port Hope Loses Series To Rotary

With Bob Batley coming up with his third shutout in four games, and the rest of his team playing a terrific game, the Peterborough Rotarians defeated Port Hope 8 to 0, making it 15 to 2 on the round in their OMHA midget series.

The first period was scoreless, but it was a great period for thrills, both goalies being called on to make many saves, Batley having most to do. In fact it was in this period that he really earned his shutout, as Port Hope had the edge in this chapter.

The second stanza opened with Rotarians having the play and at the 4:10 mark Robinson scored with a hot shot. Then Douglas scored on a pass from R. Ferguson to end the period.

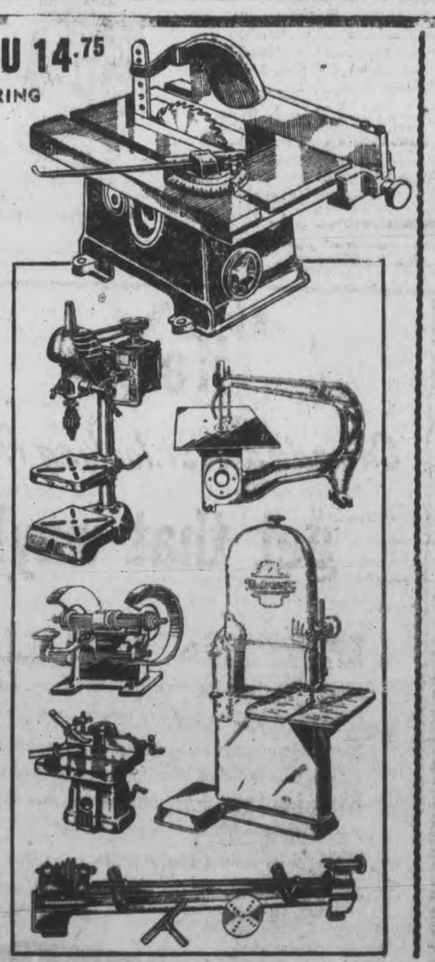
The pace was still hot and fast, starting the third, and Jim Shearer got a smart goal, stickhandling right in and beating the goalie nicely. Then it was a case of too much reserve strength for Port Hope, as Rotarians poured in and rapped in five goals in 10 minutes. Douglas, Robinson, Jensen, Jones and Douglas scoring in that order.

It was a neat hockey game, and the scored did not indicate the play, the last four goals being scored in the last two minutes. Port Hope showed a great reversal of form from Monday night, and Lewis and Downey played themselves into exhaustion.

All the Rotarians played a great game, Batley's goaling, the defencemen's clearing and the backchecking of the forwards. This is the ninth game in a row without a setback for Rotarians.

Rotarians—Goal, R. Batley; defence, D. Bigford and R. Ferguson; centre, C. Jensen; wings, R. Douglas and B. Jones; alternates, B. Robinson, B. Gandy, D. Ferguson, J. Shearer, E. Gooley, J. Telford.

Port Hope—Goal, A. MacGillis; defence, D. Thompson and W. Lewis; centre, D. Anderson; wings E. Tenthan and B. Downey; alternates, E. Caffin, F. Bilge, B. Robert, B. Hart, J. Freeman.



Referee, S. J. Churchley; linesman, B. Leggett.

Wings Take 2-Point Lead After 3-1 Ranger Defeat

By HARRY ECCLES
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Detroit Red Wings have gained undisputed possession of first place in the Nationnal Hockey League, but if Toronto Maple Leafs aren't sharing the top spot again tonight, it will be one of the saddest blows that ever befell the Leafian supporters.

The Wings took a two-point edge over the Leafs when they beat the Rangers 3-1 at New York last night. The Boston Bruins beat the tail-end Chicago Black Hawks 4-2.

In tonight's only game the Leafs go against the Canadiens at Montreal, and they badly want the two points to keep even with Wings. But the Torontonians don't need the victory points half as much as do the Canadiens, who now are seven points behind Boston and the last play-off spot.

It's going to be a tough game, and Leafs are taking no chances. With Vic Lynn, whose knee injury looks healed, a definite starter, the Leafs have three crack forward lines for use against the Canadiens. The three lines, Apps - Watson - Ezinicki, Kennedy - Mocker - Lynn, and Bentley-Klukay-Smith, will be bolstered by old reliable Nick Metz.

Lumley Stars

Young Harry Lumley, the Detroit goalie, starred in the Wings victory at New York. He kicked out 29 shots from the ever-hustling Rangers, while Sugar Jim Henry in the New York goal had only 14 saves.

But three Detroit goals were scored, with Ted Lindsay, Gordon Howe and rookie Don Morrison beating Henry in succession in the second period before Ed Kullman spoiled a shut-out for Lumley. Besides his own goal, Howe had an assist on Lindsay's, the latter score bringing Lindsay to the top of league goal-getters with 27.

Break Tie

At Chicago the Hawks and the Bruins were tied 2-2 in the first, but Boston scored again in the second and third. Woody Dumart, with two goals, and Grant Warwick and Ed Sandford were the Bruin scorers. Gus Bodnar and Roy Conacher tallied for Chicago.

The rough game developed ice warfare in the last period. Red Hamill of Chicago skated into Referee Butch Keeling and knocked him down. When Hamill was given a misconduct penalty the fans—there were 16,461 in the Stadium—showered coins on the ice in protest. Among the cleaner-uppers Doug Bentley picked up nearly three dollars in change.

In the last minute of play Pat Egan of Boston broke a stick over the head of Gaye Stewart, and when Stewart, former Toronto forward, who has been going great guns for Chicago, retaliated, both were thumbed off with majors.

After the game, Boston's veteran defenceman Jack Crawford was informed that his four-day-old daughter Mary had died earlier in the day.

Windsor Drops Oshawa 3-1; Finishes First

By The Canadian Press

That's that for another year—all the frantic racing and squabbling to get into the playoffs ended last night as the junior and senior loops of the Ontario Hockey Association finished out their schedules in a barrage of goals.

With all positions filled and playoff dates set, clubs in both leagues are now priming their players for a good showing in the coming playoffs which start Friday for the Senior A squads and Saturday for the Juniors.

Most attention last night was on the Windsor Spitfire-Oshawa Generals' tilt where Spitfires scored all their goals in the initial frame to hand Oshawa a 3-1 defeat. Windsor finished their schedule in first place, just four points ahead of the Generals. If Oshawa had managed to salvage a win they would have tied Windsor for top spot in points. And if that had happened, goal average would have settled the issue—with Windsor definitely taking the nod.

No Trouble

In the other Junior game of the night, St. Catharines Teepees had no trouble trouncing the cellarite Young Rangers 11-4.

Two final Senior tilts were played out as Kitchener-Waterloo Flying Dutchmen blanked Hamilton Pats 6-0 for their second straight win over the Pats in two nights. The Dutchmen made a last minute two-game winning splurge to move into fourth place, three points ahead of Owen Sound. The other Senior game was a virtual debacle as the third-place Stratford Indians waltzed to 16-0 win over the luckless Brantford Redmen.

That Windsor win last night was the first time Spitfires had whipped the Oshawa crew in two years. Jack Taylor was the local hero as he drove in for two goals and also assisted on the third which Johnny Wilson plunked into the Oshawa nets. Dick Gamble scored the only Oshawa marker on a pass-out from Frank Sullivan.

Ray Ceresino, the much-travelled and much-sought Junior, received official permission from the OHA to play for the Generals but did not figure in any scoring.

Teepees had a soft time routing Young Rangers in a game that meant nothing to either team. Teepees finished in sixth position and Young Rangers lived in the league cellar all season.

WHERE OLYMPIC ATHLETES WILL LIVE—Here are some of the nearly completed houses in "Olympic Village" which is now under construction at Richmond Park, London, Eng., for the purpose of housing the members of the various international Olympic teams who will soon be arriving in England to participate in the forthcoming Olympic games.

Sign In 2 Weeks Or No Go Louis Warns Jersey Joe

NEW YORK, Feb. 19 (CP). — Joe Louis, his patience wearing thin, says he'll give Jersey Joe Walcott just two weeks to sign for a return shot at the heavyweight boxing crown.

If the Camden, N.J., veteran doesn't come to terms by then, the champion adds, then he'll make his last fight against somebody else—"probably Gus Lesnevich."

"You'd think Walcott was the champion the way he wants to call the shots," the Brown Bomber said last night in the eve of his departure for a series of exhibitions in Britain.

Louis already has signed with the Twentieth Century Club for an outdoor fight in June which he insists will be the last of his career.

Walcott, who dropped a split decision to the champion in December after flooring him twice, has been regarded as the logical challenger.

Holdup On Terms

Until yesterday the return engagement appeared about set with the only differences revolving around distribution of movie proceeds. The Twentieth Century offered Jersey Joe a 22½-per-cent cut.

But another hitch arose when Louis' manager, Marshall Miles, disclosed the fight contract must have a clause guaranteeing Louis an even 30-30 per per cent split for a return bout in case he should be beaten.

Miles said this didn't mean Louis, if a loser, would go back on his announcement to retire after his June battle.

Walcott balked.

"It means I'll have to fight him three times before I get the champion's cut in a fight," he complained.

Manitoba Captures Trophy Second Time

WINNIPEG, Feb. 19—(CP)—Manitoba maintained its supremacy among the Dominion's high curlers last night when Stan Gowlin's Mordep rink defeated Keith Lackey's Weyburn, Sask., foursome 10-5 in a sudden-death final for the Canadian championship and the Sifton Trophy.

The win left Manitoba with a perfect record in the 'spiel's two-year history. Ron Montgomery of Frankin, Man., took the title last year.

Following last night's game John Cameron, bonspiel director, announced that Edmonton will be the site of the 1949 series, to be played sometime next February.

TO ENTER RIFLE TEAM

The National Rifle Association of Britain announced it will enter a team for the Olympic Games being held in London in July, 1948.

Braund Rink Wins 2nd Round At Toronto Meet

TORONTO, Feb. 19 — (CP). — J. Johnson's Kenora rink, competing for the first time in this spiel, swept an extra end into an 11-10 victory over the veteran Toronto Granite foursome of L. G. Doner to join three other winners today in the semi-finals of the major Royal York event of the 21st annual Ontario bonspiel.

Another first-timer, C. Asmussen's Kitchener quartet, scored a 12-4 victory over Dr. A. E. Walkey's Hamilton Vics to enter the semi-finals. The two others in the semi-final are last year's third cup holders, K. A. Miles' Toronto High Park group, who defeated W. B. White's Oshawa squad 7-6, and G. R. Meech's Toronto High Park foursome and 1947 second cup victors who edged out Andy Grant's Toronto Royal Canadians 10-9 last night.

The major upset yesterday occurred when L. G. Doner's Toronto Granites swept aside the Kitchener rink skipped by B. C. Hall.

In the second round for the North American Life Trophy, E. G. Braund's Peterborough rink downed George Westman's rink from Sault Ste. Marie 11-9. J. H. Curtis of Fenelon Falls defeated J. L. Fulton of McIntyre 9-8.

MUSICAL MONOLOGUE

Red Hot Barons Trounce Rockets 5-2

By The Canadian Press.

Cleveland Barons to-day are only four points out of first place in the American Hockey League's Western circuit and at the rate they are now travelling, should vault into the top slot before the end of the month.

The red-hot Barons last night turned aside Philadelphia Rockets 5-2 to stretch their unbeaten streak to 11 games and place them in second place, one point ahead of Buffalo Bisons. Cleveland has lost only one game in its last 19 starts.

Meanwhile Buffalo Bisons were dumped by the faltering Indianapolis Caps 6-5. Pittsburg also went down to defeat in the only other AHL fixture last night, being blanked by Springffield Indians 1-0.

Bob Carse, Ab Demarco, Johnny Holota, Roy Kelly and Fred Thurier hit the mark for Cleveland, while Phil Hergesheimer and Johnny Mahaffy tallied for Rockets.

Enio Sclisizzi paced the Caps with a brace of goals as they stopped the charging Bisons. Gerry Couture, Barry Sullivan, Calum Mackay, and Cliff Simpson also blinked the light for Indianapolis. Fred Hunt celebrated his return to the active list to lead Buffalo with apair of goals, while Jerry Brown, Joe Cooper, and Doug Lewis talied one each.

At Springfield, the Indians handed Pittsburg its first whitewashing of the season. Only score of the contest came off the stick of Indians Harry Frost at 17:43 of the first period.

Here and There In Sport

By The Canadian Press

Jimmy Guy and his Kenora rink defeated Bob McMurchy's quartet from Noranda 12-7 at Sudbury yesterday to win their way into the Dominion championships at Calgary next month as representatives of Northern Ontario.

Guy won from McMurchy and Hugh Monro, whose Copper Cliff team carried the NOCA standard.

A double round robin of games Monday and Tuesday failed to produce a winner as all three teams tied with two wins and two losses, resulting in a straight knockout event yesterday. Guy ousted Munro yesterday morning 18-7, and then polished off McMurchy in the final.

President Panter of the Ontario Hockey Association last night gave Ray Cerisino permission to rejoin Oshawa Generals. Cerisino is the much-travelled and much-sought after junior player who returned to his Port Arthur home after playing in a few exhibitions with the Generals last fall.

He wanted to play for the Port Arthur Bearcats but permission was not forthcoming and the Toronto Maple Leafs—whose negotiation list he's on—asked him to report to Toronto where the Generals persuaded him to return to their team.

The Royal Canadian Golf Association now is the official governing body of golf in this country, association assistant-secretary E. Harold Banks, announced in Toronto last night. Letters patent have been received from the Secretary of State incorporating the RCGA as a company. Prior to incorporation, the association had no legal standing in this country as a national authoritative body.

London fight promoter Jack Solomons yesterday proposed that Freddie Mills, European light heavyweight boxing champion, fight Tami Mauriello of New York ot London's Harringway arean, April 19.

Solomons cabled that date in reply to a challenge he said he received from Mauriello. Mauriello said he wanted to meet either Mills or Bruce Woodcock, British heavyweight champion.

Lakefield Ousted By Stirling, 6-5

LAKEFIELD, Feb. 19—(ENS)—The Stirling-Bata Combines edged out a 6-5 TVL triumph over Lakefield here last night in the final game of the season. The loss kept Lakefield out of the playoffs. One of the best crowds of the winter filled the rink and saw a keen, rugged game on fair ice. Lakefield had easily as much of the play but were a bit overconfident toward the end and the Combines pulled out the narrow decision.

Cook counted the first goal from Stapley and Chittick evened it up. The Bastedo brothers combined to make it 2-1 at the end, penalties going to Fawcett and Morton. In the second, Muffit scored from D. Bastedo, and then the Bastedo brothers combined for a pair, Chittick getting the only Lakefiedl marker. Chappell, Utman and Cook drew penalties. Jewell and Chappell each scored as Lakefield drove early in the third, but Stapley got one back for Stirling, Chappell got another near the finish. Penalties went to Armstrong (2), Henry and Muffitt. The teams:

Stirling: Goal, Aquino; defence, Utman and Armstrong; centre, D. Bastedo; wings, B. Bastedo and Stapley; alternates, Cook, Twigg, Morton, Wright and Muffit.

Lakefield: Goal, Wasson; defence, Birch and Jopling; centre, Chittick; wings, Jewell and Chappell; alternates, Fawcett, Henry, Hopkins, Campbell and Morin.

Old Hands Recall Toughest Grinds

NEW YORK, FFeb. 19.—(AP)—A bunch of old-timers, guys with white hair and round, soft bodies, were discussing one of the toughest grinds in sports....That is six-day bicycle racing, which will return to New York Feb. 29 for the first time since the war ....The talk concerned the great riders of former days, races in the "old" Garden, redolent of garlic and red wine and fans who went without sleep longer than the riders. And races in Paris, and Newark, and Chicago and Berlin and Montreal....The group included the promoters of the 1948 race, Felix Lafenetre and Mike Santariia; Joe Fogler, a great rider of the 1905-15 era, Franics Albertanti; the tub-thumper, and Buck O'Neill and a few other newspaper men.

Nights and Daze

Albertanti started the ball rolling by recalling: 'The first race I saw was in 1902 when I was a newspaper copy boy. I was passed in and grabbed a seat in the front row of the gallery. I had my lunch and a bottle of soda and I was afraid to move because somebody would grab my seat." ....Someone asked a question about riding during the early morning hours, after the crowd has left, and Fogler insisted, "when I rode the 'sleep shift' I always had the straps on my feet and was ready for anything.... That was when one rider would get a chance to get three or four hours of solid sleep, but you never could tell when somebody might start something. "The worst races of all," Fogler went on, "were in Paris. I was riding along early one morning when the loud speaker announced a sprint for a 'preem.' I was amazed. Then there was another—all little 'preems,' 10 francs, 50 francs. In Paris they started putting up prizes months ahead of time and they had so many that to get them all out they had to run sprints 24 hours a day."

Justice Dies Suddenly; Ill Short Time

TORONTO, Feb. 19. (CP) — A brilliant career at the bench and bar ended yesterday with the death at his home here of Mr. Justice William E. Middleton, 87, after a short illness. Retired justice of the Supreme Court of the province, Judge Middleton summarized his philosophy of the law on his retirement Jan. 6, 1933, when he said: "I have always found people respect fairness.

One of the more colorful of his cases was that of the Millar will "stork derby". His decision was that the will was legal although it set aside $500,000 to be given to women in the city having the most children in the 10 years after Charles Vance Millar's death.

The career of the Supreme Court justice included assignments such as that of 1913 when he was appointed sole commissioner to revise the rules of practice in Supreme and County courts. In 1927, he was chairman of a board of commissioners that revised and consolidated the Ontario statutes.

Manufacturers Discuss Power Cut At Lindsay

LINDSAY, Feb. 19 — (ENS) — At a meeting of manufacturers on Wednesday, to discuss the current power crisis, a representative committee was formed to act as a consultative body and work with the Lindsay Hydro Commission. The committee's purpose is to advise the Lindsay Hydro Commission as to the manufacturers' power requirements, and to work in conjuction with the Commission in the matter of conserving power.

Several manufacturers said they had been able to cut power consumption as much as 30 per cent during Wednesday morning in their plants. A representative for the Brakeshoe plant said their employees had received a "pep talk" on power conservation when they arrived at work, and it had good effects.

"At noon hour I found 20 men eating lunch in the dark of their own free will," he said.

It was pointed out that more even dispersal of the power load could be achieved if some firms were to operate on Saturdays and close down another week day, or if some were to operate at night.

"If you revert to night work it costs more money to produce," pointed out L. Fagan of Sylvester Steel Products. "It would be best to maintain the same working hours provided we can conform with the requirements of the hydro commission at the same time. "At our plant today we cut power consumption 28 per cent simply by using common sense in the use of electric motors, lights and other equipment.

J. Lightbody, secretary-manager of the Commission, said it did not matter what hours plants operated so long as the power was conserved. "I can see no great improvement in the power situation before 1951," said Mr. Lightbody, explaining that this was his opinion and not that of the Ontario Hydro. "We'll just have to keep our heads above water until that time." He said the same crisis might develop next winter about this time. "There is no prospect of improvement in 1949," he declared.

D. McAuley of Allenburys' asked if there was auxiliary equipment the town might install to help alleviate the shortage.

"It's out of the question for Lindsay to build an auxiliary plant just now," Mr. Lightbody said, "although we may some day be dependent on auxiliary power. My personal opinion is that if plants are to be built this should be done by the Ontario Hydro."

Reach Agreement

HAMILTON, Feb. 19 — (CP). — An arrangement was worked out yesterday between the board of education and representatives of secondary school students for supervision of extracurricular activities under direction of school principals and with the assistance of the board. Earlier several thousand students threatened to strike over refusal of teachers to continue to supervise extracurricular activities such as plays.

Too Much Money Passed Around Not Enough Goods, House Worry

By GEORGE KITCHEN

OTTAWA, Feb. 19—(CP).—Concern over the dangers of inflation, which meant there was "too much money chasing around after too few goods," was expressed in the Commons yesterday by J. M. Macdonnell (PC—Muskoka-Ontario), financial critic for the Progressive Conservative Opposition. Stepping into the lengthening Throne Speech debate, Mr. Macdonnell accused the Government of "ignoring" the inflationary threat in Canada and warned that the situation would worsen if the administration did not soon take corrective steps.

He said the Commons committee on prices, since it was dealing with profits, hoarding and matters of a similar nature, could have only a "microscopic" effect upon the inflationary tendencies.

Resources Minister Glen entered the debate briefly to deny that there had been political interference in the proposed appointment of W. J. F. Pratt, his private secretary, as general executive assistant in the Indian Affairs Branch.

At the House opening, Trade Minister Howe told the Chamber no eviction "ultimatum" has been given war veterans occupying a housing development in the Montreal suburb of Ville St. Laurent. If the veterans did not want to buy, they could stay until the homes were sold.

Prime Minister Mackenzie King said the government has not yet decided whether to submit legislation increasing war veterans' allowances to the Commons Veterans' Affairs committee. The increases have been announced but the legislation has not yet been introduced.

Ignore Causes

In the Commons, Mr. Macdonnell charged that the government, in appointing a committee to investigate prices, was "turning away from the causes of inflation and looking for effects." The resolution setting up the committee had not mentioned the word "inflation."

Criticizing the government's handling of finance since the end of the war, he said that in 1939 the Canadian people possessed some $2,100,000,000 in their pockets or in savings or demand deposits. Today they had $7,100,000,000, which every serious student of economics would agree had a profound effect upon the country's price structure.

With the amount of money now available, there was a practically unlimited demand for a limited supply of goods.

Percy Wright called for the passage of legislation to establish a board of livestock commissioners and a Dominion agricultural products marketing board and said a formula should be worked out which would provide floor prices for farm products under the Agricultural Prices Support Act of 1944.

Criticize Sarnia For Poor Waterfront Plant

LONDON, Feb. 19 — (CP). — Sarnia was criticized and Stratford was praised at yesterday's opening session of the first annual conference of Municipal Planning Boards in South-western Ontario. More than 150 delegates are expected. Sessions close on Thursday. Ontario Planning Minister Dana Porter spoke last night.

A. E. K. Bunnell, consultant to Mr. Porter, said that Stratford is a "good example of progressive planning," and in reference to Sarnia he said: "There is another municipality not far from here that has had a chance to do something about its waterfront, but they are too lazy."

At first, Mr. Bunnell did not mention Sarnia by name, but Sarnia delegate G. R. Henderson took it for granted and admitted that city leaders are "perplexed" over their waterfront problem. An Area Planning Commission had been operating since last June, he said, but it had been difficult to get the three members, Sarnia, Sarnia Township, and Point Edward to agree.

In reply Mr. Bunnell said that a waterfront plan had been available for Sarnia for some years, and the city could have adopted various features from time to time.

Reminding that the Sarnia Commission "hasn't even a map of the area," he thought that the city's major industries should contribute to preliminary plans.

Also, said Mr. Bunnell, the Sarnia Chamber of Commerce should take "a more official interest in the community, rather than just looking in from outside."

Pleads Guilty

WOODSTOCK, Feb. 19 — (CP). — Bradley K. Watts, 22, of Stratford, yesterday pleaded guilty and elected summary trial on a charge of armed robbery of the Canadian Bank of Commerce at Tavistock Feb. 11. Allan Williamson, 18, of Galt, alleged accomplice of Watts, also charged with the same offence, was not asked to enter a plea. Both were remanded in custody until Feb. 25.

Detroit Doctor Guilty Of Raping Sarnia Woman

DETROIT, Feb. 19 — (CP). — Dr. Henslee E. Tann, 41, twice acquitted on abortion charges, was found guilty today of raping a 25-year-old Sarnia woman. A jury of eight women and four men brought in their verdict after deliberating 50 minutes.

Tann will be sentenced March 3 by Recorder's Judge Paul E. Krause. The offense carries a maximum penalty of life imprisonment.

Tann was charged with criminal attack on the unmarried Sarnia woman who told the court he raped her when she appeared Jan. 21 at his office to discuss an abortion.

While the jury returned its verdict, Dr. Tann, apparently unmoved, was reading a pocket edition mystery novel in the prisoner's box. Later he told reporters: "Sure we're going to appeal."

Two warrants are still pending against him. He was remanded to county jail on $55,000 bail. Tann is charged with performing an illegal operation on a 15-year-old girl and with obstructing justice by inducing a police witness to leave the state during a previous abortion trial.

He was acquitted last August by a recorder's court jury of manslaughter charges in connection with the death from peritonitis of Miss Helen Matta of Leamington, Ont.

Tann also is under one-year sentence in the Detroit House of Correction for non-payment of alimony. His estranged wife, Frances, charged that he owed $400 back alimony. They have a 5-year-old daughter.

Reuther Urges United Front

NEW YORK, Feb. 19 (AP). — Walter P. Reuther, president of the United Automobile Workers (CIO) says Liberals and Progressives should discard their "united-front psychology" to fight Communists.

The Liberal, says Reuther in tomorrow's issue of Collier's Magazine, should ally neither with reactionaries to fight Communists nor with Communists to fight for progressive legislation.

The first tactic, he says, involves the danger of "assuming that every foe of Communists is a friend of democracy . . . Hitler, Mussolini, Franco, Peron, Rankin, Bilbo and Gerald L. K. Smith — all could pass that test."

In his article, "How to Beat the Communists," Reuther says the idea that Liberals can work with Communists is a "delusion (which still persists in many quarters; Henry Wallace's third - party movement was fathered by it." The union leader calls Wallace's candidacy a "political valet service" for the Communist party.

Chinese Youth Need Leadership Missionary Doctor's Appeal

"The recent war years have broadened the outlook of the youth of China," said Dr. Victoria Cheung, Canadian-born Chinese doctor, in an address at St. Andrew's United church Wednesday night, "but where can they look for leadership?"

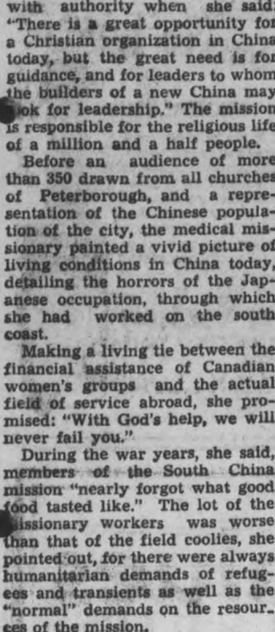
In charge of the WMS United Church of Canada mission in South China, Dr. Cheung spoke with authority when she said: "There is a great opportunity for a Christian organization in China today, but the great need is for guidance, and for leaders to whom the builders of a new China may look for leadership." The mission is responsible for the religious life of a million and a half people.

Before an audience of more than 350 drawn from all churches of Peterborough, and a representation of the Chinese population of the city, the medical missionary painted a vivid picture of living conditions in China today, detailing the horrors of the Japanese occupation, through which she had worked on the south coast.

Making a living tie between the financial assistance of Canadian women's groups and the actual field of service abroad, she promised: "With God's help, we will never fail you."

During the war years, she said, members of the South China mission "nearly forgot what good food tasted like." The lot of the missionary workers was worse than that of the field coolies, she pointed out, for there were always humanitarian demands of refugees and transients as well as the "normal" demands on the resources of the mission.

China today is a land of devastated homes, inoperative transportation, and "wiped out" villages, she said. Conditions of the average home in Canada she described as "like a dream to me."



"Everything is a 'must' for you . . . there is nothing you can do without," she said, comparing such items as the efficiency of Canadian public services with those in China.

The migration of 50,000,000 Chinese in the face of the Japanese onslaught from the north was told. Leaving in hordes, mostly on foot, these fleeing refugees found it difficilt, in the latter part of the struggle, to find sufficient food on which to exist. They have returned to find not a brick left of many homes, to find trade at a standstill, schools, factories totally destroyed.

She painted a living picture of the work which the mission is now handling. Each morning, she said, 200 patients are treated at the hospital, and outside 600 to 800 people gather in the mission compound to receive the daily ration of food provided by UNNRA. She told of bombing raids in the area during the war, when 12 bombs fell in the hospital area and one went through the cross on the roof of the nurses' residence. Only one man was killed during these attacks. Chinese schools today are terribly overcrowded, and thousands of children are "drifters," waiting for an opening.

Discussing the medical aspects of the Chinese today, she said that the majority of children were living in a "chronic state of under-nourishment." Hookworm is practically universal. Dysentery and tuberculosis take a tremendous toll. Through administration of drugs and other treatments the effects of malaria have been diminished.

The meeting, held under auspices of the WMS of St. Andrew's was in charge of the president, Mrs. F. W. K. Harris and Rev. M. J. Aiken. "The Lord's Prayer" was sung by Adam Hawley. Organist was Harry Northrop.

FACES DEPORTATION — Secretary of the CIO National Maritime union, Ferdinand C. Smith, above, was arrested and taken to Ellis Island, New York, for deportation proceedings as an alien Communist illegally in the U.S. The U.S. government charges allege that the 54-year-old labor leader was a member of an organization advocating the overthrow of the U.S. by force.

With The Boy Scouts

On Sunday morning members of St. John's Rover crew and Scout troop started off "B-P" week in regular Scout fashion, attending holy communion, where two members in full uniform took up the offering. At the boys' breakfast, group members waited at table. Guest speaker was B. Ottowell, past president of the Peterborough Boy Scouts' Association and now a member of the provincial executive of the association. He was introduced by Skipper Groombridge and gave his audience a concise account of the Scout movement. District Scouter Fred C. Ford proposed thanks to Mr. Ottowell.

Attention was drawn to King's Scout Doug Cooke, who was present in uniform, in the fact that he recently received that rank, the highest award in scouting.

Dedication Ceremony

On Sunday evening Cubs, Scouts, Brownies and Guides paraded to All Saints' Church for special service, led by the color party. The flags were placed at the foot of the chancel, stepped by Scouter Art Rose, assisted by ARC G. Groombridge. The processional hymn was, "As Youths Met Here For Worship." Scouting prayers followed. Scouter Rose read the lesson.

All Scout members re-affirmed their promises — Brownies, Guides, Cubs and Scouts.

The address, given by Rev. W. E. Kibblewhite, urged that youth "take up the ball and run," be ever ready to accept the challenges of life, prepared in all ways to face the trails.

At the close of the address Scout Harry Hollingsworth, flagbearer, was escorted to the altar rail by Cubs Jackie Morton and Don Montgomery, where he presented the Union Jack for dedication. This flag was presented by Mrs. Victor Allen in memory of her late husband and leader of All Saints' Cub pack.

Honor Akela Allen

With heads bent, the congregation stood in one minute's silence to the memory of Akela Allen. Following the dedication the flagbearer and escort returned to the church body, standing at the alert during the singing of the recessional.

Many representatives of the Guides attended the service, including District Commissioner Mrs. Whalon. Members of the Mothers' Auxiliary and group committee were on hand. Flowers on the altar were in memory of the late Victor Allen.

St. Paul's Pack

Foster Innes, a new Cub, joined the pack.

Trinity Troop, No. 16

ASM C. Stone congratulated the Scouts on parade for their fine appearance, as all were wearing full uniform.

Doug Hancock completed second class re-pass and was presented with his badge.

An objective has been set to have the remaining boys who have not yet completed the second class work to have their tests completed by the end of February. Plans were made for the troop to attend St. Andrew's United Church parade on Sunday.

A hike is planned for Saturday.

Dr. J. Perry and A. Malby, members of the group committee, gave instructions on passing test.

All Saints' Troop

On Thursday the troop had a sleigh-ride party, followed by games.

3rd St. George's Troop

The following boys passed tests: Gord Bullied, Ron Collins, Don McIntosh and Vern Orr, knotting and whipping on tenderfoot work; Jack Haslett passed compass and Kins games, and George Holden passed compass. Troop Leader Jack Kimball received two proficiency badges, artist and swimmers, and Patrol Leader Ron Strickland received his bronze arrow head badge and certificate from Scouter Pete Dominik. District Scoutmaster George Houghton paid a visit and taught scoutwork. Keith Reid was welcomed into the troop. He was previously with 9th Park Hill.

A hike was held on Sunday. The meal was cooked and eaten in the open. Another is being planned soon.

Patrol leaders held a meeting at Scouter Jordan's house, and a court of honor was formed.

Haganah Doubles Forces Develops Armored Units

JERUSALEM, Feb. 19—(AP).—Haganah's shock troop striking force has been doubled during the last two months to at least 10,000 men, a staff officer of the Jewish organization said Wednesday. Full armored units are being prepared to support attack rather than defence.

The staff officer said that Arab attacks to date had been only feints. He added that no onslaught is expected in the foreseeable future which would force strategic abandonment of territory allotted by the United Nations to the Jewish state.

Haganah expects Arab attacks on three fronts: against Jewish settlements of Galilee in the north, against the Gaza-Negev area in the south, and against the central coastal stretch in an attempt to separate Tel Aviv and Haifa.

"We are fully aware of the strategic weaknesses of the frontiers of the state established by the United Nations," the officer said. "It has, therefore, been the job of Haganah to examine these frontiers in view of the likely Arab attack and find the weak places and those likely to bear the brunt of a full-scale attack

Only Preliminary

"Haganah works on the assumption that so far the Arab attacks have been very preliminary—only armed reconnaissance. Our defense of the area so far has been sufficient in relation to what has happened on the Arab side."

Asked whether Jews hope to be able to hold all the territory mapped by the United Nations or believe it may be necessary at first to yield outlying areas, the officer replied:

"It is the general decision that in the present phase and in the immediate foreseeable future, there will be neither need nor reason to contract our frontiers nor abandon territory."

Quebec Studies Civil Service Pay Question

By The Canadian Press

Civil service salaries came under discussion yesterday in the Quebec legislative assembly and Premier Maurice Duplessis said the question of under payment of government employees was being investigated.

Premier Duplessis answered Opposition criticism of salary schedules by asserting that the position of the government employees was "aggravated" by 45 years of Liberal administration. He said the salary question would be "settled in the near future when the immense task of inquiry is done."

During the salary debate, the legislative council, Quebec's Upper House, passed a half-dozen bills including amendments to the provincial Medical Act to increase the authority of the Quebec College of Surgeons.

Fails In Duty

As the resumed throne speech debate continued in the Saskatchewan legislature, Reconstruction Minister J. H. Sturdy criticized A. W. Embury, armed forces representative and president of the provincial command of the Canadian Legion, for what he minister termed "callous disregard of his duties as a veterans' representative.

Mr. Embury, a member of the legislature's veterans' committee, said yesterday in the legislature that the CCF government's farm and veteran-settlement policies were leading to socialization of the land. Mr. Sturdy asserted that Mr. Embury attended only one meeting of the committee during study of the government's land-settlemest policies.

The minister said 1,280 veterans had been settled on Crown lands on 33-year renewable leases with an option to purchase after 10 years. There would be 2,000 veterans settled by the end of 1948 and the government planned to settle 3,000 in all.

Court Audience Applauds As Stunt Driver Freed

QUEBEC, Feb. 19— (CP). — Trial of James Hazlitt, automobile stunt driver of Oklahoma City, for the carnival murder of a man who had annoyed his wife ended in an unprecedented burst of applause in a Quebec Criminal Court yesterday when an English speaking jury acquitted him after deliberating only 25 minutes.

Hazlitt, who had admitted striking 26-year-old Edonard Doiron at Causapscal Village in Matapedia County last August, when Mrs. Hazlitt complained of being insulted by Doiron, said last night he and his 20-year-old wife planned to leave to-day for Oklahoma.

Scene of the trial was shifted to Quebec from the County Criminal Court after Antoine Rivard of Quebec, Hazlitt's counsel, had won a change of venue motion on the grounds possible animosity of people in the district where Doiron had been fatally injured would prejudice his case.

Hazlitt said the favorable reaction given the verdict so overwhelmed him he could not express his pleasure.

Of British justice he said: "That was really true justice. It was as much justice as I could expect anywhere."

The trial moved quickly to a climax after Crown counsel Paul Miquelon, in his address to the jury, said he did not ask for a conviction of murder because "I don't believe it was murder." However, he held the jury should convict and reduce the charge to manslaughter.

4,000 Miners In West Vote On Pact

CALGARY, Feb. 19 — (CP). — Fuller returns today in the vote of 4,000 bituminous miners in the Crow's Nest Pass area of Alberta and British Columbia were expected to confirm early indications that the men were in favor of accepting an agreement negotiated with operators this week.

A full vote of district 18 United Mine Workers of America members in the area would end the 38-day-old walkout begun when wage negotiations collapsed.

Elsewhere, 3,000 domestic coal miners in some pacts of Alberta were prepared to vote on an agreement identical to the one giving bituminous miners a wage boost of $2 a day, holidays-with-pay concessions and an increase from three to five cents a ton in the welfare fund levy.

Buried 10 Minutes

TORONTO, Feb. 19 — (CP). — Coalyard foreman Bruce McKenzie yesterday was buried for 10 minutes beneath tons of coal but suffered only slight bruises and shock. When he was standing atop a loaded railroad coal car, the car's trapdoor opened. McKenzie fell head first into a pit beneath the tracks and the coal landed on top of him. Fellow workers freed him.

Elimination Of University Seats Robs Commons Of Witty Debates

By JAMES McCOOK.

LONDON, Feb. 19 — (CP). — Wit, wisdom, and useful non-political opinion will, members of all parties agree, be lost to the Commons by elimination of 12 university seats provided for under the Representatives of the People Bill.

This would remove from the House five notable independent members—Sir Arthur Salter and Sir Alan P. Herbert, Oxford; H. Wilson Harris, Cambridge; Sir Ernest Graham-Little, London, and Kenneth Lindsay, combined English.

Salter is a noted economist and author; Herbert an outstanding humorist and playwright; Harris is editor of the Spectator, an influential periodical; Graham-Little is scholarly physician, and Lindsay is an authority on education.

These independents have salted Commons debates with brisk criticism of Government and Opposition and their endorsation of legislation is eagerly sought by the administration. They vote as they please and party whips welcome them with delight when they move towards the Lobby to indicate their "aye" or "no" votes in a division.

None of them may wish to enter the hurly-burly of election contests in constituencies other than the universities where they are judged as much on their scholastic and public service records as on their ability as platform orators.

Represented 323 Years.

The universities have been represented in Parliament for 323 years and the first four elected for Oxford and Cambridge took their seats in 1625. University representatives are elected by graduates who can vote both at their university and the town in which they live, a system of plural voting the Labor Government decided should be discontinued.

Prime Minister W. E. Gladstone is counted as the most famous of university members. He was returned four times by Oxford—in 1847 by a majority of only 173 votes.

The bill will cut total Commons membership from 640 to 608, the lowest figure since before union with Ireland in 1801, when the number was increased from 558 to 658. The record high was 707 members in 1918.

Three In Truck Killed By Train

JOLIETTE, Que., Feb. 19 (CP) Three men were killed yesterday when their truck was hit by a railway train at Crabtree Mills near this Laurentian town.

The truck belonged to the Three Rivers division of the Shawinigan Water and Power Company.

The crash occurred in a driving snowstorm and apparently those in the truck could not see the approach of the Canadian National Railways train.

Identification was difficult because the dead carried no papers. Injured companions identified them as a Mr. Baril from Ste. Narcisse, Que., a Mr. Cote from Three Rivers, and a Mr. Rheauld from Shawinigan Falls, Que.

Seriously injured and reported to be dying were men named Parent and Brisson.

Citrus Fruits Won't Sell Much Cheaper

Effective today the Wartime Prices and Trade Board announced the re-imposition of mark-up price controls on oranges, grapefruit, limes, lemons and tangerines. What the long-run effect will be is not yet apparent, but little change in price is likely in the immediate future.

One large Peterborough fruit retailer who was purchasing in Toronto on Thursday morning reported that there would be no immediate change in price of grapefruit or lemons. Smaller size oranges would be slightly lower, but larger ones would remain stable. Limes and tangerines are unobtainable now.

During the last few days the market is said to have been advancing in California, and this advance would tend to wipe out small decreases in price which would have been imminent otherwise.

Controls will work a hardship on the wholesalers chiefly, it is believed. Supplies of citrus fruit on the Toronto market are said to be very light. Added to the problems of a small turnover the wholesalers will now face the prospect of lower profit.

The general attitude seems to be one of wait-and-see on the part of the retailer who has been limited to a 25 per cent mark-up (30 per cent on Florida products). Retailers who import directly are allowed up to 35 per cent.

Many people feel that the wholesalers have been "making a killing" recently, having boosted prices as much as 50 per cent; and now these people feel the squeeze is on the wholesaler for a change.

10,000 May Die If The Switch Is Pulled No, No, Not People, Just Unhatched Chicks

A catastrophe of major proportions—resulting in at least 10,000 deaths — might strike Peterborough if the Hydro was to act in the same manner as did the Toronto authorities on Monday, and cut the electric power without warning for an hour or so.

This is not quite as terrifying as it may sound, for the deaths would be to unhatched chicks which would probably never see the light of day—and eventually, the roasting pan—if the power failed at this vital time of their embryonic existence.

In the city's two main hatcheries, both incuberating plants are run by electric power. With an interruption in that power, these plants—which are kept at a steady 100 degrees for 18 to 21 days—would, in the space of a few moments, react with uneven temperature between top and bottom. Although managers of the plants state that the destruction of the chicks would not be complete in an hour's interrupted heat. They glumly estimate that from 20 to 25 per cent of the potential hatchings wouldn't occur, however. With total estimates of the two at close to 50,000 future chickens that makes an estimated casualty list assume the impressive figure of 10,000 or more which would have to be written off as "among the missing."

Ten thousand chicks, tsk, tsk, that's a lot of chickens.

Will Work With Council To Open George St.; Set Fair One Week Later

"I think we should work with the City Council in trying to get George St. through the park," said Hugh Stewart, new president of the Exhibition Board, at its meeting Wednesday night. That was only a passing reference to an expected meeting with representatives of the council on this question and probably one or two others. Twenty-two members attended Wednesday night, and probably typical of the "new look" were expressions of Harold Rehill and Art McIntyre that as soon as heavy wire fence is available the Board should substitute it for the "concentration camp" high boards along Lansdowne St., plant shrubbery and try to achieve some beauty. Opinion was generally that the citizens would greatly prefer the decorative effect that is possible, and they would have a higher regard for the Exhibition in its revival. Directors are discussing entirely any prospect of people looking through a wire fence instead of going through the gate.

The dates were changed last night to Aug. 25-28, a week later than previously proposed. Gordon Hancock was authorized to spend up to $3,000 on grandstand attractions. It was thought that satisfactory booking might be made for that amount, although some of the veterans were doubtful. Tom Brown recalled that one year the Board had spent more than $10,000 on its grandstand bill, and the public hardly realized the quality of the entertainment provided for them. The Lindsay show was tawdry in comparison.

Try Night Races

Several harness races will be included in the night bill if the cost of lighting the track, to be estimated this week by Ross Dobbin, permits.

Charlie Moore delivered a mild jolt to the Board in the first prize list draft. His committee suggested $8,000 for beef and dairy classes of cattle. It was expected that 20 per cent would be contributed by the Department and entry fees would amount to $400 or $500. Prizes would range from $5 to $9, the smaller sum for the junior classes. They are also to be uniform. For example in one of the senior classes there might be eight or nine prizes each of $9. Rules have not yet been drafted for the prize list.

Mr. Moore said that Mr. Gordon Matthews of Canada Packers recently expressed willingness to give a dinner for the junior farmers taking part in the program proposed for them. That division of the exhibition, which had been been developed with fine success by the Peterborough Board, is broadly outlined already.

Discussion of the prize list was held over until all the committees are ready to report at an early meeting. The Board is re-engaging the former caretaker, is going to ask the Morrow Trust to pay for repairs, may ask the city council for a grant, and decided to advertise for a secretary-manager.

Keene Revives Roarin' Game With Big 'Spiel

Keene has been a staunch community from its earliest settlement days 125 years ago until the present time. The Scots were not only excellent pioneers but they brought their national game of curling from the Old Land to the new community in Upper Canada. They probably organized the earliest curling club in the many surrounding districts and played with wooden stones on the marsh ice of Indian river.

As times grew more prosperous a covered curling rink was built. It fell to ruin in 1937. A year previous to this the last bonspiel was held until the spirit of the "roarin' game" was revived again this year.

Beginning last Thursday night and continuing into Friday, the Keene rink committee sponsored a 'spiel which attracted 16 rinks from Peterborough and Otonabee. In a game that knows no age limits, William Chapman and Gilbert Howson, headed the oldsters at over 80 years while the youngest, both 18, were Jim Houle and Lou Roach. Dick Davis used a pair of stones hand-made by James Lang over 100 years ago.

Last Friday's rain and sleet storm stopped the bonspiel before it was finished and it will continue when the weather tightens up again. Rinks in first place to date are being skipped by Charles Mather, Sam Comrie and Fred Hall.

Meanwhile there is a move underway to build a new covered rink.

Plan Club House

Kawartha Motorcycle Club held its election of officers at the home of Clare Heard on Tuesday. Elected were Kenneth Hopkins, president; James Kennedy, vice-president; Dean Cutmore, secretary; and James Crain, treasurer. Mrs. Clare Heard was appointed head of publicity.

Donations were received for a new club house to be purchased in the near future. A representative will attend the American Motorcycle Association meeting to be held in London, Ont., on Feb. 1.

An interesting year of activity is planned by the club and new members would be welcomed, they said. Next meeting will be held on Tuesday, March 2.

SPRINKLER SYSTEM GIVES ALARM

Firemen investigated an automatic alarm at the B. F. Ackerman and Son Co. plant on George St., at 3.05 a.m. Monday. It was found that high pressure in the sprinkler system was responsible.

"DOUSE DE GLIM"

Peterborough's slogan in a certain vernacular should be this week "Douse de glim". Interpreted it means "turn off the light", they way they were doing today with some of the illumination in the Woolworth store.

FIRE DAMAGES KITCHEN

An estimated $50 damage was caused to the kitchen of Vern Birkhof, 780 Brown St., early on Wednesday afternoon, due to fire. An electric cord feeding a two-burner electric plate short circuited. It burned the wire and damaged kitchen furnishings.

MIGHT BE MORE "B.O."

First of the domestic conveniences to be liquidated next week, if the worst comes to the worst, will be the flat rate water heaters. That's what Ross Dobbin was gloomily predicting today. Few citizens like laying in water from the cold tap. You can still have a reasonable supply of the hot if you do some rationing on your own this week.

LOCAL LIONS ATTEND CHARTER NIGHT

A contingent of Peterborough Lions attended Charter Night of the Cannington Club on Wednesday night at Cannington United Church. Present were president Pat Scollard, Byron Bond, Mr. and Mrs. George Hildenbrand, Mr. and Mrs. James McCulloch, Alderman Hurrell Dodds, George Caldwell, Geddes Harper and Gordon Shier.

TRANSPORT RAMS CAR

An estimated $100 damages was caused to the rear of the car of J. L. Scott, 455 Stewart street, when it was crashed into by a Cope Transport at the corner of Hunter and Water streets about one o'clock Wednesday. Both vehicles were going east on Hunter and stopping for the red light. The transport skidded on the icy pavement and slid intb the car. There were no injuries. PC Gordon Trennum investigated.

TWO CARS DAMAGED

Damage to fenders and doors of both vehicles resulted when the car of W. T. Regan, 600 Gilmour street collided with the parked car of Wilson Northey, 567 Murray street on Monaghan road near Queen Mary School. PC H. Mesley investigated.

TOO MANY LIGHTS

The citizen walking down Main St. Thursday morning was able to observe what appeared to be too many lights burning considering the emergency brought on by the power shortage. The office of the Utilities Commission was ablaze with lights . . . hardly an example of conservation.

LET THERE BE LIGHT

Grumbles and growls from many citizens and public bodies in Toronto, may have a certain amount of justification when they find themselves victims of an unexpected and sudden cutoff. Conservation of electricity is the watchword of the Ontario Hydro Electric Commission, and no one will deny that their worry at the moment is a big one. Peterborough however appears to have little worry in the matter of using up the juice. The County Council Chamber was empty for several hours Tuesday, yet every cluster of lights was turned on, lighting dark corners of an empty room.

JOYS OF THE OPEN ROAD

The "New Look" fares no better than the "Old" at the hands—or wheels—of thoughtfuless motorists. With the thaw this week, it is still a dangerous thing to promenade in anything less durable than a diving suit close to the curbs. Miniature Niagara Falls occur at intervals as vehicles make their way through the dampish streets. If you are splashed, take the number of the offending car.... the police say they know how to deal with the matter.

Stole Mackinaw Gets 2 Months

Harold Sipes, London St., was sentenced to two months in jail this morning by Magistrate W. R. Philp, K.C., when he pleaded guilty to stealing a mackinaw from a Simcoe St. store. Another charge against the accused, of stealing a case of soup from a restaurant, was dismissed when no evidence was offered by the Crown.

Acting Detective William Clarke testified that Sipes and been seen taking the coat from the front of the store and that he handed it to a companion who had not been apprehended. The item had not been recovered.

City Fire Loss $387,122.58 For Last Year

Peterborough's fire loss last year was $387,122.58, of which $368,957.28 was charged to one fire, the virtual destruction of the G. Whitaker & Co. last July.

Acting Chief George Smith in his first annual review to the council listed 603 alarms in 1947, but actual damage to property occurred in 56 of them.

Telephones carried 535 alarms, department boxes 28, sprinklers 16; chief's special 2. The year's total was 186 fewer alarms and 3 fires under the 1946 totals.

Chief Smith renews the recommendation of his predecessor, George Gimblett, for a two-door station in the southern area of the city, and proposes that six men be added to the strength of the department, four for the aerial truck when it is delivered and two to be trained for the fire prevention bureau. He also asked that a doctor be appointed to attend the members of the department injured on duty, and also for medical examination of new men; that the City Trust Commission build a cement water tank at the rear of the station for drill purposes and testing pumpers; that the Utilities Commission construct two 50-gallon reservoirs for fire protection at Downer's Corners, one to be located near the turn in the highway west of the C.N.R.

$1,000 RENTAL

In the matter of rentals, recently a topic of inferest to the city council, it was said at the Exhibition directors' meeting last night that Canada Packers have been paying $1,000 a year for storage space in one of the buildings at the Exhibition grounds. The council was recently reminded of a list of rental of city properties. One of them was its factory block, recently vacated by Nashua Paper. Rental has been unchanged to Sealright Co. at $1,500 a year. The council also scanned George St. store rentals recently.

80 Food Handlers Amazed Media Plates Show Germs

More than 80 people attended the second lecture on Food Handling, held in the Public Library Wednesday afternoon. This lecture, sponsored by the Peterborough Branch of the Health League of Canada was of special interest as several media plates taken at the previous meeting (Wednesday, February 11) were produced and it was clearly seen how the organisms on these plates had multiplied in the week.

One media plate was that of a plate upon which a person had coughed, and it showed numerous colonies of organisms that had developed. Another plate was one upon which a human hair had been dropped. At every point touched by this hair, it was noticed that germs and organic matter was in evidence. Yet another plate which showed the increase of organism was one that had a finger mark upon it. Where the flesh had touched, there also was a colony of organism formed.

An interesting experiment was carried out at the lecture. A drinking glass was sterilized and the top of the glass was then placed on the media plate. Tests showed that there was no live matter in evidence at all. Another glass that had not been sterilized was then placed on the plate and wherever the glass touched the plate live matter was noticed and this matter continued to increase during the test.

The main lecture, given by Dr. R. A. Kelly, MOH, in the afternoon was Food Handling, Food Spoilage and Food Storage. Films were shown entitled "Dishwater named Red" and "Hash Slinger versus Food Handler." Dr. H. Worton discussed how food was poisoned by being handled by dirty hands.

Mr. E. R. McDonald, a Peterborough hairdresser, gave a demonstration with a model (Mrs. E. R. McDonald) in the importance of a correct hair-do for waitresses serving food. Untidy hair which permitted loose hairs to fall out and in all probability fall on food and crockery ware was one of the most common mediums for spreading live organisms.

Mr. J. E. Girven, president of the Peterborough Health League, presented certificates to those who had attended both lectures on Food Handling. Towards late summer or early fall the lectures will recommence. Wednesday night saw a repetition of the afternoon's program, when more than 80 were present.

Perhaps it should be explained that a media plate is really a shallow dish upon which has been deposited a jelly-like substance known as agar-agar. This is manufactured from sea weed and is a favorite form of vegetable matter upon which germs will not only live but thrive. Organisms may be of various colors and should a human hair, or a dirty finger print be put on this media, immediately it is noticed that the germs multiply. An ordinary hair may have several hundred germs upon it and in a short time it is probable that a colony of millions will grow. These are actually visible to the naked eye when in contact with the media.

Ten Days To Go

Constable Bill Aggas sends word that he will be finished his course in finger-printing and photography, run by the RCMP in Ottawa, in another 10 days. In his off time he has taken in a couple of boxing shows put on by the Beaver Boxing Club. It is the same club Bill boxed for some years ago. The Ottawa police department played hosts to the student constables recently at the Ice Cycles show, and the newspaper photographers photographed the class.

Someone Picked $435 Off The Street There Are Two $100 Bills In The Roll

Somewhere in the city a young girl has, within the past few days, brought home to her parents a large sum of money in cash. This is the opinion of police who are checking the report of an elderly woman that she lost $435 cash last Saturday. She is unable to state in what part of the city it was lost.

Only clue available as yet is the report of a bystander that he noticed a small girl standing at a George street corner Monday evening holding a bundle of bills in her hand. The person, who reported this to the police, states that he overheard the girl being told by two newsboys that she "ought to turn it in at the police station". The child had replied that she intended to first take it home "to show my mother."

Efforts are being made to find the newsboys who were talking with the girl, in the hope that they knew her.

Listed in the roll are two one hundred dollars bills, and police ask bank staffs and stores to cooperate in the return of this money to its owner. Acting-Detective W. C. Clarke is working on the case.

Says Ontario's Universities For Children of Wealthy

So-Ed Speaker Recommends Formation Of 3 More Ontario Universities And Numerous Jr. Colleges

Intelligent use of an increasing amount of leisure time, and a slashing attack on the present educational system which he said barred a third to a half of the capable students from attending college, were the two main themes of an address given by E. C. Guillet, Toronto, at the second SO-ED lecture held in the Normal School on Wednesday night.

Mr. Guillet, well known in litterary circles, said that in a survey made in Toronto, he found that 90 per cent of the children of the well-to-do attended university; 14 per cent of those in the middle economic bracket; and 5 per cent of those in the lower economic bracket. Yet, he said, the wealthy comprised only 8 per cent of the total population, the middle bracket 32 per cent, and the lower bracket 60 per cent. He drew atention to the disproportionate "higher education" enjoyed by the wealthy to the detriment of the poorer sections of the population.

"It is apparent from these statistics that higher education is largely a matter of finance, and a third to a half of our children are prevented by their economic status on going to college."

More Universities.

One of his chief recommendations was that two or three more universities should be established in Ontario— at least one of which is in Northern Ontario. To supplement this he contended there should be from 20 to 25 Junior Colleges in other Ontario centres.

"What we need, is not a reduction in the number going to college, as has recently been mentioned, but more Junior Colleges."

Firing point-blank at the University of Toronto, the speaker compared the composition of the Board of Governors of 1909 with that of 1946; and he charged that the Board no longer run by educationists, but by the commercial class consisting of financiers, stockbrokers and the business element in general. In 1946, he contended, two of the Governors were not even eligible to serve as they were outside the country.

Condemning this trend toward what he considered business domination, he told of a "recent deal with the university" Labatt's Brewery had set up a safe driving school which is now being used there. He declared it ironic that a firm which retails alcohol, the cause of so many accidents, should sponsor a safe-driving course.

As the Duke of oYrk and Lady "The measure of a civilization is not the splendor and privilege of the rich," he said; "but the living conditions of the ordinary people."

As his "text" for the evening, Mr. Guillet chose a selection from the pen of one of the Commonwealth's most eminent educationalists, Sir Richard Livingstone.

"Why should there be such inequalities in life; in particular, why should the children of some people have in adequate food, living conditions, education, etc., while the children of others, whatever their brains or characters, have secure access, not only to the necessities of a good life, but to a superfluction of luxuries."

In a matter-of-fact manner, the speaker then began to torpedo one institution after another. Drawing on an address by Gordon Conant, former attorney-general of Ontario, he said that the "administration of justice is much the same as 100 years ago."

Contending there was "one law for the rich man, another for the poor man," he pointed out that a $10 fine for drunkenness was no penalty to a rich offender who paid it easily, but a poor man might not be able to afford it and would spend 10 days in jail. Issuing of bail, hiring an expensive lawyer to plead a case, and the acquiring of expert testimony were all cited as opportunities for the wealthy person to stand a better chance of being acquitted than a person possessing little or no money.

He quoted Chief Justice Hon. Mr. J. C. McRuer as saying that little attempt was made to rehabilitate the prisoner after release.

In Canberra, Australia, where there are no slums, there are no juvenile delinquents either, he intimated.

Illustrating his point that the great remedy for the majority of these social ills would be better education and a more equitable distribution of income, he gave several other examples.

Commenting on a sense of values he compared the liquor bill for the country which he quoted at $500 million, with the amount spent for education and religion, amounting to half that sum.

"If marriage is free for a nominal fee, it should be the same for divorce," he said. He pointed out that it costs from $2 to $5 for marriage, but $280 to several thousand dollars for divorce. "Divorce is a lawyer's racket," he charged. Sex education, particularly in schools, he described as pratically non-existent.

Another institution he attacked was radio advertising which he said competent judges had assessed as 6.6 per cent true, and 93.4 per cent false.

"It is only in the last hundred years that we have had anything like a democracy." Approximately a hundred years ago, democracy and trade unions were suppressed, young children worked long shifts in mines, the status of women was low, and property was the criterion in voting. Education, he felt, had eliminated theshe evils.

Workers' Education Association, and institutes in England were praised for their work in adult education by Mr. Guillet. Throughout the United Kingdom, Scandinavia in particular, and the Argentine adult colleges were operating. "In Denmark alone there are 57 adult colleges; we have none."

Ontario has 232 free and public libraries but facilities are lacking to some 40 per cent of the population. The provincial government subsidizes these institutions to the extent of one cent per capita. In Sweden the speaker claimed there are 6,450 libraries, or 20 times as much as Ontario on a pro rata basis.

The speaker contended there must be a great development in community life and centres. He suggested some useful substitute for the regular Saturday matinee which children crowd to see. And he declared that "we need a country that will educate the masses with as much care as the very rich."

In concluding he quoted the words of two eminent Americans —the philosopher Thoreau who said: "I please myself with imagining a state at last which can afford to be just to all men"; then the words of the late President Roosevelt: "The test of our progress is not whether we add more to the abundance of those who have much, it is whether we provide enough for those who have little."

Athens Order Lumber From Canadian Firms

ATHENS, Feb. 19 (AP).—The government's Reconstruction Division today placed orders in Canada and Sweden for lumber valued at $530,000.

Division Director Arthur A. Dobson said it would be used for a housing program.

The order calls for 9,000 cubic metres from Canada. This is the third order placed in the Dominion. Orders to Canada in December and January totalled $630,000.

Lindsay Meters Produce $9,952

LINDSAY, Feb. 19.—Collections from Lindsay's 345 parking meters grossed almost $10,000 during the seven and a half months in 1947, Town Clerk W. R. Allely informs.

Total collections from the time the meters were installed — May 19 to the end of 1947 were $9,952.28, of which the town receives 25 per cent until the meters have been paid for. The town's share for the period in 1947 was $2,488.07. Town Clerk Allely would not "go out on the limb" and predict the approximate time it would take to pay off the meters on the 1947 basis.

Lindsay's total collections of almost $10,000 compares favorably with Peterborough where 945 meters grossed over $17,000 in the same period. In Peterborough, it is found that the meters have also more than doubled the number of fine collected for overtime parking. Last year's total in the Quaker City was $2,137 in fines of one dollar each as compared with $90 in 1946. Comparative figures for overtime parking fines for Lindsay could not be obtained.

Mackenzie Won't Act On Divorce Committee

OTTAWA, Feb. 19 — (CP). — Recently wed, Senator Ian Mackenzie (L—British Columbia) laughed with the rest of the Upper Chamber yesterday when Senator John T. Haig, Progressive Conservative leader, suggested that he be named to the divorce committee.

Senator Haig jokingly made his suggestion after the chamber approved a motion appointing Senator Mackenzie to five other committees.

The newcomer chuckled and shook his head.

"No, no," he said.

Analyze Withdrawals

OTTAWA, Feb. 19 — (CP). — Reasons for withdrawal of student veterans from Canadian universities are being analyzed by the veterans department, it was announced yesterday. "The number, according to preliminary indications, is not high," said Veterans Minister Gregg, "but the department does want to know what is happening to those men and women who have commenced courses and then decided to follow some other rehabilitation method."

Youth Acquitted Serious Charge

Clayton Eason, 19, was found not guilty of a charge of rape, by the petit jury on Wednesday afternoon at the spring session of the Supreme Court of Ontario before the Hon. Mr. Justice Wells.

All evidence had been heard when the court adjourned Tuesday evening, and counsel for defence, W. J. Arthur Fair addressed the jury on the court re-opening.

Crown Attorney V. J. McElderry, KC, in his address requested the jury to believe the girl's story and take note of the calm and sincere manner in which she had given her evidence.

His Lordship spoke for three-quarters of an hour, and advised the jury on the very important duty the members were called upon to perform. "You must place your findings on the evidence that you have heard, and not be biased by any personal feelings," he said. "It is entirely on your shoulders to decide whether you shall believe the girl's story or the evidence of the accused."

The jury retired at 12.10 p.m. when the court was adjourned until the afternoon session. At 3.20 p.m. the jury returned to the court room for further direction.

At 4.20 a verdict of 'not guilty' was returned.

His Lordship said that upon the evidence heard he was sure that the jury had made a wise decision and felt that it was the only verdict they could arrive at.

Addressing the accused, Mr Justice Wells told him he was a very fortunate young man. "You have done a great deal of harm and destroyed a young girl's honor. I hope that you will learn a lesson from this and make an effort to keep out of trouble," he said.

Reserve Judgment On Resort Owner

KINGSTON, Feb. 19 — (CP).— Judgment was reserved yesterday on application of Arthur F. Mitchell, Desert Lake tourist resort operator, under the foreign exchange regulations. He sought return of $80 in United States currency taken from him at the Thousand Islands bridge last July 23. Mr. Mitchell contends that as a tourist resort owner he had the right to have $500 in U.S. money and the currency was to be used to make change for American visitors to his camp.

Pacific Vets Don't Get Pay

OTTAWA, Feb. 19 — (CP). — None of the 1,625 Canadian Army personnel who received special Pacific campaign pay served in the Pacific theatre of operations during the Second World War, the government said in a return tabled yesterday in the Commons.

Some 2,500 who did see Pacific action did not receive the special pay. The government explained that these 221 officers and 2,198 other ranks—including the Canadian force of 2,017 at Hong Kong—were not members of the Canadian Army Pacific Force.

"This is exclusive of the Kiska Force, but includes personnel who served in various capacities in the Pacific, but not forming part of the Canadian Army Pacific Force," the return said.

The special pay, authorized on June 1, 1945, was awarded to the 325 officers and 1,300 other ranks who made up the Pacific Force. It was paid while they were taking special training in the United States to prepare themselves for Pacific warfare. When hostilities ended, "training was discontinued and the forces returned to Canada as soon as possible" and the special pay was stopped.

Canadians Lack Knowledge In Serving Wines

WINNIPEG, Feb. 19.—(CP).—Henry Donaldson, valet and waiter to British notables for 20 years, is continuing his career in one of Winnipeg's larger hotels.

Mr. Donaldson immigrated to this country recently and now is living here at the home of his war-bride daughter and son-in-law. His first trip to Canada was in 1930, he recalled.

"At that time I was a valet for Gen. Sir Ian Hamilton, whom I met while serving with the Royal Scots in the First World War. I accompanied the general on his tour, but we didn't get as far west as Winnipeg on that occasion," he added.

The most recent thrill experienced by Mr. Donaldson was the unexpected visit of Princess Elizabeth and a group of her lady friends at the Savoy Hotel shortly before her wedding.

"We had no notice that she would be arriving," he said, "and no special arrangements were made to receive her, but we all recognized her as she entered the hotel."

After service of one day in a Canadian hotel Mr. Donaldson said he had noticed two striking differences from what he has been accustomed to in Britain.

"At home we have to know the correct way to serve wines and champagne, while here wines are not even served at meals," he said. He also added that a waiter in a British dining room never goes to the kitchen, while in Canada he may pick up orders there.

Virginia Mayo Wants To Do Serious Acting

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 19.—(AP).—When both Danny Kaye and Virginia Mayo left Sam Goldwyn for Warners, there was talk that they might co-star again at their new studio. Here's her view on the matter:

"Definitely not. We made five pictures together, and that is plenty. I'm sure Danny doesn't want to either. I want a chance to do some serious acting and with Danny, all the emphasis is on comedy."

Warners wasted no time in getting Virginia to work. Within a week after signing a seven-year contract, she was emoting in "Dames Don't Talk."

Jolson Story

There was more drama at the Photoplay dinner than in many movies. In accepting the "Most Popular Picture" award for "The Jolson Story," Columbia headman Harry Cohn said, "I take off my hat to a great performer—Larry Parks." Later, Jolson declared, "It's okay to take off you hat—why don't you go into your pocket too?" Most amused was Larry, whose suit against Columbia comes up next week. All three men sat on the dais and it was very chummy—or was it?

Jolson may not have know he was on the air during his acceptance speech. At any rate, three "hells" and two "damns" went crackling across the ABC coast-to-coast network. All revealed his film biography cost $2,5000,000 and has grossed $10,000,000 so far. That may give Larry added ammunition for his suit.

Short Takes

Tyrone Power will have to postpone his Scandinavian air jaunt. He has to do two more films this year after "For Fear of Little Men." They now appear to be "Down to the Sea in Ships" and "Prince of Foxes," to be filmed in Rome. The latter deal was largely Ty's idea . . .

Co-Op Program Slashes Cost, Builds Houses

MILLINOCKET, Me., Feb. 19—(AP)—Tidy new homes rising rapidly here to ease the housing shortage are monuments to the co-operative spirit in this little northern Maine paper-manufacturing town.

The people, the Great Northern Paper Company and a bank joined the community endeavor which is providing dwellings at a cost of about $575 per room, compared with approximately $1,500 elsewhere

With many willing hands pitching in, new houses--complete with cellar, electricity, plumbing and heating — are going up at costs of $4,000 to $6,500. Without the co-operative action, the cost would be approximately double.

The paper concern, principal industry for the 6,300 inhabitants, began the enterprise a year ago. It laid out 51 lots. Seven others sewers and built streets.

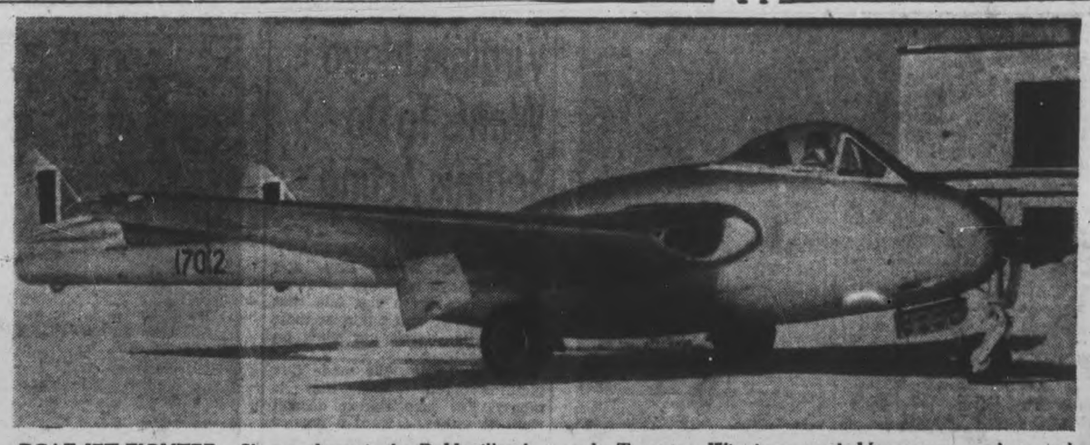
The Great Northern reserved five lots in scattered parts of the development and on them is buildings six-room houses to rent to employees for $45 a month. These homes, not part of the co-operative plan, cost $8,500.

The other 46 company lots--averaging 100 feet deep with a 60-foot frontage--were sold for an average of $240 each on an easy monthly payment basis. The purchasers planned to build their own dwellings, hiring what labor was necessary to do work they and their friends couldn't accomplish

A dozen men went into the woods to cut logs for lumber. Others began casting cement blocks for construction. Paper company officials offered their business experience to determine the best means of financing the new buildings.

Trust Company Helps

As many lot owners were war veterans, they first called in Veterans Administration officials for discussion, and the Millinocket Trust Company presented an attractive prosoition with loans which can be liquidated in 10 to 15 years. The interest rate is five per cent.



Ground for the first house was broken last April; and construction has started on all but six lots. Eight homes were completed by mid-December. Work will continue through the winter when weather permits.

The typical dwelling has five or six rooms and a bath. Some are bungalow-style; others have two stories. walls are insulated. Garages will be built later.

The houses are not monotonously similar. The individual owner's taste in design and color is carried out as practically as possible. Company architects who planned the five company houses also designed the others.

The original co-operative plan for small groups of volunteers to work a few hours in the evening or on days off was outgrown quickly. Volunteers increased and as many as 40 worked on a single building at one time. They brought their own tools.

The owner of one finished home supplied electric current to illuminate night work on nearby houses. When the Bangor Hydro-Electric Company learned of this generosity, it whittled his bill to everage monthly size.

The Vampire is to be used both by the Regular and Auxiliary Air Force, being slated for Auxiliary fighter squadrons in Montreal, Toronto, Winnipeg, and Vancouver, and to other squadrons as they are formed. Recommend Divorce

OTTAWA, Feb. 19 — (CP). — The Senate divorce committee yesterday recommended that Diana Eve Whittall Beurling be divorced from Flt. Lt. George Beurling, Canada's leading fighter pilot of the Second World War. Beurling, now in civilian life, did not contest his wife's petition.

Dominie Bemoans Phony Phonetics

AUCKLAND, N.Z., Feb. 19. — (CP).— University authorities in New Zealand are complaining that many pupils who learn by phonetic methods at school never learn to spell correctly.

In support of this claim the chancellor of the University of New Zealand, Sir David Smith, quoted the report of Dr. Kenneth Cumberland on spelling mistakes in a set of geography papers he marked for the university entrance examinations.

"Cereals are often searials, cerials or granes," Dr. Cumberland stated. "Citrus becomes cityrus, siterus, siterous, citrious or citerus. Less than 10 per cent. of the candidates have this word correctly. There is less excuse for lemmons, proones, raisons or raysens; still less for walm, wett, goyle and sylte. Accros, occurr, ammount, scetch mape, seanic ressorts, furtile and cerplus or surplace for surplus, are all very frequent."

Dr. Cumberland found insuldige or inchalage for ensilage, irogated orchids, irogation, irragation, truncaded spurrs, losearn (for lucerne), iren orr, tinn, zic, lede, mangnise, tusocke desserte, thatshed rooves, and prise powltery and fouls. Peninsular was used instead of the noun peninsula in all except two or 583 scripts.

Errors in place names included Panimar, Sidney, Otargo, Schicargo, Edinbowrugh, Rhur, Rur, Rurh, Glasscow (very frequently), Livverpoole, and Cambera, Fedrol Capitol and seet of government.

Many New Zealand employees state that the university criticisms are fully justified and that many of their younger employees make mistakes in the simplest words.

Believes One Night May Decide Next War

NEW YORK, Feb.— (AP) — Maj.-Gen. Orville A. Anderson, Commandant of the United States Air Army College, said today that the decisive time in a future war might be "one night."

In a speech before the United States conference of mayors, with from eight of Canada's nine provinces in attendance, he referred to a recent statement by Gen. Eisenhower that a future war night be decided in 60 days.

Anderson said "I don't know why he picked the 60 days. I couldn't pick it unless I could see the two forces deployed.

"The period, I think, will be one night, because that would be the proper application of material forces against a nation not prepared to counter."

See Stalin's Hand In Attack On Allies

MOSCOW, Feb. 19 (AP)—Experienced observers of the Moscow scene professed today their belief that the hand of Prime Minister Stalin definitely can be detected in authorship of recent Russian accusations against the Western powers.

They said the tone particularly of the fourth and last section of the Soviet Information Bureau's statement entitled "falsifiers of history" seemed to show decided traces of the phraseology usually associated with Stalin.

Juniors Skiiers To Compete

Highpoint of the unique experiment of organizing a Junior Ski School will be reached Saturday when youthful competitors vie for skiing honors at a specal meet being held on Kemp's Slope.

More than 275 children are expected, accompanied by parents who wish to come. Transportation by bus to the Slope, on the Warsaw Road, will be free.

Believed to be the first of its kind in Ontario, the Ski School was created by the combined planning of the Peterborough Ski Club, Board of Education, and Recreation Commission. The local Ski Club organized and instructed the young would-be skiers on a voluntary basis.

Ages of the public school students range from 7-16 years. Worthwhile prizes will be presented for proficiency to both boys and girls, divided into four classes each: Primary, under 9 years; Tadpole, under 11 years; Peewee, under 13; Bantam, 13 and over.

There will also be grand prizes for the most proficient boy and girl skier taking part in the competition.

Slalom and other downnill events will round out the bill. Judging will be done on a combination of time and efficiency in completing the run.

Buses will leave at 9.15 a.m. Saturday to take children and parents to the meet. It is expected that the events will be completed by noon.

The Junior Ski School has been operating for about nine weeks, and will continue until skiing is through for the season.

Can You Make an Apple Pie? Little Maid, It's An Art

By MARY MOORE

A casual friend of mine called at our house and we had tea together and when it was time for her to leave she said that she would not want me to think her husband would be cross if she arrived home late for dinner. For—he was the best husband in the world He had only one fault—a little one. Every year they bought a barrel of apples and he made it a rule that the bruised and blemished apples were to be used up first. So—all winter she and the children used nothing but spotted fruit—leaving the perfect apples to catch rot from the others!

Why they could not have been separated into two crates—"perfect" and "blemished"—I was not told.

However this little screed is for those of you who have more second grade apples to use up than is comfortable.

If you know how to make a perfect apple pie that pleases you and your family do not read this.

If you do not know how to make pastry try the recipe for hot water pastry. It is an easy starter.

Plain Pastry

Two cups flour, ¾ teaspoon salt, 2-3 cup shortening, 6 tablespoons cold water. Sift flour and salt; cut in shortening with 2 knives or work in with finger tips. Add water and cut it in just enough to pick up the loose flour in bottom of bowl. This amount will make two crusts. Roll ou ton lightly floured board, dividing the past into 2 parts. Line pie plate, trim edge, fill, roll out top crust, gashing at centre to allow steam to escape, place over filling, moisten edge of undercrust, pinch and crimp edgs to seal, trim of excess pastry.

Hot Water Pastry

One-half cup shortening, 1½ cups pastry flour, ¾ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon baking powder. Cream the shortening with a fork in ¼ cup boiling water. Mix and sift flour, salt and baking powder. Add dry mixture gradually to shortening, blending well Form into ball and chill before using.

Two-Crust Apple Pie

Using either plain pastry or hot water pastry above, line pie plate. Fill half-full with thinly sliced apples; sprinkle them with half of a mixture of ½ to 2-3 cup white sugar, ¼ teaspoon nutmeg, ⅛ teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon lemon juice (if desired), and dot with 1 teaspoon butter. Fill pie with more sliced apples (it requires about 8 medium-sized apples to fill a 9-inch pie) and sprinkle remaining half of sugar mixture over and dot with another teaspoon butter. Cover with top crust, trimming off sealed edge and crimping to prevent leaking.

Bake pie at 450 to 475 deg. Fahr. for 10 minutes, then reduce heat to 350 deg. Fahr. for about 40 minutes longer.

NOTE: When I was 21 and newly-married and still in school we lived in a flat, and our kind landlady used to invite us to dinner on Sundays. She made the best apple pies I have ever tasted. She washed, cored and ground the unpeeled apples (Stark's Delicious) through a very coarse knife of the food chopper directly into a bowl containing ⅞ cup white sugar. She would stir them into the sugar as they dropped to prevent browning. She used lard in the same proportions as our plain pastry above, and made her pie at least 2½ inches deep, and baked it 1 hour at 400 deg. Fahr. No salt, spices, butter or lemon juice for her. She may have had a secret I do not now—but there it is—easier to do than any method above.

The Truck with two teen-aged girls in it suddenly lost control and plunged through a fence, over rocks, stumps and trees... down a steep embankment into Gareau Lake. Horrified onlookers from a cottage nearby rushed to the side of the lake and were surprised and relieved to find that Colette Bordeleau, the driver, had not only saved herself, but had also rescued her friend, Jacqueline Pelletier. Two feet of water covered the truck when it finally came to rest on some stumps and trees at the bottom of the lake—but Colette succeeded in crawling out of an open door window on Jacqueline's side of the truck. She went up to the surface, took a deep breath, and plunged to the rescue of her friend, who was temporarily stunned by a blow on her head. As a tribute to her quick-thinking courage... the DOW AWARD, including a $100 Canada Savings Bond, is being presented to Colette Bordeleau of Shawinigan Falls, P.Q. The Dow Award, presented from time to time to a Canadian hero or heroine for outstanding bravery, is sponsored by DOW BREWERY in Montreal.

Chas. Dickens Made Debut As Stage Actor in Montreal

By FRED KERNER

MONTREAL, Feb. 19—(CP).—Highlighted by the recent successful regional drama festival, Montreal's lengthy history of amateur theatricals capped with the 136th anniversary of the birth of Charles Dickens this month, recalls the fact that Dickens made his initial stage appearance in this city in 1842.

The only visit paid to the Canadian metropolis by the great Victorian novelist was for the purpose of supervising the dramatic performances which officers of the garrison stationed on the island were producing for their own amusement.

The trip eventually marked the turning point in Dickens' career. The success with which his performances were greeted encouraged him to continue with his histrionic desires and his ambition to become a stage star was realized in the brilliant dramatic readings which marked the closing years of his life.

After giving the garrison players a helping hand with some of their plays, Dickens decided to take part in three one-act plays for a private performance the night of May 25, 1842.

The program of the Royal Theatre—the name was changed to Queen's Theatre for the one night only—labelled the novelist as one "who has in the handsomest manner tendered his services on this occasion."

The plays were "A Roland for an Oliver," "Two O'Clock in the Morning," and "High Life Below Stairs," with Dickens taking a [illegible] role in each. Others in the three casts were listed as the Earl of Mulgrave, Hon. P. Methuen, Captain Granville, Captain Willoughby, and a Dr. Griffin.

Actresses Ignored.

Women in the plays were professional actresses and hence were not listed on the program along with the amateur actors.

A critic of the day said the play "were admirably performed as was sufficiently evident by the vehement applause that burst repeatedly from the audience.

Of Dickens' performance in one of the farcical plays, the newspaper critic said:

"His style is sort of a mixture of the late Charles Matthews and Mr. Buckstone's and would do no discredit to either of those eminent performers."

An interesting point in the critic's review was the fact that though the garrison players chose to ignore the professional actresses in the company, the newspaper man apparently defied convention and commended the women.

The critic went so far as to say that one of the unnamed ladies had "mainly contributed" to the success of one of the plays presented on that historic occasion.

PRETTY PETITE—Some of the most charming fashions encountered this season are those designed for the woman of small proportions. Manufacturers have worked out excellent clothes that obviate costly alterations, dresses that are very much of the mode. This delightful creation is made up of scads of black sheer over pink taffeta. This simple but effective ballegina dinner dress has a brilliant-buttoned, shawl-collared bodice and a belt of black velvet.

100-Year Mystery Of Lost Picture Easily Solved

PORT ELIZABETH, South Africa, Feb. 19 (CP). — The 100-year-old mystery of the missing portrait has been cleared up at last.

Whereabouts of a portrait of a beautiful young 18th century woman has long puzzled historians delving into the life of the English novelist, Henry Fielding. Painted by an unknown artist two centuries ago, it is the picture of Sarah Andrews of Bellairs, Lyme Regis, believed to be the original Sophia Western of Fielding's classic "Tom Jones."

For this reason the painting was once pointed out to all who visited the stately English home of its owner in Dorsetshire. Then, for almost 100 years it simply disappeared.

"Fifty years ago," wrote G. M. Godden in a book published in 1910 on the life of Fielding, "a portrait of the beautiful hairess in the character of Sophia Western was still preserved in the house of Bellairs, near Exeter, then the property of the Rhodes family. The present ownership of the picture has so far eluded inquiry."

But the mystery was cleared up recently when Mrs. E. W. Greer of Port Elizabeth disclosed the painting has been in her possession for 10 years, and today hangs in the room where she lives on Pearson Street.

Found Clue in Book.

It was while reading another book about Fielding in the Port Elizabeth public library, "A True-Born Englishman," by M. P. Willcocks, that Mrs. Greer realized that the picture that hung facing her was the one for which art dealers had been searching for so long.

There is nothing mysterious about how Mrs. Greer came to have the portrait. Her husband is a direct descendant of Sarah Andrews, and, as members of the family died, treasures were subdivided as generation succeeded generation.

Eight years ago, on the death of a relative in Britain, Mrs. Greer received the unframed canvas of Sarah Andrews, together with other family heirlooms.

Behind the portrait which now hangs in a Port Elizabeth house lies a story of young love enacted in the then small village of Lyme Regis more than 200 years ago.

Henry Fielding, barely 19, fell in love with the lovely Sarah Andrews. But their match-making families had other ideas about their future.

It is said that Fielding tried to abduct Sarah one Sunday morning while she was on her way to church, but the attempt failed. Sarah Andrews, a few years later became Mrs. Sarah Rhodes.

RIVER ICE UNSAFE—As an additional warning from city police to parents about allowing venturesome children to play on late winter ice on ponds, creeks, canal or river, the above picture of the breaking ice on the Otonabee River looking south from Hunter Street bridge. Tremendous pressure of swollen waters is breaking the large cakes rapidly and opening pressure cracks from shore to shore. Keep off!

Life Insurance Salesmen Entertain Ladies and Guests

A dinner and evening of gay entertainment Wednesday at the Kawartha Club was arranged by members of the Life Underwriters Association of this district in honor of their ladies. More than 50 couples were present, including guests, and all were cordially welcomed by president E. J. Cooper of Peterborough. In a brief address he paid special tribute to the entertainment committee, of which Les Munden was chairman.

Mr. Alton C. Palmer, executive vice-president of Research and Review Institute, Minneapolis was the guest speaker, and carried his audience easily with ever-present humor. Directing his remarks to the ladies, he outlined the major role they play in the success of their husband's career as a life underwriter. His straight-forward message was most enlightening to the men as well.

Introduction was made by Mr. Leslie Dunstall and Mr. Bruce Sargent voiced appreciation of the talk.

A toast to the ladies, proposed by Mr. Len Lawrence, received reply from Mrs. J. M. Kirkwood.

Dinner music was by Frank Hamon and later he led the orchestra playing for dancing. During the evening valuable prizes went to Mrs. Jim Clarke, Mrs. Len Lawrence, Mrs. Fred Stenson, Mrs. J. R. Connelly and Mrs. J. Morris, who were winners of spot dances.

The door prize was won by Mrs. J. D. Anderson. Those winning euchre prizes were Mrs. Ray Eagleson and Mrs. J. H. A. Howson. Mrs. S. S. Staples and Mrs. F. B. Sargent won prizes for mixed cards.

With The Girl Guides

First St. Andrew's Brownie Pack

St. Andrew's Brownies joined with the Guides, Cadets and Mothers' Auxiliary to hold their third annual Valentine tea and bazaar. Sixers Shirley Dobson and Mary Beth Darling were in charge of the table, where washcloth dogs, gay aprons and delicious cookies were sold. The entire pack gave a short program of Brownie songs in the tea room. At the regular Brownie meeting one-year service stars were presented to Meredith Morgan and Katherine Lewis, a two-year star to Mary Beth Darling, and a third-year star to Ann Lancaster. Margaret Horton was welcomed back after her illness, and passed the golden bar skipping test, thus completing the final test towards her golden bar. The Brownies discussed Boy Scout-Girl Guide week, when they will wear their uniforms to school, and it was decided that each Brownie would try to do a special good turn during the week. The Brownies were also asked to give up a chocolate bar, ice cream cone, or special treat during the week and give the money thus saved to the Guide and Brownie "World Friendship Fund." This donation is to be a personal sacrifice on the part of the Brownie, and is not to be a gift from mother and dad. On Saturday, February 21, a special Brownie meeting will be held, when Packie Mary Curtis will receive her warrant and pin as Tawny Owl, and golden bars and golden hands will be presented. Interested mothers are cordially invited to be present.

Third All Saints' Brownie Pack and Guide Company

Joined with the Cubs and Scouts of All Saints' Church on Sunday evening, February 15, in a special service to mark the beginning of Boy Scout-Girl Guide week. Special hymns and prayers on Guide and Scout themes were used and an inspiring sermon was preached by the rector.

All Brownies and Guides are reminded of the special service being held for Guides, Scouts, Cubs and Brownies in St. Andrew's United Church on Sunday, February 22, to commemorate "Thinking Day" and to bring to a close Boy Scout-Girl Guide week. All groups will meet in the Sunday school at 6:45 p.m., and only company colors will be carried.

We would also remind all Brownies and Guides of the special Boy Scout-Girl Guide broadcast on Sunday evening at 6:35 EST when our chief commissioner, Mrs. J. Corbett, will be the speaker. Jackson Dodds will speak to the Cubs and Scouts.

We are very pleased to welcome Marie Leonard and Beverley Primeau to the ranks of Peterborough's Brownie leaders. Marie and Beverley are training as leaders of the recently formed Immaculate Conception pack, and we wish them every success in this all-important work.

TORTURED BABIES
Helpless Infants Maltreated By "Doting" Relatives

When we hear of a baby being tortured by its parents, or by sadists with a criminal complex, we are ready to organize a mob and should be inflicted on anyone who would deliberately hurt one of these lynch them. We feel that something with boiling oil in it is the lightest punishment that angelic little things who are so helpless to defend themselves. Yet probably no other members of the human race suffer martyrdom so often as babies do.

Dorothy Dix

And this not because anybody has any grudge against babies. On the contrary, most of the world kneels by the cradle. It is just because so many grownups are so dumb that they do not realize that an infant has feelings, even as they have, and so they bat around a little Bundle from Heaven as if it were a rag doll.

In proof of this read this letter, which recounts the sufferings of a nine months'-old boy at the hands of his sisters and his cousins and his aunts. His mother, who has to stand helplessly by and witness the child's torture, as many another young mother has to do, because you can't offend the relatives who come to see the baby bearing presents in their hands, says:

Taken Through Pages

"Johnny is as good as gold and he does his best to put on a brave front and look pleased when somebody says: 'Make the darling laugh.' So he is laid on the floor on his back and tickled on his stomach and rolled back and forth by two big adult hands, and he hysterically laughs and laughs as if to say, 'well, I've done that and it's a-plenty.'

"Then he is picked up and zoomed through the air and given nose dives, then zoomed again and nose dived some more, and he still laughs. Then he is made to pat-a-cake until his poor little hands are black and blue. Then he is smacked on his rear and smacked some more to make him tough. Then he cries, real big tears rolling down his cheeks, and the reason for his crying is that he is sleepy and exhausted and bewildered and he needs his food and he has had too much excitement.

"But it has been a Roman holiday for the nine adults who put the poor little thing through his paces. And if this isn't a torture scene worthy of the old days at the Coliseum in Rome, I don't know what is. But it is done to babies every day."

Nor do I. But one of the most curious things about fatherhood and motherhood is that so many parents do not seem to think their children have any intelligence or sensitiveness. They never seem to realize that little Johnny might hate to be kissed by some toothless old hag as much as they would, or that Mamie feels that she is being flayed alive when Grandma and the aunts take her apart, limb by limb, and descant on how unfortunate it is that she has the Jones' nose and the Smiths' teeth.

In many cases, children's sullen dispositions, their lack of ambition, their bad manners, their inability to get along with people can be traced straight back to their parents' discussing their characteristics in their presence, as if they were little stooges who were so stupid they didn't know what it was all about.

Not many parents are intentionally unkind to their children, but many of them are stupidly cruel to their youngsters. Father sets the dinner table in a roar by holding Johnny up to ridicule. Mother blabs the sacred secret that Mamie told her. And every word is a stab in the hearts of the poor, vulnerable little creatures who can't defend themselves.

If more parents respected their children's feelings and sensitiveness, we would have fewer delinquents.

Lady Skirlers Have Own Band

MELBOURNE, Australia, Feb. 19 (CP).— An "all-woman" bagpipe band is gaining wide popularity here—especially among Scots and folks of Scots decent.

Organizer of the band, dark-haired Hazel McLaine, describes the bagpipes as "a beautiful instrument," although fairly difficult to learn. She thinks that women can become accomplished pipers if they practise faithfully.

Miss McLaine learned to play the bagpipes about 17 years ago, in the Port Melbourne Ladies' Pipe Band, a memorial group formed after the First World War, and the first women's pipe band in Australia. When it was disbanded in 1933, she formed the present band which plays mainly for charity.

The band consists of 25 girls — all with a "drap o' Scottish" in their veins. Twelve are pipers and the rest drummers. They practise once a week and wear the McGregor tartan.

Miss McLaine describes the bagpipes as "temperamental" — the weather affects the reeds to a great extent, she says. For women pipers they are generally adjusted a little to make the tone lighter.

THE STARS SAY . . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Friday, February 20.

An inexplicable situation seems to arise, according to the augury of menacing aspects of major planets, which may require most astute, deep-rooted as well as practical insight and analysis, if danger and disaster are to be side-stepped. Such behind-the-scenes manoeuvres affect the personal and intimate life as well as business, and demand shrewd and sagacious work, alert and efficient tactics. Safeguard all avenues against duplicity, betrayal, and sinister elements. There could be much criticism of conduct.

If It Is Your Birthday.

Those whose birthday it is may be ready to give some clever, alert and efficient opposition toward rather sinister, subtle and crafty machinations, arising from hidden sources. Much perplexity and doubt come from inexplicable and bewildering sources, in which private as well as business interests are involved. In fact, reputation and standing are likely to be criticized or undermined by malicious and irresponsible elements, difficult to "put the finger on." Guard against treachery and betrayal in all its forms. Do not act under obscure or emotional urges as strange baits and lures call for unusual discrimination.

A child born on this day may have some underlying qualities in its its nature inviting strange experiences or contacts. It should be trained in straight and unemotional behaviorism.

Infant Mortality Down In Britain

LONDON, Feb. 19 (CP).— Official figures issued by the registrar general reveal that Britain has set up two records in vital statistics during the third quarter of 1947. Both infant mortality and stillbirth rates are the lowest ever known.

There were only 5,000 stillbirths which represents 22.7 in every 1,000 babies born. Deaths of children under one year were just over 7,000, giving a rate of 32 per 1,000 births.

Union Officials Face New Trials

MONTREAL, Feb. 19 — (CP) — Kent Rowley, Canadian director of the United Textile Workers of America (A.F.L.), will stand trial May 3 in Montreal on charges of seditious conspiracy and conspiracy to intimidate workers in connection with the Ayers, Ltd., textile strike and the Dominion Shuttle Co., strike in Lachute, Que., last year.

A union spokesman said Rowley also will appear in St. Jerome, Que., March 2 to appeal a two-months prison term given him last May in connection with the Ayers strike which began early in April, 1947.

A union organizer, Madeleine Parent Bjarnason, will be tried Feb. 23 in St. Jerome on three additional charges arising from the Ayers strike. Previously she was sentenced to two years in prison with a second union organizer, Azellus Beaucage, for their part in the strike.

The three charges, two of intimidation and one of resisting police, were lodged by the company and police officers called in during the dispute.

FRIGID TRAINING CAMP — Summer quarters of the Engineers at Fort Churchill, where Arctic winter training is proceeding as scheduled, present a bleak appearance. Tents can also be used for temporary winter quarters. Various arms of the Canadian services, together with a small U.S. contingent, are conducting tests of equipment.

No Wonder They Stopped Making Them This Light Bulb Has Lasted 35 Years

A light bulb that has been in daily use for nearly 35 years is the proud possession of Thomas Dick of River Road E. It was installed when the house he lives in was completed in 1914, and it has been used as a bedroom light ever since.

In appearance it is like an oversize radio tube rather than the modern bulb. It has no frosting on the glass, and the long looped tungsten filament quivers at the slightest vibration. The high quality metal of the filament is doubtless the reason for its prolonged existence.

The owner generally uses it for 15-20 minutes, both morning and night — when dressing and undressing. When March rolls around the bulb will be 35 years old, believed to be a record in this district. Equally as old are two smaller "night lights" that get less use.

Mr. Dick, the owner, is well equipped to discuss the subject of longevity whether it be of light bulbs or men. He is 89 and will celebrate his 90th birthday in April. Despite his age he is quite active; does his household chores without any bother, claps on the storm-windows without any assistance, and when the spirit moves him, journeys to Toronto and Guelph, for either shopping or visiting.

In Mr. Dick's household advanced age is apparently taken in stride.

The word Mongol comes from "mong" a word meaning brave men, first used under the Chinese T'sang dynasty.

Continue Mercy Trip

HALIFAX, Feb. 19.—(CP). — Two United States Air Force mercy planes landed safely at Forbisher Bay last night and stood ready for a daylight take-off on a flight to Clyde River, in isolated Baffin Island, where Mrs. J. J. Hunt, of Winnipeg, lies seriously ill, the RCAF reported here.

Need Reserve Units

LONDON, Ont., Feb. 19.—(CP). —The importance of military reserve units in the defence of Canada and the necessity for close co-operation of the three services was stressed last night by Hon. Brooke Claxton, Minister of National Defence when he addressed reserve officers of the navy, army and air force at a banquet.

Two May Face Kitchener Trial

HULL, Que., Feb. 19 (CP). — Three armed men arrested in a Hull hotel room last Friday in possession of arms and safe-blowing materials may be taken to Kitchener to face serious charges arising out of the wounding of a Kitchener constable last December 7.

The trio were questioned yesterday by Deputy Chief John Patrick of the Kitchener Police Department and Inspector George McKay of the Ontario Provincial Police, who reached Hull Tuesday.

The trio, Douglas McAvella of Toronto, William Campbell of Hamilton, and Eugene Nadon of Montreal — are believed to be suspects in a five-and-ten cent store robbery at Kitchener.

The police gave chase to four men surprised in the act of cracking the store safe, the thugs shot it out with the police and wounded one constable in the leg.

One man, Lorne Burne, captured at that time, has since been sentenced to 20 years in Penitentiary for the Kitchener robbery. The other three escaped.

The men, apprehended in Hull, now are lodged in the Hull Jail awaiting trial on charges of illegal possession of firearms.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

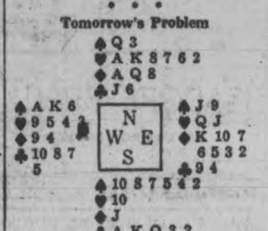
IS JUST ONE WAY RIGHT?

WE ALL HEAR plenty about the "right" way to play a hand. That there is only one strictly correct way is sound theory. But in practice we find different players with different tendencies figuring out widely different methods to seek the same goal. In addition, variations are caused by the moves made by the defenders, who themselves vary just as much as do declarers. That is why a kibitzer at a tournament, following a particular deal around the room, gets one kind of entertainment never experienced by the chap who sees a deal played only when it reaches his own pair.

(Dealer: South. North - South vulnerable.)

South	West	North	East
1 ♠	Pass	2 ♠	Pass
4 ♠

With the bidding identical at three tables, you might expect the play to be likewise. If so, you are plenty wrong. It began the same in all three instances, with the heart 8 to the A, the diamond A and the diamond 9 to the K. Then the three Wests all chose different leads, respectively the club 7, diamond 3 and heart 6. Now take it from there.



Where the club was returned, the A won, the spade 6 was led to the A, the heart K and Q brought club discards, the club 6 was ruffed by the spade 7, the spade 8 was led to the K, heart 7 ruffed by the spade J, diamond 2 by the spade 5, spade Q and 2 scored.

The diamond 3 return was ruffed by the spade 9 and overruffed by the Q, then the spade 2 led to the J, diamond 7 ruffed by the 10 and K, the diamond J dropping, then the spade A scored and the heart K and Q for club discards, the spade 5 led to the 8, diamond 7 cashed, then the spade 7 and club A.

South did not let the heart 6 return run to his honors, but ruffed in dummy with the spade 8, led the diamond 5 for East to discard a heart and ruff himself with the spade 2, led the spade 5 to the J, brought out the diamond 7 for another heart discard by East and his own ruff with the spade Q, scored the spade A and K, heart K and Q and club 3 to the A and finished with the diamond 8. Note that the last trick at one table was won by the spade 2, at another by the club A and at the third by the diamond 8.

Law Association Entertains Judge

His Lordship Mr. Justice Wells was the guest of honor at an informal banquet given by the Peterborough Law Association at the Peterborough Club Tuesday evening.

R. J. Chandler, president of the Association, took the chair, and among the guests were His Honor Judge S. L. Smoke, Magistrate W. R. Philp, KC, and Mayor W. G. Ovens. Warden J. Humphries was invited but unable to attend being absent on county business.

His Lordship gave an informal talk on legal matters and spoke of various experiences that he had had during his practice in law. During the evening a film entitled "British Criminal Justice" was shown. This sound film actually taken in various court rooms showed how different cases were conducted, and emphasized the point that in British law the prisoner is innocent until proven guilty.

The banquet was well attended and every member of the Peterborough Law Association was present.

Don't Believe Wheat Prices To Soar Again

By The Canadian Press

The action of United States markets illustrates the pulls of two conflicting factors—one, the scarcities which are in course of being met, the other the scarcities which definitely remain.

To a considerable extent the grain market, partticularly wheat, is for the moment a thing apart.

Available evidence points to the world wheat supply as coming into tolerable supply. Unless prospects are reversed observers find it difficult to envisage a return to the high prices of mid-January, and, indeed, they consider present prices vulnerable.

Whatever the true situation is, grain prices are being bolstered to a degree by the fact that commodities in general still are in short supply.

Thus, while the grain drop sent a shiver along the entire commodity row, the essential strengths of commodities has had a sustaining value for grains.

Better Grain Supply

The picture is that grains have come into improved supply ahead of other commodities. The benefit of this to the average consumer is that it has shown there is a top and ends the situation where prices take off for a new high at the slightest encouragement.

One of the most disastrous prospects for 1948 was the possibility that prices might continue to soar throughout the year. That would have meant that balance of supply would have caught them at the top and the break would have been precipitous.

The present set-back does hold unpleasant possibilities for some large American holders, but for the economy in general it is regarded as fortunate that it comes while the underneath position still is strong.

In general there is no promise of any rapid declines in the cost of living, but there are good hopes that it has about passed its peak unless new extraordinary developments arise.

Eire Now Ready To Be Friends

DUBLIN, Feb. 19.—(Reuters). —John A. Costello, Eire's new premier, in an interview last night, said his government wants "friendly relations with all Christian peoples."

"We believe in individual liberty and we regard the British commonwealth of nations as a great bulwark of individual liberty and freedom."

Asked about Eire's relations with the commonwealth, he said he knew of no one who wanted to change the present system.

"We do not propose to create any constitutional problems," he said.

"The one big problem we are all interested in is partition of Ireland, and we hope to see that removed in the interests of both Ireland and Great Britain as soon as may be. In the spirit of understanding."

Against Consultations

CAPETOWN, Feb. 19.—(Reuters).—Prime Minister Smuts said yesterday that the South African government is "against" Viscount Bruce's proposal for a council of British nations for intra-commonwealth consultations.

TO ADDRESS ENGINEERS —H. A. Blachford, customer relations representative of the Bell Telephone Company, will be guest speaker at the meeting of the Peterborough branch of the Engineering Institute of Canada tonight. With demonstrating apparatus, he will discuss war-born developments in communication methods.

Big 4 Tackle Austria Once More

Think Russian Bill Much Too High; Have Compromise Plan

LONDON, Feb. 20 — (AP). — The Big Four Deputy Foreign Ministers meet again to-day for another try at writing a peace treaty for Austria. Their main subject is what Russia wants from the beaten country. The Soviet Union asks Austrian oil and the shipping she says used to belong to the Germans who took over Austria in 1938. She also demands that Austria pay her for any former German assets the country is allowed to keep.

High diplomatic informants say they hope she will bargain on these demands. They say if she doesn't the conference will break up soon.

The United States and Great Britain, these sources say, have agreed not to give Russia enough to leave her in control of the Austrian economy. France has made compromise suggestions.

The informants report that United States and British delegates are ready to buck the Soviet demand that Austria pay Russia $200,000,000 in two years in partial settlement claims on foreign German assets.

These delegates, the informants say, think the bill is too big and the time to pay it too short. They haven't made a counter-suggestion. The French have proposed a two-year delay and then payment of $100,000,000 in five years.

Diplomatic sources say the Americans and Britain also have decided to oppose any Soviet try to get extra-territorial rights in Austria by taking over property there and to demand that Russia withdraw her troops from Austria before any treaty is signed. The other three powers also have military personnel in Austria.

Paisley's $35,000 Community Centre Burns Opened In Village Only Last Saturday

PAISLEY, Feb. 20—(CP)—A fire was brought under control today after destroying this Bruce county village's new $35,000 war memorial community centre and gutting a nearby building. At the height of the blaze four fire brigades, from Walkerton, Chesley, Port Elgin and Paisley, fought the flames. The Walkerton and Chesley brigades returned home, leaving the other two brigades to complete the task of extinguishing the flames. Cause of the fire, which broke out in a dressing room in the community centre at 10:45 p.m. Thursday, is unknown.

The community centre had been opened only last Saturday. It was constructed from an air force hut moved from Port Albert and was to have been bricked in.

Arena officials said the building was insured for $20,000. No plans have yet been made for re-building.

'Dead' Man's Keys Stolen 12-year Mystery Deepens

NEW YORK, Feb. 20—(AP).—New mystery was injected yesterday into one of Manhattan's most puzzling unsolved police cases — the disappearance a dozen years ago of a wealthy British oil man. Keys and private papers belonging to the estate of the man, Fred B. Lloyd, and his deceased wife were reported mysteriously stolen yesterday from a downtown office. Nothing else in the room was touched.

Lloyd, who was 63, stepped into a taxicab in Times Square one fall afternoon in 1936 — and dropped out of sight. He was reported to have been working on secret synthetic oil processes. Lloyd was declared legally dead in 1944.

The stolen keys, between 40 and 50 of them, were to the oil man's estate, Waldon Oaks, in Surrey, England, and to trunks of clothing left by his wife, Genevieve. They were taken from the office of William G. Rowan, a family friend, who had been holding them while waiting for British solicitors to probate Mrs. Lloyd's estate.

Aged Man Rescued By London Firemen

LONDON, Ont., Feb. 20 (CP).—An 85-year-old man was rescued by firemen from the second storey of his home as flames raced through the house here early today. Five persons escaped in night attire and damage was estimated at $2,000.

Samuel Chapman, 85, owner of the house, was trapped and Capt. Harold Walters and Lieut. George Thompson of the fire department climbed to a verandah roof and took the elderly man through an upstairs window to safety.

All members of the household were asleep in the upstairs portion of the two-storey dwelling and awoke to find the house filled with heavy smoke.

Pilot Gives Life To Save 2 Men

LONG BEACH, Calif., Feb. 20 —(AP). — A veteran testpilot, Latham A. (Slim) Perrett, 42, sacrificed his life yesterday to save two companions and prevent his experimental plane from crashing in a populated area.

He was test-flying a three-engined Northrop Pioneer when a structural failure developed and the ship lost most of its fin and rudder. Co-Pilot John Atkinson 28, and E. P. Hetzel 30, Chief of Northrop Aircraft's Test Section, were with him.

"Slim Perrett ordered Atkinson and Hetzel to bail out and, in an effort to prevent the airplane from crashing in a populated area, rode the ship down to such a critically low altitude that when he was finally forced to abandon it, he was too low to save his life," a company statement said.

Atkinson and Hetzel parachuted to safety with seconds to spare.

Russia's Blocking Disturbing—Truman

Strengthening Of United Nations Said Cornerstone Of US Policy

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20—(AP). —President Truman said today Russia's refusal to carry out United Nations decisions has raised a "disturbing" new problem.

But despite the failure of the Soviet Union and its satellites to cooperate, "the United Nations is making headway," Truman told the United States Congress. "The strengthening of the United Nations continues to be a cornerstone of the foreign policy of the United States."

Truman outlined his views in a 359-page report on the work of the world agency during 1947. The report had been given first to the President by State Secretary Marshall.

Marshall said "the record offers no basis for complacency" but also "no basis for pessimism."

"Some of the accomplishments noted in the report," Marshall wrote, "were made despite the intransigence of a numerically small minority, which has extended to a refusal to carry out certain major recommendations.

Record Details

In their formal letters of transmittal, neither the President nor Marshall referred to the Russian bloc of states by name. However, the body of the reports spells out in great detail the record of how:

1. Russia and Poland refused to take part in the U.N. "watchdog" commission in Greece.

2. The Soviet Ukraine refused to serve on the U.N. Commission to unify Korea.

3. The whole Slav group rejected the majority decision of the U.N. assembly creating a year-round "little assembly."

The document relates many other instances of the clash between east and west. These include the persistent dispute over the veto issue in the security council and the dispute touched off by Russia's "war-monger" attack on the United States at the Assembly meeting last year.

The report notes that on only one major issue—the decision to partition Palestine — have the Soviet Union and the United States found it possible to agree.

Fateful Decision

Both Truman and Marshall emphasized that the UN was confronted with a fateful decision in 1947: Whether to avoid great world issues by concentrating on the least controversial matters or to deal bodly with the outstanding political problems in a world still trying to recover from the disorders of war.

The President said the UN chose the second course.

"The problem of international relations arising this past year in the meetings of the United Nations were met neither by evasion nor by meaningless compromises" Truman declared.

"The small minority holding opposing views on certain important problems, have presented to the organization a new question of disturbing character through their non-participation in carrying out the recommendations with which these members have disagreed."

Arabs Campaign For Repeal Of Partition

LAKE SUCCESS, Feb. 20 — (AP). — Arab leaders today are reported planning a campaign for repeal of the Palestine partition project by the United Nations Assembly.

Well qualified sources said the first Arab tactic here would be an effort to block action in the security council debate starting Tuesday on the request for international military force to carry out partition.

The Arab line would be to content that partition is illegal. Added to this now would be the argument that the scheme has been proven unworkable by violence in Palestine following the Assembly's Nov. 29 partition decision.

The Arabs thus hope for reconsideration of the whole partition plan by the 57-member assembly, in special session if necessary. They are reported willing to consider a compromise alternative there.

Meanwhile State Secretary Marshall summoned the chief American delegate, Warren R. Austin, to Washington Monday for consultations. Austin is expected to tell the security council Tuesday whether the American government favors armed enforcement of partition.

Partition supporters received a setback when China revealed that she intended to continue to abstain on partition voting.

Make Few Changes In St. Lawrence Plan

NEW YORK, Feb. 20 (AP). — Any changes in the original designs for the projected St. Lawrence seaway that might have been caused by the 1944 earthquake at Cornwall, will be minor and will not affect the over-all plan, Dr. Charles P. Berkey, former Professor of Geology at Columbia University and a noted geological consultant, said in a report.

At the request of United States engineers, Dr. Berkey examined damage caused by the quake shortly after it occurred to advise them as to its bearing, if any, on the proposed engineering work.

Dr. Berkey said an erroneous inference had been drawn from his remarks in Ottawa last December 30, when it was reported that his findings "indicate a probable change in the present plans for the seaway project." Any quake-caused changes, he emphasized, would be minor.

Art Dealer Loses Suit

LONDON, Feb. 20. (AP)— A London art dealer today lost his suit to collect $27,200 from Major Horace E. Dodge Jr., for a picture the Detroit motor heir bought in 1945. The jury found the painting was misrepresented as the work of Sir Thomas Lawrence, 18th century master.

3 Leaders Resign Cabinet Jobs

First Open Break In Government Won't Accept Purge

PRAGUE, Feb. 20 — (AP). — Members of three outspoken anti-Communist parties resigned from Czechoslovakia's cabinet today in the growing fight against Communist attempts to dominate the coalition government.

It was the first open break in Czechoslovakia's post-war republic, formed in April, 1945.

Leaders of the National Socialist party, the Slovak Democrat party and the Catholic People's party quit the government of Communist Premier Klement Gottwald, a seven-party coalition which was governed by compromise and barter.

Earlier these leaders had refused to sit in with the Communists in a cabinet meeting called by Gottwald in an atmosphere of pre-election tension.

Given Ultimatum

The parties resigned in letters to President Eduard Benes. The president immediately called the parties' leaders to a meeting. There was some possibility he might save the coalition by refusing to accept the resignations.

Gottwald and his Communist ministers had met alone, it was learned, as the non-Communist ministers staged a form of strike. The non-Communists had given Gottwald an ultimatum to drop his attempt to purge from the security police members who are not Communists.

With the Communists momentarily on the defensive in this borderland country between the East and the West, United States Ambassador Laurence Steinhardt told the Czechoslovak press he hopes the country still will participate in the Marshall plan.

The Social Democrat Party appeared to be sticking to its new policy of opposing the Communists wherever one-party domination is the issue. The Social Democrats have been given the Communists the margin they needed to carry out their long-range program, but they decided last night to support the Czechoslovak National Socialist Party, the Catholic People's Party and the Slovak Democrats on broad issues where Communist domination is threatened.

Wolf Packs Raid European Cattle

LONDON, Feb. 20. (AP) — Southern England, Western Europe and Scandinavia experienced the coldest weather of the winter today.

Cold and snow drove marauding packs of wolves down from the Sila Mountains in Southern Italy. In Northern Norway, wolf packs raided cattle herds, causing such losses that military planes were sent out to shoot them down.

The frigid weather will continue and still lower temperatures are in prospect, weather forecasters said.

In the big cities of Germany, authorities opened warm public warming halls. These quickly filled with families from homes unheated because of the fuel shortage.

Paris was covered with snow for the first time this winter.

Elk, cut off from food by the snow wandered into the streets of Norwegian towns and villages.

Streamliner Derailed

PORTSMOUTH, O., Feb. 20.—(AP).—The streamliner "Powhatan Arrow" of the Norfolk & Western Railroad jumped the track today, killing a fireman and seriously injuring the engineer. The railroad's office here said that so far as it knew no passengers were injured. Robert F. Maiden, 57, was killed and George Raines, 58, injured.

The wreck occurred on a straight stretch of track on which the streamliner usually hits nearly 90 miles an hour.

All available ambulances were sent from Portsmouth to the scene.

297,000 Kwh.

Users of electricity in Peterborough consumed 297,000 kilowatt hours on Thursday, R. L. Dobbin, manager of the Utilities Commission, said today. This consumption was less than Tuesday but more than that of Monday and Wedday. Mr. Dobbin also intimated that Peterborough's quota was 261,000 kwh for the day, which means that more savings had to be effected.

Raise Relief Food Pay By 15 Per Cent

TORONTO, Feb. 20.—(CP).—Ontario Welfare Minister W. A. Goodfellow announced yesterday a 15 per cent increase in food allowances to persons on relief. The increase, he said, is made to meet increased commodity costs.

Consideration is also being given to further adjustments in mothers' allowances for the same reason.

"Officials of my department have watched carefully the effect of increased prices on incomes of recipients of public assistance," Mr. Goodfellow explained. "Periodic adjustments have been made in order that assistance would be kept at basic requirement level."

Under the Unemployment Relief Act, the province pays to municipalities 50 per cent of the cost of providing relief to unemployable persons up to a maximum set by regulations.

Last July the province authorized the municipalities to grant a 10 per cent increase in the food allowance. While it varies according to the circumstances under which a recipient lives, the average allowance, prior to this latest increase, was $10.40 per month for a single adult person.

Launch Full-Scale Probe Into Bread Prices; Hear Evidence For Week

Wholesalers Admit Substantial Profits Made In Citrus Fruits, But Sell Apples And Cabbage At Loss

By ROSS MUNRO

OTTAWA, Feb. 20—(CP).—A full-scale inquiry into increased bread prices will open today before the 16-member Commons price committee as it nears the end of two weeks' work. Representatives of Loblaws Groceterias, General Bakers and Dominion Stores are ready to appear as witnesses.

The preliminary investigation into prices of fruits and vegetables was concluded yesterday with testimony from representatives of Toronto wholesalers who maintained that high wholesale profits in citrus fruits were not out of line considering losses on other produce and short supply.

But the spotlight now falls on the baking industry and the inquiry will likely continue for a week or more. At a later date, the fruit and vegetable merchants will be recalled for completion of that probe.

George Reynolds, secretary of the Toronto Wholesale Fruit and Produce Merchants Association, was the witness yesterday, following two representatives of the retailers who had charged that the wholesalers were profiteering, especially in citrus fruits.

Admit Profits

The wholesalers' representative admitted there had been "substantial profits" in citrus fruits but said wholesalers were selling British Columbia apples, Texas cabbage and New Brunswick potatoes at a loss.

He told the committee that Ontario vegetable producers have sharply increased their prices in recent months and produced a batch of invoices of transactions to background his statement.

Mr. Reynolds hastened to em-

Three Children Trapped In Halifax Fire

HALIFAX, Feb. 20.—(CP). — Three children were burned to death today in a fire of undetermined origin which destroyed the wooden frame home of Alfred Wallage of suburban Fairview.

The dead:

Carol Wallage, five.
David Wallage, three.
Wayne Wallage, one.

All were children of Alfred Wallage.

Details were not immediately available as to how the children were trapped in the building, but police reported that Mrs. Wallage had left her home for a few minutes to visit a neighbor. It was in this short period that the home burst into flames.

Friends Give Second Dog To Blind Man

TORONTO, Feb. 20 — (CP).—Laddie and Sparky continued to make history here to-day, the former as he lay dead in a blue casket in a garage, the latter as he was treated in Veterinary Hospital after brain specialists were consulted on his condition.

Meanwhile, Chief John Constable John Chisholm announced the Police Commission had posted a $500 reward for the killers of the German shepherd dog, shot as he defended the Standard Auto Body Company premises early yesterday.

The owner, John Berezanski, a blind man, previously had offered $100 reward for information leading to the arrest of the persons who shot and bludgeoned his seeing-eye dog. Sparky, owned by his brother, was also in the garage at the time the wall safe was robbed of $350.

It was the first time the Police Commission had offered money in connection with a dog's death and the total $600 was believed a record.

Mr. Berezanski already has been presented a seeing-eye German shepherd dog, Yip, by a suburban Scarboro girl, one of many offers that came by telephone. Yip guided him as he left the garage to-day, following which Laddie's body was carried to a little hearst outside and taken to the Animal Cemetery.

Nothing New

Robberies are not new to the Berezanski brothers. Yesterday's break-in was the fifth, but it was the first one since they left watchdogs on duty all night. In the other break-ins, the safe was tampered with, but only merchandise had been stolen.

Berezanski trained the dog himself, taking it out for strolls, but doing most of the work in a backyard. Soon Laddie caught on, guided its master around obstacles, recognized traffic dangers and kept Berezanski away from them.

Animal lovers have kept phones busy at Dr. Alan Secord's animal hospital, asking for reports on Sparky's condition. Dr. Secord said last night that the dog was suffering from a cerebral hemorrhage caused by blows from a blunt instrument. One bullet is lodged in the front part of the dog's brain and cannot be removed because of its weakened condition. The other bullet pierced his neck.

"If it lives through the night, it will probably recover. It is in a coma now," the doctor said.

Trio Plays Hookey Visits 9 Cottages; Police Follow Tracks

PICTON, Feb. 20—(CP)—No, it wasn't a tornado that tore through nine summer cottages on the shore of nearby West Lake, Prince Edward county.

Provincial Police Constable Harry Caldwell and County Constable James Lovelace said the damage done the cottages—estimated at several thousand dollars—was done by three "hookey-playing" school boys.

Moreover, they were armed with axes, hatchets and one hammer.

The trio—aged nine, 10 and 12—will appear in juvenile court here after being captured by the constables who followed their tracks in deep snow.

Damage included: smashed windows, mirrors, pictures, dishes, French doors, chopped furniture, ruined stoves, hacked mattresses, ripped curtains and demolished wiring.

Just Like Tornado

Apprehended by Provincial Constable Caldwell and County Constable Lovelace, the boys will appear before Judge Wilfrid Lane in juvenile court. "A tornado could not have created more havoc than caused by the youthful trio; they did an almost unbelievable job," police said today.

Cottages entered included five owned by W. P. West of Maple Haven Tourist Lodge; two by Mrs. Emma Cahoon of Bloomfield, and one each by A. P. Clair of Belleville and Harry Pyne of West Lake.

SEAFORTH. — C. Franklin Legge, well-known Toronto organist, died of injuries received five weeks ago when he was thrown from an automobile in a collision.

HARD OF HEARING

More people have been fitted with Sonotone than any other hearing aid because—

Sonotone is the largest organization in the world devoted exclusively to hearing aid service and research. Its large engineering and scientific staff includes men well known in the technical field — men who have been associated with large industrial laboratories, as well as those who have devoted years to pure research in acoustics, hearing and deafness.

Constantly these engineers and physicists are delving into new ways to improve Sonotone instruments — testing out new developments which the war has brought into being; studying audiograms, of which Sonotone has over 250,000 on file; consulting with physicians, otologists and leaders in the field and endeavoring in every way to bring the newest and best that modern scientific knowledge can offer to the aid of the person with hearing impairment.

The next regular Sonotone Hearing Clinic will be held at the EMPRESS HOTEL (Phone 3521) on MONDAY, FEB. 23. Hours: 1:30 p.m. to 8:00 p.m. Tuesday and later appointments may be made on Monday.

Charge Britain Incited Riots

ROME, Feb. 20 — (Reuters). — Britain today was accused by an Italian official of inciting anti-Italian riots in Mogadishu, Italian Somaliland, on Jan. 11 when 52 Italian were killed.

The official, Cesare Donati, secretary of the Italian Assistance committee for Mogadishu, reached Rome by air yesterday.

British officials, Donati alleged in a statement, looked on impassively as Italians were murdered by natives.

"The demonstrations were prepared by agitators in the service of the British military administration to offset the effect of pro-Italian demonstrations" five days earlier, he declared.

Last Of Coll Mobsters Found Bullet-Riddled

NEW YORK, Feb. 20 —(AP)— The last of the Vincent (Mad Dog) Coll mobsters is dead—his bullet-riddled body found in a snowpile in a lonely section of the Bronx.

Police identified the body, found yesterday, as that of Anthony (Stumpy) Mari, 38.

Coll, one of the deadliest gangsters in New York history, was machine-guned to death in a drugstore in 1931.

Police said Mari had a long police record, including a charge of homicide for allegedly killing a rival dope peddler. The charge was dismissed for lack of evidence.

Yemen Believes King Dies In Political Coup

CAIRO, Feb. 20 — (AP). — Yemenite circles here cautiously expressed belief today that Sehia Hamid-El Din, 82, Iman (ruler) of Yemen, three of his sons and a chief advisor were slain during a coup d'etat.

Dispatches from the Arabian Peninsula yesterday gave scant details, but said a new king and government have been proclaimed in the 75,000-square-mile state, and that the Imam and three of his 16 sons are dead.

Some Yeminites in Cairo said they believed the old ruler was killed as the outgrowth of plotting among his sons.

Shoots Constable Cries For Mercy

DETROIT, Feb. 20.—(CP). — A 53 year old Detroit policeman was shot and critically wounded early today by an ex-convict who, police said, fired first and then cried for mercy when they closed in on him after his gun was empty.

The ex-convict's companion, 27-year-old Pasquale Gizzi, surrendered meekly to end what he called "my first adventure into crime." The pair admitted holdup of two filling station attendants moments before they were trapped when a switching engine blocked their escape.

Held on robbery armed and assault charges is Frank Banning, 46, who, police said, did the shooting. Banning was shot and seriously wounded.

A bullet from Banning's gun passed through the left adm and chest of Patrolman Benton Hacker, winding up in his abdomen.

12 Jews Dig Way Out From Palestine Prison

JERUSALEM, Feb. 20 — (AP). — Twelve young Jews, identified by police as suspected members of Irgun Zvai Leumi, tunnelled to freedom from Jerusalem prison today.

One officer said he believed the men had help from outside, that the outsiders tunnelled toward the prison from a manhole in a nearby street while the prisoners dug from inside.

It was the second break within a month from Central prison. Four Arabs escaped in January two others were killed in that break

Twelve Jews, two Arabs and two British soldiers were killed yesterday in the Holy Land. The unofficial death toll since the United Nations voted Nov. 29 to partition Palestine now stands at 1,284.

Rev. Dr. Kelly Ill Long Time, Dies In Cobourg

COBOURG, Feb. 20 — Rev. Patrick J. Kelly, L.L.D., pastor of St. Michael's parish, died here Thursday afternoon after a long illness caused by a heart condition. He was formerly rector of St Peter's Cathedral, Peterborough, where he was born in 1879, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Kelly. His father was for years a clothing merchant at the southwest corner of George and Simcoe streets in Peterborough, and was at one time an alderman of the city council.

Rev. Dr. Kelly received his education at the old Murray St. Separate School and the Peterborough Collegiate Institute. He went on to St. Michael's College and the University of Ottawa, and finally took the theology course at the Grand Seminary, Montreal.

He was ordained to the priesthood in Peterborough Dec. 20, 1903, by Bishop Richard A. O'Connor, was curate successively at Trout Creek, Douro, and St. Peter's Cathedral, and pastor at Wooller, Norwood and Parry Sound. In 1919 he was parish priest at Victoria Road and Kirkfield, and was instrumental in building the church at Coboconk and founding St. Margaret's School for girls at Kirkfield.

Dr. Kelly was appointed to Hastings parish in 1931, succeeding Rev. Cyril Bretherton, and made a gift of a new altar in the parish church in memory of his parents. In 1936 he followed the late Rev. Paul Costello as rector of St. Peter's Cathedral. Six year's later, in March 1941, he was transferred to St. Michael's parish here.

In May of that year he received the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws from the University of Ottawa.

War Chaplain

Rev. Dr. Kelly served as a chaplain with the 4th Canadian Mounted Rifles in the First World War, and remained with the army during the occupation of Germany. He is survived by his brother, Egbert P. Kelly of Fort William, and four sisters, Mrs. E. F. Eggleton of Peterborough, Mrs. L. R. DesMarteaux of London Ont., Mrs. J. A. Lapres of Montreal, and Mrs. E. F. Lappe of St. Mary's.

During the pastorate here he had served on the Cobourg Hospital Board and was a member of the Canadian Legion. In his youth he took an active interest in athletics, and was a clever player in the home field of Peterborough lacrosse teams. He possessed a kindly, warm personality and gift of humor and sociability that won many friends, particularly during his chaplaincy service. He had a simple understanding and love of children. For them and veterans of the First War he had always a special concern. On the other hand Dr. Kelly was scholarly, zealous priest, devoting his life to the spiritual welfare of the people of many of the parishes of the Diocese of Peterborough. He accomplished much in promoting education, literary and social life in his pastorates, and took an active part in general community affairs. He leaves behind him a fine record of fidelity and amiability.

The body of Dr. Kelly is to remain in the rectory until three p.m. Sunday when he will be removed to St. Michael's Roman Catholic Church for prayers. The body will lie in state and at 8 p.m. Sunday the Office of the Dead will be recited by priests of the diocese. Members of the Knights of Columbus and the men of the parish will comprise a guard of honor over the casket throughout the night, and at ten o'clock Monday morning a pontifical high mass will be said by Rt. Rev. Bishop Gerald Berry of Peterborough. The sermon will be delivered by Rev. Peter Butler of St. Peter's Cathedral, Peterborough. Interment will be in St Michael's Roman Catholic Cemetery, Cobourg.

LONDON, Feb. 19 (Reuters).—Joe Louis may meet George Bernard Shaw — if he applies to the 91-year-old playwright. Told that the heavyweight boxing champion had said before sailing on the Queen Mary from New York that he would like to have a talk with him, Shaw commented: "I have not had his application yet. If it comes I might consider it."

Detective Tricks Trio

TORONTO, Feb. 20—(CP). —Posing as a bank accountant, a Toronto police detective last night arrested three men who accepted his offer to buy $2,000 in bonds, registered in the name of a Winnipeg man, for $400. The three are charged with receiving the bonds which police say they believe may be part of the $100,000 loot taken in a safety deposit vault robbery last December. Safety deposit boxes in the Winnipeg bank were looted in a robbery similar to two in Toronto and one at Carp, Ont., last year.

Lindsay Wants Community Fund

LINDSAY, Feb. 20 (ENS). — A public meeting Thursday night went on record as favoring the establishment of a Community Chest in Lindsay. A committee comprising Jasper Forman, D. McQuarrie, M. E. Grant, W. R. Alley, and W. J. Carlisle was appointed to investigate the matter and bring in a report at a meeting next week.

Mr. McQuarrie addressed the gathering and stressed the importance of a community chest, pointing to Peterborough as an example of where it had been found successful. "At present there are no less than nine organizations in the town preparing to canvass for funds for various causes," the speaker declared. "With a community chest one drive would do. But this would not eliminate tag days."

Toronto To Have 3 Cutoffs Daily

TORONTO, Feb. 20. (CP) — A schedule of proposed Hydro-Electric conservation cut-offs, advertised today by the Toronto Hydro-Electric System, indicated Toronto could prepare for three rounds of power interruptions daily for the remainder of the emergency.

Each of 13 districts could expect three power interruptions between 8:45 a.m. and 8:25 p.m. Starting times were indicated for each area and consumers were advised that if power remained uninterrupted ten minutes after the scheduled starting time, they could be assured continuous service until the time of the next round.

Power users were to be cut off today during two 45-minute periods but they were told switches would not be pulled during the week-end.

Duration of the cut-off periods was not specified but so far they have run to 45 minutes. Power would not necessarily be interrupted three times each day, Hydro officials said. If sufficient saving was made with the first round no further cuts would be made and similarly if round two proved sufficient the third would be omitted.

Prairie Storm Leaves 5 Dead; Snow Abates

WINNIPEG, Feb. 20 (CP)—The mid-February blast which let loose winter's worst storm across Western Canada appeared abated today after a lusty sweep from British Columbia's ragged coastline to northwestern Ontario's timberlands, but in its wake were at least five dead, blocked roads and general discomfort.

Four of the deaths attributed to the storm took place in British Columbia. First man killed, a Japanese lineman, Tetsuo Otsu, buried beneath tons of snow in a slide near Hope, 125 miles east of Vancouver. Then three Indians drowned when their dinghy capsized near Prince Rupert.

In the same district it was feared a halibut boat had been lost in Wright Sound.

Donald McKay of Marwayne, Alta., was the fifth known victim, dying in hospital at Kitscoty, 138 miles southeast of Edmonton, of a heart attack. The attack came a short while after he helped push a stalled automobile out of a snow drift.

In Winnipeg an engineer was taken to hospital yesterday in fair condition, suffering from shock following collision of two locomotives in the Canadian Pacific Railway yards. The accident was blamed on poor visibility caused by driving snow.

Expect British Ship To Reach Falkland

SANTIAGO, Chile, Feb. 20 — (AP). — A news dispatch from Punta Arenas said today the British cruiser Nigeria is expected to reach Port Stanley, capital of the disputed Falkland Islands, tomorrow.

The dispatch said the cruiser would join other British naval units at Port Stanley on a trip to reprovision British bases in Antarctica.

Whitby Board Would Like To Expel Press

WHITBY, Feb. 20—At a stormy Board of Education session the press was threatened with expulsion when several trustees objected to newspaper reports of past meetings. The meeting was also enlivened by an argument over the legality of county and separate school appointees voting on public school issues.

The meeting had been called to discuss the proposed new public school approved by the ratepayers at the last election.

Council finally decided to request John Parkin, Toronto architect, to attend a meeting to discuss the matter.

Trustee John Hare previously urged council to make a definite decision on construction of a six-room public school along the lines of the Kitchener Park school at Scarboro. The board finally agreed that the school should be erected on a parcel of land adjoining the Ontario County Home.

The press issued brought Trustee Hare and Trustee Clive Hatch into opposition. Trustee Hatch, in asking for expulsion of the press, said: "Their reporting on our meetings has been rotten."

"If the press is excluded, I'm leaving, too," retored Trustee Hare. "This is a public meeting and we are dealing with public money."

Trustee Peter Draimin said he did not object to fair reporting but when the privilege is grossly abused as it had been locally, he took strong exception.

"The board has no legal right to expel the press," said Trustee Hare.

The board compromised by permitting reporters to remain, on condition that committee-of-the-whole proceedings be considered "off the record."

Packard Workers Ask 30-Cent Raise

DETROIT, Feb. 20 — (AP). — Packard's C.I.O. auto workers joined with Chrysler's yesterday in a demand for a 30-cents-an-hour wage increase.

Going five cents over the International's proposal, the United Auto Workers Local 190 at the Packard Motor Car Co., said it would seek 30 cents for approximately 7,000 hourly paid workers.

The U.A.W.-C.I.O. at Chrysler Corp. demands 30 cents for 70,000 workers. At General Motors Corp. the union demands 25 cents for 225,000. The union's executive board set the latter figure.

In all instances "fringe" and pension proposals make the whole "economic package" roughly five cents more than the hourly pay demand.

33,000 Get Raise

OTTAWA, Feb. 20 — (CP). — Pay increases for another large group of Federal civil servants have been authorized by an Order-in-Council passed this week, it was learned yesterday. It was reported about 33,000 employees would be affected with the raises retroactive to October 1.

Better Treatment For Veterans Urged By Opposition MP's

By GEORGE KITCHEN

OTTAWA, Feb. 20—(CP).—Better treatment of Canada's veterans of the two world wars, including higher pensions and allowances, was urged in the Commons yesterday by Opposition speakers. Two Progressive Conservative speakers—Howard Green (PC—Vancouver South) and George White (PC—Hastings Peterborough)—joined in the Throne Speech debate in protesting that increases announced recently by the Government in payments to veterans were inadequate.

They spoke in the resumed Throne Speech debate, which also included John Sinnott (L—Springfield), F. W. Townley-Smith (CCF—North Battleford), J. M. Macdonnell (PC—Muskoka-Ontario), K. R. Daniel (PC—Oxford) and A. Wesley Stewart (L—Charlotte).

The House opened with the statement by Finance Minister Abbott that the Government was looking into proposals that holders of war savings certificates be allowed to cash them at post offices. Under the present system the certificates must be turned in to the chartered banks.

Revenue Minister McCann told the Chamebr he would look into the question of allowing income tax deductions for expenses incurred by teachers taking summer normal school courses.

In the Commons' throne speech debate, Mr. White expressed regret that the government had not yet established the House Veterans' Committee and suggested that a permanent standing committee be set up. Proposed increases in veterans' allowances could not go into effect until the committee studied them.

Increased Pensions

He urged that the government introduce legislation which would provide that the pensions of veterans of the First World War could not be reduced and that they should increase as the veterans grow older.

He felt the recent pension increases announced by Prime Minister Mackenzie King were "totally inadequate."

Mr. White also felt that the policy of paying pensions on the basis of rank should be abandoned immediately.

Mr. Green, as well, protested that the proposed increases in veterans' allowances were insufficient and said the advance extended to married veterans attending university should be given to single students.

Norman Jacques (SC—Wetaskiwin) expressed disapproval of Canadian participation in any armed force which the United Nations decides to send to Palestine. Any such force must include the "Red army" and once such an army landed in Palestine he wondered how it could be moved out of that territory.

3 Pay Fines At Campbellford

CAMPBELLFORD, Feb. 20 — (ENS). — Glen Fairman, RR 4, Campbellford, pleaded guilty to a charge of unlawfully driving a motor vehicle on the highway without a chauffeur's licence, and was fined $10, and $2.50 costs. When arrested, Fairman was driving a truck owned by P. H. MacMillan & Son, Campbellford, who pleaded guilty to a charge of unlawfully permitting a person who is not the holder of a chauffeur's licence, to drive a motor vehicle, and were assessed $10, and $2.50 costs, by Magistrate R. B. Baxter.

On a plea of guilty to a charge of unlawfully having liquor in a public place, Lyle Oliver, RR 1, Campbellford, was fined $10, and $2.50 costs. Chief Constable G. H. Hardy laid all charges.

Go After New Industries Business Men's Group Urged

CAMPBELLFORD, Feb. 20 — (ENS). — Guest speakers at a meeting of the Campbellford Business Men's Association held Thursday night in the Parish Hall, were Hon. R. T. Kelly, Ontario Minister of Health, and A. Conacher, secretary-treasurer of the Association of Board of Trade and Chamber of Commerce of Ontario, Hon. W. A. Goodfellow, Ontario Minister of Welfare, was present and he was called on by Mayor Donald to introduce Mr. Kelly.

Mr. Kelly, presented what he considered the three most important functions of such an association. First, to develop a strong community and home town spirit; second, to develop the trading area; and third, to cater to and cooperate with the farmers.

Another point Mr. Kelly stressed was the importance of the decentralization of industries, and the opportunities and attractions Campbellford could offer in this respect.

Mr. Conacher said Campbellford, with its own power plant, has a strong selling point for prospective industries, and the Business Men's Association should take advantage of this asset, during the present hydro power crisis, and go all out after new industries. An industrial committee should be formed to go after new industries by making these facts known.

Fruitless Name-Calling

On January 21 the U.S. State Department made public the contents of some documents which U.S. forces had captured in Germany, and which showed plainly that Germany and Russia had made a deal for partitioning Europe in 1939. Nineteen days afterward the Russians retaliated with counter-accusations to the effect that Britain and France tried to push Germany into war with Russia in 1937, and that the same two nations tried to make a secret peace with the Nazis when once Russia and Germany were at war. The Russian statements insist that it was the foolishness of Britain and France which allowed Hitler to rise to power, and that the League of Nations was made useless by the refusal of the U.S. to engage in it. The years of secret diplomacy and ugly nationalism which passed between the two wars have also been thoroughly explored. The Russians have even declared that the Dawes Plan of 1923 was a scheme to strengthen Germany and re-arm her.

* * *

Much of what the Russians say is true, and all the Western nations have said it themselves, long ago. The slant which the Russians give to certain facts is false, of course. The Dawes Plan was undertaken with a German republic, and not with a dictatorship; the attempt to turn Germany against Russia in 1937 was craven and fatuous, rather than criminal in intent. The nations of the West have sinned, and sinned greatly, and the tragedy of our situation lies in the fact that our consciousness of having made a mess of things during the past thirty years has brought us no new wisdom which we may apply to the problems which now confront us.

* * *

It is a moot question whether the U.S. State Department was justified in making an accusation against Russia of connivance with Germany; it was not a new accusation, but it was made in a particularly formal and pointed manner. The only result has been to make the Russians read us a catalogue of our follies as they appear in Russian eyes. And this senseless name-calling serves only to widen a breach between Russia and the West which may some day be great enough to engulf us.

The War Of The British Doctors

The British Government's National Health Scheme has been passed by Act of Parliament. It has become law. By it everyone, regardless of income, can get all the care that hospitals, doctors and nurses can provide. It does away with private charity, the fear of big doctors' bills and crippling hospital expenses. The people will pay tenpence a week, employers will have to make contributions, general practitioners are to receive a basic annual salary of 300 pounds and about 15 shillings for each person treated. People may choose their own doctors, and doctors may still accept private patients prepared to pay private fees. That is the law and all is in readiness to put the scheme in operation—except 36 per cent. of the doctors.

* * *

The British doctors have one of the best organized, closely-knit trade unions in a country dominated by unions. Theirs is the British Medical Association. The B.M.A. has sent out ballots to doctors in every city and hamlet, in every regiment and on every ship. Only 4,735 voted approval of the National Health Service Act. It seems therefore that unless the B.M.A. is brought to task and the doctors have a change of heart, the scheme will not work.

* * *

Aneuran Bevan, the Minister of Health and the promoter of the Act, has said that the doctors are "saboteurs of an Act of Parliament". Mr. Aneuran Bevan likes to rant and rage and to shout down with a deliberate, aggressive lack of diplomacy anyone who disagrees with him, particularly if that person isn't a day-labourer. Mr. Aneuran Bevan is the most bull-headed member of the Labour Cabinet and the man least likely to persuade a tight-laced, superior organization like the B.M.A. to accept a plan which it is predisposed to reject.

* * *

The doctors dislike the compulsory salary stipulation. They feel that in accepting a salary they will come too closely under direct state control and discipline. The restrictions on the sale of practices are viewed with consternation. Doctors who have lately bought practices will stand to lose ten to forty thousand dollars. Doctors who wish to retire will see the same sum slipping from their fingers. Bevan says that such transactions are "the buying and selling of patients over their heads".

* * *

The British public seem generally to approve the National Health Scheme, despite the fact that many are now surfeited with state control and interference in their work and lives, and despite their experience with "panel doctors". (By this earlier plan, working people pay very small sums to be put on a "panel"; they must go to the prescribed doctor, who all too often treats them poorly and peevishly.) It is considered that many of the doctors who have voted against the scheme approve of much of it, think the terms sufficiently generous and do not wish to flout public opinion. They do not, however, like Mr. Aneuran Bevan and his methods. It will be interesting to see if the Labour Government, which is supported by the Trade Unions, will attempt to break one of the toughest—the B.M.A.

Farquhar Oliver Rebuilds

It was not surprising that the Provincial Government was supported in the Huron by-election; Mr. Drew is popular in Ontario and he has a good ministry around him; the Progressive Conservative government at Queen's Park is safe for some time. What was interesting about the by-election was the large vote polled by the Liberal candidate in a straight two-party contest; Mr. Tuckey received 6,934 votes, as compared with 5,152 polled by the Liberal candidate in the election of 1945.

This increase may be attributed, we feel, to the influence of Mr. Farquhar Oliver, who has begun the task of raising the provincial Liberal party from the ruins in which Mr. Hepburn left it. Mr. Hepburn, though an able premier, was not an adroit party man, and the feud which he and some of his followers engaged in with the federal Liberal party (and particularly with Mr. Mackenzie King) was destructive of party discipline and loyalty. After the election of 1945 the provincial Liberal party was as low as it could sink without fading from existence altogether. Mr. Oliver has taken on himself the heavy task of resuscitation. Himself a successful farmer, he has inside knowledge of the farmer's problems, and he has already gained a good deal of rural support. We must point out, however, that it is not the farm population in Ontario, but the urban industrial population, which holds the balance of votes, and that any successful party leader must have a good deal to say to the workers.

The Klan Again

In The Christian Science Monitor we see a picture of something which has not come to our notice for a long time—a picture of the Ku Klux Klan burning a fiery cross in front of a courthouse in Georgia. The Klan, as usual, is shrieking for white supremacy in the South. Now we have no objection to white supremacy in the South, or anywhere else, but we have always wondered why white supremacy had to be purchased at the price of human dignity, humanity and decency; surely, if white people are superior to black ones, that fact will emerge without degrading shows of terrorism? The Klan has never shared this opinion.

The Klan is, of course, a fascist body and it has always shown special delight in the mumbo-jumbo of grand titles, fancy dress, disguise and the like which is usually found in association with fascism. We recall that the Klan had a brief and inglorious excursion into Canada in 1925 or 1928. It was against something-or-other — Catholics and Jews, we seem to recall — but its aims were never clear, and its outward shows were downright ridiculous. Perhaps Canada was too cold for the Klan. Anyway, it never flourished here, and we sincerely hope that it never will.

NOTE AND COMMENT

The Ottawa Citizen complains that no poem has been written in honour of Barbara Ann Scott. We hasten to repair that omission, and here is something which we have just dashed off on vellum, with a quill pen:

And uncommonly deft at her figure-eights;
There's no other girl in the world who can

The Fortnight On Parliament Hill

By A. J. THOMAS

FOR a week and two days the Members of Parliament debated the Government's motion to set up a parliamentary committee to investigate price rises. The Conservative and the C.C.F. were curiously united in their opposition to the motion. The C.C.F. believed that an investigating committee would be ineffective, and that what was needed was parliamentary action—an immediate reimposition of price controls and subsidies. Mr. St. Laurent spoke for the Government when he said:

"Our views differ from the view of the C.C.F. Party on that point. We do not believe in subsidizing as a permanent peacetime policy and we endeavoured to get away from it as quickly as the circumstances which existed during the war permitted us to do so".

The Conservatives wanted the powers of the committee widened and to give it the duty not only of fact-finding but of making recommendations. This would in effect have given an all-party group the right to advise on policy. The Government would not accept an amendment of this nature, feeling that it would thus be put in a disadvantageous political position.

✧ ✧ ✧

SINCE the motion became a major issue it might be well to quote it. Mr. Mackenzie King moved,—That a select committee of this House be appointed to examine and to report from time to time as to

(a) the cause of the recent rise in the cost of living;

(b) prices which have been raised above levels justified by increased costs;

(c) rises in prices due to the acquiring, accumulating or withholding from sale by any persons, firms or corporations of any goods beyond amounts reasonably required for the ordinary purposes of their businesses.

The effectiveness of the Committee's work will depend on the Committee members and on the use the Government will make of its report. The committee can go at its job briskly (as it is now doing) but too superficially and hastily and thus not get to the roots of the matter. It can make a thoroughly wide and detailed report—which might take many months to prepare, and deliver a document as exhaustive as the Stevens Price-Spreads Report of 1934. The Opposition is afraid that such a report from the present Committee might meet the fate of the Stevens Report—shelving, with no action taken on it.

The 16-man Committee was finally authorized after a straight party vote on Tuesday, February 10th. At its head is the Honourable Paul Martin, Minister of Health.

ON the same afternoon the House went into Committee of the Whole to discuss the details of Bill No. 3, the Foreign Exchange Conservation Bill prohibiting certain imports and providing for quotas on others. This Bill had received second reading on January 30th. It is a long document of 33 pages, and its clauses and detailed schedules of goods prohibited from import and exceptions thereto are being discussed at length. Not inconsiderable time was taken even in deciding to include in the "Short Title", which is "The Emergency Exchange Conservation Act", the word "emergency".

The Bill is very important, for it will govern (and is in fact now governing) Canada's domestic economy. It is the Government's way of overcoming the American dollar shortage and the economic difficulties with which this country is faced. It is affecting every industry, business and home in Canada. Time will tell if it is the best policy. The Opposition has no comprehensive alternative to offer in its stead, other than large borrowings in the United States and the devaluing of the Canadian dollar.

THE debate this last week when the House has been in committee of the whole has been sharp and sometimes cantankerous. Mr. Abbott reiterated that the emergency measures were not curative but restrictive. "In the final analysis our situation will not be permanently cured until we can get paid in convertible currency in cash for what we export, in order to pay our bills in the United States". The Opposition argued that the Bill was entirely negative, that it had no positive side but was destructive of our economy.

One amendment before the Committee was to make the import ban apply only to dollar countries—that is, chiefly the United States. The Government speakers pointed out that that would be a discriminatory policy against the United States. On December 9th in the House Mr. Abbott explained that "The United States in particular attaches great importance to the non-discrimination principle... The success of this emergency program and the smooth functioning of our economy depend upon the whole-hearted co-operation of our friends to the south. That has been evidenced by their willingness to make us a loan of $300 million."

Through adoption of quotas and rescinding of the bans on importing specific items, the schedules now being considered by the parliamentarians are being changed from day to day. There has been time now to assess the effect of restriction on special items, and time for many business men and industrialists and their public relations officers to present briefs and exert pressure.

ON Wednesday and Friday of last week, and again this week, the debate on the reply to the Speech from the Throne was resumed. This gave individual members the opportunity to air their views. Mr. James Sinclair, Liberal Member for Vancouver North has introduced his bill which would lift the ban on margarine. The Honourable W. D. Euler has re-introduced his perennial bill into the Senate. Mr. Bracken, Opposition Leader, tried to get the Prime Minister to state whether or not the Government had agreed to lift the embargo on the importation of margarine when the Geneva Agreements were signed. Mr. King was cagey; so was Mr. St. Laurent, to whom the P.M. handed the question. If Mr. Sinclair's bill gets beyond first reading, it is likely that a non-party vote may be allowed by the party whips.

The P.M. announced a revised scale of pensions to veterans, and war widows. This will add 12 million dollars to the annual pensions bill and raise it to 84 million dollars—twice the sum spent in 1920, and about half the total national revenue in 1914.

Congratulations were offered to Miss Barbara Ann Scott on winning the world skating championship for the second time. Mr. McIvor (Fort William) asked if it would be possible for Barbara Ann to appear before the House of Commons or the Senate. Mr. King gave a neat reply: "Mr. Speaker, I think I might promise to take my honourable friend and introduce him privately to her any-time he wishes".

AVALANCHE?

Public Enterprise

(THE MANCHESTER GUARDIAN)

DOES public enterprise necessarily imply centralized national control? The timely question was raised by Dr. W. A. Robson, who last week became the first Professor of Public Administration at the London School of Economics, in his inaugural address. He examined two fields of public enterprise, local government and nationalized industry, and in both his answer was emphatic; centralization is often not only unnecessary but even positively harmful. It is true, as he said, that local government is today badly handicapped by obsolete structure and irrational areas; but the remedy is "to raise local self-government to a regional scale, so as to accord with the wider movement of social and economic life," not transfer to Whitehall (or to units appointed by and responsible to Whitehall) functions which local authorities have for years carried on with a great measure of success. Centralization at once takes the heart out of the local councils and lays on Ministers and departmental officials a load heavier than they can bear. In nationalized industry it is often assumed that a huge national monopoly is the only or the best form of organization. But in fact it is still very doubtful what is the best size for an industrial undertaking, whether in public or in private hands. In the Gas Bill, Dr. Robson pointed out, the Minister of Fuel "has accepted the "overwhelming arguments in favour of a number of regional organs." On coal and transport a highly centralized control has been imposed. It is of the first importance that the working of these systems should be carefully studied in order to bring out clearly the relation between size and efficiency.

But that study, as Dr. Robson says, involves a further question. What is "efficiency" in a public service? "The creation of suitable yardsticks for the measurement of public services is urgently required," he says, "if we are to draw the right conclusions from the many experiments now being made." What yardsticks have we? Financial success was never a safe guide, even for private enterprise; an undertaking might run at a profit and yet leave behind it a trail of broken lives which showed it the reverse of efficient in social terms. Nor is volume of production by itself a reliable criterion; one may get high production on wasteful terms. Systems can be devised of measuring the value of commodities produced against a composite of such factors as man-hours spent in production, the cost in wages and salaries (for it is as inefficient to carry too great a burden of expensive executives as to employ too many labourers), and the cost of plant and raw material used; there is room for great developments in the arts of the statistician, one of the keystones of modern industrialism. But statistics are only a tool. To give useful results they must be applied with disinterested zeal. A good accountant applies these qualities now to the finances of a private undertaking; it is important that they should not be lost in the wider sphere of social accountancy. It will be in no small measure to Professor Robson's students that we shall look, in the coming years, to devise and apply the yardsticks which he demands.

A Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

And when Jesus was entered into Capernaum, there came unto him a centurion, beseeching him, and saying, Lord, my servant lieth at home sick of the palsy, grievously tormented. And Jesus saith unto him, I will come and heal him.

The centurion answered and said, Lord, I am not worthy that thou shouldest come under my roof: but speak the word only, and my servant shall be healed. For I am a man under authority, having soldiers under me: and I say to this man, Go, and he goeth; and to another, Come, and he cometh; and to my servant, Do this, and he doeth it.

When Jesus heard it, he marvelled, and said to them that followed, Verily I say unto you, I have not found so great faith, no, not in Israel ... And Jesus said unto the centurion, Go thy way; and as thou hast believed, so be it done unto thee. And his servant was healed in the selfsame hour. (Matt. 8: 5-10, 13.)

And Jesus went about all the cities and villages, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing every sickness and every disease among the people. (Matt. 9: 35.)

✧ ✧ ✧

And when he had called unto him his twelve disciples, he gave them power against unclean spirits, to cast them out, and to heal all manner of sickness and all manner of disease....

These twelve Jesus sent forth, and commanded them, saying, Go not into the way of the Gentiles, and into any city of the Samaritans enter ye not: but go rather to the lost sheep of the house of Israel.... Heal the sick, cleanse the lepers, raise the dead, cast out devils: freely ye have received, freely give. (Matt. 10: 1, 5, 6, 8.)

AGROUND

The skipper and the engineer were arguing. The latter said that steering a ship was far easier than looking after the engines, and the captain said that looking after the engines was child's play compared with steering. They decided to settle the argument by changing places.

After ten minutes the captain had to admit he was beaten.

"Macpherson," he shouted, "I can't get the engines to start!"

"That's all right," replied the engineer: "ye needna bother—we're aground."

Continue Rationing To Whiskey Makers

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20—(AP) —A United States Senate banking sub-committee voted 4 to 0 today for rationing grain to whiskey makers through Oct. 31.

The sub-committee recommended that the liquor industry be allotted not less than 2,500,000 bushels of grain a month.

An agriculture department official said the industry now is using 6,200,000 bushels a month.

Grain controls expired Jan. 31.

Is Arab War Effort Indirectly Subsidized?

JERUSALEM, Feb. 20—(AP)— A Jewish agency spokesman charged today the Palestine government had contributed an "indirect subsidy to the Arab war effort" by allocating funds to the Supreme Moslem Council for repairs to Mosques and support of orphanages.

The Palestine government announced yesterday the transfer of £300,000 ($1,200,000) to the Moslem Council under a new retroactive computation of tithes.

The Jewish agency spokesman insisted the government should make certain through public supervision that the funds would be used for religious purposes.

Truman Appeals To Middle East Reminiscent Of Dictator Soothing

By CLYDE BLACKBURN

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20 — (CP). — Palestine's bloody disorders are again teaching the lesson to the United States and her peace-loving partners in the United Nations that idealism and optimism are no substitutes for preparedness and forthright planning in international affairs. There was something familiar about the news this week that President Truman had been appealing to Middle East authorities to exercise "restraint" in Palestine.

Observers here were reminded of the appeals sent to European dictators around 1939 by President Roosevelt and of their futility.

Probably the United States was as lukewarm as any of the other UN members when they voted last fall to partition Palestine, realizing fully that the organization had no police or other force to impose the decision.

The decision to carve out a Jewish state in the Holy Land might have proved a happy solution if it had been acceptable to the Arab states.

Difficult Problem

At the time the decision was taken, supporters of partition were faced with emphatic declarations from spokesmen of Arab state members of the U.N., that they would fight partition even if it meant bathing the Holy Land with human blood.

Not only were the Arabs making the most dire threats but the British had bluntly announced their irrevocable decision to surrender their mandate over Palestine and withdraw their armed forces as soon as practicable.

The British had also taken the stand it still holds, that it would not participate in imposing by force, a partition plan not acceptable to Arabs and Jews.

The United Nations had nothing behind it but good intentions and public opinion, or, at least, the opinion of the majority of its members.

Hopes were expressed in high places that better judgment would prevail among the opposing forces in Palestine and the disorders would die down.

Uncomfortable Spot

Now the United States, as the leading major power, is in the uncomfortable position of being expected to do something that will be extremely difficult.

The Administration does not want to let the Jewish people down and it does not want to offend the Arab states which are so strategically important to world peace and as a source of oil.

It would be difficult for the Administration to sell its people on the idea of sending armed forces into Palestine. And if it did, it would find that Russia would also go in, probably with much larger forces.

At this moment, there is a clamor for an international police force to support the Partition Commission — a force to be supplied by small countries. It would take a long time to get approval of and to organize such a force.

Undoubtedly there is pressure on the United Kingdom to remain a little longer in Palestine and thus put off the evil day, pressure which is not expected to be successful.

If the British pull out on schedule, it appears certain that chaos and slaughter, and all the danger that will bring to world peace, will be the fate of Palestine this summer.

May Cut Grain Imports

OTTAWA, Feb. 20 — (CP). — Government sources indicated yesterday Canada likely will curtail the use of imports of American grains for distilling purposes if the United States decides to apply that restriction within its own borders.

100,000 Strike At Meat Plants

CHICAGO, Feb. 20 — (AP). — A strike of more than 100,000 workers at meat packing plants in 26 states was voted today by the United Packinghouse Workers of America (CIO).

The Union's strike strategy committee, which authorized the walkout after a 20 to 1 rank-and-file vote, declined to reveal the strike date.

The union said it is seeking a 29-cent-an-hour raise now, with additional increases later to meet minimum family budget standards indicated by the Bureau of Labor statistics.

Ralph Helstein, union president said two-thirds of the workers earn less than $1.10 an hour, as compared with the BLS figure of $1.39 for a family of three.

Helstein said the union expected to continue negotiations with the companies but said, "Up to the present, the packers have made no realistic attempts to pay an increase which would provide for decent living standards."

The union had been negotiating with Armour and Company, Swift & Co., Cudahy Packing Co., and Wilson and Company.

A strike in January, 1946, ended with government seizure of the packing plants and granting of a 16-cents-an-hour raise.

Daylight Saving Up To Cities

TORONTO, Feb. 20 — (CP). — Premier Drew of Ontario said yesterday that municipalities — not the province — have authority to adopt daylight time if they feel it will help conserve power during the present shortage.

In a telegram to Earl Nicholls, President of the Restaurant Association of London, the Premier said "I think it advisable to make it clear that Ontario government has no statutory authority to put such daylight saving into effect and in any event the situation does not require change in time in many places which would be affected by a province-wide order."

The Premier, who was replying to a request from the London man, added: "Municipalities on the other hand have the power to deal with this immediately under existing legal authority. As method of controlling local distribution of electricity is entirely under municipal authorities, and different methods are being adopted to meet this temporary emergency, this is a matter which can best be dealt with by the municipalities if they regard it as desirable for the purpose of carrying out their plans."

J. Denault High With 356 In City League

Fashion Craft took high pinnage 3737 and single game of 1427, while Joe Denault of the same squad had high single of 356 as the Robertson squad took two games from Generals in the Men's City Five-Pin loop. Fred Whatley had shiny new pins for the first time this year and the majority of the teams found the going tough as they left corner pins standing and plucked head pins.

Ramblers took Plazas for six points to take over second place as Sunocos were blanking Shockey's. Kawarthas, Clapper's, McGillis and Legion blanked DeLaval, Freeman's, Empress Old Timers and Grant's while King George took two games from Sparton's. Irv Hanes had high three of 821 with "Tic" Caccavella 811.

Other good singles beside Denault's top score were Jack Playford, 345, Carl Palmer 336, Harold Davis 333, Geo. Robertson 319, Fred Martin 316, Jim Herron 314 and Frank McCormack 308.

An interesting challenge match will be played Saturday at 1.30 p.m. when the Downer family will roll the Martin family. The Downers will have Bill Downer and four of his sons, Eldon, Clarence, Dalton and Donald, while the Martins will have Fred Martin and brothers Bill, Tom, Jack and son Eric.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Basketeers go tonight on two local fronts. Girls play in the YWCA, Nurses vs. Neill's at 8.15 in a round-robin playoff, followed at 9.15 by Belleville and Towne Togs in an exhibition. Both should be keen contests and worth a good gallery. Up at the Collegiate, Cobourg meets PCVS bantams at 6.30 in first of two-game district semi-finals; Port Hope plays the junior "B" PCI-ers at 7.30 in a group game; and Cobourg tackles PCVS senior "B" boys at 8.30 in an important group fixture. The junior "A" and senior "A" teams are away tomorrow. At the Collegiate on Saturday eve, Toronto Montgomery Maids have a girls' exhibition at 7.30 with Towne Togs, the Maids being senior Canadian champions, while Lindsay meets Marines "B" men at 8.30 in a loop tilt.

Jack Dane advises us that the hefty junior ski school meet is tomorrow morn at Kempt's Hill on the Warsaw road, buses leaving the depot around nine of the clock. The school has 400 reigstered and quite a bunch will be competing in four classes: Aged nine and under, 11 and under, 13 and under, and 15 and under. Girls and boys, with prizes for each class in slalom and downhill events, and a grand prize for the boy and girl putting on the best performance. Parents are invited. The Peterborough Ski Club is handling the meet with the Recreation Commission supplying the prizes. Ought to be quite a "do".

Danforth And IOOF-ers

Danforth Byers play the Oddfellows at 8.30 tonight in Omemee, second of their best-in-three OHA junior "B" group semi-finals. The IOOF-ers won the first 8-6 on Whitby ice and could wrap it up this evening, but it looks like a hot scrap before it's over. These young huskies serve up fine streamlined hockey and they should draw a big crowd of supporters. Here's Archie Weir's crew, with numbers: Goal, Byers (1); defence, Menzies (5) and Stock (6); centre, Conlin (2); wings, Montgomery (4) and Dugan (7); alternates, Pagett (9), Floyd (10), Crowley (11), Collins (12), Clark (3), Griffin (14), and subgoalie Brooks. A smart young squad.

Legionnaires push off tomorrow aft for Kingston and the second struggle of their best-in-five OHA senior "B" group semi-finals. Next one then will be back in Lindsay on Monday, followed if necessary by Wednesday in Kingston and Friday again on the Scugog sheet. The Vitarelli pack hopes to make it three straight and the Petes are hoping so, too, as they're anxious to get into the four-in-seven group finals ere the ice goes. It would be a great series if Legion and Petes clashed, and we think they will. But you can't write off Kingston yet; they're always tough in the Jock Harty Arena.

Trent Leaguers Start

Trent Valley Loop puck sem-finals start tonight with the Stirling-Bata Combines playing Marmora at Madoc, first of a three-in-five serial. Campbellford goes to Norwood to open a two-in-three sawoff while Hastings starts a similar one this eve at Tweed. Winners of these last two series then clash in home-and-home games to see which one meets the Stirling-Marmora victor in league finals. The men o' Marmora finished first with 32 points, while Norwood had 25, Stirling 24, Campbellford 23, Tweed and Hastings 18 each—or so we understand. Anyway, that's the order and the TVL setup.

And this from the Oshawa scribe re the Whitby game the other e'en: "Peterborough junior 'B' really went to work on Byers to the tune of 8-6 in a free-scoring tilt. Dugan led the Liftlock City attack with four goals, and Gee was one of the best on the Byers squad. It must have been an upset for both Danforth and Whitby. Peterborough's junior 'B' team was given a bye into the group playoffs and few figured they'd be very hot, especially at the start. However, winning the first game from Byers in Whitby stamps the Liftlock City kids as worth watching. Oshawa and Whitby open their semi-finals here on Saturday night and play again on Monday. There should be some lively hockey in these games."

About A Game Of Bowls

Those new pins set up at Duffus' last gloaming didn't seem to bother Fashion-Crafts overly much as they smeared 'em for top pinnage of 3737, including high game of 1427. They're well out in front now but second place is seeing quite a scramble in the City Bowling League. Joe Denault of the F-C trundlers had best single of 356 as Irv Hanes of Generals rolled 821 to lead in triples. A challenge match will be run off at 1.30 tomorrow between the Downer family—father and four sons—and the Martins. That is Freddy along with brothers Bill, Tom and Jack, with his son Eric. To the tune of: "The Martins and the Coys they were feudin' mountain boys."

Peterborough Rink Downed 9-8 In Toronto

TORONTO, Feb. 20 — (CP)— For the first time in 10 years, a Kitchener curling rink has captured the Royal York Trophy, premier event of the Ontario bonspiel.

Carl Asmussen's strong quartette did it early to-day, coming from behind a 4-3 deficit at the fourth end to defeat C. R. Meech's veteran Toronto High Park rink 13-6 in the final. The Kitchener crew chalked up a two on the fifth end, a three on the sixth, and a four on the eighth of the 10-end match. Meech's foursome were second cup winners last year.

Asmussen, one of four Kitchener skip to win the event in the 21 years of the bonspiel—Bert Hall captured it the other three times, 1932, 1937, and 1938—turned in a steady game with his rocks, ousting the Kenora four skipped by J. Johnson 11-9 in the semi-final.

In the third round of the North American Life Trophy, Ernie Braund's Peterborough rink bowed to Gordon Jones' High Park rink 9-8.

Fort Worth Trims Omaha Knights 4-0

By the Associated Press.

Phil McAtee and Doug Jackson were poised to-day for a stretch race in quest of the United States Hockey League's title shutout crown. Each goalie has four whitewash jobs to his credit, McAtee chalking up his latest on a 4-0 game last night as his Fort Worth mates trimemd Omaha.

McAtee had an easy time list night. He had only 19 stops and the Rangers took the heat off him in the second period with three goals. Bobby Thorpe, new Fort Worth wingman, with two goals, was the top scorer.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS

A three-man rink skipped by George Sangster of the Winnipeg Granite Club last night added the Manitoba curling championship to the grand aggregate title the rink won earlier at the Diamond Jubilee bonspiel. The rink's personnel included George and his brother Bill, and Bill Petrie.

The fourth member, Reg Anderson, was ineligible under Manitoba Curling Association rules to play in the provincial championship series since he is a regular member of a club other than the Granite, which the rink represents.

The Association will nominate a fourth player to round out the rink for the Dominion playoffs at Calgary early in March.

Mrs. B. D. Crowninshield of Palm Beach, Fla., last night was awarded the annual trophy of the Rod and Gun Editors Association of New York, presented in recognition of the year's outstanding contribution to the sport of angling.

The award was made in recognition of Mrs. Crownshield's prowess in catching an 882-pound tuna off Wedgeport, N.S. last September.

Thirty thousand spectators stormed the gates of Bislet Stadium in Oslo, Norway, yesterday, to see an international ice extravaganza, including special appearances by Barbara Ann Scott of Ottawa and Eileen Seigh of Brooklyn, NY.

Spectators compared Barbara Ann, who recently captured the Olympic world and European figure-skating championships, to their own former champion Sonia Henie and found her impressive in technique but somewhat lacking in color.

Manager Tommy Thomas of Baltimore Orioles of the International Baseball League last night joined the cry that baseball's stars are asking too much pay. He said that most club pilots, including himself, are being asked for "fabulous" salaries that are beyond the club's means.

Canada's RCAF Flyers, Olympic hockey title holders, last night played to a 3-3 draw with Czechoslovakia, runners-up in the Olympics. The two teams also played to a deadlock in their Olympic meeting but the Flyers took the title on a better goal average.

Barbara Ann Scott's Olympic, world and European gold medals, proof of her prowess in the figure-skating world today are en route to Ottawa where they are expected during the week-end.

Canadiens Down Leafs 3-1 In One of Roughest Games

Detroit Red Wings held a psychological edge today on Toronto Maple Leafs in their continuing race for the leadership of the National Hockey League. The Leafs lost a beautiful chance for a first-place tie with the Red Wings when the up-and-battling Montreal Canadiens downed them 3-1 in a Montreal game last night that was notable for its slam-bang atmosphere.

Thus the loop-leading Detroiters can go a full four points in front when they tangle with the Leafs in a Saturday game at Toronto.

Last night's victory, punctuated with 24 penalties, kept Montreal's playoff hopes alive. The Canucks are still five points out of fourth place, behind Boston Bruins, currently in the final playoff position.

Fists Swing

Fights dotted the first two periods when 23 of the penalties went up on the tally sheet, but the only majors went to Wild Bill Ezinicki of Leafs and big Butch Bouchard of Canadiens for their wild, swinging encounter in the initial frame.

For two-thirds of the game there was scarcely a time when the penalty box was unoccupied as the hammering inter-city rivals copped penalties for high-sticking, elbowing and tripping.

The Habitants collected 13 penalties in all and even goalie Turk Broda of the Leafs got the finger — for interference. Syd Smith served the time for him.

The wild-and-wooly encounter kept a crowd of 11,218 howling with delight, but oddly enough all goals were scored when the teams were at full strength.

Lead Scoring

Canadiens scored first, Maurice Richard's shot from the side of the net going in off Broda's pads after only 31 seconds of play. But Howie Meeker took a long distance passout from Tedder Kennedy to even it up two minutes later.

The rest of the game was a hard battle, savage at times and yet with some smart hockey displayed. Montreal forged into the lead in the second period when Ken Reardon bulled his way through a ganging attack to fire the puck home unassisted. Little Normand Dussault made it stick with another late in the final period.

The Canadiens get another chance to make up those points they need for the playoffs when they run into Boston Bruins Saturday at Montreal.

OHA Playoffs Begin Tonight

By The Canadian Press

So it's on to the playoffs for the senior and junior A divisions of the Ontario Hockey Association. And as a well-known sight announcer once said: "May the superior participant emerge triumphant."

Trying to pick winners would give an aspirin salesman a super headache — although he has a remedy while hockey fans just have to wait until the teams either make it or crop out.

Fans will get their first taste of "playoff panic" tonight when the first six senior teams swing into action. Series "A" gets under way with the first and second clubs—Hamilton Tigers and Toronto Marlboros—setting to at Toronto in the first game of a best of seven series.

Senior "B" will have the fourth-place club playing at the home ice of the third place club—Kitchener - Waterloo Flying Dutchmen at Stratford Indians—in a best two-of-three series.

Series "C" will see the sixth-place Hamilton Pats playing at fifth place Owen Sound. All games in this best-of-three series will be played at Owen Sound by request of the Pats who say they can draw a better gate there.

When these three series have been played out, the "B" and "C" series winners will tangle in series "D" for the privilege of meeting the winners of series "A" for the championship, classed as series "E".

Trinity Firsts Swamp UTS Firsts 57-17

PORT HOPE, Feb. 20.—Trinity College School Firsts turned back UTS Firsts in a prep league basketball game 57-17. Williams, Gaunt and Sweny led Trinity to a 31-9 margin at the half. Trinity kept the pressure on and held a distinct margin in the second half. Handly played well for the UTS. In the Junior game TCS took a 45-21 licking from UTS.

Sport Sponsors Cause Alarm In Baseball

NEW YORK, Feb. 20—(AP).—Brooklyn Dodgers announced a "rookie hunt" the other day and immediately afterward the reporters staged a Rickey hunt...the latter almost completely obscured the former...but a chronic viewer-with-alarm could find good reason for looking askance at the rookie hunt and similar hookups between sports and non-sporting promotion stunts...the "hunt" is merely a combined effort by the Dodgers and a national magazine to find some outstanding kid ball players and reward them (and the coach who "bird dogs" them) with a trip with the Dodgers and maybe a contract...the team may get a few good prospects and the magazine a lot of inexpensive advertising.

A Lot of Angles

Before this stunt, it was Bob Feller and the maker of an ice cream confection joining to award college scholarships to outstanding boys and girls....Babe Ruth is front man of a youth program sponsored by an automobile manufacturer....For years newspapers have used amateur boxing, football, and other sports to attract circulation and resorts have used various sports to attract patrons....There's no question but that many of these promotions have been good for sports and have helped to arouse interest....But the list seems endless—and still growing—and on one knows where it will lead....Could be that some day a pitcher will have to consult his sponsor before deciding whether to throw a fast ball or a curve—or that a kid will play ball, or any other game, not because he likes the sport but because he hopes to win half a department store, like the winner of an audience participation program.

The club recently took possession of modern quarters which are not fully completed. Founded in 1932 as the Belleville Skating Club, the name was changed to Quinte Skating and Tennis Club in 1935.

LONDON, Feb. 20 — (CP). — London's famous Beaver Club, which entertained thousands of Canadian service men and women during the second world war, held its second annual reunion last night. Lakefield Bantams Eliminate Deloro LAKEFIELD, Feb. 20 (ENS).—Lakefield Sea Scout bantams sailed through Deloro last night with a score of 14-2, winning the round 21-5. Correction on score of Tuesday's game—score was 7-3.

Coyle and Sloan scored in the first period for the locals with Twist getting an assist. Coyle and Twist collected a penalty each. Brown scored for Deloro from Brooks.

Lakefield tallied seven times in the second period with Heffernan getting three and one assist, Coyle one and one assist, Sloan one and one assist, Twist and Brown one each with an assist from Wilson.

Third period found Heffernan slamming home three more with two assists from Spencer and Coyle collecting one with an assist from Sloan. Mantle registered for Deloro. Sloan sat out two minor penalties.

Saturday finds the Sea Scouts in Gananoque with the return game in Lakefield next Tuesday night. The teams:

Jack Tries Comeback

NEW YORK, Feb. 20 (AP). — Beau Jack, twice holder of the lightweight boxing crown (New York version), goes after his fourth title bout to-night in Madison Square Garden. The little Augusta, Ga., negro meets Terry Young, a Brooklyn veteran, in the toughest test of his latest comeback. It's been a year, minus a day, since Jack last fought in New York. And those who saw him knocked out that night by Tony Janiro thought he would never be back.

Launch Sport Plan

OTTAWA, Feb. 20 — (CP). — The RCAF's post-war physical fitness program, which aims to substitute organized competitive sport for the irksome, old-style "PT," has been launched at Trenton, with the opening of a new training course for coaches, Air Force Headquarters announced yesterday.

OUT OF HOSPITAL

Gil Dodds, mile champion, whose record-smashing campaign was halted by mumps, was released from hospital yesterday after an 11-day confinement. Dodds plans an early return to his home at Wheaton, Ill., where he will rest up before resuming training for an Olympic berth.

KROL AND NEW TROPHY —It's Joe Krol, backfield star for the Toronto Argonauts, Canadian senior rugby football champions—voted one of Canada's outstanding athletes for the past four years. He has been outstanding contender for the Lou E. Marsh Memorial trophy on several occasions. It went to Barbara Ann Scott this year. Krol is shown holding the emblem trophy, just put into circulation. It's to be awarded each year for the "outstanding achievement" in Canadian sports. Sports writers across Canada will ballot on the achievement winner—to be declared next December.

Corey Purchases Ferry Boat For Theatre

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 20 (AP). —Because he can't get back to Broadway, Actor Wendell Corey is bringing the theatre to himself—and in an unusual way.

Corey plans to buy a ferry boat in San Francisco, have it towed to San Diego and convert it into a showboat. The idea sounds mildly fantastic, but he assures that his brother, Milton is now in San Francisco, negotiating for the vessel. And Wendell says he has assurances that San Diego is ripe for more legitimate theatre.

Corey will have to sneak time from his screen jobs, since he is one of the mightest new star prospects.

Cheating Husbands

Maureen O'Hara intends to visit Eire this summer, whether or not "The Quiet Man" is filmed there. So far, the picture is still on. It will star Maureen, John Wayne and Victor McLaglen. John Ford's "The Family," which was to feature Maureen, Wayne and Ethel Barrymore, has been called off because it's too expensive . . .

Ticklish topics are due for more realistic treatment in future movies. "The Judge's Wife" tackles mercy killing, and "The Pitfall" deals with cheating husbands. Both had skirmishes with the Johnston office . . .

New Releases.

Gloria Grahame, who ranks with Angela Lansburg as one of the youngest gals ever to get an Academy nomination, sings "Paradise" in her new film, "The Long Denial.' As I watched her sing the number, it made me think that she is the right actress to inherit the mantle of the person who introduced the song—Jean Harlow . . .

Paramount is planning a hurry-up release of "Hazard," with MacDonald Carey and Paulette Goddard. Reason: The studio wants more build-up for Carey, who also stars with Betty Hutton in the blue-chip production, "Dream Girl."

Odds and Ends

Claude Rains did a frenzied pulpit scene in "Abigail, Dear Heart." So convincing was his frenzy that the whole script was changed, and he winds up insane in the end of the picture.

Toronto Granite Rink Beats Peterborough

KINGSTON, Feb. 20 (CP). — In an all-Kingston final, Mrs. S. S. Hall's rink captured the McCullagh Trophy by eliminating the Mrs. J. Rutherford-skipped quartette by 10-4 in the feature attraction of the two-day Kingston ladies' bonspiel.

A Toronto Granite foursome skipped by Mrs. J. A. Kearnes won the second series from Mrs. J. E. Thomas' rink from Brockville by a 12-2 count, while another Granite Club team led by Mrs. J. Medland bowed to Mrs C. Millar's Kingston rink 10-4, in the third series.

Rifle Club Results

Members for the second week of operation are showing good scores in general.

Match Target Rifles — Dave Clement 97, 99, 99, 100.8; Norm Wood 99, 97, 97, 96; John Wood 90, 87, 98, 91 (90); Jim Clemen 97.

Sporting Target Rifles—Frank Barker 99, 99, 100.3, 99, 99, (89), Jim Clement 98, 100.3, 100.6, 100.8 100.6, (71); Dave Clement 100.9 (88); Bert Buott, 100.5, 98, (77). Jim Rogers 98, 93, 98; Wm. Armstrong 100.2, 95, 100.2, 97, 91, (79). John Hayes 93, 92, 96; Herb Henry 97, 100.2, 99; Mert Pearse 95, 100.6, 100.3, 98, 98, (83); M. Hartin 99, 96; Bill Simpson 100.8, (85); Bob McCabe (62); Frank Dance (89).

On Wednesday night a competition was arranged calling for 10 shots on a target off-hand. Two prizes were given, one for the highest score, and the other to the man who came closest to one of three scores, which previous to shooting had been written down and placed in a hat. The score drawn was 64 and Bob McCabe was the lucky winner with no competitor even close. (Scores for this competition are shown in circle). Bob McCabe was a winner several times last year on a lucky score draw, which goes to show you that the best shot doesn't always win.

Some of the boys are still not handing in their targets.

The club had made plans to join the 'Dominion Marksman Competition," but on receiving targets and membership cards we find that nearly all rifles used on the range are not considered sporting rifles by "Dominion Marksman Competition." Seems there are three classes — a light sporting rifle, a heavy target rifle, and the ones owned by most of members, which come between the two classes, but are classed as sporting rifles by most rifle associations except Dominion Marksman Association.

Where are all those men who were so anxious to shoot before the club started rolling for 1948. Seems the ones who called the loudest for action have suddenly found other things to do.

Woman Assaulted Returning Home

CHATHAM, Feb. 20—(CP)—Brutally assaulted when attacked while walking home, Mrs. Helen York of Chatham is in hospital here today, suffering head injuries, full extent of which could not be immediately determined.

Within two hours after the attack last night, police arrested Samuel Day, 18, of Chatham.

Returning from town, the woman was taking a short cut when she was set upon from behind and beaten over the head. Kenneth Bondy, Canadian Pacific Railway yardman, heard her screams and chased two men who fled at his approach.

CPR And Engineer Face Damage Suit

LONDON, Ont., Feb. 20 (CP)—The Canadian Pacific Railway and one of its locomotive engineers are co-defendants in a $25,800 damage suit arising from a fatal accident at the CPR-Third Street crossing here last Jan. 25.

Plaintiff is Mrs. Agnes Juul, widow of John Juul, 55-year-old wholesale butcher who was killed in the crash.

Clifford Williams was the engineer of the Montreal-Chicago Express which hit the Juul truck at the crossing, scene of several fatal accidents in recent years.

25-Yr. Club Welcomes 6 Members At Dinner

MARMORA, Feb. 20—(ENS)—Six new members were added to the membership roll of the Deloro Quarter Century Club at the third annual dinner on Tuesday.

They are Hector Boudreau, Warden George Chrysler, Thomas William Cousins, Lionel Keith Crawford, Harry Ross Haacke, and James Herbert Wright.

J. Barry O'Brien, vice president of the company was chairman. He was supported by A. V. Yates, general manager of the company. Mr. O'Brien extended the best wishes of the company to the welfare of the club. He then presented the gift of a silver membership pin, a certificate of membership and a cheque for $25 to each new member.

L. K. Crawford, on behalf of the "1948 graduates," presented Mrs. Yates with roses and her husband with a lighter.

Nine Veterans

Mr. Yates commented on the membership roll. He referred to changes on the active list, now standing at 28 members, and the addition of the name of Bartholemew Gaffney to the list of deceased members in 1947, bringing that number to 10, leaving five on the retired list. Two other members, charges Edmund Brown and Arthur Ernest England, are resident in England. He observed that nine on the present active list were veterans of the first world war. George Dennis, 85, of Campbellford, senior member of those on the retired list spoke briefly.

A group of Toronto artists comprised the full program of entertainment. A film depicting the distribution of Christmas parcels at the Shirley plant in England, the gift of Deloro staff, was shown.

Prior to the dinner, all assembled for an hour at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Yates.

If there is no change 11 new members will be welcomed at the 1949 gathering.

JOINT COUNSEL — Fabio Monet, KC, of Montreal, who, it is reported, is to be appointed as joint counsel to the Price Probe Committee.

IF THEY ARE NOT SAVED OUR WORLD IS LOST

What hope is there for those millions of little ones in ruined lands today who are starving, ragged, ignorant — if not dying? And what hope is there for the future of our world if they are not helped?

All the opportunities offered OUR children will mean nothing if those others grow up with sickly bodies and embittered minds — for the future of our children is bound up with theirs. They MUST be helped. When we help them, we help our own. The Canadian Appeal for Children offers all Canadians the opportunity to share in meeting their desperate needs.

VOTE JANUARY 1

St. Catharines people are to continue their municipal voting on New Year's Day.

DOG TAGS HERE

Police said today, for the benefit of all dogs, that the 1948 permits to allow canine existence are now ready at the police station.

DARK CORNER

The window lights at Alparka were off last night. The neighborhood is in spirit with Mr. Ross Dobbin and his appeal to cut down the Peterborough kilowattage.

INQUEST DATE SET

Dr. H. G. Carleton, coroner, advises that an inquest on the fatal highway accident to the late Judson Pue, Lakefield, will be held in the Police Station at 7.30 p.m. on Thursday, Feb. 26.

FREEZING VICTIM "GOOD"

The condition of Robert Nixon, who was severely frozen about a week ago, when he was found lying in a ditch near Young's Point after a full night in the open, is reported by the hospital to be "pretty good." There have been no operations necessary.

RURAL ROADS ICY

Several telephoned into the city this morning that secondary and side roads were too icy for safe motoring. Tires were skidding all over the road and were feeble on hills. Caution suggested turning back. That's what both did. One was Don Milburn who postponed his appointment.

FORMER RESIDENT DIES

Word has been received that Mrs. Arthur J. Gibson, formerly of Peterborough, died in Regina General Hospital after a lengthy illness. She was the former Annie Guthrie, wife of Arthur J. Gibson, former residents of this city. Funeral will be held on Saturday in Regina.

CURLING SUCCESSES

Two honors fell to the Peterborough teams at Kingston in the Annual Kingston Curling Club's All-Ladies' Bonspiel Thursday, when Mrs. T. Doughty's team beat Mrs. L. Landon's team 9 to 7. Another victory over a Kingston team was that of Mrs. Harry Dulmage's who scored 13 to Mrs. Landon's teams two.

VOTE TO BUY

Ottawa property owners voted by 8,068 to 1,907 Monday to buy the entire estate of their street railway company estimated at $6,000,000. This is authority to the city council to proceed with action to acquire the property, including cars and buses, the whole transportation system, and place it under municipal ownership to be administered by a commission of three men. Peterborough was recently asked to extend the franchise of its bus lines company.

ANOTHER MARAUDER

A second blood-minded dog bothering the deer at the Filtration Plant was caught by the staff Thursday. As with his companion, caught a couple of weeks ago, he had been snooping around the outside of the animal compound and frightening the deer. Like the first captor, he is being held at the city kennels and an effort is being made to find his owner. A dog previously attempting to worry the animals was returned to his owner, with proper warning as to the repetition of the performance.

INTEREST IS KEEN

Interest in the case against the four Tracey brothers now charged with assaulting two police officers, is running high at Lindsay this morning. Today the case was again adjourned, this time till March 1. The Traceys asked for an adjournment owing to the absence of defense counsel. The courtroom was filled to overflowing with spectators many of whom journeyed miles to witness the proceedings. Police here claim an Ops township snow plow actually opened roads not cleared before, so people could attend the hearing, today.

OPTIMISTS NEXT MEETING

Local Optimists will hold their next bi-monthly meeting on Feb. 23 at 6:30 p.m. Together with dinner and business routine will be cup presentations. A member of the Examiner will present Ken Pammett with the Fred Craig Memorial Trophy for being the most valuable player on Optimist's last season minor baseball club. A cup for being the best Optimist in last year's Optimists Week is to be presented to Red Creighton. Ken McKee will take home two cups to be distributed to the best two sportsmen in Junior and Senior Public School sport teams.

"Where's My Streetcar?" Anxious Cottager Has Been Waiting For It Since Yesterday

Streetcars have not been on the streets of Peterborough since 1927, but there is one man who is impatiently waiting for the arrival of one today. He is Howard L Johnston, Park Hill Road, who bought a discarded TTC car in Toronto at its recent sale of 100 discarded ones.

The streetcar, which weighs 11 tons, is loaded on a special truck transport—and it should be here now. The darn thing left Toronto yesterday. Closest estimates as to its present whereabouts is "somewhere between Lansing and the city." About 40 feet long and eight feet wide, it is certain that it couldn't get lost for long. Mr. Johnston feels there may be some motor trouble holding the bulky trip up.

He plans on using the car as a summer cottage, and will locate it on a property of his along the Trent Canal, near the Curtis Brick Yards. He also plans to insulate it and may rent it if the housing shortage can be relieved somewhat in that way.

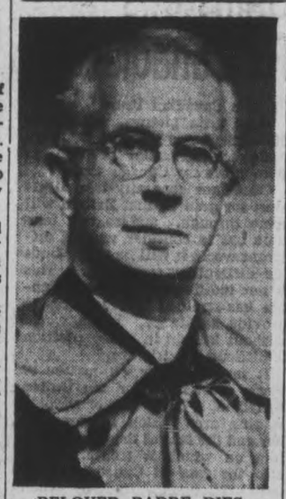
With the housing shortage, there is a strong fear that some apartment-bound or footsore citizen may have hijacked the car enroute to its legal destination.

42 Mill Rate Looms For City In '48

The first, rough shaping of Peterborough's 1948 tax rate looked today like 42 mills as compared with 36½ last year, Ald. Max Swanston, chairman of the finance committee, mentioned to The Examiner today. (Who threw that brick?)

Most of the information had come to him by way of City Auditor Edward Humpage, a cautious commentator on things municipal.

"There is a meeting of the whole council tonight, and it is naturally expected that every member is going to co-operate in getting the rate down to the 40-mill level, if we can't go farther than that," Ald. Swanston said. (2 mills means $66,000).



"That is the wish of Mayor Ovens, as he has expressed it to me, and I feel certain that every alderman is of the same desire to keep the tax rate in reasonable bounds. The taxpayers might as well know that salary increases are a rather bulky item all down the line. I understand that applies to the Board of Education, Police Commission, Utilities Commission and other spending bodies in the city.

"Some weeks ago we made an enquiry into the general wage level in the city, and the council's decision will no doubt take that local scale into consideration."

The council had a job on its hands, the finance chairman said, and would demand considerable study before the rate was determined.

Incidentally, St. Catharines fire department salaries totalled $49,271 in 1939 as against $90,472 last year. The strength of the department in that time had increased from 31 to 41, and in the last two years pension contributions by the city amounted to more than $230,000. A new agreement has been under discussion, providing $89 a year more than in 1947.

The St. Catharines Standard reports that the firemen's union asked for a 48-hour week, pay increases, four additional statutory holidays, etc. Their committee modified their proposal to a 56-hour week instead of the present 68-hour week. Council countered that if this was granted no statutory holidays could be allowed because the arrangement would require 12 extra men in the department.

BELOVED PADRE DIES — Rev. Patrick J. Kelly, LL.D., wartime padre and rector at St. Peter's Cathedral and many district parishes, died in Cobourg on Thursday afternoon. He had been ill for several weeks. Rev. Dr. Kelly was 69.

Deer Dying of Starvation In Crown Game Preserve Eric Whitmore, Apsley, Says

Starvation is taking a terrible toll among the deer in the Peterborough County Crown Game Reserve, about 40 miles north of the city. This report, brought back by numerous observers within the past few months, has been substantiated with detailed and authoritative information from Eric Whitmore, veteran trapper of the area and one-time postmaster of the village of Apsley.

Crews of Hydro workmen, laying new power lines through the reserve, have come upon several bodies of animals which have starved to death. Even a rough estimate of the total casualties is difficult, but some conclusions can be drawn from these discoveries, which have been made only on the direct line of the crew's work. It is probable that undiscovered bodies may number into the hundreds if a complete check were made.

"It has reached a point, where deer will become a thing of the past unless something is done — quickly," said Mr. Whitmore. He said that he had seen these bodies and helped the Hydro men carry several to their camp and dispose of them.

In every section of the reserve which he has inspected, reports Mr. Whitmore, cedar trees have been stripped by the hungry deer as far as they can be reached from the ground. Their method of feeding means almost automatically that the younger and smaller deer will be "cut off" from their food supplies soonest, for they are too short to reach higher on the trees. The larger animals are probably faring better, having the advantage of their height which gives them more feeding "area" on the trees.

He suggested as an expedient measure that sportsmen cut some of the "scrub" cedar in the higher regions so that additional food can be supplied. These trees, he pointed out, are mostly bad timber material, being hollow in many cases.

The tips of the foliage boughs of the cedar are about the only food the deer will eat, he pointed out, emphasizing again the whole area appears to be "eaten off" now. Even some hemlock has been eaten away, an unusual thing for deer, who do not, as a rule, eat them.

The root of the problem, Mr. Whitmore argues, is that, over the 15 years in which this section has been a protected area for deer, they have increased in numbers to the stage where the reserve does not provide enough food for all. He has noted this condition of over-population steadily develop to its present state. Although unable to make an estimate on the number there now, he said, the "place is alive with them," and would run into the "hundreds and hundreds."

One young doe, found in a near-death condition by the Hydro crew, has been "adopted" at the crew's camp, a mile south of Apsley. The camp pet is making itself right at home. Acting like an overgrown dog, the doe gambols around the camp yard, following the men at their heels. She is completely tame now, and is quite loud in demands to be admitted to the buildings, kicking the door and "blats" insistently until admitted. It takes food from the hand quite calmly. All this, after having been in the camp only about one week. Another doe, brought in with this one, died from its weakened condition.

Wolves are descending from the north in large numbers, Mr. Whitmore mentioned. With a license, he has already snared two heavy timber wolves this winter.

Charles Kingan, who returned from a survey of the reserve Thursday, said the situation has been greatly improved by the presence of the Hydro. Clearing the path for the line, the crews hav. cut many trees which bring tons more food within the reach of the deer. He also mentioned that some members of the Peterborough Fish and Game Association are planning to send hay to the reserve.

Game Warden C. S. Windsor, Peterborough, said that he had been told that the deer were having a "good winter" this year, helped by the mentioned cutting operations of the Hydro crews.

Builders Oppose Boost In Carpenter's Hourly Rate

Meeting of local union carpenters (Local 219, United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America), independent carpenters, and employers was adjourned to a future date by Chairman James Hutcheon, industrial standards officer, after failure to agree on hours of work, and minimum rate of wages.

The meeting was held to draw up a new schedule of working conditions for the carpentry trade in Peterborough. Chairman Hutcheon learned that local employers were meeting Wednesday, Feb. 25, with a view to forming a Builders' Exchange. He expressed the opinion that negotiations could best be conducted through two main bodies—the Carpenters' Union and the Builders' Exchange. And he said he would seek to re-open discussions after the Wednesday meeting.

Through its spokesmen—Jack Osbourne, business agent for Local 219, and Andrew Cooper, general representative of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America — the union asked for a 44-hour week. This would be four days of nine hours and one day of eight hours. Employers approved in principle the 44-hour week but wanted the number of days left open with a view to having work done on Saturdays, particularly during the winter months.

The union asked for a minimum rate of $1.25 an hour for carpenters. Majority said they were now paying $1.00 an hour minimum; not all of them committed themselves, however. All balked at a higher minimum wage.

Relative to the cost of materials employers said the cost of labor had risen disproportionately.

Union members said if local builders would pay $1.25 an hour local carpenters would not leave Peterborough to work at higher paying centres.

Deficit Doubles At Hospital In One Month

If was shown by the statement of revenue and expenditure read at the monthly meeting of the Board of Governors of the Peterborough Civic Hospital held in the City Chambers Thursday night, that the deficit for January was $8,317.68. This was almost double the deficit for the previous month.

Net patients' revenue for the Civic Hospital was $22,377.44 and for Queen Mary $995.31, totalling $23,372.75. Allowing for doubtful accounts, amounting to $701.18, and adding the Peterborough County grant, total revenue was $22,942.07.

Expenditures for the Civic Hospital were $29,687.85, and for Queen Mary Hospital $1,571.90, totalling $31,259.75.

Four hundred and fifty-four patients were treated in January with 193 operations performed—57 major and 136 minor.

Deaths under 48 hours were two and 13 deaths over 48 hours. There were three stillbirths during the month.

Laboratory examinations, totalled 1,397 and 313 X-ray examinations, physiotherapy treatments given were 29.

TWO CHIMNEY FIRES

Two chimney fires and one false alarm were the cause of three calls rung into the Fire Department on Thursday. In the early afternoon the first was received from 251 Lake St., residence of Oliver Taylor; the second was received late at night from 64 Aylmer St., residence of L. E. Blackwell. In the afternoon a crowd of about 100 people gathered at Water St. just above Simcoe when firemen were summoned to inspect a chimney that was belching a large volume of black smoke. The alarm proved false.

Beats Electric Chair

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Feb. 20 — (AP). — Lawrence Nathaniel Phillips beat the electric chair again last night—this time for good. Nine times Governor James Folsom had granted stays of execution, once after the 22-year-old Negro had eaten his "last meal". Last night Folsom commuted the sentence to life imprisonment.

Big Dollar Deficit

CANBERRA, Feb. 20 (Reuters) —Prime Minister Chifley yesterday disclosed that Australia's dollar deficit this year may total nearly $150,000,000 in spite of the drastic curbs on dollar imports put into force on January 1. Last year's total deficit was $100,000,000.

Illness, Accident Protection Given Employees

The Quaker Oats Company of Canada Limited announced today that, effective March 1, 1948, all eligible hourly paid employees will receive a substantial part of their regular pay when they are absent from work because of personal illness or accident. The Company will pay all the costs of this new plan.

After the first seven days, or waiting period, in any illness or personal accident, Quaker employees will receive 4 hours of pay at regular rates for each regular work-day of absence. Benefit payments will not exceed 20 hours of pay in any consecutive 7-day period.

The maximum benefits in any consecutive 12 months period will depend upon the length of service of the employee.

For instance, an employee with 6 months to 5 years service can receive 8 weeks illness or accident pay. One with 5 to 10 years service may receive 12 weeks of benefit pay, and for employees with 10 years or more service, payments can cover 16 weeks while the employee is laid up.

The new Quaker Illness and Accident Plan will cover approximately 600 hourly employees at Peterborough and is a major step towards greater security and stabilization of the income of Quaker employees.

War Bride In City Learns That Mother Received Canadian Food From Princess

Re-assurance that gift food sent to Princess Elizabeth on the occasion of her recent wedding was not wasted, comes from England.

The Princess distributed this food to the most deserving—particularly widows. One of these fortunate women was Mrs. D. M. Greemough, Littlehampton, Sussex, who is the mother of English war-bride, Mrs. Wilford Lackey, now living at her husband's family residence, 461 Chamberlain St.

Accompanying the gift-package was a letter from the Princess that read: "Many kind friends overseas sent me gifts of food at the time of my wedding. I want to distribute it as best I can, and to share my good fortune with others. I therefore ask you to accept this parcel with my best best wishes. (Signed) Elizabeth."

Mr. Lackey was in the Hastings Prince Edward Regiment, and was a prisoner-of-war for some time in the hands of the Germans. His pretty, blonde, war-bride came to Peterborough to make her home in November.

The letter was received from her mother recently who felt that Canadians would like to know that their parcels were appreciated.

Garbage Costs Show $7,000 Gain

Estimates for the collection and disposal of garbage this year amount, at present, to $69,825.

The appropriation last year was $62,150, and expenditure $73,406.88. Wages in this department were estimated at $36,000 last year; payments totalled $47,611.20; and the wage item for 1948 is $47,000, part off the total of $69,825.

Work listed by City Engineer Chalmers for this season includes the following new roads: Brookdale Sub-division, $6,400; Arndon Sub-division, $2,500; Caddy St., $1,100; Park Street at Sherbrooke Street, $1,500; and Park Street at Rink Street, $6,500; total $18,000.

New drains in various sections of the city, $3,000; covering the drain on the Outboard Marine lot at Romaine Street and Monaghan Road, $6,000 entrance to culverts $100; road mixes for street improvements, $3,000; two bridges, Caddy and Downie Streets, $1,500 each.

Also the proposed water tanks for fire protection in the Downer's Corners area, $7,500. Total of the job is $37,600.

"Rubbish" Mr. Clegg Says Of Accusation Utilities Office Has Reduced Its Lighting

"Rubbish" was the calm comment of Howard Clegg, the Utilities Commission accountant, on the report that seemed, in the circumstances, like an accusation that the Commission offices on Simcoe Street were ablaze with hydro lighting yesterday while the Commission and Ross Dobbin were begging the community to cut down on its power use.

And it wasn't an indignant "rubbish." Mr. Clegg is of the mild manner that seemingly does not descend to the levels of indignation.

"The simple fact is that in our office we have cut down our lighting by 90 per cent," Mr. Clegg said. "We are getting along on 10 per cent of our usual lighting." The implication seemed to be that a lot of other people could trim their electric power consumption without inconvenience.

Quebec Visitor Lauds Student Exchange

Claims System Tends To Eliminate Misunderstanding

"We are pleased to have your boys and girls in Quebec. In both provinces Canadians are doing their share for a better understanding." The speaker was Miss Germaine Garon, administrative secretary, Visites Interprovinciales, who visited the city today. This is a private bureau without official, commercial, or political affiliations, organized to develop better relations between English-speaking and French-speaking peoples.

As a means of helping understanding since its inception in 1936 the "V.I." has arranged for students to interchange and live in one another's home. In an interview with the Examiner, Miss Garon said: "In visiting schools, I notice that Ontario boys and girls are more and more interested in French. Several are already planning to spend their holidays in Quebec. Our people are always pleased to have them."

Visites Interprovinciales puts the families in touch with each other, and supplies sufficient confidential information to ensure that conditions will be satisfactory to both visitor and host. The families acquaint themselves directly after the original introduction, and make arrangements on such matters as expenses, length of visit, and other details.

Miss Garon said that in every centre, the participants are formed into a club and wear a special pin to signify their membership. There are reportedly 10 such members in Peterborough.

Enlarging on the interest of Ontario secondary school students, she said: "The senior group of students in High School understand nearly everything I tell them in French. In one of your high schools, one class sang a French song when I visited them; and I enjoyed it very much."

In Saltfleet High School, she pointed out, the Student Council has voted $100 annually for two scholarships to be used by the winners in Quebec. Arrangements will be made by "V.I."

She complimented Peterborough on the friendly welcome it had given to two French-Canadian professional women who arrived not long ago. They were met by an eminent local citizen and his daughter at the train, she said, and given royal hospitality.

It is by such deeds as this, repeated countless times that a better understanding and more tolerant outlook will be developed between two great language groups of Canada, Miss Garon believes.

Stormy Session Heard Over Indian Appointments

OTTAWA, Feb. 20—(CP). — A Liberal and a Progressive Conservative yesterday criticized Indian Branch appointments at a stormy opening session of the joint Senate-Commons Committee on Indian Affairs. Douglas Harkness (PC—Calgary East) resumed an attack on "political" appointments he had launched in the Commons last week, while Thomas Reid (L—New Westminster) had sharp criticism of the way Indian offices were filled in his home province of British Columbia.

Both members called for investigations, and Mr. Harkness gave formal notice of a resolution to summon high officials of the Resources Department and the Civil Service Commission before the committee to explain how its recommendations on appointments were being carried out.

If they were not being carried out, he wanted to know why they were being "frustrated and thwarted."

Charged Interference

Last week Mr. Harkness had charged "political interference and finagling" in Indian branch appointments, and yesterday he wanted to know why the government had not carried out such committee recommendations as a 1946 one calling for immediate steps to fill key jobs and a 1947 one declaring administrative officers should be chosen from men with field experience.

The Calgary member resumed, too, his attack on the resources department for its attempt to instal W. J. F. Pratt, private secretary to Resources Minister Glen, as chief executive assistant in the Indian Affairs branch.

"It was "incredible" he said, that Mr. Glen in the Commons Wednesday should have critized the civil service commission for blocking the Pratt appointment. Mr. Harkness had launched a broadside against this proposed appointment in the Commons last Friday.

British Finances Grim News For Canadians

By The Canadian Press

The grim picture which Sir Stafford Cripps gives of Britain's trade and financial position, is grim news for Canada too.

Canadians generally take it almost for granted that Britain will come through, and seldom take time but to consider what a different world it will be if she finds the difficulties too much. This is not indifference, because Canada has strained her resources to provide assistance, but a world without Britain in a key position is difficult to visualize.

It is not simply a matter of more austerity for the United Kingdom, it is the fate of a world trading area which is based on her and the fate of the pound sterling on which it trades. It is also the fate of Canada's traditional "triangular" trade by which she sells overseas and buys from the United States.

Canada builds for the future in terms of wider world trade and a better balance with the United States, but still on the assumption of a restored Britain.

Sir Stafford says the financial drain must "be closed by our own efforts, supported by the Marshall plan."

Considering the dark figure he gives, it is encouraging that he holds out hope of their being closed at all; for otherwise they add up to a new crisis.

Reserve Cut Down

Should he drain on monetary reserves continue at the 1947 rate —as Sir Stafford said it did in January—the reserve would last no longer than six months. In three months it would drop to where the stability of sterling as a currency would be endangered.

It is trying for Britons that despite all they have done, and despite better production news, such a large gap remain to be bridged. If one could know what is going on in thousands of plants and places of business, what planning is being done and carried out, how successfully the way is being paved for larger markets, no one would have a better idea of the economic course of the next few years.

Perhaps enough help can come to hold the structure up until Britain really gets on her feet, but on the basis of Sir Stafford's figures there is real peril.

Improve US Dollar

OTTAWA, Feb. 20 — (CP). — Canada improved her dollar position with the United States by selling her $104,999,000 worth of goods in January compared with $79,453,800 in January last year, the Bureau of Statistics reported to-day. Exports to all countries for the month totalled $235,400,000—$30,888,08 less than the December total, but $26,808,080 more than the January, 1947, figure.

High Illegitimacy

LONDON, Feb. 20 — (AP). — Nearly one in every 10 children born in England and Wales in 1945 was illegitimate, government figures disclosed yesterday. A total of 63,420 out-of-wedlock births was recorded for the year. The figures are the highest both in number and percentage ever recorded in England and Wales.

"It distinctly says, to be taken three times a day in water."

WALLACE-BACKED CANDIDATE — An anticipatory victory pose made earlier this week at a political rally of Henry A. Wallace, avowed third party candidate for the U.S. presidency and Leo Isacson, right, U.S. Labor party candidate backed by Wallace. In a special election in New York City's 24th Congressional district, Isacson completely ran away from his field.

Miners Urge Rehabilitation Of Maritimes Coal Industry

OTTAWA, Feb. 20—(CP).—Recommendations for rehabilitation of the Maritime coal industry and rectification of social ills in coal towns were submitted to the Dominion Coal Board here today by District 26, United Mine Workers (CCL). The 27-page memorandum, presented by Union President Freeman Jenkins and Research Director C. B. Wade, included these requests:

1. Prepare an analysis of probable future trends in job opportunities in Nova Scotia coal towns.
2. Initiate an investigation into possibilities of expansion of the steel industry.
3. Conduct a survey of social conditions in coal towns.
4. Prepare a plan, in co-operation with Federal, provincial and municipal governments, for financial aid for reconstruction of coal towns.
5. Initiate a survey of industrial health conditions.

The submission said that although Maritime collieries, with the exception of the New Brunswick pits, had been working full time since 1940, an "extremely grave" unemployment problem existed and was growing worse.

Among the "general sub-normal social conditions" in the coal towns," there stands out the fact that as soon as the children become of working age at least half of them must leave the province to earn a living."

"A national coal policy requires as its basis the utmost possible increase in machine-based productivity. The full success of (this) will depend in large part on the success with which your board—and all other government or private bodies involved—solve the problem of unemployment in the coal towns."

The brief said a planned, government-assisted attack must be made to blot out "once and for all the disgrace known as the 'coal-town,' and toward this end recommended a survey of social conditions and on the basis of the survey that a financial plan be prepared for reconstruction of the coal communities."

Urges Higher Interest Rates To Discourage Expansion Trend

OTTAWA, Feb. 20—(CP)—J. M. Macdonnell (PC—Muskoka-Ontario) urged the government in the Commons yesterday to allow interest rates on money to rise and thus discourage expansion that would inevitably lead to a depression.

"If we go on allowing the psychology of boom to continue undisturbed, uncontrolled, and uncorrected, we will get a bust," said Mr. Macdonnell, chief financial critic for the Progressive Conservative party, during continued debate on the throne speech.

"We have got into the deadly spiral," he said. "There are four well-recognized stages in the deadly spiral. First of all prices go up and labor naturally asks for increased wages. Profits being good and demand being good, employers are inclined not to demur to such a request, and increases will be given to labor.

Deadly Spiral

"As 85 per cent of costs consist of wages or services paid to other people who are self-employed, then prices go up. There is another turn in the spiral. But owing to the abundant means of payment, and the fact that times are still soaring these goods can be sold and so you have the deadly spiral which we are in the midst of now."

In boom-time the rate of interest should be allowed to rise gradually and naturally. This would discourage unwise borrowing for expansion purposes.

Mr. Macdonnell said the government had wrongly diagnosed the situation in 1945. The government had expected a recession. The error was understandable, but he wished to blame the government for going on for three years refusing to recognize there was a boom instead of a depression.

"Easy Money"

Artificial means were being used to keep interest rates down and the supply of money up. The low interest rates provided "easy money" and encouraged people to borrow wisely or unwisely.

The tried and tested procedure in boom times was to allow interest rates to rise. The government was refusing to allow the rates to rise. By this refusal it was contribution to a depression.

The government by its credit policies should not be making it easy for business to expand.

Mr. Macdonnell said it was true higher interest rates caused some distress for certain people. But their distress would be much greater in a depression.

He said the peril of inflation was something that could not be disregarded. He called on the government to return to "realistic" policies of finance.

INDUSTRIAL OILS

Justice Department Drafts Criminal Code Amendment

OTTAWA, Feb. 20 — (CP). — The Justice Department has drafted an amendment to the criminal code, arising from the New Liberty libel case in Alberta, it was learned today.

It is expected the amendment will be placed before parliament as one of a number of recommended amendments, but when and in what form is a matter for the cabinet. An official said the government will probably do nothing to prejudice the case now pending.

The department considered the amendment after Jack Kent Cooke, publisher, and Harold Dingman, Ottawa correspondent of New Liberty magazine, were forced to go to Alberta to stand trial on charges of conspiring to publish welfare conditions there.

The Alberta Government could not have them tried in that province on a straight charge of libel but instead charged conspiracy. The Justice Department amendment would prevent such happenings by adhering to the principle that such accused persons should be tried in the province where the allegel libel was published, in this case Ontario.

Believe Prices Levelling Off On U.S. Front

CHICAGO, Feb. 20.—(AP). — The possibility that some prices may be levelling off temporarily after falling far below the January peaks was suggested today by developments on the American economic front.

Commodity markets appear to be resisting any tendencies toward further sharp declines. A mood of caution seemingly has developed following the violent plunges that carried them downward in the early days of the break, which began Feb. 4.

Customer resistance despite lower food prices is curbing business in many retail stores.

The average upturn in the commodity markets has been slight. Most of the commodities have tossed around nervously. But the price sifts have been narrow.

Clifford S. Young, president of the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago, said last night "we cannot assume" the recent commodity price break has turned the tide of inflation. There still is strong danger of "severe setbacks for business and employment," he added.

Highly significant in the price picture was an increase of about $5 a ton for steel billets, blooms and slabs — semi-finished steel products.

CCF Weathers Welfare Debate

By The Canadian Press

Saskatchewan's C.C.F. government yesterday weathered a stormy debate on its welfare policies and was upheld 42-to-7 by the legislature.

Prior to the recorded vote on a non-confidence amendment, Liberal speakers assailed the government's handling of old-age pension matters. W. J. Patterson, leader of the Liberal opposition, said the government's announcement last September that it would discontinue payment of $5-a-month supplementary allowances was against the expressed wishes of the legislature.

Premier T. C. Douglas asserted that criticism of government policy came with poor grace from men who were "as stingy and mean in handling old-age pensions as any government that ever sat on the treasury benches."

The fifth session of the 10th Alberta legislature opened with traditional ceremonies. The Throne Speech said the government plans substantially-increased expenditures for agricultural development and said legislation will provide for prepaid hospital and medical care.

Sun Shining On a Wire May Produce Electricity

NEW YORK, Feb. 20 — (AP). — New kinds of wire that change heat into electric current were proposed Thursday as possible power plants of tomorrow. The report was made to the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers by B. D. Cullity of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. He is in France and his report was read to the meeting.

In this futuristic scheme, wires hung out in the sunshine would deliver electric current.

Equally well, such wires hung in a furnace, or even in front of a hot stove, would deliver electric power.

They might be one answer to changing atomic energy in electricity. Getting the heat of an atomic oven, or pile, to the place where it will make steam and electricity is handicapped by the fact that dangerous radioactive atoms also get out with the heat.

Not in Current

But these risky atoms do not travel in an electric current. They do not travel through the wires that would carry electric current. If such wire inside a pile delivered power, it would come out safe for immediate use.

Cullity did not discuss atomic power, but made favorable comparisons with steam power.

He uses the principle of the thermoccuple, the loop of two different kinds of wire, that can measure the heat of a star by changing the warmth into electricity. If one end of such a loop is warmed and the other is cool, electricity flows from the point that is warmed.

Cullity has a new wire, an alloy of the metals bismuth and selenium. He uses this for half his loop. The other half is an alloy of zinc and antimony.

The efficiency of this loop in changing heat into power, he says, is better than that of a small steam engine. It is only one-quarter as good as the efficiency of a modern steam plant. But it is many times better than the small motors that now run on the electricity they get from a ray of light.

Cullity has built no engines, but only laboratory tests seeking alloys that will change more heat into electric current. He says that adding a little of the metal tellurium to the new wire increases power efficiency slightly.

Hats Influence Births

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Feb. 20 —(AP).—Women's hats influence the birth rate, a New York stylist said here yesterday. "Yes, sir," said G. Howard Hodge, "the birth rate falls when hats are crazy and unbecoming. I've got statistics to prove it. "Take a young man about to be married. He's in a solemn frame of mind. If his girl wears a cockeyed hat, he says to himself, 'Whew; she's to be the mother of my children. I'd better think this over.'"

Guiding Radio Waves Shown At Meeting

Radio waves little more than an inch long, which made our wartime radar possible, are today revoluitionizing methods used in radio and telephone transmission, H. A. Blachford, customer relations representative of The Bell Telephone Company of Canada, told the Peterborough branch of the Engineering Institute of Canada Thursday night.

With the aid of a complete transmitting and receiving apparatus set up near the banquet table, Mr. Blachford showed the audience some of the remarkable properties of these "microwaves," which are approximately 1/12000th the length of waves used on normal radio stations.

Holding an aluminum plate in the path of the waves, Mr. Blachford showed how music that was being transmitted was stopped, while a plywood board had no effect on the passage of the radio waves.

This property of the waves is important both in radar and in communications, Mr. Blachford said, because the waves can be "channelled" and sent from point to point in one specific direction. The waves can also be twisted and focused like light waves.

A further characteristic of the microwaves demonstrated is that they are "polarized." If the receiver is turned on its side, it will not pick up the waves, and the music ceases. If a metal prism is held in the beam, however, the waves can be turned on their sides in mid-air, causing the music to become audible once more.

In telephony, these microwaves are used for transmitting many conversations simultaneously from point to point, without the aid of wires.

The transmitters and receivers are placed on hilltops and towers, as the range of microwaves will travel only as far as the visible horizon.

CSU Concludes Second Pact

TORONTO, Feb. 19 — (CP).—Harry Davis, president, reported to the executive of the Canadian Seamen's Union to-day a working agreement had been reached with a second company on the Great Lakes, the Algoma Central Steamship Lines.

Mr. Davis said the main points of the 1948 contract were: 48-hour week in port, a reduction from 56 hours; $20 a month pay increase with $35 for a second cook; union security; 10-cents-an-hour increase in overtime rates; 16 days' holidays with pay for the season; spring-filled mattresses for the crews.

Addressing the union officers, meeting prior to the opening of the seventh national convention here February 23, Mr. Davis said negotiations were being continued with two other companies.

He reported application for conciliation has been made for all other lake companies, with the exception of Canada Steamship Lines and the Sarnia and Colonial Steamships Limited. A conciliation board has been established for the latter two companies.

Strange Ball Of Fire Excites Six States Brilliant Explosion May Be Big Meteor

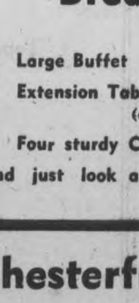
KANSAS CITY, Feb. 20. — (AP).—Observers today sought an explanation of a strange "ball of fire," possibly a disintegrating meteor, seen in six States.

The brilliant explosion, thousands of feet in the air, was observed in Kansas, Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Nebraska and Colorado yesterday.

Oscar Monnig, secretary of the National Meteorological Society, said at Fort Worth, Tex., that he felt sure the fire ball was a meteor disintegrating.

Officials of the Chamberlain observatory at the University of Denver, however, could offer no explanation. Director A. W. Recht said there was "no meteor shower and no other known phenomena in the sky to explain it."

After the flash civil aeronautic and police officials received reports of flaming plane crashes from widely scattered points. All reports proved groundless.



Clock, Mouse Trap Take Care Of Lights

STRATFORD, Feb. 20. (CP)—An alarm clock and a mouse trap are the essential parts of "Rube Goldberg" device used by a local store manager to conserve electric power during the present shortage. Reginald Carter wants to light his store window in the evening but he feels it would be a waste of power to leave lights burning all night. That's where the lock and the mouse-catcher come in.

A fixture in the store window contains a small fluorescent light bulb run by batteries. A string runs from the light to a mouse trap and from there to an alarm clock.

At 10:30 p.m. the alarm rings. As the winder turns, the string trips the mouse trap, pulling the string attached to the light switch.

Officers' Slate Completed Decisions Made

Several points of business were settled Thursday at Local Council of Women regular meeting in the YWCA. Mrs. W. H. Morton was in the chair owing to absence of the president, Mrs. W. Addyman. Mrs. B. W. McClennan, recently-elected corresponding secretary, took over her new position.

Date was set for the annual spring tea in the YWCA, on Saturday, March 13. It was decided that an invitation be issued for the semi-annual Provincial Council meeting to be held in Peterborough during the last week in May. Members were in favor of giving moral support to the new civic arena, but felt that each affiliated organization should make its own decision on financial support to be given.

A letter from Miss R. Young of the Children's Aid Society, stressing the need for a reference list of foster homes, was read. Miss Young asked permission to put the matter before the next Council meeting.

Mrs. J. Biggs, convener, reported on the work of the TB Christmas seal campaign. Of 8,850 envelopes mailed there were 4,310 payments were received, 1,623 were returned and 4,540 did not respond at all. Net receipts for the past season were $4,292.01, making a bank balance of $7,-516.18. Feeling that a great deal of work had been expended on laying the foundation for this yearly campaign, it was decided Local Council would discontinue the responsibility.

Three nomniations were made to the list of vice presidents at a recent executive meeting, and a election was held to decide in what order they would stand. Resulting status is: 1st vice president, Mrs. A. A. McIlnyre; 2nd vice president, Mrs. R. G. Cottrell; 3rd vice president, Mrs. J. Hunter; 4th vice president, Mrs. C. Olaveson; 5th vice president, Mrs. B. W. McNeely. Scrutineers were Mrs. W. Flowers, Mrs. H. Eastwood and Mrs. F. M. Somerville.

roll call was answered by 22 members. Miss M. Renwick read minutes and Miss J. Gillespie gave the financial report.

Mrs. Roy Taylor thanked members for assistance with the recent successful Purple and Gold ball. Miss A. Thomson, director of nursing, reported on the record cabinet to be donated by the Alumnae for the student nurses' residence.

Plans were discussed for the annual banquet being held at Club Kawartha on April 15. All graduate nurses of the district are invited and the graduating class of 1948 are guests. Miss Shirley Beer was appointed general convener of the dinner.

A vote of thanks to the hostess was moved by Mrs. A. Watson and the meeting adjourned, after which a dainty lunch was served by Mrs. Walker.

Re-elect Officers Plan Constitution

Reports of Life Members Club treasurer, Mrs. J. Low and recording secretary, Miss M. Ferguson given at the annual meeting Thursday evening showed a successful year. Mrs. F. Merrett, president, conducted the business meeting following dinner in Hooper's Palm Room. She said "Our motto, 'Unity and equality', has been exemplified in our relations as a social club." Previously a beautiful corsage had been presented to Mrs. Merrett for which she expressed much pleasure in wearing, and added thanks to the various committees who have helped and supported her in every way.

The matter of electing new officers was put before the members who unanimously returned those of the past year to office. Honorary memberships were given Mrs. E. Wand and Mrs. W. H. Morton.

Mrs. C. M. Scott was named chairman of a committee to draw up a constitution, with Mrs. H. Tremaine and Mrs H. T. Rehill to assist.

Mrs. K. Simpson invited members to hold their annual picnic at her home, R.R. 4, River Rd., and the date was set as September 15.

Correspondence included letters of regret from Senator Iva Fallis and Mrs. G. K. Fraser who were unable to attend and a card of greeting from Mrs. J. Larmer who has left the city. Cards were autographed to be sent to shut-in members.

With a total of 55 articles in her purse, Mrs. F. M. Somerville was winner of one contest, and Mrs. H. Tremain received a prize for having only three items in her bag. Each member at the party was wearing a picture to symbolize a popular song, and the winner of this quiz was Mrs. W. T. Fanjoy. For guessing the fewest titles, Mrs. E. Wand received a booby prize. A raffle on a potted hyacinth was won by Miss M. Ferguson.

Entertainment included the film "Jasper Park" shown by Mrs. W. F. Fanjoy. Mrs. F. M. Somerville was pianist.

Convener of decorations and arrangements was Mrs. J. Low, assisted by Mrs. W. H. Saunders. Mrs. T. T. Rehill conducted the contests and draw.

Let Golden Rule Set Gifts To Europe, Speaker Urges

"We may be living on the battlefield of the next war, and when it is over we will be in the same state, or worse, as the people of Europe are in now. Give to them generously, in a helping spirit, not as charity, with the thought that you may be looking to them for food and clothing some day. Let their nightmare haunt you." This was startling revelation from Mrs. R. T. Tanner, field secretary of The Save the Children Fund. Mrs. Tanner was addressing the regular meeting of Local Council of Women Thursday afternoon ni the YWCA. She said that her own organization was holding back during February in favor of the Appeal, but would accept donations of clothing at 111 Maitland St., Toronto. Funds for the latter go to a local bank or to 36 Toronto St., Toronto.

Mrs. Tanner has recently been in France, Germany and Austria and saw the people dying of hunger and exposure. "There are four hundred million children in dire need," she said. "Babies are brought to the hospitals wrapped in newspaper. Nowhere are there enough diapers for them and matrons have to limit the number of changes. There are no medicants to soothe their chafed skin or treat their diseases. Other children wear rags wrapped around their feet, and have no underwear." Though she saw garbage pails being scraped for food, and there was no sanitation, no running water and a desperate need for soap, Mrs. Tanner said the people were clean as was their meagre bedding or coverlets too. "Everyone in Europe wears a strained, agonized look, even the children."

"Shipments do reach the people they are intended for, and not one has fallen to the black market. It is the parcels that keep the people alive, and they all know what comes from Canada and are grateful."

"Shoes are like gold to those people," said Mrs. Tanner, urging that wearable footwear be sent to them. "Children of Europe are never without hunger pains," she continued. "They are bitterly cold and there is no food and no clothing for them. I have seen them fight over who would hold a cat to get the warmth from its body. They have no standards and commit crimes daily, always in an effort to get something to eat."

Mrs. Tanner had also visited in Britain and she described conditions there as "grim" but not in any way comparable to the other world across the channel. "Essentials to us are luxuries in Britain, but unknown on the continent." Due to the rationing system the British have ample, wholesome food and their children look healthy and beautiful, in absolute contrast to the starved and pitiful faces of even the babies in Europe.

"Destruction along the French coast and at such places as the Somme are indescribable," Mrs. Tanner said. "There is no machinery to remove the rubble, and the men who are now returning from slave labor are too weak and sick to move it by hand." The speaker went on to tell how these districts have to be gone over yard by yard to de-mine them, and there are sand pits, now roped off, where the mines may never be removed.

"Hungry Minds," a film prepared in Europe by UNESCO, contained pictures to bear out every statement made by Mrs. Tanner. The projector was operated by Mrs. W. T. Fanjoy.

Introduction of the speaker was made by Mrs. K. Simpson, who mentioned her as a writer of many plays, a member of National Council of Women, chairman of a United Nations committee, and other positions. A vote of thanks from the members was put forth by Mrs. G. Rutherford and confirmed by Mrs. W. H. Morton, chairman.

Mrs. W. J. Waite Heads CAC

LINDSAY, Feb. 20—(ENS)—A branch of the Canadian Association of Consumers was organized here at a meeting of housewives Thursday night. Mrs. W. J. Waite was appointed chairman of the Lindsay branch.

Mrs. Charles McLean, leader of Ward 9, Toronto, Canadian Association of Consumers, was guest speaker and told how the association came into being six months ago.

She said the association sprang from the consumers branch of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, organized during the war.

"Contrary to popular belief," Mrs. McLean said, "the association is not a government organization, but is supported by voluntary subscription." We are hoping for a membership of 250,000 Canadian women. "Only with such a strength can we make our voices heard and our requests granted."

She point out that "women are really the consuming public, and surveys show 85 cents of every dollar is spent by women."

Mrs. McLean outlined the chief aims of the association. The first is to unite consumers and improve living standards in Canadian homes. Others are to study consumer problems and make recommendations, to circulate information to consumers and to bring the views of consumers to the attention of the government, trade and industry "when consumers start inquiring about living costs, then the government will have to find some answers," she concluded.

37th Birthday Observed At Class Banquet

A splendid evening was spent Thursday when 50 members of Cheerful Workers' Bible Class of St. James' United church gathered for their 37th birthday banquet. A chicken dinner was served and tables were decorated with pink roses and candles.

Afterwards Mrs. Wm. Atkinson, president, expressed appreciation of the loyalty of members, Rev. F. W. Craik, in a brief message, encouraged the spirit of social life and the necessity of fellowship groups within the church. "Let us make our religious life an experience to be desired as we work for the welfare of all," he said.

Mr. Roy Heard, recently appointed Sunday school superintendent, brought greetings from the staff of the Sunday school.

Mr. A. E. Prest, speaking after long experience of Sunday school work in St. James' church, encouraged the group by his message which dealt with the privileges and obligations of Sunday school teachers. He said that while this work is difficult the labor eventually brings forth excellent results in development of lives for leadership in the church school.

Mrs. C. Olaneson conducted a series of contests. Mrs. A. E. Prest led in community singing, with Mrs. Atkinson at the piano. A humorous reading was given by Mrs. H. McMahon.

A duet was contributed by Rev. F. W. Craik and Mr. A. E. Prest.

Mrs. W. Rowland read an appreciative address in honor of Mrs. R. B. English who has been the efficient teacher of the Cheerful Workers Class for 20 years. Mrs. E. Copping presented a gift on behalf of the class.

Miss M. Bowers has now been appointed teacher of the class.

The officers appointed are: President, Mrs. W. Atkinson; vice-president, Mrs. M. Drysdale; secretary, Mrs. C. H. Porter; treasurer, Mrs. W. McConkey; teacher, Miss M. Bowers.

Book-making History Told At Life Members Dinner

Life members of the Local Council of Women preceded their annual meeting, Thursday evening, with a turkey dinner served in Hooper's palm room. Hearts and flowers were the theme for table decorations with cupids, arrows and red candles to make it all more gay.

A story of adventure and mystery, worthy of knowledge and interest, was concerning making books, and their beginning, presented by Rev. Ivan C. Morgan, speaker of the evening. "When next you buy a good book, remember that you purchase, for a few paltry dollars, a treasure which is the result of thousands of years of struggle, toil, ingenuity and sacrifice," he said.

Integral necessities for every book are printing, paper on which to print, and an alphabet. The recording of thought and feeling in visible and lasting form has grown to such proportions that recent reviews list as many as 85 and 176 new Canadian books covering all aspects of literature, he said.

Going behind the scenes, Mr. Morgan explained that it was not until the second half of the 15th century that books were printed. Previously they were written laboriously by hand, and thousands of such books can now be seen in museums and librarys, some beautifully illustrated and wonderfully decorated with scroll work. Printing had been done in China and other Oriental lands centuries before it came to Europe, but the development of the art by Johann Gutenberg of Strasbourg and Mainz came sometime after 1450. "Who actually invented printing is a mystery," the speaker said.

Paper, as a suitable material on which the printer can impress his type, has a long history. The first paper-making machine was made in Europe in 1798 and use of the machine process lates back to 1604 in England and 1820 in U.S.A. Previously it had been handmade in Spain or Bordeaux and was very expensive. "The Spaniards learned to make paper from their contact with the Oriental world, and tracing back, it is found that the art of making paper was known in China in the second century, B.C., but we do not know who taught the Chinese.

"Paper was not the only material on which books were written," continued Mr. Morgan. "In India and Burma palm leaf strips were used and the characters made with a sharply pointed implement. The inscribed strips were then bound together on cords and the finished product looked just like a Venetian blind. To close the book one merely pulled a cord." Other materials he mentioned were even stranger, such as tablets of wood or ivory covered with a layer of wax, and the writing done with a "stylus," and two or three of these hinged together to make a book. Silk was also used as a writing material, but the greatest forerunner of paper was parchment made of carefully treated skins of sheep or calves. "Even today fine parchment is used for special documents, such as the marriage certificate of Princess Elizabeth and Prince Phillip," he stated.

"Probably the best known and most widely used material was the Egyptian papyrus, which has remained intact for thousands of years to tell the story of the Nile, the pyramid and the sphinx." The plant had many uses at that time, but writing material was manufactured from the stalks and formed a roll on which to inscribe the text of a book somewhat like plywood today. Earliest writing was expressed in symbols on pottery, baked clay blocks or stone boulders and cave walls, he explained.

"Secret of the origin of the alphabet is dim, but even before it came into use there were ideagrams, and before that they drew crude pictures on smooth walls of caves which we might call picto-graphs."

Truly, "of the making of many books there is no end," and around their beginning there are many stories it would seem."

Mrs. F. Merrett, president and chairman, called up Mrs. F. M Somervile to introduce Rev. Mr. Morgan. He was thanked for sharing his time and talent by Mrs. J. Low.

Turning Cheap Cut of Meat Into Dish of Rare Delight

BY KAY REX
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, Feb. 20 (CP).—Anyone looking for a lecture on economy should mention "meat" to a money-conscious housewife. In the last few weeks she has learned, the hard way, that where prices are concerned it pays to be canny.

She has discovered that with a little extra effort she can turn a cheap cut of meat into a dish of rare delight.

In other words she now understands that when properly cooked the cheaper cuts of meat and fish are just as nutritious, and delicious, as the more expensive ones.

Hamburg Potatoes--ingredients: 10 potatoes; milk; flour; seasoning; five medium onions; three-quarters pound hamburg steak.

Method: pare potatoes; slice and place in layers as for scalloped potatoes; slice or chopped onions; spread hamburg over top of potatoes, then add sliced onions; add just enough milk to come to the level of the potatoes, but do not cover the meat. Bake in a moderate oven until potatoes are thoroughly cooked, and hamburg lightly browned on top.

Beef Loaf--ingredients: one pound ground beef (hamburg); one large onion chopped; grated rind and juice of one-half lemon; three cups bread crumbs; one egg; one teaspoon salt; one-half cup milk.

Put all ingredients together in bowl and mix well. (Two tablespoons tomato may be used it lemon is not available). Put in well-greased baking dish, and bake 45 minutes.

Liver With Vegetables—ingredients: 1½ pounds beef or pork liver; two tablespoons fat; one teaspoon salt; one cup celery, or two teaspoons dried celery leaves; two small onions; six carrots; one-half cup tomatoes; one-quarter cup vegetable water; two tablespoons flour.

Prepare celery, cut in pieces and put in bottom of greased baking-dish, sprinkle with salt. Cut liver in pieces for serving place on top of celery and dot with fat. Chop onion and dice carrots. Put these with the tomato and vegetable water. Add to liver. Bake in moderate oven 45 minutes, keeping dish covered during first half-hour of cooking. Thicken with flour, and serve hot.

Fish Hash--ingredients: one-half pound salted fish (finnan haddie, etc.); one onion chopped; flour cups potato cubes; one egg, well beaten; one tablespoon fat; one-eighth teaspoon pepper; salt to taste.

Soak fish in cold water over night. Cook fish, onion and potatoes together in just enough water to cover until potatoes are tender. Drain thoroughly, and mash until free from lumps; add shortening, seasoning and egg. Beat mixture with fork until well combined.

DOROTHY DIX . . . .

UNHAPPY DIVORCE
Girl Regrets Hasty Decision In Breaking With Mate

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: I have been divorced for a little more than a year and a half, after being married for only a short time. At the time I got married I was sort of at loose ends and didn't know what to do, so I went ahead and got married. Then I decided that I would rather be free. Now I have come to the conclusion that I made a mistake; life seems empty without him.

Dorothy Dix

I see him now and then on the street, but we never have spoken to one another only exchanged smiles. I often have wanted to speak, but haven't had nerve to do it. And I think he would like to say something to me too, but he also hesitates.

Please advise me as to what I should do. I realize now that I did not give him a fair chance and I believe I could make up for it.

A DIVORCEE

ANSWER Experimenting with marriage is one of the cruelest and most dangerous games that any woman can play, but thousands of them do it. They are women who are purposeless in life, who are restless and dissatisfied, and so they get married with the underlying thought that if they don't like it they will quit it. They will get a divorce.

Then when they find out that they are just as bored with being a grass-widow as they were when they were wives, they begin to idealize the husband they discarded and want to get him back. They think they are in love and, at any rate, a husband is a handy thing to have around the house— especially when the bills are coming in.

Ex-Husband Probably Cares

Inasmuch as your husband has not remarried after his short and bitter experience with matrimony, it would seem to indicate that he really cared for you and is willing to give you a second trial. As you were the aggressor in the first instance, you should hold out the flag of surrender to him. I think the best way would be for you to write him a letter telling him frankly how you feel about him and about you would like to kiss and make-up.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am 23, Have been married six years and have two little girls. Have just found out that my husband has been going with a girl for about a year and that they have a baby girl who is younger than than my 10-month-old baby. This has nearly broken my heart, but he say he loves me and when he is with me he doesn't want anybody else. But he also feels the same way about this other girl.

He says he doesn't want a divorce and if we part maybe he will marry her and maybe he won't and that if he does he may be sorry he ever left the children and me, and that he would never be able to forget us. But, on the other hand, he doesn't know if he can break with the other girl and forget her.

If we part, I will have to put my children in a home and I can't bear to think of doing that. Also, I have made a very attractive home and I would have to sell my furniture and go to work. I am at my wits' end trying to figure the right way out. What should I do?

B. M. E.

ANSWER: Your case is certainly a poser, for your husband appears to be one of the universal lovers who can transfer his affections from one woman to another and be equally happy with either. It isn't in a man of that type to be faithful to any woman, and what you do must depend on whether you would rather have half a loaf than no bread.

Under the circumstances, it seems to me that the half loaf is the best bet. For it will insure you a settled home even if you have an unsettled husband, a good support, and prevent you from having to part form your little girls.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: My fiancee and I are having a hot argument about sending out wedding invitations. I say that a wedding invitation only contains the names of the bride's parents, and my girl says it definitely contains the name of the groom's parents. I maintain that the proper etiquette in the matter is for the invitation to have only the bride's parents' names and just the name of the groom.

In sending invitations to relatives and friends who live at a distance and whom you know can't come to the wedding, should we send invitations or just announcements?

JAMES

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER The bride's parents are the hosts at the wedding. They pay for the invitations, and they are issued in their names with only the names of the bride groom. The groom's parents names are not included in the invitation. The groom's family receive invitations, just as the other guests do.

Invitations or announcements of the wedding are equally proper when sent to guests at a distance.

Eire Begins Experiment With Coalition

By ROBERT HEWETT.

DUBLIN, Feb. 20 — (AP). — Eire yesterday began its first experiment in coalition government, and, to most Irishmen, that simply meant: "'Dev' is out."

But while Eamon De Valera, Prime Minister since 1932, has been turned out by the Dail, he remains a political power in Eire. His Fianna Fail (Soldiers of Destiny) Party holds 68 Parliament seats, only six short of a majority.

De Valera followers, far from downcast, predicted the overthrow of the coalition and new elections within the year.

A five-party coalition, apparently resentful at De Valera's 16 years in office, joined forces yesterday and elected John A. Costello, 56, a Dublin lawyer.

No Immediate Change

Most politicians agree there will be little immediate change in Irish life under Costello's coalition. The quiet, cautious new Prime Minister is leader of the Conservative Fine Gael (United Irish Party).

Ever since Eire broke away from Britain in 1921 it has been ruled by a single party government. For the first 11 years William Cosgrave's United Irish Party governed. In 1932, De Valera, a rifle-carrying rebel in the early Irish "troubles" with Britain, took over. Some have criticized what they termed a "one-man government" under De Valera.

"It's time for a change!" was the rallying cry of anti-De Valera groups. The change has come—it surprised even the victors—and now the question is whether the five different parties can carry out a common program. In the five are the Conservative Fine Gael and the lusty, Liberal Clann Na Poblachta (Republicans) under fiery Sean MacBride.

Any break in the coalition's ranks will force new elections and such a break is not beyond possibility. A half-dozen switched votes on any major issue will give his Fianna Fail Party the whip hand and overthrow the coalition government.

Salvation Army's Great Work Goes On Behind The Scenes

The work of the Salvation Army is like a mighty tree — the roots and foundation, the true body, is hidden from sight. For, working quietly, without publicity or fanfare, often under heartbreaking conditions, the Salvation Army carries on a campaign against human misery in all forms, a campaign for which it asks no public recognition.

Where real help — moral and practical — is needed, "the Army" works, adding to standard church functions an immeasurable amount of succor to those who have been "rejected" by conventional standards.

To social workers, police authorities, all those whose work brings them in contact with sordid conditions of living, the sight of the Salvation Army man or woman is common.

Wherever these inspired workers are located, it cannot be said that the trapped prisoner has "nowhere to turn"; it is not true that the shamed and socially shunned unwed mothers are "friendless"; no one whose plea is regarded with distaste calls in vain if that call reaches this selfless Army of peace.

Through the offices of the Army, unmarried mothers are helped back to a normal life. Hospitalization for these unfortunate girls is provided and every effort is made to shield them from the stigma which society places on them.

Wandering job-seeking, transient vagabonds, unemployable single men, all look with the gratitude of experience to the Salvation Army. Beds, meals and clothing are provided without stint.

Purchases of coal, wood, medicine are made and given to old age pensioners to supplement their meagre incomes and lighten the burden.

The Army regards of great importance their work with children. Here, too, the social castoffs find understanding in the shelters. Foster homes are arranged and care and nursing is provided for children whose homes are broken up through delinquency of parents.

Assisting veterans to rehabilitate themselves and establish homes with new jobs is also undertaken by the Army.

Cheer Prisoners

Undoubtedly, the least known branch of service is that in the field of prisoner help. The benefits to society at large cannot be measured, for it is reflected in intangibles — turning "bad" men into working citizens; guiding the erring feet of the youth along the right path; giving that "second chance" to those who have fallen —and never refusing their plight if they should fall again.

First offenders are assisted. Suitable employment is located for many who appear in police court on charges laid as the result of bad environment and idle time.

The Army visits prisoners, gives them the knowledge that they are not forgotten and that there is yet an opportunity for them to take their place in society. Families of prisoners are visited and assisted.

Letters are written, messages conveyed, many small kindnesses which grow, in the shadow of a cell, to a light bursting with the beauty and dignity of service above self.

On their release, prisoners are assisted in obtaining work, in getting re-established in the community and readjusted in their outlook on life in general.

Home nursing services are carried on by voluntary workers who visit shut-ins, provide medicines, fruit, slippers, other comforts.

Those in the decline of their lives are remembered by the Army. Visits are made to aged men and women, with gifts of literature, small personal effects — "little" things that mean so much to them.

The Salvation Army is instrumental in seeing that hundreds of boys and girls will never need their help in the grimmer aspects of their work. Through extensive character building work — recreation facilities, gymnastics, sports, competent leadership in Scouting and Guiding movements, providing equipment for Youth Centres, and Fresh Air Camps and their supervision—they endeavor to do their part in building a Christian Canada, based on the principles of the Sermon on the Mount.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

SEE THEIR EXACT SIZE

IT IS IMPOSSIBLE to be a fine bridge player until you cure yourself of the natural human lazy habit of not noticing the exact size of the "little" cards played to a trick. Later on, after some of the higher cards have been played, the exact height of the little fellows becomes vitally important. What had once been a very low card might now be the highest or next-to-highest of the suit still in the hands of the four players. If you don't know what are the relative sizes of those outstanding cards, you are obliged to guess and may guess wrong.

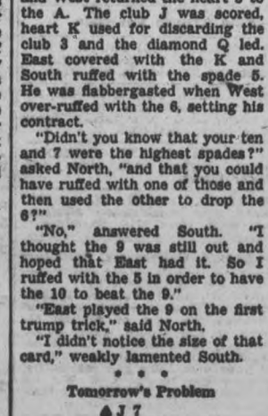
(Dealer: West. North - South vulnerable.)

West	North	East	South
Pass	1 ♥	2 ♦	2 ♠
Pass	3 ♥	Pass	4 ♣
Pass	4 ♥	5 ♦	5 ♠

There was South in a makable game contract, expertly bid. But he threw it away through not keeping his eyes open when "little" cards were played.

West led the diamond 9 to the A. South of course refusing the finesse because of East's bidding. So he could lead trumps toward the Q, he came to his hand with the club 6 to the A and then led the spade 8. The K took it and the diamond 4 was returned, the 8 and 10 being played and the spade 2 ruffing. Now the spade 4 was sent forth, the A winning and West returned the heart 3 to the A. The club J was scored, heart K used for discarding the club 3 and the diamond Q led. East covered with the K and South ruffed with the spade 5. He was flabbergasted when West over-ruffed with the 6, setting his contract.

"Didn't you know that your ten and 7 were the highest spades?" asked North, "and that you could have ruffed with one of those and then used the other to drop the 6?"



"No," answered South. "I thought the 9 was still out and hoped that East had it. So I ruffed with the 5 in order to have the 10 to beat the 9."

"East played the 9 on the first trump trick," said North.

"I didn't notice the size of that card," weakly lamented South.

6—In Memoriam

MAUDSLEY—In loving memory of Mrs. Charlotte Maudsley, who passed away February 20, 1947.
In our hearts your memory lingers
Sweetly tender, fond and true
There is not a day dear mother
That we do not think of you
—Sadly missed by her son John, daughter-in-law Evelyn and grandson Jackie.

MAUDSLEY—In memory of Mrs Charlotte Maudsley, who died February 20, 1947.
The light is from our household gone
The voice we loved is stilled
Her chair is vacant at our home
Which never can be filled.
—Sadly missed by her husband, son Leslie, also Dorothy and granddaughter Sharan.

MAUDSLEY—In loving memory of Mrs. Edward Maudsley sr., who died February 20, 1947.
And while she lies in peaceful sleep
Her memory we shall always keep.
—Always remembered by Edward jr. and family.

MAUDSLEY—In loving memory of my dear mother, Mrs. Edward Maudsley, who passed away 1 year ago today February 20.
God knows how much I miss her
Never shall her memory fade,
Loving thoughts shall always wander,
To the spot where she is laid.
It's only a grave but still needs care,
For the one I love is sleeping there.
Some may forget her, now she's gone
But I'll remember her no matter how long.
—Ever remembered by her daughter Lillian, Walter and children.

MAUDSLEY—In loving memory of a dear mother, Mrs. Edward Maudsley, who passed away February 20, 1947.
Could I, your daughter, have clasped the hand
Of the mother I loved so well,
To kiss your brow when death was nigh
And whisper, mother, farewell.
In my chest of cherished memories I have
Locked a thought of you.
Your smiling face, your tender love, and
The things you used to do.
And now and then when I'm alone
I open up the chest
And spend a while just thinking of the one I loved the best.
—Ever remembered by daughter Alice.

MAUDSLEY—In loving memory of Mrs. Charlotte Maudsley, who passed away one year ago today.
Peacefully sleeping, resting at last,
The world's weary troubles and trials are past,
In silence she suffered, in patience she bore,
Till God called her home to suffer no more.
—Ever remembered by son Thomas, Audrey and Dale.

PERRY—In loving memory of a dear mother, Mrs. George Perry, who passed away 13 years ago today, February 20, 1935.
A wonderful mother, woman and aid;
One who was better, God never made.
A wonderful worker, so loyal and true,
One in a million that, mother, was you.
Just in your judgment, always right
Honest and liberal ever upright;
Loved by your friends and all you knew;
A wonderful mother that, mother, was you.
—Ever remembered by sons and daughters, Ruby, Muriel, Phyllis, Winnie, Mabel and Shirley, Elden, Leslie, John, Chester and Charlie.
